WHITTLIN'

BY DOLPH MOTEN

As much trouble as we can have over ballgames here, we'd better be glad we don't have racial problems.

Ballgames are bad enough. Anything worse might be more than we could stand.

There were, for instance, several people with feelings hurt following the old men's baseball game here July 4th.

The rules said that it was necessary for players to be over 46 before they would be allowed to participate in the games.

There was some fudging in regard to the age limit, we understand.

One fellow who had his feelings hurt worse than anyone told us that he was just 38 "and nobody protested." His theory seemed to be that it wasn't any fun to cheat unless you got caught at it.

In last week's story about the game, we referred to the two teams as "the City Dudes" and the "Country Bumpkins." George Douglas, who was named to the country group but failed to show up, told us Saturday that any kind of an editor at all would have named the rural team "the Country Gentlemen."

"That looks like poor business on your part," Douglas told us, "you call us 'Country Bumpkins' and then try to sell us newspaper subscriptions..."

He has a point, we'll admit. Of course, we could point out that the opposing manager named the teams and we didn't have anything to do with it. As a matter of fact, we talked the matter over with Ike Quik- el, who managed the City Dudes. He said, "They were 'bumpkins' and it would be incorrect to refer to them as 'gentlemen'."

Like we said, if we had something here to really get mad about, there's no telling how much trouble we'd have. We get so stirred up over a town-country or fats-leans ballgame that it takes months, if not years, to get things back to normal.

Because of a 1,000-mile round trip to the southeast, we missed the Independence Day festivities here. We weren't just traveling, though, we were looking along the way -- except, that is, for that highway patrolman who stopped us.

We noticed, for example, that crops from Lubbock to Post don't look as good as ours do here. The lakes in the area are filled to overflowing, indicating the larger-than-usual amounts of rain which they've had. Also, the weeds are large, which is still another indication of rain.

And the cotton is so small that it would make almost any Parmer County farmer feel ashamed if he didn't have some larger even with all the trouble farmers have had with weather this year.

People who travel with young children know they (the children) can sometimes be a problem. We had some we weren't expecting on the aforementioned trip -- and we were expecting quite a bit.

When the highway patrolman we mentioned had finished telling us we needed to get a headlight fixed and had issued us a warning ticket for that infraction of the rules, we got back in the car with unsteady nerves. The three-year-old, all but in tears, said, "That man didn't let me play with his gun."

Now what kind of an answer could you make to a statement like that? We attempted to change the subject, and got away with it pretty good.

That was, however, probably the coward's way out. We'll try to have an answer if the situation ever comes up again.

Our good humor began to return after we stopped in Sweetwater to get the light fixed. The station attendant who took our credit card noticed where we were from and asked, "Has the hall thawed out yet at Bovina?"

He was, no doubt, referring to the 18-inch-on-the-level hall which fell here in May. That storm, you'll remember, re-

ANOTHER TEACHER SIGNED --

School Starts Sept. 3

Starting date for 1963-'64 school year was set for September 3 at a regular monthly meeting of board of trustees Monday night.

Opening day of school will be the Tuesday following Labor Day.

Mrs. Charleyrene Danforth, who has taught at Texico for past 10 years, was elected by the board to teach commercial subjects in high school. Mrs. Danforth has her M.A. degree from Eastern New Mexico University at Portales.

First National Bank of Bovina was named as the school's depository for the next two years. A contract to that effect was renewed.

The board agreed to accept two new Dodge school buses which had been refused at a previous meeting. The reverse decision was made because the Dodge buses were the only ones available. The board preferred Fords or Chevrolets.

Also the board agreed to advertise for bids on two old buses which will be replaced by the new ones.

The new buses are slated to be delivered by August 15 and be ready for use when school starts.

Five positions remain open on the school faculty following the signing of Mrs. Danforth. The board also discussed applications for these positions at the Monday night meeting.

July 4th Activities Well Attended

LL All-Star Game Has 14-10 Outcome

Team composed of players from Farwell-Texico and Oklahoma Lane won Bovina's Little League all-star game here Thursday night over a team made up of players from Bovina's three teams, 14-10.

Pressure of the game which had top four players from each of the six teams in the league caused several errors and the game was more loosely played than had been expected.

Alan Britenback of the Texico-Farwell Lions was the winning pitcher. Lowell Taylor of First National Bank-Lawlis Gin was the loser. He was relieved by Kyle Carter.

Lineup for Farwell-Texico, Oklahoma Lane included Autrey, firstbase; Harriman, third base; Pierce, shortstop; Prince, centerfield; Ensor, catcher; Hargrove, secondbase; Britenback, pitcher; Mahaney;

Rosters for the Bovina aggregation had Kyle Carter, third base-pitcher; Billy Kesler, secondbase; Joe Don Stevens, secondbase; Wesley Harris, shortstop; Gary Lide, catcher; Maz Bird, firstbase; Carroll Foster; leftfield; Stuart McMeans, leftfield; Tommy McCormick, centerfield; and Lowell Taylor, pitcher-thirdbase.

AT CHURCH OF CHRIST --

Boy Singers Here Monday

Boy Singers from the Boles Home at Quinlan, are scheduled to sing at the Bovina Church of Christ on Monday July 15th, at 8 p.m., Don Stone, minister of the church, announces.

These singers are currently in their third year of programs, under the auspices of the churches of Christ, and during this past summer they were presented extensively in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana. Their programs are presented free of charge as a service of the local church of Christ and of Boles Home, and no contributions are taken. "We cordially invite everyone in the community to hear this program, Stone says.

The Boy Singers, an A Cappella group specializing in inspirational hymns, spirituals, and other familiar church songs, present seven concerts each week during their touring seasons, and also many programs throughout their school year. They are under the direction of Dick Blythe.

Boles Home is a home for children supported by members of the churches of Christ, and it is composed of two units, with the original one located at Quinlan, where 245 children live, and the Foster Home at Stephenville, where 32 children live.

Boles Home is a community within itself, where 12 grades of public school are conducted on the campus. Services are rendered to boys and girls from pre-school ages through college or vocational training.

Distribute Annuals Friday

Annuals for 1962-'63 school year will be distributed at school Friday from 9 to 11 a.m. Richard Roberts, one of the annual sponsors, announces.

Students who have purchased annuals are asked to pick them up at that time.

"We'll appreciate all students picking up the yearbooks Friday morning," Roberts says.

Ballgames for men, women, boys and girls, model airplane contests and a picnic were highlights of July 4th activities here Thursday afternoon.

Weather handicapped the program, especially the picnic, late Thursday afternoon. High wind and about .1 inch of rain interrupted the program temporarily.

In the girls' softball game, a group of high school girls lost to a team composed of Three-Way Chemical and Fantasy Beauty Salon players, 7-6.

A town-country women's softball game saw the town-ladies finish on top of a 13-2 contest.

In an old men's (over 40) ballgame, the City Dudes battled the Country Bumpkins to a 3-3 deadlock. Euel Hart hit a homerun for the country boys and Gene Ezell matched the feat for the City Dudes.

"There were only about 40 people at the picnic, but those who were present really seemed to have a good time," Warren Morton, Lions Club president and general chairman of the day's activities said.

Separate stories appear in this issue on the model airplane contests and the Little League All-Star game.

Model airplane contests conducted here July 4th were considered "successful" by members of Bovina Modelers, sponsoring organization.

"Income from concession stand we operated and entry fees for the contests just about paid for the prizes which we gave away," Jerry Rogers, a member of the club and secretary for the contest, says.

Only two Bovina airplane enthusiasts took part in the contests and they each won a first place. Jimmie Charles was first in open balloon bursting. Sonny Roach won open balloon flying.

Other winners included: Junior stunting, Terry Freeman, Amarillo, first; and Johnny DeLafosse, Amarillo, second;

Open stunting, Howard Henry, Slaton, first; and Marvin Denny, Amarillo, second;

Junior balloon bursting, Terry Freeman, first; and David Denny, Amarillo, second;

Open balloon bursting, Charles, first; and Marvin Denny, Amarillo, second;

Junior combat, Terry Freeman, Amarillo, first and Jimmy Duncan, Amarillo, second;

Open combat, Tom Weems, Hereford, first; and Ray Wilkins, Slaton, second.

There were no entries in junior balloon diving.

The contests started at 10 a.m. and continued until about 5 p.m.

Several spectators were on hand throughout the day for the contests.

The Lions picked up their two runs in the second inning on three walks, a fielder's choice and a single by Greg Hargrove, who was the winning pitcher.

SINCE LAST YEAR --

Bank Deposits Show Decrease

Bank deposits in First National Bank of Bovina at end of June showed a decrease of $278,817.85 compared with the same time a year ago. The decline was from $1,787,158.09 to $1,508,340.24.

Reasons for the decline in total deposits can be contributed to a couple of major factors, Alfred Moody, cashier of the bank, says.

Big reason for the decrease was the slim wheat crop which area farmers have just finished harvesting. The crop was damaged by hail in May and suffered from severe freezes in mid-winter.

Also, Moody says, the county depository has been changed from this bank to Friona State Bank since the June call of 1962. The change was made under the county's system of making each of the three Parmer County banks the county depository for four year periods. The county's deposit is approximately $400,000.00.

Total loans also decreased here from $1,147,071.83 in mid-1962 to $863,941.31 at end of last month.

Total assets and liabilities at First National as of June 29 were $1,775,248.96.

The bank has capital of $50,000, surplus of $125,000 with undivided profits of $41,062.57.

Miss Steelman Becomes Bride Of Eugene Hutto

Miss Vivallah Steelman became the bride of Preston Eugene Hutto of Tullia Sunday afternoon at First Baptist Church of Bovina.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Steelman of Bovina and Mr. and Mrs. Delmer W. Hutto of Tullia.

Rev. John Ferguson read the ceremony before an arrangement of three cathedral windows backed by emerald greenery and palms. Wedding bells tied with satin ribbon enhanced the windows. Baskets of gladioli flanked either side of the setting.

Miss Elaine Fuller played traditional wedding selections at the piano and accompanied Miss Tonya Ivy as she sang "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Miss Carole Jean Hastings served her friend as maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of apricot chiffon over satin. The bodice was enhanced with a scalloped neckline and short sleeves. She carried a cascade arrangement of white chrysanthemums and carnations intermingled with apricot chiffon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chiffon over white bridal satin. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped neckline and long tapered fitted sleeves. The bouffant skirt fell from a pointed waistline. Her shoulder length circlet of chiffon was attached to an open pillbox. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and white chrysanthemums tied with satin bows and love knots.

Conley Wolton of Bovina attended as best man.

Ushers were Gary Hutto, cousin of the groom, and John Lavender.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Steelman chose a blue linen sheath with beige accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations intermingled with apricot chiffon.

The groom's mother chose an apricot whipped cream dress with white accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations with apricot chiffon. Immediately following the ceremony the couple was honored with a reception in Fellowship Hall of Church.

The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth over apricot and centered with an arrangement of apricot and white gladioli. The three tiered wedding cake and silver and crystal appointments completed the table. Mrs. E. G. Steelman, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Von Bowen, aunt of the bride, presided at the table.

Hosting the occasion were Mrs. Jay Harris, Mrs. Connie O'Brien, Mrs. Dean Hastings, Mrs. E. G. Steelman and Mrs. Jack Wolton.

A SUPPLEMENT TO FARMER COUNTY NEWSPAPERS

THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1963

'Tater Time

The potato harvest began in Parmer County last week. In these pictures, the beginning of the harvest near Friona is depicted. At the top left, a worker on the M.A. Black farm north of Friona sacks up the newly-dug potatoes. Successive pictures show Kenneth Neill, manager of Friona Growers and Shippers, admiring some of this year's potatoes with Onesimo Perez, shed foreman. Other pictures show workers emptying a truckload of potatoes into the washing mechanism, the potatoes being separated according to size and grade, sacked into 100-pound sacks, and finally, loaded into the waiting refrigerated boxcar, which will carry Parmer County potatoes to national markets.

Extension Service Issues New Insect Control Guide

Two new insect control guides released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service deal with vegetable and field crop pests. They are MP-339, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Grain and Forage Crops," and L-255, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Vegetable Crops."

The first publication points out that both ground and airplane application may be effectively used for controlling insects on field crops. Though some insects are hard to control, the use of recommended pesticides can be a profitable measure.

The bulletin discusses the treatment of seed prior to planting to protect them from such insects as the southern corn rootworm, wireworms and seed maggots. Small grain, rice, grass, alfalfa, and vetch insects are also considered. Several tables give insecticide recommendations for the various pests discussed.

L-255 emphasizes that vegetable insect control is largely a matter of prevention. It says that control measures should begin before insects appear in damaging numbers. The publication covers methods of application, cautions to use with insecticides, and restrictions on the use of certain chemicals. It also has a section on the control of the corn earworm and the sweet potato weevil.

In addition to tables giving the recommended insecticides and their rates, there is a special section for home gardeners. It deals with some of the problems that are encountered by individuals who garden in their backyards.

For more information about controlling insects on vegetables, grain and forage crops, see your county agricultural agent or write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, and ask for MP-339 and L-255.

Grapefruit Flavor Is Research Topic

What causes some grapefruit to be bitter while some is sweet? The answer to this question will be sought in research to be conducted at the University of Oklahoma Research Institute.

The work, which will seek to determine the changes that take place in a grapefruit as it matures, is being done under a contract with the USDA's Agricultural Research Service. It is part of efforts by the service to find new uses and new markets for agricultural products.

The bitterness of grapefruit, particularly in early-season fruit, is believed to be the reason for decreased consumption of the food. The Oklahoma scientists will try to reveal the chemistry of naringin and other grapefruit constituents that cause the bitterness by analyzing samples of fruit picked at intervals throughout the growing season.

The appearance, accumulation and disappearance of the bitter compounds in the fruit will also be studied. Experiments will be conducted to determine if these compounds decrease as the fruit grows and ripens or whether they are diluted or converted to less bitter or non-bitter compounds.

The information gained in the research is expected to help ARS scientists devise practical and more accurate methods of controlling or eliminating bitterness from processed grapefruit products.

SAVE FOOD VALUE IN FRUITS AND VEGETABLES -- The season for canning and freezing food is now in full swing with fresh vegetables and fruits on the plentiful list. Vegetables and fruits are important in the diet for general good health, but if most of the nutrients are lost by using the wrong methods in preparation and processing, then we will have a filler, not a nutritious food for good health.

Limp, wilted vegetables lose one-third or more of their nutritious food value through a process of oxidation. That old slogan, "One hour from the garden to the can," still holds true whether you are conserving by freezing or canning. Gather only what can be processed in a short time.

ONE-STEP METHOD MAKES CANNING EASIER -- The latest method for canning vegetables is a one-step cold-pack method. Directions are simple . . . As an example, take snap beans. Begin by washing all pint or quart jars in hot soapy water and rinse well. It is not necessary to sterilize jars since the pressure canner must be used

New Process May Give Cotton A Needed Boost

Old King Cotton, Texas' major farm crop, may get a much needed shot in the arm from experiments aimed at "fluffing it up a little!"

For years, the cotton usage has been sagging downward from the competition of synthetic fibers. As new "miracle fibers" were developed in laboratories, cotton was pushed further aside.

Now comes a project to make cotton knit goods more nearly like wool -- without the scratch! The goal is to give cotton knit clothing like sweaters and undergarments more bulk, warmth and dimensional stability. A scientific breakthrough which would fluff up the cotton thread and make it stay that way regardless of cleaning processes could widen markets for cotton -- particularly on winter-wear clothing.

The advent of wash and wear cotton clothing a few years ago proved to be a good stimulant for the cotton market. Scientists had succeeded in "stabilizing" the cotton thread with finishing agents to give the cloth its wash-wear properties. However, when dimensional stability of cotton was achieved, no increase in bulk or warmth of the material was gained.

Scientists now believe, however, that means of applying the chemicals can be developed that will also increase the bulk and warmth of cotton fabric. Ordinarily, fabrics treated with wash-wear chemicals are passed through squeeze rolls to remove excess treating solution, the high-pressure squeezing at present reduces the bulkiness of the fabric.

The task now is to find new processing methods that will impregnate fabrics with the proper amount of chemicals, fluff up the fabric to increase its bulk and warmth, and stabilize the fabric in its bulky state. The end result would be a fabric much like wool, with many new uses opening up for cotton in the winter garment trade.

Clemson Agricultural College in South Carolina is in charge of the cotton research program in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture. The eyes of Texas cotton growers and marketers will be on the South Carolina research laboratory for the next year or so, if the experiments are successful, King Cotton may recapture much of its clothing trade volume that has been lost in recent years.

Cotton Congress Features Research

Cotton research projects including several to be discussed in Dallas July 12 hold the key to the future of the industry, American Cotton Congress chairman Burriss C. Jackson said.

The Dallas session of the Cotton Congress in the Statler-Hilton Hotel will feature reports on new developments in research and marketing. The meeting opens at 9:30 a.m. in the Embassy Ballroom.

If cotton is to prosper, Jackson said, markets must be developed to expand utilization. At the same time, research must produce ways to reduce production costs in order for cotton to be competitive with world competition and synthetics. Two other Congress sessions including one on July 18 at Midland center on production practices.

The first speaker on the Dallas program will keynote a growing problem facing the cotton business, J. B. Kyser with the Graniteville Co., Augusta, Ga., will discuss reasons cotton mills are replacing cotton with man made fibers.

Other topics will feature recent advances in utilization research; the use of color as an element of quality evaluation; instrumentation for determining fiber length; and use of a pilot plant in ginning research. A panel from four Texas colleges and universities will report on Cotton Research Committee of Texas activities.

At Home --

In canning all non-acid vegetables.

Use only fresh, young, tender beans. The bean should just be beginning to form in the pod. Wash thoroughly, trim ends and cut into one-inch pieces.

Thus far there is nothing different from the old method of canning snap beans. Now you will note that the fill is different.

Pack raw beans tightly into clean jars to one-half inch space at the top of the jar. Add one-half teaspoon salt to pints and one teaspoon to quarts.

Close jar with two-piece lid and place it in the pressure canner. Exhaust canner for 10 minutes, close petcock and process at 10 pounds pressure -- pint jars 20 minutes, quart jars 25 minutes. Remove canner from heat, let pressure return to zero and remove the jars.

This one-step method can also be used for canning fresh lima beans, carrots, cream style corn, whole kernel corn, black-eye peas and summer squash.

FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

For the first time in thirteen years, there was less than a quorum of Farm Bureau Directors at the regular meeting last week, if our memory serves us correctly. Consequently, a meeting was called for Monday night of this week, to take of current business.

Farmers have probably never been busier than they are now in this area, trying to salvage what is left of crops following the period of heavy rains and consequent heavy weed infestation. But things could be and have been much worse, and we expect farmers to come through with flying colors by the end of the season.

Representative John Dowdy, (D.-Tex.) writes, "It is strange that the court finds a way to ban the Bible from public schools, but can find no way to ban pornography and obscene literature. In its opinions, the court claims it is censorship to ban obscenity; but that Bible reading can be banned as interfering with religious freedom."

With increasing bi-partisan support in the House and Senate, it appears that Farm Bureau's Legislative program, Wheat and Feed Grains Act of 1963 has a good chance of passing, according to Charles Schuman, AFBF President. The administration has not indicated that this is true, but time will tell. It has been a long time since a farm bill of any kind has had as much strong support as this one has.

We have noticed a few plots of blooming bindweed over the county, primarily along roads. We hope that if they are adjoining your farm, you will report them to the highway or county department, and treat any plots extending to your farm land.

We want to remind you again to file for state and federal tax refunds on non-highway used gasolines.

CONSIDER THIS: My son, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments: For length of days, and long life, and peace, shall they add to thee. Proverbs 3:1-2.

Cool Foods Top "Plentiful" List For Month Of July

Foods just right for serving during hot weather will be in plentiful supply during July, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

What is more refreshing than iced watermelon, fresh peaches or cold turkey?

These summertime favorites for beating the heat and keeping your energy high are on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's July plentiful foods list for this area.

In addition, the full bounty of summer's abundance of fresh vegetables -- tomatoes, corn, beans, beets and lettuce just to name a few of the most plentiful -- will overflow your market.

Ice cream, cottage cheese, milk and other dairy foods continue plentiful as milk production continues near the spring peak.

Peanut butter and vegetable fats and oils also are plentiful this July, says the Agricultural Marketing Service -- the USDA agency which checks local, regional and national food stocks before compiling the list.

MIXES BEST!

The Gehl Mix-All gives you the best feed-making possible because it thoroughly and more uniformly grinds each ingredient. Just as you can't mix marbles with baseballs, neither can a mixer uniformly mix ingredients of greatly varying sizes.

Gehl's hammermill is the secret of the Mix-All's uniform grinding. The big 507 square inch grinding surface gives high capacity grinding because ingredients are sent through the screen without milling around in the chamber. This means ingredients aren't reduced to fines by the hammers before they go through the screen.

The Gehl hammermill features 66 thin, steel hammers . . . more than other farm mills. They cut . . . not pound . . . each ingredient to the just right size for fast, uniform mixing, circulation and mixing from top to bottom.

Tests by a leading micro-ingredient manufacturer conclusively proved that the Gehl Mix-All delivers excellent uniformity of feed mixtures with constant percentages of the micro-ingredient from samples taken at all stages of unloading. In the tests, only 3 ounces of the micro-ingredient contained in a pound of premix were added to 1000 pounds of ground ear corn, 700 pounds of oats and 300 pounds of hay making a total of 2000 pounds. Four samples shown on the graph at the left were taken at the beginning of unloading, at 700 pounds, 1500 pounds and the last feed. Proof positive shows that the Gehl Mix-All delivered feed with a uniformity variation of only .00031% of one per cent.

Booklet Explains Seasonal Variations In Cattle Prices

A knowledge of the seasonal variation in cattle prices is one of the best tools the farmer or ranchman can use to plan a profitable operation.

The chief reason for this seasonal price fluctuation is the change in the number of cattle marketed during different periods of the year, says L-599, "Seasonal Changes in Cattle Prices." Different numbers of cattle are marketed at different seasons due to weather conditions, breeding dates, range conditions and production costs, the publication explains.

In Texas, as in most of the nation, calves are usually dropped in the spring months and are weaned and sold in the fall months. Therefore, the lowest prices are received in the fall when marketings are greatest and the highest prices in the spring when marketings are at their lowest. The publication points out that the price of higher grading feeder cattle does not vary as much from season to season as that of the lower grades.

Prices quoted in the leaflet are the five year averages paid at the Fort Worth Stockyards from 1958 to 1962. The cattle marketed were grouped into four main groups for comparison. They are slaughter steers and heifers, slaughter calves, feeder and stocker steers and feeder and stocker calves.

The demand for feeder animals remains strong throughout the year while stocker cattle, to be placed on pasture and ranges, are in more demand in the spring, the leaflet says.

The slaughter calf trade, unique to Texas and a few other areas, has increased recently due to our growing population. These animals were originally grass fat or well finished weaned calves, but today more and more calves are being fed for the slaughter calf market, according to the publication. The market for slaughter calves varies more than any other class of cattle and therefore should be watched closely, it adds.

For more information on the seasonal variation in cattle prices see your county agricultural agent or write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

On The Farm In Parmer County

By DERYL COKER
County Agent

No doubt all of us have heard of the sorghum midge and what it can do to a good grain sorghum crop.

A recent survey has just been completed by Entomologists at Texas Tech and the Experiment Station at Lubbock, and the survey indicates that a serious midge infestation in late planted grain sorghum is possible this season. Whether or not Parmer County will be affected remains to be seen, but all farmers should be on the lookout for midge at the time the head begins to emerge from the boot.

The adult midge is a small, fragile, orange colored, gnat-like insect about 1/12 inch in length. The majority of midge complete their life cycle in 14 to 16 days. The first generation of the midge usually develops in seed heads of Johnson grass and/or other grasses. The newly-emerged adults may fly several miles to fields of grain sorghum at the time seed-heads begin to emerge from the boot. The female midge lives for only one or two days, and the male lives for a shorter period. The adults mate and the females begin laying eggs soon after emergence. The female lays 50 to 250 eggs. Eggs are deposited in the spikelets soon after the heads appear from the boot. Injury to sorghum grain is caused by the larva which feeds on the internal content of the seed.

Midge emerged from the first Johnson grass head samples taken on June 10. From June 10 to date, midge have been found in Lubbock, Garza, Dawson, Hockley, Crosby, Terry, Lynn, Lamb, Hale, Gaines, Floyd, and Dickens counties. Midge emergence has been noted from several host plants including Johnson grass, Sudan grass, Sorghum alnum and White Tridens. Based upon present findings, all indications are that midge over-wintered in this area.

Timing of insecticide applications is the most important factor in midge control. Chemical control is aimed at the destruction of the adult midge before egg laying begins. Treatment should be made as soon as 90 per cent of the heads have emerged from the boot, but never later than three days after emergence. There is currently no accurate means of predicting an infestation of midge. Previous work has shown that it is usually not profitable to apply chemical control after the midge are found within the sorghum field to be treated. The following in-

THANKS to U. S. disaffection with Red Cuba, Florida is fast becoming the leading sugar cane state, harvesting 139,000 acres in 1962, more than double the 1961 total.
