SOLDIER SHOOTS HIS COMRADES

A. B. Puckett and Warren Williams Privates, Texas National Guards, Were Shot to Death.

Hillsboro: A. B. Puckett and Warren Williams, privates of the hospital corps of the Texas National Guard of Dallas, were shot and in stantly killed at about 10:15 o'clock Saturday morning on the special train bearing the North Texas contingent of the Texas National Guard en route from Leon Springs, where the companies have been in camp the last two weeks, to their respective home communities, the shooting occurring some two or three miles this side of Abbott. When the train arrived at the south yards, information was telephoned of the tragedy to the Sheriff's office and Deputy Sheriffs Ford, Marshal and officers at once went to the the yards in an automobiles and received Philip M. Firman of Batery A, Artillery service, from the military authorities, who had already placed him under arrest.

The officers brought him to town and turned him over to the jailer who placed him in the county jail.

Firmin refused to make any statement concerning the origin or cause of the shooting. When the train reached the Katy depot here with the bodies of the dead men Justice T. H. Jackson went board of the car in which they were lying and proceeded to hold an inquest. After he had heard some of the testimony the Justice of the Peace issued a warrant commanding the arrest of Bert Firmin a brother of the one who did the shooting and a member of the same command. By agreement of counsel Bert Firmin this afternoon was granted bail in the sum of $1,000 and was released on bond for that amount. Justice Jackson rendered a decision in the inquest to the effect that A. B. Puckett and O. L. Williams came to their deaths from pistol shot wounds piliars to support the roof. inflicted by P. M. Galveston: The site of Galveston County's $1,500,000 causeway, stretch- SOLDIER SHOOTS HIS COMRADES ing across Galveston Bay to the westward of the Santa Fe trestle from the island to the mainland, has been a source of much interest to the thousands of up-State visitors who have poured into the city to enjoy the festivities attendant upon the Cotton Carnival and upon the Democratic State convention. The sits is one of great activity and hundreds of the visitors have marveled at the magnitude of the undertaking. Nearly all of Texas knows, in a general way, of the causeway, stretching a distance of more than two miles across water, the different sections of construction and of the cost. In fact, the causeway is almost as widely known as the seawall, the first big piece of protective work the city of Galveston put under construction following the storm of 1900. "Gall Bag Done Busted"

An old darky who was riding on a railroad train had gone to sleep in his seat. His jaws had dropped and his enormous month resembled a yawning gulf. A wag passing through the car observing the great opening in the olds darkie's head, dropped a capsuls containing ten grains of quinine into it and then took his stand nearby to watch results. Pretty soon the capsue began to descive and buterness ran riot in the old mau's month. He sputtered and spat, and his eyes rolled in disgust at what he tasted. At a moment when it seemed the old darky could stand it no longer, the wag approached and innocently inquired: "Wnat is the matter unclo?" "I doan know, boss, but I 's; et mah gall bag done busted."

Blood Purifier I am to-day a well woman."-Mrs. WILLIAM AHRENS, 988 W. 21st St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and nerbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, rregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

TOO MUCH ECONOMY Had Lost Faith In Doctors and Medicines GOOD HABIT CAN BE CARRIED TO

Housewife Will Do Well to Guard Against Penuriousness, in Which There Can Be No Possible Saving.

EXTREMES.

The housewife who is so conscientiously and rigidly economical that she is always bounded and surrounded by reversible silk skirts that should be thrown in the rag bag, or frazzled centerpieces that could be cut up into doilies, or lawn scraps that might be turned into handkerchiefs, should take a whole day off and learn that "every excess is a defect" and "extremes weaken.

Sometimes such painful and tedious ecomonies are necessary. Often they are not. Once in a while they are ridiculous. At times it happens that they even cause misery. Perhaps you remember with what pangs of wounded pride you went to school in the metamorphosed dress of your elder sister. Perhaps you read about the girl who came back from boarding school and straightway rejected her young country lover because his economical mother had put tucks in his trousers to provide against his rapid growth. Anyhow, there are two kinds of economies and the kind that will monopolize your time from sunrise to moonrise and keep you humping forward threading needles or flashing crochet hooks, and maybe make somebody sour at that, especially when SIMPLE STATEMENT OF FACT that willing old second-hand man offers to relieve you of all the nonessential dry goods, woodware and ironware for cash, it is for you to watch out that the goblins of regret and disgust don't get you.

Foolish Habit to Acquire.

Unless it is a case of "have to" the tendency always to create something new out of something old is not so on a certain occasion with President ing as some might think, and for the following reasons:

In the first place most of us claim that modern dry goods has not the durability it was known to have 50 years ago. Therefore it doesn't always pay to make over something old. since much of the wear is gone. Then there is always some doubt as to the fit or presentability of a made-over thing, and the market for all kinds of discards, including furniture as well as clothes, being always open, it is generally easy to dispose of things that are in the way. Besides, the housewife who wishes to be classed as "up to date" must grant herself sufficient leisure to neutralize the domestic strain with social or intellectual felicities, so a few of those laborious economies must be cut out.

LEG A MASS OF HUMOR Here a samples of erring economies that increase the burden "About seven years ago a small abrasion appeared on my right leg of daily housework: A mother with four children and an excellent income just above my ankle. It irritated me so that I began to scratch it, and it unraveled a knitted sweater that was a little tattered on one shoulder and began to spread until my leg from my ankle to the knee was one solid scale sagged on one side and crocheted two pairs of house slippers of the ravellike a scab. The irritation was always worse at night and would not allow ings. This used up all of her afternoon me to sleep, or my wife either, and it leisure for two weeks. By darning was completely undermining our carefully and stretching this sweater health. I lost fifty pounds in weight a little, which would have taken her and was almost out of my mind with only a few minutes, she could easily pain and chagrin as no matter where have disposed of it. the irritation came, at work, on the
