THE BARLEY HARVEST has picked up steam during the past week, with more and more of the golden grain being brought to local markets.

Wheat, which is traditionally a little later than barley, should begin to fall under the harvester's reaper by the end of the week.

Barley has gained considerably in popularity with area farmers during the past few years. Where at one time barley was a rarity, it now commands an impressive number of acres.

Main reason for many farmers to switch to barley was the fact that it was more in demand than wheat, so the price was better. Barley made a good grazing crop, so stockmen could use barley for grazing, the same as wheat. Also, barley usually yields better than wheat does.

Farmers hereabouts might have been quicker to turn to barley, but until new varieties were developed in recent years, the crop had a tendency to "freeze out" in this area worse than wheat does.

Many farmers were about ready to abandon wheat for grain purposes, feeling as though they were just "pumping their water for nothing," as the price has been very low at market time.

Farmers didn't exactly quit planting wheat. The crop has been used more and more for grazing purposes in recent years, with landowners finding that they could realize about as much from the crop through leasing it out for grazing as they ever could by harvesting the grain.

THE PRICE OF BARLEY has been better than wheat in recent years, and it is holding good-around $3.20 per hundredweight-as harvest operations continue.

However, this year, the price of wheat, to this point, has flip-flopped. As of this writing, the price was $2.45 per bushel, and this figures out to approximately $4.08 per hundredweight-not a bad price, if it will hold.

Most of the wheat farmers we know feel that the price will diminish considerably after harvest begins, but since the Russian wheat sale last year, our surplus of wheat has been diminished in this country-so perhaps the price will hold.

The returns for the farmers should at least be better than they have been in recent years.

If this turns out to be true, then we may have some more flip-flops in the planting of the winter crops, with some of the barley acres going back to wheat.

ON THE SUBJECT of crop changes, elevator officials have told us that they believe that from two-thirds to three-fourths of the county's grain base is planted to corn this year, with milo-the crop which formerly had been the big money crop, making up the balance.

This is a startling percentage increase, and is no doubt brought about by the fact that most farmers made good money on corn here during the past two years.

Many is the farmer this year who has planted his entire grain base to corn. Many others, who haven't previously tried corn, have planted a portion of their land to corn.

Farmers are hoping-and so are we-that corn continues to do well in the local area, and apparently there is no reason it should not. In many ways, corn is a more hardy crop than maize.

The greenbug has become a menace to milo in recent years, and this also may have something to do with the extra

ELECT 2 DIRECTORS

Wheat Growers Hear Reports At Meeting

Leon Schilling and Eddie Gayle Steelman were elected to the board of directors of Bovina Wheat Growers, Inc., at the annual meeting of the cooperative Wednesday night of last week in Bovina Schools cafeteria.

Schilling and Steelman will replace Harold Hawkins and Webb Gober, whose terms expire this year.

Hawkins, president of the board of directors, presided over the meeting. Gober, secretary, read the minutes of last year's meeting.

About 90 attended the meeting and were served a barbecue meal with all the trimmings.

Bud Swenson of Cornell and Co., the audit company for the cooperative, gave a financial report for the past year, noting an approximate $3400 savings for the business year.

Holdover members of the board are M.H. Carson of Bovina, vice president; and Walter Potts and Raymond Schueler of the Rhea Community.

New board officers will be elected at the next meeting, according to Larry Webb, manager of the coop.

Dr. Bill Black, economist and marketing specialist at Texas A&M, was guest speaker for the event.

In commenting on the future of farming, Dr. Black said, "It appears as if the government is going to step out of the farm support business. It will be up to one of two major organizations in the country-the large corporations or the farmer-owned cooperatives-to take up the slack."

"If farmers will pull together and market their products through their cooperatives, it will build a stronger cooperative and help the farmers get some money back in their pockets through patronage dividends," continued Dr. Black.

"Contracting farm products will enable the elevators to plan ahead for better available storage and help the cooperative elevators and farmers to borrow money for their operation, thus providing more borrowing power for both," stated Black.

Rains Here Last Week Total 1.64

Rainfall, which fell in Bovina Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday night of last week, totaled 1.64 inches.

The moisture, which was accompanied by some hail northwest of town, was welcomed by area farmers who were in the process of watering corn and grain sorghum crops. The rain did, however, delay the harvesting of barley and wheat for several days.

According to Bovina's weatherman, Willie Williams, the rain last week brought the total here for the year to "around 10 or 11 inches-some above normal for this time of year."

Browning Develops Flavor

"Brown meat on both sides" are the instructions when preparing a beef pot-roast, round steak and similar cuts cooked by braising. What does browning do? It develops flavor as well as attractive color—especially when seasoned flour is used to dredge the beef before browning.

Another method for preserving that good beef flavor is the use of a low to moderate temperature when cooking by all methods—roasting, broiling, panbroiling, braising, frying and cooking in liquid. Meat will retain its juiciness when a low to moderate cooking temperature is used. High temperatures tend to dry out beef and make it less tender.

What Is Marbling?

Marbling is the pattern of fat distributed throughout a cut of beef. This marbling enhances beef because it keeps the meat juicy while cooking and generally adds flavor.

Store bread in a dry place at room temperature or in the freezer—it stales quickly in the refrigerator, warns Judy Grubbs, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Reflections From The Blade

TEN YEARS AGO—JUNE 19, 1963

If weather permits—in other words, if there is no more rain—road construction work in Bovina will probably be finished by the end of next week.

That estimate was made this week by Lloyd Killough, state highway department foreman here, in regard to the paving which is being installed on Third Street, Highway 86 between the city limits and FM Road 1731 from Highway 86 to south city limits.

Model airplane contest will be highlight of Bovina's annual July 4 celebration.

Announcement of the flying competition was made this week by members of Bovina Modelers, model airplane and automobile enthusiasts.

Spraying for mosquitoes is scheduled to begin in Bovina "as soon as the weather will give us a chance," Mayor Boyd Gilreath says.

Rain, which Bovina farmers have had enough of, continued here last week and this with up to two inches of moisture falling in some areas.

Eight girls and two sponsors from the Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church and First Baptist Church of Bovina left Amarillo Monday morning for the G.A.'s 50th anniversary convention in Memphis, Tenn. The trip was made on the Rock Island Express.

Mike Ware, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ware, celebrated his eighth birthday Friday afternoon with a party at his home.

SIX YEARS AGO—JUNE 21, 1967

City of Bovina is on the threshold of its third paving project in history.

Some 31 blocks are involved in the program.

A vacancy again exists on the coaching staff and faculty of Bovina High School.

Don Warren, who has coached at Miami High School for the past two years, was named last week as girls basketball coach here and football assistant. This week, he submitted his resignation to Superintendent Otis Spears, explaining that he had accepted a "better offer."

Team roping, heading and heeling of steers by two ropers, will kickoff Bull Town Days 1967 at 1 p.m. Thursday, August 17. C.E. Trimble, general chairman of the three-day celebration, announced this week.

Rain, considered by many farmers to be "the best ever" fell across the area Friday night and early Saturday morning.

Amounts varied from .75 of an inch to 1.5 inches throughout the community, but one happy farmer said, "Let's just call it a big fat inch!"

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Howell have a new son named James Matlock. He arrived May 19 and weighed 8 pounds 12 ounces.

At the halfway point of the regular schedule in boys baseball play, rained out games continue to plague the leagues.

Rhea continued to lead the Little League through Monday night with a spotless 3-0 mark, but the Tigers had played only half as many games as have some other teams.

In the Pony League games Friday, the Charles Oil Lions are undefeated in two games while the Rhea entry in this league is winless in two outings.

In Pee Wee play, Bovina Blade-Bovina Welding got its first win of the season with a 10-9 upset of the top team, Big Nick.

Mr. and Mrs. O.H. Jones returned last week from a month's vacation in the East visiting relatives and sightseeing. They visited Washington, D.C., Niagara Falls and the exposition in Montreal, Canada.

Lou Nuttall, Editor
Bovina Blade
Bovina, Texas

Dear Lou,

I would like to express my deepest appreciation to those people who selected me to attend the 1973 session of Bluebonnet Girls State. It is quite an experience, and one I will never forget.

Most people do not realize the importance of the role that Girls and Boys State plays for the youth that attends. Here we meet new people, get new ideas, but most important, we become acquainted with city, county and state government. We set up our own cities, counties, political parties, and committees, and elect our own State officials. Probably the most exciting thing is making resolutions which are considered by the Texas House of Representatives and Senate.

I am deeply sorry that we did not send a Boys State delegate this year. I feel that many people could have benefited from this experience.

Thank you again!
Sincerely,
Heidi Corn

IN JULY Medicare Changes Go Into Effect

Any person who receives a social security check and attains age 65 in July or later will automatically be enrolled for both hospitalization and medical insurance under Medicare according to Carl H. Thompson, Manager of the Clovis Social Security Office.

receiving disability benefits unless a declination is filed prior to the 24th month. The first effective month for Medicare coverage for disability beneficiaries is July.

Thompson said this has always been true with respect to hospitalization coverage under Medicare. What is new is the automatic coverage for medical insurance—that part of Medicare which helps pay doctor bills, and, for which a monthly premium is paid by the beneficiary or deducted from his check if monthly benefits are being paid.

The change has been made to prevent an individual's loss or delay of entitlement to medical insurance coverage because of his failure to take timely, positive action.

Of course a person can still decline medical insurance coverage by filing notice prior to the beginning of his coverage period and he will be considered not to have enrolled. Disability beneficiaries will be automatically enrolled for medical insurance coverage in the 24th consecutive month of receiving disability benefits.

The absolute truth is rare in conversations.

IN HASTE to get grain sorghum planted after a late harvest and wet spring, many High Plains farmers skipped the pre-plant or pre-emergence applications of herbicides used for controlling weeds. These fields will now need careful attention. Under these circumstances, what is the farmer's best approach? Mechanical methods such as cultivation or knifing will help, but weeds left in the drill row are the real problem. The weeds can be cleaned out by hoeing, but this method is costly. The next best method is with timely and precise post-emergence applications of herbicides.

For small careless weeds (less than one and a half inches), atrazine (AATrex) is recommended. The rate necessary to obtain control depends on the soil type and is specified on the chemical label. Usually, the rate is about one and a half pounds for these small weeds.

For larger careless weeds and small annual grasses, a rate of atrazine (up to two and a half pounds per acre) plus one gallon per acre of ag oil is needed to get control.

Even with this higher rate, careless weeds more than four inches tall and even small annual grasses may not be controlled, especially if they are moisture-stressed at the time of application.

Atrazine is capable of killing weeds that germinate after it is applied. A timely rain or incorporation with a rolling cultivator within two days after application will increase the residual effectiveness of the herbicide.

Although atrazine generally provides effective post-emergence weed control, the chemical has some limitations. First, it persists in the soil for long periods of time, and only sorghum and corn can be grown the following year. Second, atrazine should not be used on sandy or loamy sand soils because serious crop injury can result. And third, sorghum must be at least six inches tall before over-the-top atrazine treatments can be applied.

Careless weeds that emerge after late irrigations and which are less than two inches tall can be controlled with post-emergence directed sprays of Karmex. Applications of two-tenths to four-tenths pound per acre should be made using 20 to 40 gallons of water containing one-half of one percent surfactant. Sorghum should be at least 15 inches tall. This is an inexpensive treatment which provides excellent weed control and leaves no residues which might damage next year's crops.

Heavy infestations of grassy weeds such as Johnsongrass, nutgrass and watergrass can not be controlled in sorghums with the available herbicides. However, lighter infestations of Johnsongrass and nutgrass can be spot-treated with MSMA. Watergrass which emerges after a preplant application of propazine (Milogard) can be controlled by applying an additional two pounds of AATrex after sorghum is six inches tall, and should be incorporated with a rolling cultivator.

HIGHER PRICES for farm products and generally improved economic conditions raised farm real estate prices during the year ending November 1, 1972.

Overall, the United States average per acre value of farmland increased 10 percent in the 48 contiguous states. This was well above the six percent annual average increase since 1960.

In the Southwest, increases in farmland averaged from 8 to 13 percent. Louisiana was the leader with a 13 percent gain. Texas followed with a 10 percent increase. New Mexico and Oklahoma had eight percent gains while Arizona reported a nine percent gain.

Increases of 14 percent and more were reported by 13 states, including Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Kentucky and Virginia.

The upward trend should continue through 1973 in response to favorable farm income and a strong nonfarm demand for farmland. The actual rate of increase will depend on credit availability and interest rates on long-term credit.

Pheasants Need Stubble Cover

Wheat harvest is upon us and it is time to consider pheasant nesting habits. The Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District and Jack Patterson are very much concerned with providing the best nesting habitat possible.

As Patterson has said before the best nesting is in wheat fields and in wheat stubble. Fence rows are frequently used by pheasants for nesting, but the fence row is a natural trail for varmints which disturbs the nesting pheasant.

The wheat field furnishes good cover and the shattered grain furnishes good food. We have one of the best pheasant crops in years according to Patterson. We can improve on "the best" by furnishing the needed cover and food for nesting.

The Parmer County SWCD wants to encourage each wheat farmer to leave their wheat stubble as long as possible for good pheasant nesting habitat.

IMPROPER CARE of chicken, summer's menu delight, can result in poisoning.

Many shoppers don't realize how important it is to store, cook and handle poultry carefully.

Food poisoning can mean diarrhea, nausea, abdominal pain and vomiting—not a very pleasant situation.

What many people sometimes assume is a 24-hour virus is frequently an attack of salmonellosis—an infection of the intestinal tract caused by salmonella bacteria which have contaminated foods such as fresh meat, poultry, fish, eggs and dairy products.

Homemakers can follow eight steps to avoid this illness.

—Refrigerate poultry and other perishable foods to be used within a few days at 35-40 degrees F. For longer storage, freeze poultry.

—Clean all surfaces on which raw poultry was prepared. Treat wooden cutting boards that absorb juices with chlorine laundry bleach after washing. Never place cooked food on surface used to prepare raw poultry unless you've carefully cleaned it.

—Wash knives, spoons, other utensils, dishes—and hands—after contact with raw poultry.

—Defrost poultry in refrigerator. If you must thaw it more quickly, put poultry in a waterproof plastic bag, seal tightly and place under running cold water.

—For turkey, cook to an internal temperature of 185 degrees F. Never partially cook and finish cooking later. On stuffing, do so right before roasting.

—Heat poultry leftovers until they are HOT throughout. Bring gravy to a full rolling boil.

—Never allow cooked poultry to stand at room temperature after serving, as food may not be safe to eat if held more than an hour or two at temperatures where food poisoning bacteria grow rapidly—and that includes preparation, storage and serving time.

—A good rule—keep hot foods hot (above 140 degrees F.) and cold foods cold (below 40 degrees F.)

This prevents bacteria like salmonella from growing.

Debra Kay Sorley, Mike Beauchamp Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony at 7 p.m. Friday, June 15, at First Baptist Church of Bovina, Miss Debra Kay Sorley became the bride of Thomas Michael Beauchamp.

The double ring ceremony was read by Phil Sorley of Plainview, brother of the bride, before a candle archway entwined with garlands of greenery and centered with a white satin kneeling bench flanked by pairs of spiral candelabra, also entwined with greenery. Seven branch candelabra with matching greenery were at either side. Bouquets of pink gladioli, pink carnations and baby's breath were at either side and in the center of the setting. The aisles of the church were marked with votive cups and greenery with pastel pink bows to form a pathway for the bride.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Grady Sorley and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beauchamp, all of Bovina.

Charles Turner, organist, and Gail Dixon, flutist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied the father of the bride as he sang "Color My World," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal gown of candlelight silk organza and re-embroidered lace designed with a fitted empire bodice, duchess neckline and long, sheer Alencon lace sleeves falling to flares over the hands. Her sheer yoke of English net was victorian in style with the A-line skirt falling straight to the hemline which cascaded into a full, sheer illusion train falling from the back yoke. Re-embroidered Alencon lace traced a pattern over the gown. She wore a matching cathedral length veil of bridal illusion edged and appliqued in matching lace. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations with stephanotis and baby's breath enhanced with pink ribbon streamers and pearls.

Carrying out tradition, the bride wore an opal ring belonging to her great-grandmother for something old; something new were pearl earrings, a gift from the groom; something borrowed, a lace-trimmed handkerchief from her mother; and something blue was the traditional garter. She carried pennies minted in the years of the couple's birth in her slippers.

Miss Patti Mills, classmate of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Vici Stallings and Jan Kassah, also a classmate of the bride. They wore formal gowns of pastel pink flocked floral stripe designed with an empire waistline, long, full sleeves gathered to deep cuffs, stand-up collars with pink velvet sashes at the waistline. They wore pastel pink picture hats with pink velvet ribbons and pink carnations and carried nosegays of pink carnations and baby's breath with pink and green ribbon streamers.

Jill Carson of Dalhart, cousin of the bride, was flowergirl. Candlelighters were Melissa McFadden of Olton, cousin of the bride, and Karla Whitworth of Lubbock, cousin of the groom. They wore formal gowns fashioned identically to that of the other attendants.

Greg Bell of Bovina was best man. Groomsmen were Garry Beauchamp of Canyon, brother of the groom, and Daryl Kirkpatrick of Bovina, brother-in-law of the groom. Ushers were James Ritchie of Bovina, Ken Sorley of Bovina, brother of the bride, and Kirk Whitworth of Lubbock, cousin of the groom.

Miss Debra Kirkpatrick registered guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sorley chose a formal gown of pastel pink designed with an A-line skirt and old-fashioned lace sleeveless bodice with matching lace jacket. She wore a white orchid corsage.

The mother of the groom chose a mint green formal gown designed with a pleated skirt, belted waistline and long-sleeved old-fashioned lace bodice. She wore a white orchid corsage.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink and green carnations. The wedding cake was trimmed with pink roses. Pink punch, pink rose mints and wedding cake were served by Mrs. Daryl Kirkpatrick, sister of the groom; Mrs. Garry Beauchamp, sister-in-law of the groom; and Mrs. Phil Sorley, sister-in-law of the bride. An arrangement of fern set off the bride's table.

For a wedding trip to Corpus Christi and Padre Island, the bride wore green knit palazzo pants with white on white blouse and matching green and white jacket with white accessories.

MRS. THOMAS MICHAEL BEAUCHAMP

The bride is a 1973 graduate of Bovina High School. Beauchamp was graduated from Bovina High School in 1971 and attended Texas TechUniversity at Lubbock. The couple will be at home near Bovina after June 22 where the groom is engaged in farming.

Church Chuckles by CARTWRIGHT

©CHAS. CARTWRIGHT 916
"What's it worth to you if I'll take over the job of saying grace?"

"GO AHEAD, JOSEPH"

When Potiphar's wife attempted to seduce Joseph, don't you suppose the "voice of temptation" said, "Go ahead, Joseph?" Satan very likely suggested several "reasons" to Joseph why he should go ahead and commit fornication with her. "Joseph, you have been wronged by your brothers and forsaken by God; why not do this thing for spite if for no other reason. And if you refuse, you will risk her wrath and the subsequent wrath of Potiphar and the Egyptians. And you probably could enhance your lot in Egypt by having an affair with her—after all, she's in a position to make things easier for you. And too, there's that strong biological drive which will frustrate you to suppress."

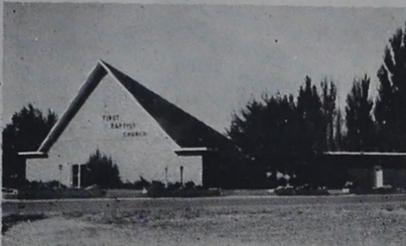

In the face of such temptation, the easiest thing for Joseph to have done would have been to "go ahead." He could have "reasoned" like a lot of modern thinkers—"I don't believe there is any absolute standard of conduct. It seems to be the right thing to do at the time and this is all that matters. Besides, I don't see that it will hurt anybody as long as Potiphar doesn't find out about it. And after all, she is a 'consenting adult.' Too, I believe in the complete freedom of the individual to do what he wants to do, regardless." He could have rationalized like that had he wanted to and gone ahead and sinned.

But no! Joseph resisted her advances and did not succumb to the temptation of the devil. He asked, "How can I do this great wickedness and sin against God?" (Gen. 39:9). He knew that he was responsible to God. He knew that God had laws to govern the conduct of people and to break His law was sin.

Whenever you ARE tempted to do wrong, remember Joseph! Temptation said unto him, "Go ahead, Joseph," but he replied, "NO—I will not sin against God!" May we have the strength to say "NO" in an unequivocal way to wrong doing!

IN LITTLE LEAGUE

3 Teams Tie For Top Spot

With only the remainder of this week and one full week to play in the boys' summer baseball program here, The Bovina Blade has almost wrapped up the championship in the Pee Wee division while the Little League division found itself in a three-way tie for the leadership at the conclusion of Monday night's games.

The Blade took two victories last week to continue their winning skein at nine straight victories. Isaac's Department Store won two and lost one to remain firmly entrenched in second place while Sherrill-Bonds lost one tilt to remain in third and Chuck's remains in the cellar spot, still seeking their first win of the season.

Bovina Gin-Three-Way came up with a big win over Big Nick-Horn Insurance in the Little League division while Riverside copped two wins over Bank-Lawlis to throw the league into a three way tie. Each team has a 5-2 record.

Bank-Lawlis remained in fourth place with a 0-9 record.

In Tuesday night's games, Isaac's handed Chuck's Spraying Service a 15-2 trouncing while Riverside was handling Bank-Lawlis, 20-8.

On Thursday night, The Blade boys held Chuck's scoreless while scoring six runs to continue undefeated and Riverside repeated their Tuesday night win with a 21-8 score over Bank-Lawlis.

Isaac's edged by Sherrill-Bonds, 5-2, in Friday night's opener with Bovina Gin-Three Way taking Big Nick-Horn Insurance, 18-8.

CHUCK WAGON SCENE from "TEXAS" by Paul Green. The musical drama of Texas Panhandle history plays annually before thousands of people during the summer months at Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Canyon. For tickets and information, write "TEXAS," Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or phone 806/655-2182.

EIGHTH SEASON

Long-Running 'Texas' Opens Season Thurs.

Prizes will be waiting for the 242 person who walks up the ramp to see the Gala Opening of the eighth season of the musical drama "Texas," because he or she will be the 500,000 person to attend this production. In seven years the show has drawn half a million people.

The Paul Green show this season will be the finish of many races against time—as it always is at the opening of a new season.

The directors, William and Margaret Moore, Royal Brantley and Neil Hess, have had to find time to prepare the members of the cast so that the opening comes at the peak of their powers when they are ready but not jaded or tired.

The costumers led by Charlotte Brantley have prepared a new look for the second act overture and renewed the other scenes. However, this took more time than usual because the new members of the cast happen to be very different sizes from the ones they are replacing.

Pat Jarrett and his sound and light crew have been working day and night for two months to install a new lighting system in the theatre handicapped by the loss of time in long delays in the delivery of some of the key parts.

The construction crew building the new rest rooms near the theatre which the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is responsible for, is working against time to make up for weather-caused delays at the start of the project.

The crew under technical director Nick Reid and stage manager Jim Meeks is repairing to make up for the ravages of this hard winter, needing much more time to get the theatre and scenery ready than usual.

Raymond Raillard the business manager is seeking time to have the final edition of the Souvenir Program delivered to the theatre the night of the opening at 5 p.m.—and not the next day—complete with the pictures of every cast and company member—even the last minute change. He is also concerned about food and concession supplies and the mechanics of the Box Office.

The monument company must have time to carve the additional memorial names on the historical wall under the rain shelter at the theatre.

Margaret Harper must know the details of the opening in time to send them to the newspapers and radio and TV stations.

Kay Nester who is in charge of the Box Office after serving in it for many years must have time to receive and confirm the reservations so that the ushers may seat and greet the audience.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Nolon Henson, the committee for the Gala Opening will find time to hang the works of the finalists in the Windmill Art Competition and help the judges choose the winners. She must also arrange for the best-of-show ceremony from the stage.

After seven years of experience in making these races come out even, the staff will present the finish, the Gala Opening of the eighth season of "Texas," to its audience at 8:30 P.M. CDST on Thursday.

The production will play nightly except Sundays through August 25. There will be a special Sunday performance on July 1.

Since some evenings are already sold out, it is best to make your reservations in advance. This may be done by telephone. Such reservations will be held at the Box Office until 7:30 P.M. on the evening of the performance.

For tickets and information write "Texas," Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or call 806-655-2182.

A clear conscience needeth no excuse, nor feareth any accusation.
