They are delightful people, who neither work nor pay rent. At a certain season of the year they wander a bit-just to feel that they really are gipsies-and then they come back again to their caves to tell the fortunes of visiting innocent tourists and to sell the mobjects of immense antiquity that have been made in Granada but a few days or weeks

These caves where they live form in a rough kind of way, a village. It is called the Albiacin. Witness Spars With Judge in Dublin Court and Carries Off the Honors.

London.-A little sparring match between the church and the law recently amused Dublin. The case concerned a certain kinematograph film of a Biblical subject which is to be shown in Dublin.

Threatened with an injunction, the kinematograph syndicate produced several clergymen as witnesses to the edifying effect of the film. One of them was a distinguished Irish Jesuit, who has been dubbed "the Father Bernard Vaughan of Ireland."

"Do you approve of actions simulating such scenes in cold blood for the purpose of making money out of it?" he was asked. "I cannot answer yes or no." was the cautious reply. "The question is a very plain one." said the judge, a well known lion of the bar a few years back.

"It is not a plain question to me, replied the Jesuit. "If a person asked me did I think it right that a judge on the bench should distribute justice, which is one of the highest virtues, and do it for the sake of his "What on earth has that to do with

RESINOL CURED

Whole Face Covered, Now Clear.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 9, 1912. "I was troubled with two or three pimples coming out on my chin. In a week or so my whole face was covered with them. Friends advised me to use different lotions and salves. I tried them, but they did me little good, if any, I finally washed the pimples with Resinol Soap and applied Resinol Ointment before going to bed. In the morning I found the swelling gone down, and the inflammation gone from the pimples. I tried this treatment for about a week, and found that most of the pimples had disappeared.
