

Driver's Licenses By The Dozen!

Seventy-four boys and especially girls — are adding up a summer — long season of automobile driving. Most of them already have an approved for their driver's licenses. Two — thirds of the pupils were girls.

"The boys are happy over getting their licenses," sums up Willie McAlpin, instructor. "But their parents are even happier; parents of boys who take auto-instructed driver instruction get a percent reduction in their insurance rates." Girl drivers are not penalized insurance for being teen — age drivers.

The courses started May 28 with 74 enrolled, and it's been practically an around — the clock schedule ever since for the hopeful young drivers.

Charley Beason did the classroom instruction; each pupil was required to do 30 hours of classroom work.

McAlpin himself did the road work. Each pupil was required to do six hours behind the wheel of the training car, which meant that most of the summer, McAlpin and the would-be drivers have been riding up and down Muleshoe streets, hour after hour. They rode in groups of four, each taking a 30-minute stint each day behind the wheel while the others watched every movement made by the driver. This meant two — hour sessions for each group.

The driving schedule started at 6 o'clock each morning and ran as late as 7 o'clock each evening.

"By the time the boys and girls are ready to go to the Highway Patrol for their actual state tests, they know all the driving laws as well as how to handle an automobile under just about any driving condition," McAlpin says.

"In fact, the only way a 14-year-old can get a license in Texas is by taking the authorized course. For this reason they are eager to learn all they can, and as fast as they can. So, our pupils are apt."

In addition to the classroom work and the actual road driving, the pupils also witnessed demonstrations put on by the Highway Patrol including handling of "disabled" automobiles such as faulty brakes, and engine trouble.

NEW DRIVERS — THEY HOPE! — Forty one hopeful young drivers awaited their turn one afternoon this past week to show the Highway Patrol that they are capable of driving an automobile. The

RAIN, 617 INCHES WORTH — R.J. Klump has been measuring rain here since 1930, and altogether it comes to 617.24 inches for the 34 1/2 years. Sometimes he's so eager to learn HOW MUCH that he goes out in a shower to measure the fall, as he's doing here. (Journal Photo)

Faculty Roster Near Completion

School faculty for Muleshoe schools for the next school year is virtually complete, Neal Dillman, superintendent said.

Of the 107 teaching and administrative staff members, only one place remained to be filled as of Saturday, he said. A junior high librarian is yet to be named.

Operation 'Feet-Toughening' To Start Grid Preparation

High School Football Hopeful Joe Blue, who has been sitting around home all summer or soaking up sun at the village swimming pool, may not realize it, but his feet are going to be pretty soft by the time he reports for football practice later this summer.

And football practice shoes just were not made for tender feet.

The University Interscholastic League has finally taken note of Janitor's tender feet and has come up with a new rule which will permit Junior to toughen his feet by wearing the football cleat-hoppers this last half of or of this month. Coach Willie McAlpin says

That 2.17-inch rain which fell in Muleshoe this week pulled this area out of the drought column, and into the "wet" lineup, pushing the rainfall for this year to almost 9 inches — equal to two thirds of last year's total amount.

For the first six months this year, Muleshoe's official fall measured 8.27 inches, while the total for the entire year in 1944 — the "dry" year — was only 12.95 inches.

In fact, the 8.27 total for January — through — July period this year is more than the entire year's rainfall in 1954, which old-timers say set some sort of an all time low for dryness in this area. Only 6.75 inches fell during the entire 12 months.

"Driest year I can ever remember," sums up R. J. Klump, official weatherman here. Klump, a former county judge, has been keeping the records on rainfall ever since 1920, and the neat assortment of figures he has compiled through those 34 1/2 years shows some dry years and some wet ones, but most of them have run in the 12 to 20-inch class.

The veteran weatherman studied for a minute and then said, "as I recall, that was the year when folks were talking about selling out and going back east — or west or some where — just anywhere to get away from our dry, hot year. Crops were almost a complete failure except in the irrigated sections."

But there was another year back in the '40's that they are still talking about, too. "Water ran down the streets like lakes, and many buildings downtown were flooded," the weatherman said in recalling the biggest rainfall ever recorded on Judge Klump's records.

"It was 1941 that we had our wettest year on record — one that folks can hardly believe could happen out here in West Texas.

"It began to rain — really rain, that is — in May; the skies dumped 11.96 inches on us that one month, and then followed it up with 5.77 in June and 6.92 in July. We've had none, especially in January, when it has skipped us entirely, but in 1941, we got rainfall every month, right on through December."

Second-driest year on Judge Klump's records was 1956, only two years after the record-setting drought. "Folks kind of thought we had returned to 1934, I guess, because it was almost as dry that year as it had been two years before. Only 8.32 inches of precipitation was recorded." And 1955 — the year between the two dry ones, hadn't been very good itself, only 13.72 inches being recorded.

A check of the 34 1/2-year records reveals the fact that rain fell here, except for the big back east — or west or some where — year already mentioned, shows only few 12-month periods when the rainfall has exceeded the 20-inch mark with 1949 as one of the wettest on record; that year 21.51 inches of rainfall was recorded.

Last year's drought can be breakdown of precipitation. The year started off with only .65 inch for January. February perked up to .7 inch, but March saw only .12 recorded. April did even worse; not a trace was put on the judge's record books. May's fall amounted to .95 inch, but June turned into the year's wettest month, 3.1 inches being recorded. July was down to .72 inch, but August helped redeem the year with 2.23 inches. September had 1.67 inches, but the "drought" returned in October when only .65 inch was recorded.

November's fall amounted to 2.98, and in December last year only .37 inch was noted. This brought the year's total to only 12.95.

In 1953, the total fall had been 19.01 inches, but a whopping 7.41 in June helped offset a complete blank in January and March. June's fall measured 3.80 and August totalled 1.33. However, the balance of the year saw less than two inches for the entire final quarter.

Here's the year-by-year official record, starting with Judge Klump's earliest records.

1920	16.57 inches
1921	20.59 inches
1922	26.55 inches
1923	13.89 inches
1924	15.41 inches
1925	14.88 inches
1926	15.14 inches
1927	18.77 inches
1928	20.49 inches

'Love' Is Theme For Scientists

"We have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him."

This verse from I John will be included in the Christian Science Lesson - Sermon on "Love" this Sunday. A number of illustrations from the Bible will also be used to show the nature and power of God's love.

Mankind's need to bear witness to this love will be emphasized in this passage from the Christian Science Textbook: "Simply asking that we may love Him; but the longing to be better and holier, expressed in daily watchfulness and in striving to assimilate more of the divine character, will mould and fashion us anew, until we awake in His likeness" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 4).

Mrs. Donald Wall, Who Now Calls Zenequela Home, Is Back For Visit

After eight years of living in Anaco, Venezuela, Mrs. Donald Wall loves it. Mrs. Donald Wall, along with her three children, Deanna, age 3, Deborah, 10 and Donette, 11, are visiting in the home of Mrs. Wall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whitecotton. Mr. and Mrs. Wall have been living in Venezuela for 8 years, where Wall is sales engineer for National Supply where he is affiliated with an oil company.

The Walls have 2 children who attend school in Anaco. Mrs. Wall says the school might be described as a private school, as only families whose husband's work with the oil company send their children to this particular school. The children are taught 45 minutes of Spanish every day. School begins at 8 a. m. and dismisses for lunch at 11:30. At 1 p. m. school begins again and dismisses at 3 p. m. School begins the last week of August and runs until the first week in June, the long session due to the many holidays in the Venezuelan calendar. Approximately 120 attend this particular school.

Mrs. Wall explains that nearly every house has a maid as they are only paid $40 to $50 a month. Most all of the houses in Anaco are built with an extra bedroom and bath to accommodate the maid.

According to Mrs. Wall, the camp in which they live is completely surrounded by a gate which is closed at night due to the many robbers that live in the country. Mrs. Wall tells of an incident which happened some six years ago in which they were robbed. Her husband caught the robbers, took them to the main highway, but could not claim the jewelry which the robbers had stolen because they didn't have a receipt. They were told to bring the receipt the next morning, they did and in the meantime, the police had been waiting for them.

Mrs. Wall tells of another incident which occurred where the police robbed a bank.

In the town whose population is 300,000 there are five to 10 persons living in each house. Comparing the town to Muleshoe, Mrs. Wall says the town itself is much smaller than Muleshoe.

The town consists of many shopping places, including a nice super market, where you can purchase canned goods for 35 cents to $1. The super market is one of a chain that was once owned by Rockefeller. The market features state - side food. Anaco has tow clubs with a dining room, swimming pool, snack bar and bars. One club has a golf club. The town also has an airport. Two planes come and go during the day. Clothes in Anaco are much

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 7 proposing an Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas providing for the exemption from local ad valorem taxes of the property of certain charitable organizations, provided such organizations meet certain conditions and requirements and expend at least One and One-half Million Dollars ($1,500,000.00) annually on free medical and hospital care for the indigent within the State of Texas; providing for the necessary election, form of ballot, proclamation and publications.

PREAMBLE WHEREAS, The Legislature finds and declares that there is a need for the operation of hospitals by private charitable enterprises which will furnish free medical and/or hospital care for the indigent in Texas; and

WHEREAS, The operation of such hospitals and the furnishing of such free medical care and hospitalization for the indigent in Texas will add to the welfare and well-being of the State of Texas and its residents and citizens; and

WHEREAS, The need for the operation of such hospitals and the furnishing of such free medical care and hospitalization for the indigent is especially great in counties having a population in excess of one million two hundred forty thousand (1,240,000); and

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm holds firm to his backward view of outer space, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

Understand, sending a television camera 135 million miles through space to take some pictures of Mars, and then getting the pictures transmitted back to earth is a brilliant feat, and while I couldn't tell much from the pictures, still you can say the same thing about some television shows originating here on earth, none the less I continue to stay sort of unexcited about outer space.

What I mean is, I'm in favor of man's exploring, but he's got a lot of odds against him.

Take Mars. Scientists have already discovered, according to Mariner's messages, that there's not enough oxygen there to keep a man alive. Now I suppose we could overcome that, if we wanted to populate the place, by getting some company to go into the Mars oxygen - manufacturing and distribution business and equipping everybody with a meter to calculate his monthly breathing bill, think what you could make subdividing and tackle another one. As I understand it, there are literally billions of planets out there and the hunt could go on forever. Eventually, way out on the other side of the universe, if the universe has any sides, we might find a planet with life on it.

Well, what would we do with it? We've already got a planet with life on it and we ain't doing too much with it.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Prices Of Beef Leveling Off; No Change Seen

Beef supplies and prices are leveling off somewhat this week. They are expected to remain at the same level for a time, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A&M University Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Features in beef cuts will vary, however, from store to store. Smoked meats, such as ham, picnics and bacon, have been moving upward for the past several weeks. Pork liver and necks have shown the smallest increases. The supply of pork this summer is considerably lower than last year. An increase in supply is not expected this summer or early fall.

Frying chicken has been increasing in supply, and there are some features in this easy-to-cook meat. The fryers are running heavier in size, thus giving more meat in proportion to the bone. Large-size eggs continue to be a good value.

Some locally-grown produce continues to come to market. Most fresh vegetables are of good quality.

Blackeye, cream and purple hull peas are plentiful. Tomatoes, eggplant, radishes, green onions, celery and carrots are

Livestock Man Says Producers Hold Key To Beef Consumption

COLLEGE STATION — American consumers — 193 million today and more tomorrow — will decide if the beef industry is to grow and prosper, John B. Armstrong of Kingsville predicted here this week.

Armstrong, a livestock producer and an official of the Santa Gertrudis Breeders' International, told participants at the third coordinated Beef Improvement Conference at Texas A&M University that per capita consumption of beef has jumped 47 pounds per person since 1933 — up to an estimated 100.5 pounds in 1963.

Last year, per capita consumption of all meat hit a new record of 174 pounds, compared with 142 pounds in 1933, he added. It has been estimated that about 85 percent of the retail purchases of food in the United States are made by women. "It's comforting to beef producers to know that on both sides 'and' her' food list, beef good vegetable choices. There's plenty of sweet corn for boiling or roasting. Lettuce heads are running small, but the quality is improved. Snap beans are nice in quality, but prices are relatively high. Squash and cucumbers are in limited quality.

Dairy departments hold a variety of choices for refreshing drinks, snacks and desserts. Featured items — found at slightly lower prices — are ice milk, sliced cherries, orange juice and some brands of ice cream.

Peaches and seedless grapes are reflecting a downward price trend as supplies in Santa Rosa plums, Bing cherries, pineapples and blueberries are on the market at various price levels. And cantaloupes and watermelons are still plentiful.

Pitching Coach Cal McLish of the Philadelphia Phillies had a 92 - 92 major league pitching record.

Driving Skill Is Vital Factor In Auto's Cost

The owner of a new car has no more expense the five or six lubrication jobs at a gallon of anti-freeze.

The type of driving and driver are both factors in determining tire costs. High speed warm climates, hard corners, rapid acceleration and quick stops all contribute to fast tire wear. The motorist who must replace a set of tires every year may spend from $80 to $200 depending on the size and type of tires he chooses.

Most motorists carry insurance on their cars. Insurance premiums are listed under fixed costs because they do not fluctuate with the number of miles driven. To determine insurance costs, add the premiums of all policies you carry that are directly related to car operation.

License and registration fee should be treated in the same way as taxes.

Automobile costs and maintenance expenses vary with each car and owner, says Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Texas A&M University Extension home management specialist.

Gasoline and oil costs for the same make and model may vary as much as 50 percent. This variation is caused by factors such as how a car is driven, the type of driving such as city, flat country, or mountain driving, the loads carried, the general condition of the vehicle and tire pressure. Oil consumption is equally variable.

Maintenance costs vary even more than gas and oil costs, way as taxes.

Fishes drink water, but not "like a fish." Those that live in fresh water swallow a small amount with their food. Salt-water species are heavier drinkers. Body fluids tend to seep from their tissues into the surrounding sea. To counteract this, the fish drink large amounts of seawater, absorbing some into their blood to maintain its salt content.

Of Law and Love

DANCING DANGERS
As a rule the greatest hazard on a dance floor is a pained look from your partner or a smirk of superiority from nearby couples. But worse things can happen. If you should suffer bodily injury while dancing in a night club or a dance hall, may you collect damages from the management?
There is one big obstacle to winning such a claim. The law says you assume a degree of risk simply by venturing onto a dance floor in the first place. Although dancing is not as risky as roller skating, it is riskier than just sitting still — and you should realize it. Certainly you could not hold the management liable for a back sprain caused by your own overindulgence in the twist. Consider these two cases taken from court records:
A woman dancer who slipped blamed her resulting injury on the fact that the floor was waxed. And a man who tripped blamed the dimness of the lights.

Both victims were denied damages, because a floor reasonably waxed and lights reasonably dimmed are normal and desirable characteristics of a dance floor.
On the other hand, the management, while not flatly guaranteeing your safety, must still take due care to prevent accidents. Falls caused by improperly applied wax or other faulty conditions are ordinarily good grounds for collecting.
In one case, a man crashed landed on a night club floor after skidding on a grape. The court granted his claim for damages, on evidence that the grape — one of several — had been lying there long enough to have been discovered and removed by the club's employees.
Sometimes injury results not from the condition of the premises but from the antics of other dancers. What then? Again, you assume reasonable risks. A woman bowled over by a man doing a new step, briskly but not boisterously, was held unable to collect damages from the proprietor.

But the dancing was quite different in another case, involving a volunteer hostess at a club for servicemen. Here, the man flung his terrified partner around like a rag doll for several minutes. Although she screamed for help, no one came to her rescue.

In these circumstances, the management was ordered to pay for the girl's injuries. The court said it had failed to protect her from "risks other than those normally incident to the sport."

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm thinks he has discovered a trend in public affairs, his letter this week reports.

Dear editor:

Sometimes when the leaders in public affairs are involved

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Flemming and son, Littlefield, spent Saturday in the H. W. Garvin home. Also visiting the Garvins Saturday night were Mrs. Garvin's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Phillips, Comanche. They report that the weather is extremely warm and dry in their part of Texas and that the grasshoppers are eating the gardens and crops.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Wheeler are in Lovington, N. M. Friday, helping their son brand cattle.

Those visiting in the George Tyson home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Phillips, Comanche, and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Garvin and John Tyson, Maple, Mrs. Phillips, and Mrs. Garvin and George Tyson are brother and sisters.

Mrs. Rayford Masten went to Littlefield Tuesday to take an aunt to Lubbock for medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Wheeler have four of their grandsons spending the week. They are Dickie Wayne Wheeler, Lovington, N. M.; Terry, Tim and Dan Wheeler, West Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Gib Dupler and children visited in West Camp with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Esten Sowder and had birthday dinner with Mr. Sowder. Afterward they visited in Arch, N. M. with an uncle, Evert Sowder, who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dupler visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sowder, in West Camp Sunday. The farmers in this community are busy watering and finishing their crops. The farm wives are busy canning. There are a lot of peaches in this community this year.

with the worries of world problems they overlook minor trends that can be seen easily from the quiet and unburied atmosphere of this Johnson grass farm, untroubled by monsoons and De Galle stones. I have been watching a trend develop over the last few weeks and I can report it has not reached serious proportions. First General Maxwell Taylor resigned as ambassador to Viet Nam, saying he had spent over a year there and would now like to spend more time with his family. Then the head of the U. S. Information Agency, Carl T. Rowan, resigned, saying he owed it to his family to get a better-paying job. Next Mayor Robert Wagner of New York declined to run for re-election, saying he had an obligation to be with his children more.

Now you see what the trend is. If it keeps up, it'll get to the point where, if a man in public office announces, he'll run for re-election, the public will start asking: What's he got against his family?

You can see where this will lead to. A man decides to stay in office and immediately everybody assumes he doesn't care about being with his family or his family isn't worth being with.

This will be a terrible plight and if office-holders are smart they'll break this trend and start giving other reasons for retiring, like "I've had enough," or "Been here too long," or "This is a dull job," or "If there's an answer to the problems in Viet Nam or New York City, its beyond me."

Otherwise, one of the main planks in the standard candidate's platform will be knocked out. Being a family man is about all some men run on, and frequently it works.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

YOU'RE IN THE ARMY NOW

Surfing began centuries ago as a contest among Hawaiian kings. Stakes were war canoes, pigs, and sometimes wives. Royal competitors had to be hefty just to maneuver the 14-foot, 150-pound hardwood boards. Not surprisingly, two of the best surfers were King Kai-mehameha, who was 6 feet, 6 inches tall and weighed 400 pounds, and his Queen Kaahumanu, only a few inches shorter and a few pounds lighter. Some $500,000 worth of chrysanthemums are sold annually in the U. S.

'Experience Of A Lifetime' Ends For Two Muleshoe Scout Enthusiasts

Two Muleshoe folk, a Scout leader and a 14-year-old Scout, rolled back into Muleshoe Friday, tired but very pleased over their "experience of a lifetime."

Bill Elrod, who served as an expedition leader, and Ronnie Cawthron, 14, both from Muleshoe, have been at Philmont Ranch camp near Cimarron, N. M., for the last two weeks. They left here July 4 for the "big experience."

The camp, at which long-time Scout leader Elrod was an expedition leader, included hiking in the New Mexico mountains — "and just about everything in the book for a wonderful camp," the two said Saturday.

The camp, located high in the New Mexico mountains, is still pretty much in its native state. Almost every night, deer wandered into the camp, and one day, three fully grown bears paid the boys a visit. Altogether, 50 boys from 14 to 18 years of age, attended the session.

The two went by bus from Clovis to Philmont. Mrs. Elrod joined them at Clovis for lunch Friday for the windup of the trip.

HERE'S WHERE WE WERE — Expedition Leader Bill Scott Ranch near Cimarron, N.M. He and Ronnie Elrod points out on a map the location of Philmont Ranch, 14, attended the camp. Both are from Muleshoe. (Journal Photo)

Mule Statue Here Inspires Florida Columnist To Write Piece On Mules

E. A. (Frog) Smith writes a "folklore" column in the Fort Myers News - Press, and recently when he read about the mule statue here, he became inspired to do a piece on mules he had known.

"Some folks," Smith told the Journal, "consider me old-fashioned, because I always write of the old times. But I'm not wrong; there used to be a time when it was just like the young'uns of today. And in some way, I'm still younger than I look."

Here are excerpts from his column, "Cracker Crumbs," which the headline writer dub-as "Mules are Worthy of Being Honored."

"Out in Texas, where the mule has already been honored by having a town named for its footwear, the townspeople are erecting the statue of a mule. Muleshoe, Texas, city father, probably know that no animal in the world is more worthy of a monument than the mule. A patient beast of burden, stubborn, ornery and having more sense than most folks, who will give him credit for the mule is thoroughly American from farmer to soldier. And no animal ever asserted his independence more vehemently than an army mule.

If we take an unbiased look at the American mule's record, we can easily see why it is time to bray and hee haw at the rest of the world. Coming from Texas where lots of people take pride in their state, the mule, being the son of a donkey, is honored with a Democratic look. That alone makes him eligible for a statue.

Namesake for the life-sized statue in Muleshoe, Tex., was a most fitting choice. In my more than 40 years of work around logging camps where mules do the heavy work, I met more mules named Pete than any other. Of course I worked mules named Ruhe, Red, Jack and so on, with one named Pete a stiff mountain grade, with a giant steam locomotive showing behind the caboose, the wooden box car crumpled under the strain and the frisky mule kicked his way into the caboose. There was nothing the conductor alone could do, but let him ride there. Which would have been alright except that while passing a telegraph office, the mule stuck his head out the caboose window. That did it, Pete had to be gotten off the train but it took the combined efforts of the train crew and the two hoboes to clear Texas Pete out of the comfortable quarters. The conductor swore "never again."

Sometimes we wonder why the horse gets such favorable publicity when the mule is treated to sarcasm. In many ways the mule is a better lot of people went no farther, the world would be a better place to live.

And after all, the mule isn't so ornery as painted. He just acts as he is trained, and if a lot of people went no farther, the world would be a better place to live.

Rogers Is Named To Committee On Faculty Pay

Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith Friday announced the appointment of Senator Andy Rogers of Childress to the interim Committee on Faculty Compensation in State-supported Colleges and Universities.

The study group was authorized by resolution during the recent legislative session. Senator Rogers was co-sponsor of the measure. Findings and recommendations will be reported to the Governor and to the 66th Legislature which meets in 1967.

Rogers has been a member of the State Senate since 1953 and prior to that served two terms in the House of Representatives, beginning in 1949. Accent on Health

Take a serious look at our country and you'll see some of the greatest achievements in the world's history. Take a second look and you'll see our trash - our garbage and debris - pouring into our air... into our water. No matter, you may think, we have plenty of air and plenty of water to carry this waste away. But this is not true. Our needs for good water and good air continue to grow while our supply of water and air replenish the same, and we spoil much of what we have by dumping wastes into them. Every person needs water to live. The basic water needs of each person - drinking, washing and such - average about 30 gallons a day. We soak our laundry, wash the car, fill our swimming pools and bathe as often as we wish. Industry and agriculture have an even greater thirst for water. For example, production of one ton of synthetic rubber requires 600,000 gallons of water. Every person requires air, minute by minute, in order to live. And, we take air as it is, not knowing what debris or chemicals are in it. It's a pleasure to breathe blowing and a clear, blue sky overhead. But we've coined a word - we call it smog - for overcast days when the supply of air and wastes hangs heavily about us.

Pollution of our air is a hazard to our health; it affects the development of chronic diseases such as chronic bronchitis, emphysema and asthma - to name a few. Further, air pollution costs us - as a nation - an estimated seven and half billion dollars, or $325 per family annually by ruining the paint on our houses and cars, soiling our clothes, corroding our buildings, ruining our crops and making our cattle sick. The pollution of our air and water is something we can no longer afford. Your State Health Department has air and water quality surveys and other programs across the State. But you as an individual have an important part to play. Support pollution control programs in your community, and think twice before you dump trash into your air or water.

Officer Candidates Map Out Day's Problems

The study of small-unit tactics is of major importance to young Army National Guard officer candidates, and the first step is to get on speaking terms with military maps. Candidates soon learn that reading military maps presents considerably more of a challenge than reading the more familiar tourist roadmaps. The State OCS cadets must establish their proficiency in a number of military categories, over the course of a year, before they become new second lieutenants. Nearly every State now operates an Army Guard OCS. The curriculum is established by the Army Infantry School at Fort Benning, Georgia.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER EIGHT ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 2, 1965.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 67, proposing an Amendment to Section 1-a of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding to said Section as presently written, the following provisions: requiring automatic retirement of certain District and Appellate Judges at age seventy-five (75) or such earlier age, not under seventy (70), as may be provided by law; creating a State Judicial Qualifications Commission and providing for its composition and the qualifications, methods of selection and terms of office of its members; defining the functions and procedure of said Commission, including the duty to investigate, and hold hearings in respect of, disability and misconduct of District and Appellate Judges and to make recommendations to the Supreme Court or for involuntary retirement or removal of such Judges; empowering the State Supreme Court of Texas, in its discretion, to retire such Judges for disability and to remove them for misconduct, upon recommendation of the aforesaid Commission and consider the record made before it; defining misconduct for which said Judges may be removed; providing that the proceedings of said Commission shall be confidential until such time as the Commission with recommendation for retirement or removal, and providing that the removal provisions here by established shall be alternative to and cumulative of those provided elsewhere in the Constitution.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 1-a of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so that said Section shall hereafter read as follows:

"Section 1-a. (1) Subject to the further provisions of this Section, the Legislature shall provide for the retirement and compensation of Justices and Judges of the Appellate Courts and District and Criminal District Courts on account of length of service, age and disability, and for their reassignment to active duty where and when needed. The office of every such Justice and Judge shall become vacant when the incumbent reaches the age of seventy-five (75) years or such earlier age, not less than seventy (70) years, as the Legislature may prescribe; but, in the case of an incumbent whose term of office includes the effective date of this Amendment, this provision shall not prevent him from serving the remainder of said term nor be applicable to him before his period or periods of judicial service shall have reached a total of ten (10) years.

"(2) There is hereby created the State Judicial Qualifications Commission, to consist of nine (9) members, to wit: (i) two (2) Justices of Courts of Civil Appeals; (ii) two (2) members of the State Bar, who have respectively practiced law for not less than ten (10) consecutive years next preceding their selection; (iii) three (3) citizens, at least thirty (30) years of age, not licensed to practice law nor holding any salaried public office or employment; provided that no person shall be or remain a member of the Commission, if he does not maintain physical residence within this State, or who resides in, or holds a judgeship within, or for the same Supreme Judicial District as another member of the Commission, or who shall have ceased to retain the qualifications above specified for membership in class (i) or class (ii); (iii) above shall be chosen by the Board of Bar Examiners of the State Bar under regulations to be prescribed by the Supreme Court with advice and consent of the Senate, and those of class (iii) by appointment of the Governor with advice and consent of the Senate.

"(3) The regular term of office of Commissioners shall be six (6) years; but the initial members of each of the respective classes (i), (ii) and (iii) shall be chosen for terms of four (4) and six (6) years, and the initial members of class (iii) for respective terms of two (2), four (4) and six (6) years. Interim vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as vacancies due to expiration of a full term, but only for the unexpired portion of the term in question. Commissioners may succeed themselves in office only if having served less than three (3) consecutive years.

"(4) Commissioners shall receive no compensation for their services as such. The Legislature shall provide for the payment of the necessary expense for the operation of the Commission.

"(5) The Commission may hold its meetings, hearings and other proceedings at such times and places as it shall determine but shall meet at least once each year. It shall annually select one of its members as Chairman. A quorum shall consist of five (5) members. Proceedings shall be by majority vote of those present, except that recommendations for retirement or removal of Justices or Judges shall be by affirmative vote of at least five (5) members.

"(6) Any Justice or Judge shall be subject to the provisions hereof, be it by removal or permanent disability or persistent conduct, which is clearly inconsistent with the proper performance of his said duties or casts public discredit upon the judiciary, or any such Justice or Judge may be involuntarily retired for disability seriously interfering with the performance of his duties, which is, or is likely to become, permanent in nature.

"(7) The Commission shall keep itself informed as fully as may be of circumstances relating to misconduct or disability of particular Justices or Judges, receive complaints or reports, formal or informal, from any source in this behalf and make such preliminary investigations as it may determine. Its orders for the attendance or testimony of witnesses or for the production of documents at any hearing or investigation shall be enforceable by contempt proceedings in the District Court.

"(8) The Commission may, after such investigation as it deems necessary, order a hearing to be held before it concerning the removal or retirement of a Justice or Judge, or it may in its discretion request the Supreme Court to appoint an active or retired District Judge or Justice of a Court of Civil Appeals as a Master to hear and take evidence in any such matter, and to report thereon to the Commission. If, after hearing, or after considering the report and report of a Master, the Commission finds good cause therefore, it shall recommend the removal or retirement, as the case may be, of the Justice or Judge in question and shall thereupon file with the Clerk of the Supreme Court the entire record before the Commission.

"(9) The Supreme Court shall review the record of the proceedings on the law and facts and in its discretion may, for good cause shown, permit the introduction of additional evidence and shall order removal or retirement, as it finds just and proper, or wholly reject the recommendation. Upon an order for involuntary retirement for disability or an order for removal, the office in question shall become vacant. The rights of an incumbent so retired to retirement benefits shall be the same as if his retirement had been voluntary.

"(10) All papers filed with and proceedings before the Commission or a Master shall be confidential, and the filing of papers with, and the giving of testimony before, the Commission, Master or the Supreme Court shall be privileged; provided that upon being filed with the Supreme Court the record loses its confidential character.

"(11) The Supreme Court shall by rule provide for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court. Such rule shall afford to any judge against whom a proceeding is instituted to cause his retirement due process of law for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court in the same manner that any person whose property rights are in jeopardy in a judicial proceeding is entitled to due process of law, regardless of whether or not the disability of the judge in remaining in active status is considered to be a right or a privilege. Due process shall include the right to notice, counsel, hearing, confrontation of his accusers, and all such other incidents of due process as are ordinarily available in proceedings whether or not misdemeanor is charged, upon proof of which a penalty may be imposed.

"(12) No Justice or Judge shall sit as a member of the Commission or Supreme Court in any proceeding for the removal or retirement of a Justice or Judge.

"(13) This Section 1-a is alternative to, and cumulative of, the methods of removal of Justices and Judges provided elsewhere in this Constitution.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State as an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1965, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment providing for the retirement and Appellate Judges for old age, creating the State Judicial Qualifications Commission, defining its functions; and empowering the State Supreme Court, upon recommendation of said Commission, to remove District and Appellate Judges for misconduct and to retire such Judges in cases of disability.

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment providing for the automatic retirement of District and Appellate Judges for old age, creating the State Judicial Qualifications Commission, defining its functions; and empowering the State Supreme Court, upon recommendation of said Commission, to remove District and Appellate Judges for misconduct and to retire such Judges in cases of disability.

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election, and this Amendment shall be published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.
