IF YOU HAVE more than four or five of something you can call it your collection and then it ends up being your hobby. People collect just about everything... stamps, coins, thimbles, dolls, salt and pepper shakers, license plates, barbed wire, decanter bottles, and anything that appears to be remotely antique.

I always try to be a little bit different from the norm. I collect dead relatives. A long time ago somebody decided to give this hobby a fancy name like "genealogy" so it wouldn't sound quite so gross. Living breathing relatives who may get along like the Hatfields and McCoys, try getting together once a year at the family reunion just to enjoy the good food, and to remind everyone why they don't like each other very much.

Dead relatives don't give you as much trouble as the live ones. They just challenge you to find them in counties where the court houses have burned, or locate them in little small remote family cemeteries tucked away in far distant pasture lands. To those who are not involved in collecting dead relatives, genealogy is spelled B-O-R-I-N-G.

Over a period of about 25 years, the Good Old Boy and I have collected quite a library of files, notebooks, books and manuscripts on Ellis folks, not all of whom are even related to us in the slightest. This is in conjunction with a national Ellis newsletter that we publish. Everyone who is researching the Ellis surname all over the country was invited to attend an Ellis Research Convention last weekend in Amarillo.

Forty folks registered to attend, do research in our books, and to exchange Ellis data with one another. They came from everywhere: Maryland, Delaware, Georgia, Mississippi, Michigan, Arizona, Oklahoma, Ohio, Missouri, Washington, California, and from several places downstate in Texas (Houston, San Antonio, Bastrop, etc.), plus there were a few drop-ins from around the Amarillo area, who read about the event in the paper and came out to see what was going on.

Most of those from far away flew into Amarillo, but one little elderly couple drove all the way from Natchez, Mississippi, and one real gutsy lady drove all alone from Santa Rosa, California.

They ranged in ages from 30 to 80 and most came dragging their disinterested resigned-looking spouses along with them. One group even brought a comatose pouty teenage daughter, who obviously would rather have been anywhere else on earth than at a research conference.

The meeting room was filled with tables covered with books and papers and several people brought their little lap-top computers. On entering the room you could hear the quiet murmuring of happy researchers discussing their problem ancestors with one another, the tippy-tapping of computer keyboards, and the constant whirring of the copy machine in the corner, which was kept busy churning out copies of documents all weekend.

At a regular family reunion, people always proudly pass around photos of their kids and grandbabies. At a genie research get-together, they proudly pass around photos of ancestors' gravestones along with wild stories about harrowing adventures into ancient cemeteries, close encounters with ticks and chiggers, and narrow escapes from snakes and wild animals, just to snap that picture.

We pried them away from the research room on Friday evening for a steak dinner and on Saturday for a bus trip down into Palo Duro Canyon to see the TEXAS production, which they all enjoyed in spite of the heat, well over 100 degrees.

This is what can happen when you start collecting dead relatives. Maybe collecting thimbles wouldn't be quite so complicated.

A Familiar Sight in Bovina has been roofers. The recent hail storm caused damage to many roofs. This home near the Bovina Clinic decided to try the metal roof this time. With the unpredictable weather in Parmer County, metal might be a good choice. At this point, most folks would settle for moisture, whether it was rain, hail, or snow. ron carr photo

He ran through a couple of fences, then off the road and got the pickup stuck in a sand dune, then he proceeded to walk barefoot through the rocks and briars toward town.

He was found by a Lamb County farmer. The suspect was suffering from heat exhaustion and cuts and bruises.

The farmer called the Lamb County Sheriff's office who took the suspect to a Lamb County Hospital where he was treated for severe cuts and abrasions on his feet, including removing thorns up to one and one-half inches long.

Neither pickup was damaged. The suspect, now in Parmer County jail, is identified by the Parmer County Sheriff's office as Rene Villarreal, 35, who has told deputies he is from Friona, Bovina, and Muleshoe.

Train-Truck Accident: Train Wins

Sometime between 1-2 a.m. last Tuesday morning, a trucker pulled out of Excel loaded with meat bound for Army and Air Force bases in the East. He made it as far as the railroad crossing at the Excel exit.

According to Excel Security officials, the driver for Lisa Transportation out of Hereford, pulled over the tracks and stopped at the Highway 60 stop sign. Thinking he was clear of the tracks, the driver was attending to some quick paperwork.

The rear of the trailer was still on the tracks and was struck by an eastbound Santa Fe train. The collision demolished the trailer. The rear wheels were about 100 yards down the track and meat was scattered for several hundred yards in both directions from the crash site.

Friona Paramedic Dana Hendrix said the EMS crew treated the train engineer for minor cuts from flying glass as the train engine windows shattered and the train cab was "full of flying meat." The truck driver did not require medical treatment.

Employees arriving for work and other vehicle traffic into Excel were rerouted or turned away until around daylight when the entrance was reopened.

Cleanup crews worked until noon Wednesday clearing the debris. Transmatic from Clovis used heavy duty wreckers and lifts to load the truck trailer and wreck damage.

SPS Offers Cash-Saving Devices Free

It may look too good to be true, but SPS really is offering energy-saving devices for free.

SPS has contracted with UCONS of Bellevue, Washington, to provide low-flow showerheads and other water-heating efficiency products and services free of charge. The purpose is to help customers who use electric water heaters conserve water and save on energy costs.

"We've had several customers calling to ask if the offer is legitimate, and it is," said Ron Brown, manager of SPS product management. "This program is part of our commitment to control increased energy demand."

Some customers have already received an offer from UCONS through the mail, and SPS will follow up with information in a bill-stuffer newsletter called Update.

To be eligible for the offer, customers must use electric water heaters in their homes. Customers who participate are expected on average to save about 1,100 kilowatt-hours of electricity a year--a savings of around $60. They also should save about 14,000 gallons of water every year.

UCONS was selected through a competitive bid solicitation of over 50 companies and has an outstanding reputation serving nearly 250,000 customers over the past ten years.

More than 800 SPS customers have taken advantage of this program since mid-May. There is sufficient funding for another 20,000 SPS residential customers. UCONS expects to complete this program by mid-1999. Customers interested should call UCONS at (806)468-9421.

409 Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

This is a dramatized version of facts taken from the book of I Samuel intending to show some of the customs of these ancient and traditional times

SAMUEL AND SAUL

SAUL, ANOINTED BY SAMUEL, HAS BEEN TOLD THE MANY THINGS THAT WILL HAPPEN ON HIS JOURNEY HOME—AND THEY DO, EVEN TO HIS MEETING WITH A COMPANY OF PROPHETS, NOW...

...AS THE PROPHETS EMERGE FROM THE CITY...

BEHOLD, IS THIS NOT JUST AS SAMUEL DID FORTELL IT?!

...AS SAUL SEES THE PROPHETS, THE SPIRIT OF THE LORD DESCENDS UPON THE FUTURE KING OF ISRAEL...

...AND HE RUSHES TO JOIN THE PROPHETS...

... AND PROPHECIES ALONG WITH THEM IN THEIR MIDST! THOSE WHO KNOW HIM EXCLAIM: "IS SAUL ALSO AMONG THE PROPHETS?" AND FOR GENERATIONS TO COME, WHENEVER AN ISRAELITE WISHES TO SHOW COMPLETE AMAZEMENT, HE WILL USE THIS PHRASE TO DENOTE HIS ASTONISHMENT!

Next Week JOURNEY'S END!

Scooter's Scoops

By SCOOTER RUSSELL

Hot, dry weather is still with us and reports are that we have endured twelve days with 100 degrees and over. Back in 1953, we had 28 days with temperatures of one hundred and over.

I talked to a friend from here who is in Dallas, where the temperature has been about the same as this, but she said we had no idea what "hot" is until one has been in that part of the country. At least our mornings and nights have been nice and cool.

Residents were saddened this week with another death, Mel Clark, who passed away a week ago Thursday morning at his home. Mel fought a long battle with cancer. He was a former Chief of Police in Bovina. He was survived by his wife, Pam, and two daughters in Bovina, Tammy and Melissa. Our deepest sympathies to his family.

Friends said Lavonia

Moody is in St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock taking treatments to make her strong enough to undergo surgery. Our thoughts are with her and her husband, Weldon.

Galen and Judy Hromas flew to Houston a week ago Friday, and returned home the following Sunday. They visited with their son, Darren, who received his degree in computer science and is now working for Compaq.

Minnie Kelso underwent surgery for gallstones week before last in the Hereford Plains Regional Hospital. She kept having problems after she was released the next day.

On Monday of last week, she entered the hospital again, and said she had lots of infection. They kept her for a week and a day. She came home from the hospital on Tuesday of this week and said she felt much better.

Mary Trienen was also a patient in the Hereford hospital when I talked with Minnie Kelso on Tuesday. She said Mary had an appendectomy and she will probably be home by the time the paper is out.

Pat and Pat Kunselman and Mrs. Pat's mom, Doris Wilson, spent the weekend in Spearman with grandson, Arty and Tami Kunselman. While there, they celebrated Doris' birthday and also Father's day.

The Jim Russells' were also there and Sunday morning the men celebrated the beginning of their day with a breakfast at the Methodist Church. Later that day, the men had good luck fishing at Lake Palo Duro, which is nine miles from Spearman.

I talked with Sid Lloyd and she said her son, Don, had finally got everything moved to his new home in Dallas. Don has recently retired from working at the ASC office in Washington, D. C. He had begun working for the ASC when he was in high school.

Don's wife, Myrna, has worked for J.C. Penney Company for many years and moved to Dallas about six months ago, but Don has only joined her about a month ago.

They are happy to be back in Texas and their two children, Pam and Mike, are also in the Dallas area.

Don has been with Sid for several days working on her yard and enjoying being with his mom.

Jack Rains and Billy Smith were honored on their birthdays with a cookout at Jack's home with thirty employees and family in attendance. The group enjoyed a fun time and birthday cake. So, happy belated birthday to two fine men!

Kenneth and Ophela Estes are in Bovina visiting with Kenneth's sister and family, Suezey Smith.

Kenneth and Ophela work at the Rio Grande Orphans Home at Mission, Texas. Suezey said they may retire by December and when they do they plan to retire in Bovina.

Ann Lee Englant has been in Hensley, Arkansas, with son, Tony Bob, and his three children who are nine, seven and five years old. She came back for her brother-in-law's funeral and she said she brought the children with her.

Ann Lee said it was terribly hot in Arkansas even though they had refrigerated air conditioning.

I enjoyed visiting with Doris Wilson over the weekend and she was telling me how it was when they came to Bovina seventy years ago. She said Bovina was a thriving little town and at one time people parked down the middle of the street because there was not enough room on the sides of the street to handle the vehicles.

When they came to Bovina she could remember there was a livery stable, Richardson's garage and work shop, barber shop, Gaines Hardware, mercantile store, grocery store operated by a Mr. Scaff, the post office, and a cafe ran by Deed Bridgeford. (She said everyone loved "Deed".)

There was also a Methodist Church and Baptist Church and a hotel with a restaurant on the lower floor.

She said they had entertainment of tent shows and live theater. Bovina was also the largest cattle shipping point in the world at that time.

After Doris married John, she went back to school and finished her high school in two years. By the way, she was also valedictorian. She didn't want me to say that because she thought that was bragging but Doris, I'm running things here so I told it anyway...So There!

Doris has always been one of my favorite people and she is loved by many as evidence by the year she received "Woman of the Year."

Think About It...Quote From Oprah Winfrey: Keep a grateful journal. Every night, list five things that happened this day that you are grateful for.

What it will begin to do is change your perspective of your day and your life. If you can learn to focus on what you have, you will always see that the universe is abundant; you will have more. If you concentrate on what you don't have, you will never have enough.

Thanks for helping with the Scoops...Scooter.

GRACE URIEGAS and PAUL OSTERBAUER.... Mr. and Mrs. Ruben and Tina Uriegas announce the engagement of their daughter, Grace, to Paul John Osterbauer, D.C., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben J. and Carol Osterbauer of New Brighton, Minnesota. Dr. Osterbauer received his chiropractic degree from the Northwestern College of Chiropractic in Minnesota and a Master's in public health from the University of Washington in Seattle. He is currently employed by the Northwestern College of Chiropractic Research Division. Miss Uriegas is a 1992 graduate of Bovina High School. She received a Bachelor of Science Degree in biology in 1997 from the University of Dallas and is currently employed by Kinex IHA, Corporation Research Division at the Texas Back Institute in Plano, Texas. The couple will be married at the Chapel of the Incarnation at the University of Dallas on November 28. What You Can Do In 4-H

Any young person, from any community in our country can learn skills that employers look for...develop awareness about how to care for and make decisions about the environment...find new friends...become a community leader...and have lots of fun in 4-H!

4-H is for all youth, from ages 5 to 19. Young people may pursue their interests in a wide variety of program areas. Youth can join 4-H through a local club, a special interest group, or through an after-school program. Each program is unique and often involves the whole family.

4-H encourages diverse groups of youth to develop their skills and talents to the fullest potential. In 4-H, you "learn by doing." You can gain confidence and skills that will last a lifetime through 4-H's "hands-on" programs like Environmental Stewardship, Workforce Preparation, Public Speaking, Citizenship, and Leadership programs.

The accomplishments you achieve in 4-H will prepare you for the world of work and for becoming a contributing citizen. Most importantly, 4-H is fun! 4-H...it's more than you ever imagined!

So, how much time does 4-H take? You structure your own commitment to 4-H. Do as little or as much as you desire. You can get involved in monthly club meetings or weekly after-school programs.

If you are interested in becoming involved in 4-H, contact Cody G. Hill at the Parmer County Extension Service by calling (806) 481-3619.
