Jail Escapee Captured In Abandoned House

Acting on an anonymous tip, Bailey County Sheriff Dee Clements and Deputies Bobby Henderson and Buddy Black, City Chief of Police Harold White, Patrolman John Moore, David Cunningham and Jim Kinser and Highway Patrolman Freddie Jack converged on vacant house on East Fifth Street at 8:15 p.m. Friday to investigate the possibility that County Jail escapee Raymond Diaz Rodriguez was holed up there.

Sure enough he was . . . and was captured without incident. Rodriguez escaped Bailey County Jail around noon Tuesday using a blanket torn in strips and fashioned into a rope and went down -- or fell down -- over the north side of the courthouse after breaking two heavy locks from the run-around leading to the roof top where he tied the blanket to an antenna and went over the side to a short-lived freedom.

Rodriguez told officers that as he swung down on the blanket rope it broke near the top and he fell from near the top of the courthouse to the ground and first noticed a slight sting on one foot, by the time he crossed the highway heading east, the foot went numb at the time of his arrest, his foot was badly swollen and red and he had used crutches made from old room handles with rags tied around the top for padding to motivate.

Upon his arrest, he was taken to West Plains Hospital when X-rays were made of his foot which revealed no broken bones, but a bad sprain and he was placed back in Bailey County Jail.

Rodriguez told officer that he had had nothing to eat since his escape, Sheriff Dee Clements quipped "Had you called me, I would have brought you something? Funny part . . . he failed to tell him that along with the food, he would have brought the entire local law enforcement officers and a one-way ticket back to jail!

The escapee had knocked a hole in the ceiling in the closet of the empty house and was hiding in the attic. Highway Patrolman Freddie Jack was boosted to viewing position into the attic by Sheriff Clements.

All Checks To Require Ink Symbol

Federal Reserve officials in Dallas announced today that, effective September 1, 1967, the Reserve Banks will no longer process checks which do not carry the magnetic ink symbols of the writer's bank. They pointed out the 86 percent increase in check volume since the start of the Magnetic Ink Character Recognition Program eight years ago and to the fact that more than 1.1 million checks are being handled daily at the four offices of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

High-speed computers are being used to sort checks at more than 60,000 per hour, but these computers require the magnetic ink symbols in order to function. Fed officials point out that checks without the symbols must be handled on low-speed machines and that only 1,500 per hour can be accommodated on such machines.

Of prime importance to the general public is the proposed withdrawal of counter checks and changed checks. Banks are cooperating fully in preparing their Transit symbols on checks they provide for their customers. However, some super markets and drug and department stores, as well as churches and other organizations, provide counterdrafts which bear no magnetic ink symbols.

The new restriction on handling nonprinted checks will mean slower collection for this type of check and a much more costly collection process. In effect, the nonprinted check will be handled as a noncash collection, meaning flat credit.

Plans Set To Start Highway

The widening of U. S. Highway 84 from Muleshoe northwest to the Farmer County line is expected to be started this week.

A planning meeting was held at 10 a.m. Friday in the County Court room to secure close cooperation of the contractor, law enforcement agencies and Highway Department engineering personnel in promoting traffic safety on the project, and to secure better driver compliance with State laws and safer driving practices through the limits of this project.

The bid of Highway 84 was let to Kerr Construction Company February 24 in the amount of $326,136.00 for the construction of 9,550 miles of highway which includes grading structure, flexible base and one course surface treatment.

Ken Hancock, general superintendent for Kerr Construction said they expected to receive the work order on the highway Monday or Tuesday and the company would immediately start setting up standard barricades, flashing warning lights and other warning signals, then commence the work immediately thereafter.

Hancock estimated the work to take 280 working days and gave early fall, 1967 in general for completion, weather permitting.

Specification for handling traffic were clarified at the planning meeting with Highway Patrolman Freddie Jack. Construction heads explained that speeds would be set up in the actual working area and in dangerous situations.

Contractors stressed that State laws required that all trees be removed from the right-of-way before construction is started and that some 400 trees would be removed.

Anyone wishing to have any of these trees for firewood or other purposes may pick them up.

One question which has been asked repeatedly was explained . . . the route around or passing Bailey County Memorial Park.

James C. Kerr, construction company owner explained that the highway would all be on the north of the cemetery and would narrow in the median area bringing the two lanes of traffic nearer, yet maintain the same highway width.

CONSTRUCTION TO START—Construction on Highway 84 is slated to start this week. A planning session was held Friday morning. Among those attending were Doyle P. Hasty, chief inspector, Highway Department; Joe Cope, Jey superintendent, Kerr Construction Co.; Rhea Bradley, resident engineer, Littlefield, Bailey County Judge Don Chah, James C. Kerr, owner of Kerr Construction Co. and Ken Hancock, General superintendent of Kerr. Kerr said some local labor would be used, however mostly skilled crewmen would do the work.

Public School Week Slated

TWO FOLD MEANING—March, in this instance, has a two-fold meaning. March 6-10 is Public School Week and teachers and students alike encourage you to march to school and see the projects and programs planned for you to visit the teachers in the classrooms. Shown here are R. E. Everett, Junior High principal, Aileen Stewart, Mrs. Lewis Scoggins and Miss Rhonda Wagon.

Texas Public School Week will be observed in Muleshoe Monday, March 6 through Friday, March 10, again giving the parents of the students an opportunity to talk with the teachers and view the students projects and work.

"Democracy in Action" is the theme of the 17th annual observance for Muleshoe schools. Public School Week, originated in 1950 as a public service project, was launched for the sole purpose of stimulating and advancing the general interest in public education in Texas.

Traditionally observed during the first full week in March, this annual event has won widespread approbation and support.

Open house and the annual Science Fair will be held at both elementary school, Mary DeShazo and Richard Hill, Tuesday, March 7, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Open house will be held at Muleshoe Junior High and High school Thursday, March 9 between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. A Science Fair will be held at the Junior High School.

A schedule has been prepared for High School and appears on the school page, the MULES TALE.

"In recognition and celebration of the 113th Anniversary of the founding of the public free schools in Texas, citizens are given an opportunity to reflect upon the great heritage of freedom and self-reliance. We should be reminded that it is our great public school system, among all of our free institutions, that has been most responsible for preserving and extending our prosperity, and our democratic way of life," states John McKee, Dallas, Chairman of the Texas Citizens' Committee on Public Schools Week.

Chamber ledger out of the 'red' . . . however, Eddie Faust, giving the financial report pointed out that an additional $800 is needed to bring the Chamber up to date on current bills which will leave nothing more for operational expenses.

FLIGHT... of Faith

The faith of a boy that a slender string shall hold high his kite — that when he extends a little more string his kite will go a little higher — shows that this flight is a flight of faith.

As the boy has faith in the string so must we have faith in our Lord, and the more faith we extend, the higher and more abundant our lives will be. It is written in Romans 1:17, "The just shall live by faith." Attend Church this Sunday and receive inspiration from those who share your faith, that you may, as the Apostle Paul said, "be comforted together by the mutual faith of you both."

Coleman Adv. Ser.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Rev. Murray Quotes Saloon Bill Statistics

"If the saloon bill is passed and liquor by the drink is allowed by law, more than 600 Texans will die needlessly in automobile accidents the first year," Don Murray, pastor of the First Baptist Church said today.

Don Murray said the 600 figure is based on a 20 percent increase in fatal automobile accidents that occurred in other states after liquor by the drink was legalized. "Some of our neighbors, friends, children will be the victims of drinking drivers - deaths that are needless," he said.

In addition to the 600 additional deaths in automobile accidents, the number of alcoholics would increase by 50% according to records of other states with saloon laws. "These are well-documented facts. For every $1 in alcohol taxes Texas collects, it spends $37 in alcohol-caused costs, such as crime, welfare, lost jobs, extra policing, courts, etc. according to the American Business Men's Research Foundation. Liquor by the drink will cause more people to start drinking. It will enable more minors to drink. It will increase crime. It will increase the traffic accidents, cause alcoholism, and poverty. It is our Christian duty to oppose the saloon bill," Mr. Murray said.

Open saloons would not increase available tax money because so much alcohol-caused costs would arise, according to statistics from Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education, Inc., open saloons would not cut down the amount of drinking, but it would increase it.

In "bottle only" states, per capita consumption of alcohol is slightly under one gallon per person per year. In open saloon states it is nearly two gallons, Rev. Murray said.

Boy's Fancy Directed To LL Baseball

"As spring lifts its pretty head and tosses its windblown curls, a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of BASEBALL, and this year promises a record turnout for Little League Baseball. There's a place waiting for you on a team, with the forming of two new teams last year, bringing up the total to minor and C major teams, said player agent, Nelda Merrett.

"As a little league player, he will enjoy learning teamwork, responsibility and sportsmanship, in addition to benefiting from this healthful exercise. He will wear the best and safest equipment available and play the game under strict safety rules and regulations. He will be covered by insurance while traveling directly to and from the field as well as during practice sessions and games, she continued.

ENHANCED BIBLE WACO, Tex. (AP) - Modern methods of historical research into the Bible have enriched the Christian faith, not weakened it, the Rev. Dr. G. Ernest Wright of Harvard Divinity school told a Baylor University audience.

"The Bible as historical text is not exhausted or even penetrated the mystery of its ultimate power and meaning," he said. "Yet it does claim to reveal God as he would be known as our God."

Noted Artist Peter Hurd's Painting Returned to Museum

An oil painting by noted artist Peter Hurd has returned to Lubbock from a recent exhibition at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts in Ohio, to make its home in the permanent collection of the West Texas Museum, as a gift of the artist.

The 30x25 oil, "Uncle John," was painted in the '30s by Hurd in Pennsylvania.

The subject, "Uncle John" McVey, was born about 1852 and died in his late eighties. He was a nextdoor farmer whose the artist describes as a "wonderful rough, tough and colorful old man during my years at Chadd's Ford." All of the Weythes except Hurd's wife Henriette painted the old man, whose "six-foot-three-inch frame and Anglo Saxon head seemed to belong in a Frederic Remington painting," Hurd says.

Hurd remembers "Uncle John" kept hunters (horses) and coon hounds, and "was an unending source of wonderful yarns."

One of the old man's recollections, Hurd remembers, was of "drilling along with other little boys on the town square of Oxford, Maryland, where he was raised, in imitation of the militiamen; the kids using dried stalks of mullein weed for muskets. The Civil War was about to break."

The exhibition in Columbus featured 189 works of Hurd and his wife, Henriette Wyeth, including Hurd's recent portrait of President Johnson. Among works on loan from the West Texas Museum were two lithographs, "From the Bunkhouse," and "The New Mill", and two watercolor sketches, "Grain Sorghum" and "Carduus Thistle".

"Uncle John" is exhibited in the rotunda gallery of the Museum, over-looking the famed South Plains Mural, which Hurd executed in 1954 in fresco on the rotunda walls.

Electing Presidents

Some ten States in the Far West and Midwest have already petitioned Congress in favor of an amendment to the Constitution which would change the method of electing a President. This seems—after many years of discussion—that the Constitution is likely to be changed in the relatively near future.

Two proposals seem to have the greatest support. One would put presidential elections on a direct, popular vote basis. Another would provide that the States retain electoral votes but that they be divided in exact proportion to the popular vote in the state.

Those in favor of a popular vote argue that this is the most democratic method by which to choose the nation's chief executive. Those favoring retention of the electoral vote believe the provision for electoral votes established in the Constitution should not be altogether abolished.

Supporters of both agree that the present system, which has allowed Presidents with fewer votes than their opponents to win, needs modification. The present system requires all of a State's electoral votes to be cast for the candidate who wins a majority of the electoral votes. Thus votes for the loser do not count.

For twenty-five years there has been active agitation for reform in the system and it now appears some amendment to the Constitution will be enacted in the not-too-distant future, which is only fitting in the West's major democracy.

Bill's Intent Tax, Control

GUEST EDITORIAL—

Gov. John Connally's liquor-by-the-drink bill has now been spelled out to the legislature. It's fate is at best uncertain, primarily because of reasons which actually have little to do with the bill's intent.

In submitting the measure, Gov. Connally correctly described it as a control and revenue-producing bill. However, opposition is unlikely to come on these points; rather, as with most such legislation in this area of concern, the battle will be waged on moral and emotional grounds.

This is regrettable, for the governor's summation of the bill's intent and effects is correct. The bill would provide greater measure of control over the sale of alcoholic beverages, and it would be of immense value as a revenue producer.

In proposing the bill, Gov. Connally said, "The question before us is not whether the use of alcohol is to be legalized or prohibited. That question was settled long ago." And, under Texas law, that question remains separate from this issue. As now written, the liquor-by-the-drink bill would automatically legalize such sales only in areas now legally wet anyway. It would not extend sales into now-dry areas; the question would still be subject to local option elections.

It says that if we are going to have it (legalized sale of alcoholic beverages) — we should have it tightly controlled and tightly regulated," the governor added. This argument is certainly sound — all could agree to that. The governor's further argument that the sale of alcohol in smaller quantities would encourage temperance and moderation is supported by many authorities in the field, although it is outside the central point of the affair.

Today Texas liquor laws are open to all sorts of abuses. "Private clubs" are a winked-at fact of Texas life, with membership rules scarcely more restrictive than a pair of swinging doors. The governor's bill would eliminate these abuses, and the imposition of high taxes on dispensers of liquor-by-the-drink, and limiting them to hotels, motels and clubs would effectively control their number. A city the size of San Angelo, for instance, could support only a very few such establishments — and those would be subject to strict and easy control.

The approval or disapproval of the use of alcoholic beverages is not the issue. Were it so, this newspaper might argue differently, for certainly we don't advocate more extensive use of alcohol. If the issue can be viewed in the proper light — as an attempt to at once correct abuses of current law, control the sale of alcoholic beverages more rigidly and benefit the state treasury — then the merits of the governor's proposal can be seen. We hope it is in this context that the legislature considers the bill carefully, and then acts in light of facts understood by emotion.

—San Angelo Standard Times—

WASHINGTON NOTES

FUNDS RELEASED

The Johnson Administration has announced it is releasing $175 million in frozen highway funds. It was reported more would be released if the economic slowdown continues.

U.S. POPULATION

The Census Bureau has estimated the population of the United States at the beginning of the year to be a little less than 198 million. This is a 10 percent increase from 1960 workers, and George G. Hage, director of the bureau, expects the 200-million mark to be reached by late this year.

HIGH INTEREST BOND

The federal government has offered a new high interest savings note—the "Freedom Share," bears 4.74 interest yearly when held to its 4 1/2 year maturity. It is hoped the notes, which go on sale May 1, will attract up to $1 billion.

RESERVISTS DUE CALL

Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara said 31,000 reservists will be called to active duty who either are "unable or unwilling" to participate in reserve activities. The move is aimed at those who joined a unit to escape the draft.

FIGHT AGAINST CRIME

A national campaign against a crime syndicate has been proposed by a presidential commission. The commission identified the crime syndicate in question as the La Cosa Nostra.

ON SERVICE NUMBERS

Beginning July 1, the rank and serial number for the nation's 3.3 million military men will cease to exist. The Defense Department decided that Social Security numbers will become the primary military identification.

CONGRESS ADVISED ON TAX

Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers, said he is pleased that Congress has failed to raise taxes now.

ON LIVING COSTS

Secretary of Labor Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that living costs held steady during January. This makes a 3-month period of comparative price stability.

BOMBING & INFILTRATION

Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara recently told Congress that the bombing of North Vietnam has failed to reduce to any degree the infiltration of men and material into the South. He said, however, that bombing had been successful against stated objectives.

CONSUMER PROTECTION

President Johnson has sent to Congress a twelve-point program aimed at protecting the American consumer. Stiffer regulations covered a long list of commodities.

Chamber Corner

by Vic Benedict, President

True Answers to your questions, objections.

I'm sure at one time or another chamber members as well as non members ask "What has the Chamber done for me?" or "Why should I belong to the Chamber?"

These are honest questions and I feel they deserve an honest answer. As President of the Muleshoe Chamber let me give you my answers to the many questions asked about our local chamber.

THE CHAMBER DOESN'T HELP ME....The Chamber of Commerce works for the benefit of all business, not personal gain. If you are in business, it works indirectly for you by building the community from which you make your living.

CAN'T AFFORD TO CONTRIBUTE....You are not contributing to a cause, but investing in the only organization continually seeking to improve your business. Your investment is tax deductible as a business expense.

DON'T HAVE TIME TO ATTEND MEETING....Attending meetings is not compulsory. If unable to support with time both time and money, give at least your financial support with those who are giving both.

MY BUSINESS IS TOO SMALL....The Chamber is the only organization striving to increase the size of your business by industry and civic interests of

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm heard about the activities of the C.I.A., his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor: Every newspaper I've picked up out here lately has had another long article on what the C.I.A. has been doing, and I've done my best to keep track of it.

As I understand it, the C.I.A., or Central Intelligence Agency, gets a lot of secret money from Congress to keep this country informed on what's going on behind the scenes around the world, and to help counteract Communism, and smarter men than I recognize it's a valuable work and I believe it.

However, it might not be a bad idea to give an intelligence test to the man in the outfit who thought he could hand out money to college students and keep it quiet.

The way the newspaper articles explained it, a lot of the college students didn't know the C.I.A. was supplying them with money, and I believe it, but you can't depend on all students staying in the dark all

Muleshoe and its trade area.

WHAT'S MY SHARE...Only you can determine your proportionate investment share. It is suggested that it be at least equal your "Stake" in the community. You rate yourself.

When you continue to work for community improvement with a sustained interest and enthusiasm in the Program of development the benefits of the advice and help of the cities business and civic leaders become real to you and additional connection between the city and the Chamber. The city is a tax supported governmental agency while the Chambers support is entirely voluntary.

MODERN RUSTLERS...DENVER, Colo. Horse stealing has changed a bit from frontier days. Thieves stole a one-ton pickup truck and four-horse trailer from Miss Jean McHarg's home, then drove to her ranch and stole four prize horses. Miss McHarg valued the horses at $25,000 and the truck and trailer at $8,000.

BEHOLD TO TOO MANY OTHER ORGANIZATIONS NOW....The Chamber is the only organized effort continually seeking to maintain a prosperous and dynamic economy to exert on your behalf.

I'M A PROFESSIONAL MAN....DON'T NEED THE CHAMBER....Your greatest asset is your location in a prosperous, growing community which the chamber promotes. This more people move in who become your patients or clients.

WHO MAY BECOME A MEMBER....Any reputable person, association, corporation, partnership or estate wishing to advance the commercial, industrial and civic interests of the time. One or two of them were bound to catch on.

On the other hand, a lot of organizations run by grown men were unaware of where their money was coming from, so you don't necessarily have to be a college student to be fooled, a friend of mine in town got to thinking about all this and he stopped me and said, "Say, I understand you farmers are always getting government checks. You reckon the C.I.A. is behind that?"

I have investigated this thoroughly, and I can state that unquestionably and beyond a shadow of a doubt the C.I.A. is not financing me or any other farmer.

It is an insult to our intelligence to suggest such a thing. It is outrageous to even think it.

Certainly the C.I.A. is not financing me.

But in this connection I would like to say, How do you get in touch with them?

Yours faithfully, J.A.

John Tower

Fellow Texans, this is your United States Senator --- John Tower --- bringing you the first of my regular reports for this 1967 session of Congress.

I have delayed the beginning of this series of reports until today because, as you probably know, I've been overseas in Southeast Asia for the better part of February on another inspection trip for the Armed Services Committee. I wanted this first report to be an assessment for you of just what the situation is now in Vietnam.

I visited with our officers and men, not just in South Vietnam but throughout Southeast Asia, including Thailand, Taiwan and South Korea. I purposely went to Hong Kong where we maintain our best listening post on the internal happenings of Red China. And, I found clear evidence that our over-all American policy of helping develop and preserve viable, free buffer states on Red China's borders is meeting with success. We are severely inhibiting Red China's aggressive tendencies. She is now far less able than in years past to interfere in the affairs of smaller Asian nations.

On the basis of what I say and learned last month, I believe this is a perfect time for us to intensify our efforts for victory against the North Vietnamese without fear of serious Red Chinese action.

We are winning the struggle in Vietnam. But, we can win much more rapidly by an intensification of our military pressure. I firmly believe that we must unrelenting pressure on the Viet Cong and on North Vietnam. As one officer bluntly told me, "We are winning the war---the question is how fast do we do it."

Now, when the advantage is ours, certainly is not the time to relax the pressure on the communist North.

Letting up of Allied military pressure now would be dangerously tragic. I hope all Texans will understand that every step in our military effort during a truce period must eventually be paid for with American lives.

A five-day truce may mean that our boys are not being shot at for five days, but let every American understand that it also means our boys will for months after that truce face a stronger enemy who is shooting bullets and living on supplies brought in during the truce.

I stood with one grim Marine officer near the border between North and South Vietnam as we looked at air photos of a steady stream of trucks --- safe from our air attack because of the truce---bringing arms, ammunition and equipment to the North Vietnamese soldiers stationed opposite the Marine's camp.

"Take a good look, senator," he said, "those trucks mean more dead Marines."

During the TET truce our enemy brought to his force between 35,000 and 70,000 tons of supplies. He wiped out 30 days of interdiction bombing effort on our part. An American pilot told me the roadways toward South Vietnam looked like U. S. turnpikes on a holiday weekend.

By granting our enemy this "holiday," despite clear evidence all along that he did not intend to honor the truce by seeking peace, we prolonged the war.

We should have no more such See TOWER on Page 7

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

POP LIKES "YOUNG STUFF"

Dear Amy: I am 22 years old and happily married. My problem is my father-in-law who is 45 years old. This man has a little more feeling toward me than just what our relationship calls for... and he has told me so!

I don't dare be alone with him for fear he might get fresh with me. He has made passes more than once, and I've told my husband and mother-in-law all about him.

Whenever I try to keep away from him, he manages to keep close to me whenever we go to visit them. If I weren't for our two children, I would be able to avoid seeing him.

I've tried most everything to keep him in line without hurting my mother-in-law any more than I already have.

In such a case as this, I hope you can give me some sort of advice on what to do.

Dear Young Stuff: Your father-in-law is a revolting individual. Words won't change him, but I wager a good sharp hat pin will. Visit as seldom as necessary, stay with the crowd, but be armed and ready to go into action when he does.

Dear Amy: This friend of mine has been telling me about a little 6 year old girl who lives next door to her, and that her parents treat her like dirt. They keep her locked up in a room which contains no floor, no bed, no food, no water, no toilet, no bathroom in that room, too.

A couple of times she sneaked out of there and came next door to my friend's house because she was starved.

Dear Help: For heaven's sake, contact the Juvenile Authorities immediately before it's too late. Parents you call them! They are criminals!

I am firmly convinced that our Administration is strongly and faithfully seeking peace. But I think continual, uninformed, public calls for peace, by Americans both official and private, damage our cause. Our determined peace efforts must proceed secretly if there is to be any hope of success.

I believe we are close to convincing this enemy that he cannot win. Therefore, I hope we will intensify our efforts against him. We should bomb all military targets, wherever located. ## The Bible

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a personal review movie, "The Bible" written by Elaine Damron.

My husband and I were the fortunate recipients of complimentary tickets given by the "Muleshoe Journal" to the private press preview of the movie, "The Bible", scheduled to premier of the public Thursday, March 2nd at the Winchester Theater in Lubbock. I would like to highly recommend it to you and give some of my impressions of it.

I was a little skeptical prior to seeing it, thinking, "Oh just another one of those biblical extravaganzas, far removed from what the Biblical authors intended to portray, just to get the public to attend". But I was very pleasantly surprised as the story unfolded to see how beautifully and simply the biblical truth was portrayed, and how very closely the scriptures were followed. "The Bible" tells the stories of Genesis, including the Creation; Adam and Eve; Cain and Abel; Noah's Ark and the Flood; the Tower of Babel; The Destruction of Sodom; and the Saga of Abraham. This is the first time the Bible has been brought to the screen in continuity, rather than as an enlargement of a single story.

the family also, for the children will enjoy the long array of animals marching onto the ark, as well as receiving some biblical education from having gone.

Curriculum Guide

This is the second in a series explaining the curriculum of the Muleshoe high school. This series deals with social studies which includes American Government, Economics, Texas History, American History, Remedial World History, World History, Driver's Education and World Government.

School Week Brings Education Into Focus

Texas Public Schools Week, which has been traditionally set as the first full week in March, will be observed from March 9 through March 10. This event is designed to focus attention on the public schools and how they operate. During this week all Texans are invited to visit and observe classes in our schools.

An open house is usually thought of as an opportunity to visit a new home, building, or business to see the newest in modern ideas. This year, Texans will visit our public schools not so much to socialize or view the newest physical improvements as to become aware of the new mental attitudes in our modern system.

Texas Public Schools Week gives every person interested in the Public Schools the opportunity of getting as much information as he wants from teachers and administrators about how the schools in our community function.

"High school and Junior High will observe open house Thursday, March 9 from 6:45 until 9 o'clock. Parents are urged to attend, meet the teachers, and discuss student progress in the various areas of study," principal Tom Jinks said.

All-Girl Choir Goes On Radio

by Donna Donaldson

The All-Girl Choir will sing on KMLU-FM radio Tuesday night, live from the Methodist Church. All parents are invited to attend at the church. The choir will leave Wednesday for Canyon where they will be entered in a contest.

ernment course are as follows:
1. The definite value and dignity that every individual should retain.

2. The equality of opportunity for every individual to develop and use his potentialities.

3. The understanding of our Constitution and the inalienable basic rights and liberties for all individuals, including freedom of religion, speech, assembly, and the like.

4. The use of the team method of cooperation of equals as the best way to solve common problems and promote common omics to his own life and that of his family.

TEXAS HISTORY

Through Texas History, the students are given the dramatic events which make up the history of our great state. During the course, an attempt is made to develop within the student a feeling of love and patriotism for their own state and country and an appreciation of their American heritage. Students receive a knowledge of the main events in the history of their state that will be meaningful to their age level. Through Texas History, students will stimulate a desire to know more about Texas and the United States -- its physical features, natural endowments, people, and the relation of these to growth and expansion.

AMERICAN HISTORY

American History is the study of our country, from its birth until present time. It is a part of the school's totaleducational program which strives to prepare students for life.

Specific Objectives:

- (1) To instill knowledge of our country's past.
- (2) To help student gain an appreciation of our heritage.
- (3) To teach democratic practices.
- (4) To gain an understanding of individual worth.
- (5) To teach individual responsibility for our country's future.
- (6) To help students gain understanding to America's role in world affairs.

concerns (Our republican form of government, with officials elected by the secret ballot through universal suffrage).

5. The use of reason in the solution of problems and the rejection of prejudice, bigotry, and force.

6. The understanding of the 3 branches of the government and the separate departments which fall under each branch.

ECONOMICS

Economics is a study of the way people make a living, how the people of an entire nation make a living, and a study of the ways in which all the people of the world make a living.

All of the decisions made today, whether an individual is buying a new home or a candy bar, effect the economy of our nation on the personal economy of the individual. The overall objective of Economics is to give each student an insight as to what our economy is made up of, what conditions affect the change in our economy, and what part each individual plays in our economy. The students are taught the vocabulary used by the economists in describing the various economic conditions of our nation.

Economics help the student to understand the free economy upon which our country has been built and within which he lives and will earn a living. It enables him better to evaluate our economic freedom in contrast with totalitarian systems. It facilitates the student application of the principles of economic freedom.

WORLD GOVERNMENT

World Government is required for senior students and has a one-half credit rating.

World Government is a comparison between Communism and Democracy with special emphasis upon the Doctrinal Motivations of the world-wide Communist movement.

In order to face this enemy, one must not only know his strategy and tactics, but also strengthen those elements of our American civilization which furnish the secure foundation of freedom for the rest of mankind.

REMEDIAL WORLD HISTORY

The requirements of the Texas Education Agency for graduation from high school include a full credit in World History. Some students enter this course with particular problems. Many of these problems can be credited to a difficulty in reading. We are very fortunate to have available to us sets of booklets in World History. These booklets are the result of years research and development by a teacher of World History, assisted by authorities in the field of reading. Each lesson is so written that it gradually develops better reading habits in the student. Almost all the work done in this course is done in class, with a minimum of assignments outside of class. If a student is capable of taking the regular course in World History, he will find this class so easy it will be boring. If the student has trouble in reading and comprehension, he will find this course suited to his present needs, and also an aid in developing better reading habits.

The grading system in this course requires that no grade above a 79 be recorded or averaged.

This course, if passed, will meet the requirements for a student who might be thinking of attending college.

Mary DeShazo Honor Roll Totals Thirty-Eight

Thirty eight students are listed on the Mary DeShazo Elementary honor roll for the fourth six weeks of school. The third grade has the largest total with 16, the fifth grade follows with 14 and the fourth grade lists eight.

They are:

THIRD GRADE

Noemi Anzaldua, Jana Bruns, Kim Black, Keith Bulce, Dan Ellis, Vicki Griffin, Ricki Grogan, Donnam Harmon, and Gary Parker.

DECA Delegates To State Meet

by Joe Puente

Five Distributive Education students attended the DECA state meet held in Dallas Friday and Saturday, March 3 and 4. They were Becky Pedrosa, job interviewer; Diane Bryant Sweetheart contest; Celma Evans, public speaking; Jimmy Bruton, sales demonstration and Vicki Verna, advertising.

Results are not available at press time, however they will be released when the students return.

Some of these delegates were representatives of the area having won at the area meet held January 28 in Odessa.

WORLD HISTORY

The requirements of the Texas Education Agency for Graduation from high school include a full credit in World History. Many students embark on the study of World History with a pre-determined distaste for history. The purposes of this course must include the attempt to interest students in learning something of the background of other peoples. We strive to show why other peoples might see things differently from us. We strive to show pride many nations and races have in accomplishments of their ancestors. We strive to bring pupils to think about the many different peoples who came to America to make up the population of our nation today.

We believe that people can learn most profitably by the mistakes of others, rather than finding it necessary to make many of the same mistakes that others have made in previous years.

This is a survey course covering about 5,000 years of recorded history and touching on some pre-historic times.

Homemakers Practice Work

One phase of the Homemaking program which other classes usually do not provide is home experience. This means doing something at home which follows what the student is actually studying in class.

Checks...

cannot be given the receiver of the check until it has been completely processed through the drawer's bank.

Federal Reserve officials, with the cooperation of commercial banks, are mounting a special campaign to educate the general public on the need to carry their personalized or preprinted checks. The program is also aimed at requesting stores to withdraw all counter checks and to encourage stores to refuse to cash checks which do not have the magnetic ink symbols. The Dallas Bank officials indicate that the Eleventh Federal Reserve District has the lowest preprinting ratio of the twelve Federal Reserve Districts and that the problems this creates are especially acute in the Southwest. They are appealing to the public and businessmen throughout the area to support this campaign to eliminate counter checks, changed checks and nonpre-printed items of all types. The general public will benefit by the more efficient collection of checks, not only by fewer charges for processing, but also by more rapid and effective payments. Stores have long known that their largest check losses come from counter checks, and a recent move by one company to refuse counter check handling cut such losses by more than 80 percent. In your own self-interest, as well as the interests of a more effective financial system the banking officials are asking that you carry your own checks, do not ask for friend's checks, do not borrow a friend's personalized check and refuse to cash checks which do not have the "funny numbers" on the bottom. HERE'S WHY: --Somewhere in the check collection process, your check will probably be handled by a machine that can only read the special characters in the lower left-hand corner that are printed in magnetic ink. A "changed" check will have the wrong number and a customer's draft will have no number. --The machine will probably route the "changed" check to the wrong bank (if the number is not punched out) and the customer's draft will be rejected by the machine for special handling because it has no number. The special handling required of these checks results in additional expense which must ultimately be passed on to you. --Beginning September 1, 1967, the Federal Reserve Banks will require these specially magnetically encoded checks to be handled through the usual check collection channels. The Muleshoe State Bank has coded personalized checks bearing the bank's magnetic coded number in the left-hand corner, as well as the coded individual account number of each of their customers, free of charge, according to Executive vice-president John Shelton.

Faust stressed another fact "Manager Bob Janca has spent only $36.20 during the past month and that was for postage."

It was emphasized that the Chamber does not have enough revenue to properly function if its committees and publicity of Muleshoe.

Since the present membership roll is only some $250, delinquent in regular payments, board member Robert Hooten made an approved motion that a letter be formulated to all members now paying below minimum dues to encourage them to re-evaluate their present dues in effort to increase this revenue. The letter was drafted by Faust, Hooten and Vic Benedict, president and another Robert Jones and Jacque Baker go out to farmers in the area.

Many successful branches of the Chamber of Commerce are being investigated others of great importance to the growth, prosperity, and publicity of Muleshoe and the surrounding area has been given "wing" through the Chamber of Commerce.

Members of a Special Assessment committee of the Chamber, now working toward a goal of bringing the financial situation of the Chamber of Commerce to the point of being able to operate on an adequate operational basis, expressed hope that each business and individual will voluntarily increase their dues accordingly, so that it will not be necessary in the future to ask for contributions.

An explanatory column, "Chamber Corner" was written this week by President Vic Benedict and appears on another page of this edition of the Journal. This column is scheduled for each week, to appear in the Bailey County Journal and will deal with different phases of work of the Chamber of Commerce, what it is, what it means to you and how it helps to make the city and county in which you live become a better place to live through improvements of various nature.

The board accepted, with re-ways, types of paving, paving width, and transportation facilities will be investigated. A study of utilities will be made on the consonance with states criteria, of the essential portions of the water system to determine the adequacy to meet existing and forecasted needs.

Sewage and drainage will also be studied accordingly. In the study of community schools, schools will handle the agenda in the light of facilities to meet existing and forecasted membership requirements and the projected membership by five year increments.

Parks and recreational facilities and public buildings and facilities will also be under study.

A financial study will be made of municipal revenue programs and thereby determine a forecast to 1986.

Zoning ordinances will be studied under the Administrative controls sector. After thorough review, a discussion of all materials will be held, with the Planning Commission. The consultant will prepare a comprehensive plan and give a report that includes essential information obtained, conclusions drawn, and recommendations made for each element of the plan, to be adjusted when necessary for compatibility with the long-range capital improvement plan.

Larsen will meet with the Planning Commission and City Council once each month to give interim reports. He will also present copies of findings, graphs, maps and other data to the Planning Commission and City Council and be available for a follow-up service in agreement with the contract. "Bailey County is one of 35 counties in Texas which has applied for Federal Grants in 1967 and is in the upper 1/3 on the priority list," Larsen said.

"The exact date of the approval of the Federal Grant from Austin is almost impossible to determine at this time, due to the effects the war in Viet Nam is having on projects of this type," Larsen added.

"The comprehensive plan is the first step for a community to take advantage of other Federal aided projects in the future," he continued.
