COTTON RECEIPTS ARE STILL GROWING FAST

The hum of industry is heard on all sides as crop harvesting goes forward without let or hindrance. A time or two during the past week it looked as if we were to have "some more weather," but the sun has won out, and today (Thursday) is ideal for crop gathering.

Up to Thursday noon 2272 bales had been weighed at the Hedley cotton yard, and it continues to arrive in almost a steady stream. Both of our big ginning plants are entirely surrounded by wagons loaded with cotton, and we are told it is the same way at the McKnight gin.

35 cents was the top price paid for cotton yesterday, we are informed, the bulk of the offerings falling about a cent short of that mark.

At the present time it seems certain that Hedley will exceed her 1922 receipts by about one thousand bales. So be it. As we stated before, we can stand it if the farmers can.

FOR SALE—Few good thrifty pigs. J. S. Grooms.

N. L. Simmons and family, former Hedley residents now living at Logan, N. M., are here on a visit to relatives and friends. Mr. Simmons called at this office Tuesday and left with us some samples of cotton and hard corn he raised on his New Mexico farm that are first class and mighty hard to beat.

PLAITINGS FEATURED IN DRESS;

VARIED TYPES IN NEGLIGEEES

THE present season has produced many things in frock styles but nothing more attractive than those smart, straight-line models which use lace, georgette or other material of contrasting color for their trimming. This may be in the form of deep lace berthas, collars, cuffs, ruffles or any one of a myriad different styles of trimming, but no matter how used, it identifies itself as the last word in being plaited.

Plaiting contributes the larger part of the attractiveness of the frock picture a perpetual summer warmth indoors, and assume no responsibilities as a protection against chill, but they undertake to be ravishingly pretty. These are the affairs of georgette, lace, chiffon or crepe de chine and other light fabrics that have a gay summer mind and take unflinching steam heat—or Southern climates—for granted. Breakfast coats of taffeta or satin resemble these airy negligees, but are more practical. One of these is shown in the picture. They are just as colorful, but have no trailing ends of draered here. It is of gray crepe de chine with plaited collar and cuffs of white georgette, and the plaited effect developed in the clever fashioning of the skirt. Here the deep plaited ruffles are placed to give a checkerboard effect.

Ruffles Give Checkerboard Effect

In both sleeve length and skirt this dress shows characteristic influences of the later styles. The sleeve is perly. Gay, sort colors in changeable weaves are popular and their trimming is usually made of self material, used in frills, plaitings or ruffles, with pleated edges, put on in fanciful ways. Sometimes narrow laces are used and occasionally lace is posed over ruffles on the silk.

Nearest of kin to the breakfast coat is the matinee, which blossoms out before the holidays each year. It is made of many kinds of material, including all those used for negligees and breakfast coats, but is short and worn with a petticoat, which may or may not match it. Matinee is a pretty name, but not the only one applied to short garments that answer to "bed sacques" or "combing jackets", as well. Of course ribbons, laces, stitchery and chiffon or ribbon flowers add to the allurements of these pretty affairs. An evening petticoat with a wide flounce extends its usefulness when worn with a maker length so that the cuff falls well over the hand and in the skirt the tendency toward circular flouncings is adapted to the straight-line model.

Generally speaking, in coats, suits and dresses, sleeves are longer and follow flowing lines; that is, they fit snugly at the shoulder and flare at the wrist. The Chinese influence is seen in the mandarin sleeve, used on fur and cloth coats.

New fashions reflect the coming of winter with less emphasis than any other of our clothes, but do not ignore. Some of them seem to antic-mate, and together they make a cheerful breakfast costume. The most popular of all negligees just now is the lounging robe of cotton corduroy. It offers the lure of comfort for chilly mornings, along with fascinating colors and a silky sheen, and can safely invite comparison in the matter of good looks. It comes in American beauty and bright red, rose, henna, bright blues and orchid. Julia B. Thomas

American Farm Bureau

Farmers of the Massac County Farm bureau in southern Illinois believe in shipping in limestone by the trainload to sweeten their soils. Sufficient orders having been given by members of the farm bureau to allow the Illinois Central railroad to deliver a whole trainload in one shipment, the cars were dumped along the right-of-way for the convenience of farmers, who were thus saved the work of hauling it out from the station siding at Metropolis, Ill.

FIGURES SHOW VALUE OF DIVERSIFICATION

Sales in Kansas and Minnesota Make Striking Contrast.

Farmers in Minnesota, where dairying is the largest industry, are, on the whole, more prosperous than in Kansas, where wheat is the leading factor. An analysis of the distribution of farmers' cash income in these states shows the stability of the animal products industries and the cumulative depression in one-crop farming.

Comparing total figures for the two states, it is seen that farm income in Minnesota has risen the farther above pre-war levels; that this state suffered relatively less in the recent depression; that it has experienced a more rapid recovery and promises to have an increase in cash receipts the coming year, whereas the outlook is for a decline in Kansas.

Gross cash income in Kansas rose from 273 million dollars in 1909 to 609 million in 1919, a gain of 123 per cent. In the low year 1921 it fell to 317 million, a loss of 48 per cent, rising in 1922 to 346 million, a 9 per cent increase.

In Minnesota total sales rose from 159 million dollars in 1909 to 471 million in 1919, a gain of 196 per cent, declined to 275 million, or 42 per cent, in 1921, and last year showed an increase of 51 million dollars, which amounts to 19 per cent over 1921.

In Kansas the bulk of the farm income is derived from sales of crops and live stock, the leading items being wheat, cattle and hogs. In Minnesota, on the other hand, close to half of the receipts from sales come from the animal products group—dairy products being by far the largest item—followed by hogs, wheat and cattle in order. Last year, however, wheat slipped to fourth place.

For the coming year the outlook in general farming and dairy sections of both states is reasonably satisfactory. Taking the state as a whole, Minnesota farmers should have slightly more income in 1923-24 than in 1922-23, despite a 30 per cent decline in the value of the wheat crop. The corn and oats crops this year are large and should yield more income than last year, and the dairy industry is showing rather rapid gains.

In Kansas, on the other hand, a probable decline of about 40 per cent in the income from wheat will probably result in reducing the total income from 5 to 10 per cent below 1922-23.

Conclusions drawn from figures for a whole state or section are likely to be misleading as regards the conditions of particular groups in the region. Much variation in economic conditions exists within the boundaries of both the states under consideration.

BUSINESS IS SATISFACTORY

Sioux City Commission is Handling Nearly 10 Per Cent of Live Stock Receipts.

The Farmers' Union and Producers' Live Stock commission at Sioux City, Ia., is doing a most satisfactory business, according to F. P. Martin, manager. At the present time he is handling nearly 10 per cent of the total receipts at the local stock yards. Ray Jesse, formerly of the Omaha market, has been secured as hog salesman. It is hoped that 50 per cent of commissions this year will be returned to members.

This concern has the support of Farm Bureau and Farmers' union shipping associations in the Sioux City trade territory.

CO-OP GROWTH IN MICHIGAN

Live Stock Exchange Commission Merchants Making Most Remarkable Progress.

One-third of the live stock received at the Detroit stockyards is handled on the co-operative basis by the Michigan Live Stock Exchange, one of the big exchanges affiliated with the State Farm Bureau under the commodity type of organization.

The Michigan Live Stock Exchange Commission Merchants, though less than a year and a half old, has grown rapidly in volume of business handled until today it not only sells a third of the total stock, but it ranks second among all the Detroit commission firms for total volume of business handled.

Probably much of this phenomenal growth is due to the fact that experienced and reliable men have been secured as salesmen and managers of this epoch-making enterprise, which has so successfully blazed a new path from the live stock producer direct to the packer and butcher.

Today the exchange employs fourteen men. Included on its roster are such well-known names as John R. Beadle, manager and hog salesman; John Ahearn, cattle salesman; Charles Cuiwer, sheep salesman, and George Boutell, calf salesman.

To aid these men in the successful conduct of their business adequate offices are in the Michigan Live Stock Exchange building, with ample yardage and sufficient accommodations to care for the large volume of cattle, calves, sheep and hogs which it handles.

CO-OP POLICY IN MISSOURI

Adoption of Program Was Principal Feature of Farm Bureau Federation Convention.

The adoption of an agricultural co-operative marketing program was the principal feature of the ninth annual convention of the Missouri Farm Bureau federation, held in Jefferson City recently.

The marketing resolution adopted at the meeting was as follows: "We recognize that our marketing problems cannot be solved by local effort alone and that we must co-ordinate our plans and join our forces with those of other states as is being done in the organization of cotton, tobacco, live stock, etc., and it is now our purpose to lend assistance to the organization and strengthening of such community enterprises."

The Missouri Farm Bureau will proceed at once to establish a co-operative system of marketing eggs and poultry.

As to wool, fruit and grain it was recommended that the Missouri Farm Bureau federation hold itself ready to organize such commodities as rapidly as farm sentiment demands.

Charles Barron was elected president, Col. L. M. Monsees was re-elected vice president; Mrs. W. O. Redford, Johnson county, J. B. Bethune, Clay county, were chosen as directors in the American Farm Bureau federation.

Cotton Co-Ops Net 26 Cents.

Checks totaling $880,000 made to the 8,000 Alabama Farm Bureau Cotton association members who delivered cotton of the 1922 crop have just gone into the mails.

The payment at this time is the sixth and final of the 1922 crop and brings the total up to 26 cents per pound, which is known to be at least five cents per pound or $25 a bale more than outsiders received on the average for their 1922 cotton. The total owing to the members is placed at $1,425,000.

Relieved of Catarrh Due to La Grippe

Thanks To PE-RU-NA

Mrs. Laura Berberick, over 70 years of age, 1205 Willow Ave., Hoboken, N. J., writes: "A severe attack of La Grippe left me with a hoarseness and slime in the head and throat. I had chronic catarrh. It grew worse. I could not lie down or sleep at night. I was always bothered by the slime, pain in the back and a terrible headache every morning.

Finally I bought a bottle of Pe-ru-na which was of great benefit. It gave me blood and strength. I have no pains in head or back, nor noises in the head. The slime has gone and I can sleep. My weight has increased. I am cheerful and happy, thanks to Pe-ru-na, which I shall always keep in the house and recommend to my friends."

Homemade Articles Nice for Christmas Presents

Shoe Trees as Gifts

Among the gifts that are sure of a welcome every Christmas are shoe trees, furnished up with various pretty, and sometimes amusing, decorations. The trees pictured have funny little faces cleverly painted on the round ends. The toes are painted in two colors and the shanks wound with narrow satin ribbon ending in bows below the faces.

Collar and Cuff Sets

Everybody goes about the ordinary business of life, in plain dresses of dark woolen cloth, that depend upon collar and cuff sets to lend them variety and a dainty flavor. Therefore these sets are among the most acceptable of Christmas gifts. An endless variety of embroideries in white or in bright colors, comes by the yard, in straight or curved sections. One has only to stitch these sections to bands of lawn, to make a set like that pictured. Other sets are made of net, lace and sheer fabrics—the last finished with needlework in embroidery or fancy stitches.

Yuletide Candles

Christmas without candles would be as disappointing as summer without flowers and every home-maker knows their charm and decorative value. A candlestick of paper rope, carrying a tall candle decorated with sealing wax paint, is a lovely homemade gift for either men or women friends. The rope may be bought ready for weaving and it is an easy matter to paint the candle with sealing wax paints.

Lace Dance Hats

Gold or silver lace and a bit of gay chiffon or malines will serve to make the pretty dance cap, with soft crown and up-rolling brim, as shown here. Tiny flowers at the front and a ribbon sash adorn it. The brim is supported by two fine wires.

For the Christmas Tree

Here are some new, homemade ornaments for the Christmas tree. They include a gray painted parakeet, with a peanut body, fastened to a wooden standard by wire. Crepe paper in bright colors, makes his crest, wings and tail. A wooden skewer, with a paper doll face fastened at one end and a sleigh bell at the other, is dressed up in strips of bright crepe paper. Mosquito netting, yarn and a paper face make the boy with stick candy in his arms and legs and small candies in his body. Colored gum drops fastened on small wire make tiny bouquets and plants.

Telephone Screen

Either men or women friends will appreciate a pretty telephone screen for a gift. Here is one with a foundation of cardboard, covered with satin and ornamented with triangles of tapestry or figured ribbon, finished with gold braid. The reverse side is lined with plain silk.

Painted Toilet Sets

Main white brushes and combs for gifts are enhanced by pretty sprays of flowers done in sealing wax paints, and small tin boxes are made decorative by covering them with the melted wax in varied colors, blended into one another while they are soft.

DAIRY FACTS

Clean, Sweet Milk Aim of Wisconsin Dairymen

Clean, sweet milk is the first essential to cheese factory success, declares J. L. Sammis of the dairy department of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture. Here are his ten commandments for cheese makers, dairy farmers, and cow testers:

1. Modern methods of farm cleanliness and factory milk inspection insure success.
2. Milk cans, pails, strainers, and milking machines should be cleaned and scalded thoroughly every time used. Neglect causes sure trouble.
3. Old, battered, open-seamed, or rusty utensils cannot be properly cleaned, and should be repaired if possible, or replaced with new.
4. Never carry a milk can into the barn. In the morning, place the cans on the wagon, outside the barn, with the strainer on top, ready to start for the factory as soon as the milk is drawn and strained.
5. Night milk must be cooled quickly on the farm. Put the milk can into the cold water tank, so that each pail of milk will begin to cool as soon as it is strained into the can. Stir the milk in the can frequently. Pump fresh, cold water into the tank, before leaving for the night. Cool the milk to the temperature of cold well water in one hour.
6. Feed silage and dusty seeds after milking. Change a cow's feed gradually.
7. Keep cows, barn, yard, utensils, and the milkster's hands clean.
8. Use horse sense about clean milk, even if you drive no horse.
9. The cheese makers at the factories can inspect every can of milk daily with the modern incubator and methylene blue test, and show by the results the sanitary condition and cleanliness of every patron's milk. See that your factory has this test in daily use.
10. Cow testing association members are leaders. Their influence and the tester's should start the "cleaner milk" campaign in every community.

Working Safeguards to Keep Out Tuberculosis

How to select cows or a bull with a minimum of risk in obtaining animals infected with tuberculosis is one of the most important questions the beginning dairymen and many small dairies have to answer. There is no infallible rule, but there are three good working safeguards that are practical. They are:

1. So far as possible buy only from herds that are accredited by the United States Department of Agriculture as being free from tuberculosis, and buy only from persons with a reputation for square dealing.
2. Insist on cattle being bought subject to retest for tuberculosis 60 days after they are delivered to you.
3. Keep all recently purchased animals separate from your herd until you have a favorable report on the retest.

It is Most Important to Grade Milk Itself

While the practice of scoring barns and the conditions under which milk is produced, has brought about remarkable improvement in the milk offered for consumption, it is more important to grade the milk itself according to reports made at the general experiment station. In the control of milk emphasis should be placed on the quality of the milk itself as shown by the bacterial count, flavor, butterfat content and dirt. Exercising control over the quality of the milk automatically controls the conditions under which it is produced. Much evidence is available to show that contamination of milk from the barn and cow is relatively unimportant as compared with the possibilities of the large numbers of bacteria getting into the milk from utensils.

Comparison of Roughages for Production of Milk

If you are in doubt about comparative values of different kinds of dairy roughage, write to the Iowa State colleges at Ames and get the bulletin, "A Comparison of Roughages for Milk Production." Such facts as these are told: "If the value of dry matter in silage is worth 66 cents per 100 pounds, that in corn fodder is worth 32 1/2 cents for feeding to producing cows. With alfalfa hay worth $15 a ton, timothy hay is worth in comparison only 86 cents per ton for producing cows. The use of corn fodder instead of silage reduces milk production 6 per cent and fat production 8 per cent."

Prevent Entrance of Dirt

The best system is to prevent, so far as possible, the entrance of dirt into milk. This can be done best by having clean cows in clean stables, milked with clean hands, into clean, small-top pails.

Milk Essential for Calf

It is very necessary for a young calf to get its mother's milk for the first two or three days. This milk possesses properties which stimulate the calf's stomach and starts him off on his life's journey.

CHEVROLET
Every Farm Needs Two

EVERY farm needs two automobiles, one of which should be a closed model Chevrolet. The open touring car is best for general farm use, carrying passengers or perhaps miscellaneous bulky produce or merchandise, but for cold or rainy weather, and for church or social use the family needs a closed car, either a 2-passenger Utility Coupé as illustrated, or the 5-passenger Sedan. The extra large rear compartment is a feature of the Coupé. These closed cars are very finely made, furnished, upholstered and trimmed. The windows are of plate glass and can be lowered, providing as much air as an open car, yet affording full protection against wind, rain, snow or cold when raised. With a second car on a farm, one is always available for those at home when the other car is out. The low prices of Chevrolet make the ownership of two cars feasible for most farm families.

You look worried, old man," said Charles. "What's the matter?"
"I called on Miss Graham last night," returned Claude, "and no sooner had I entered the house than her mother appeared and demanded to know my intentions."
"That situation must have been rather embarrassing."
"Yes, but that wasn't the worst. Just as the old lady finished speaking Miss Graham shouted down the stairs:
