BROUN RE-APPOINTED COUNTY FARM AGENT

The Commissioners Court in session last week appointed T. R. Broun as Farm Agent for Donley county. He served in this capacity for about three years until last fall, when the office was temporarily vacated in the interest of economy.

The appointment was made at this time because the Court deemed it advisable to have the help of a county agent in carrying out details of the cotton reduction program.

Mr. Broun understands this work thoroughly, stays on the job at all times, and his many friends are glad to have him "back in harness."

STANFORD TAKES OVER LOCAL GULF STATION

C. C. Stanford has taken over the Gulf Service Station recently operated by Paul Pyle who has joined the ex service men who have been engaged on the State Park project on the Palo Duro Canyon.

Mr. Stanford will sell Gulf Refining Co. products which are now being advertised in The Informer, and invites his friends and the general public to call on him for their needs in this line.

He will also continue the Produce business, which is located next door to the Gulf Service Station.

We still have a good price on Mens Work Clothes.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC IS CUT SHORT BY RAIN

The Baptist Sunday School enjoyed a picnic last Friday at Nay or Springs. About seventy-five attended. Unfortunately, however, the wind and rain storm came along just as the lunch was spread, and everyone was driven to cover, without getting to partake of the eats. In spite of the weather, everybody had a good time.

LIGHTNING CUTS CAPER AT THE BRINSON HOME

During the storm last Friday evening, while the lightning was dashing around promiscuously, a flash entered the W G Brinson home in east Hedley and melted all the quicksilver off of a large mirror that was setting against a partition wall, without breaking the glass. As no other damage was done to the building, the lightning evidently entered via the electric wire.

DOWN TO BRASS TACKS

THE FELLOW WHO BRAGGED THAT he never made any mistakes in business is now secretly trying to remember just what he did that wasn't a mistake.

We have all blundered more or less. We've made more mistakes than Ames and Andy. A good many people are now down to Brass Tacks, and are stepping carefully. But we will come out all right in time. Let's all hope it will be in Our time. Your dollars are doubly valuable now. Keep them in a good Bank like ours.

Shivering with Chills Burning with Fever

Sure Relief for Malaria!

Don't try homemade treatments or newfangled remedies! Take that good old Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. Soon you will be yourself again, for Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic not only relieves the symptoms of Malaria, but destroys the infection itself.

The tasteless quinine in Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic kills the Malarial infection in the blood while the iron it contains builds up the blood to overcome the effects of the disease and fortify against further attack. The twofold effect is absolutely necessary to the overcoming of Malaria. Besides being a dependable remedy for Malaria, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is also an excellent tonic of general use. Pleasant to take and absolutely harmless. Safe to give children. Get a bottle today at any store.

BLOWOUTS are caused by frictional heat generated in the fibers of the cotton cords in a tire. Firestone is the only tire built with every cotton fiber saturated and coated with pure rubber—to prevent destructive heat. This is one of the reasons why Firestone Tires have been on the winning cars in the 500 mile Indianapolis Race for 14 consecutive years—the world's most severe blowout test.

Rubber has gone up 242%, cotton 115%—substantial tire price increases must follow. We will give you an attractive allowance for your old tires on new Firestone High Speed Tires.

Your ELECTRIC Rate is What You Make it

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

PROFIT By the Bargains We Offer . . .

Electricity is not a commodity . . . but a service. It is a magic force which appliances transform into constructive energy. Electricity cooks meals, heats water, refrigerates food, lights homes, cleans carpets and furniture, washes clothes, produces beautiful radio programs . . . and does all these important jobs better than any other method!

You can earn bargain electric rates by enjoying more of the "Electrical Servants" you have always wanted. You pay a great deal less per unit for electricity to operate a range, refrigerator, water heater or other money-saving appliances than you pay if you limit your use to lighting only. Many of our customers have reduced their average rate 50 per cent or more by enjoying a modern, electrified home.

NOW IS THE TIME to make your home modern! Our rates make the use of appliances truly economical, and present easy terms permit you to enjoy appliances while you pay! Investigate . . . TODAY!

Our Government —How It Operates

By William Bruckart

ARMY AND NAVY DEPARTMENTS

THROUGH all of history, people have enjoyed, even have been thrilled by the sight of marching men. It reflects an inbred love for perfection. The deft execution of orders, the snap of obedience to commands, excites admiration everywhere.

To accomplish this perfection, however, requires imagination as well as skill, knowledge as well as discipline. There has to be something done besides handing a man the drab uniform of the army or the blue of the navy to make a soldier or a sailor.

All of this is headed up in divisions in the War department for the army and in the Navy department for the navy and the marine corps. Somebody has to accept responsibility as well as exercise authority. So the general staff of the navy operate to maintain the standard of the services under their jurisdiction.

It is obvious that administration of the national defense arms requires more than the training of men to march, to click their heels, to salute, to fire their small arms or their machine guns or their greater weapons. They have to have supplies, food, munitions and material, transport for the navy, airplanes for each. Records have to be kept, legal questions have to be answered, and engineering problems have to be solved. And so there is in each department offices in general control of each whose job is to see that all operations are co-ordinated within that service and that there is uniform development in accordance with policies promulgated by congress and within the supply of money which congress appropriated for the work. They have duties so many and so varied that an enumeration of them is impossible in these columns, but they may be accurately summarized in the one phrase that they are designed to provide protection for the nation on an efficient basis.

The army and navy look after the welfare of their respective personnel to a far greater extent than ever has obtained in the management of civilian organizations. The men who make up the army, the navy and the marine corps receive most complete medical attention from men of standing in the medical professions but who have made the service a career.

They even have their morals guarded as far as is possible and the spiritual side of administration is in the hands of conscientious and sincere chaplains.

There is probably no more complete general hospitals than those provided for the service members and, since the World war, for the use of veterans. The Naval hospital and Walter Reed General hospital, both in the Capital city, are examples, and it is the belief of professional men that treatment in these service hospitals is hardly excelled except in a very limited number of institutions in all the world.

And that limited number, he it said, are institutions directing their efforts along specific, as distinguished from general, lines.

While thorough consideration and precision of action is being discussed, it is well to call attention to the high degree of excellence which the services demand in the supplies they buy. As an instance of this, the War department buys its annual stock of pneumatic and solid automobile tires on contract. Before that contract is awarded, the utmost in testing is done. That is not all; after the contract is awarded, representatives of the army are stationed in the plant where those tires are made, and any variation from the original specifications will not be tolerated.

It is the same with the navy and the marine corps. When specifications are drawn even for the smallest piece of machinery, the requirements are specific and they are rigidly enforced. Certainly, the government gets its money's worth in purchases by the military services.

Turn to the corps of engineers of the army: It is conceded everywhere that when those officers make a survey or draw plans, the results are about as bombproof as it is possible to make them. The insignia of the corps of engineers on a bridge always makes me feel that the job was done on a basis of perpetual life, for flimsy construction is not known in their training.

The corps of engineers probably is closer to the average section or community during peace time than is any other phase of the army or the navy except as the services embrace enlisted men or officers from every part of the country. For when the government has river or harbor work to do, it is the army engineers to whom the job is first assigned. They make the surveys and draw the plans, and the board of engineers reports to congress. If the program is practicable and the expense is thought to be warranted, an appropriation is made and the engineer officers look after the rest.

They see that the contractor does his job in accordance with the skill and the technic and the soundness which those officers have been taught as fundamental.

Fresh Boarder—I can tell that soup is not much good.
Landlady—Some little bird told you, I suppose.
Fresh Boarder—Yeh. A swallow.

WARM ENOUGH

"I can't understand why May broke the engagement."
"Perhaps she got cold feet."
"That's no excuse. Jack offered to lay his burning heart at her feet when he proposed to her."

FIFTY-FIFTY

"What's that piece of cord tied around your finger for?"
"My wife put it there to remind me to post a letter."
"And did you post it?"
"No, she forgot to give it to me."

JUST LOVELY

Husband—That paper has an item regarding a woman who was seriously injured while trying to get to a bargain counter yesterday.
Wife—Yes, what a splendid time the other women must have had!

TRUE TOUCH

Jack—I'm going to send that old girl of mine this birthday card; it depicts her in her true colors.
Fred—From what I've seen of her, you had better get one of those hand painted ones.

FORE!

"I'd rather play golf than eat."
"What does your wife say to that?"
"Oh, she doesn't mind. She'd rather play bridge than cook."

Wit and Humor

Descriptive
A young wife, wishing to announce the birth of her first child to a friend in a distant city, telegraphed: "Isalah 9: 6." Which passage begins: "For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given."
Her friend, unfamiliar with the Scriptures, said to her husband: "Margaret evidently has a boy who weighs nine pounds and six ounces, but why on earth did they name him Islah?"

Maybe He Was O. K.
At a recent gathering, the nervous young secretary of a church social club was apparently confused by the presence of one or two people of title, and prefaced his opening remarks with "Ladies, Gentlemen, and others—"

Debatable
Man at Desk—Why do you claim a trombone player is less of a bore than a pianist?
Man in Chair—He is because he doesn't get the chance. He doesn't find a trombone in every home he visits.—Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

IN A HUMOROUS VEIN

"She says that I am dull."
"You should crack a few jokes once in a while; ask her to marry you, or something like that."

Not the Only One
Chlupp—I understand that Quiggle has a very good voice. Does he cultivate it?
Cutajar—I don't know whether he cultivates it but I do know that he irrigates it sometimes.

Vital Information
"So you joined the army so as to see the world," as the posters say? What made you leave?
"They didn't tell me that I would have to do it on foot."

Boating Party
She—Where did you put the records?
He—Records? I had work enough lugging this heavy gramophone along without bringing a box of records.

QUESTION

"Are you laughing at me?" demanded the professor sternly of his class.
"Oh, no sir," came the reply from the class president.
"Then," asked the professor, "what else is there in the room to laugh at?"

Reason for It
"This egg is bad."
Landlady—Well, what do you expect when you come down so late to breakfast?—Everybody's Weekly.

Drug Shop Burglars
First Burglar (to companion during raid on chemist's shop)—I'll take the cash; you'd better take something for that cold.

Two club wives were discussing their husbands.
"I suppose I mustn't say anything about mine," said Martin. "She looks at me very well."
"In what way especially?" asked his friend.
"Well, for instance," said Martin, "she takes off my boots in the evening."
"What, when you come home from the club?" asked the other.
"Oh, no; when I want to go there," came the reply.

Blooming Liar
"You don't say you got rid of that nice lodger of yours, Mrs. Brady?"
"Yes! I got suspicious of him. He told me he was a bachelor of arts, and I found out he had a wife and two children."—Sheffield Weekly Telegraph.

WISE JACK

"Jack is a foxy individual. He proposed to Miss Peaches by wireless."
"What was the great idea in that?"
"It leaves the record up in the air where it can't be read in court in case he happens to change his mind."

Has Her Price
"I'll give you thirty shillings for that pup."
"Can't be done, sir. That pup belongs to my wife, and she'd sob 'er eart out. But I tell yer what—spring another ten bob an' we'll let 'er sob!"—Humorist Magazine.

Little Sunshine
Stern Mistress (to maid)—You are discharged, Sarah, for allowing the master to kiss you. What sort of reference do you expect from me after that?
Pretty Maid—Well, you might at least say that I tried to please every one, madam.

He—Certainly they should, and they ought to have the privilege of buying theater tickets and cigars for the men if they want to.

An Angel in Sight
Muriel (at pantomime rehearsal)—Who's the proper-looking Johnny? Not in the show, is he?
Frank—Well, we're trying to persuade him to put up the money for the production—our "Principal Buoy," so to speak!—London Tit-Bits.

Wasted
"Here's a dandy car with a rumble seat, too," said the enthusiastic salesman.
"Rumble seat 'd be no use to me," growled the unenthusiastic customer, "my wife insists on doing all her back seat driving from the front seat."—Cincinnati Inquirer.

Up to the Player
Binks was making a hopeless first attempt at golf, and to cover his embarrassment he remarked to the caddy, "Golf's a funny game, isn't it?"
"Sometimes it is, sir," retorted the boy, "but it isn't meant to be."

Exact Change
"I have known gents what gives a bit over," observed the taxi-driver.
"Ay," said McPherson, "that's why I asked ye to stop under a lamp."

LIFE IS TOO SHORT

Life is too short for me to spend any of it kicking my neighbor in the pants because he can not see the difference in tweedle dee and tweedledum. This is a free country; and, besides that, the toe of my neighbor's boot may be sharper than mine.

Life is too short to waste it in growling and complaining. There are too many squeaking wheels already, so let me keep quiet and spread grease.

Life is too short for me to drop bones and snap at shadows. I had better gnaw contentedly on legitimate pleasures in hand than lose them all in jumping at things that only seem more desirable.

Life is too short for me to miss the joy of pouring oil in a painful wound, or of pulling a stone out of one's path. I am in the world to help, and I miss the best of life if I shirk the task.

Life is too short for me to keep my eyes closed to the glory and the beauty all continually around me. God has formed the hills, hung the stars in the heavens, painted the sunsets, and perfumed the roses.

Shall all this be in vain, so far as I am concerned? Let me open mine eyes and see. Let me stop often and listen.

Life is too short for me to forget that it may end at any moment. Am I filling my place and doing my work? Am I ready to render my account when called?

Oh, Lord, keep me awake and help me to fully live and to do what I can today. I may have no tomorrow.

Life is too short.

Improved Pasture Pays

IMPROVED pastures are a cheap source of feed for stock. A farmer in New Hampshire, cooperating with his county agent top-dressed his 5 acres of pasture with 500 pounds of complete fertilizer at a cost of $75, reports the United States Department of Agriculture. After 4 weeks he turned his cows out on this pasture. Tests made during the six weeks the cows grazed there showed that his herd produced 7,000 pounds more milk than they did in the same period the previous year, although the farmer had one cow fewer and fed 800 pounds less grain. Based on current milk prices he made $139 on the extra milk and saved $16 on the grain, netting him an increase in income of $123.—U. S. Department of Agriculture.
