

THE HEDLEY INFORMER

VOL XXIV

HEDLEY, DONLEY COUNTY TEXAS MAY 18, 1934

NO. 28

TRY PY-RE

for
PYORRHEA
FULLY GUARANTEED

Hedley Drug Co.
THE REXALL STORE
This Store is a Pharmacy

Mr and Mrs J. A. Douglas of Van Alstyne visited at the O. R. Outwell home several days the past week.

Mr and Mrs R. L. Gilmore and family of Pampa spent the past weekend in the home of Rev and Mrs V. A. Hansard.

R. W. Alwine and family, R. M. E. Wells and family and C. E. Johnson are attending the Southern Baptist Convention at Ft. Worth this week.

Mrs L. M. Luther of Palacios, Texas is visiting her daughter, Mrs V. A. Hansard.

ATTENTION

The Epworth League girls are selling pies this week. Leave your order with Jewel Everett or Verda Gilliam. We will sell pies at Barnes and Hastings store Saturday. Come and get a good pie for your Sunday dinner.

Editor Sam M. Braswell of the Clarendon News made a trip to Corpus Christi last week. He returned by way of San Angelo, where he attended the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention.

R. L. Snyder, former Supt. of the Hedley school, was elected to teach in Boils Oxia, again next year.

The Informer, $1.00 per year.

Chickens - - Turkeys

Don't wait and have Diseased Fowls from Worms—and Losses from Blood-Sucking Lice, Mites, Fleas and Blue Bugs this Spring. Begin now to give SPAR PARASITE REMOVER in their drinking water, for both Fowls and Baby Chicks. It will keep them Free of these destructive Parasites, their system toned up, their health and Egg production good at a very small cost—or money refunded, Wilson Drug Co. 17-122

DRUGS

You insist upon Fresh Ingredients in your Drugs or Fountain Drinks, and you get them at this store.

1934 Merchandise
at 1933 prices

Wilson Drug Co.
Where You Are Always Welcome
PHONE 63

BACCALAUREATE SERVICE FOR HEDLEY HI TO BE HELD SUNDAY; COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM NEXT THURSDAY, MAY 24th

BACCALAUREATE

11:00 A. M.
Processions (Onward Christian Soldiers) Mrs L. E. Thompson at piano.
Juniors, Seniors, Faculty and members of School Board.
Invocation.....Rev. A. V. Hendricks.
Song (Holy Holy Holy).....Juniors.
Scripture Reading.....Rev. A. V. Hendricks.
Solo.....Mrs E. D. Landreth.
Sermon.....Rev. E. D. Landreth.
Song (March On).....Juniors.
Benediction.....Rev. A. V. Hendricks.
Recessional.....Seniors.
Mrs L. E. Thompson at piano.

COMMENCEMENT

8:00 P. M.
Processional.....Seniors.
Mrs L. E. Thompson at piano.
The Road to Success (Salutatory) Jewel Grimley.
Class History.....Annie Mae Curtis.
Clippings from a Hedley Informer of 1944.....Emma Lewell Plank.
The Greatest Things.....Marguerite Hansard.
Play Ball (Class poem) Jessie Mildred Oulwell.
Chorus.....Seniors.
Educational Progress (Valedictory) Pauline Boiliver.
Perfect Day.....Mrs. Dannie Battle.
Address.....Judge S. W. Lowe.
Class Presentation.....Mrs. E. Davenport.
Presentation of Diplomas.....S. R. Stevie.
Benediction.....Rev. A. V. Hendricks.

SENIOR GIRL GETS FREE PERMANENT

Mrs L. W. Montgomery, operator of the Ko Zee Beauty Shoppe offered a free permanent to a member of the Senior class. Miss Nina Mae Bailey was the lucky winner, and is now the possessor of a lovely Loxor Oil permanent.

Mrs Montgomery is a licensed operator, with eight years experience. When you need a permanent, haircut, facial or manicure, give her a trial. Patronize your home operator.
Permanents are $2, $3 & $5.

OPERETTA

The Home Ec club is giving an operetta Friday night May 18. It will include all dresses made by the students in Home Economics. It will be free to everyone.

EXHIBIT

On Friday May 11, the grade school had an exhibit of their years work. The many attractive and worth while projects displayed show the effort put forth by both teachers and pupils to make up for time lost from epidemics this year. The programs presented in each room were attended by a large number of patrons.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

The evening of May 11th was a landmark in the history of the class of 1934. The Juniors at that time gave their banquet which has for a number of years been an annual affair in Hedley. Under the joint sponsorship of Mr. and Mrs. Nowlin the affair became one of the most successful for a number of years. Covers were laid for about eighty which number included members of both classes, Seniors and Juniors, faculty members, members of the school board, and several out of town guests. The color scheme, pink and orchid, was beautifully carried out in decorative effect. Favors of sweet peas were at each plate and bowls of the same flowers as center pieces added much to the beauty of the well planned dinner.

Mr. Boykin of Clarendon was the chief speaker of the occasion and Mrs. Boykin gave the guests a treat by way of several beautiful violin solos. Others on the program rendered their parts well, Geneva Whittington giving a reading, and members of the Junior class giving a double quartette.

Members of the Sophomore and Freshman classes served carrying out the color scheme with regard to dress. It was altogether a most enjoyable occasion and one that both classes shall never forget.

POPPY DAY

Hedley will be called upon to honor the World War dead and give aid to the war's living victims by wearing Memorial Poppies on May 26. This day, the Saturday before Memorial day, will be Poppy Day throughout the United States, and will be generally by wearing the little red flower of Flanders Field.

Observance of Poppy Day here will be directed by the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. E. R. Hooker, president of the local auxiliary unit, has announced. Women of the auxiliary will distribute poppies on the streets and receive contributions for auxiliary welfare and relief work among the disabled veterans and their families.

The purpose of Poppy Day is to give everyone an opportunity to pay individual tribute to the men who gave their lives in defense of the nation. The little act of wearing a poppy gives the wearer an opportunity to share in the vast work which the American Legion and Auxiliary are doing for the disabled men, their families and the families of the dead.

A large supply of the poppies has been ordered from Legion Texas where disabled veterans have been given employment during the winter and spring making the little paper flowers.

All members of the American Legion Auxiliary are urged to be present at a meeting at the Legion hall Saturday May 19 at 2 o'clock.

Graduation cards and gifts at the S. & S. Variety Store.

Why Not Get the Best?

Get the most for your money by buying

Carnation Flour

Barnes & Hastings
Grocery Co.
PHONE 21

Chunn & Boston

Friday--SPECIALS--Saturday

Spuds, No. 1, 10 lb. 19c
Green Beans, lb. 5c
Greens, extra nice, bunch 4c

Fruit
Fresh Strawberries, 2 qts. 25c
Oranges, doz. 15c
Apples, doz. 25c
Prunes, 6-D size 29c

Oats, Crystal Wedding, pkg. 19c
Baking Powder, K. C., 25 oz. 19c
Baking Powder, K. C., 50 oz. 35c
Crackers, 1 lb box 13c
Raisins, 4 lb. pkg. 34c
Sauerkraut Juice, pint 15c
Cheese, Longhorn, 16c

Sugar
Pure Case, 10 lb. 50c
Pure Case, 20 lb. $1.00

Flour
Kansas Cream, 48 lb. $1.59
Carnation, 48 lb. $1.79

About Grafting

Old Si Chestnut says: Many of the choicest plants on the political tree are the result of careful GRAFTING.

It may be wise to politics, but his philosophy does not apply to BUSINESS. For it pays to be careful to meet one's obligations promptly, to maintain one's credit unimpaired. No Bank can long exist that does not have a record for HONESTY and FAIR DEALING. Our Bank is a reliable bank.

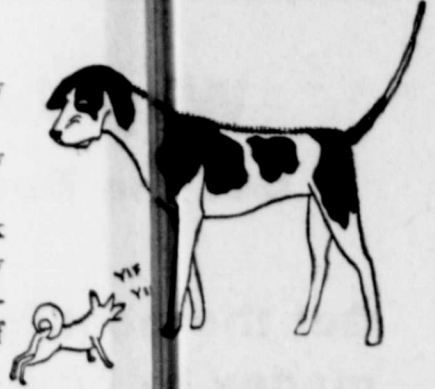

Security State Bank
HEDLEY, TEXAS
Member F. B. I. C. Safe Bank Made Safer

PUDDIN' an' PIE

~ by JIMMY GARTHWAITE ~

WHO KNOWS?

CAN anybody tell me why a dog that's very very small Will always bark around and try To fight the big dogs of all?

© by Harper & Brothers—WNU Service

STUDY DIET TO PREVENT ANEMIA

Copper and Iron in System Is Good Insurance.

By EDITH M. BAUER

ANEMIA is a disease which is much less common than it was a generation ago. For its decrease we can give credit to the general improvement in diet.

People generally are eating more foods which are naturally rich in iron, which is necessary for the hemoglobin of the blood. This hemoglobin is responsible for carrying the oxygen which our body needs in order to utilize the food we eat. It has been recently found that we need a tiny bit of copper in order to make use of the iron. Fortunately, nature has provided many of our foods with the proper portions of these two minerals. Liver is perhaps the best example of this combination. It is interesting to note that two foods, which we often eat together, supplement each other in this respect—tomatoes give us copper and lettuce gives us iron.

Foods, which are particularly valuable in furnishing material for building up hemoglobin are liver and kidney, lean meat, egg yolk, oysters, peas and beans, whole grains, bran and green vegetables. The common vegetables—potatoes, cabbage and carrots—are good sources of iron. Among the fruits, pineapple, oranges, grapefruit, prunes, raisins, apples, strawberries, apricots, and peaches are valuable.

In anemic conditions great care must be taken to keep the intestines active, as constipation seems to interfere with the absorption of iron. Fortunately, the foods which contain iron are, at least most of them, stimulating to intestinal action.

sautéed mushrooms or a creamed meat in color.

Creamed Liver.

- 1 cup cooked, diced liver
 - 3 tablespoons butter
 - 1 tablespoon minced onion
 - 2 tablespoons flour
 - 1 cup cream
 - Salt
 - Pepper
 - Six slices buttered toast
- Cook onion in butter three minutes, stirring constantly. Add liver, cook one minute. Sprinkle with flour and stir well blended; pour on cream gradually, stirring constantly. Cook until thick. Pour over toast and garnish with parsley.

Bean and Cheese Roast.

- 1 pound can kidney beans
- 3/4 pound American cheese
- 1 onion, chopped fine
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 teaspoon seasoning
- Salt, pepper.
- Pepper
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup dry bread crumbs

Drain the beans. Run the beans and the cheese through the food chopper. Cook onion in butter. Combine the onion, seasonings and beaten eggs to the bean and cheese mixture. Form into a loaf; moisten in melted butter and water and roll in bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes, until brown. Serve with a tomato sauce or prepared sauce.

Stuffed Tomato Salad.

- 6 small tomatoes
- 2 cups shredded pineapple
- 3/4 cup shredded almonds
- 3/4 cup mayonnaise
- Lettuce
- 6 whole almonds.

Score centers from tomatoes and mix pulp with pineapple, nuts and mayonnaise. Stuff tomato shells with

- Scalloped Oysters.
- 1 pint oysters
 - 3/4 cup oyster liquor
 - 2 tablespoons milk
 - 1 cup dry bread crumbs
 - 3/2 cup rolled cracker crumbs
 - 3/2 cup melted butter
 - Salt
 - Pepper
- Mix cracker and bread crumbs with the milk. Put a thin layer in the bottom of a baking dish, cover with oysters, sprinkle with salt and pepper and add half the milk and oyster liquor. Repeat and cover top with remaining crumbs. Bake thirty minutes in a hot oven (450 degrees F.).

Spinach Ring.

- 3/2 peck spinach
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 tablespoon grated onion
- 3/2 cup milk
- 3 eggs, separated
- Pepper and salt
- 3/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Wash, pick over and cook spinach until tender, about ten minutes. Drain and chop or put through meat grinder. Heat butter, stir in flour, then the milk. When smooth and thick, stir gradually into the beaten egg yolks. Add spinach and seasoning, grated onion and nutmeg. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of eggs, place in a well-greased ring or melon mold, set in a pan half filled with boiling water, and bake twenty minutes in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) or until set. When ready to serve loosen edges, turn carefully on hot platter. Place

A GOOD SHOW

He was up at the zoo yesterday watching the monkeys, it was awfully amusing.

She dare say it was—for the monkeys.

HOT STUFF

"I told you you wanted to see him the next time you called."

"What did he say?"

"He said for you to come on he wasn't afraid of you."

Routine Jobs Held Boosting Suicides

Washington.—The ever-increasing suicide rate can be, at least partially, attributed to routine jobs which are unsatisfactory and wearisome, according to Dr. William A. White, professor of psychiatry at George Washington university and superintendent of St. Elizabeth's hospital here.

The dreary side of industrial civilization, he asserts, turns humans into mere cogs in a gigantic machine from which condition they derive no sense of satisfaction.

Doctor White contrasts the pride of workmanship and the sense of fulfillment of the skilled artisan of old with the position of the present-day industrial worker who has no fundamental interest in his work.

He declares that society must change its methods of preparing individuals to meet these new conditions and urges that in the course of his lifetime each individual develop a "vital interest" to keep him going in the face of bitter discouragement.

My Neighbor Says:

DRIED beans and peas make very good puree, but care must be taken to soak and boil them for a sufficiently long time. When they have boiled until they are very tender mash them through a sieve. Place them in the saucepan and stir into them enough hot milk, pepper and salt to season them, add butter and a little sugar before serving.

When cutting quilt blocks, make a pattern out of a good ink blotter. When placed on the material, it will stick to the goods and not slide around as paper does.

Scald and dry your orange peels and grind them into a coarse powder. This can be used to flavor cakes, sauces, puddings, etc. Lemon peels can be used the same way.

Instead of cutting a paper for the bird cage each morning, cut six or eight papers, place them in the bird cage and each morning remove the top one.

© the Associated Newspapers WNU Service

Movement of Earth Is Revealed at Institute

Philadelphia.—Visual proof that the earth rotates is given by a device now on display at the Franklin Institute.

The machine, made by Leopold Pessel, Philadelphia, was donated to the institute by Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Binder, Philadelphia. It consists of a thin steel cable, 85 feet long, weighing but nine pounds, and a pendulum. Dr. Howard McClenahan, director of the institute, said that the device, known as a Foucault pendulum, is the only means by which the effect of the earth's rotation can be actually demonstrated.

A steel shell, also contributed by the Binders, was attached to the bob of the pendulum, which hangs from the roof skylight to the basement.

Actual evidence of the earth's movement is shown in the "pull" influenced on the pendulum after it is set in motion in a north-south swing at right angles to the spinning of the earth. The bob moves gradually until it develops an arc, east and west, or parallel with globular rotation. Then, with no more "pull" being exerted, the machine continues to swing. This process requires about nine hours and proceeds at the rate of about ten degrees an hour.

Helpful Hint

Grease spilled on a hardwood kitchen floor may be quickly removed by pouring kerosene over the spot. When the kerosene evaporates, the grease spot will have disappeared.

Cambridge Rugby Players Invade United States

Rugby players of Cambridge university, England, have been playing some of the best teams in the eastern states. They are here seen defeating the Harvard university eleven. Running with the ball is Bowcott of Cambridge.

Drawing of the proposed $1,800,000 skyscraper city hall of Boston, Mass., as it has been visualized by Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield and the consulting architects. Standing 15 stories high, on the site of the present city hall, it would house all of the municipal departments and offices.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

The Lambs club, which recently held its annual gambol at the Waldorf-Astoria with George M. Cohen as collié, was born in London away back in 1869 when several congenial actors got together and formed the organization. Five years later, Harry Montague came to America and formed the American club which now has its fold on West Forty-fourth street and the roster of which includes the great names in theatrical history as well as the great names of today. The annual gambols date back to 1888. The summer outings, known as washings, began in 1875 and continued until war days. Then there was a break until 1922. The washing that year was held on the estate of John Golden at Bayside, L. I., and has been held there every year since. The Lambs club barred the ladies from the start and is one of the few organizations to still keep that rule in force.

Hard times, felt with especial severity by the theaters, of course affected the Lambs club and there were months when it looked as if the ancient organization would have to surrender to the sheriff. But heroic measures were adopted, experts in finance volunteered their services, many members made severe sacrifices and the Lambs pulled through. In that respect they were more fortunate than the brother organization, the Friars, which came into existence in 1906 and in October last year was forced to give up its monastic clubhouse. The Friars now meet in a loft building.

Its, Lily Pons' pet jaguar, is now in a cage in the Bronx zoo. Ita was given to the opera singer in Rio de Janeiro 19 months ago and is now twenty months old. Affectionate with her mistress and her household, though a bit intolerant of strangers, Ita followed Miss Pons about her home, on trains and in hotels to Miss Pons' delight but frequently to the consternation of onlookers. But Ita grew up and got a bit dangerous. So recently, Miss Pons took Ita in her car and drove from her Central Park West apartment up to the zoo. There she turned Ita over to Head Keeper John Toomey and went home and cried a little. And at the zoo, Ita was classified by Max Lindberry, keeper of the small mammal house, as an ocelot and not a jaguar.

One day, looking through the Manhattan telephone directory, the name Bombatement company, caught my eye. Made up my mind to find out what it was. Now the World-Telegram has done it for me. The Bombatement company is a concern that does not advertise. In fact, it avoids publicity whenever possible. Known to every trade organization in the city, it is impossible to get in touch with Harry Mooney, its head, unless there is positive identification. The Bombatement company specializes in neutralizing the effect of stench bombs. Hence the secrecy that surrounds it.

The start of the business was in a way an accident. Stench bombs attacked a grocery owned by one of Mr. Mooney's friends. He picked up some of the crystals, analyzed them and experimented until he found a neutralizing agent. While he was treating the grocery, a policeman colored him and charged him with having returned to complete the wrecking job. Mr. Mooney succeeded in demonstrating to the officer what he was really doing. The next day a restaurant on the cop's beat was bombed and he called up Mr. Mooney. Then the company formed.

HOW IT STARTED

By JEAN NEWTON

That Word "Pickaninny"

IT IS sometimes good for the soul to find that something we have regarded as original with us or peculiarly our own considerably pre-dates our own existence and in parts had places far removed from our own little circle on this earth!

That happens with the word "pickaninny" which most of us regard as an Americanism for negro children. Many people are uncertain about it, wondering whether the little colored child would resent it as the modern enlightened negro naturally resents the term "nigger."

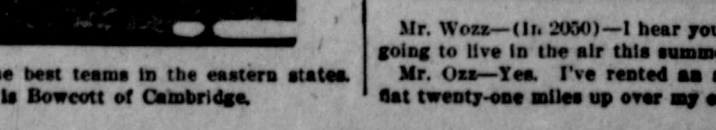

The fact is that "pickaninny" is a word in good standing, meaning simply a "small child." Its derivation is from the Spanish "pequeno" meaning "little, young," or the Portuguese "pequeno" of which it is a diminutive! The chances are that the term had its introduction into this country by way of Cuba.

Greater contributions followed: Vigo pledged his own fortune to sustain American credit in the newly-won wilderness. But his patriotic efforts only brought disaster upon himself. Virginia, which had sent Clark on his expedition, couldn't or wouldn't repay Vigo the money, amounting to more than $20,000, which he had advanced to Clark.

The claim was passed on to the new federal government and it was suspicious of such claims. Despite the endorsement of such men as Clark, General Knox and Gen. William Henry Harrison, governor of Indiana, the "Vigo claims" dragged on for a century before they were paid. And then they were paid, not to Vigo, but to his heirs. He had died in Vincennes in 1838, a poverty-stricken, embittered old man of ninety-four, repeating endlessly "Everybody has forgotten me—everybody!"

© 1921, Western Newspaper Union.

HIGH LIFE

Mr. Wozz—(It's 2050)—I hear you are going to live in the air this summer.

Mr. Ozz—Yes. I've rented an aerostat twenty-one miles up over my office.

Fifty Famous Frontiersmen

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

The Man Who Knew No Fear

WYATT EARP is one of the few men I personally knew in the West in the early days whom I regarded as absolutely destitute of physical fear." That was the tribute of Bat Masterson, whose wide acquaintance among peace officers, outlaws and gun-fighters made him an authority on the subject of courage as it was exemplified on the frontier.

A native of Illinois, Earp was taken to California by his family as a youth, and at the early age of eighteen became a stage driver from San Bernardino to Los Angeles and then to Salt Lake. Later he worked in a grading camp that was building the Union Pacific across Wyoming, and in the early '70s he was a buffalo hunter in Indian territory and Kansas. That led him to the wild cow towns that were just beginning to spring up in the latter state.

For one brief hour Earp was marshal of Ellsworth, Kan., and in that hour he took his first step to fame by disarming and arresting the notorious bad man, Ben Thompson, a feat of cool courage which has few equals in border history.

Such exploits as these had something to do with his being made assistant city marshal of Dodge City, Kan., in 1876, and so great was his reputation as a dead shot and an officer who had to be obeyed, that during his career in Dodge City he found it necessary to kill only one man to maintain his authority. From Dodge City Earp went to Tombstone, Ariz., when that gold camp was truly "wild and woolly." He became marshal of Tombstone, known facetiously as "Hellorado," with his brothers, Virgil and Morgan, as deputies.

His first test was when he faced a mob of 500 men intent upon lynching a character known as Johnny-Behind-the-Deuce and bluffed them out. Later he disarmed a noted outlaw named Curly Bill and hustled him to jail, there to stand between him and another mob.

But the most famous of all his feats and the most desperate encounter he was ever in was the culmination of the Earp-Clanton feud which ended in the historic "fight at the O. K. Corral." In that the three Earps and "Doc" Holliday faced five men of the Clanton-McLowery faction, and after a battle of blazing six-shooters which lasted less than a minute, three of the Clantons were dead and the other two had fled. Earp died in Los Angeles January 13, 1929, at the age of eighty, one of the last of the old-timers of the West and one of the few famous gunmen who ever "died with their boots on."

A Forgotten Patriot

MOST Americans are conscious of their debt of gratitude to Lafayette, the Frenchman; Kosciuszko and Pulaski, the Poles; and von Steuben, the German; but the chances are that not one in a hundred realizes the greater debt to Francisco Vigo, an Italian. Yet, if it had not been for him, the chances are that George Rogers Clark could not have won the Old Northwest for the American flag during the Revolution, nor have had it after he had won it.

Vigo was born in Mondovi, a Piedmontese town, in 1744. In his youth he went to Spain, became a mulatto in the Spanish army, saw service in Cuba, drifted to New Orleans, joined the Spanish militia there and became associated in the fur-trading business with Don Fernando de Leyba, governor of Upper Louisiana with headquarters at St. Louis. This association was responsible for his becoming known as Francis (instead of Francisco) Vigo, a "Spanish merchant" and one of the wealthiest men in the Illinois country with agencies at Kaskaskia, Vincennes and Mackinac, when George Rogers Clark appeared on the scene at Kaskaskia in 1778.

This merchant prince at once allied himself with the patriot cause and proved that he was willing to back his faith in it with his money. For when Clark confessed that he was without funds to pay his men so that he could go on to capture Fort Sackville at Vincennes, the key to British occupation of the West, it was Vigo who advanced the American commander the money. Not only did he do that but he made a journey to Vincennes, prepared its inhabitants for the coming of Clark and brought back to him the information which made possible the capture of the British post.

Greater contributions followed: Vigo pledged his own fortune to sustain American credit in the newly-won wilderness. But his patriotic efforts only brought disaster upon himself. Virginia, which had sent Clark on his expedition, couldn't or wouldn't repay Vigo the money, amounting to more than $20,000, which he had advanced to Clark.

The claim was passed on to the new federal government and it was suspicious of such claims. Despite the endorsement of such men as Clark, General Knox and Gen. William Henry Harrison, governor of Indiana, the "Vigo claims" dragged on for a century before they were paid. And then they were paid, not to Vigo, but to his heirs. He had died in Vincennes in 1838, a poverty-stricken, embittered old man of ninety-four, repeating endlessly "Everybody has forgotten me—everybody!"

© 1921, Western Newspaper Union.

THE HEDLEY INFORMER TO OPEN NEW FAIR MAY 26

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY
Mrs. Ed C. Boliver, Owner
Edward Boliver, Editor and Publisher

Lower Cost to Visitors; 84 Miles of Free Exhibits.

Chicago—A new World's Fair will open here May 23.
It is not simply an encore of the 1933 Century of Progress Exposition. In addition to many startling new features it retains all those of last year's Fair that were too important and popular to leave out—but even they have been enlarged, changed and improved.

This summer's Fair will cost little to see and little to get to. There are 84 miles of interesting free exhibits. The Exposition will look after the visitor's comfort hospitably, efficiently and inexpensively. Last year the average visitor spent only $1.17 a day inside the grounds.

World's Greatest Fountain.
Workmen have torn down more than 100 of the old buildings. New ones have replaced them. The entire physical appearance is different, with new color and new landscaping everywhere. New lighting effects at night, even more daring than those of the 1933 Fair, surpass anything of the kind ever attempted anywhere.

Coffins, Caskets Under Takers' Supplies
Licensed Embalmer and Auto Hearse at Your Service
Day phone 24
Night phone 40
MOREMAN HARDWARE

Huffman's Barber Shop
Expert Tonsorial Work, Shampoos, Hot and Cold Baths
You will be pleased with our service. Try it.
W. H. Huffman, Prop.

John W. Fitzjarrald
Chiropractor
18th year in Memphis
PHONE 462
Led with Office

WEDLEY LODGE NO. 991
A. F. and A. M. meets on the 2nd Thursday night in each month
All members are urged to attend. Visitors are welcome.
W. C. Bridges, W. M.
G. E. Johnson, Sec.

Dr. F. V. Walker
General Practice, Female Diseases—Specialty
Residence Phone 5
Office with Wilson Drug Co.
Hedley, Texas

ADAMSON-LANE POST 287
AMERICAN LEGION
meets on the first Friday in each month
J. W. WEBB, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon
Hedley, Texas
Office Phone 8
Residence Phone 96

NAZARENE CHURCH
Sunday School at 10 a. m.
Preaching service 11 a. m.
Young people meet at 7:30
Night service at 6:15
Rev. Nannie Carter, Pastor.

CHURCH OF CHRIST
Brother Frank E. Chism will preach in Hedley at the Church of Christ Saturday and Sunday, May 12 and 13.
Everybody is invited to come out and hear him.
Midweek Bible Study on Wednesday night
Bible Classes every Sunday morning from 10 to 11 o'clock.
Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

THE INFORMER, $1.00 per year

TO OPEN NEW FAIR MAY 26

Lower Cost to Visitors; 84 Miles of Free Exhibits.

Chicago—A new World's Fair will open here May 23.
It is not simply an encore of the 1933 Century of Progress Exposition. In addition to many startling new features it retains all those of last year's Fair that were too important and popular to leave out—but even they have been enlarged, changed and improved.

This summer's Fair will cost little to see and little to get to. There are 84 miles of interesting free exhibits. The Exposition will look after the visitor's comfort hospitably, efficiently and inexpensively. Last year the average visitor spent only $1.17 a day inside the grounds.

World's Greatest Fountain.
Workmen have torn down more than 100 of the old buildings. New ones have replaced them. The entire physical appearance is different, with new color and new landscaping everywhere. New lighting effects at night, even more daring than those of the 1933 Fair, surpass anything of the kind ever attempted anywhere.

Coffins, Caskets Under Takers' Supplies
Licensed Embalmer and Auto Hearse at Your Service
Day phone 24
Night phone 40
MOREMAN HARDWARE

Huffman's Barber Shop
Expert Tonsorial Work, Shampoos, Hot and Cold Baths
You will be pleased with our service. Try it.
W. H. Huffman, Prop.

John W. Fitzjarrald
Chiropractor
18th year in Memphis
PHONE 462
Led with Office

WEDLEY LODGE NO. 991
A. F. and A. M. meets on the 2nd Thursday night in each month
All members are urged to attend. Visitors are welcome.
W. C. Bridges, W. M.
G. E. Johnson, Sec.

Dr. F. V. Walker
General Practice, Female Diseases—Specialty
Residence Phone 5
Office with Wilson Drug Co.
Hedley, Texas

ADAMSON-LANE POST 287
AMERICAN LEGION
meets on the first Friday in each month
J. W. WEBB, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon
Hedley, Texas
Office Phone 8
Residence Phone 96

NAZARENE CHURCH
Sunday School at 10 a. m.
Preaching service 11 a. m.
Young people meet at 7:30
Night service at 6:15
Rev. Nannie Carter, Pastor.

CHURCH OF CHRIST
Brother Frank E. Chism will preach in Hedley at the Church of Christ Saturday and Sunday, May 12 and 13.
Everybody is invited to come out and hear him.
Midweek Bible Study on Wednesday night
Bible Classes every Sunday morning from 10 to 11 o'clock.
Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

THE INFORMER, $1.00 per year

SHERIFF'S NOTICE OF SALE

State Of Texas
County Of Donley
By Virtue of an order of sale issued out of the 47th District Court of Potter County, Texas on April 30 1934 on a judgment rendered in said court on March 7, A. D. 1934, in case No. 10468-A, styled The First National Bank of Amarillo, Texas vs H. Lott, et al, on the docket of said court, I, Guy Pierce, Sheriff of Donley County, Texas, did on the 2nd day of May, 1934 at 5 o'clock P. M. levy upon the following described tracts of land situated in Donley County, State of Texas, to-wit: Lots Nos. 1 and 2 in Block No. 5 of the Grant Addition to the town of Clarendon, in Donley County, Texas, and Lots Nos. 4, 5 and 6 in Block No. 156 of the Original Town or City of Clarendon, in Donley County, Texas, as shown by maps of said Addition and said town of record in the office of the County Clerk of Donley County, Texas, to which reference is here made for descriptive purposes; and on the 5 day of June, A. D. 1934, same being the first Tuesday in said month, between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M. on said day, at the courthouse door of Donley County, Texas, I as sheriff aforesaid and by virtue of said writ, will offer for sale and sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash the above described tracts of property, selling the same separately as directed in said writ, and conveying the interest therein of each and all of the parties to said suit, to-wit, The First National Bank of Amarillo, Texas, plain defendant, and H. Lott, individually and as community survivor of the estate of himself and deceased wife, Fannie Lott, Erwin O. Ochsner, Vestal Lott, Warren Lott, Marjorie Lott, Billie Lott, Harold Lott and Phillips Petroleum Company, defendants, selling said properties as directed in said writ to satisfy a judgment rendered in favor of said plaintiff against the other defendants therein.
Witness My Hand this 2nd day of May A. D. 1934
Guy Pierce,
Sheriff, Donley County, Texas,
By Gay Wright, Deputy

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Mothers Day will be observed with an appropriate program Sunday morning at the First Baptist church. The public is invited.
Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. O. E. Johnson, Superintendent.
Preaching at 11 a. m.
B. T. S. at 7:30 p. m.
Preaching at 8:30 p. m.
W. M. S. meets Monday at 8 p. m.; Y. W. A. at 4:00 p. m.
M. E. Wells, Pastor.

THE METHODIST CHURCH
A. V. Hendricks, Pastor
The sermon Sunday morning at the Methodist church will be preached to the mothers. Sunday night the sermon will be for the fathers.
Sunday School Sunday morning at 9:45, Clarence Davis, Supt. Epworth League at 6:30, Mildred Golliday, Pres. Mrs. W. H. Burden, Sponsor; Miss Alice Noel in charge of Intermediate League Church Services 11 a. m. 7 p. m.

WEST BAPTIST CHURCH
W. F. Pool, pastor.
Sunday School at 10 a. m.
Preaching every 2nd and 4th Sundays and on Saturday before the 2nd Sunday. Morning service 11:00 a. m. Evening service 8:15. Visitors are always welcome.
B. Y. P. U. and adult Bible Sunday at 7:00 P. M.

Political Announcements

For Representative 122nd District
JOHN PURYEAR
Re-election

For District Attorney:
JOHN M. DEEVER
Re-election

For District Clerk:
WALKER LANE
Re-election

For County Judge:
S. W. LOWE
Re-election

For County Attorney:
R. Y. KING
Re-election

For County Treasurer:
MRS. R. WILKERSON
Re-election

For County Clerk:
W. G. WORD
Re-election

For Sheriff
M. W. MOSLEY
C. HUFFMAN
GUY S. PIERCE
Re-election
J. R. (DICK) BAIN

For Tax Assessor and Collector:
MARVIN SMITH
JOE BOWNS
W. C. (BILL) McDONALD

For County Commissioner, Precinct No. 3:
G. L. ARMSTRONG
J. W. MESSER
T. N. DEBORD
J. LES HAWKINS
Re-election
L. J. CRAWFORD
RAY DOHERTY

W. M. SOCIETY

The women's auxiliary of the Methodist church had their regular meeting at the church Monday, May 14. Although we were having real winter weather there were seven present, besides a group from Circle 2. Mrs. Webb, President presided. After business matters were discussed and disposed of, Mrs. Manly, leader for the afternoon, took charge and carried out the program. We hope to have more present next Monday.

WIFADADOS CLUB

Program for the Wifadados club meeting to be held May 22 in the home of Mrs. Duncan. Leader, Mrs. Adamson. Answer to roll call—My hobby. Keeping the play spirit alive in the home—Mrs. Grimsley. Song, "Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party—Club. Home James—Mrs. Steele. Story telling—Mrs. Adams. Demonstration of games—club. A full attendance will be expected.

NEW DEAL BRIDGE CLUB

The New Deal Bridge club met with Mrs. Roy Kutch Friday May 4th. After five games of bridge refreshments were served to Mesdames J. W. Webb, Hobart Moffitt, Alva Simmons, R. F. Newman, P. V. Dishman, Ray Moreman, C. L. Johnson, G. Z. Sherman, E. R. Hooker, Thornton Garrett, Roy Kutch and Miss Oley Watkins.

Mrs. E. V. White Jr. of Cincinnati Ohio, who will be remembered here as Miss Delilah Tedlie, will receive her degree from the University of Cincinnati June

1919 STUDY CLUB

On Wednesday afternoon May 9 Mrs. L. Spalding was a charming hostess to the members of the 1919 Study club and several guests.

One of the most interesting numbers on the program was a report of the Federation convention which met in Amarillo. Mrs. Webb the delegate, gave a resume of the the three day convention.

Following the report the following program on South America with Mrs. Alva Simmons as leader was given.

Roll call—Rivers of South America
Buenos Aires and Its River of Silver—Mrs. Nowlin
Island Home of Robinson Crusoe—Mrs. Kinslow
A trip through Chile—Mrs. Kutch

Delicious refreshments were served to Mesdames Leach and Beach, guests, and members Mesdames Moffitt, Thompson, Beaty, Howard, Hooker, Dishman, Webb, Kinslow, C. E. Johnson, Burden, Kutch, Nowlin and hostess.

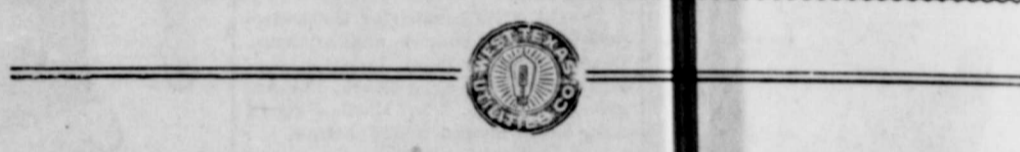

SENIOR B. Y. P. U.

Topic—Christ is Teacher
Scripture Reading—Pauline Caldwell.

Introduction—Group Captain. He Sailed His Methods to the Ones He Taught—Loretta Moore.

Essential Conditions—Nettie Blankenship
He Simplified Great Truths—Emma Lewell Plunk.

He Taught the Fundamentals of Life—Joyce Tinsley.
He Taught Men to See God in Everything—Nina Mae Bailey.
The Authority of Christ as Teacher—Truman Caldwell.

Look for Better Flavor With Electric Cooking

You wouldn't believe that Electric Cooking could make so much difference in flavor! Meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices—with the addition of practically no water. And in the electric oven the heat rapidly roasts, and prevents excessive shrinkage. Baked foods are deliciously and uniformly browned. Grilled steaks have the flavor of charcoal broiling!

Electric Cooking retains so much more of the nourishing elements of the food that you can actually buy less meat or vegetables and still have just as much to put upon the table!

Electric ranges cook food with a speed and economy which compare favorably with any other kind of fuel! Let us demonstrate our new ranges. Of course, there is no obligation—and attractive terms can be arranged.

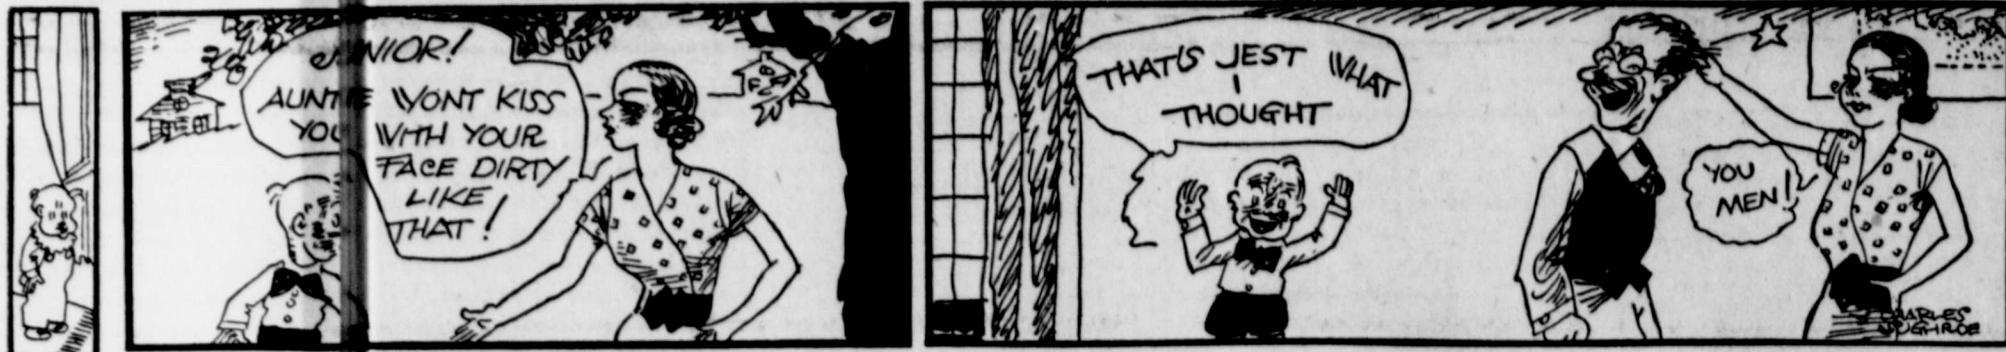

Electric ranges cook food with a speed and economy which compare favorably with any other kind of fuel! Let us demonstrate our new ranges. Of course, there is no obligation—and attractive terms can be arranged.

This is the "Electrical Age." A Hotpoint range will be another step to your All-Electric Kitchen.

West Texas Utilities Company

SUCH IS LIFE—Using His Head!

By Charles Sughroe

Work on Aqueduct Now Ahead of Plan

Great Project in California to Serve 13 Cities.

Los Angeles.—The greatest aqueduct built in the history of man is entering the second year of construction in southern California.

If the builders of the days of the Caesars could return to earth, they would see 4,000 men working along a 250-mile desert front, bringing water from the Colorado river to the metropolitan water district of southern California.

They would learn that 5,670,000 barrels of cement will go into the completed project—sufficient to build 14-foot highway from Los Angeles to New York.

They would be told that 3,600,000 gallons of gasoline will be burned before the job is finished—sufficient to drive 2,300 automobiles once around the earth at the equator.

They would see 90,000,000 board feet of lumber, 41,000,000 pounds of explosives, 2,500 miles of copper cable go into the project.

To Start New Work. This second year of activity sees 13 miles of the project's 91 miles of tunnel already driven through hard rock desert mountains.

Working under the direction of W. E. Weymouth, general manager and chief engineer, 4,000 men are fulfilling orders of taxpayers to build the aqueduct at a cost of $220,000,000 or less.

Within two months the aqueduct forces will be increased by the launching of several new units of work. The Public Works administration has allocated $2,000,000 for the financing of the first year of construction on Parker dam, the aqueduct's diversion structure on the Colorado river.

The dam, 330 feet high from its bedrock foundation, and 740 feet across its crest, will be built at a cost of $13,500,000 in Parker canyon, 15 miles north of Parker, Ariz., and 15 miles below Boulder dam.

Teaming With Activity. Preliminary work already has been started by the metropolitan water district on nine additional miles of 16-foot tunnel, bringing the total of the aqueduct bore under construction to 91 miles, constituting all the tunnels on the main line.

Thirty-one construction camps in the Colorado and Coachella deserts now team with activity as work rolls along on the 241-mile stretch from intake to the terminal reservoir near Riverside.

West of the reservoir will stretch 141 miles of huge mains, to carry water to the 13 cities within the district.

With work under way and contracts already let, approximately a third of the program is accounted for, involving a total investment and obligation of approximately $90,000,000. On the basis of this figure, a saving of nearly $9,000,000 over original estimates has been made.

The 13 cities comprising the metropolitan water district are Anaheim, Beverly Hills, Burbank, Compton, Fullerton, Glendale, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Pasadena, San Marino, Santa Ana, Santa Monica and Torrance.

Coasting Run 250 Years Old. The coasting run leading from the Bohemian border to the old mining town of Schmieberg in the Giants' mountains looks back on 250 years of existence. It was first used beginning in 1783, by Bohemian miners to shorten their trip to the mines.

30 Million Insects to Help Celebrate. Paris.—More than 30,000,000 insects will take part in the three hundredth anniversary celebrations next year of the famous French museum of the Jardin des Plantes.

This museum was founded by Guy de las Brosse, physician to Louis XIII, who succeeded to the French throne following the assassination of his father, Henry IV.

The director of the museum, Paul Lemoine, has announced that 500 of the world's leading scientists will be invited to participate in the celebrations, and that they will be shown the museum's collections.

President of Haiti. President Stenio Vincent of Haiti waved greeting to New York from deck of liner Haiti which brought him here for discussion of United States military evacuation of island.

Gates for Stairways. Stairways that yawn in unsuspected places along halls are temptations to accidents, especially where there are old folk or little children. When such an open stair entrance comes between a guest room and the bathroom, and the guest is not warned, serious falls have resulted. To guard well such a stairway is really a very easy matter today, for there are swing gates made especially for them, or if preferred, there are gates which collapse instead of swing.

Very highly polished floors can be so slippery that walking on them is somewhat akin to walking on ice. When having floors finished and when keeping them in good condition, it is not necessary to have them of glassy polish. Scatter rugs on polished floors should have beneath them bases which do not raise the rugs but very little yet which are so made that they cling to the floor. Rubber has this adhesive element, and so do many textiles made to go under the rugs. Fortunately these bases prolong the durability of zation, then, is a condition of organized society. Without society we cannot have a civilization. The social group is the prime requisite and upon its enlightenment, moral, intellectual and spiritual, does civilization depend.

This is quite a different point of view from that one which makes the security of civilization depend upon skyscrapers, automobiles, airplanes, banks flooded with money, palatial ships, marble palaces, or whether United States Steel or American Can goes up ten points or drops twenty, or the regulation of the tariff.

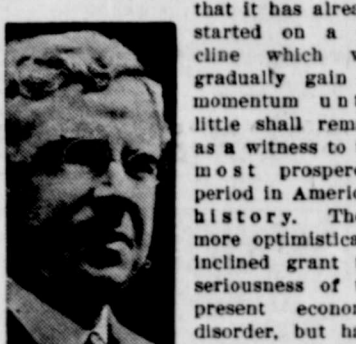

All attempts to perpetuate a civilization upon these terms is already doomed, as witnessed in the fall of the Roman empire. It is like building a house upon the sand which soon falls because it is not able to withstand the fury of the wind and storm.

Civilization is an outward expression of the inner soul of a nation. Its security depends upon spiritual qualities and not upon size, bulk, weight or speed. What we need to do is to cultivate a deeper faith in the moral order of the universe and through its expression in our daily toil, build a house upon the foundation of integrity, righteousness and justice. Civilization is a condition of life and not a Babel tower of stone or steel.

© by Western Newspaper Union.

HOW TO BUILD
By LEONARD A. BARRETT

Will western civilization be annihilated? Some persons are convinced that it has already started on a decline which will gradually gain in momentum until little shall remain as a witness to the most prosperous period in American history.

Those more optimistically inclined grant the seriousness of the present economic disorder, but have sufficient faith in the moral integrity of the country to convincingly affirm that all will be well again.

Perhaps it will help to clarify one's attitude toward this disputed problem if we ask, what do we mean by civilization? The dictionary defines the word "as a condition of organization, enlightenment and progress." Civil-

Gangway for a Trojan

Ed Ablowitz, 440-yard runner and mascot of the University of Southern California track team. He was a member of the 1932 American Olympic 1,900-meter relay team which established a new world's record for that distance; is a senior, co-captain of the 1934 college team.

Angora Cat Thrives on Diet of Woolen Goods

Istanbul.—A white Angora cat with a mothlike appetite has become a scourge to the residents of the Istanbul suburb of Psamatia.

The feline, which has one green and one blue eye, has developed a passion for wool. It eats large holes in jerseys and berets, gently gnawing and swallowing the wool.

The Household
By Lydia Le Baron Walker

PRECAUTIONARY measures will insure against a large proportion of accidents which occur, especially in the home. It is true that this is the place where many accidents happen but this is natural since home is the residence of a family, the territory where the family live most of the hours of day and night, the place where children are reared, and all the members congregate.

It is also the place where the mechanical part of the running of the house goes on. While this is the age of machine run household equipments, be it said to the credit of those who make them, the devices are carefully contrived to protect users from dangerous elements. It is not these that are chiefly responsible for home accidents, but lack of precautionary measures, plus carelessness.

For example, a surprising number of household accidents occur in the bathtub. Tubs are slippery. Bathers forget this. They get in and out of the tub, and stand in it without taking any precautions. The set bathtub with no flange around the edge supplying places to grip firmly when getting in and out have greater danger possibilities than those tubs where there is a curved flange or rim. Grab rails are the next best things but these are on one side, in the wall, and are less convenient and safety-insuring. A rubber bath mat in the bottom of the tub, or a heavy textile bath mat or even a towel, will afford a safer stepping place than an uncovered bottom of a tub.

Gates for Stairways. Stairways that yawn in unsuspected places along halls are temptations to accidents, especially where there are old folk or little children. When such an open stair entrance comes between a guest room and the bathroom, and the guest is not warned, serious falls have resulted. To guard well such a stairway is really a very easy matter today, for there are swing gates made especially for them, or if preferred, there are gates which collapse instead of swing.

Very highly polished floors can be so slippery that walking on them is somewhat akin to walking on ice. When having floors finished and when keeping them in good condition, it is not necessary to have them of glassy polish. Scatter rugs on polished floors should have beneath them bases which do not raise the rugs but very little yet which are so made that they cling to the floor. Rubber has this adhesive element, and so do many textiles made to go under the rugs. Fortunately these bases prolong the durability of

President of Haiti. President Stenio Vincent of Haiti waved greeting to New York from deck of liner Haiti which brought him here for discussion of United States military evacuation of island.

Gates for Stairways. Stairways that yawn in unsuspected places along halls are temptations to accidents, especially where there are old folk or little children. When such an open stair entrance comes between a guest room and the bathroom, and the guest is not warned, serious falls have resulted. To guard well such a stairway is really a very easy matter today, for there are swing gates made especially for them, or if preferred, there are gates which collapse instead of swing.

Very highly polished floors can be so slippery that walking on them is somewhat akin to walking on ice. When having floors finished and when keeping them in good condition, it is not necessary to have them of glassy polish. Scatter rugs on polished floors should have beneath them bases which do not raise the rugs but very little yet which are so made that they cling to the floor. Rubber has this adhesive element, and so do many textiles made to go under the rugs. Fortunately these bases prolong the durability of

Chartered by the Roosevelts

The Black Hawk, a 68-foot schooner now at Miami, Fla., is to be sent by James Roosevelt, son of the President, to the South Salem yards of Fred Dion, boat builder, to be chartered by the Roosevelts this summer. Photograph shows the Black Hawk at Merrill Steven's shipyard where it is being overhauled.

FRUIT TREES A GOOD BET
Some years ago so many orchards were planted that there was an over-abundance, but this condition promises to be greatly changed in the future. Many orchards have been allowed to die out and the time is coming when fruit will be in much better demand. As it is too late to start an orchard after the demand has come, it is a wise plan to invest a little in this form of land improvement. The trees cost so little that this does not have to prevent anybody from having an orchard, or at least a few select trees. The United States is especially blessed because fruit of some sort can be grown in every state. We should appreciate this fact all the more when we remember that in many countries fruit is such a luxury that it is beyond the reach of average people.—Pathfinder Magazine.

MURINE
FOR YOUR EYES
A Few Drops Every Night and Morning Will Promote a Clean, Healthy Condition!
At All Drug Stores
Write Murine Co., Dpt. W, Chicago, for Free Book

The Wrong Time
He (on the dance floor)—I wish I were in your shoes.
She—Perhaps, but I wish you would refrain from attempting to get into them now.

Mercolized Wax
Keeps Skin Young
Absorb blemishes and discolorations using Mercolized Wax daily as directed. Invisible particles of aged skin are freed and all defects such as blackheads, tan, freckles and large pores disappear. Skin is then beautifully clear, velvety and so soft—looks years younger. Mercolized Wax brings out your hidden beauty. At all leading druggists.

Powdered Saxolite
Medicine wrinkles and other age-signs. Simply dissolve one ounce Saxolite in half-pint witch hazel and use daily as face lotion.

Her Comeback
Dentist—A little wider, please!
Woman—Oh, I don't want to talk to you. Just fill the tooth.

WHEN SHE'S UPSET HE SUFFERS
Constipation Drove Her Wild
made her feel cross, headache, achy, half-sleep. Now she has a lovable disposition, new pep and vitality. Heed Nature's warning. Straggling bowels invariably result in poisonous wastes ravaging your system—often the direct cause of headaches, dizziness, colds, complexion troubles. NATURE'S REMEDY—the mild, all-vegetable laxative—safely stimulates the entire eliminative tract—strengthens, regulates the bowels for normal, natural functioning. Get a 25c box today at your druggist's.

HOW SHE LOST 14 POUNDS OF FAT FOR 85 CENTS

"I used one jar of Kruschen and reduced 14 lbs. and just feel fine. Was bothered before with gas pains but after taking Kruschen they never bothered me." Mrs. R., Deer River, Minn.
Don't stay fat and unattractive—not when it's so easy and safe to get rid of double chins, ugly hip-fat and unbecoming plumpness on upper arms—at the same time build up strength and increase vitality—feel younger and keep free from headaches, indigestion, acidity, fatigue and shortness of breath. Just take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts first thing every morning in a glass of hot water. If not joyfully satisfied with results of one 85 cent jar (lasts 4 weeks) money back from any druggist the world over. But make sure you get Kruschen—the SAFE way to reduce.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Removes Dandruff Stops Hair Falling Improves Color and Beauty to Gray and Faded Hair
Floreston Shampoo—Ideal for use in connection with Parker's Hair Balsam. Makes the hair soft and fluffy. 50 cents by mail or at druggists. Hicon Chemical Works, Patheburg, N.Y.

ITCHING
Wherever it occurs and whatever the cause, relieve it at once with Resinol

ODD THINGS AND NEW—By Lane Bode

BIG TREE STRENGTH—
STRONGEST LUMBER FROM REDWOOD TREES IS OBTAINED NEAR THE BOTTOM OF THE TREE.

TOOTH GROWING—
THE PROCESS OF TOOTH FORMATION STARTS SIX MONTHS BEFORE BIRTH.

LOWEST RAILS—
ENGLISH ROADS ARE STARTING TO USE THE WORLD'S LONGEST RAILS. TO PROVIDE SMOOTHER RIDES THAN 60-FOOT RAILS GIVE.

A Few Little Smiles

WHAT A LIFE!

One of the sound men at a radio studio thinks that the hardest stunt he ever had was to imitate over the air the sound of a baby buggy coming down the street and running into a fat man.

"Well, how did you make out?" queried the friend to whom he had confided his doubt at the results.

"Everyone thought it was all right but the sponsor. He said it sounded more like a baby buggy hitting a thin man!"

SOME GIRLS

"She says she wouldn't marry the best man on earth. Plenty of girls say that. Idle talk, eh?"

"Oh, I don't know. Some girls mean it. Some of them are looking for wealth."

No Excuse

The bride appeared, but not the bridegroom. The clergyman and the woman, silent and embarrassed, waited in the church from one o'clock until three. Then they departed.

A week later the woman wrote to the clergyman, appointing another day at one o'clock for the ceremony. But again the groom failed to turn up.

Two o'clock struck, then three. And then the bride broke the silence with a fierce ejaculation.

"Drat him!" she cried. "Tain't his trousers this time, 'cause I bought him a pair."

He Didn't Laugh

"You are the only gentleman in the room," said a stranger.

"In what way, sir?" asked a guest.

"When I tripped in the dance, tearing my partner's dress, you were the only one in the room who did not laugh." He paused.

"The lady is my wife and I paid $10 for that dress yesterday."

The Native Son

Pasa Dean—You look all happy and proud, boy. How come?

Los Angel—I'm just back from an auto trip, and you can't imagine how much better the old bus rides now the tires are inflated with this wonderful California air.

Tough Luck

Man—I'm in an awful predicament. Neighbor—What's the trouble?

Man—I've lost my glasses and I can't look for them until I've found them again.

Waiting for the Wife

Blinks—Ever had any big moments in your life?

Jinks—No, but being married I've had plenty of long minutes.

HOT SHOT

Vacant-Eyed Youth (effusively)—Don't you think to be absent-minded is a terrible affliction?

Miss Caustique (crushing)—Yes especially when it's chronic.

They Cost Money

Young Doctor—I took my car to have it repaired, and the garage man charged me $300.

Old Medico—You could get a new bus for that.

Young Doctor—Well, you see, he didn't know what was the matter with it, so he called a consultation.

Um

Gaffer—That fella is very noncommittal about his business.

Gossip—I've heard he runs an antique factory.

Popularity

Manager (sarcastically)—I notice there were 35,000 persons present at the afternoon that your grandmother was buried.

Office Boy (rising to the occasion)—I couldn't swear to that, sir; my grandma was always very popular!

Plenty of Leeway

"Haven't seen Bates for 20 years. Does he still part his hair in the middle?"

"Oh, yes; but the parting is about five inches wide now."

OUR COMIC SECTION

Events in the Lives of Little Men

THE FEATHERHEADS

FINNEY OF THE FORCE

Conspicuous

CAP AND BELLS

HUMORING AN ASPIRATION

"Crimson Gulch manages to be a pretty orderly community," said the traveling salesman.

"We've got a new system," answered Cactus Joe. "When we see a young feller with racketeer symptoms we buy him a ticket to Chicago and tell him to write his old friends about how he made good in the big town."

One Thing, Anyway

Peppery Parent—You impudent puppy! You want to marry my daughter. And tell me, do you think you could give her what she's been used to?

Sultor—Er—yes. I think so, sir. I've a violent temper myself.—London Mail.

Progress

"How are you getting along with arithmetic, Sam?"

"Well, I don learn to add up all the thoughts, but de fingers still beeter me."

C. O. D.

Grocer—I brought over the groceries, sir.

Jones—How much do I owe you?

Grocer—Not a cent. If you don't pay cash I'll take them back again.

Block Head

"My stock-in-trade is brains."

"You've got a funny-looking sample case."

THE HEATHEN!

Wife—Did you notice the wonderful coat the woman had on who was sitting in front of us in church this morning?

Husband—No; I'm afraid I was dozing.

Wife—It does a lot of good to take you to church, doesn't it?

Critical

A Boston youngster who had been on his first trip out of town was asked what he thought of the country.

"It's like a big park," he said, "only they allow houses on it, and they don't keep it up half as well."—Boston Transcript.

Didn't Know the Half

"Carlyle made a strong book about 'Heroes and Hero Worship.'"

"And he knew nothing about movie heroes."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THE PLACE TO APPLY

"When you're in need of good advice to whom do you go?"

"I usually pick out some fellow who makes a specialty of minding his own business."

Wise Guy

Cholly—You are not like other girls!

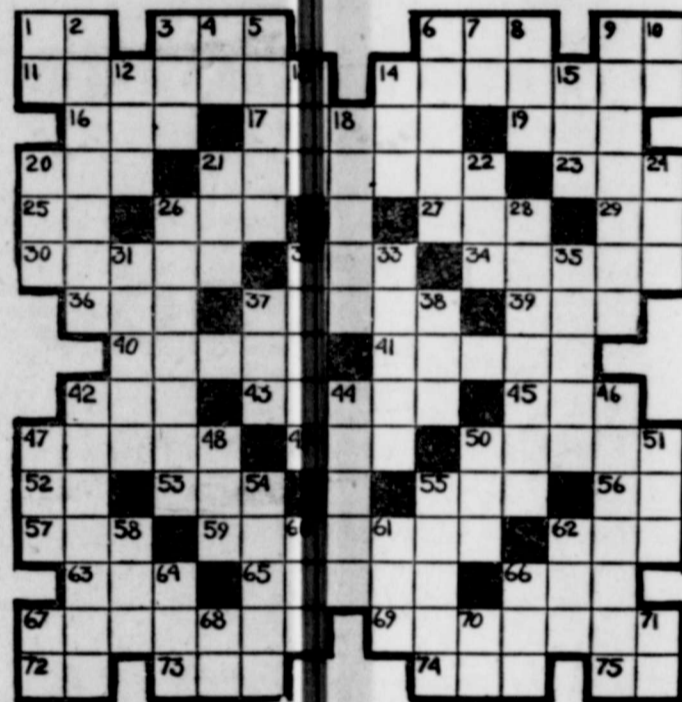

Bess—I know that!

Cholly—You are higher, purer, sweeter, more benign!

Bess—I know that!

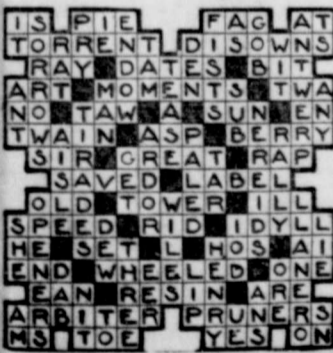

Cholly (to himself)—By jove, they are all alike!—Brooklyn Eagle.

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

- Horizontal.
- 1—Exists
 - 2—An article of food
 - 3—To tire
 - 4—A violent stream
 - 11—Renounces
 - 14—A line of light
 - 17—Notes the time of writing
 - 19—A small portion
 - 20—Human ingenuity
 - 21—Short periods of time
 - 23—Two (Scottish)
 - 26—A line from which marble pieces shoot (slang)
 - 27—An illuminating orb
 - 29—Half the width of an em
 - 30—Two (poetic)
 - 32—A small snake
 - 34—A pulpy fruit of small size
 - 36—A title of respect
 - 37—Of much size
 - 40—Rescued
 - 42—Aged
 - 45—Sick
 - 48—To disencumber
 - 50—A little picture in verse
 - 52—That man
 - 53—Cry of surprise (pl.)
 - 56—The three-toed sloth
 - 57—The flash
 - 59—Caused to turn or revolve
 - 62—A single unit
 - 63—To bring forth
 - 65—A yellowish-brown substance of vegetable origin
 - 68—Those who remove what is superfluous
 - 72—An original document (abbr.)
 - 73—Part of the foot
 - 74—An affirmative
- Vertical.
- 5—That thing
 - 6—To search closely
 - 7—That is (abbr.)
 - 8—To furnish with money
 - 9—Closed hands
 - 10—Sailor (slang)
 - 12—A city in Belgium
 - 13—Taste solo (musical abbr.)
 - 14—A rodent
 - 15—A hair
 - 16—To plague
 - 18—A human being
 - 22—A substitute (slang)
 - 24—One of a number
 - 26—Long-drawn speeches
 - 28—Sea nymphs
 - 31—A passageway
 - 32—Eagerness
 - 35—To arouse to action
 - 37—To procure
 - 38—A thick black substance
 - 42—Cards entitling a player to open a jack-pot
 - 44—Tricks
 - 46—A dweller of the llanos of South America
 - 47—That girl
 - 48—Condensed moisture
 - 50—A combining form indicating "iodine"
 - 51—A falsehood
 - 55—A man's name
 - 58—To streak or dapple
 - 59—Ever (contraction)
 - 61—Part of the face
 - 62—Native metallic compound
 - 64—An immature insect
 - 68—Answer (abbr.)
 - 67—Part of the verb "to be"
 - 68—A preposition
 - 70—A variant prefix
 - 71—Tin (symbol)

Solution

Now That Times Are Getting Better

And Business Is Picking Up

Most Every Town Is Conducting A

“Trade At Home” Campaign

Let's keep our money at home

Trade With

Hedley Merchants

THE WEDDING MARCH MURDER

by Monte Barrett

Copyright, 1933. by the Bobbs-Merrill Co. WNU Service.

CHAPTER XI—Continued

Silently, as before, he moved around the table, anxious once more to reach the partial security of the wall. He rounded the table, his left hand extended before him, his right at his side, clutching the revolver.

He was warned. He did not know how. It might have been the faintest whisper of breath—a slight rustle of movement. Or that even more vague instinct of danger which he had often felt before. Whatever it was, he sensed his peril and whirled, swiftly, to face the room.

The blow caught Peter on the back of the jaw, near the ear, just as he was turning. It was a terrific smash, that would have ended the struggle right then, had he not turned when he did. As it was, it glanced off, but its force knocked him off balance and sent him sprawling to the floor on all fours.

The novelist's quarry had used the same strategy that Peter had adopted. He had been standing, back to the wall, waiting to catch his enemy between himself and the vague light of the windows. As Peter rounded the table he came into the position for which the man had been waiting.

At the impact of the blow, Peter's revolver clattered to the floor. Partly dazed, the novelist lost a precious moment in groping for the weapon in the darkness. In that instant, his enemy was upon him. The accuracy of a second blow was spoiled by the darkness. It caught Peter on the shoulder, but it served to acquaint his assailant with his whereabouts.

The man was on his back, raining blows down upon him, terrific, flail-like blows, that bruised and stunned, but still could find no vital spot. Unless he could reverse the tables, and quickly, Peter realized that he was through.

He drew his right leg up under him, and then kicked out with all his strength. His lashing foot caught the other man on the ankle and sent him spinning against the table. Peter kicked again, but the second effort missed. However, he was free of those crushing blows. Once more he groped for his weapon, but could not find it. He could hear the scrape of his enemy's heels as he struggled to his feet. Again he had wasted a precious second in vain search for the revolver.

Too late now, Peter rolled to the right quickly, to avoid the other's rush. Only one blow caught him, and he was half-way to his feet before they came to grips.

Once more the blows rained on him, fierce hammers of rage, any one of which might end the struggle if it landed in a vital spot. Peter was thankful for the darkness which prevented accuracy. Nor was he helpless now. With all his strength, he hurled his fists at his invisible foe, and found an uncertain exultation at the hard impact of his knuckles which told him they had found a target.

A random shot caught him on the cheek and sent him reeling backward into a chair. It was too frail to support him, and he careened across it. The chair splintered and Peter careened into the wall. But his fall had been broken. Panting, he struggled to his feet. Now, for the first time, his opponent was between him and the light. Peter could see him there, crouched over the chair, groping frenziedly into the blackness to find him. Choking back his sobbing breath, Peter advanced cautiously. Now was his chance!

The man straightened up just as Peter hurled himself through the air in a flying tackle. He struck his antagonist just above the knees, the impact numbing his shoulder. But Peter did not care. The man was down. Peter was confident of his ability to fight on more than even terms, once he came to grips with the fellow. Peter Cardigan was more than six feet tall, with a lean flanked hardness that did not belie the power of his well-trained musculature. Releasing his grip on the fellow's legs, Peter aimed a vicious blow to the abdomen, intent on ending the struggle as promptly as possible. The blow missed its mark, glancing off, too high, against the ribs. He drew back his arm for another blow, but there was no time. His antagonist gripped him about the body, crushing him down. There was no room for a blow now. Locked in each other's arms, they rolled, panting, across the floor. Each was seeking for an opening that the other was too cautious to grant.

be ever now. He was only vaguely conscious of the blows which battered at his face. The fellow must give in soon. He tried to force new energy into his flagging muscles, drained of much of their strength by the punishment he had absorbed during the struggle.

Somehow his hold had been broken. For the first time a feeling of hopelessness engulfed Peter. He was very tired. How long they had struggled, he did not know. He did know that it could not last much longer. He was almost at the end of his strength. His opponent must be tired, too. With the energy of despair he flung himself into a renewed attack. His arms seemed light, like cushions that he was pushing forward with tremendous effort. Of what use were blows like that? He must hit harder! Harder! Harder!

Still his blows seemed only to float through space. From somewhere, far off, something was beating at him, steadily. Was it the throb in his head? Or were they blows? They no longer seemed to hurt. He seemed to be sinking, sinking—now he could just drift away, comfortably, into forgetfulness. He tried to remember dazedly, why he should keep on struggling. There was some reason for it, but it kept eluding him. Then a blow in the abdomen hurt.

Once more he remembered. He was fighting—fighting for his life with Jim Franklin's murderer. They were on their feet again. He could not remember getting up. But here they were.

The blow caught Peter on the back of the jaw, near the ear, just as he was turning. It was a terrific smash, that would have ended the struggle right then, had he not turned when he did. As it was, it glanced off, but its force knocked him off balance and sent him sprawling to the floor on all fours.

The novelist's quarry had used the same strategy that Peter had adopted. He had been standing, back to the wall, waiting to catch his enemy between himself and the vague light of the windows. As Peter rounded the table he came into the position for which the man had been waiting.

At the impact of the blow, Peter's revolver clattered to the floor. Partly dazed, the novelist lost a precious moment in groping for the weapon in the darkness. In that instant, his enemy was upon him. The accuracy of a second blow was spoiled by the darkness. It caught Peter on the shoulder, but it served to acquaint his assailant with his whereabouts.

The man was on his back, raining blows down upon him, terrific, flail-like blows, that bruised and stunned, but still could find no vital spot. Unless he could reverse the tables, and quickly, Peter realized that he was through.

He drew his right leg up under him, and then kicked out with all his strength. His lashing foot caught the other man on the ankle and sent him spinning against the table. Peter kicked again, but the second effort missed. However, he was free of those crushing blows. Once more he groped for his weapon, but could not find it. He could hear the scrape of his enemy's heels as he struggled to his feet. Again he had wasted a precious second in vain search for the revolver.

Too late now, Peter rolled to the right quickly, to avoid the other's rush. Only one blow caught him, and he was half-way to his feet before they came to grips.

Once more the blows rained on him, fierce hammers of rage, any one of which might end the struggle if it landed in a vital spot. Peter was thankful for the darkness which prevented accuracy. Nor was he helpless now. With all his strength, he hurled his fists at his invisible foe, and found an uncertain exultation at the hard impact of his knuckles which told him they had found a target.

A random shot caught him on the cheek and sent him reeling backward into a chair. It was too frail to support him, and he careened across it. The chair splintered and Peter careened into the wall. But his fall had been broken. Panting, he struggled to his feet. Now, for the first time, his opponent was between him and the light. Peter could see him there, crouched over the chair, groping frenziedly into the blackness to find him. Choking back his sobbing breath, Peter advanced cautiously. Now was his chance!

The man straightened up just as Peter hurled himself through the air in a flying tackle. He struck his antagonist just above the knees, the impact numbing his shoulder. But Peter did not care. The man was down. Peter was confident of his ability to fight on more than even terms, once he came to grips with the fellow. Peter Cardigan was more than six feet tall, with a lean flanked hardness that did not belie the power of his well-trained musculature. Releasing his grip on the fellow's legs, Peter aimed a vicious blow to the abdomen, intent on ending the struggle as promptly as possible. The blow missed its mark, glancing off, too high, against the ribs. He drew back his arm for another blow, but there was no time. His antagonist gripped him about the body, crushing him down. There was no room for a blow now. Locked in each other's arms, they rolled, panting, across the floor. Each was seeking for an opening that the other was too cautious to grant.

They crashed into the table. There was a tinkle of broken glass. Once Peter got the palm of his hand under his antagonist's chin. He gritted his teeth and put all his strength into the effort as he forced the other's head back. His breath was whistling, painfully, through his nostrils. There was an indescribable agony in his chest, as though some tremendous weight were crushing out his breath. Still he forced back that head. It would soon morning before Rylie Carmody was located at his home, to which he had returned during the night. Kilday was resolved to place the young man under arrest, convinced that his flight had had some connection with Cardigan's injury.

The Blow Caught Peter on the Back of the Jaw.

Of course, this meant that Spears was innocent. How else account for what obviously had occurred at Franklin's office? Who but the murderer would have hurled Cardigan through the window? Certainly that was not Webster Spears, who had been under arrest at the time. Callis Shipley lacked the strength for such a feat. But Rylie Carmody—He had not been entirely wrong in his surmises, then. If Rylie Carmody had not given his shadow the slip, things would have worked out differently, surely.

The sergeant was a determined man when he presented himself at the Carmody residence after being informed that his quarry had returned. "I'm sorry," the butler declared. "Mr. Carmody is ill. He can see no one." "He'll see me," declared Kilday dourly. In his extended palm he exhibited his badge. "Take me to his room."

Rylie was sitting up in bed, several pillows propped behind his back. His left eye was discolored and swollen. One arm was bandaged above the wrist and the knuckles of the other hand were taped.

"Good morning, Sergeant. What brings you here so early in the morning?"

"I guess you know," was the laconic rejoinder. "You look as though you'd run into a buzz-saw."

Rylie raised his arm, the better to exhibit the bandage. "Had an accident," he explained.

"Oh, yeah?" the sergeant grinned mirthlessly. "An accident, eh? Automobile, I suppose?"

"Yes, I skidded on some loose gravel, and—"

"This was while you were trying to give my man the slip yesterday afternoon?"

The young man pretended not to understand. The sergeant settled himself in a comfortable chair beside the bed and lighted a cigar. "So you gave us the slip did you?" He puffed a time or two. "Well, I won't deny you kept half a dozen men busy last night, trying to find you. Caused us a lot of trouble. But I won't complain. You've helped us a lot in the solution of the murder."

"Helped you?" Rylie raised himself on one elbow. "Do you mean to say you've caught the murderer?"

"I can lay my hands on him, any time I please," Kilday asserted. "I know who he is, where he is and what he did last night. It isn't a mystery any more."

Young Carmody relaxed against the pillows.

"I suppose it's time to cheer," he said. "But what has last night got to do with it?"

"You ought to know," Kilday's eyes never left the young man's face. "Me?"

"You killed Jim Franklin."

At first Rylie smiled. "You have a queer idea of humor," he said. Then he sat up straight. "Say, are you serious? Do you think I—why, man, you're out of your head!"

"You think so?" The sergeant was elaborately casual. "Crazy idea, eh?"

"Listen, it isn't half as crazy as that story you just told me about an auto accident. I know where you got that black eye. I know where those bruises came from. And you weren't even in an automobile, young fellow."

"I can tell you why you were so anxious to give my detective the slip yesterday afternoon. I can tell you a great many things that you don't think I know. And the things I know are going to send you to the chair."

Kilday's cigar was forgotten and cold now. He edged forward, the hard lines of his face no harder than the bleak stare of his eyes. "I was on to you from the first. If Cardigan had listened to me, then, he'd be here with me today, instead of where he is. But you're not going to pull the wool over our eyes any more."

"You killed Jim Franklin. Whether you did it to prevent him from marrying your sister, after everything else had failed, or for another reason. We'll discuss that later. We know you quarreled with him in the study of the church, within a half-hour of the time he was murdered. We know that Webster Spears told you about Choo Choo Train that very afternoon, at lunch. Spears is under arrest. He admits he told you, in the hope that you would stop the wedding. He even admitted, this morning, that he was the author of that anonymous message your father received. He admits everything, except the murder itself, and the phone call to Choo Choo Train. Perhaps that was your work. Oh, Spears has tried to protect you, but he won't any longer. Spears has talked, and he'll keep on talking."

"Webster Spears?" Rylie's tone was incredulous. "Did he say that?"

"It doesn't really matter what Spears says," Kilday brushed aside the interruption with an impatient wave of the hand. "We've got the goods on you, anyway. After your quarrel with Franklin you returned to the study, entering by the rear door, so that you wouldn't be observed. He was standing in the sacristy door, with his back toward you. You seized the knife that was hanging on the wall and stabbed him twice. Then you locked that door, wiped the blade off on his shirt, and replaced the knife in its sheath, first being careful to obliterate your finger-prints on the handle."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Page 54, Patrick Many poisonous snakes abound in regions near New York city.

The Mayor's Suitcase

By B. C. CRAVEN

© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. WNU Service

THE train pulled into the Craryville station and pulled out again. In the brief instant that it passed, two suitcases were tossed off and two passengers descended.

The bags were very similar—of brown leather with corners reinforced in brass—but their owners were as unlike as a rose and an elm tree. One was Miss Margaret Hawthorne, bound for a dance at the Craryville Country club; the other, young Simon Baldwin, mayor of Mansfield, guest of honor at the chamber of commerce banquet at the Hotel Mohawk.

At the baggage-room counter they nearly bumped elbows yet neither was actually aware of the other. Margaret was intent on her imminent meeting with a recently acquired fiancé, one Cyrus Underhill, while his honor was mulling over the climax of the speech he was scheduled to make.

Yet it was not very long afterward that each was reminded forcibly of the other.

Margaret, who had been asked to spend the week-end with Cyrus' Cousin Amelia, had gone up to her room, and, kneeling on the floor, opened the suitcase and flung back the cover, only to utter a little shriek of consternation.

There lay within, carefully folded, a man's tuxedo; a pleated shirt; a collar; a black unmade bow tie; two spotless handkerchiefs.

Vaguely she recalled that there had been another passenger to alight from the train besides herself.

Well, there was a remote possibility that he might have discovered sooner than she the mistake and that, had he done so, he might have returned her bag at once to the station.

Margaret looked over the contents of the suitcase before her, but there was nothing to help her establish the identity of the man to whom they belonged.

Hastily, she put on her hat and coat again, went downstairs, and with a hurried word of explanation which Cousin Amelia only half understood flew out of the house and down the street to the corner where presently she caught a car.

Margaret had not yet seen Cyrus. But then she had not expected to. In the very letter which the postman had handed her that morning, as she was leaving the house, he had said that pressure of work at the office would probably detain him until seven or eight o'clock.

The baggage master proved a disappointment. No, no one had returned any suitcase. No, he could not possibly say who had hers. There had been several.

"Are you looking for somebody, miss?" the young bootblack who ran a stand on the platform had sauntered in and was trying to get the drift of the conversation.

"I am looking for the owner of this suitcase," said Margaret.

The youngster walked around the article in question, hands in his pockets. "I sure have seen that very grip before," he said earnestly. "It belongs to his honor, the mayor of Mansfield!"

"Mayor of Mansfield! But this is Craryville!"

"Well, he's a great traveler. Speeches and dinners all over the country. I used to be in the Mansfield station and every time he was going anywhere the mayor would get a shine from me."

"But how can I—why Cy?" If Margaret looked for Cyrus to take her in his arms, she was disappointed. Nor could her amazement at his unexpected appearance blind her to the fact that something was the matter.

"Why, Cy, wherever did you spring from?"

"I called the house, Margaret, to see if you had arrived safely," said Cyrus stiffly. "Cousin Amelia said you had gone back to the station and that right after you left a man had telephoned from the Hotel Mohawk and said he must talk with you at once!"

Margaret clutched her fiancé's arm. "Oh, he must be waiting there. Call a taxi, Cy. It's the mayor of Mansfield!"

But Cyrus did not budge. "Just why should the mayor of Mansfield, or, for that matter, the governor of the state, be waiting at the Hotel Mohawk for the girl I am supposed to be engaged to?"

"How masculinely stupid!" Margaret thought. But there was no time to waste. "Get a taxi at once, dear," she insisted. "And I'll explain all about it on the way."

Twenty minutes later Margaret was talking with the mayor himself. "I'm so sorry, Miss Hawthorne, that you should have gone to all this trouble. I wished to make sure you were really at that address before dispatching a boy with your suitcase."

"But how," inquired Margaret, "did you know about that address at all?"

"There was a letter on the very top," said his honor, with a smile. "from Cyrus. Believe me, however, I skipped everything but the address at the very end!"

"Wasn't he adorable!" sighed Margaret, some hours afterward, dancing dreamily in Cy's arms to the strains of a seductive waltz.

"Wasn't who—look here, Margaret, cut it out. I happen to know that fellow's married and got three kids!"

DERRIS ADVISED IN WARFARE ON THE HOUSE FLY

The most important insecticide plants being studied by the United States Department of Agriculture are tobacco, pyrethrum, and derris. Tobacco, from which nicotine is obtained, needs no description. Pyrethrum, a plant like our common daisy, is grown chiefly in Japan, and large quantities of dried flower heads are exported to this country, where they are ground into the familiar light brown insect powder. Derris, a wood vine related to our locust tree, grows wild and is also cultivated in the East Indies. The dried roots of the plant are exported for insecticide purposes.

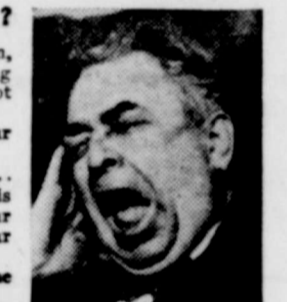

Most of the liquid household insecticides now on the market contain insect poisons known as the pyrethrin which have been obtained from pyrethrum flowers and put into solution in kerosene. Kerosene itself has some effect on house flies, but the "well known wallop" is delivered by the pyrethrin in it. Flies that come in contact with mist from a pyrethrum-kerosene spray immediately "nose-dive" to the floor. They appear to be dead, but really are only paralyzed. Some of the paralyzed flies die, but others recover later and become as capable of annoyance as they were before.

How to knock down flies and keep them down was one problem attacked by the department. The immediate effect of derris was not so spectacular as that of pyrethrum. The flies remained in the air longer and offered more resistance to "taking the count," but once they were down they remained down and in the end derris killed a larger percentage of the sprayed flies than did pyrethrum. The department believes that the advantages of both extracts, the "stunning punch" of pyrethrum and the "bulldog grip" of derris, might be combined by mixing them.

Broad Path Cultivating intimacy is the road to trouble.

"Spring fever" time is here

...and what does it mean to you? JUST THIS: If you feel listless, run-down, appetite dull, with a weak, letchy feeling...perhaps nervous and worn out...why not make an effort to "snap out" of this condition? Try toning up your appetite...in raising your red-blood-cells...the best way to keep happy. You need a tonic—not just a social tonic...but a tonic that will tone up your body, specially designed to do this for you. In your case is exceptional you should improve your oxygen-carrying hemo-globin increase. At all drug stores in two convenient packages for only $1.00. The larger size is more economical. © U. S. S. Co.

In the Spring—take S.S.S.

CUT ME OUT

Spring Beauty BARGAIN

LET'S get acquainted. Here is our anniversary bargain. Each spring we make a drive for new customers. To give them this bargain introductory offer at less than factory cost! Fine toilettries since 1878. Tested, pure, proven. One trial makes a life-long friend. You can't afford to miss this! All six full size packages for only $1.00.

- FACE POWDER Equal to finest imported powder. Perfectly blended in exquisite shades. Regular full size $1.00 box in this offer.
- TUBE ROUGE New, smart, safe, safe! "It's different—a splendid improvement," says GLADYS WINTERS, stage star. Full size given.
- HAND LOTION "Your hand lotion is truly good. Dries quickly; no grease. Makes hands beautifully silky and white."—EVELYN WALKER. 4 oz. 50c size.
- CLEANSING CREAM All a good cream should be. Gets every bit of embedded dirt and dirt. Leaves skin soft, graceful. Big 4 oz. 75c jar.
- LORATONE All-Purpose Cream Nationally advertised; used by millions for 40 years. Skin foot-lesser, tender, wrinkle-remover. Regular 55c size included.
- BEAUTY SOAP Your skin needs a bland, mild soap to soften ravages of winter. Pure, long-lasting. Rarely perfumed. Extra size 55c bar.

ALL SIX FOR ONLY $1.00

ACT NOW This introductory Spring Bargain Offer expires in 3 weeks. Or, send in 3 coupons for a $1.00 money order. Guaranteed to be a every way. If your dealer can't supply you. Money back if not satisfied.

LORD & AMES, Inc. 360 N. Michigan Ave. CHICAGO, ILL. Gentlemen: I am enclosing $1.00 may send me the Lorey Spring Anniversary Bargain Offer. All six for $1.00.

NAME.....ADDRESS.....CITY.....STATE.....

OLD AGE PENSION INFORMATION JUDGE LEHMAN - Humboldt, Ky.

STOP the pain of HEMORRHOIDS DON'T STRAIN! Forcing only aggravates the condition. To ease pain and discomfort promptly. KEEP THE BOWELS OPEN—with GARFIELD TEA—a mild, pleasant-to-take laxative. Makes elimination easier, straining unnecessary. Also relieves the annoying sense of fullness experienced by sufferers of hemorrhoids even after elimination. Get GARFIELD TEA at your drug store.

FREE SAMPLE Write to: Garfield Tea Co., Brooklyn, N. Y.

GARFIELD TEA

Do you lack PEP? Are you all in, tired and run down? WINTERSMITH'S TONIC Will rid you of MALARIA send build you up. Used for 45 years for Chills, Fever, Malaria and A General Tonic 50c and $1.00 At All Druggists

Playtime Fashions for the Well-Dressed Tot

In the good old summertime, young fashion plates become sun-worshippers! And for the fastidious too to eight-year-olds, who wishes to devote all attention to bathing, bathing, and basking, rather than to sewans and buttons, here are the newest creations in playtime fashion.

Not following, but leading the vogue of the elders, the youngster these days who would be really in the swim, must have a two-piece bathing suit in the newest all-wool knit-weave, gay in white, red, or navy. Felt tabs attaching top piece to shorts add the jauntiest of fashion touches.

And what more fitting fashion for the fastidious sun-worshiper than a seersucker sun-suit as gayly striped as a stick of candy. Red, green, or blue striped suits—with fitted waistline and a catch-all pocket which is perfectly indispensable for precious stones gathered along the beach, will be worn this year wherever two to eight-year-olds are gathered for a quiet game of leap frog.—Carolyn T. Radnor Lewis in Child Life Magazine.

Where the Kick Comes In "Doc, what I need is something to stir me up—something to put me in first-class fighting trim. Have you got anything like that in this prescription?" "No. You'll find that in my bill."

NOTICE FROM THE TAX COLLECTOR'S OFFICE

A copy of a letter received from the Comptroller's office To The Tax Payer:

You will recall that from time to time since 1930, the Legislature has been suspending interest and penalties on Delinquent Taxes. Last May, the last measure of this kind was enacted which provided a 2% penalty on all ad valorem taxes delinquent on February 1, 1933, (later they included the split tax payments which became delinquent on July 1, 1933,) if paid by December 30, 1933, and 4% penalty, if paid by March 31, 1934; and 6% if paid by June 30, 1934. After this June 30, 1934, expiration date, the old law prescribing 10% penalties and 6% interest per year, will again be in force.

This means that on and after July 1, 1934 this year, the penalty and interest you will be required to charge will not be 6%, but will include 6% interest per annum from the date it was first delinquent, plus 10% penalty. For example:

- 30% will be added to 1930 Delinquent Taxes
- 24% will be added to 1931 Delinquent Taxes
- 18% will be added to 1932 Delinquent Taxes

(A delinquent cost will also accrue in addition to the above)

Yours very truly
Geo. H. Sheppard
Comptroller of Public Accounts

CUSTOM HATCHING

Baby Chicks. We buy Poultry and Cream.
Walker Hatchery & Produce.
Code Certificate No. 5711

For Sale—Cabbage, Tomato and Pepper plants. See Henry Auffill

HEDLEY GIRL HONORED

The following information was taken from The Prairie, a college paper published at Canyon:

The Y. W. C. A. held its annual election of officers the past week. Ruth Wells, an accomplished member of the College Sextet, was elected president of the association for next year. Miss Wells is from Hedley and a sophomore in W. T. S. T. C.

EPWORTH LEAGUE PROGRAM

With Healing on His Wings
Matt. 10:5-13
Victories Over Disease—Millard Golliday.
Disease Victorious—A. V. Hendricks
Position of the Church—Leila Smith Watt.
March of Methodism—Martha Mae Noel.
Leader—Jewel Everett.

HIGHWAY NEWS

The balance of the State's money to help pay for the right-of-way for the new route of Highway 5 has been received by Judge Lowe, he announced Saturday. The state is to pay half the cost of the right-of-way, the county paying the remaining half. The grading on the new road has already been completed from Clarendon to the Armstrong county line. This present payment will finish the right-of-way up to the Hall county line.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Montgomery and son were Memphis visitors Sunday.

DON'T SLEEP ON LEFT SIDE—AFFECTS HEART

If stomach GAS prevents sleeping on right side try Adlerika. One dose brings out poisons and relieves gas pressing on heart so you sleep soundly all night.
Wilson Drug Co.

TEACHERS ELECTED

According to a board member part of the Hedley High school faculty for next year have been elected. W. C. Payne has been elected Supt., and Lee Nowlin re-elected Principal. R. F. Newman was re-elected but resigned to accept a position as a math teacher in the Wellington High school. Mrs. Glass was re-elected Home Ec teacher providing this department is maintained next year.

It is not known yet who will be the ball coaches for next year. Hedley has had some unusually good teams this year, under the skillful coaching of Mr. Newman and Mr. Nowlin. The boys team won the district championship.

TO COTTON FARMERS

Just a word to cotton farmers: Your contracts will reach you in a few days to sign. Don't be disappointed because your contract is out, as we have had to take off 10,040,000 pounds and 1982 acres. Most everybody has been out, especially in lint.

Hall county's lint average per acre is 151 lbs., and Donley county's is 163. As most of us had to guess when turning in our estimate, of course the committee had to do the same, and I am sure many mistakes were made, but we did the best we could. I suggest that each community appoint a committee. Don't tear up your contract. Let's get all the cash we can. Even the committee cut their contracts. I cut mine to 155 lbs., quite a bit lower than my neighbors. Respectfully
J. G. McDougal
Member county committee

New dress materials at a saving price. B. & B. Variety

For Sale—Tomato Plants at the Nazarene Parsonage 27c

PASTIME THEATRE

Clarendon, Texas

Thurs Fri May 17 18
Bing Crosby, Carole Lombard, Burnes and Allen in
We're Not Dressing

It's a circus, something doing every minute. Don't bat an eye or wiggle an ear or you'll miss something. Singing, dancing and comedy to let. Also Fox News and comedy. 10:25c

Sat 19 h Rob Steel in Man From Hell's Edges

A real western, full of the wild and Woolly west stunts. Don't miss it. Also Cartoon comedy. Matinee 10 to all, night 10:15c

Our Midnite Show
Irene Dunn and Olive Brook in
If I Were Free

Just what would you do if you were free? See this picture for the answer. Also good comedy. 10:25c. 11:00 sharp

Mon and Tues 21 22. Laney Ross, the new star, Charles Ruggles, Mary Boland and Ann Southern, in

Melody in Spring

Introducing Laney Ross, second only to Bing Crosby as the best singer of popular songs. Love is in the air, spring is here and love is new again. New on the lips of young lovers, living the romantic songs you have heard him sing so thrillingly. Also Fox News and Comedy 10:25c

Wed 28 (one night only) Tim McCoy and Sue Carroll in Straightaway

Here is another one of those action pictures. This time it is an auto race. He won two races, one with death, and one with love. Also good comedy 10:15c

Thurs Fri 24 25 Lionel Barrymore, May Robson, Joel McCrea and Francis Dee in

One Man's Journey

When trouble or sickness came, they prayed and called Dr. Watt. Barrymore has waited all these years for the genius that could make it live. An unusually good story. Also Paramount News and Comedy 10:25c

SPECIAL

Bring your quilts in to wash. 5 for $1.00 or 10 for $1.75. 50c per hour when you run them through.

Helps Self Laundry.
A. R. Marshall Phone 62

ATTENTION

All the people of Hedley are urged to come out and help work the cemetery on Decoration Day, May 30. Bring a basket lunch to be eaten at noon at the Dickson place.

Every Day Specials

MEAL, 20 LB.	39c
Sugar, 25 lb.	$1.23
Coffee, Bright & Early, 3 lb.	63c
Syrup, Steamboat, gal.	57c
Oatmeal, Crystal Wedding	21c
Mustard, qt.	15c
Peanut Butter, qt.	27c
Prunes, Plums & Blackberries, gallon cans, 3 for	$1.00

VEGETABLES

Green Beans, lb.	5c
Tomatoes, 3 lb.	25c
Spinach, lb.	5c
All Other Bunch Vegetables, 3 for	10c
Strawberries, 2 quarts	25c
Bananas, large fruit, doz.	19c

Mr. Farmer—Make your feed last longer by having it ground. We are prepared to do your Custom Grinding at the regular price.
Try Us With Your Next Grinding

EADS & CO.
WE DELIVER THE GOODS
PHONE 23

ATTENTION

A big dinner was enjoyed on Mother's day at the O. R. Cui well home, there being 23 relatives present among whom were Clyde Adams and family and Ira J. Foster and family of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Hawkins of Memphis, and Mrs. Joyce Armstrong and daughter, of Clarendon.

Miss Nell Grant left last week for her home at Memphis after a very pleasant year spent in Hedley. She presented her expression pupils in a recital at the High school auditorium last Thursday evening. Each number of the program was presented in a very commendable manner.

L. E. Maresca and family of Q. anah visited the W. G. Brinson family Monday.

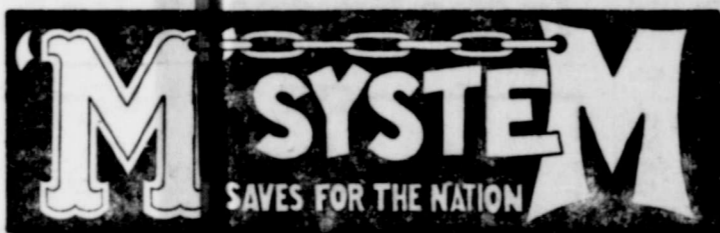

Graduation cards and gifts at the B. & B. Variety Store.

The Epworth League girls are selling pies this week. Leave your order with Jewel Everett or Verda Gilliam. We will sell pies at Barnes and Hastings store Saturday. Come and get a good pie for your Sunday dinner.

All members of the American Legion Auxiliary are urged to be present at a meeting at the Legion hall Saturday May 19 at 2 o'clock.

Chickens - - Turkeys

Don't wait and have Diseased Fowls from Worms—and Losses from Blood-Sucking Lice, Mites, Fleas and Blue Bugs this Spring. Begin now to give STAR PARASITE REMOVER in their drinking water, for both Fowls and Baby Chicks. It will keep them free of these destructive Parasites, their system toned up, their health and Egg production good at a very small cost—or money refunded, Wilson Drug Co. 17-12c

Specials Friday and Saturday

BANANAS, doz. 19c

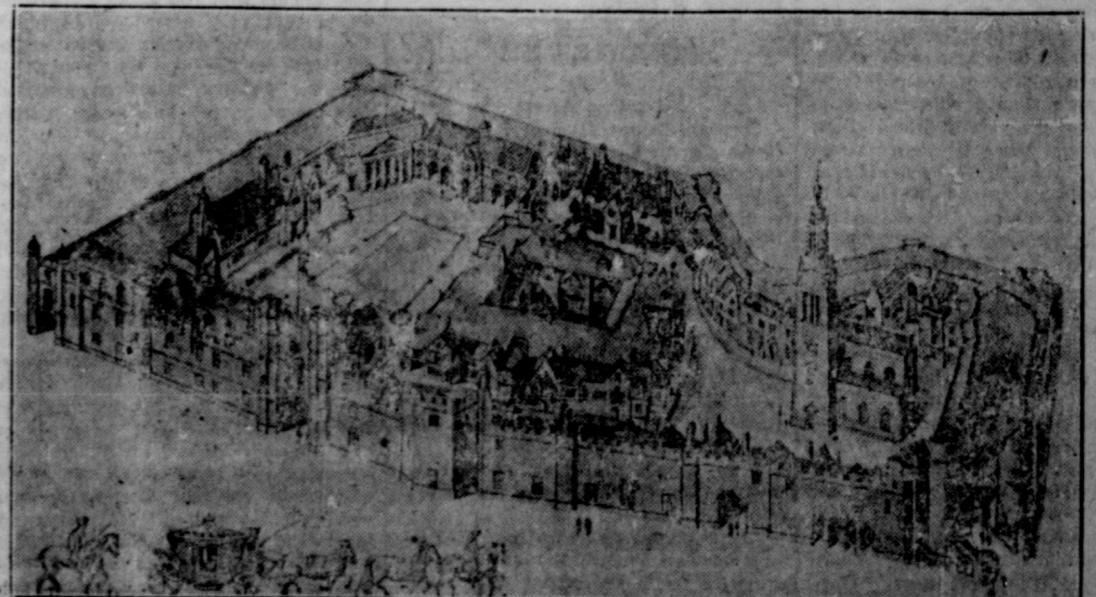

Turnip Greens, 3 bunches	0c	Spinach, lb.	5c
Mustard Greens, 3 for	0c	New Spuds, lb.	3c
Radishes, fresh, 3 for	0c	Beans, fresh, 2 lb.	15c
Onions & Carrots, 3 for	0c	Onions, Bermudas, lb.	4c
Poke Salad, 3 for	0c	Tomatoes, fresh, lb.	10c

FLOUR, YUKON STAR & CRESCENT $1.59

Spuds, No. 1, 15 lb. peck	9c	Coffee, Blossom, 3 lb.	67c
Jello, pkg.	5c	Steak, cho'ce cuts, lb.	14c
Lemons, doz.	33c	Cheese, Longhorn, lb.	17c
Lighthouse Cleanser, can	5c	Weiners & Bologna, 2 lb.	25c
Lard, 8 lb. carton	7c	Beef Roast, nice, fat, 3 lb.	25c

MEAL, Yukon, 20 lb. 43c

Merrie England Lives Again in New Fair

Merrie England of the sixteenth century will come to life on the "Street of Foreign Villages," a new feature of the new Chicago World's Fair which opens May 28. Many buildings famous in poetry and prose will be reproduced in this and the fourteen other foreign villages now under construction.

Visitors to the new Fair may accomplish a world tour by strolling through these charming and authentic reproductions of old Europe. There will be 64 miles of free exhibits, all new and startling. Music, dancing and fireworks will be daily features in addition to exhibits of new scientific developments.

All cost will be kept very low. The average visitor last summer spent only $1.17 per day. Inside the grounds, weekend trips offer inexpensive and enjoyable excursions for people living within a few hundred miles of Chicago to be made by train or auto.