BAPTIST REVIVAL

The revival at the First Baptist Church closed Sunday night after a very successful meeting. Eleven were received into the church in the baptismal service Sunday night, with one awaiting baptism. Rev. Joe Wilson of Miami preached for the revival, and Bro. Joe Strickland of Seminary Hill conducted the song services. Both men brought some wonderful gospel messages in sermon and in song. The church was strengthened by the meeting, and hopes to again have the privilege of hearing these worthy men at some future date.

FAMILY REUNION

On Sunday, Sept. 2, the descendants of Robert D. Jones and Martha Jones, who came to Texas in 1855, held a reunion at Lake Dallas, which resulted in a permanent organization to be known as "The Jones Reunion Club." Annual meetings will be held on Sunday before Labor Day at Lake Dallas. R. H. Jones of Hedley, only survivor of the eleven children of R. D. and Martha Jones, was elected president and made honor guest. At the lunch hour, a specially decorated cake, naming the occasion and date, was presented to the honor guest. 120 were present at the reunion, ranging in age from 6 months to 77 years.

DISTRIBUTION OF BIBLES BEGUN BY GIDEONS IN 1899

Just as the "Gay Nineties" were closing, a small group of "drummers," as they called traveling men in those days, gathered at the Superior hotel, Iron Mountain, Mich., to dedicate 225 Bibles and place them in the rooms.

That was the start of the work of the Gideons—the Christian Commercial Men's association—who have placed more than 1,250,000 Bibles in hotels and hospitals and jails and other institutions in the intervening years.

The idea started in September, 1897, when John H. Nicholson, of Janesville, Wis., arrived at the little town of Bosceval, Wis., late in the evening and found the hotel crowded. S. H. Hill, of Beloit, Wis., another drummer, offered to share his room with him.

Out of their conversation developed the idea that a Bible placed on the table of each hotel room might help other men to spend their evenings profitably.

When they met again the following May at Beaver Dam, they continued their discussion and decided to call a meeting and present their idea to all the traveling men of their acquaintance.

The meeting was held July 1, 1899, in the Y. M. C. A. at Janesville. W. J. Knights, who lived there, was the only other drummer at the first convention. But they decided to go ahead, and elected Hill president, Knights vice president, and Nicholson secretary-treasurer.

During their meeting they read the chapters of Judges, which relate the story of the Israelite leader, Gideon, and when they came to name their new association, "The Gideons" was chosen.

In their first year the Gideons placed 27,000 Bibles in hotel rooms. The next year they placed 73,000. The largest order ever placed by the association was for 25,000 Bibles for distribution in San Francisco.

The association now has a membership in the United States and Canada of about 2,500. Membership is limited to business men who are professed Christians in good standing in some church or religious society. There also are a number of associate members and a woman's auxiliary.—Detroit News.

In High Gear When President Travels

Secret Service Must Anticipate Every Danger.

Washington.—In the face of world violence, secret service men are taking no chances in protecting the President from cranks and fanatics. Their authority is greater than that of admirals, generals and contributors to campaign funds, according to Herbert Corey and George Holmes, two Washington political writers, who describe, in the Cosmopolitan, each step these officers take to safeguard the President.

When the President is in the White House, they explain, the secret service system works so smoothly it is automatic; when he leaves the White House, the men go into high gear; and when he leaves Washington on a long trip, an advance campaign that anticipates every possible danger is mapped out by Dick Jervis, chief of the White House detail.

Take Every Precaution.

"When Jervis gets the news that a Presidential tour is in contemplation," they state, "he calls in Col. Ed Starling, a rawboned Kentuckian, handy with a gun. Starling is given a schedule of the route with the stops and times tentatively defined. He then gets in touch with the police chief in each city and tells him when and where the President will be, and arrangements are made.

"Sometimes two hundred or three hundred policemen are needed at the station. Perhaps more. A lane is policed from the door of the private car to the automobile waiting with its engine running. Every man in every one of the cars that are to follow has been inspected and passed by Starling before he gets his green ticket. Plain clothes men are scattered through the waiting crowd. A man who mutters to himself, or is unpleasantly excited or seems to have a large lump in his coat pocket is investigated. Nothing is permitted to get into the gears of the machine. When the train has backed slowly into the station, the crowd has been as neatly packed as though the scene were on a Hollywood lot. The only movement possible is of the facial muscles.

"Some one catches a glimpse of a well known figure. . . . Starling has his men so banked that several thousand tons of human flesh are held back during the moments occupied by the inevitable hand shaking and beaming. The President walks towards his car through a corridor of blue clothes and shouting men. Secret service men are in front of him and behind him and at each side, ready to provide effective interference if necessary.

Police Help Out.

"Along the line of march policemen have been stationed by the hundreds. If necessary, reinforcements have been called in from other cities. Secret service men dog trot by the side of the Presidential car and behind it, their eyes fastened on the men and women packed solidly against the curb.

"The President is always in the first car of the line, just as he is always in the last car of the train. Dick Jervis sits at the right hand of the driver. If the Vice President is a member of the party, he follows in the second car. Otherwise the second car is always that of the secret service. Cars are never permitted to stop. If one enthusiast broke through the line to shake hands with the President, he might be followed by ten thousand.

"At the hotel a special entrance has been arranged, which is guarded by other police and plainclothes men.

"In case of doubt," the writers conclude, "the rule is to act first and investigate afterwards."

York, Neb.—A freak watch with two complete movements and individual dials has come into the possession of E. Kahn, jeweler and watch repair man of this city. The watch, believed to be nearly one hundred and fifty years old, was made by hand and bears the name of the maker.

Kahn came into possession of the watch when he purchased a collection of old timepieces. The watch he says, keeps perfect time.

"Who's to Blame?"

By LEONARD A. BARRETT

There is a good deal of self-pity in the world which plays havoc with the psychic centers. Self-pity destroys initiative, self-control and ambition. The false notion, entertained by some persons, that the world owes them a living, is both dangerous and pernicious. Some of our college graduates have the idea that a job should be furnished them as one of their inalienable rights.

They forget that a person, regardless of his culture, is not entitled to a reward beyond his capacity to earn it.

We are emerging from the worst depression in the history of our country. Many who were not able to weather the storm sought refuge in self-pity, which in some cases led to self-destruction. Self-pity always seeks to place the blame on some other person or condition, and not upon one's own

Challenger

T. O. M. Sopwith's yacht Endeavor which has come across the Atlantic from England to try to capture the America's cup, which will be defended by an American boat not yet selected. Endeavor is manned by an amateur crew, the professional crew having quit because of a wage dispute.

When a person builds a house he should remember that storms blow hard and fire destroys. If he be a wise builder he will take precautions and have lightning rods placed on the roof of his house and will seek protection against fire and storms through adequate insurance. If he does this he will be secured against the ravages of the elements, if he falls so to do, whose fault is it if the elements play havoc with his building? He certainly cannot justly place the blame upon anybody but himself.

A storm in the economic world struck hard upon the financial structures many persons set up. Proper protection in some cases speeded recovery; where this protection was absent the inevitable was the result. No house built upon sand can withstand the havoc of storms.

While self-pity dominates the minds of some persons, the contrary attitude is discovered in other experiences. A man who suffered a very heavy loss financially, remarked that perhaps it was worth it, because he discovered the value of his own health, and who his friends were. That man had something left to build on. When the finer resources of the mind and soul are burned out by worry and self-pity, nothing remains upon which another structure can be built. The only enduring substance upon which any permanent recovery is possible lies within.

The Household

An Antique Coat-of-Arms Tapestry Over a Quaint Oaken Chest in a Hall.

TAPESTRIES are unexcelled for fascinating wall decorations. They vie with rare paintings which alone are their peers. In fact some of the finest painters made designs for tapestries. Leonardo da Vinci, Raphael, Michel Angelo, among the very early artists and Rubens, Van Dyke and Durer also made the drawings, or cartoons as they are called, for famous tapestries.

Tapestries are considered woven textiles but the weaving is a distinct and different type from regular weaving, even hand weaving as it is known today. It is, of course, woven by hand, but the colors are either introduced on tiny separate bobbins or by means of a sort of threaded needle passed over, under and about warp threads. Whichever way the colors are introduced by hand, they are woven into the gorgeous pictorial patterns in the same way.

An Embroidered Tapestry. It is interesting to note that one of the most famous of all tapestries is not actually a tapestry in the strictest sense, but is an embroidered picture. It was Queen Mathilda of England who told the story of her famous husband William the Conqueror's exploits not with her pen but with her needle. There are people, ships, animals, trees, earth, and sea, all wrought in colors which today are a feast to the eye just to look upon. The foundation is fine linen unornamented except in the embroidered portions, which tell the story which is real history. Unlike other tapestries which are of large proportions the linen of the Bayeux tapestry is only some 24 inches wide. While its width is slight, its length makes up for it, being 237 feet. The background is a wonderful bit of weaving. The embroidery is the most stupendous undertaking of all ages, and shows marvellously against the unworked foundation.

It is this embroidered tapestry which lends sanction to the thought of modern tapestry embroideries. These can be of rare beauty provided the worker has the ingenuity to conceive of handsome pictorial effects worthy of careful embroidery, and then uses embroidery materials of artistic tones and exquisite color harmonies. Today the term tapestries is not so inclusive, but signifies the hand woven pictorial textiles, some of which are modern in the same way as are the famous antique ones.

Wall Hangings. Wall hangings and embroidered wall pictures are names given to the scenic needleworked textiles at the present time. Of these there are beautiful examples in modern work. The background remains minus stitchery, the design alone being embroidered. Women who want wall hangings can have them at small cost by working them themselves. The pictures and the colors and the embroidery must all be excellent for them to be worthy their purpose.

Rich Fabric's the Thing for Fall

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

ADVANCE fall fashions cause one to think in terms of handsome materials, for it is fine fabrics, we're telling you, which will be making fine costumes this season.

The scheme of things for the new style program runs about like this—a strikingly simple silhouette, with emphasis on the elegance and unusualness of the material which fashions it, relying on breathtaking neckwear sets, buttons, buckles and countless other unique gadgets to dramatize the whole.

The big buttons which adorn the newly arrived frocks and wraps so spectacularly are of eye-filling proportions, some of them being simply enormous. It is such bizarre details as these huge buttons which add unlimited swank and distinction to the otherwise modestly styled fall modes.

It does not take long after catching a glimpse of the midseason and early fall styles to realize how strong buttons are going, in the new showings. For example, consider the very good-looking town and country dress to the left in the picture. Buttons all over it! The shirtwaist dress of which this model is a striking exponent, that is styled like a coat with buttons from neckline to hemline down the front and on the pockets, likewise the cuffs, is regarded as one of the most important numbers on the fall fashion program.

It is self-evident that this spectacular use of big buttons does a lot to distinguish this dress, but when it comes to keying enthusiasm to even a higher note, it is the intriguing material which fashions this dress which does just that. This fabric is an entirely new beumberg and wool weave in a radiant brown which is enlivened with a delicate interweaving of glossy yellow-and-gold threads. For daytime and sports you are going to find this beumberg and wool weave the very sort you are looking for.

That big news in regard to the ensemble pictured to the right is its color. The smart checked woolen of which it is made is in tones of green, and green this autumn is scheduled to make a front-stage play. That the dress which is topped with a stunning matched coat, like its companion in the illustration, should show a shirtwaist tendency is not a mere happenstance but rather a natural sequence of events for the shirtwaist idea which prevailed so conspicuously all summer is carrying over into fall with a high and mighty gesture. A brown fabric bag and brown felt slouch hat, go well with this two-tone green check.

There is nothing smarter for immediate wear than a shirtwaist dress of some one or other of the newer lightweight woolens. If the material reflects the glint and gleam of gold and silver, so much the better, for it is the metal-shot fabrics which are getting most of the notice for fall and winter. One way of interpreting the metal note is to see to it that your scarf or your neckpiece and other decorative accessories be fashioned of a metal-touched weave.

We would like to tell you in conclusion that there is a new canton crape in the market. It works up very happily into practical street costumes.

COLORFUL VELVET

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

The new velvets are conveying a message of color as gay and exotic as ever a rainbow reflected. As the season progresses your eye will be gladdened with such glorified hues as fuchsia, nasturtium, lime green and the new inkberry which is a rich plum tone. Feminine and flattering in color and styling is the wrap of powder blue transparent velvet here pictured. The scarf collar ties in a knot and the elbow sleeves are voluminously full.

Pleated Skirts Popular for All Ages for Fall

Pleated skirts will be important in early fall fashions, according to a stylist, who returned recently from Paris. This also speaks with enthusiasm of velvet bows that are used to trim both daytime and evening dresses, explaining that bows in different colors are substituted to give a change in appearance to the frock.

Picture Hats

The first velvet picture hats have made their appearance at Chantilly, France. Some of them have crowns of sheer tulle or lace.

Cool Shoes

White buckskin shoes with diamond perforations are chic and cool for summer wear.

TRIMMINGS FEATURE FALL SHOE STYLES

There are frills and thrills for the feet—if seeing is believing.

Afternoon dresses of all marvelously colored prints are all marveled with frills and ruchings, large and small. Some are of the frock itself, while others stand out in crisp white contrast around both the neckline and the cuffs.

And the new shoes are not to be outdone. They, too, repeat this ruffled theme. The just-out blue and brown kidskin shoes have little butterfly bows, odd trimmings lined with white and knotted coils of stitched and pleated kidskin tabs.

Leather flowers are doing their smart duty several places, too—on plain kidskin pumps, either at the side or in front, and trimming leather and fabric purses, belts, hats and the gauntlet cuffs of gloves.

Some leather bracelets and clips are trimmed with metal and some are even set with stones while others are content to ornament themselves with knots of leather or bits of bead, glass, or straw.

Black Hose to Return to Fashion for Autumn Wear

The latest cry of the fashion prophets is black stockings; not gun-metal ones or bluish-black ones, but plain, ordinary, old-fashioned black stockings.

It's a wild gamble, betting on black stockings, when one remembers how often and how uselessly the very same fashion prophets have heralded the return of curves and long hair.

Black stockings have at least one worthwhile virtue. They make plump ankles and fat legs look slimmer. But it must be admitted they have a strong tendency to make skinny legs look like soda straws.

PATTERN 1625

It seems as though life were demanding more and more of women. It used to be that if a woman looked neat and fresh about the house, it was all that anyone could ask of her—but that is not so today. She has to be smart and pretty every moment of her life. After all, though—to be quite fair—why shouldn't she, when a pattern like this costs so little—can be run up in next to no time—and the counters of the cotton goods departments are piled high with ravishing fabrics crying to be taken home for a song? Pattern 1625 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 requires 3½ yards 36-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included. Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE. Address all orders to Sewing Circle Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth street, New York City.

A B C

"If you were a diplomat abroad would you learn the language of the country to which you were assigned?"

"No," answered Senator Sorghum. "There is a danger in trying to be a linguist. It's liable to tempt a man to spend the best years of his life learning his Abe's over and over again."—Washington Star.

Those Amateur Glaziers

Smith assured his wife he could repair the broken window. He took the measurements and went to buy the glass.

"Quite a simple job," the shopkeeper told him. "You simply pull out the old glass, fit in the new, fill in the putty, and there you are."

In a short time Smith returned to the shop.

"Same size again, I suppose?" was the shopkeeper's greeting.

Quite a Difference

Mother (lecturing Billy after the company had gone)—Don't you know the difference between "sufficient" and "enough"?

"Sure, mother," answered the boy. "Sufficient" is when a fellow's mother thinks it's time for him to stop eating dessert. "Enough" is when he thinks it is."

Motto, A little child shall lead Meeting days, 1st and 3rd Thursdays
Objectives, Welfare of the children
We urge that the public our meetings regardless of whether they are a paying member or not. Come and be one of us and help to make our school a better one. We need you
For the past three years we have had to strain every nerve to keep the depression from demolishing the schools. We must not forget, however, that we are the bridge between home and school, and we must not forget that no bridge can stand if the support at either end is weakened.
Therefore, without the least relaxing our vigilance in regard to the school end of the bridge, we again ask you to come and help us to hold up the home end of the bridge.
