COTTON GINNED

Up to Wednesday noon, the three Hedley gins and the Mc Knight gin had ginned a total of 2785 bales of cotton

There were 5782 bales of cotton ginned in Donley Co. prior to Nov 14 1934, as compared with 15,601 bales ginned to Nov. 1, 1933, according to information received from Tom A. Ballew, collector of cotton statistics for the Dept. of Commerce, Bureau of the Census

HEDLEY P. T. A.

Met Thursday, Dec 6. A program on responsibility of the home to the community was rendered. Leader, Mrs. Z. T. Beaty, opened with the Lord's Prayer. Mother singers Mesdames Wells, Moffitt, Hooker and Simmons sang, Sweet and Low and In the Gloaming. Miss Mary L. Hawkins gave a talk on teaching the child consideration for other members of the family and effect of the teaching on leadership.

Mrs. Webb read a paper on child friendship. The meeting was turned back to the president, Mrs. Bridges, and a short business session was held.

The treasurer, Mrs. Beaty, reported $6.00 cleared from the Ex banquet. A count was taken on the mothers, and teachers of the different grades. The second, third, sixth, eighth and eleventh tied. Numbers were fixed and the one drawing number 5 won the $1.00. The third grade was the lucky one. Mrs. Wells dismissed with prayer.

The program for Dec 20, will be a Christmas program by the grades, a benefit program for P. T. A. Admission 10 15c. Publicity Chairman.

Miss Verdun Johnson, who formerly made her home with the Dr. Walker family, writes that she would like very much to get the Hedley Informer. So the paper will find its way each week to her Oklahoma City address, the Christmas gift of Dr. and Mrs. Walker.

MRS. EDNA GATES DIES

Death has again invaded our town, this time calling the aged Mrs. Edna Gates, who lived with her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Carwile. Mrs. Gates was born in Monroe, La. March 9, 1865, and died Dec 6 being in her 69th year.

The deceased moved from her native state to Texas when she was 14 where she had since made her home. The past eight months she lived in Hedley. At an early age she was converted and joined the Baptist Church, and has lived a consistent and devoted Christian life. When she was 20 years old she was married to J. W. Jordan, and later to R. T. Gates.

Four daughters survive as follows: Mrs. T. Von Heuverswyn of Natalia, Texas; Mrs. Mason Crow, Brawley, Cal.; Mrs. Laura Edwards, Woodland, Texas, and Mrs. J. E. Carwile of Hedley. All were at her bedside when she died. The bereaved have the sympathy of the entire community.

ABILENE VOTERS GIVE WEST TEXAS UTILITIES HEARTY ENDORSEMENT

In no uncertain terms the voters of Abilene, on Saturday, Nov. 24, gave their approval and vote of confidence to the West Texas Utilities Company in a special election to determine the attitude of the citizens toward (1) the building of a municipal plant, (2) the granting of another franchise to an individual, and (3) the attitude of the people toward their present electric rates for service furnished by the West Texas Utilities Company. The question of municipal ownership was defeated by a majority of over 8 to 1 with 1269 voting against a municipal oil engine plant and only 397 voting for same. The vote on the granting of another franchise to an individual, O. D. Dillingham, who proposed to lower rates was defeated 4 to 1. On the third question, the citizens voted they were satisfied with present rates by a majority of 24 to 1.

The vote clearly indicated the public sentiment in Abilene and gave a splendid endorsement to the West Texas Utilities Company's policies.

A NEW ATTITUDE TOWARD FOOD RATIONS

The depression we are now in is nothing new in the world's history. We have had many depressions before. But there is something new in the way we are apportioning food to the needy. In former times it was a bare subsistence ration. In this age, however, most relief organizations ask: What must a family be given to maintain health? The maintenance of health and the maintenance of a bare subsistence ration are two entirely different things.

Particularly are health officials concerned with the maintenance of health among growing children. The children of today are the rulers of tomorrow. For the past twenty years the United States has had the healthiest young people in the world. This is because we did not have to make the dietetic sacrifices the leading European countries did during the war and post-war periods.

Our young people had food enough and the right kind of food. It is up to us now to see that the standards of nutrition are not lowered to the danger point.

Especially should relief organizations remember that milk is the most important food a child can have, for "milk builds bone and muscle better than any other food." One quart a day per child is the ideal ration, and never less than three-fourths quart per child.

If the expenditure is fairly ample, then, according to Dr. Henry Sherman, nutrition expert of Columbia university, who quotes Lucy H. Gillett of the American Child Health association, the food money should be divided into fifths:

One-fifth, or more, for milk and cheese.

One-fifth, more or less, for vegetables and fruits.

One-fifth, or more, for bread and cereals.

One-fifth, or less, for meats, fish and eggs.

One-fifth or less, for fats, sugar and other groceries.

But if the amount of food money has to be drastically curtailed, then the money should be divided into thirds:

One-third for milk and cheese.

One-third for vegetables and fruits.

One-third for bread and cereals.

"Let retrenchment of expenditures," says Doctor Sherman, "take the form, first, of foregoing the purchase of foods of other groups, and, next, of selecting the cheaper or cheapest forms or articles within each of three groups just mentioned as essential. From certain standpoints two forms of milk may seem worlds apart; but any kind of milk is nutritionally more like any other kind of milk than is any other food. A crisp green vegetable or a juicy fruit may seem much preferable to a potato; but with expenditure forced to a sufficiently low level, the cheapest vegetable to be had can carry the nutritional responsibility for the whole group of fruits and vegetables during an emergency period."

Let us hope that each community has some philanthropist who will donate, through the winter months, a teaspoon of cod liver oil to each needy child under two years of age, as a preventive against rickets.

A point that is not sufficiently stressed, I believe, in low cost rations, is that cheap foods can be made palatable and interesting. At home demonstration fairs, instead of prizes being given to the cook who can produce the best bean or pea or potato soup, using only cheap materials. For instance a bit of bay leaf and rutabaga added to pea soup gives it distinction. Onions are cheap and give good seasoning. A writer commentator, discussing present living conditions in Europe, stated that the Germans lived better on the same food expenditure than the English did, because the German women made their food taste good.

A food that should be used much more frequently is whole wheat grains. Whole wheat offers one of our cheapest, best balanced foods.

Slow boiling over a low fire for six hours will cook wheat grains. The cooked cereal contains starch, which is fuel; protein, a tissue builder; some fats and vitamins. The fats and vitamins are in the germ of the grain. Wheat swells to four times its volume after boiling. When you boil the wheat, add to it eight times as much water, and never pour off excess liquid; boil it into the grains. Add salt of course. Wheat cooked this way has a nutty flavor; it is most tasty of all the cereals, and one does not tire of it.

One pound of wheat grains contains 1,000 calories. Each cup of cooked wheat contains 200 calories or body energy producing units, in addition to a well-balanced starch, protein, salt and vitamin content. Whole milk, cream, or condensed milk and sugar can be added for goodness and to increase the food value.

A person could live on whole wheat and milk for a long time, with the addition of onions, potatoes and tomatoes to combat scurvy. Children would need cod liver oil to prevent rickets.

Her View of It

He—Would you marry for money? She—Well, a husband with no money to me would be like a garage with no car in it.

Two-Piece Frock in Smart Design

PATTERN 2030

In this two-piece frock youth is delightfully served. Make it of one of the new fabric prints which look like wool, or of a smart sheer woolen. It suggests a suit in its trim lines and neat tailored finish. The yoke extends down the front to the edge of the jacket in a vest effect from under which a belt partly encircles the waistline. The bow at the neck is extremely attractive in velvet. Think of it in rust color with the frock in two shades of green. With the diagrammed sewing chart which accompanies the pattern, even a young girl can easily make the frock.

Pattern 2030 is available in sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 12 takes

2 1/2 yards 54-inch fabric, and 1 1/2 yards 4-inch ribbon.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

Address orders to Sewing Circle, Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth street, New York City.

Bug Railroad President—Well, I declare, there's a block system all ready for our new road.

Encouragement

At an English theater they were playing "The Forty Thieves," and as the company numbered only eight, the entry of the robbers into the cave was achieved by their passing out at the back of the stage and entering again at the front.

Unfortunately one of the robbers walked with a limp, and when he had entered five times a voice from the gallery cried: "Stick it, Hoppy; last lap!"

Hard Luck's Limit

They were discussing their bad luck.

BANKHEAD ACT

If the Bankhead Act is to continue in operation in the next crop year the Secretary of Agriculture must first find that two thirds of the persons who have the legal or equitable right as owner, tenant, share cropper, or otherwise to produce cotton on any cotton farm, or part thereof, in the United States for such crop year favor a levy of a tax on the ginning of cotton in excess of an allotment made to meet the probable market requirements.

Cotton farmers are being asked to express their opinion as to whether the Bankhead Cotton Control Act should be made effective for the 1935-36 crop year. In submitting this question, it is the desire of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration that cotton producers shall have possession of all available facts to guide them in reaching a decision. The choice is theirs and the Adjustment Administration is in no sense seeking to impose its views upon farmers to influence their decision.

Cotton farmers must decide whether, in their opinion, the adjustment of cotton production under the voluntary contracts is sufficient to meet the requirements of the present emergency. Will the efforts of a small minority of noncooperators, the tendency toward more intensive cultivation, and the possibility of new lands coming into cotton production combine to increase total production above the point which seems desirable? That, it appears, is the central question involved in a decision on continuing the Bankhead Act for next year. Or, stated in another way: Do cotton producers want the mechanism afforded in the Bankhead Act as a supplementary control to the current efforts under the Agricultural Adjustment Act?

Cotton farmers have had one season's experience with the type of control embodied in the Bankhead Act. Numerous difficulties, obviously, have been encountered. It is reasonable to expect that, with more latitude in the act for the coming year, many of these difficulties can be avoided. But it is for the cotton farmer to choose.

It is my hope that cotton producers will examine carefully all the facts and reach a decision based upon considered judgment as to whether the Bankhead Act is needed to assure the attainment of the objectives of the cotton adjustment program.
