EARL EDWIN FOWLKES

Edwin Earl Fowlkes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fowlkes, passed away Wednesday morning at the family home near Lelia Lake. Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church in Clarendon, conducted by Rev. E. D. Landreth, Methodist pastor there. Interment was made in the Clarendon cemetery. He was born June 11, 1888, being nearly 48 years of age.

Besides his parents, he is survived by two brothers, Jackie and Melvin, and his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jacobs and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Fowlkes, of the Chamberlain community.

The Informer joins their friends in extending sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Mother's Day Programs

Mother's Day programs will be given at the Methodist and Baptist Churches Sunday morning. The public is invited.

HEDLEY SINGERS

The Hedley singing class meets next Sunday at 2:30. We had a good singing last meeting with several visitors, and expect them again this time.

We now have plenty of the new books as well as the old ones. Everyone be sure and come whether you sing or not. Let's make this the best one yet.

Stephenville, Texas, May 4—J. S. Mitchell, Hedley, student in John Tarleton College, is listed on the honor roll for the second six week preliminary period of the second semester. It was announced by Charlie S. Wilkins, registrar.

His friends here are very sorry to learn of the serious illness of Roy Ellis, who was suddenly stricken Tuesday morning while at work. He was taken to an Amarillo hospital Tuesday night. We are glad to learn that he is much improved today (Thursday) and that his chances for recovery are good.

NOTICE

There will be a candidate speaking at McKnight Tuesday May 12, at 8 p. m. All candidates are invited as well as the public. Ice cream, soda pop and cigars will be sold by school children.

BRIDE HONORED

On Tuesday afternoon Mesdames M. E. Wells and W. C. Bridges entertained in honor of Mrs. Erroll Flathers at the Wells home. Spring flowers were used as decorations. Mrs. Harrison Hall poured punch from a crystal bowl on a lace covered table with candles on it.

Miss Pauline Caldwell rendered piano music.

Miss Theresa Webb gave two readings.

Mrs. Simmons sang, "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. Burden whistled several numbers with Mrs. Glass at the piano.

Mrs. Wells, in her pleasing manner, told a true fairy story about the girl who always wanted the pot of gold at the rainbow's end. She asked Mrs. Flathers to look at the rainbow's end. There she found large "pots of gold," to her surprise, containing useful gifts, together with best wishes for a happy wedded life.

Meeting Closed At Gem

The people of the Gem Community wish to take this means of expressing their appreciation of the fine work of Rev. Wells in a meeting at Gem Baptist Church that closed Sunday night here. Bro. Wells came as a volunteer with no remuneration what ever and did a wonderful work. Such a spirit of fellowship and consecration has not been seen here in years. Bro. Wells is truly a sincere, consecrated gospel preacher and we are trusting that the good work begun in this meeting may reach to "the uttermost parts of the earth."

May we publicly express our appreciation to the good people of Hedley Baptist Church for making it possible for us to have the services of their pastor, Gem Baptist Church.

Miss Dewey Gibson, reporter.

E. H. Walker discovered a "believe it or not" in his hatchery last week, in the shape of a four legged baby chick. The chick appeared normal, except for an extra pair of legs just in front of the usual ones. The chick lived only about four days.

Very Distant

It was a birthday party given by a wealthy young farmer, and one of the guests noticed a somewhat lonely looking and shabbily attired man in a corner of the room, and walked over to him.

"I was introduced to you," he said, "but I didn't catch your name."
"My name," replied the other, "is Burton."
"Oh, then you are a relative of our host?"
"Yes," was the reply. "I'm his cousin twenty thousand pounds removed."

Who'd Be a Teacher?

Teacher was instructing the infant class in the story of Lot's flight, and said: "Lot was warned to take his wife and flee out of the city, which was about to be destroyed. Lot and his wife got safely away. Now, children, have you any questions to ask?" At last a little boy ventured to inquire: "Please, teacher, what happened to the flea?"

STAR DUST

Movie • Radio

By VIRGINIA VALE

EVERYONE who sees Harriet Hilliard in "Follow the Fleet" or hears her sing on the radio with Ozzie Nelson's band ought to meet her as well; she's decidedly worth meeting. To begin with, she is much prettier in real life than in pictures. And to see her as the demure music teacher who, as Ginger Rogers' sister, falls in love with Randolph Scott, gives you no idea whatever of what sort of girl she is. She is magnetic, delightful, charming. And she is one of the few girls who have had a career thrust upon them.

She never did want to go on the stage, but she had to earn her living. And when she was very young her mother pointed out to her the fact that it's better to train for a profession that pays well than for one that never will bring in much money. "Better a dancer at one hundred a week than a stenographer at fifteen," said Mama, or words to that effect. So Harriet became a dancer. She appeared at one of Broadway's big movie houses, and on the road in musical shows. And she worked so hard that, at nineteen, she had to stop.

"If you want to get ahead in Hollywood nowadays, it's better not to be too good looking," remarked a fan magazine editor the other day. She has been meeting movie stars for some fifteen years now, and knows what she is talking about. "Hepburn isn't beautiful," said she. "Neither is Doris Dudley, RKO's newest discovery. But they both have talent. Hollywood is too full of beauties who've been signed up for a few months, and more beauties who came out here hoping for the best, and finished as waitresses."

Katherine Hepburn

Will Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America (what a title!) has decided that one week in May will be Memorial week for Will Rogers; during that week the Will Rogers Memorial at Saranac Lake will be dedicated. But Will Rogers did so many things that will make people remember him that he needs no other memorial. For example, he put his old friend, Fred Stone, into pictures; Fred is now established as a screen star, thanks to his work in "Alice Adams" almost a year ago. He also put another old friend, Irvin Cobb, on the screen. You've known of Cobb as a humorous writer, of course. For years he has been one of our most successful authors.

For a long time it has been Ruby Keeler's ambition to be a great woman golfer; being a good actress and a marvelous dancer meant little. She's been playing golf for some time, and recently she went into the Southern California women's tournament, won three matches, and was put out in the last round. Looks as if she might achieve that ambition after all.

Did you hear the recent broadcast of Paul Whiteman's birthday celebration? Of course, it came at a bad hour—one-thirty in the morning, Eastern Standard time; NBC kept its line open after midnight for it. The Paul Whiteman alumni straged it—and what a list of well-known people once worked for Paul! Morton Downey, Bing Crosby, Jane Froman, Ferde Grofe and George Gershwin, the composers, and Mary Margaret McBride, whom you may have heard on the air as Martha Dean.

Bing Crosby

And, speaking of Morton Downey, he's sailing in May to keep concert engagements in England and Ireland—and how he loves to go to Ireland!

Here's a funny check-up on the popularity of radio programs. In London they've found that during a really big broadcast the consumption of water drops 85 per cent.

GDSS AND ENDS . . . "These Three" is a picture that you can't afford to miss . . . Toby Wing is actually going to make a picture at last . . . "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" is such a success every where that all the studios are going in for outdoor pictures . . . Leslie Howard's son Ronald has been working as an extra in "Romeo and Juliet" . . . Shirley Temple has learned to ride a bicycle and she's crazy about it . . . "Little Lord Fauntleroy" is a grand picture of the famous boy, although Freddie Bartholomew had his way and does not wear golden curls or velvet suit . . . Incidentally, his father and mother are still trying to get part of his earnings . . . Paramount will make four pictures in color . . . And Twentieth Century-Fox will film "Ramona" the same way . . . First thing we know, black and white pictures will be on the shelf with old silent ones.

Trip to Austin

The following people from Hedley enjoyed a splendid trip to Austin last week: Mr. and Mrs. Alva Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Payne, Mrs. Owen,
Bill Jones, Sybill Holland, Ivan
Jones and Homer Richerson.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons were nice enough to go and take their car. Since the state gave a rebate on a coach for both boys and girls, Mr. Payne and Mrs. Owen both got to go. The events that the contestants went in were:

Sybill Holland, Extemporan-ous speaking.
Ivan Jones, 100 and 220 yd.
dashes

Homer Richerson, 120 yd. high hurdles and high jump Ivan and Foss competed in their events for the preliminaries Friday morning at the Universal stadium.

I spoke in the auditorium of the geology building Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Ivan qualified for the finals in both of his races, but Foss and I just had too much competition.

We went back to the Universal stadium Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the finals in the track events.

Ivan got third in the 100 yd.
dash and second in the 220 yd.
dash. He was beaten by Walter (Red) Cecil of Freeport. Ivan ran like he had wings on his feet and really gave Red some competition. If he did get beat, Walter Cecil made a new state record for both of his races. Ivan equalled the old state record and ran far better than he ever had before.

During the time that no contest was taking place we visited the different buildings on the University campus, the artesian fountain, and the capitol. We climbed the dome of the capitol, visited the senate, the house of representatives, and several historical places.

We left Austin at 5:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon. We got to Lake Worth about 12:00 o'clock and the temptation to ride "the thriller" was just too great for me and Mrs. Owen to resist. We rode, and believe it or not, we really had a mid night thrill; however Mrs. Owen said that she wouldn't recommend it to anyone else.

We had a grand time, and the trip was worth several times the work that we did. May I say too, that I think the Interscholastic League Meet should be a challenge to every high school student.

Senior Class To Present Play

"A Crazy Mix-up"

The long promised Crazy Mix
Up will be presented in the high school auditorium on Friday evening May 8 at 8:00 o'clock. Lee J. J. Van, Verlin McPherson, is very clever, but is she clever enough to fool a man? Is any woman?
Well, come to see whether your opinion is right or wrong.

We have added to our program
the band from Clarendon Junior College. This attractive feature is given as a courtesy program by the college. Please show your appreciation to our neighbors by coming. Their performance will be worth your time.

Both of these features will cost you only the price of one. Ten cents for children of grade school and twenty cents for high school and adults.

The proceeds will be used to pay expenses of the Seniors' Commencement programs.

Amateur Program

The idea of the amateur program began Thursday morning after our last representatives were on their way to Austin. Of course we, who stayed at home, had to have some way of thinking about our contestants, so we decided upon the plan of putting a penny in our left shoe in remembrance of them. Every step that was taken from then until Friday afternoon, the penny made a quick thought fly to them.

Friday afternoon all the pennies were taken up and a boosting telegram was sent to Austin.

The comical program began Friday evening about 8:30 when Major Bowes began broadcasting over station O. W. L. S. The program began by a harmonica number. The next event of interest was the Junior class trying to get across the track.

The Sophomores then entertained the crowd by their two numbers including several band instruments. The high honorawent to Jack Battle and Don Hickey who gave us several numbers on the guitar and with the spoons. After spending about an hour of enjoyment, the group again turned their thoughts to the people at Austin.

Mrs. Clyde Bridges, our room on a picnic last Friday evening to the new park near Giles. Five cars went.

After roaming the park about two and one half hours we all decided to spread lunch. All enjoyed themselves. The thing we enjoyed most was the gallon of Eat up distance, but not your bearings

Get alloyed oil... and you'll get the difference

Ask your wife. The least little heat makes smoke out of some of the oily substances she puts in her frying pan. They vanish double quick, while others stay put.

That's the sort of difference your hilliest hot-weather drive will show you in Germ Processed, the alloyed oil. Patented.

It not only stays up around "Full," but stays right up in every working surface of your engine. Yes, the pistons, cylinders, valve gear, and any types of bearings ever used, can really take in this alloyed oil. You might say they become lastingly, smoothly "oil-glazed."

And you can see that this added sleek oil-surfacing, together with the high-durability Germ Processed oil-film, easily doubles your guard against summer grief. Now when you want to go farthest fastest, get Conoco Germ Processed oil—the alloyed oil. Continental Oil Company.

World Moves On by Tiny Push of the Honest Man

The world moves along, not merely by the gigantic shoves of its hero workers, but by the aggregate tiny pushes of every honest worker whatever. All men may give some tiny push or other, and feel that they are doing something for mankind.—John Richard Green.

BLACK-DRAUGHT
Next Time You Need a Laxative

For constipation, take a dose of Black-Draught as soon as you realize the condition you are in.
"If I am bilious, have headache or a cold, I take a dose of Black-Draught at night," writes Mrs. R. D. Thaxton, of Lexington, Ga.
"If I have a bad feeling after meals, I take just a pinch of Black-Draught. It relieves me. I recommend it very highly—a good family medicine. I give my children Syrup of Black-Draught. I find both good."
Black-Draught paves the way for the relief of many such symptoms as those mentioned above, when constipation is at the bottom of the trouble.

Enjoyment

Elimination of Body Waste Is Doubly Important

In the crucial months before baby arrives it is vitally important that the body be rid of waste matter. Your intestines must function—regularly, completely without griping.
Why Physicians Recommend Milnesia Wafers
These mint-flavored, candy-like wafers are pure milk of magnesia in solid form—much pleasanter to take than liquid. Each wafer is approximately equal to a full adult dose of liquid milk of magnesia. Chewed thoroughly, then swallowed, they correct acidity in the mouth and throughout the digestive system, and insure regular, complete elimination without pain or effort.
Milnesia Wafers come in bottles of 20 and 48, at 35c and 60c respectively, and in convenient tins for your handbag containing 12 at 20c. Each wafer is approximately one adult dose of milk of magnesia. All good drug stores sell and recommend them.

Colorado's Story

Crude Forerunner of the Modern Ore Mill.

Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.
THE story of Colorado's swift development in the short space of one lifetime is crammed with romance, tragedy, and high adventure, with strokes of good fortune and ill, as are few chapters in the national chronicle.
One day the region was raw, virtually untouched by civilization. The next, almost, men were starting to make a state out of thin mountain air and dusty sagebrush flats; were selling town lots at auction; issuing newspapers; building homes, churches, saloons, and theaters; organizing stage-coach companies; talking politics!
The stage probably had never been better set during American history than during 1850 for a rush to new lands. The country was in the middle of a great financial depression. Tens of thousands of others were barely making livings and were restless.
Then the news of gold discoveries in the Pikes Peak country sifted back East—not the true facts, but preposterously glowing accounts. Before the winter snows had melted, long lines of travelers were in motion, converging on the frontier towns nearest the Pikes Peak country—Leavenworth, Lawrence, Nebraska City.

What a mad scramble it became, that mass march to find the rainbow's end! Over the boundless prairie west of the settlements it spread, with scarcely a break from the Missouri to the Rockies. Sturdy covered wagons, some with three yokes of oxen; light wagons drawn by horses and mules; horseback riders; men and women on foot trundling loaded pushcarts; other pedestrians with knapsacks; some reckless souls with nothing but the clothes they wore—all poured on toward the Promised Land. "Pikes Peak or Bust" was blazoned on many a wagon in the motley train. Some of these were to meet disappointment at the meager gold showings in river sands, and to return in a few months with only a sense of humor left, the old sign marked out and below a laconic new one: "Busted, by Gosh!"

Pikes Peak Diggings.
Before the discouraged return stampede to the East could run its course, there came news of really substantial gold discoveries in veins; then new hopes and a new bigger gold rush. Where 10,000 had gone before, now probably 100,000 crossed the plains.
The Colorado mountains, it seemed, might be America's last frontier, and Americans turned toward them as children turn to a street parade. They overran the existing towns, built new ones, clambered into the mountains, staked claims or jumped them, dug, played riotously, fought, organized vigilante committees and courts, and began, ineptly at first, but determinedly, to iron the rough edges of the frontier into a civilized community.

So began the Pikes Peak Diggings, a group of communities that was to spread over a great area and to become 17 years later the Centennial state.
Mapwise, Colorado is something of an anomaly. Across it marches North America's mightiest mountain range and within it are concentrated Uncle Sam's greatest group of lofty peaks. Among these mountains rise some of the country's major rivers. Yet at no point does range or stream mark Colorado's boundaries. Its straight lines of meridians and parallels, hurdling all natural geographic features, actually bear a closer relationship to Greenwich, England, and the Equator than they do to the Rocky mountains or the Colorado river.

The eastern two-fifths of the state is a plains country, a continuation of the gently undulating and always rather dry prairies of western Kansas and Nebraska.
Approach from the west and you find that Utah carries over into the extreme western part of Colorado as Kansas and its neighbors do on the east. Dry plains alternate with tablelands, their rocky slopes clad with scraggy bushes.
It is in the middle panel of the state that you find the quintessence of Colorado—a land of foothills and sentinel peaks, tangled mountain ranges, and wide valleys.

Central Area of Colorado.
This great central area, where the earth has been thrust skyward, is the region of glittering gold to which Colorado owes its birth as a state. If you would plunge into this old Colorado of pioneer gold-mining days, drive west from Denver on paved roads, over the foothills, and up Clear creek for 25 miles. There, strung out in a canyon, you will find Idaho Springs, famous as "the town that is three miles long and three blocks wide."

Look up to sights that will become more and more familiar as you poke about the mountains; holes torn in the hillsides with steeply sloping dumps outside, as though huge animals had dug lairs, scratching the debris out behind them. A few are mere prospect holes, where some treasure-seeker guessed wrong. Others are portals of long tunnels. There are steep-roofed mills, some abandoned, some preserved for a better day.
But push deeper into the pioneer country. Turn up Virginia canyon and over a tremendous ridge to Central City and Black Hawk, the cradle of the Colorado mining industry. Here, at the "Gregory Diggings," the first gold was dug from veins, the first crude ore-crusher was evolved, the first steam quartz mill was erected. It was the miner's laboratory. Steam, fire, chemicals were tried in the battle to pry precious gold from worthless rock; and finally, in 1867, the first experimental smelter was set up.
Central City was a lusty town in those days, vying with Denver itself until well after Colorado became a state. At one time both United States senators and the state's single member of the house of representatives hailed from this little mountain town. It has never become a ghost town, like many of the early mining camps, but at times in recent years it has seemed to have at least one foot in the grave.
Gold has been a fetish in Colorado, as it has in all other parts of the world where it might be had for the digging; but it has played a mighty part in the state's life.

Gold Still the Magic Word.
Colorado has manifold interests and diverse activities now, but she hasn't deserted the old love. Talk for half an hour to any substantial Coloradan west of the one hundred and fifth meridian and inevitably the magic word "gold" will crop into the conversation. Through a new quest, a newly discovered vein, a new process, perhaps only a new personality whose genius for management is taking hold of a seemingly worthless property and making it pay, interest in gold is continually kept alive.
Panning from the gravels and sands of streams was the earliest method of gold recovery practiced in Colorado, as it has been in most of the world's gold fields. Then, in the mountains, prospectors found the weathered veins of ore from which the golden grains had been washed, and Colorado's second chapter in gold recovery started.

The third phase came when the hard, unweathered veins were followed into the rocky hearts of the mountains. It was then that Colorado gold mining ceased to be a one-man possibility. Much capital was required. Companies took hold; complicated treating plants were erected, and finally the era of smelters was ushered in.
Colorado has entered the fourth stage of gold mining now, and it is a typically modern American stage. Because of more efficient organization, better machinery, and more careful management, mining companies today are able to make money from ore so low in grade that a generation ago it was of no more value for mining than the top soil of an Iowa corn farm.
Visit one of these modern mines in the San Juan Mountain country and you will find it to be a self-contained little mining world, with its varied activities geared smoothly to gether, and with a steady outturn of product that reminds one of automobiles rolling from the assembly line of a Detroit factory.

Fine Motor Highways.
As you explore Colorado's mountain region, rich alike in gold and superb scenery, you find excellent motor roads penetrating the roughest terrain. The state's mountain highway system has opened up this region of tumbled peaks only in recent years. Twenty years ago the state's "summer land" consisted almost exclusively of the foothill country and the eastern slopes of the front range.
Now, with four excellent main highways crossing the Continental divide and with a network of minor roads and trails available, increasing numbers of the holiday crowds are pushing into the back country, where the fishing is better, where the highways are less crowded, and where, if one wishes to penetrate still farther, he can leave civilization itself behind and live for a time in an unspoiled wilderness.
Mountain highway building may appear simple enough to the vacationist, as he bowls along "in high" over loop after loop of gently rising road that lifts him eventually to a lofty ridge of the Rockies.

Smart Jacket Dress With Bows of Print

Versatility is an engaging quality in this little two piece frock. Make it feminine with bows and a belt of bright print, or slightly mannish with round buttons and a narrow belt.
The hip length jacket with its cut-away effect and front panel are the dominating features of the dress. Notice how the gathers peep cunningly in back and front beneath the circular yoke. A simple skirt, but not too simple to be attractive. Individualism is attributed to the wide tailored pleats in the front.

Anxiety Is Parent of Many Sins and of More Miseries

Anxiety is the poison of human life. In a world where everything is doubtful, and where we may be disappointed, and be blessed in disappointment, why this restless stir and commotion of mind? Can it alter the cause or unravel the mystery of human events?—Blair.

It's a Swift Age
Sixty happy years together have taught Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. DeGray of Chicopee Falls, Mass., there is no formula for a successful marriage. "And it wouldn't help if there were," DeGray said on his anniversary. "You can't get ahold of young people long enough these days to give them advice."

800-Pound Couple
Windhoek, South Africa, believes it has the heaviest married couple in the world. Their combined weight is 800 pounds. The husband tips the scales at 450 pounds and his wife 350. After ordinary beds had given up the struggle and collapsed under the avoirdupois, the pair had a blacksmith make special ones of cast iron.

This story will interest many Men and Women
NOT long ago I was like some friends I have... low in spirits... run-down... out of sorts... tired easily and looked terrible. I knew I had no serious organic trouble so I reasoned sensibly... as my experience has since proven... that work, worry, colds and whatnot had just worn me down.
The confidence mother has always had in S.S.S. Tonic... which is still her stand-by when she feels run-down... convinced me I ought to try this Treatment... I started a course. The color began to come back to my skin... I felt better... I did not tire easily and soon I felt that those red-blood-cells were back to so-called fighting strength... it is great to feel strong again and like my old self.
Insist on S.S.S. Tonic in the blood-red Cellulose-wrapped package... the big 20-oz. size is sufficient for two weeks' treatment... it's more economical, too. © S.S.S. Co.
