In months past, this department has devoted several inches of space to the possibilities of pork production in this area. We don't have any official figures, but there are a few new hog businesses going in across the county and the area. It was, and is, our opinion that pork production here is good for the same reason that beef production is.

First and foremost is the AMARILLO -- Pioneer Natural Gas Company has made application to the city officials of the cities on its West Texas system, including Bovina, for an adjustment in the company's general service rate charged for gas delivered to domestic and commercial customers.

The application states that, if the cities acted affirmatively within the 60-day period provided by law, the company will accept a rate increase of 16.2 per cent rather than the 19.4 per cent requested.

In announcing the rate request, K. B. Watson, executive vice president of Pioneer said, "With the rising costs the company has sustained, it is in immediate need of additional revenue. To avoid any further delay and expense, an increase of grain supply here. Grain fits into the hog business just the same as it does in the cattle business.

Agriculture leaders in the state have been promoting hog production statewide during the past few months. According to a news release from The Farmer-Stockman, that magazine has a story in a forthcoming issue about the state pork situation.

Here are some reasons the magazine gives as to why swine production holds particular promise in Texas:

"Texas has plenty of grain to support feed requirements for an expanded hog industry.

"Hogs convert feed to meat more efficiently than other red meat animals, and hence have more profit potential.

"Texas markets can use more pork. The state produces only about 25 to 30 per cent of all the pork it consumes.

"Swine can produce a higher return on investment than any other form of livestock." Those are good advantages for the hog industry.

One of the disadvantages is the price flucuation which is sometimes more extreme than in other livestock. The number of hogs across the country can be increased rapidly. This is one reason for the price flucuation. When hog prices are good, the number of hogs is increased as more people go into the business. When pork prices go down and the margin of profit becomes less, some people get out of the business even more quickly than they got in.

Larger hog operations will, no doubt, aid in keeping the numbers more stable. This could, on a large enough scale, influence the price to be more consistent as well.

In spite of a recent dip in pork prices, The Farmer-Stockman says, for whatever its worth, "The long-term, solid potential for hog production in Texas still remains good."

The release we're quoting from makes another statement which seems to be overly-elementary, but possibly needs to be pointed out:

"Good management and a liking for the business makes the difference between success and failure."

The same thing could be said for any kind of business, we'd guess.

Traditionally, though, the hog business has been a sideline able although a rate increase of 19.4 per cent would yield less than a 7-3/8 per cent return on the fair value of the company's investment. As an indication of the problem," Watson continued, "the company was forced to pay an interest rate (Continued on Page 3)

Church Plans Gospel Meet this week.

The annual Fall Gospel Meeting of Bovina Church of Christ is scheduled for next week, August 31 - September 3 -- Monday through Sunday, announces Cecil Bunch, minister of the church.

Services will be conducted at 8 p.m. each weekday.

Speaker for the series of services will be Mardell Lynch, minister of 21st Street Church of Christ in Clovis.

"Everyone in the community is invited to attend the services," Bunch says.

Announcement of the meeting is made in an advertisement in this week's issue of The Blade.

This is one of two gospel meetings the Church of Christ here has each year.

for many farmers and many of them didn't especially like it. Thie became doubly true when the profit margin dropped and the pork part of their operation would be abandoned.

This will be changed, as we indicated earlier, when the hog business evolves from a sideline into the individual's primary business.

Bovina High football fans will have the opportunity to see their favorite team in scrimmage action here Friday night. The Clovis sophomores will behere so coaches can see how their charges will perform under combat conditions. According to reports, the '70 Mustangs will be faster and certainly quicker. They're in a tough league, though. This will be an interesting season.

MAKES WAY FOR PROGRESS --- An old Bovina landmark, this house which dates back to the 'teens, was moved recently from Third Street to a new location on Halsell Street. Construction will begin soon on a new Allsup's 7 to 11 store on the Third Street site, which is presently being readied for the new business.

17 Accidents During July

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 17 accidents on rural highways in Parmer County during the month of July, according to Sergeant Wells, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed, 10 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $14,655.00.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first seven months of 1970 show a to-

of 9 -1/2 per cent on its recent borrowing of $20 million. It was further pointed out that the Texas Railroad Commission had determined the proper charge for gas at the edge of the cities to be 32 cents effective July 1, 1970, up from 28 cents. "This gate rate adjustment will not result in increased revenue until the burner tip rate is changed. The gate rate increase was allowed in recognition of the company's increased cost in getting the gas to the communities through its transmission system. It does not include any consideration for the higher costs of distributing the gas within the cities,' Watson said.

The company pointed out that either of the proposed rates would keep the consumer cost of gas on its West Texas system considerably below the State average for domestic and commercial use. The general service rate is applicable to this type service.

In the letter transmitting the application, the company referred to the current national publicity concerning the imminent nation-wide gas supply shortage and assured the city officials that Pioneer has maintained an excellent gas supply and is capable of supplying new customers and increased requests for service. "With the cooperation of the area we serve, this position can be maintained in the foreseeable future. The company has recently connected two new areas of large potential gas supply which places us in a good position to meet the increased competition for future gas production," the letter stated.

tal of 79 accidents resulting in two persons killed, 37 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $68,045.00.

"School days are here again. The familiar yellow school buses are back on the highways," the sergeant reminds, Heurges all motorists to obey the state law regulating traffic in regard to school buses: "The driver of a vehicle on a highway outside of the limits of any incorporated city or town upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus, but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

(Continued from Page 1) eduled to be moved here and be remodeled by next month, a spokesman for Ault and Canode Construction Co. of Amarillo said recently. Ault and Canode is in charge of moving and remodeling the houses.

Several months ago, when the housing development started, it was announced that the workers would be employed at the packing plant under a government program whereby the plant would be paid a fee for training the workers. This plan evidently did not materialize. The Blade learned this week that the people being moved here are being "hired and have a steady job" just the same as any other new employees at the plant.

Company officials have recently met with the committee that represented the cities in the gate rate proceedings before the Railroad Commission and with some of the city officials to advise them of the rate request. "We are inviting, and anticipate, immediate studies of our records and other information supporting this application," Watson said.

Hughes, Rigdon Vows Read In Double Ring Ceremony

A candlelight ceremony in First Baptist Church, Portales, Monday, August 17, at 70'clock united in marriage Miss Sherida Ann Hughes and Jerry Francis Rigdon, Bobby Stalcup, pastor of the church, read the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Hughes of Portales and the bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hodge Rigdon of Bovina.

The couple repeated their vows before an altar centered with a large fan-shaped arrangement of white gladioli backed by a candelabrum holding white tapers. On either side were spiral candelabra each holding 15 white tapers and tree candelabra with white tapers, accented by blue bows. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length dress of white Saki. A ruff of Venise lace edged the high neckline, extending down the front to outline the empire waistline, giving a bolero effect in front, and extending down the back in a panel effect. The gown had a Dior bow at the waistline in back with wide streamers almost to the hemline. The three-quarter length sleeves were edged with a ruffle of Venise lace accented with a tiny bow.

at the church following the ceremony were Mrs. Chet Brown, Mrs. Ray Franz, Mrs. Darwin Jones and Mrs. L. C. Cozzens. Floating hostesses were Mrs. Donald Hicks, Mrs. Lee Allison, Mrs. Alpha Brock and Miss Marjorie Blackwell.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over white silk nylon. The bridal bouquet was placed in the center of the table on a raised cyrstal piece, and on each side were crystal candelabra with white tapers. The three-tiered cake was topped with a cluster of white rosebuds and stephanotis.

For travel, the bride wore a white knit dress with matching accessories and the orchid lifted from her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Rigdon is a graduate of Eastern New Mexico University and has taught at Eugene Field Elementary School in Clovis. Rigdon is a graduate of Bovina High School and received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from ENMU and has completed two years of active military duty as a statistical assistant at the Airborne, Communications and Electronics Board, Ft.
