To Open Revival Here Hedley Schools to Open

Rev. James F. Stanley, state evangelist of Dallas, will begin a revival Sunday at the First Baptist Church. Everyone is cordially invited to attend, a special invitation being extended to all singers.

Old Settlers' Picnic

Be sure to attend the picnic today. A good program has been arranged that you are sure to enjoy. Fill your basket with good things to eat, meet all your old friends and have the time of your life.

Wanted

1 All Baptists in Hedley and the Hedley territory to attend our annual revival which is to begin next Sunday.
2 All other Christians of other churches or no church to cooperate in every way you can.
3 All other people not affiliated with denomination to come and participate in the meeting.
4 All those who sing to join our choir or congregation and help us put on a great music program.
5 All who attend to feel welcome, for you are Pat every-thing you can into these services and get everything out of them you can.

It is the desire of this pastor's heart that we may be helpful to everybody in and around Hedley. And to this end, we pray that you may know the Lord personally and serve Him for the joy of such service and in appreciation of his love shed abroad in your heart.

We crave your prayers for an old time revival. Will you go the second mile with us?

Earnestly and humbly
M. E. Wells

The church is not a racket as some would contend. Neither is it a necessary evil. It is Christ's body, the pillar and ground of the truth, set for the defense of the gospel.

Funeral Home Improved

The Kelso Womack Funeral Home is adding numerous improvements, four new rooms being built and air conditioning being installed. They are now prepared to give 24 hour service on undertaking work and ambulance calls. The Home is also headquarters for the Womack Mutual Insurance Co., who are offering burial insurance for as little as 2c a week.

Fred Watt and daughter Miss Lela Ruth, visited in Canyon last Thursday.

The Hedley schools will open the 1939-40 season Aug. 28, the formal opening exercises beginning at 9 o'clock. Inasmuch as the opening is a traditional affair in the community, a large crowd is expected for the opening exercises.

The board is, at the time of this writing, busily engaged in completing plans for the year. The faculty is not yet complete but it is expected that all teachers will be engaged by next week. At a meeting of the board Aug. 14 finances and transportation were thoroughly discussed and efforts will be made to operate the educational services as economically as possible without impairing the efficiency of the system.

Mr. Woods is busy laying out the school grounds for the benefit of the boys and girls and good roads and stickers are going to be very few by Aug. 28.

The county equipment, directed by commissioner Oland Nash, is cleaning up the school grounds this week.

Singing School Closes

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Stobaugh of the Stamps Baxter Music Co. of Dallas closed a fine singing school at McKnight last Friday. They had been teaching for the past two weeks. This school was one of the best schools we have ever had the privilege to attend. These teachers are wonderful instructors, and we unhesitatingly recommend them to any one needing a first class school taught in their community. They have that community spirit that helps to unite the folk. Mr. Stobaugh knows how to handle the little folk as well as the older boys and girls and keeps perfect order in the school, which is a great asset to any school. They left our community with the love and appreciation of all the people.

We hope to have them back to teach another school some time in the near future. May God's richest blessings be theirs as they go up and down this fair land of ours teaching and inspiring the young folk to something higher in life. I pray God will bless Mr. Stamps and his co-workers in their endeavor to inspire the young folk to sing to the glory of God, rather than be carried away with the lure of the moving picture and the virus of the jitterbug dance.

I hope our parents and our pastors awake to the great opportunity we have to teach our children to sing. To teach young folk to sing is the greatest tool a preacher has in his work shop. If they will learn to sing convention songs they will be eager to sing for him in his choir every time he calls upon them. Let us as preachers and Christian workers utilize every means we have to help the young folk in these days of their most severe trials and temptations.

M. E. Revival Closes

The two weeks meeting closed at the Methodist Church last Sunday night. Rev. Gordon from Clarendon who did preaching, gave some wonderful gospel messages. There were several additions to the church besides a spiritual awakening in many of the members of the town of every denomination that cooperated in the service. A free will offering for Bro. Gordon at the service Sunday night, which showed in a substantial way the appreciation of the church for his services.

MURDERED: A PARAMECIUM

Science Perfects 'Death Ray' in Battle on Civilization's Greatest Enemy, the One-Celled Micro-Organism

By JOSEPH W. LABINE

In the madcap 1930's a slender young laboratory engineer for the Detroit Edison company was married. Dr. Robert F. James was his name, a World War veteran with an M. D. degree from the University of Michigan.

Doctor and Mrs. James moved into an apartment equipped with an obsolete electric refrigerator which emitted a musty odor. They didn't like it, so they did something about it.

That musty odor is indirectly responsible for one of the greatest steps in sanitation progress the world has ever taken. It brought about perfection of a new and economical ultraviolet ray lamp that kills germs instantaneously but doesn't bother humans. Its inventors were Doctor James and another famous scientist, Dr. Harvey Rentschler. The device, called "sterilamp," has just been announced.

The new lamp has already shown its value in trial installations. At Duke hospital in Durham, N. C., it was placed over an operating table, immediately bringing about a reduction in bacterial infections. It was installed in a room with a refrigerator. The Baker Institute in New York City is using it in its bacteriology laboratory.

How ultraviolet radiation purifies the air in an operating room, eliminating danger of infection from bacteria in the atmosphere. Note the "sterilamp" in the ceiling, the long tube-like lights.

Pasteur and Lister, yet it is merely another chapter in the history of sanitation.

For centuries man believed that all diseases could be "ascribed to demons" and millions fought their lives to ignorance before Van Leeuwenhoek discovered the tiny organisms responsible for plagues. Pasteur and Lister helped establish the importance of heat in killing bacteria.

But even heat has its limitations. It cannot be used to preserve perishables like food and meat; furthermore extreme heat destroys glasses and dishes. And, most important, it is limited to small areas and small surfaces.

Sunlight has a sterilizing action but its power is comparatively feeble. While it has long been known that sunlight carries some ultraviolet radiation that kills bacteria, it remained for Drs. James and Rentschler to isolate that small portion of the ultraviolet spectrum which is really effective. To use the entire spectrum would be like "killing rabbits with an elephant gun," in Dr. Rentschler's own words. So he set about inventing a meter to measure accurately the amount of invisible radiation of any selected wave-length being emitted by his experimental lamps.

Trial and Error. But let's get back to Detroit and Dr. James' musty refrigerator. Equipped with a knowledge of ultraviolet rays, the scientist perfected a lamp which he placed inside the refrigerator, resulting in sterilization by radiation. The musty smell soon vanished.

He knew the lamp would kill bacteria but he had no way of knowing how much radiation should be generated for any given sterilization job. Too much might be dangerous. It was while coping with the problem that he met Dr. Rentschler, who developed the meter.

Working at Bloomfield, N. J., the two men spent five years in experimentation. With their meter they tested, tediously and painstakingly, the effect of various ultraviolet wave-bands upon bacteria and other micro-organisms. Finally they found the right band, a very segment of the spectrum which has been mysteriously designated as the "2537 Angstrom unit band." Then came months of experimentation cent of the bacteria in far corners of the room also died.

Helps the Butcher. Meat dealers have found the lamp invaluable. Forced to carry from 500 to 1,500 pounds of meat in his refrigerator at all times, the butcher has in the past suffered great losses from spoilage caused by mold and slime, the result of combined high refrigeration temperature and high humidity. Low refrigeration temperatures have been similarly unfavorable because too much moisture is evaporated. But with the new lamp—which gives little heat—refrigerators need only be kept sufficiently cool to prevent flabbiness. Bacteria and mold are killed immediately.

Fresher bread and cake is guaranteed by bakeries where "sterilamp" has been tested. Two large firms used the lamp to retard mold growth on fruit cakes. Before installation, spoilage of the cakes amounted to about 15 per cent, a figure which dropped to 1 or 2 per cent after the lamps were adopted!

Although physical limitations have prohibited attempts at sterilization in connection with farm products, progress can be made in this field.

What of the Future? Today the lamps are being used regularly by a number of farms, not only in connection with milking, but in hen houses, brooder houses and hog pens. One of the nation's largest poultry farms has adopted the process to combat infection.

Far-sighted scientists have predicted a day when the new lamp may free us from the worry of bacterial infection. Obviously the next application of this process will be to the atmosphere itself, a field in which experimentation is already being made.

The vast variety of fields in which the lamp eventually may be applied appears to be virtually limitless. Today one of the best known cosmetics manufacturers in the country is regularly using the Rentschler-James process to irradiate toothpaste and cleansing creams.

Science, whose Twentieth century gifts to civilization are already legion, has hurdled another barrier in its drive to make the world a safe, happy and healthy place to live!

C. Houston Goudiss Describes the Precious MINERAL SALTS

That You Must Have in Order to Build Strong Bones, Sound Teeth, Healthy Nerves, Rich Red Blood

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS
6 East 39th Street, New York.

THE human body is often compared to a machine, but it is far more wonderful, far more complex, than the most intricate machine ever designed to run without stopping, day in and day out, for upwards of 70 years, is also a fully equipped chemical laboratory. For if a chemist should grind a man to bits and analyze the pieces, he would find at least 18 chemical elements, and possibly traces of several others.

In addition to oxygen, carbon, hydrogen and nitrogen, the body contains a wide variety of mineral materials, which are necessary to its proper functioning—and even to life itself. The list includes calcium, phosphorus, potassium, sulphur, sodium, chlorine, magnesium, iron, manganese, iodine and copper. All these substances must be furnished to the growing child—through food and drink—and generous amounts must also be supplied daily in the diet of adults, to replace the minerals that are constantly being used up.

Minerals Necessary to Life

It is vitally important that the homemaker should understand the function of these various salts and where they can be found. For if certain minerals are lacking in the body, the heart will stop beating. Without others, the bones cannot form properly. Still others are responsible for the rich red blood that makes the difference between a healthy person and a sickly one. Laboratory experiments have proved that if you leave out the smallest trace of the mineral known as manganese, you destroy the love of a mother for her child. And nutritionists—but unfortunately not mothers—are well aware that less than a thousandth of an ounce of iodine makes all the difference between a normal man and an imbecile.

Calcium—Captain of Minerals

Calcium deserves its ranking position as the captain of the minerals, because it builds the bones, or body framework. And the bony skeleton is to the human being what steel is to the building. Calcium is also the chief constituent of the teeth and upon healthy teeth rests the health of the digestive system and, in turn, the entire body. For food that is improperly masticated is imperfectly digested and fails to nourish properly.

About 99 per cent of the calcium in the body is found in the teeth and bones. If the body does not receive an adequate supply of this mineral in pre-natal life and during the growing years, the bones will be porous, distorted and easily broken, and the teeth will develop cavities and eventually may fall out.

In addition to being the principal material for making and maintaining the bones and teeth, calcium increases the strength and pulsations of the heart and helps the blood coagulate in case of injury, thus keeping you and your loved ones from bleeding to death. That is why an extra supply of calcium is fed to patients just before an operation.

Calcium Builds Will Power

There is a close relationship between calcium and sound, healthy nerves. And this precious substance likewise helps us to concentrate mentally—it strengthens our will power—and assists us in acquiring that "do or die" attitude toward life, which is essential in an age when we must all struggle or go under.

Yet despite its importance, it is estimated by that outstanding authority, Henry C. Sherman, Professor of Nutrition at Teachers College, Columbia University, that one-half of the American people—even those with plenty of money—are literally starving for calcium, because they do not know the food sources of this vitally important mineral.

Where to Obtain Calcium

The foremost sources of calcium are milk and cheese, which is milk in concentrated form. It is chiefly to provide adequate calcium that homemakers must follow the rule of a quart of milk daily for every child, and a pint for each adult.

Vegetables, such as spinach, lettuce, celery, asparagus, string beans, cabbage, carrots and cauliflower are also a good supplementary source of calcium. And some fruits, such as oranges, figs, strawberries and bananas likewise supply significant amounts.

Indispensable Phosphorus

Like calcium, phosphorus is required by the body in relatively large amounts, and like calcium, it is especially important in the diet of children, because it is deposited in the bones, along with calcium, as calcium phosphate.

Phosphorus is indispensable for all the active tissues in the body and plays an important part in regulating the neutrality of the blood. It can be obtained from whole grain cereals, eggs, dried beans, cheese, lean meats, and root and leafy vegetables.

Iron—King Pin of Them All

But measured in terms of food essentials, iron is king pin of them all. It is the supreme element in nutrition because it is necessary for the formation of the hemoglobin or red pigment in the blood. And it is the hemoglobin which carries purifying oxygen to every cell in the body. Recently, it has been discovered that copper is required for the proper utilization of iron.

"Red blooded" is a term understood by everyone to denote health and strength, and it is iron that makes us red blooded. When your children grow pale and listless, lose their pep and lack appetite, it is likely that they are starving for iron. If you become short of breath and "pant" when going up hill, or upstairs, even though there is nothing wrong with your heart or lungs, the chances are that there is insufficient red pigment in the blood—not enough to take up an adequate supply of oxygen and carry it to the millions of cells throughout the body.

There is no excuse for cheating yourself or your children of a full measure of iron, for this mineral can easily be obtained from liver, egg yolk, whole grain cereals, molasses, dried fruits, dried peas and beans, nuts, lean meats and green vegetables.

Iodine—Molder of Men

Almost everyone has heard that iodine is the mineral which helps to prevent that disfiguring enlargement of the neck, known as simple goiter. But few people realize that it is the principal constituent of thyroxin, secretion of the thyroid gland, and that the thyroid functions normally only when sufficient iodine is available.

A wide variety of physiological disorders have been laid to iodine hunger. Obesity is frequently the result of thyroid disturbance. Specialists contend that stubborn skin diseases are associated with disorders of this gland. Many people are accused of laziness who are really suffering from thyroid deficiency. And competent authorities claim that the thyroid likewise influences mental make-up and emotional tendencies.

Iodine is found chiefly in sea-food and in fruits and vegetables grown near the sea. In inland regions, where soil and water are poor in iodine, health authorities frequently add it to the drinking water. And the use of iodized salt is also recommended. By these simple measures, thousands of growing children can be saved from the disastrous results of iodine deficiency.

In general, it can be said that if the minerals calcium, phosphorus, iron and iodine are supplied in adequate amounts, the other minerals will be automatically furnished.

But every homemaker should make

Breakfast Foods

Mass production of popular brands of breakfast foods to meet the demand created by advertising has greatly reduced the price of many of the advertised brands. The sale of these foods adds materially to the demand and consumption of farm products in the United States.

An Invaluable Aid To the Housewife

IN THIS issue you will find the fourth of the series of articles written by C. Houston Goudiss, famous food expert whose books, radio talks and lectures have made him known all over the country.

In this article Mr. Goudiss discusses the vitally important subject, "Mineral Salts." He shows the necessity of these materials in the diet, and their relation to the building of a strong heart, healthy nerves, rich red blood, strong bones and sound teeth. He also gives the food sources of these salts.

Read each one of these articles as they appear weekly in this newspaper. They will prove invaluable to the housewife in assisting her to keep the entire family mentally and physically fit.

It her solemn responsibility to provide these four in abundance. For only in that way can you insure optimal growth in children, develop vigorous health in adults, and maintain the highest possible tone of every organ in the body. © WNU—C. Houston Goudiss—1938.

A Splendid "Service" for Floors

Floors receive rougher treatment than any other part of the home—and it is floors that show up to poorest advantage when neglected—best advantage when properly cared for! Up to now, attractive floors have required some little time and attention, but this is no longer necessary. For into the field of domestic preparations has come "self-polishing wax"—liquid-smooth, simple to apply, lovely to see. This remarkable preparation goes on easily, quickly, and dries in 20 minutes! Its results are 4-fold: The floors are protected—they are preserved—they stay freshly-clean longer—and they are beautified! A quality self-polishing wax protects and preserves, by forming a film over the surface—hard enough to withstand friction and grinding wear-and-tear. It induces floors to stay clean longer, because dirt and grease cannot become imbedded in the wood. It beautifies, because it is shimmering, transparent, and brings out the natural beauty of the wood. And what more could the home-maker ask for? There are, however, various qualities of self-polishing wax available. Only the best should be used, for both the appearance and condition of the floors. But the finest self-polishing wax is a joy to use—its lasting results a joy to see!

FLOORS POLISH THEMSELVES

...with O-Cedar Self-Polishing Wax. No rubbing—simply spread it on and let it dry—then watch your floors sparkle! Non-slippery, long-wearing—eliminates scrubbing—dusting alone keeps floors clean. Full qt., only 85¢.

"A CONSOLATION to the LIVING and a PERFECT MEMORIAL for the DEAD"

The Objective of Organizing an Insurance Company of This Kind in This Locality

Suppose your family was suddenly faced with a funeral bill. Would its members be forced into embarrassment and any form of work that were offered them? This would not happen with Womack Burial Insurance, a service offering a consolation to the mind of those facing this unexpected occasion.

We are striving to create GOOD WILL and Fellowship among the living and to see that upon the death of a member, they will receive and will be insured of receiving a Christian-Like Burial. It is therefore in this spirit that we join and associate ourselves together in order that the loved ones left behind will never feel that their departed one did not receive a Christian-like burial, in keeping with the traditions of mankind.

Not everyone who wants to, can purchase life insurance, but everyone can purchase Womack Burial Insurance. Many policies are rejected because of Physical Impairments. Many have waited too long to apply, but unless you are over 85 years of age, you have not waited too long to enjoy the benefits of Womack Burial Insurance.

"If God were to call you, Daddy
Or take our Mother dear
And in deepest grief and sorrow
Leave us linger here
And in our darkest hour of sorrow, grief and woe
For financial assistance
Where could we, Daddy, Go?
Because we love you dearly
We would want you have the best,
For we will remember always
How our loved ones were laid to rest.

Perhaps, Daddy, they might tell us
Upon that mournful day
That the one we loved so dearly
Had thrown his chances away;
We now can get Burial Insurance
And our minds could be at rest,
And when the shadows of sorrow fall
Give our loved ones the very best;
And it could cost so little
To have this peace of mind
So, Daddy, please get protection
While yet you have the time."

Does The Bible Favor This Institution?

Yes!!

IF THE BIBLE DOES FAVOR THIS INSTITUTION,
THEN WHY SHOULD WE DENOUNCE IT?

1 TIMOTHY, 5th chapter, 8th verse: "But if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel."

OPERATING WITHIN A 75 Mile Radius of Hedley, Texas

There is a great danger confronting a family when the bread-winner dies, a danger which few men think about and for which not everyone has provided. For a year or more following death, there is a readjustment period, which involves a pressing need for income without having to make payments on a funeral bill.

The first economic problem of any man is to furnish food, clothing, and shelter to-day, for himself and his family. Most of us spend most of our working days solving that problem. Hence, your problem is only half done when you provide for to-day, because surely and certainly tomorrow will come --- maybe not next week, next month, or even next year, but some time. You will either die or live to be an old man. When either time comes, that is your tomorrow and you must either depend upon charity or else have property to furnish a minimum income to buy food, clothing and shelter.

This is the law of life, a law that is fixed, certain and beyond our control. It is a problem concerning that which there can be no debate, and for the creation of which we are in no way responsible. But we and we alone, are responsible for the condition in which we and our dependents find ourselves when that law has worked out its end.

Until a man has provided for tomorrow he can have no economic security. He can not rest easy. He cannot sleep well at nights. The squirrel, the bee, the bear, even the lowly ant recognizes this law of life --- THERE WILL INEVITABLY COME A TOMORROW --- AND WE MUST MEET ITS INEVITABLE DEMAND.

IF WE WERE NOT OFFERING THE WOMACK BURIAL INSURANCE, WE WOULD FIND IT IMPOSSIBLE FOR MANY TO PROVIDE FOR THE TOMORROW IMMEDIATELY. WE WOULD HAVE TO SPEND LONG YEARS ACCUMULATING BY PATIENT SELF DENIAL AND SAVINGS. OUR RATES ARE SUCH THAT ANYONE CAN AFFORD ITS PROTECTION.

Star Dust

★ King Tyrone Off the Radio
★ Joan Signs for 5 Years
★ Fan Gets New Illusions
By Virginia Vale

THERE'LL be no more Tyrone Power on the radio, by order of his boss, Darryl Zanuck, production head of Twentieth Century-Fox. Mr. Zanuck made this announcement as a result of protests from theater exhibitors against too many appearances of screen stars on radio programs. Mr. Zanuck stated that he had no quarrel with radio, but that the stars were endangered because it was so difficult to get adequate material for these weekly appearances, especially since it must be new.

So Tyrone, recently elected king of the movies by some 22,000 newspaper readers, had to go off the air.

Joan Blondell has tied up her future again, so far as making movies is concerned. She's signed with Columbia to make two pictures a year for five years, and starts the ball rolling with "God Girls Go to Paris, Too," originally scheduled for Joan Arthur. It's said that Columbia wanted to borrow her for that one some months ago, but Warner Brothers' refusal to lend her was at least partly responsible for her winding up her contract.

How White and the Seven will be retired from the first of April, after records in every important city all over the world, and will probably be re-issued again this time next year. It cost $1,700,000 to make, and will gross about eight million. It played in 41 countries, and was the first sound picture to be translated into a "talking book" for the blind. And "Dope" got more fan mail than all the other characters put together.

When Madeleine Carroll paused recently in New York on her way from Europe to Hollywood she shattered one movie fan's illusions. The movie-mad girl went to a smart night club, and during the course of the evening noticed a rather buxom young lady who danced every dance with great enthusiasm. She had on rather dismal looking gun-metal colored hose and very flat shoes, reported the movie fan. Decidedly not smart. But her hat was an adorable French bicorne, and the collar of her suit marked it as one of the latest efforts of a famous French modiste.

Suddenly the rather buxom young lady smiled, and the movie fan wilted. She had recognized Miss Carroll—and had learned that movie stars, when left to their own devices, aren't always as smartly dressed as they are on the screen. Incidentally, the next Carroll picture is "Cafe Society," and the one after that is called "Air Raid," and is the story of two young people caught in a city in the war zone.

Hollywood has to be awfully careful about these war pictures. In "Idiot's Delight," for example, Esperanto was used instead of Italian, French or German, just to avoid the danger of angry protests from foreign governments. When it was done as a play no such precaution was taken.

When fame begins to come to a radio performer it certainly comes fast. Kay Kyser, the orchestra leader, wasn't particularly well known even so recently as a year ago. Now he's so well established at the top of the ladder that when he signed recently to appear with his band at a New York movie house the contract called for a salary of $12,500 a week—an all-time high.

Want to know what sort of thing is likely to trouble big executives? It seems that there were weeks of huddles over the title for Raymond Paige's new program. It was to be called "100 Men and a Girl," and Paige had 100 men in his band, and the girl was Hildegarde and everything was fine. But Universal owned the title—remember the picture by that name? Eventually somebody thought up "99 Men and a Girl," and after more indecision because that was pretty close to the original it was cleared.

ODDS AND ENDS—Phil Baker's sponsor has never seen either Baker or the cast of his radio program, so the broadcast is to be shifted to Honolulu for a time. . . . Edgar Guest and André Kostelanetz, the orchestra leader (and husband of Lily Pons) are collaborating on a song.

Watch Suits! It's a Grand And Glorious Suit Season

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IT'S a suit season! Which starts you right in the way of deciding what to buy this spring. The dramatic flourish with which fashion is staging the suit theme exceeds all records. In the amazing play on color, the novelty and variety of the handsome woollens, the versatile styling given them, the meticulous attention paid to the choosing of accessories, you are made to feel the high significance of each.

Going the rounds of the early preview showings the conviction grows on you that the choosing of a suit this spring dare not be a haphazard venture. You must set forth on your quest with a carefully preconceived plan that totals perfection in the final analysis of color values down to the slightest detail. In the accompanying illustration we are showing several suit types that were highlighted in a preview of pace-setting fashions presented by the Style Creators of Chicago to an audience of visiting merchants. From the versatile suits here pictured you can readily see that there is a wide range of choice when it comes to selecting the type that suits best to your needs.

A costume suit that is making "news," tops a softly styled dress with a full length slim form-fit coat, after the manner of the model pictured to the right in the foreground of the group. It is one of the fitted versions that registers as high style this season. Perpendicular pin tucks (a definite use of tucks is obvious in smart styling) running down the sleeves and body of the full-length nubby woolen coat, creates a fine tailored effect in this all-navy costume. The sheer wool frock repeats the tuckings and self-covered button closing. A suit of this type will prove a wise investment for the goodlooking coat has the air of a thoroughbred and it will ensemble perfectly with your print frocks and your chic, simple daytime frock tailored of pastel sheer wool, creating any number of different costumes for you.

Another costume suit that is of major importance is the reefer coat type as seen centered in the group. This very attractive and youthful model combines a reefer coat done in one of the new striped wools strikingly colorful in blue, beige and japonica, with a tailored beige frock. Accents of the japonica are stressed in the large leather buttons and chiffon scarf.

Short, contrast-jacket suits are the rage. The fact that they have a "young" look counts much in their style rating, for fashions this season swing to the tempo of youth. The model at the top is among the high-fashion junior costumes. It is especially important in that it has the very new swagger swing-back. This winsome jacket of navy, rose, blue and white check is worn over a rose colored frock. The charm of multi-colored wools like this is that different colored accessories will click beautifully with them, thus affording refreshing changes that will transform the entire aspect of the costume.

The vogue for plaid jackets over monotone sheer wool frocks is expressed in the distinctive jacket costume suit in the lower oval. In bright contrast to the navy frock with novel matching kid belt is the vivid red jacket barred in gray and white, with kid closing motifs that pick up the navy color.

Travel Coat

This fashionable traveler knows how to choose a coat that gives her "class!" It is of heavy blue wool with large leather buttons. Tucks from the shoulder form the pockets. Novelty stripe, check and diagonal woools are also high in favor for travel coats. Some of the newest long coats are made snug at the waist line developing soft fullness above and below.

Scotch Influence
New hats reflect a bit of Scotland's shape as well as color.

Juvenile Sandals

Favor Open Toes

Mother's acceptance of cutout sandals is leaving its imprint on daughter's footwear fashions. Outstanding among the juvenile shoes for the coming spring are numerous versions of the toeless style. Open sides and slashed heels go along with the open toes just as they do in adult feminine styles. Patent leather is being stressed in line with mother's preference and there is much interest in colored soles and heels, the width of the soles suggesting the platform theme.

When it comes to hosiery fads, mother will have to do more than accept ombre shadings or embroidered heels to keep up with her daughter. The latest fad to appear in children's anklets is the "Stop and Go" idea. One of the socks has the word "stop" embroidered in red on the elastic cuff while the mate displays "go" in green letters.

Golden Chains as Straps for Gown

Lelong's heavy silk crepe evening gown, entirely plaited, with bodice upheld with slender golden chains which continue around the waist has been selected by several smart women, including Madame Charnpin, who has it in bright pink, like the model, Madame Jacques Fabry, in bright blue and Princess de Faucigny-Lucinge in ultra-marine.

"Coquille d'Or," an attractive model in dull silk crepe for the sheath skirt and the silk lame for the halter bodice, has also found favor with private clients who have ordered it in brown and gold—the color of the model—as well as in black and gold and bordeaux and gold.

WHAT to EAT and WHY

C. Houston Goudiss Helps to Answer the Question: What to Eat During Lent?

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

A CLERGYMAN friend of mine once remarked that in his opinion, Lent lasts far too long. He had reference, I believe, to the fact that in a swift-moving age, people might be more apt to keep Lent faithfully, if it terminated in a shorter period than 40 days.

Many homemakers, I feel sure, would echo his sentiments, but for a rather different reason! Numbers of them, I know, find the six weeks of Lent the most troublesome of the entire year. Their difficulty lies in planning meatless meals that satisfy hearty appetites. And since the weather is often bitterly cold in late February and early March, families usually seem hungrier, and harder to satisfy, than at almost any other season.

A Chance for Variety

Lent does challenge the homemaker to exercise imagination and ingenuity. But it also provides a golden opportunity to get out of a menu rut, if you happen to be one of those people who follow a set formula most of the year. It may, likewise, offer a chance to make some significant savings in your food budget.

Most of us feel that meat makes the meal. And it cannot be denied that its savory extractives give it a most appetizing and intriguing flavor. But there are a number of other foods which contain proteins of equal biological value. Furthermore, nutritionists hold that it is desirable to obtain protein from a number of different sources. That is because different protein foods contain varying amounts of different amino acids; and by eating a variety of protein foods, we can best obtain a wide assortment of these "building stones" of the body.

For Meatless Meals

Fish comes to mind, first of all, as a main dish for the meal that does not include meat. For those who are far from the source of supply of fresh-caught fish, there are the quick-frozen varieties, the dried and salted fish, such as sardines, haddock, shredded codfish and block cod, and 27 types of canned fish and shell fish.

Canned salmon is one of the least expensive of all protein foods. And so many things can be said in its favor that one nationally known food authority referred to it as the most nutritious animal food that could be had for children over six. It is a notable source of minerals, especially calcium, phosphorus and iodine, and contains vitamins A, D, and G.

Cheese in Many Forms

Cheese is another splendid source of protein that should be used more freely, not only during Lent but throughout the entire year. It is high in energy values. And in addition, it contains the milk minerals, calcium and phosphorus, and is a good source of vitamin A. Cheese is so flavorful that it adds zest to any meal at which it is served. And it certainly should interest the homemaker with an eye to thrift. For a little goes a long way. It is, therefore, an ideal food around which to build nourishing, appetizing and economical meals.

Macaroni, Spaghetti and Noodles

Cheese is especially good when combined with such foods as macaroni, spaghetti or egg noodles. It affords a pleasing flavor contrast. And it helps to balance the menu in two ways. First, the proteins of cheese supplement those found in wheat from which macaroni products are made. Secondly, cheese contains a substantial amount of fat, which teams well with high carbohydrate foods, such as any of those made from the cereal grains. Cheese may also be combined with vegetables, to make another balanced food team. The cheese contributes proteins, energy values, and minerals, while the vegetables are an outstanding source of cellulose or bulk, as well as vitamins and minerals.

Don't Overlook Nuts and Legumes
Legumes are one group of vegetables which are high in energy values. They also contain protein which is suitable for repairing worn-out body tissue. Dried beans, peas and lentils may therefore be used as a main dish at Lenten meals, replacing both meat and potatoes. There are many varieties of ready-cooked beans on the market, packed in both glass and tin. And dried lima beans are particularly well-suited to being made into croquettes, patties, loaves, chowders and ragouts.

Nuts are another possibility for Lenten meals that should be considered by every homemaker. They, too, can be used for croquettes and nut loaves, as well as souffles and casserole combinations. Nuts can be combined with vegetables for a main-course dish . . . with fruit for dessert.

In the form of nut butters, they make a nourishing spread for luncheon sandwiches. Moreover, each type of nut has a distinctive taste, and walnuts, peanuts, brazil nuts and pecans, for example, each make a thoroughly delightful dish, with a flavor quite different from the others.

Most homemakers will also want to use eggs more frequently during Lent, because they are so readily available and easily prepared. This is commendable, because besides being a fine source of protein, eggs rank next to milk as a protective food.

Only a few of the many possibilities for Lent have been suggested in this brief review. But surely they give a hint of the many good and nutritious foods a homemaker can choose on those days when she plans meatless meals.

SEEN and HEARD around the NATIONAL CAPITAL By Carter Field FAMOUS WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT

Washington.—For a government to rush into debt is a grand thing for all its citizens. For an individual to rush into debt is a terrible thing for all his dependents—though a good thing for his country.

Boiled down, that is the essence of the economic theory of a good many of President Roosevelt's advisers, if not of the President himself. It is shared by no less, for example, than Marriner Eccles, chairman of the board of governors of the federal reserve system.

This sounds like a sarcastic criticism, especially to many of the old-fashioned folks who were brought up, whether they followed the teachings or not, on a "willful waste brings woeful want," and a "save the pennies and the dollars will take care of themselves" philosophy. Actually it is as simple a statement of the theory as the writer has heard.

With plentiful government spending, especially if the money is raised by borrowing instead of by taxation, employment is encouraged; buying is encouraged; prices tend to rise; everybody has a job; and everybody, except the budget balancing theorists, is happy.

Example is made of Great Britain, which has never paid off the debts incurred in the Napoleonic wars, much less any of her enormous borrowings since. At various stages during the last two hundred years economists have worried about this debt. Actually, it is contended, Britain is just as well off now as at any time during the process, and her present ills are not due to her debt.

Of course, during this two hundred-year period described—for it goes way back to Napoleon—something has happened, which the economists advocating the bigger debt and bigger government spending theory do not mention. There has been a gradual shrinkage of the value of the pound sterling. But then, on the other hand, Britain is often cited as the only important country in the world which has never had a real inflation. Not an inflation crisis, to be sure, but her currency has gradually depreciated. Which is another way of saying that the people who saved their money kept losing a considerable fraction of it.

Evil of Saving

But there is a simpler illustration of the "evil" of saving. Let us imagine that everybody in the United States was gainfully employed, and every one saved so much of his earnings that the interest on his savings would support him after 20 years.

In a very short period, 40 years at the outside, assuming no gambling element which would lead to losses, every family in the country would be able to live on its income. Theoretically, no one would have to work at all. Men and women could just spend their income on what they wanted, perhaps even save part of it.

Carrying this absurdity to extremes to make it clear, we would then be a nation of idlers, living on our incomes. But who would provide the food and clothing and automobiles and radios for our population?

To make the point still clearer, imagine a tariff wall around the United States so high that there would be no international trade. What would happen? Obviously demand being very high, and supply being very low, prices would soar. What would amount to a capital levy would thus be occasioned, and the accumulated savings would be wiped out. Everybody would go back to work again.

Now assume a little bit of this instead of a wholesale dose, and you have a depression. Reverse it, with everybody spending his head off, and you have a boom. In a nutshell, that is the theory, with the addition that if the individual doesn't spend, the government must.

Guffey Starts Something

Senator Joseph F. Guffey of Pennsylvania certainly started something when he named the issue on which he intended to support Thomas Kennedy and oppose Charles Alvin Jones in the Democratic gubernatorial primary in the Keystone state.

Guffey is supporting Kennedy for three reasons. One is that Kennedy has always regarded Guffey as his leader—has followed him in every important fight for many years. A second is that in supporting Kennedy, Guffey continues his alliance with John L. Lewis, who is Kennedy's real chief, for years in labor activities, now in politics as well. And a third is that Jones, who won the regular Democratic organization support, has always been a thorn in Guffey's side.

Guffey places it all on the count that Jones was against Roosevelt for the nomination in 1932. In short he was "Against Roosevelt Before Chicago," while Kennedy and Guffey were fighting loyally for Roosevelt. That is a mighty interesting charge. It hits a lot of people. It hits Jack Garner, who is now

Vice President, but was a candidate against Roosevelt with some very important delegates. It hits the entire Maryland Democracy, which was enthusiastic for Albert C. Ritchie. It hits the majority leaders in 1932 of the Democratic party in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey. It reaches out into California and hits Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, who was for Garner. It hits more than three-quarters of the important Democratic leaders in Ohio, and plenty in Indiana.

Idea Is Not New

There is nothing new about the idea of discrimination against Democrats who do not belong to the "For Roosevelt Before Chicago" club. But up until now the only point has been in patronage. Guffey would magnify this discrimination to apply to running for elective office. It would bar from any important role in politics everyone who was not actively fighting for the nomination of Roosevelt in the period immediately preceding June, 1932.

This is a new sort of political doctrine. It runs counter to the oft-stated maxim of Will H. Hays that "assimilation, not elimination" is what a party needs.

And there is just enough truth in Guffey's new doctrine, regardless of his own sincerity in stating it, to cause trouble. For there is not a Democratic senator or governor or member of the legislature who does not suspect that in any contest between an old Roosevelt friend and an old Roosevelt opponent, the President would be inclined to support the friend. That is human. It has always been.

The importance of it now is that never before has the titular head of a party, occupying the White House, had so much power to affect results in state primaries and conventions of his party.

Putting the two Guffey doctrines together would look very much as though John L. Lewis' favorite senator was digging a pit for Roosevelt to fall into.

All Boards "Wooden"

General Goethals, of Panama canal fame, was wont to remark, toward the end of his life, that "all boards are long, narrow and wooden." This opinion grew out of his experience with the United States shipping board, which attempted to build ships during the World war emergency. It had nothing to do with his experience at the canal. In fact, it was the contrast between his helpless bickering in the shipping board, and the charisma he practiced, thanks to Theodore Roosevelt, at the canal job, that brought forth his derogatory comment on boards.

All of which applies to the present Tennessee Valley authority (better known by its initials, TVA,) controversy. The real trouble considering solely its administrative mess, is the fact that it is run by a three-man board.

Washington observers have been racking their brains during the last few weeks to discover a single case of any government board, set up with a business type of function, as distinguished from a judicial type of function, which has not been ruined by personal conflicts between the board members.

The TVA is the outstanding present illustration of failure. The United States shipping board, with its interminable quarreling between members on wooden ships versus steel, etc., is the one best remembered.

On the contrary the ICC is an outstanding case of a successful government board, but its function is almost entirely judicial.

But in Business

Why, it is asked, should corporations be run successfully by boards, but governmental agencies apparently always come to grief? The answer, observers here figure out, is that business corporations are actually almost always dominated by one man. The division in power among the board members is theoretical, not practical. In a politically appointed board one member is just as powerful, so far as the operation of the board is concerned, as another. In business it is almost never that way.

For instance, the president of a corporation is always a member of the board. In some instances he is the dominating figure. He runs the company. If he runs it successfully the board of directors is just a set of rubber stamps. They approve his policies. The test of his power is the success of the corporation.

But the division of the corporation into three or more parts, with one member of the board supreme in each pigeonhole, would be highly unlikely in a corporation designed for profit. In a corporation such natural divisions of work are made, but they are usually confided to vice presidents, or other executives.

Sometimes the president is really just an executive, all the planning and policy coming from the board, but in most of those cases the board is dominated by one man.

STAR DUST Movie • Radio By VIRGINIA VALE

BETTE DAVIS is still trying to live up to the reputation she made for herself by her performance in "Of Human Bondage," and in "Jezebel" she does pretty well.

Furthermore, she shows as much courage in playing the heroine as she did in that other success—for once again she has a decidedly unsympathetic role.

"Jezebel" is a good picture, with a good cast, and an assortment of Southern accents that's something to hear. It's the first of a collection of Civil War pictures—or rather, pictures with a Civil War background—which will include "The Unvanquished," and "Action in Aquila" as well as "Gone With the Wind," provided they ever get around to making that last one!

Remember all the to-do about whether Paulette Goddard would or would not land the role of "Scarlett" in that same "Gone With the Wind"? Well, after signing a long-term contract with David Selznick she was assigned to a co-starring role with Janet Gaynor in "The Young in Heart," which ought to make a delightful picture. And, speaking of the talented Janet, discussions of those Academy awards still echo from the hills about Hollywood. Lots of people thought the little Gaynor ought to receive one of the awards for her performance in "A Star Is Born." In fact, they got pretty sentimental about it, because she won the Academy award for the year's best performance way back in 1927, for her work in "Seventh Heaven."

You'll certainly want to see Deanna Durbin in "Mad About Music." There you have a plot, a delightful one, perfectly suited to the talents of the youthful star, and with a grand part for Herbert Marshall which he handles expertly. In fact, it's a grand picture all the way through, with the young Deanna singing a popular number, "I Love to Whistle," as beautifully as she does Gounod's "Ave Maria."

Graham McNamee celebrates 15 years of broadcasting, this spring, though he feels perfectly certain that he hasn't been at it that long. But it actually was 15 years ago that he went into the office of a New York station looking for a job. He's been busy ever since—hasn't been without a commercial program since they first were put on the air.

Peter van Steeden is having a lot of fun with a new recording device. When his friends telephone him, he records their voices, and then telephones them later and plays the record back to them.

It's funny, the way that radio audiences are classified. For instance, Haven MacQuarrie's "Do You Want to Be an Actor?" program was considered just right for an automobile company that wanted to plug the sales of used cars—the program was said to have strong middle-class appeal.

ODDS and ENDS . . . That new Tim and Irene show is going great guns . . . May be one of the most popular radio programs of its kind before long . . . Jane Withers has a new trailer which she uses as a dressing room . . . Sam Laurel had to get a new derby for "Sixties Miss"; the one he'd been using for twelve years fell to pieces . . . How'd you like to earn your living by supplying bugs, butterflies and insects to a motion picture studio? A man in Hollywood does it . . . Radio's Voice of Experience was an automobile salesman for thirty days, before he became the Voice of Experience, and averaged a sale a day . . . If you hear Mary Livingston getting mixed up in her lines on that Jack Benny broadcast you'll know that she had something to eat: usually she doesn't eat at all on Sundays until the program's over . . . For one scene in "Holiday" Katherine Hepburn had to run up a fifty-two step stairway; she did it nine times in succession . . . And was Cary Grant glad that the script arranged to have him walk.

8. Was Edward Everett Hale related to Nathan Hale, the patriot of the Revolution?
9. How many parts of speech are there?
10. What part of what state is farther north than any other in the Union?

The Answers

1. The state of Delaware has only three counties. It has only one city (Wilmington) with a population of over 100,000.
2. The recognized record for circling the bases is 13.4 seconds, made by Evar Swanson of the Cincinnati Reds, September 15, 1929.
3. In 1690 by the Massachusetts Bay colony. It was gradually issued by other colonies until in general use by all.
4. It is so called in the sense of its being normal, regular, conformable to a recognized standard type.
5. No.
6. The vertical clearance at the center of the bridge is 220 feet above mean high water, so boats can easily pass under it.
7. As turkey is American by origin, it seems incorrect to associate this Job with the ancient Hebrew. Poor, of course, refers to a thin and weak fowl, not to the lack of money.
8. He was his grandnephew. Edward Everett Hale's father, Nathan Hale, was a nephew of the Nathan Hale who was hanged by the British as an American spy.
9. Eight: Nouns, pronouns, adjectives, verbs, adverbs, prepositions, conjunctions and interjections.
10. Lake of the Woods county, Minnesota.

TIPS to Gardeners

Protecting Flowers

AN EARLY season flower pest is leaf beetle, a chewing insect whose presence is indicated by holes in the leaves. Found most often on Alyssum, zinnia, marigold and annual phlox. Remedy: Use stomach poisons in the form of sprays containing arsenicals or pyrethrum.

Snaggon, aster, petunia and verbenas are the principal victims of the cutworm, a chewing insect which cuts off plants at the ground. It should be combated, says Gilbert Bentley, flower expert of the Ferry Seed Institute, by placing about a spoonful of poison bran bait around the base of each plant.

Aphids bother almost all the popular flowers except zinnia. They cause wilting, crumpling and discoloration of the leaves. Spray or dust with pyrethrum or nicotine sulphate.

Downy mildew shows up white all over a plant and discolors to black, killing leaves and rotting stems. Remedy: Dust regularly, but lightly, with flowers of sulphur.

HOW TO SEW by Ruth Wreth Spears

THIS pink and white chintz apron with pink gingham ruffles should inspire anyone to take long strides towards the kitchen. It is easy to cut. The material required is 1 1/2 yards of 36-inch-wide chintz or cotton print and one yard of plain material.

For the skirt of the apron cut a piece of paper or cloth 27 inches wide and 23 inches deep. Fold this lengthwise through the center, as at A, then measure down from the top of the fold and pin from the corners the distances indicated in the diagram and mark the dots. Using the dots as a guide, mark the outline of the apron skirt as you see it in the diagram. The dimensions for shaping the bib are given in the diagram at B. The pocket is a 5-inch square with lower corners rounded as shown here at C. The apron ties are cut 6 inches wide and 36 inches long. The strips for the belt should be cut 2 1/2 inches wide and a facing strip the same width should be cut for it. The shoulder straps are cut 4 inches wide and then creased lengthwise through the center.

The strips of the plain material for the ruffles are cut 6 inches wide. The ruffle material before it is gathered should be 2 1/2 times the length of the space it is to fill after gathering. Use the machine hemmer foot shown here at the lower left for hemming the ruffles and the machine ruffer for gathering them.

Notes on the Picnic

Be sure to bring your own cups to the old settlers' picnic as the association does not furnish them.

All old timers at the picnic are especially urged to sign the register, as the association wishes to keep the record for future use.

Girl Scouts

The girl scouts enjoyed a train ride to Memphis Monday. To our surprise, Carrell Smyers was there to greet us. In a very few minutes Misses Stewart and Rieheron and Mr. Smyers had made plans for an enjoyable afternoon. We were invited to the Tarver Drug Co. for drinks and later to see "Three Smart Girls Grow Up" as guests of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce. It was a delightful trip for Eva Jean Cherry, Meiba Jean Clifton, Pat Sy Blanks, Dorothy Rieheron, Myrtle Tollett, LaNell Cherry, Hazel Stewart and Loyd Rieheron.
