Charles C. Roach Dies

Chas. C. Roach, 67 years of age and a long time resident of this section, passed away Sunday, Dec. 31, in a Memphis hospital.

He is survived by his wife and three sons, Dewey, Stanley and Gilbert, all of Memphis.

Funeral services were held Monday at the First Baptist Church at Memphis by Rev. Hoffbauer and Rev. E. O. Gargill. Interment was made in Fairview cemetery there under direction of Kelo Womack Funeral Home of Hedley.

The Informer extends deepest sympathy to the bereaved.

Simmons-Slater

Announcement has been made of the marriage of C. P. Simmons of Grand Island, Nebraska, and Miss Harriet Slater of Chicago, Illinois, on Christmas day. The ceremony was read by a Congregational minister in the beautifully decorated home of the bride's parents in Chicago. In the presence of about thirty relatives and friends of the couple.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Slater of Chicago, and received her education in Chicago schools. She has been employed for some time in the offices of the Midwest Insurance Co. there.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Frank Simmons of Overland Park, Kansas. He grew to young manhood in Hedley and attended school here, graduating from Hedley high school with the class of 1932. He has many friends here, being a member of one of Hedley's prominent pioneer families.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding dinner was served after which a reception for the couple was held in the Slater home.

The couple will make their home in Grand Island, where the groom is employed with the Western Adjustment and Inspection Co.

The Informer joins a host of friends here and elsewhere in extending congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Simmons.

Leggitt-Blanks

Miss Willis Mae Blanks and Lance Leggitt, both of Lakeview, were united in marriage in Memphis on Saturday, Dec. 30. Rev. Byron Todd, Baptist minister, read the ceremony. They were accompanied by John and Lee Blanks and Misses Josephine and Jean Blanks.

The bride was attractive in an aqua blue dress with tan accessories.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Blanks of Lakeview, and attended Hedley high school, graduating with the class of 1929. She attended college at Canyon, and is employed as a rural mail carrier at Lakeview.

The groom is the son of Mrs. G. B. Leggitt of Hedley. He is a graduate of Lakeview high school and also attended college at Canyon. He is engaged in business at Lakeview, where the couple will make their home.

Both bride and groom have a wide circle of friends in Hall and Donley counties, who will join the Informer in extending congratulations and best wishes for a happy future.

THE HOUSE

An excellent cleaning "weapon" for kitchen utensils is found in a good-sized bottle cork. Moisten the bottom end, dip it in a powdered cleanser and rub the utensil.

To clean rubber sponges put an ounce of bicarbonate of soda in half a pint of water and let them all night in this solution.

When using soap dyes that come in a form, put cake into soap and shake until dye is light. It will not then be necessary to strain dye.

Dessert.—When you have a sauce of apple sauce and don't know what to have for dessert, make a one-egg layer cake, dust the lower layer with powdered sugar and spread with the apple sauce (and this is improved with a bit of candied orange, lemon or grapefruit peel has been coated with it). Cover with the other layer and dust powdered sugar over the top.

When you're frosting cakes be sure to have them free from any loose crumbs. In smoothing the icing use a spatula which is frequently dipped in warm water.

Do not waste cake or bread by cutting off a burned crust. This can be removed by a flat griddle, and it will leave a smooth surface, instead of a jagged crust.

To clean a griddle that has become crusted, put over a very hot fire and cover thickly with salt. The salt has burned brown and a crust and salt will brush off together, leaving the griddle as new. After washing the griddle green well and heat before putting away.

All the Trigger on Constipation, and Pepsin-ize Acid Stomach

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste, and bad breath, your stomach is probably loaded up with undigested food and your bowels do not move. So you need both Pepsin to break up fast that rich undigested food in your stomach, and Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels. So sure your laxative also contains Pepsin. Take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative, because Syrup Pepsin helps you gain that wonderful stomach relief, while the Laxative Senna moves your bowels. Tests prove the power of Pepsin to dissolve those lumpy undigested protein food which may linger in your stomach, to cause belching, gastric acidity and nausea. This is how Pepsinizing your stomach helps relieve it of such distress. At the same time this medicine takes up lazy nerves and muscles in your cells to relieve your constipation. So how much better you feel by taking the Laxative that also puts Pepsin to work on that stomach discomfort, too. Even if you're children love to taste this pleasant, family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative—Senna with Syrup Pepsin at your drugstore today!

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

NEW YORK.—The Finns are going ahead bravely with their plans for this year's Olympic games, and Urho Kekkonen, minister of the interior, crowding out another statesman in the 100-meter race, coming under the wire in 12.5 seconds. His time in a race against the same opponent 15 years ago, was 10.9. Recently, in the Trisathlon, 10 members of the Finnish parliament, some of them with a touch of frost over the ears, engaged in the 100-meter sprint, the broad jump and shot-putting events.

Olympic Flame Still Burning in Helsinki
Mr. Kekkonen, a leader in Finnish politics since Finland gained her independence in 1917, is president of the Finnish Athletic federation and a fervent advocate and exemplar of physical fitness. When, in 1932, the Swedes disqualified Paavo Nurmi, the Finnish distance runner, as an amateur, the Finns slapped a boycott on the Swedes, and, for years thereafter, there was bickering in the Baltic, with Mr. Kekkonen out in front as a peace advocate. In 1935, the Finns refused to lift the boycott, but, under the shadow of foreign aggression, this was more or less forgotten and the sprinting statesman was in the lead for Scandinavian solidarity, in war and sports.

He helped suppress the Communist party in 1930, and with equal vigor drove against the Fascists in later years. In November of last year, the diet sustained him in his move to restrain the 373 Fascist and Nazi organizations in Finland, and their 18 newspapers, but, a month later, a Helsinki magistrate sustained his totalitarian opponents. He followed with a devastating expose of their subversive activities and had the nub of the argument when Germany made its deal with Red Russia, Finland's old bete noir. The Russians are now complaining bitterly that the Finnish sprinters, in the cabinet and out, insist on running in their direction. They seem to think it isn't sporting.

LONG before the Civil war, girls like Scarlett O'Hara were learning to curtsy and how to enter a ballroom in Athens college, at Athens, Ala. Along with news of Atlanta's grand swirl of crinoline and old lace comes word that Athens college, of prunes and prisms tradition, is putting in a big hosiery mill to be operated by the college girls. It will employ 100 students, at 25 cents an hour.

Fine Stockings, Education From Athens College
Dr. Eugene Rudolph Naylor, president of the college, thought up the mill plan and gathered funds for it. He says, "This is a liberal arts college, steeped in the traditions of the Old South, and the main purpose of this experiment is to give the students means to obtain a liberal arts education."

"And," he might have added, "silk stockings to match the education." Cactus colleges have been getting their turn in the spotlight for turning out lethal football. Dr. Naylor, an alumnus of several of them, has been working small-college innovations, of possibly greater interest and importance. He has been president of Columbia college of Milton, Ore., Woman's college of Jackson, Tenn., Logan and Athens colleges, dean of Logan college and professor at Wesleyan, and Emory and Henry colleges. He is a resourceful educator who thinks it's a good idea for girls to learn how much material and work goes into a pair of silk stockings.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S first dollar-a-year man becomes president of the $1,000,000,000 Associated Gas and Electric company. He is Roger J. Whiteford, Washington lawyer, and former general counsel for the Federal Housing administration.

Chalk Up One More for Little Red Schoolhouse
It is a score for the little red schoolhouse in his home town of Whiteford, Md.—named after his ancestors—a schoolhouse in which two signers of the Declaration of Independence were taught. After his graduation from West Nottingham academy, he was a high school principal for five years, at Sandy Springs and Rockville, Md., studied law and began practice at Washington.

His career has been advanced in the profession, and in finance—he holds several important industrial directorates—and his dollar-a-year was his one side-turn to public

WEEKLY Administration Panel For Reciprocal Treaties In Face of Senate Opposition

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

COMMERCE: Trade Battle

Just before Christmas the state department found it wise to announce that no concession on copper tariffs will be made in its reciprocal trade pact with Chile. This set a precedent, because never before has the department divulged such information about an anticipated reciprocal pact before the treaty is consummated. Official reason was "widespread public interest," but behind it lay the vocal protests of copper producing states who would otherwise join in the hue and cry when the reciprocal program comes up for renewal in congress next term.

CORDELL HULL Will he win?

Basis of opposition is the claim that Secretary of State Cordell Hull's trade program breaks down tariff walls and permits foreign products. Under the "most favored nation" clause a concession on wheat from Argentina, for instance, would be granted all other nations holding reciprocal pacts with the U. S. It was rumored in Washington this month that President Roosevelt is girding himself for the toughest congressional fight of his entire administration, if necessary, to extend the act. It was even reported he would attempt to beat Republican critics to the gun by taking his fight to the country before the G. O. P. can make an open issue of it.

Entirely aside from the trade act's influence on U. S. economy, observers noted it was not without important political significance. Since reciprocal agreements are not subject to senate ratification, a lucrative source of legislative logrolling has been forfeited. Proud of his work, Secretary Hull maintains he is working to benefit the entire nation, not any small section. Whether his admittedly sincere policy will prevail is among the most important issues facing the new congress.

AGRICULTURE: Anschluss

Hungry for farm funds (see below) Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace has looked covetously on the well-tended $2,000,000,000 Farm Credit administration fund supervised by its governor, F. F. Hill. So conservative was Mr. Hill that there still remains a $600,000,000 FCA lending power which Mr. Wallace thought should be used to bring FCA's benefits to drought sufferers.

FCA'S HILL No longer...

Alarmed, Mr. Hill pointed out that the $1,400,000,000 in bonds which he has sold to banks and private investors might be jeopardized by a "loose" policy of lending money that might never be repaid. Wall Street, calling the Wallace plan "inflationary," was equally alarmed.

But Henry Wallace was boss. In late December, Franklin Roosevelt found himself called upon to write Mr. Hill a letter: "In accepting your resignation, I want to express my very real appreciation of your services..."

Speculation on FCA's future immediately became rife. Under its new administrator, Dr. A. G. Black, the agency will no doubt lose its independence, tie in closer with the department of agriculture and provide a measure of supervision over the farm operations of its borrowers.

Farm Money

It is no secret that the administration is feverishly seeking to cut the corners in 1940's budget to make way for a $500,000,000 boost in defense expenditures. Most carefully scrutinized item is agriculture, whose parity payments have cost $225,000,000 annually. The treasury's plight is further complicated by congress' failure to provide revenue sources for its farm appropriation the past two years.

Later. Although reports persisted that the President would ask congress to provide $1,050,000,000 in new revenue next year, his keeper of the exchequer started a mild rebellion that may burst into flames when the budget is finally announced. Said Mr. Morgenthau: "I haven't changed my views on consumer taxes; the taxes are now a little over 60 per cent and that's high enough."

Still unsolved was agriculture's No. 1 problem. Other problems: Condition of crops in the winter wheat area, where an unprecedented drought remained unbroken, was officially stated at 55 per cent of normal. This would bring a crop the third smallest on record. The bureau of agricultural economics estimated the farmers' income from his products in 1939 dropped to $7,625,000,000 from $7,627,000,000 the previous year. Although 5,782,000 bales of cotton and cotton products were sold abroad under the export subsidy plan between August 1 and December 15, less than half of it has been shipped because of a shortage of ocean freight space.

PAN AMERICA: Neutrality

High sounding was the 300-mile "neutrality belt" thrown around the Western hemisphere when Europe went to war last September. Chief sponsor was the U. S., whose Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles promised his nation would take the lion's share of patrol duty. But by Christmastide the U. S. was feeling less altruistic.

Buried at Buenos Aires was Capt. Hans Langsdorff, who killed himself after scuttling his shell-battered pocket battleship Graf Spee off Montevideo. British ships, cheated out of the kill, sailed off for other illegal conquests. Roosting at a Florida port was the Nazi freighter Arauco, driven to shelter by a British cruiser. At New York's Ellis island were 577 survivors of the scuttled liner Columbus, whose Capt. Wilhelm Daehne charged a British boat had fired across his bow.

By this time Pan America was aroused that Washington had its choice of enforcing neutrality or sacrificing prestige. With 20 other nations, the U. S. signed an ineffectual protest to the belligerents. Meanwhile Sumner Welles prepared for U. S. participation in the forthcoming Pan American conference, but Washington's enthusiasm was waning. While the state department said as little as possible, while the navy remained unenthusiastic about its job of patrolling a 3,000-mile coast, Captain Daehne and his crew had a merry Christmas as Uncle Sam's guests.

THE WARS: In the West

Germany's eighth railroad accident since September 1 killed more people (53 dead, 30 injured) than were lost in several days on the western front, where an undeclared Yule truce held sway. As usual, there was more activity in the North sea. Britain, which was reported building a speedy fleet of "superplanes," adopted the Reich's trick of laying mines from the air. As the year ended, various forecasts had it that: (1) The next 12 months will bring a raging war; (2) the Netherlands will be invaded by Germany after its canals are frozen over; (3) Britain and France are planning a big naval drive on the Nazis.

In the North

It was an unhappy Christmas for Russia's atheistic Dictator Josef Stalin. Even unhappier were two of his stooges reportedly purged for failure on the Finnish front: Gen. K. A. Meretskov, Leningrad military district's chief of staff, and Otto Kuusinen, Finnish Communist who the "people's" government Russia began her illness. While Helsinki was the face of a threat to the air route...

★ 3 1/2 Hour Picture!
★ Logan Gets a Part
★ When Johnny's Wanted
By Virginia Vale

IN THE midst of all the excitement of giving "Gone With the Wind" its premiere showing at Atlanta, David O. Selznick, the producer, took time out to think of all of us who couldn't be there. Before leaving Hollywood he had held a pre-view for the critics, and their opinion of the picture convinced him that it ought not to be cut.

He had thought that anyway. But the picture runs three hours and 45 minutes—the average film only 80 minutes. Despite his long experience as a producer, he couldn't be sure that the public would sit still that long for any film, no matter how good it was.

The California critics did, and if they would, anybody would. So, on arriving in Atlanta, he announced that it would be released at its present length; perhaps at the end of the first year, it may be cut so that it will run only two hours and a half.

Stanley Logan is off to a good start. The lovely blonde Hungarian, who, according to one critic, "looks like Dietrich, talks like Garbo," and sings like the former, has proved that she is stellar material. In "Balalaika" she did her share to give us a good picture and revive musical films. Of course, she was ably aided by Nelson Eddy, Charles Ruggles and Frank Morgan. Now she is slated for "Old New Orleans," perhaps with Clark Gable in the leading male role.

Stanley Logan, who for the past six years has been one of Hollywood's leading dialogue directors, had to turn actor. He tested himself as candidates for the role of a colonel in the British army, for the Edward Small production, "My Son, My Son," and then was himself selected for the part.

Harry Carey, who won fresh laurels in "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," is going on tour with his son and daughter in a stage skit which he wrote for himself. They will give the first performance in Dallas, Texas, and then tour the South, Midwest and East.

Those bits of music that you hear as background for the "Hobby Lobby" program are written by Dave Elman, its director. He used to write "blues" tunes with W. C. Handy, and just can't stop writing music whenever the opportunity offers.

There's a chance that Olivia de Havilland may get out of those fancy costumes at last. She'll have a chance in "Married, Pretty and Poor"—at least, that's the present title of the remake of "Saturday's Children," which was filmed way back in 1929 after it had been successful as a play. She and John Garfield have been given the leading roles.

Half an hour before "Your Hit Parade" goes on the air the studio looks as if a walking marathon were being staged. Barry Wood walks the fastest, striding about among musicians, sound crews and members of the cast, rehearsing his lines. Bea Wain walks in a circle—never knew she did it until somebody mentioned the fact to her. Mark Warnow, the conductor, is an exception—he just sits.

Say "Johnny's wanted on the phone" at a rehearsal of CBS' "Johnny presents" and you'll think you've started a riot. No less than four males will rush for the wings. They're Johnny Green, the orchestra leader and master of ceremonies; John Johnstone, dramatic producer; Johnny the Call boy, and Johnny Call, a young actor who plays in the dramatizations featured on the program.

And one of the studio pages is on the brink of a nervous breakdown, trying to distinguish between "Call for Johnny Call" and "Call for Johnny the Call Boy."

ODDS AND ENDS—Tyrone Power signed for three years more with 20th Century-Fox; his next picture will be "With the Devil" . . . Clark Gable like to direct pictures; doesn't want to be an actor all his life—but the studio won't let him stop. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action
Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strains on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pain, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

Old Santa Claus visited in the study hall Friday morning. Dec. 22. All his toys, trains, cats, dogs, jack-in-the-box, Little Orphan Annie, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, were with him, but the best present he brought was the 1940 Senior picture for Mr. Payne. A vote was taken by the toys to see if it should be hung in the Old 1939's place. The vote was unanimous, so old Santa took a step ladder and hung it up for all the study hall to view.

The emblem of this picture, by Don Hickey, is a coat of arms. The gems, the senior pictures are studded in a golden shield which is supported by a standard of the scroll, and on either side a flambeau, meaning knowledge encircled with the laurel wreath, meaning peace, through which runs the sword, representing power in strength, and the pen, the power of thought. Those whose pictures appear are: Pau Bailey, J. O. Hiekerson, Faye Leash, Eva Sims, Juanita Harrison, Glenn R. Chason, Ralph Alwine, Neoma Thomas, Don Hickey, Irene Proffitt, Estha Davis, Doris Merle Everett, Nina Jo Foster, Wayne Latimer, Della McLaughlin, Paul Stewart, La Verne Wade, Yvonna Meeks, Mrs. Owen, our sponsor and Mr. Payne.

Familiar Faces in the Hall

Christmas Spirit was revived once again as all of the old Hedley students came back for the Christmas holidays. Some of the old faces that were seen in the hall last Friday were:

Jerry Hunt, a well-known title ex-senior of Hedley, is attending college at Abilene. It seems that the longer Jerry stays away, the bigger the smile he has for every one.

Lamar and Forrest Adams seemed to enjoy themselves in a friendly handshake from everyone as well as a broad grin. Lamar is a Senior at Clarendon and Forrest is a Sophomore at Clarendon Junior College.

M. L. Sims Jr. was a jolly as his stay at home with friendly chats of school days. He is attending Allen Military Academy at Braun.

Weidon Simmons and Von Biggs are still enjoying the comforts of home life in Hedley.

Ivan Jones, the accordion and piano player, is attending Rice Institute at Houston.

Seniors Are Entertained

A jolly group of seniors met at the home of Mrs. Alewine, her room mother, to make Christmas candy and to enjoy a Christmas tree Thursday, December 21, at seven o'clock. The girls, in their print dresses and aprons, with the help of Mrs. Owen made some very delicious fudge, divinity, and date loaf candy. Those who were not busy making candy or testing the books or stealing pens and bits, played dominoes and Chinese checkers.

After the candy making, the group gathered in the living room around the beautiful Christmas tree laden with gifts. Each person received a toy, either a doll, car or some other kind of a child's toy. We presented to our room mother and sponsor a nice gift for their willingness to work with this class. A merry Christmas echoed clearly through the air as each said good night and departed.

Basketball

The scratching really took place last Tuesday night, Dec. 19, at the Hedley auditorium when the Hedley Owls and the Lakeview Eagles met. The Junior boys started the feud and victory came their way with a score of 35 to 25. The second string forgot the spinach before the game and lost their title with a score of 16 to 28. Much to their surprise, the first string lost their honor with a score of 32 to 34.

Assembly

The entire Hedley School participated in the singing Christmas carols in assembly, Dec. 21. The primary group, accompanied by Mrs. Watkins rendered the following numbers: Christmas and The Air, Christmas Bells, Away in the Manger.

The elementary group, accompanied by Miss Cleek, sang It Came Upon A Midnight Clear and O Little Town of Bethlehem. The entire group gave a bible scripture reading, The Christmas Story, Bucky Everett read A Christmas Dream.

The high school, with the aid of Mrs. Watkins and Mrs. Owen sang Joy to the World, Hark! The Herald Angels Sing, and The First Noel. As a finale the high school group sang Merry Xmas.

The church We played games backward and forward and had so much to eat that we could hardly walk to go caroling, after the party.

Old Santa Claus happened to drop in right in the middle of the party, giving us a lot of presents. The room mother gave us all a big sack of "goodies".

New Year Speed

When 1946 reaches New York City in a blast of noise at 12:01 a. m. Monday, it will already be early Monday evening just east of Australia in the Chatham Islands. Meanwhile, at Honolulu the clock will register 6:30 p. m. Sunday. The new year is born on the lonely Chatham Islands, 414 miles southeast of New Zealand and races westward at 1,000 miles an hour. About 200 shepherds and fishermen in the Chatham group celebrate the New Year by ringing the church bell on Hanson Island. The international date line, near these isles, was set by the British admiralty and runs near the 180th meridian of longitude.

What Do You Know About 1939?

- Who is this handsome youngster and who divorced her—to marry what swimmer, who was recently divorced?
- These feet belong to a baseball player who had to quit in 1939 after playing about 2,300 consecutive games. Who is he?
- Whose nose is this? When and why did it make news most of last summer, and where did all this take place?
- This horse won a big race last May and his name isn't Man O' War, Lawrin, El Chico, or War Admiral. Who is he? What race?
- This Italian gentleman's name was Filippo Pacelli. What happened on his son's 62d birthday, March 2, 1939?
- This demonstration ended when someone said, "You cannot strike against the government." Who said it? To whom?

- Something quite astonishing happened to the piece of land shown in black. What's its name and who owns it now?
- This young gentleman went traveling abroad last summer. What is his name and where did he go? What's wrong with him?
- This man left on a long, cold trip, and he won't be home until late in 1940. Who is he? Why did he go there?

HERE'S THE ANSWERS—DON'T PEEK!

- Fanny Brice, divorced by Billy Rose to marry Eleanor Hoan.
- Lois Gehrig.
- Schmearle Squalas, sunk off Portsmouth, N. H. Picture taken during unsuccessful attempt to raise her.

- Eugene Cardinal Pacelli became Pope Pius XII.
- President Roosevelt said it. WPA workers were striking against new wage provisions.
- Albania, seized by Italy. Formerly ruled by King Zog.
- Fred Smitz Jr., infantile paralysis victim, went to shrine at Lourdes, France.
- Admiral Richard E. Byrd. He went to Antarctica to stake out land for the U. S.
- Yugoslavia.
- Italy.
- Greece.
- Mediterranean.
- Something quite astonishing happened to the piece of land shown in black. What's its name and who owns it now? Answer—Yugoslavia.
- This young gentleman went traveling abroad last summer. What is his name and where did he go? What's wrong with him? Answer—Italy.
- This man left on a long, cold trip, and he won't be home until late in 1940. Who is he? Why did he go there? Answer—Case.

Warning for Bachelors: Maids Propose in 1940!

Run for cover, you bachelors. It's leap year! Twenty-nine days hath February in 1940, which gives the maidens free rein to blurt out those marriage proposals they've been saving since 1936. Leap year is so-called because it "leaps forward" a day as compared with an ordinary year. It so happens that the leap years coincide with years divisible by four without remainder.

'Self-Serve' Party Enjoyed by Guests On New Year's Eve

ENTERTAINING guests on New Year's eve? It's being done more than ever before this year as America turns to stay-at-home entertainment. If so, you'll want an informal affair with a buffet style supper late in the evening, patterned after the Swedish "smorgasbord." The table is generally placed in the center of the room and covered with any kind of linen suitable for the occasion. Plates are placed in a pile at one side of the food to be served—you'll find guests enjoy serving themselves! Your menu can be very plain or very fancy, as you prefer. Here are a few samples from which you can choose:

- Menu No. I
 Chicken Mousse on Lettuce, Rolled Sandwiches, Assorted Cheese, Crackers
Menu No. II
 Spaghetti and Chicken Livers Assorted Sandwiches, Cold Meats, Pickles, Olives, Stuffed Celery, Frozen Dessert, Small Cakes
Menu No. III
 Lettuce Sandwiches, Toasted Cheese and Bacon Sandwiches, Ham or Chicken à la King in Patty Cases, Mixed Sweet Pickles, Orange Layer Cake
Menu No. IV
 Assorted Canapes and Relishes, Crabmeat or Shrimp Salad, Welsh Rarebit, Hot Biscuit, Chocolate Cup Cakes, with Whipped Cream Filling, Beverages

Plan 'Clock' Party Over New Year's; Do It This Way:

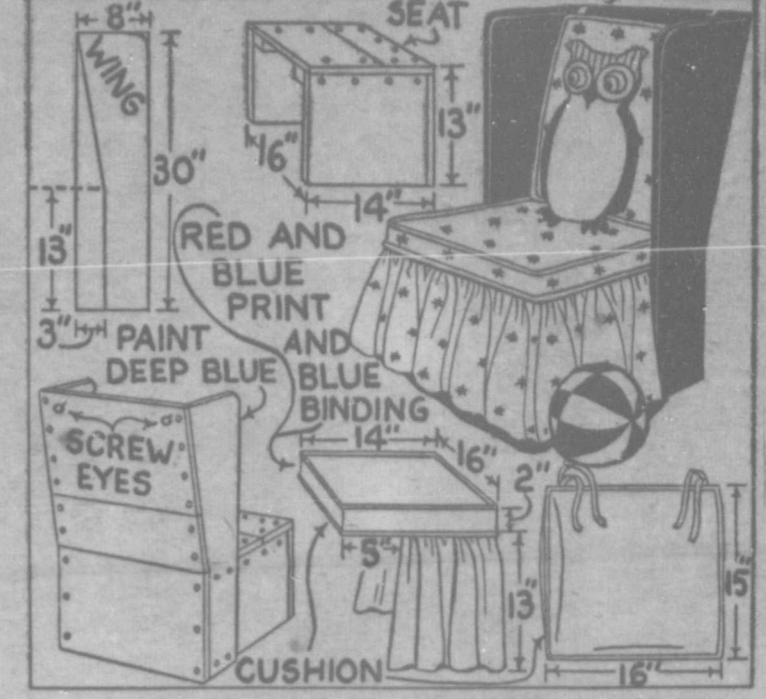

Plan a "clock party" to entertain your guests New Year's eve. For this you'll need all the alarm and "striking" clocks you can find. Set them at different hours and put them in all sorts of unusual places so that chimes and gongs will sound from everywhere in the most unexpected way—under davenport cushions, in the dining room buffet and behind the radio.

Use black-and-white decorations, with clock faces drawn on white cardboard peering from everywhere, black-and-white paper drapes, a black-and-white checkered paper cloth for your table, and black-and-white glass or china.

You can have a clever question-and-answer clock game, too. Have your questions typed on slips of paper with space for answers. Pass them around, set a time limit for answering, and make your prizes something to do with time—a calendar, diary, kitchen clock or egg-timer. Here are some typical questions:

- What book of the Bible is on a clock? Answer—Numbers.
- What part of a clock means most to an Oriental? Answer—Face.
- What has a bed in common with a mine? Answer—Springs.
- What of a clock would most interest a doctor? Answer—Case.
- What has a clock that a clock has? Answer—Hands.

HOW by Ruth Wyem

A GOOD deal has been said in children having to live in a world where all the furniture is made for grown-ups. Furniture stores are now selling chairs; tables; beds and dressers made for children. Here are all the dimensions needed for making a child's chair at home. It is of 1-inch material and the sketch shows clearly how it is screwed together after the pieces have been sawed according to the measurements given. The chair is painted deep blue; the back, seat cushions and full skirt are of red and blue cotton print with blue bindings. All dimensions for the cushions and skirt are also given in the sketch.

- The Questions
- Can you write 600 in Roman numerals?
 - Is the income of the President taxable?
 - Who cut the Gordian Knot?
 - Which of our wars was known as Mr. Madison's war?
 - Which is the middle verse of the Bible?
 - Which woman has had more statues erected to her memory than any other woman?
 - Which race is increasing its population the fastest?
 - Do plants grow more at night than during the day?
 - Which is the correct quotation: "Far from the maddening crowd," or "Far from the maddening crowd"?
 - What per cent of the world's population is still governed by monarchs?

- The Answers
- DC.
 - His salary as President is not. Any other income he may have, is.
 - Alexander the Great.
 - The War of 1812.
 - The eighth verse of the 118th Psalm.
 - Joan of Arc.
 - The white races of the world are doubling their populations every 80 years, the yellow and brown races every 60 years and the black races every 40 years.
 - Although trees and other green plants require light to develop, virtually all of their growth takes place at night. Those in dark or shaded places grow faster than those exposed to brighter light.
 - "Far from the maddening crowd," from Gray's Elegy.
 - Despite the widespread change in the governments since the World War, eight hundred million persons, or 40 per cent of the entire population of the globe, still are governed by kings, queens, emperors and other monarchs.

History's Biggest Bang

The blowing up of the volcanic island of Krakaton, in August, 1883, provided the biggest explosion in history. Two-thirds of the island "went west," and the catastrophe caused huge waves that traveled half round the earth. The air disturbance was also terrific, and scientists estimate that air waves went seven times round the world. The sea rose 50 feet, and rushed up the beaches of Java and Sumatra, destroying 300 villages and drowning over 30,000 people.

Let's go to town - at home!

NO TELLING what tomorrow's weather may be. It fools the best forecaster. But we do want chins for the windows. We do need a carpet sweeper, a new percolator, and a new and-tale in the living-room. And we don't want to slush around rainy streets to hunt them. Problem: How to thwart the weather man. Simple enough! Let's sit down by the fireplace and read the advertisements. Here it's comfortable and snug. We'll take the newspaper page by page, compare prices, qualities, brand-names. Tomorrow, rain or shine, we'll head for the store that has what we want, and be home again in a jiffy.

Their Education a Matter of Statewide Concern

As South Dakota's famed Schense quadruplets reach their ninth birthday their education becomes a matter of concern to the entire state. A campaign is now in progress to raise sufficient funds to enable them to take advantage of educational facilities at a boarding school. The quadruplets, who live on a farm near Hecla, are, left to right, Jean, Joan, Jimmy and Jay. Hundreds of interested South Dakota residents are contributing to the fund, which will guarantee the quadruplets a thorough education. However, the four children couldn't be bothered thinking about educational problems during their birthday.

THIS pony may be made of oil cloth or other waterproof fabric. It is stuffed with cotton or bits of soft cloth, and is a fascinating toy for a gift or to sell at bazaars.

Rule paper into 1-inch squares, number them; then draw pattern outlines, as shown. The pattern for the body is shown at A; mane at B; tail C; ears D. Strip E joins the two sides of the body. The openings are for mane and tail. The projections show where ears are sewed. Cut two pieces for each ear and the tail; sew together, padding slightly. Strip F is for bottoms of feet; and under part of body and legs. The raw edges are sewn together on the right side as at the lower right, with heavy thread to match tail and mane.

NOTE: Mrs. Spears' 32-page Sewing Book No. 4, contains directions for making dolls; items for all ages; and novelties that have sold unusually well at bazaars. She will mail copy upon receipt of name, address and 10 cents in coin.

Adamson Announces for Re-election

I hereby announce my candidacy for reelection to second term to the office of tax assessor and collector of Donley county, to which the voters of Donley county elected me two years ago. During my first term I have tried to fill the office to the best of my ability and have tried to treat all courteously and I will greatly appreciate your support for my second term.

My announcement covers the office of sheriff and tax assessor and collector, because it is almost certain that the offices will be combined and that the sheriff will be assessor and collector of taxes for the coming term, 1941-1942, since the Constitution of Texas provides in Article 8 section 16 that in counties having less than ten thousand population according to the preceding United States Census the sheriff shall be assessor and collector of taxes. The census is not out and will not be until sometime during the summer of 1940, but all indications are that Donley county will have less than ten thousand people.

I assure you that I will do my dead level best to serve the people of Donley county to the best of my ability.

On Saturday, Dec. 23, the children and grandchildren of T. R. Kidd began to arrive at the Cherry home, and by Christmas eve they were all there, each bringing gifts for the tree, which was loaded by Sunday night. As the little girls were singing Christmas carols Santa Claus knocked and asked Loyd Kidd to distribute the gifts as he had to visit other little boys and girls. Each one was made happy as his number was called and Lanell Cherry passed the gifts. Then there were baskets filled with oranges, apples, candy and nuts.

Those present at the tree were T. J. Cherry and family, J. E. Kidd and family, L. E. Howell and family and T. R. Kidd of Hedley, W. T. Wallace and family of Amarillo, Robert Earl Kidd and Loyd Kidd and family of Albuquerque, Mrs. Balford Rochell and son of Amherst and George Reynolds and wife of Turkey.

By Friday morning all had departed for their homes after having spent six days of real joy together.

To the People of Donley County

In announcing my candidacy for the Office of Sheriff of Donley County, Texas; I wish briefly to state that I have been a legal resident of Donley County all my life and have served you as Deputy Sheriff for six (6) years. My record is open for investigation.

I feel that by virtue of my experience and training that I am fully qualified to handle the duties of the office efficiently. I received my education in the Clarendon Public Schools and School of Business Administration of Tyler Commercial College Tyler, Texas.

I have never sought a public office before, nevertheless, I am fully aware of the duties and responsibilities of the office of Sheriff and I am not afraid to accept the office if elected. I assure you an honest and fair administration. My candidacy is not aided or abetted by any party or clique.

And if the 1940 Federal Census should drop the population of Donley County, below the 10,000 mark, and the offices of Sheriff, Assessor and Collector, should be combined, I will be a candidate for the combined offices.

Your influence and careful consideration is earnestly solicited.

Sincerely yours,
Guy Wright

To the Citizens of the 100th Judicial District

JUDGE A. S. MOSS

In announcing my candidacy for a second term as District Judge for the 100th Judicial District, I do so with the deepest feeling of gratitude and appreciation for the confidence shown by the citizenship of our district by placing this office in my trust for the past term.

In submitting my candidacy for my present term, I pledged myself to serve you as honestly, efficiently and fairly as was possible for me to do; and in doing so to perform all the duties of the Court at the lowest cost to the tax payers. I have constantly exerted every effort to fulfill each promise to the best interest of good and uniform law enforcement together with the most economical administration of the responsibilities of the District Court.

Further, I pledged myself to assist the executive officers in the honest discharge of their duties in every way that my position required or would permit. Every citizen of this district knows of my efforts to have an impartial and uniform enforcement of the law through the District Court. In every charge delivered to the Grand Jury, and in every other way possible, I have tried to see that the whole of the law was enforced fairly with justice to everyone alike.

As to the economical administration of the duties and responsibilities of the District Court, I submit that in each county the expense has been held near the minimum. Upon the District Judge rests the responsibility of properly planning the course to be followed each term of court to avoid unnecessary expense. I have worked at this job diligently and desire to have express my thanks and appreciation to all of the officers, the grand jurors, the jury commissioners, the trial jurors and the citizenship generally who have worked with the offer the splendid cooperation received from all concerned in achieving toward this goal.

In asking for your support for a second term, I pledge myself again entrusted with the office to serve you as I have done in the past, believing that I will be able to render better service by reason of my experience and knowledge acquired while acting as your District Judge.

Trusting that my tenure in office has met with your approval and will merit your vote of confidence, I am

Sincerely,
A. S. Moss
