Belligerents Tight... Pressu On Lesser Neutral Cour Rumania Veers Back

(EDITOR'S NOTE-When opinions are expressed in thes are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of the Released by Western Newspaper Union

EUROPE:

Pressure on the Neutrals

Of all the lesser European states whose princes and presidents were straddling fences, none was busier than Rumania's King Carol. The Rumanian pendulum, which for six months has swung from pro-Nazi to pro-ally and back again, took a definite swing to the allies again. But it was all a result of pressure. First Carol had levied a 25 per cent export tax on oil. When Ger-many had disapproved, Carol had agreed to ship 41 per cent of his 1940 oil production to the Reich. The allies, which own 50 per cent of Rumania's oil wells, disapproved that time, putting the screws on Rumanian imports.

In desperation, Carol took a final step which appeased the allies but left him facing Germany's renewed wrath. Banned were exports of all vital war materials, including the aviation gasoline which Germany covets. Meanwhile Carol called 1,000,000 men to the colors and hoped for the best.

To the southeast, Turkey ordered lation of placed itself on war footing, while newspapers warned the public that Europe's war might soon spread to the near east. Turkey was ready to march the instant an invader set foot in the Balkans.

Equally jittery were the Scandinavian states. Norway continued protesting to Britain over the Altmark incident, and Swedish wrath rose over Russian bombing of Pajala, a border town near the Finnish frontier. Meanwhile the foreign ministers of both these nations met with Denmark's foreign minister in Copenhagen, expressing cautious hopes that they might remain neutral and that the wars might soon be ended. Of the three Scandinavian states, only Denmark had a really good chance of staying neutral, for Russia was moving closer.

In the North: Death

A fierce struggle for Viipuri, key city on the Karelian isthmus seemed ending when the invading Russians captured Koivisto island fortress, guardian to Viipuri bay. Meanwhile what was described as the war's "biggest battle" was reported developing in the far-north primary contests. Republicans were Petsamo region.

Fighting a game but losing battle in the south, the Finns were mowing down 2,500 to 3,000 Reds a day. Not announced were their own losses, which, because they were defending instead of attacking, probably were not so great.

In the West: Speeches

Unrestricted marine warfare continued between Britain and Germany, but the biggest naval development was reported from the Arctic where a French-British naval squad.

POLITICS: 'Another Martha'

Stamping up and down the land in late February was a politician's wife whose campaigning was more effective than her husband's. She was Mrs. Robert A. Other political news: @ Presidential primaries were proving a disappointment to both parties. C G. O. P. National Committeeman Joseph Martin resigned, thus intimating he has no presidential ambitions. Reason: His duties as G. O. P. house minority leader require his full attention.

CONGRESS: Battle's End

For three months the administration had held its breath over the greatest congressional battle Franklin Roosevelt ever anticipated. When it came, the battle turned out to be a dud. Passed 216-168 by the house was a resolution to extend for three years Secretary of State Cordell Hull's reciprocal trade program. The resolution was then forwarded pily for home, planning to join his platinum blonde wife in night club work.

Died in Jasper, Ala.: Hope, sister to the senate, where victory was generally predicted. Western senators would certainly fight to regain ratification power over the treaties, but observers gave them no chance for success. Also in congress: The house banking and currency committee okayed a $100,000,000 boost in the Export-Import Bank's capital, providing funds for non-military loans to China and Firland. Inserted were amendments (1) permitting loans for purchase of commercial (non-military) planes, and (2) denying loans to any nation in default of debts to the U. S.

The senate refused overwhelmingly an effort (sponsored by Massachusetts' Henry Cabot Lodge) to withhold funds for the U.S. embassy at Moscow.

Hing Curtain Window Cupbo.

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS WHY not build cupboards at each side of a pair of windows and a comfortable seat between? This takes very little space and adds useful storage room; as well as a cozy place to sit. The cupboards are hidden by hinged curtains that are a part of the general window treatment. The chintz for the valance and seat pad is in tan, yellow and bluegreen. The blue-green edges the curtains and valance and is used also for the two cushions. The frilled glass curtains are clear yellow. The closet curtains tacked to a hinged arm may be swung back just as you would open a door. . . .

NOTE: Mrs. Spears has prepared four booklets for our readers containing a total of 128 thrifty homemaking ideas; with step-bystep illustrated directions. Each book contains an assortment of curtains; slip covers; household furnishings; rag rugs; toys; gifts and novelties for bazaars. ### Pull the Trigger on Constipation, and Pepsin-ize Acid Stomach Too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste, and bad breath, your stomach is probably loaded up with certain undigested food and your bowels don't move. So you need both Pepsin to help break up fast that rich undigested food in your stomach, and Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels. So be sure your laxative also contains Pepsin. Take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative, because its Syrup Pepsin helps you gain that wonderfulstomach comfort, while the Laxative Senna moves your bowels. Tests prove the power of Pepsin to dissolve those lumps of undigested protein food which may linger in your stomach, to cause belching, gastric acidity and nausea. This is how pepsinizing your stomach helps relieve it of such distress. At the same time this medicine wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your bowels to relieve your constipation. So see bowels to relieve your constipation. So see how much better you feel by taking the laxative that also puts Pepsin to work on that stomach discomfort, too. Even finicky children love to taste this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Lax-ative—Senna with Syrup Pepsin at your druggist today!

By this year the peanut harvest has become so great that a serious problem faced more than 30,000 southern farm families who depend on the crop for their livelihood. Organized aid was provided through special producer-consumer drives, the latest in a series to move surplus farm products, by independent merchants and by the rapid distribution system of food chain stores .-

To date they've found 300 such uses, including a peanut base face powder (above) and a very satisfactory shaving cream (upper left). But peanut butter, of which the U.
