Womack Funeral Home to Open in Clarendon, Memphis, McLean

Due to the fact that the Womack Burial Home is fast becoming one of the strongest associations in the state, it has become necessary to open funeral homes in Memphis, Clarendon and McLean in order to properly serve their policy holders and many friends.

Hedley will remain headquarters, being centrally located so that they can offer the quickest and best service to the people of this section.

Due to such a large demand for their services, they are opening funeral homes in these various localities in order that their services, which have been so widely accepted may be available to all the residents of this area.

Their services to their customers have created such good will and satisfaction that popular demand has led them to take this step.

District Conference

The Hedley church was well represented at the Methodist District Conference at Quitoque with six members attending. All who attended agreed that they had a very fine conference. Dr. Vilet of Nashville, Tenn. brought a very helpful and inspiring message.

Plenty of sorghum seed for sale. See E. F. Fotherberry.

If the future can be judged by the past tornadoes will strike in every section of the country this spring. No state is immune to this hazard. With the present low rate for windstorm and hail insurance every piece of property in Hedley should be insured against these hazards.

J. C. Bales Dies

J. C. Bales, a resident of Mc Knight for 25 years, passed away in a Memphis hospital last Wednesday night after a lengthy illness.

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church by Rev. A. G. McClung, assisted by Rev. I. E. Biggs and Rev. M. E. Wells. Interment was made in Rowe cemetery under direction of the Womack Funeral Home.

Joe C. Bales was born in Hall county, Georgia. He came to Texas at an early age, and was reared at Bowie. He is survived by his wife and seven children, Mrs. Cristler of Pampa, Mrs. C. P. Merriman of Borger, Andrew of Memphis, Ben of Hedley, Des of Gladewater, Marvin of Monroe, La., and Will of Bakersfield, Calif.

The informant extends sincere sympathy to the bereaved.

Lost—a white face heifer weighing 600 lbs. Branded on left shoulder T V. Notify Saunders and Tollett. $5 reward.

Mrs. Della Warner

Funeral services were held Monday at the First Methodist Church in Clarendon for Mrs. Della Warner, 63, who passed away at her home there Saturday after a lengthy illness. Rev. J. G. Gordon conducted the service. Interment was made in the Clarendon cemetery under direction of Womack Funeral Home of Hedley.

She is survived by her husband, J. T. Warner, one son and two daughters.

Bowling Club News

The top team in the league, Jack's Cafe, finally lost a game to Hall Station, making the cafe and Moreman Haws, tied for the lead with three games won and one lost.

In the ladies league the Thompson team is leading with two victories and no defeats.

Free coffee and lemonade are now being served to team players each night, after the games, at Jack's Cafe.

Gleaners Class

The Gleaners class met Friday April 12 with Mrs. M. G. Whitfield hostess. We opened by singing "What a Friend We Have in Jesus."

Devotional, Mrs. Whitfield, 10th chapter of Luke.

Prayer, Mrs. Masterson.

Our lesson was "The Pines of the Missionary in the World of Today," led by Mrs. Kendall, and it was really good. We closed by singing Blessed be the Tie that Binds" and our motto "Do with our might what our hands find to do."

We will meet with Mrs. Keeninger Friday, the 26th so bring whatever you like best.

Mrs. Whitfield served lovely refreshments to tea present, Mesdames Biggs, Kendall, Masterson, Shaw, Keeninger, Todd, Whitfield, Pyle and Hall.

Harry Womack attended a luncheon given by Group Hospital Service officials at Amarillo Wednesday.

Jane Keith Hall and Dorothy Dishman spent the past week end in Amarillo.

Flare Skirt For Dressing Table

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS
HOW to cut a flared dress table skirt without fullness at the top, is something worth knowing. You may be making a smartly tailored affair of white pique with pink bindings and buttons, like the one shown here; or an under lining for a full skirt of transparent material.

The diagram shows how to make a pattern for half of the skirt. The center front may be placed on a fold of the goods in cutting if there is no front opening. Cut the paper by the dimensions in the diagram. Mark point A in 14-inches from the upper left corner. Measure up from the lower right corner a distance equaling the length of the skirt from A to the left edge of the paper and mark point C. Connect these points with lines drawn, as shown.

NOTE: The new 32-page edition of Book 1—"Sewing for the Home Decorator," shows three other interesting styles of dressing tables, with detailed directions for making. Also slip covers, draw curtains; and numerous household articles. Write Mrs. Spears for a copy, enclosing 10 cents to cover cost. Address:

Decision Was Quite Just, Considering the Evidence

The magistrate was deaf, but certainly not deaf to the two men before him. The first man leaned forward earnestly.

"Sir," he exclaimed, "this man owes me a grocery bill amounting to no less than $20, and refuses to pay it!"

The second man sprang up. "That's a lie!" he cried, indignantly. "My dog didn't bite him."

There was a pause while the magistrate reviewed the situation, then he announced his decision.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I fully appreciate your feelings, but I can see no reason why you should not combine to support your mother."

Tabby's Titles

Recently there was published a phonetic translation of sounds in different languages, and the cat's miaow was one sound which each of these languages interpreted in the same way. It is strange that the word "cat" is so similar in various languages.

In Scandinavia the animal is called "katt," in France "chat," in Germany "katze," in Holland "cat," in Italy "gatto," in Spain, "gato," in Russia "kats," and in Poland "kot." And the Romans had a word for it—"catus."

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
 (Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK—For 16 years, unable to see or move, Edward Sheldon has lain motionless, with a black satin mask over his eyes, and in that time he has dictated several of the 15 plays which have established him as a leading American dramatist. Calm in his affliction, he found that he had gained even a larger world, in his New York penthouse room, as he drew his friends to him, not in compassion, but in eager working partnership in the theater. Producers, actors and dramatists find him an invaluable friend and consultant. His tireless and creative mind knows no darkness or failure.

The United States Supreme court awards to Mr. Sheldon and his collaborator, Margaret Ayres Barnes, 20 per cent of the $387,000 profits from the film "Letty Lynton," sustaining their contention that the film infringed the copyright of their play "Dishonored Lady." The decision, the culmination of eight years of litigation, marks the Supreme court's biggest Broadway hit since Kaufman and Connelly put it in "Of Thee I Sing."

Young Edward Sheldon, wealthy, gifted and handsome, Harvard '07, was a run-away success, with his first play, "Salvation Nell," produced in 1908. With the late Sidney Howard, he had written the play "Bewitched" when he was stricken with paralysis and blindness in 1924. "Years of Grace," written thereafter, brought him the Pulitzer Prize, in 1931.

Miss Barnes, his collaborator, overcame similar disaster in finding her way into her career. Critically injured in an automobile accident in France, in 1925, she lay for months in a plaster cast. Her hands were free to write—something she always had hoped to do. She wrote a novel, and, recovering, returned to America, found a publisher and an open road ahead in authorship. Like Edward Sheldon, she also is a Chicagoan.

BRANSON RETIRES
 As Band Leader After 41 Years
 Capt. Taylor Branson lays down his baton after 41 years with the band, and 13 years as its leader. The band and the captain together have paced forward quite a stretch of American history, to the enrichment of the national musical annals. The marches which Captain Branson has composed, foot-tickers of them, include "Tell It to the Marines," "Marines of Belleau Wood," "The President's Own," and "Eagle, Globe and Anchor." Of distinguished professional attainments, he has delved deeply into our national musical lore and is an authority on the various tributary streams of folk music which have flowed into it. Among his predecessors as leaders of the band have been John Philip Sousa, Francisco Fanciulle and W. H. Santelmann, whose son, William F. Santelmann now succeeds him.

Six feet tall, weighing 200 pounds, impressive and commanding in his independent uniform, Captain Branson has been a conspicuous figure in Washington and he and his band have been inseparable from dramatic moments at the capital. He was born in Washington in 1881 and entered the band as a clarinet player in 1898. In recent years radio has carried his fame beyond Washington.

THE name of Judge Peyton Gordon of the federal district court in Washington, may find a durable imprint in legal history books, if the higher courts sustain his finding that the government may prosecute labor unions for monopolistic practices. It is the first such decision ever rendered by a federal court in the field of union jurisdictional warfare.

For 20 years he fought fraud and claims cases for the government, as assistant U. S. district attorney in Washington. In 1921, President Harding named him district attorney and President Coolidge appointed him justice of the Supreme court of Washington. He was a hard-hitting prosecutor in the Teapot Dome and later Sinclair contempt cases. In the world war he served as a major in the Judge Advocate General's corps. He was in Washington, in 1870, and graduated from Columbia university.

Nazi Invasion of Scandinavia Draws Berlin Closer to Reds; Europe Awaits Rome Reaction

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
 Released by Western Newspaper Union.

INVASION:

Europe's long dormant warfare suddenly sprang into action. First sign was a North sea battle in which a German troop transport was lost. If the world wondered how troops happened to be moving in the North sea, the answer was not long in coming. Fatalistically, Danes watched their little nation occupied by Germans. A few hours later Nazi troops, planes and warships descended on Norway, which immediately declared war and asked for British-French aid. Neutral for the moment were Sweden and Finland, caught between the Russ-Nazi pincers. Immediate object of the German attack: To defeat Britain's North sea blockade and safeguard Swedish steel shipments bound for Germany. Immediately the European air was filled with question marks. Would this sudden turn of events draw Russia and Berlin closer together in a common drive against Scandinavia? Most important, what reaction would this abortive Nazi attack bring from Italy, sole major European power still at peace?

TALKIE WAR:
 Everybody was making speeches in England, France, Germany, Canada, and elsewhere. Mainly, they were fight talks, intended to convince neutrals, enemies, and home public that this was not a phoney war. Premier Reynaud of France was especially insistent that the war was gen-u-ine, and broadcast as much by radio to the United States. He assured Americans that the allies would win, and would inaugurate a "real" peace.

In Germany, Airmaster Goering, Filmmaster Goebbels, and Labor-boss Ley also talked their heads off. The usually well-balanced Goering said, in a speech to some of his student flyers, that Germany was going to strike a deadly blow in the western theater of war, whenever Herr Hitler decided to finish off the allies. It all sounded very impressive. Pudge Dr. Lay, ever bellicose, got off some of his generally pungent observations, which tend to take an anti-capitalist angle.

Prime Minister Chamberlain said he was "10 times" as confident as he was last September, and he and his generals gave the impression that, somehow, they had out-bluffed the Nazis on the western front. According to these gentry, Hitler had lost his golden opportunity for an overwhelming Blitzkrieg attack, and that from now on the Fuehrer was going to get it, economically, in the neck. Intensification of the blockade, the English chieftains stressed, Chamberlain re-shuffled his cabinet, but seemed to satisfy nobody very much. Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, who now wears a yachting cap, was made director of all three unified armed services. Churchill and Chamberlain never have been friendly, and Churchill's elevation was received with mixed emotions.

Following young Minister Cromwell's "boner" in Canada, came another "unfortunate" speech by Gordon Conant, attorney general of Toxy-minded Ontario. Conant spouted that the allies might lose if the United States did not enter the war; and that Canada had better exert every effort to snare Uncle Sam in the coils of Mars. Secretary Hull was annoyed, as were congressmen, Gordon D. Conant, attorney general of Ontario, who urged Canadians to help enlist active support of the U. S. in the allies' cause.

If Edward G. Robinson, of the movies and radio's "Big Town" can arrange his schedules, he and Mrs. Robinson will accompany Symphony Maestro Leopold Stokowski on that musical jaunt to South America with a troupe of young American musicians. Stokowski is taking a complete symphony orchestra with him, composed of talented young American musicians.

COUNTING SHEEP:
 Roosevelt told census-takers that his income was more than $5,000, while Senator Tobey continued to attack the personal-financial census data. He charged that some of the census "snoopers" were communists, others the creditors of their victims, and still more the enemies of the well-to-do. Secretary Hopkins, badgered on all fronts, had sent forth 120,000 of these so-called creatures, to "prey" on the estimated 135,000,000 Americans. Hopkins told his census-takers to act polite. How polite they would act with Senator Tobey, remained to be seen.

WEAPONS:
 The U. S. battle fleet eased out of its San Diego Pacific base, for seven weeks of maneuver on Fleet Problem 21—activity designed to teach the boys in blue how to protect our West coast and Pacific outposts. A Japanese admiral protested, but nobody paid much attention to his ire. The navy, also, had under construction a flying boat boasting 34 tons and 9,000 horsepower, which will be good for a round-trip to Japan, where the hostile admirals grow.

Star Dust STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
 (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

"REBECCA" was released at last, a few weeks ago, and people are still arguing about it; the chances are that the arguments will continue for a long, long time. For it's one of those cases of "If you liked the book you probably won't like the picture."

That's unfortunate, because the picture is superb. Hitchcock, the top-notch English director, handled it unusually well. Technically, it could hardly be bettered. The eerie, supernatural feeling that pervaded the book has been admirably brought to the screen.

Joan Fontaine, under Hitchcock's direction, gave such a performance that she has proved her right to being known as an excellent actress in her own right; the time may come when Olivia de Havilland will be known as "Joan Fontaine's sister," instead of its being the other way round. The entire cast is exceptionally good; it's one of the best pictures that have come out of Hollywood in a long, long time. So, even though you were quite mad about the book, don't miss seeing it.

Joan Crawford had already been passed by the Production Code administration.

Barbara Stanwyck is very proud of the gift with which Robert Taylor celebrated their first seven months of wedded bliss—a diamond-studded pin in the shape of a covered wagon.

Eight-year-old Johnny Sheffield is a hero, partly as a result of his role as Tarzan's son in a picture made not so long ago. The other day he and Ann Todd, who's a year younger, were working in a scene for RKO's "Little Orvie," when a water main burst, flooding the set knee-deep. Before any of the grown-ups could reach them, Johnny swung Ann onto his back and marched her to safety.

John Farrow, Maureen O'Sullivan's director husband, felt so strongly about getting into the war that he gave up his job and was sworn into the Royal Canadian navy; he's a lieutenant, and off to the wars.

If Edward G. Robinson, of the movies and radio's "Big Town" can arrange his schedules, he and Mrs. Robinson will accompany Symphony Maestro Leopold Stokowski on that musical jaunt to South America with a troupe of young American musicians.

Edward G. Robinson

Few people knew how much the Hollywood preview of "Primrose Path" meant to Joan Carroll. In it she plays Ginger Rogers' brat sister, and the option on her services was written to run not longer than three days after the picture's official preview. The contract provided that she would be signed to a five-year studio contract if the audience reaction was favorable for her.

Probably no showing of a picture ever meant more to a girl. She's done her best, and all she could do was sit and wait—to see if a lot of strangers liked her. When you see it—and it's swell, don't miss it—you can imagine how she felt. When the showing was over, and she learned that she'd won that coveted contract, she wanted to embrace everybody in that audience.

Ken Murray, master of ceremonies of CBS's "Star Theater," says he turned comedian when he was fired from his first stage job, which was not so very long ago. He tried to crash vaudeville, and a comedian who felt sorry for him told him that his jokes were terrible, and offered to take him along as a "straight" man. On his first two appearances in that capacity Ken got practically all the laughs—and lost his job. Whereupon he became a successful comedian in his own right.

Correct Constipation Before—Not After

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of emergency relief. Why? You'll suffer those dull, lifeless days because of constipation, why bring on the need for emergency medicines, when there may be a far better way? The way is to KEEP regular by getting at the cause of the trouble. If it's common constipation, due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, a pleasant, nutritious, ready-to-eat cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran—goes straight to the cause by supplying the "bulk" you need. Eat this crunchy toasted cereal regularly, drink plenty of water, and see if you don't forget all about constipation. All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

Both the boys and the girls finished this event last week.

Round robin games were played by each in which Eutha Davis' team won the girls and J. M. Dickinson's team won the boys.

Eutha's team finished by winning seventy-five percent of her games. Girls who received medals were Eutha Davis (captain), Lucie Plank, Lucille Pheasant, Lottie May Randall, Bertie Ratto, Trassy and Fern Leach. Norma Thomas received the medal for being the best sport of the tournament.

J. M.'s team finished by winning eighty percent of their games. Members of the team who received medals were J. M. Dickinson (captain), James Bipes, Keith Bain, Adell Myers and Wayne Ray.

The best sport in the boys' division will be elected by the boys themselves.

F. H. T. Club Gives

The F. H. T. Club gave a party Tuesday, April 9 at the school house.

Each girl invited one boy about twenty five boys attended. Games were played until nine thirty. Then everyone went to the Home Economics room where everyone sang songs. Margaret McClung sang Surprise Serenade.

Refreshments consisting of Graham cracker roll and iced tea were served. The party ended with the singing of Goodnight Ladies.

Special guests were Mr and Mrs Payne and Bill, Mr. Bullard and Mr. Gregg.

Assembly

The fourth in a series of planned book reviews was presented by C. L. McQueen in assembly Thursday. C. L., who is an excellent speaker and reader, reviewed The Yearling by Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings.

Mrs. Owen, instructor of English, has done some very original work with this series of reviews which have been thoroughly enjoyed by the entire school.

Boxing

The art of self defense was also a contest included in the intramural program. Several boys entered in this and ten whipped their opponents to earn the honor of participating in the final fights.

In the bantam weight division K. H. Alexander got the decision over Bill Profit after three rounds of hard going.

The winner of the featherweight division was Billy C. Johnson who received the nod over Billy Mac Biffie.

V. A. Hansard and Ray Kinder tied it out for three rounds in the lightweights title, which Ray won by a close decision.

Don Hickey knocked out Willie Long in the first round to win the welterweight division.

The final fight of the night was for the middleweight crown which J. M. Dickinson won by a technical knockout in the first round over J. B. Long.

Each of the winners received a medal with a boxer and the words Hedley Intramural engraved on it.

... but what has this automobile to do with your
ELECTRIC SERVICE?

FRANKLY, it has nothing to do with your electric service. We use it here to illustrate a point.

Automobiles were "rich man's toys" not so many years ago. They cost a lot of money and they cost a lot to run. They were gas-eaters and oil eaters. The hills they could climb in were few and far between. If you got them up to fifty miles an hour, the noise and vibration were terrific.

Today millions of American families can afford beautiful, powerful cars that outsmart, outshine and outperform the best models of the Twenties in every way, yet cost less than they did then.

This progress has not been confined to the automobile. Time was when electric service provided only your light. Today you can use more lights, a radio, refrigerator, vacuum cleaner, washing machine and other appliances, and the electricity to operate all of these costs very little more than you used to pay for light alone.

Like the automobile, your electric service improves steadily year after year. At the same time, its price comes down. This is possible because of the constant effort of the people of your electric company to improve service and reduce rates. It's an effort that goes on and on. Because of it, your electric service will be better and cheaper in the future than it is today. The credit belongs to a group of people who are never content to rest on their laurels, who strive to do their job just a little better today than they did it yesterday. They're the people of your electric company.

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

In the last 10 to 15 years, the engineering improvements and operating economies of your electric company have made it possible to cut the average price of household electricity about in half. Many customers now using more household appliances, such as lights, a radio and refrigerator pay very little more to operate all of these than they used to pay for light alone.

Empty Looking

The vacancy left by Jones' appointment to a judgeship has created what is expected to be one of the hottest political campaigns in the Panhandle this year. Eight men have already entered the race, including Ernest Thompson, Dusty Miller and James O. Wade of Amarillo, Eugene Worley and Goodrich of Shamrock, Deakins Wells of Wellington, Dennis Zimmerman of Tulsa and Tom Bissy of Ochiltree County. It would take a gypsy seer to select the winner, but we feel safe in predicting that there will be at least seven losers.

We have heard numerous discussions recently on the statement that a U. S. presidential election cannot be held if the country is at war. Without venturing to say that this is positively incorrect, it nevertheless appears, according to recognized authorities, that a presidential election has been held on two occasions in our history when the country was at war.

According to the Longview News, the Democrats must sink the Third Term movement before the Third Term movement sinks the Democrats.

The Denison Herald says that the New York ideas of the United States is a large open space lying between Broadway and Hollywood.

It is better to steam vegetables. Vegetables in boiling lose 30 to 50 per cent of their mineral salts. If steamed only 10 per cent loss.

Sprinkle chopped, candied ginger over thin biscuit dough. Then spread the combination with soft butter. Cut into strips a fourth of an inch wide and two inches long. Bake quickly. Serve hot.

Tack several thicknesses of heavy cloth or paper over the corners of the table before covering it with new oilcloth. The covering job will then be easier and will look much neater.

Pull the Trigger on Constipation, and Sin-ize Acid Stomach Too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste, and bad breath, your stomach is probably loaded up with certain undigested food and your bowels don't move. So you need both Pepsin to help break up fast that rich undigested food in your stomach, and Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels. So be sure your laxative also contains Pepsin. Take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative, because its Syrup Pepsin helps you gain that wonderful stomach comfort, while the Laxative Senna moves your bowels. Tests prove the power of Pepsin to dissolve those lumps of undigested protein food which may linger in your stomach, to cause belching, gastric acidity and nausea. This is how Pepsinizing your stomach helps relieve it of such distress. At the same time this medicine wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your bowels to relieve your constipation. So see how much better you feel by taking the laxative that also puts Pepsin to work on that stomach discomfort, too. Even fussy children love to taste this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative—Senna with Syrup Pepsin at your druggist today!

NOVEL BUT GOOD IS THIS ORANGE VEAL ALMOND SALAD (See Recipes Below)

Spring Salads for Spring Tonics

Time was when we needed sulphur and molasses, or its equivalent, as a spring tonic to repair the damages of a winter diet which was quite likely to be lacking in fresh fruit and vegetables. Nowadays spring tonics are unnecessary nuisances, for most of us, because even through the long winter months, a plentiful supply of fruits and vegetables is available.

But somehow this season creates an appetite for "something right out of the garden," and it's now that we find salads of fresh fruits and vegetables as refreshing as the first spring breeze.

Serving a salad is such a simple means of making sure that the day's quota of fresh vegetables or fruits is included in the diet.

Salads look so cool and inviting, and properly prepared they do such a lot toward perking up one's appetite. But they must be inviting to look at, cool and crisp, and well seasoned.

Wash salad greens carefully, then soak in cold water to make them very crisp. Remove all brown or wilted spots. Dry carefully on a towel or place cleaned salad greens in a clean sugar sack and shake or swirl vigorously to remove the drops of moisture that cling to the greens. Chill thoroughly.

Simple salads, in general, are the smartest—and if they're to serve their purpose as spring tonics, they're the best. Salads which are too rich, too elaborately garnished, or decked out with whipped cream, defeat their own purpose, and I have a feeling that it's one reason most men dislike salads, because too often they've had served to them in the name of salad, some queer, sticky concoction, with so many ingredients, so badly mangled, and so much garnish, that there's scarcely a salad green to be seen or recognized. Men do like good salads, though, and you'll find recipes for the kind they enjoy in my booklet, "Feeding Father."

When you're planning your spring tonic salads, don't overlook the raw vegetables—shreds of pared, raw beets, slivers of carrot, and the tender young leaves of spinach, raw cauliflower, broken into flowerettes—is an excellent addition to a vegetable salad, and don't forget that just a suspicion of garlic in a vegetable salad is as important as the dressing! Minced green onion tops or chives will serve as a substitute, if your family doesn't approve of garlic.

Orange Veal Almond Salad. (Serves 6-8)

Novel but good is this orange veal almond salad. The orange blends with and brings out the flavors of the other ingredients. This is an especially excellent buffet salad.

- 2 cups orange half slices
- 2 cups cooked veal (diced)
- 2 cups celery (diced)
- ½ cup lemon french dressing
- Lettuce
- Watercress
- ¾ cup toasted almonds

Blend orange, veal, celery and french dressing. Put in salad bowl, lined with lettuce and watercress. Top with the toasted almonds. Chicken may be substituted for veal.

Lemon French Dressing.

- ¼ cup lemon juice
- ¼ cup salad oil
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon paprika
- 1 tablespoon sugar or honey

Stir or shake thoroughly before serving. Lemon juice is particularly good to bring out flavors in a dressing for a meat salad. (makes ½ cup.)

Pinwheel Salad.

Take halves of grapefruit and remove every other grapefruit segment, leaving membrane intact.

Spring Menus.

Menus, in spring, can be something very special—if you'll take advantage of the grand variety of foods available! In this column next week, Eleanor Howe will give you some of her own favorite suggestions for dressing up spring menus.

Prepare cherry-flavored gelatin and fill empty grapefruit sections with gelatin. When gelatin has stiffened, arrange each grapefruit half on bed of lettuce. Place mayonnaise in center of grapefruit and top with chopped green maraschino cherries.

'Salad Bowl' Fruit Salad

Toss lightly together in salad bowl, one cup watermelon balls, one cup muskmelon balls, one cup honey dew melon balls, one cup seeded red cherries, and one cup diced celery.

Add french dressing in sufficient quantity to thoroughly coat all fruits.

Have ready a supply of chilled, crisp french endive. Place two or three stalks on side of each individual salad plate and serve with salad bowl fruit salad.

May Basket Salad.

Take the desired number of firm uniform tomatoes, cut out stems and hollow out the center slightly.

Slice rings of green pepper about ¼ inch thick, cut in half and fasten on tomato with toothpicks to form handle of basket. Place hearts of lettuce and radish roses (using toothpicks for stems) in the basket. Place basket on lettuce leaves. Garnish with mayonnaise.

Spicy Summer Salad.

- 1 cup vinegar
- ½ teaspoon whole cloves
- 1 teaspoon stick cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups fresh spinach leaves
- 1 large carrot
- 1 stalk celery

Boil vinegar, spices and salt together for 10 minutes. Strain vinegar and chill. Scrape carrot. Chop all of the fresh vegetables together until they are fairly fine. Dress with the vinegar mixture and serve at once.

Gardener's Salad.

- 1 head of peeled garlic
- 1 leaf crisp lettuce (shredded)
- 4 tomatoes (peeled and cut in wedges)
- 1 cucumber (peeled and sliced)
- 3 young onions (sliced thin)
- 4 radishes (sliced thin)
- 1 green pepper (cut in rings)
- 2 carrots (sliced)
- 6 slices bacon (fried crisp, and crumbled)
- 1 cup french dressing

Be sure the vegetables are washed, wiped dry, and very cold, and crisp before starting to mix the salad. Sprinkle the inside of a large salad bowl with salt. With a fork, rub the garlic well in the salt. Remove garlic. Put in the shredded lettuce, the vegetables and bacon, then the french dressing. Mix well, so that all the ingredients are completely coated with dressing. Serve immediately.

Would You Like to Please Father?

If you want to please father, serve him foods he really likes—simple green salads, beef roast with rich brown gravy, and the plain "family-style" desserts his mother used to make. You'll find plenty of practical recipes and menus for men in Eleanor Howe's cook book "Feeding Father." Send 10 cents in coin to "Feeding Father," care Eleanor Howe, 919 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and get a copy of "Feeding Father" for your kitchen library. ### Wells Makes Statement Knorpp Asks Re-election To the Voters of Donley Co.

Daskins Wells, editor from Collingsworth County, announced this week that he was definitely in the race for Congress and that his platform would be announced shortly.

In announcing he said: I intend to make few promises, but to recall my own record of having worked for farmers and ranchers in my home county, but to make myself perfectly clear, I do give the people of the Panhandle the pledge: I will vote against the entry of the United States into any European war.

I believe in preparation strong enough to resist any outside aggression, but that our best course is to remain strong and free by conserving our resources and our boys.

I will support the Farm Security program and the Farm Tenant Act as well as all sound legislation to relieve unemployment.

I am strongly in favor of social security including pensions for the old, and I will work to create jobs for the young people.

I do not intend to try to fool the people into believing that I know all that there is to know about being a Congressman and am new to politics and will work hard and faithfully if you send me there.

I am making this statement in order that my friends over the Panhandle may know for sure that I am in the race. I will appreciate greatly the opportunity of going to Washington and working my way up in order to continue the splendid work that has been done by Marvin Jones.

His place cannot be filled by anyone and the sincerity of purpose can be your task is to judge the candidates and select that sort of man regardless of whether it be Jack Wells or someone else.

Subscribe for the Informer.

John O. Knorpp, elected in 1938 as County Attorney of Donley County last week, is the Informer to announce his candidacy for re-election to that office.

In his statement to the Informer Mr. Knorpp said that he points to his past record as his platform and saying that, "I have put forth every effort to discharge the duties of the office of County Attorney as provided by the laws of this state, and will appreciate the favorable consideration of the voters of this county."

Mr. Knorpp's unbiased opinions, fairness to the state and accused alike, coupled with his excellent qualifications, has made him more and more friends as he continues his official duties in the second year of his first term.

To the Voters of Donley Co.

In submitting myself as a candidate for Representative I would say I have but few promises to make as I know one man in a body of 181 can not promise what that body will do, but as for me, if elected, I will represent the people of my district and not a few special interests. I will cooperate with whoever you elect Governor and see that the old age pensions and teacher retirement funds are paid. I favor city school privileges for every rural child, and economy in government.

Being democratic, I would favor the voters voting on a sales tax or any other question they so desired and would abide by their decision by such vote. I would favor raising the truck load limit and regulating heights, lengths, etc. I would favor cutting registration of cars to one half the present price.

I think it is time to elect a few farmers and business men to the legislature.

As I am stock farming I will not have time to make a house-to-house campaign, but will do my best to see all voters in the district which is composed of Don-

To the Voters of Donley Co.

I am taking this means of acquainting you with my resignation from the office of County Clerk. It is with a feeling of regret that I take this step, but for business reasons, I think it best. Again thanking you for your loyal and consistent support, and also for the courtesy and consideration you have always shown me.

I am
Very truly yours,
W. G. Word

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our many friends for their kindness during the death of our husband and father. Especially do we want to mention the Womack Funeral Home and the ones who helped in the shower. May God's richest blessings rest upon each of them as our prayer.
