Terms of French Armistice Denounced by Great Britain; Fighting on Continent Ceases

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Unix

With France humbled, England becomes the immediate objective of German and Italian blitzkrieg tactics of invasion. Citizens throughout the British Isles have been organized into various semi-military groups to resist in all possible manner such an invasion. In the above picture a detachment of "parashots," an organization designed to "take care" of parachute troops that may be dropped, is shown at practice, "somewhere in England." "Parashots" use rifles and shotguns, ammunition being supplied by the government and targets of clay pigeons and toy balloons are

II GERMAN WAR:

French Terms

Within six weeks after Adolf Hitler had begun his invasion against the low countries, France had signed an armistice with Germany and Italy (a combatant for only two weeks) and the "battle of France" was ended.

In a war that has been strange in many respects it was not surprising that the first news of the terms ending the struggle came from London rather than Berlin, Rome or Paris. British officials announced that "through friendly French sources" they had learned that terms of armistice included: (1) Complete dehotel that reserves its rooms ex- mobilization of French land forces (2) surrender of the French fleet; (3) German occupation of more than half of France; (4) merchant ship-Man o' War, Seabiscuit and ping to remain in home ports until Gargantua are the only animals further traffic was authorized by Germany and Italy; (5) all French are on file, ready for immediate publication upon their death, in the offices of more than 2,000 newspapers.

gas, etc. Germany also was forced to admit its "war guilt," in a selfcondemnatory clause of the treaty.

French 'Debacle'

The critics went to work on the French army. It was brave, well equipped, perfectly trained. But it was trained for defensive fortress warfare, which was to its credit, and did not know how to maneuver in the open field. All modern forces need armor, but French armor went into the static Maginot line, while German armor went into highly mobile tanks and armored cars. The guns of the Maginot line pointed due east, and were too cumbersome to turn into reverse. Hence, when the Germans flanked the line, and took it in the rear, after the capture of Paris and the breakthrough at Sedan, the line and its really gallant 'shellfish" became almost helpless. Meanwhile, the German motorized columns cleaned up the French channel coast down to Nantes in Brittany, took Tours and Lyons, and captured 700 new French tanks, 400 just-delivered American airplanes, ch warships. ernment had moved from Paris, to Tours, to Bordeaux, to Biarritz; the | ing the events of 1917-18. fascist-minded Corsican, Jean Chiappe, Daladier's mortal foe, had taken charge in Paris; and the two surviving Paris newspapers, Victoire and Matin, were more anti-Reynaud than they were anti-German. The great Zola wrote a book about the Franco-German war of 1870, called "Debacle." This 1940 debacle was 1870, all over again. THIRD TERM:

The Campaign

The President, Mr. Roosevelt, appointed two conservative Republican colonels to his cabinet, to head the army and navy departments. They were Stimson, Hoover's old secretary of state and Taft's old secretary of war, and Knox, Republican vice presidential candidate in 1936, when he ran with Landon. The Roosevelt action blew the lid off, and the bitterest campaign in American history got under way. People said that the third term and the World war depended on one another, and had become an interlocking directorate. Congressmen asked Roosevelt to resign, or said in private that he ought to be impeached. Roosevelt's Charlottesville speech came in for increasing condemnation, and so did Stimson and Knox, both of whom admittedly are extremists in their help-Ally view-

Within Roosevelt's own cabinet, Farley and Garner were apparently against the cabinet shift, and Garner was reported as opposed to the Roosevelt "meddle" policy in European wars. Roosevelt, who is notably short-tempered, was beginning to bridle under the heavy fire, and the fact that his popularity was constantly on the up-and-up in England, it was feared, would not help him over-much with plain American

But Mr. Roosevelt replied, in self defense: "overwhelming sentiment of the nation for national solidarity in a time of world crisis, and in behalf of national defense, and nothing

REPUBLICANA: 'Read Out'

Frank Knox Henry L. Stimson (Navy)

The Republicans read Stimson and Knox out of the party, with various expressions of condemnation, and Roosevelt indicated that Philadelphia was putting partisanship ahead of total U. S. nationalism. The Republican counter-answer, to this, was "totalitarianism." Colonel Knox was supposed to have said that the President agreed not to run for a third term, and Roosevelt was understood unequivocally, to have told him so. That remained to be seen. Earlier, the President had said that any coalition cabinet conception was "cockeyed." Things were becoming more-and morecomplicated.

RED CROSS: Looks Things Over

International Red Cross officials personally investigated war-prisoner camps in England, France and Germany, and pronounced things uniformly decent, humane, and proper. This came as a cheerful verdict in

It seemed that Germany had 10 Anglo-French prisoners, to every one German in Allied hands. And if it counted in the Belgians, Dutch, Poles, etc., the ratio became star-tling-50 to 1. Germany still had a quarter million Poles, many of whom were working in labor battalions.

The Red Cross further reported it had handled nearly a million letters and communications, between war prisoners and their relatives back home - wherever "home might be. Apparently, there have been few war atrocities in Norway, Holland, Belgium, France; but additional atrocity data came leaking out of Poland-data that reflected equally unfavorably on Germans, Poles, and Russians that Euro-blitzkrieging had made Americans literally sick, due to nervous emotion and worry: the war of nerves, they added, was producing neurotics. Twin bombs, within an hour, went off anonymously in New York city, outside the German commercial agency, and Communist party headquarters. Ten people were hurt, and district attorney (candidate) Dewey got down to work at once.

New York city, according to census figures, now has 71/2 million people, which is half a million more than 10 years ago. The borough of Queens has the largest gain: 20 per cent. The Bronx borough is most populous, with famed Manhattan only third. Brooklyn is second, Queens fourth, and little Staten Island fifth. Tokyo is now the world's second city, with London (on the down and down) third.

WAR REACTIONS:

'Many and Varied'

England and Germany kept bombing each other from the air. The English strafed the Berlin suburbs, and the Germans hammered hundreds of miles of the English east coast, where the "true" Anglo-Sax-ons hail from. Canada, Australia and New Zealand proved their loyalty. Canada put in conscription, for service within the limits of the dominion. The new governor-general, Queen Mary's brother, Athlone, arrived from England, to pep up the Canadians even more. But another British dominion, South Africa, was debating a separate peace with Germany, as Premier Smuts deadlocked with ex-Premier Hertzog, and the Dutch Boers squabbled with the British colonials down there. Soviet Russia tightened its hold on the three little Baltic states of Litnuania, Latvia, and Estonia, with an aggregate population of perhaps 6,000,000. Tiny Estonia underwent a workers' communist putsch, and ousted its middle-class rulers. Red army aided in this "revolutionary" development, and other "developments" were expected in Latvia and Lithuania. What would become of honest, steadfast, debtpaying Finland, was the next question, and one that agitated some Americans more than the sad fate of brave M. Reynaud.

NEW YORK .- Dr. Frank Kingdon resigned as president of the University of Newark to serve the cause of American unity against various open 'Freedom' Still and hidden Embodies Our disruptive Hope and Faith forces. Certain industrialists have become dollar-a-year men for military rearmament. Dr. Kingdon is perhaps the first man to give up his job to work for intellectual rearmament. With others, he built the Citizenship Educational Service to advance tolerance, cooperation and all-around American solidarity. Theodore Roosevelt is its chairman and Dr. Kingdon is educational director.

"American Unity" was the subject of Dr. Kingdon's address before the Institute of Public Affairs at Charlottesville, Va., recently. A few days ago, this writer happened to be present when Dr. Kingdon was conversing with a New York citizen of distinction and influence who maintained that democracy was both decadent and impotent. In his Charlottesville address, Dr. Kingdon

"The other day, I was arguing with a self-confessed Fascist, I happened to use the word freedom. He immediately scoffed, saying, 'Freedom for what? Freedom to be unemployed? Freedom to starve?' He knew that the word was one of the signal words of human history. He could not meet it squarely. So he tried to tie it up with all kinds of other words having unpleasant definitions in order to destroy its own appeal by transferring to it their dismay. His was a deliberate effort to empty of meaning a word that is packed with hope and faith. His performance was typical of the planned and concerted attempt to destroy the foundations of our thought so that we shall crumble before a vigorous enslaught from the cause with which he has allied himself."

There are 400,000 Germans in Brazil who have indicated similar views about "sterile democracy."

President Vargas has seemed much more able and plausible than most dictators. He isn't given to casual shooting or hanging and he says very little and this in a low voice, never in a sports palast or on a balcony. He built his 1930 campaign on a bare-knuckle fight against the 'plutocratic coffee barons' of the Sao Paulo. He was badly defeated. He didn't yell, "I've been robbed," but instead gathered a few of his old gaucho friends and quietly took over the country.

For four years, he ruled by decree and then set up a liberal constitution, written by the national assembly. He proclaimed his allegiance to liberal government and the democratic ideal. He governed 'effectively and is credited with having cut down debt and upped pro-morning of November 10, 1937, President Vargas telephoned all the members of his cabinet and the leaders of his legislature to come to the palace immediately. They seized weapons as they dashed for their cars. By RUTH WYETH SPEAKS T WAS with a thrill of pride that Betsy's mother looked over a list of the nicest girls in Betsy's class. She had said, "yes," when Betsy wanted to give a luncheon for them. Now what would she do about the shabby old dining room with its veneered oak chairs, short, faded curtains and bare buff-colored walls?

Here is the answer and it cost exactly six dollars. An inexpensive green and yellow flowered chintz was used for draperies from ceiling to floor. The trick of making the windows higher is explained in the diagram. The old window shades were painted a soft, clear green. The backs and seats of the chairs were slip-covered with the chintz with green bindings, and a set of green and yellow china was brought out to lend color to the walls and add a note of interest on green painted stands in front of the windows. The stands were made of empty spools as described in the new Sewing Book 5, which is now ready for mailing. This book also gives directions for a buckram stiffened valance of the type shown here. All of its 32 pages are packed as tight as I could make them with ideas to make your home attractive without breaking the bank. You can have your copy for 10 cents to cover cost and mailing. That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry; irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fall to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, awelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

CUTTING COSTS ON FUNDAMENTALS MEANS ENDESS TROUBLE AND EXPENSE IN YEARS TO COME

CRACKED WALLS-Often caused by uneven-settling of footings and foundation. Skimping on footings in either size or concrete mix is poor economy.

Where is it wise to cut costs in your new home and where is it wise to buy the best? This is a problem that most home builders face more than once during construction. And what is the answer? It is a problem that every home owner must settle to the best of his ability with the help of his contractor and architect.

Replacement Big Factor

There is one general principle that can be set down here, however. Briefly, it is this. Any part of your house that it is not practical to replace should have the best in construction and materials. By this we mean such items as footings and foundation, timber skeleton and frame work, windows and window frames, which are really part of the house frame, concealed ducts and wiring. All these things must last the life of the house,

Our liberty is not immediately threatened. But it may be if we do not prepare to defend it from any possible attack. Such preparation is an effort in which everyone can share.

We favor adequate preparedness for national defense. This country's natural position gives us a great measure of security against threats from abroad. With careful preparation we can strengthen that position until no nation would dare attack us.

Mational defense is not only a matter of men, airplanes, hatrlachins and guns. It also requires us to strengthen our American institutions, which are the very things we wish to protect and preserve. They must be preserved. It would be a hitter and ironic victory if, in order to defeat an enemy, we sidetracked the system of free enterprise and the personal liberties which distinguish the American way of life from the terrannies of Firene and Aciq.

Let's keep this country American. Government experts and civilian authorities are eruduing how to provide for our actual defense and each citizen's part in it. Meanwhile, the rest of us can help by doing our work, whatever it is, as well as we can.

That is what all the people of this company intend to do. Together with other electric companies, we have built a system capable of supplying the nation with electric service in any emergency. This system will be maintained and strengthened and we will continue our day-to-day effort to provide the dependable electric service that makes the United States a better place to live.

By VIRGINIA VALE

'HE first actor in Hollywood' I history ever to be elected a delegate to a national political convention, Melvyn Douglas wonders if he will be able to enjoy the honor.

"Of course I can always be represented by proxy," he said the other day. "But a chance like this comes only every four years, and I'd hate to miss it."

Douglas made preparations to be in Chicago July 15 for the big conclave. But he temporarily forgot that he is also an actor, involved in the new Columbia comedy, "He Stayed for Breakfast," along with Loretta Young, Eugene Pallette, Una O'Connor and Alan Marshall.

Alexander Hall, the director, is making every effort to hurry things along, and is making all the scenes with Douglas first.

If you think you'd like to be a motion picture producer, pause and consider what happened at the Paramount studio recently when Joel Mc-Crea withdrew from the cast of 'Arise My Love' because of ill health. (1) Because of McCrea's withdrawal, Ray Milland was plucked from the cast of "Virginia" to take the McCrea assignment, opposite Claudette Colbert. (2) That meant that "Virginia" wouldn't start on time. (3) That meant that Franchot Tone, who was to have costarred in "Virginia," had to withdraw from the cast, because he had another commitment, and could appear in "Virginia" only if it started on schedule. (4) That meant the Fred McMurray stepped into the role for which Milland had been scheduled, playing opposite Made-leine Carroll, but (5) She flew to England recently; at the moment of writing there's no telling when she'll be back.

Dorothy Lamour traded a $10,000,-000 (according to her studie) head of hair for 30 cents' worth of calico, and it wasn't just a stunt in a movie scenario either. Seems she's been wanting to bob those 40-inch tresses, which played quite a part in establishing her as a draw at the boxoffice. The studio wanted her to make some more pictures in which she wore a sarong, and she was determined not to. So both sides gave in; she had her hair bobbed by Wally Westmore, head of the makeup department (and cried a little, as most girls do when they hear that first snip of the shears) and consented to do three South Seas pictures - "Moon Over Burma," "Aloma of the South Seas," with Jon Hall, and "South of Samoa," with Bing Crosby.

A custom has been initiated during the rehearsals of the Rudy Vallee snow to mark the scripts with aster.sks to denote the laugh allowed. The reason for this is to clock for timing when the show is actually broadcast. Four asterisks are tops in laugh pauses.

The other night someone in the cast asked scriptwriter Sid Fields what it meant to see five asterisks instead of the customary four. Replied Fields, "Then you know that you have the Fred Allen script by

When you see the Bing Crosby picture, "Rhythm on the River," you may be surprised to find that Ken Carpenter, Bing's announcer and chime ringer on the air, plays a radio announcer named "Ken Carpenter." It's the result of an accident. Scenarists had given Carpenter another name in the picture, but John Scott Trotter, who's Bing's ened. broadcast band leader and plays a band leader in the picture, made a long film take in which he called Carpenter by his real name. It was simpler to change the name than to do the scene over again.

Arthur Lake's desire for realism on the "Blondie" radio show nearly disrupted the program recently. In one scene he had to fall down, with the proper accompanying sound effects; usually that just means that the sound man makes the noises. But Arthur insisted on doing his own fall. The show was on for the eastern broadcast. Arthur fell wrong, the script flew in all directions, and Penher script and let Arthur read his roll each ball in granulated sugar. part from it until his script had been

'MOTHER'S DAY OUT' (See Recipes Below)

Was there ever a homemaker who didn't wish now and then that she could "play hookey" for one afternoon without the dire consequences of leaving her family to shift for itself at meal time? It can be done and it's a wise homemaker who arranges her schedule during the pleasant summer weather, to allow for a few hours of leisure, here and

Plan a meal, for "Mother's Day Out," that will cook without watching while you're away; casserole dishes that require long, slow cooking are ideal. With a simple salad dessert and beverage, you can have a highly satisfactory dinner.

Or perhaps a menu that permits beforehand preparations will suit you better. Select, for it, foods that can be made ready (except for a few last-minute touches), hours ahead of time. Make use of canned and packaged foods, too, that will permit you to serve a tempting evening meal with a minimum amount of time and effort.

Here's a menu that's quickly and easily prepared, yet so delicious that it's bound to please even a critical family.

Salad greens can be washed, picked over and carefully dried, hours ahead of time, then stored in the vegetable crisper in the refrigerator until you are ready to use

Rolls, from yesterday's baking, or fresh from the bakery, can be buttered, and placed in a shallow pan ready to be popped into the oven for quick heating. (Be sure they're kept covered during the afternoon, to prevent drying out).

For dessert why not serve fresh pineapple, which is better by far when it's peeled and cut early, generously sprinkled with confectioners' sugar, and allowed to mellow and chill before serving.
