Another Pioneer Dies

Dee Witt Card was born November 18, 1867, in Marry, Ky. and died at his home in Hedley July 8, 1940 at the age of 72 years, 7 months and 17 days.

He moved to Tennessee with his parents at the age of 14 and a short time later moved to Texas. He was married to Mrs. Leona Riley in December, 1896, at Lilly Dale, Tenn. To this union four children were born: Misses Ola and Gula Card of Hedley, Mrs. L. E. Bailey of the Bray community and Mrs. I. S. Green of Brownfield.

He leaves to mourn his going, besides his children and a host of friends, 5 grandchildren, also one brother R. E. Card of Texas, N. Mex., and three sisters, Mrs. J. R. Leach of Idaho Springs, Colo., Mrs. Joe McAuliffe of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. W. S. Wilson of Sobas, N. Mex. His wife died November 9, 1931.

He was converted and united with the Methodist Church at Newin about 45 years ago. He had been a faithful member of the Hedley Methodist Church for 21 years. The funeral was conducted by Rev. I. E. Biggs, his pastor, and Rev. H. J. Gordon pastor of the Methodist Church of Clarendon.

Burial services were held at the funeral home. Burial was in the cemetery. Burial bearers were W. I. Rain, E. J. McQueen, J. A. Tollett, J. B. Masterson, U. G. Key and A. M. Bishop. Honorary pallbearers were members of his Sunday school class.

Flower bearers were Virginia Watt, Theresa Bain, Inell Stife, Doris Merle Everest, Addierene Clay, Modena Spier, Margie Burdine, Mary Sue Seales and Eva Jean Cherry.

Interment was made in Rowe cemetery under direction of Womack Funeral Home.

The community has lost a good citizen, the Church a faithful member and the home one who was near and dear.

School Fund Increased

Austin, July 5—Donley County will receive $948 more from the state this year to operate its schools than it did last year, State Supt. L. A. Woods estimated today. This is based on the assumption that the county will have the same number of students next year as it had last year.

Supt. Woods said the action of the state board of education in raising the per capita from $22 to $22.50 was another step toward bettering the educational facilities of Texas.

NOTICE

The Baptist church has invited young Rev. Martin of Memphis to fill the pulpit here next Sunday, both morning and night. Everyone is invited to hear him.

Out of town relatives and friends attending the funeral of D. Card here Sunday included R. E. Card of Texas, N. Mex., Mrs. J. R. Leach of Idaho Springs, Colo., Max Leach and family of Chilton, Mo., Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Oiler, M. H. Bell and wife, and Arthur Bell of Amarillo, L. H. Barthman and wife of Alameda and J. W. Adamson and wife of Clarendon.

W. A. Franklin of Brawley, Calif., is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Jim Lynn.

Clarendon Observes 4th

Clarendon staged the biggest celebration ever held there last Wednesday and Thursday, when two big days of parades, rodeos, pageants, etc., were held.

The affair was Clarendon's 55th celebration of the 4th of July, and was declared the best of them all by many old timers.

A principal feature of the program on both days was the parade at 1 o'clock, when such old timers as J. W. Kent, Joe Horn, Buster Caldwell, Jim, Charlie and Joe McMurry, John Blocker, Wesley Kuerpp and Dan Sauls rode Cowboys were present from the V60, J.A., S.J., Y Bar, L.Z. R.D., McMurry, Chamberlains and Bromley ranches. Uncle Hugh Brown, in a high silk hat, drove his two horse buggy. Band were in the parade from Shamrock, Dalhart, Ft. Worth, McLean and Memphis.

An amateur rodeo was held each afternoon at 2:30, in which top hands from all over the section competed for some $500 in prizes.

Probably the outstanding event of the celebration was the Coronado pageant held each night at the College Field. It depicted a cavalcade of 400 years, beginning with the arrival of Coronado in this country, showing the coming of Chas. Goodnight, the Panhandle's first herd of cattle, the founding of Old Clarendon, and on down to the present day.

The cast included Joe McMurry as Coronado, Charley McMurry as Col. Goodnight, Mrs. Joe Rutter as Mary Goodnight, Rev. J. Perry King as Elder Garhart and J. T. Patman, Fred Buntin and Fred Cook as Franciscan friars. Sam M. Braswell was narrator.

Following the pageant a colorful display of fireworks closed the program.

All in all, the celebration was well worth while, and Clarendon citizens may well be proud of their successful event.

Memphis Boosters Here

A large group of citizens from Memphis were in town Tuesday evening boosting their pioneer celebration to be held July 24, 25 and 26. A temporary platform was erected in front of the Lynn Barber Shop, and a number of musical numbers were given, including band music, guitar numbers and vocal selections.

As usual, one of the major attractions was Mrs. D. W. May, who described the merits and characteristics of several local citizens.

The program closed with a cordial invitation to the citizens of this community to take part in the Hall county celebration.

D. W. May of Memphis was in Hedley Wednesday afternoon of last week transacting business.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Womack of Memphis attended the funeral of D. Card here Sunday.

Bruce Stewart Jr. returned Tuesday from a visit to Saint Jo.

Mrs. Bob Adamson is still seriously ill in a Denver, Colo., hospital.

We endeavor to serve in a way that honors those whose work is done and helps those who yet have work to do.

Summery Frock For Slim Figure

SWEET and summery as a basket of flowers, this frock (8729) is perfect for warm afternoons. In printed silk, or flower-patterned cottons like voile or batiste, it will look so cool and fresh and feminine, with its open-topped sleeves, heart-shaped neckline, and frills that put all the emphasis up at the top, an effect always becoming.

ing to slim figures. The skirt has the liting grace of circular fullness.

And notice how little detailing is required—just a few gathers at the waistline; otherwise it's all straight, easy seams. Even beginners can make it, guided by the step-by-step sew chart included in the pattern.

Pattern No. 8729 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 14 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39-inch material without nap; 2 1/4 yards of ruffling. Send order to:

Russian Drive Into Rumania Alters European War Picture; G. O. P. Picks Willkie, McNary

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

King Carol of Rumania is pictured here inspecting one of his army's tanks. This particular machine is one of a number made for Rumania in England while that country was still on the allied bandwagon. Now, harassed by Russia, Rumania has shifted her loyalty and has appealed to Berlin and Rome to keep Russia from "grabbing" more territory.

III RUSSIAN WAR: Bessarabia, etc.

This so-called World war is a peculiar affair—a war of in-and-outers. Russia, for instance, is always popping in and out of it. One never knows where she is. For example, the Soviets popped into the latter stages of the Polish campaign last September, and took most of the eastern half of what they used to call "Polonia Restituta." Then, at the beginning of December, and thereafter, Russia popped in again, and fought the Finns, picking up Finland's second city of Viborg (Viipuri), the Finnish Mannerheim line and other bases and odd bits. Also, on and off, Russia has virtually annexed the three little Baltic states of Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia, which used to belong to the czar and his navy, prior to 1917.

Then came another Russian putsch, quite impersonal, like the others. This time it was Rumania, which had grabbed off a Russian province called Bessarabia, in 1918. The Soviets took it back, and also took handy bases at the mouth of the river Danube, and on the strategic Black sea coast. Comic King Carol, playboy of the western world, appealed to Germany and Italy as a matter of course, then took the Russians rather calmly. Rumania also "owed" territory to Hungary and Bulgaria (from 1918), and has treated her racial and religious minorities badly. Nobody wept much over comic King Carol, and his Merry Widow setup.

II GERMAN WAR: Mr. Shaw . . .

George Bernard Shaw made some really pertinent remarks on England, France and Germany. G.B.S. said that anybody who introduced 100 per cent military communism, a la Hitler, could not fail to beat anybody who didn't introduce it. He said that England, under Churchill, had gone through the motions of introducing military communism, too, but that it was, thank goodness, still merely a blueprint. He indicated that there were better things than military conquest: which is pretty obvious. Then, he got around to la belle France. He said that England should have declared war on France, when Pétain quit the war, just as England declared war on Russia, when Lenin quit the war, in 1917. He said that France was more dangerous to England as a phoney neutral, than as a militant foe.

NAMES . . . in the news

At its thirty-sixth annual convention in Chicago, the Advertising Federation of America selected as president Elton G. Borton, advertising director of La Salle Extension university, Chicago.

Mrs. Wendell Willkie's maiden name was Wilk. She comes from Indiana, too. To match that, Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt was a Roosevelt, before her marriage.

Col. Thurston Hughes, U. S. A., was announced by the war department as chief of defense of the American Panama Canal Zone. The colonel has been adjutant general of the Panama canal department. He succeeds Gen. Jacob Devers, U. S. A.

Dr. Wilhelm Stekel, once Dr. Freud's No. 1 psychoanalyst, another exile, died at 74, in London. Dr. Freud, in exile, had died previously, in England. Stekel was strongly anti-dictatorial and an expert on sadists (Nazis?) and masochists (Fascists?).

Japan's Birthday

Kensuke Horinouchi, Japan's ambassador to the U. S., cuts the ornate birthday cake during ceremonies in New York, which marked the 2600th anniversary of the founding of the Japanese empire. Sideline wits were wondering whether Japan is trying to cut her cake in China and still have it, too.

RUMORS: Believe or Not

There was increasing talk—despite denials—about Neville Chamberlain rising from the political grave, as a possible peace-maker. The great "appeaser" was still popular in conservative British circles, which did not altogether trust Premier-dictator Churchill and his totalitarian setup. Chamberlain has been better liked by the Germans than Churchill, and the rumor-mongers said Neville might be able to turn the peace trick, without incurring too much expense. The trade-unions disliked the "umbrella bearer," but old England is well over half female in population, and the ladies traditionally have preferred "Chambers" to "Church." They swing a very heavy, organized feminine vote. One critic observed that the far-flung dominions of the seven seas seemed more bellicose than the British Isles proper. The anti-French element in England, always strong, was pointing a finger, tipped with gall, at the "back-stabbing" Gallics across the narrow channel. In New York, opinion indicated some sort of peace by, at very latest, mid-August or September 1. As you know, your commentator likes to sidestep predictions.

THREATS & THRUSTS: Might of Mars

England was threatened by Germany. Rumania was more than threatened by Russia, and also by Bulgaria and Hungary. French Indo-China was threatened by Japan. French Morocco was threatened by Spanish Morocco. British Malta was threatened by Italy. Marshal Pétain was threatened by Winston Churchill. Uruguay was threatened by some Nazis. London threatened to conscript the humble Hindus. Hindu revolt threatened London. The French navy threatened to join England, to join Germany, to commit suicide. The southern Irish threatened the northern Irish, or vice versa. The Chinese threatened to make peace, and threatened to go on fighting. The so-called fifth column threatened America (so they said)—then subdivided into campaign Republicans and campaign Democrats, who threatened one another.

INDUSTRY: Change of Pace

Current reports of Federal Reserve banks plus other commercial indices reveal that a downward trend of industrial activity which has marked U. S. business since last December has now been reversed. Expanding production is noted in many key industries.

Steel production is now booming along at capacity speeds and new orders from foreign and domestic buyers which are currently pouring in should keep blast furnaces roaring for many months to come.

Automobile tire shipments have shown large increases and leading rubber companies say these more than offset a seasonal decline in sales to car manufacturers.

TASTY TRIFLES: Hysteria

A Wyoming crowd showed the current hysteria. They tarred and feathered a member of a harmless religious sect, who had been distributing pacifist literature, and who was against compulsory flag-saluting. The poor fellow did not know how to salute the flag—and accidentally gave what looked like a Nazi salute. Of course, as a pacifist, he detested Nazis. Nevertheless, he was a dangerous fifth-columnar.

Boston school children can split their infinitives to suit themselves, according to a sensible proposal by a school committeeman, named Joe Lee. There really is no such thing as correct English spelling, pronunciation, or punctuation, as George Washington was forever pointing out. "Language, obviously, is a tool, and not a musical instrument," as one linguistic cynic put it. It was 8,000 airplane engines for England, to 3,000 for America, that revolted Henry Ford, although it did not seem to revolt Secretary Morgenthau.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
(Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK.—Some people don't know when they are well off. Karl Ulmanis was a milk man at Lincoln, Neb., for five years, and Anyone in Need Of Good Milk Wagon Driver? doing all right, before he went back to Latvia, to be president of the country and sit on a hot seat for 25 years thereafter. It was erroneously reported that he had fled, as the Russians moved in, but the news today is that he is still around, and has broadcast a message to his people to be nice to the invaders. Nobody knows the trouble he's seen. Considering that steady job he had, it looks like a score for the isolationists.

In Lincoln, in 1909, he was Karl Ullman, not Ulmanis, former dirt farmer and country editor in Latvia. The dean of the state college of agriculture got him the milk route, so he could work his way through college. He was graduated in the allotted time. He was steady and dependable, and might have been mistaken for a Nebraska farmer.

One day, he discarded his bill overalls, appeared in a store suit and was seen no more in those parts. Everybody liked him and they were especially shocked by the fact that he owed about $1,000, which he had borrowed to start a cheese factory in Texas. Six years passed when A. L. Haecker, one of his creditors, had a letter from him, enclosing full payment of his debt. He explained that he had a nice job as president of Latvia and was glad to be able to pay what he owed. Other bank drafts followed. The $1,000 was paid in full.

As president and foreign minister of Latvia, he lived in an ancient, turreted castle and ruled in a medieval throne room. On the wall behind his desk, the medieval heraldic emblem of Latvia was crossed with the green pennant of the Nebraska State College of Agriculture. But he wasn't having a wonderful time.

The country was under czarist Russia when young Mr. Ullman ran his newspaper. An indiscreet editorial brought about his departure for Lincoln by devious routes. To stave off Nazi aggression, he made himself dictator in 1934.

THE possibility of South and Central American countries picking up empire salvage before the U. S. A. works out its hemisphere defense plans seems to have been but lightly regarded. However, here's little Guatemala reaching out for British Honduras, and Sir Samuel Hoare's mahogany forests and mills therein, according to news reports.

Gen. Jorge Ubico, dictator of Guatemala for the last nine years, brings forward in the files the tale of a British pirate who snatched British Honduras from his country 60 years ago. "Losers weepers, finders keepers." Whether that applies to the wreckage of empires seems not to have been covered in international law.

General Ubico is the only living ruler who looks like Napoleon. He often is called the "Little Napoleon of the Tropics." He was elected for his first one-year term as president. He survived two revolutions during this term, and then set aside the constitutional limitation against more than one term—and has had eight repeats, so far.

The general received a technical and military education in the United States and Europe, and rose to political power through various provincial and national offices. He entered the national assembly in 1918. He concentrates on road-building, sanitation, agriculture and vocational training for young people. He has been strongly pro-U. S. A., and reports from Washington are that our state department probably wouldn't make much of a fuss over his grabbing British Honduras—as long as Hitler doesn't get it.

Brilliantly educated, hard-boiled, and diligent, he has worked out in his small laboratory his own idea of an authoritarian state. Monopoly is the central idea. He grants exclusive concessions in basic goods and industries. To restrain grabbing and grafting, he establishes a probity department in his cabinet. Anyone working for the government or doing important business with it, has to file a complete inventory of his own and his family's possessions. If these goods and chattels increase too rapidly, the general's busy little gestapo is on the job.

WEEKLY ANALYSIS BY ROGER SHAW

Terms of French Armistice Denounced by Great Britain; Fighting on Continent Ceases

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

With France humbled, England becomes the immediate objective of German and Italian blitzkrieg tactics of invasion. Citizens throughout the British Isles have been organized into various semi-military groups to resist in all possible manner such an invasion. In the above picture a detachment of "parashots," an organization designed to "take care" of parachute troops that may be dropped, is shown at practice, "somewhere in England." "Parashots" use rifles and shotguns, ammunition being supplied by the government and targets of clay pigeons and toy balloons are used.

II GERMAN WAR:

French Terms

Within six weeks after Adolf Hitler had begun his invasion against the low countries, France had signed an armistice with Germany and Italy (a combatant for only two weeks) and the "battle of France" was ended.

In a war that has been strange in many respects it was not surprising that the first news of the terms ending the struggle came from London rather than Berlin, Rome or Paris. British officials announced that "through friendly French sources" they had learned that terms of armistice included: (1) Complete demobilization of French land forces (2) surrender of the French fleet; (3) German occupation of more than half of France; (4) merchant shipping to remain in home ports until further traffic was authorized by Germany and Italy; (5) all French information about naval mines to be given Hitler and a portion of France's navy is to engage in mine-sweeping along French ports.

These in the main were the conditions of peace demanded by Germany and her ally Italy. The French government headed by Marshal Henri Petain as premier, signed the armistice, declared a day of mourning. Winston Churchill, British prime minister, was quick to scold his old ally and declared in effect, that while peace had come to France—it was not the "peace with honor" that Petain had sought. Rumors of a provisional French government with headquarters in London were heard in official quarters.

After the fighting had ceased on the continent, one major fact stood out: the mighty armed forces that are Hitler's now had but one objective—the complete defeat of Great Britain. Berlin and Rome were optimistic that it could soon be accomplished. London was sure that it could not, and British circles reminded the world that the Rome-Berlin axis had still to break the iron ring of England's powerful navy.

German Terms

To complete the record, the terms the Germans got at Versailles in 1919 included: loss of all colonies, a million square miles; loss of a seventh of Germany in Europe; loss of nearly all the German iron supply; loss of the entire German navy; loss of the entire German merchant marine; more than $30,000,000,000 to be paid in war "reparations"; limitation of the German army to 100,000 12-year regulars; abolition of German tanks, planes, submarines, big guns, big warships, general staff,

"No bombs—no England," said 22 anonymous Chinamen, who deserted an oil tanker, bound for England, in the safer New Jersey.

Belgian Premier Hubert Pierlot, who ousted his own King Leopold recently, fled into Portugal. He had been sojourning in France.

In the middle of the German successes in France, with Hitler's power at its very apex, Mr. Alfred Duff Cooper, British propaganda minister, urged the down-trodden, disarmed Czechs in Bohemia to revolt against harsh German overlordship. It was reported repeatedly from Paris, that U. S. Ambassador Bill Bullitt had become unpopular with needy Parisians, due to his "pro-war" efforts. Paris proletarians, said the reports, rudely called him "warlord" and "strike-breaker" and "sale Yankee"—and his embassy staff looked too well fed.

gas, etc. Germany also was forced to admit its "war guilt," in a self-condemnatory clause of the treaty.

French 'Debacle'

The critics went to work on the French army. It was brave, well equipped, perfectly trained. But it was trained for defensive fortress warfare, which was to its credit, and did not know how to maneuver in the open field. All modern forces need armor, but French armor went into the static Maginot line, while German armor went into highly mobile tanks and armored cars. The guns of the Maginot line pointed due east, and were too cumbersome to turn into reverse. Hence, when the Germans flanked the line, and took it in the rear, after the capture of Paris and the breakthrough at Sedan, the line and its really gallant "shellfish" became almost helpless. Meanwhile, the German motorized columns cleaned up the French channel coast down to Nantes in Brittany, took Tours and Lyons, and captured 700 new French tanks, 400 just-delivered American airplanes, and two 35,000-ton French warships, nearly completed. The French government had moved from Paris, to Tours, to Bordeaux, to Biarritz; the fascist-minded Corsican, Jean Chiappe, Daladier's mortal foe, had taken charge in Paris; and the two surviving Paris newspapers, Victoire and Matin, were more anti-Reynaud than they were anti-German. The great Zola wrote a book about the Franco-German war of 1870, called "Debacle." This 1940 debacle was 1870, all over again.

THIRD TERM:

The Campaign

The President, Mr. Roosevelt, appointed two conservative Republican colonels to his cabinet, to head the army and navy departments. They were Stimson, Hoover's old secretary of state, and Taft's old secretary of war, and Knox, Republican vice presidential candidate in 1936, when he ran with London. The Roosevelt action blew the lid off, and the bitterest campaign in American history got under way. People said that the third term and the World War depended on one another, and had become an interlocking directorate. Congressmen asked Roosevelt to resign, or said in private that he ought to be impeached. Roosevelt's Charlottesville speech came in for increasing condemnation, and so did Stimson and Knox, both of whom admittedly are extremists in their help-Ally viewpoint.

Within Roosevelt's own cabinet, Farley and Garner were apparently against the cabinet shift, and Garner was reported as opposed to the Roosevelt "meddle" policy in European wars. Roosevelt, who is notably short-tempered, was beginning to bridle under the heavy fire, and the fact that his popularity was constantly on the up-and-up in England, it was feared, would not help him over-much with plain American voters.

But Mr. Roosevelt replied, in self defense: "overwhelming sentiment of the nation for national solidarity in a time of world crisis, and in behalf of national defense, and nothing else."

U. S. DEFENSE:

Addenda

Roosevelt asked congress for 84 more warships, to give America the largest fleet in the world. It was to be a two-ocean navy, capable of defending the country in the Atlantic and the Pacific simultaneously. Many Americans felt that there was some rhyme and reason in this, but continued to ask how the United States could spare anything, of any military sort, for the armies of any European power.

REPUBLICANA:

'Read Out'

Frank Knox (Navy) Henry L. Stimson (War)

The Republicans read Stimson and Knox out of the party, with various expressions of condemnation, and Roosevelt indicated that Philadelphia was putting partisanship ahead of total U. S. nationalism. The Republican counter-answer, to this, was "totalitarianism." Colonel Knox was supposed to have said that the President agreed not to run for a third term, and Roosevelt was understood unequivocally, to have told him so. That remained to be seen. Earlier, the President had said that any coalition cabinet conception was "cokeyed." Things were becoming more—and more—complicated.

RED CROSS:

Looks Things Over

International Red Cross officials personally investigated war-prisoner camps in England, France and Germany, and pronounced things uniformly decent, humane, and proper. This came as a cheerful verdict in a dark hour.

It seemed that Germany had 10 Anglo-French prisoners, to every one German in Allied hands. And if it counted in the Belgians, Dutch, Poles, etc., the ratio became startling—50 to 1. Germany still had a quarter million Poles, many of whom were working in labor battalions.

The Red Cross further reported it had handled nearly a million letters and communications, between war prisoners and their relatives back home—wherever "home" might be. Apparently, there have been few war atrocities in Norway, Holland, Belgium, France; but additional atrocity data came leaking out of Poland—data that reflected equally unfavorably on Germans, Poles, and Russians.

AMERICA:

At Odds & Ends

Margaret Woodrow Wilson, daughter of the late President Wilson, was reported to be happy in a life-long Indian mystical sect. Marge, they said, was peaceful and secluded.

The Harvard graduating class cheered, to the echo, their class orator, who said to stay out of European wars. It boomed, to the echo, an old grad who talked about repeating the events of 1917-18.

John Lewis, of the C. I. O., praised ex-President Hoover and said he had nothing to do with the great American depression, blaming politicians for this belief.

Doctors over the nation, reported that Euro-blitzkrieging had made Americans literally sick, due to nervous emotion and worry: the war of nerves, they added, was producing neurotics.

Twin bombs, within an hour, went off anonymously in New York city, outside the German commercial agency, and Communist party headquarters. Ten people were hurt, and district attorney (candidate) Dewey got down to work at once.

New York city, according to census figures, now has 7½ million people, which is half a million more than 10 years ago. The borough of Queens has the largest gain: 20 per cent. The Bronx borough is most populous, with famed Manhattan only third. Brooklyn is second, Queens fourth, and little Staten Island fifth. Tokyo is now the world's second city, with London (on the down and down) third.

WAR REACTIONS:

'Many and Varied'

England and Germany kept bombing each other from the air. The English strafed the Berlin suburbs, and the Germans hammered hundreds of miles of the English east coast, where the "true" Anglo-Saxons hail from. Canada, Australia and New Zealand proved their loyalty. Canada put in conscription, for service within the limits of the dominion. The new governor-general, Queen Mary's brother, Athlone, arrived from England, to pep up the Canadians even more. But another British dominion, South Africa, was debating a separate peace with Germany, as Premier Smuts deadlocked with ex-Premier Hertzog, and the Dutch Boers squabbled with the British colonials down there.

Soviet Russia tightened its hold on the three little Baltic states of Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia, with an aggregate population of perhaps 6,000,000. Tiny Estonia underwent a workers' communist putsch, and ousted its middle-class rulers. The Red army aided in this "revolutionary" development, and other "developments" were expected in Latvia and Lithuania. What would become of honest, steadfast, debating Finland, was the next question, and one that agitated some Americans more than the sad fate of brave M. Reynaud.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
(Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK.—Dr. Frank Kingdon resigned as president of the University of Newark to serve the cause of American unity against various open and hidden disruptive forces. Certain industrialists have become dollar-a-year men for military rearmament. Dr. Kingdon is perhaps the first man to give up his job to work for intellectual rearmament. With others, he built the Citizenship Educational Service to advance tolerance, cooperation and all-around American solidarity. Theodore Roosevelt is its chairman and Dr. Kingdon is educational director.

"American Unity" was the subject of Dr. Kingdon's address before the Institute of Public Affairs at Charlottesville, Va., recently. A few days ago, this writer happened to be present when Dr. Kingdon was conversing with a New York citizen of distinction and influence who maintained that democracy was both decadent and impotent. In his Charlottesville address, Dr. Kingdon said:

"The other day, I was arguing with a self-confessed Fascist. I happened to use the word freedom. He immediately scoffed, saying, 'Freedom for what? Freedom to be unemployed? Freedom to starve?' He knew that the word was one of the signal words of human history. He could not meet it squarely. So he tried to tie it up with all kinds of other words having unpleasant definitions in order to destroy its own appeal by transferring to it their dismay. His was a deliberate effort to empty of meaning a word that is packed with hope and faith. His performance was typical of the planned and concerted attempt to destroy the foundations of our thought so that we shall crumble before a vigorous onslaught from the cause with which he has allied himself."

In the above address Dr. Kingdon assays such words as Christianity, freedom, religion, propaganda, isolation, in the interest of tolerance and unity. Such is one of the unique endeavors of the Citizenship Educational Service.

Dr. Kingdon, tall, urbane schoolman and cleric, was born in London and came to this country in 1912, at the age of 17. He was educated at University College school, London, and Boston university.

IN BRAZIL, there is a saying that President Getulio Vargas is so clever that he can take off his socks without removing his shoes. Certainly some such deft procedure was indicated when he eased Brazil noiselessly into a dictatorship in 1937. Currently his swing on "sterile democracy," and his indorsement of European dictatorships as "vigorous peoples fit for life" is big news in the western world, healing quickly, as it does, the Italian aggression. There are 400,000 Germans in Brazil who have indicated similar views about "sterile democracy."

President Vargas has seemed much more able and plausible than most dictators. He isn't given to casual shooting or hanging and he says very little and this in a low voice, never in a sports palat or on a balcony. He built his 1936 campaign on a bare-knuckle fight against the "plutocratic coffee barons" of the Sao Paulo. He was badly defeated. He didn't yell, "I've been robbed," but instead gathered a few of his old gauche friends and quietly took over the country.

For four years, he ruled by decree and then set up a liberal constitution, written by the national assembly. He proclaimed his allegiance to liberal government and the democratic ideal. He governed effectively and is credited with having cut down debt and upped production.

Reared in a prairie town, he enrolled in a military college, but was diverted to the law and, like many of our own politicians, reached the national congress, with a start as district attorney.

At about two o'clock on the morning of November 10, 1937, President Vargas telephoned all the members of his cabinet and the leaders of his legislature to come to the palace immediately. They seized weapons as they dashed for their cars. The president received them urbanely, broke out cigars and wine, chatted a few moments and then handed them a document in which he had scrapped and fired congress, nullified existing laws and substituted his own code. There was no dissent.

Inexpensive Chintz, China and Ingenuity

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

IT WAS with a thrill of pride that Betsy's mother looked over a list of the nicest girls in Betsy's class. She had said, "yes," when Betsy wanted to give a luncheon for them. Now what would she do about the shabby old dining room with its veneered oak chairs, short, faded curtains and bare buff-colored walls?

Here is the answer and it cost exactly six dollars. An inexpensive green and yellow flowered chintz was used for draperies from ceiling to floor. The trick of making the windows higher is explained in the diagram. The old window shades were painted a soft, clear green. The backs and seats of the chairs were slip-covered with the chintz with green bindings, and a set of green and yellow china was brought out to lend color to the walls and add a note of interest on green painted stands in front of the windows. The stands were made of empty spools as described in the new Sewing Book 5, which is now ready for mailing. This book also gives directions for a buckram stiffened valance of the type shown here. All of its 32 pages are packed as tight as I could make them with ideas to make your home attractive without breaking the bank. You can have your copy for 10 cents to cover cost and mailing. ## Old High-Back Chair Changes Personality

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS
HERE comes the Bride again! Many of you have met her in Sewing Book 5. She is the same resourceful young lady whose adventures with an old dresser, a fish bowl and a piano stool are described in that book; and who remodeled one of the old rockers in Book 5. Today's sketch shows another of her slight 'o' hand tricks with a chair.

We first came upon the chair in a second-hand shop window. It looked quite impossible, but the next time I went to see the Bride, there was the chair sitting in a corner painted a cheerful green and with white gingham cushions. The legs had been shortened, as shown here, and the pompous top-heavy back had been cut down. That was all, but the change was complete. If you are interested in adventures in homemaking be sure to send for Book 5. It has 32 pages of money saving ideas that you can put to use at once. Send order to:

WHEN YOU MAKE JAM OR JELLY

"Sugar 'nd spice 'nd everything nice" goes into the preserving kettle, and out of it comes a tantalizing array of jellies, jams, pickles and relishes, and rich fruit butters and marmalades.

This year, why not add to your stock of preserves (and to your reputation as a good cook!) by doing some of your own canning and preserving? It's as easy as A,B,C, if you'll follow a few simple suggestions and use tested recipes.

Most of the equipment you need for canning and preserving you will have on hand; large kettles or saucepans, a colander, coarse strainer, wooden masher, wooden spoons, a skimmer, wide-mouth funnel, glass jars, jelly glasses, jar covers and new rubbers. It may be necessary to buy a few new jars each year, for nicked jars are likely to cause spoilage.

Wash jars, glasses and covers thoroughly in soapy water, and rinse in boiling water. Sterilize their just before using and let them remain in the hot water until you are ready to fill them. Use new rubbers every year, and dip them in boiling water just before you put them on the jars. When jars or jelly glasses are to be filled with hot foods, place the hot glasses on a clean towel which has been wrung out of hot water.

If you have an old-fashioned gravy boat with a spout and handle, use it in filling glasses with jellies, jams and preserves. Allow the jam to cool in the glasses before sealing with paraffin. When the paraffin has set, wipe the glasses with a damp cloth, cover, and label them. To prevent the formation of mold, store jams, jellies, and preserves in a cool, dry place.

Homemade Tomato Soup.
(Makes 6 pints)
1 peck tomatoes (14 pounds)
1 bunch celery
1 quart onions (sliced)
½ cup butter
½ cup flour
½ cup sugar
4 to 5 teaspoons salt
¾ teaspoon pepper

Scrub the tomatoes and celery, and cut into pieces. Add the sliced onion, and cook over a low flame until the vegetables are thoroughly soft (about 1 hour). Strain. Blend together the butter, flour, sugar, and seasoning, and add to the strained tomato mixture. Bring to a boil, and boil gently for 20 minutes, stirring frequently. Seal in sterilized jars. To serve, combine the tomato soup with soup stock or milk.

Sweet Pantry Slices.
(Makes 6 to 7 pints)
1 gallon cucumbers (3 to 5 inches long)
1½ quarts white onions (sliced)
½ cup salt
5 cups sugar
1 tablespoon ground ginger
½ teaspoon turmeric
2 tablespoons mustard seed
1 tablespoon celery seed
5 cups vinegar

Scrub cucumbers and slice thin (without paring). Add sliced onions and salt, and if crushed ice is available, stir in 1 pint which aids in crisping. Cover with a weighted lid and let stand for 3 hours. Drain, and add remaining ingredients. Place over low heat, bring to the simmering point, and simmer for 5 minutes. Pack in sterilized jars and seal.

Strawberry-Rhubarb Conserve.
2 pounds strawberries
2 pounds rhubarb
3 pounds sugar

Wash fruit; hull strawberries and cut rhubarb in small pieces (you'll find the scissors a great finger-saver in cutting the rhubarb). Place fruit in deep pan like a dish-pan and place in cold oven. Set temperature control to 400 degrees and start the oven. Cook about 1½ hours, then add sugar. Cook, stirring occasionally, for ¼ to 1 hour, or until conserve becomes thick. (The time varies according to the "juiciness" of the fruit). Pour into sterilized jars or glasses and seal immediately or cool and cover with melted paraffin.

Quick Strawberry Jam.
(Makes 6 glasses)
1 quart strawberries
Boiling water
4 cups sugar

Remove caps from strawberries and wash thoroughly. Then pour boiling water over berries until water is lightly tinted with pink. Drain and place berries in saucepan, add 2 cups of sugar, and shake over low flame until sugar is dissolved and mixture begins to boil. Then increase heat and boil hard for 4 minutes. Reduce heat, add remaining sugar and boil hard again for 4 minutes longer. Pour into jelly glasses, allow to thicken, and seal when cold.

Sunless Sun Preserves.
Take 4 cups of strawberries which have been washed and hulled and 5 cups sugar, place 1 cup berries in a heavy saucepan and cover with 1 cup sugar and continue until all of the berries and sugar have been placed in the saucepan layer by layer. Bring slowly to a boil and boil gently for 9 minutes. Remove from fire and add 3 tablespoons lemon juice. Let stand overnight. Next day bring to a boil and boil gently an additional 9 minutes. Remove from fire, skim, and let stand in saucepan until thoroughly cold, then seal in hot sterilized jars. The berries remain whole and retain their natural flavor and color.

Rhubarb Butter.
(Makes 6 to 7 glasses)
2½ pounds rhubarb
2 pounds sugar
¾ cup vinegar
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
½ teaspoon ground cloves
Cut rhubarb in small pieces (do not peel). Combine with remaining ingredients and cook for about 2 hours—or until the mixture is the consistency of fruit butter. Pour into sterilized jelly glasses. Cover with melted paraffin.

Chili Sauce.
4 quarts ripe tomatoes
6 apples
2 onions
1½ cups brown sugar
2 cups vinegar
1 tablespoon salt
3 tablespoons pickle spice
2 teaspoons paprika
Peel and chop fine the tomatoes, apples and onions. Add the brown sugar, vinegar and salt and the spices tied in a spice bag. Cook slowly until thick, stirring frequently. Remove spice bag. Seal in hot sterilized jars.

Send for Your Copy of 'Better Baking.'

STARDUST

By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

EVER since Cecil B. DeMille used bathtubs as an aide in making his heroines more glamorous our screen players have showered and scrubbed before the camera, with due discretion. Remember Joan Crawford's bubble bath in "The Women"? That was one of the screen's most elegant bathing bits, in recent years.

But in "The Howards of Virginia" Cary Grant takes a bath that will get him into trouble with the historians, though if it does nobody will be to blame.

"The Howards of Virginia," you'll recall, is based on that popular book, "The Tree of Liberty." The author, Elizabeth Page, did extensive research for it; Producer-Director Frank Lloyd had experts at work for months before a camera turned.

But—the author wrote a scene in which the hero takes a bath in Raleigh tavern, at Williamsburg, Va. The first regulation bathtub was not brought to America until several years after the story takes place. Research failed to uncover anything in bathtub styles current for the period; in fact, the general impression seemed to be that the male gentry performed such abutions in the Potomac river.

So Lloyd used his imagination, and decreed that Cary Grant should take his bath in a round wooden tub; maybe that's not according to Hoyle, historically, but it's the best he could do.

Motion Picture Director Sam Wood took the European war by the horns recently and forbade the presence of radios on the set for "Rangers of Fortune." "I had to do something," he said. "The players had five radios on the set and did nothing but talk of the war. Now we spend five minutes at 10 o'clock in the morning and at four in the afternoon listening to war bulletins, and that's all."

Patricia Morison, who has a featured role, agreed quite willingly, though she has two cousins fighting with the royal air force, and it's a long time between ten and four.

Describing his gift as "the least we can do in these troubled times," Frederic March recently purchased and presented to the American Red Cross, for use in Europe, a completely equipped ambulance. He and Mrs. March were asked to participate in a benefit, but he was unable to do so because of his work in Paramount's "Victory." He said that he thought the ambulance would be more welcome than their appearance.

When a radio program comes on the air with its studio audience laughing, somebody has worked hard to get just that effect. Fibber McGee has an old-fashioned witch which dangles from his vest pocket. With 85 seconds before the broadcast he checks the time anxiously with the control room; with one second to go, Fibber nonchalantly says, "Oh, shucks, we got lots of time," tosses the watch over the footlights into the audience, and they roar with laughter.

ODDS AND ENDS—Patsy Kelly returns to films in Hal Roach's "Road Show," after an absence of two years. . . . Warner Brothers' "All This, and Heaven Too," with Bette Davis and Charles Boyer, is the first picture to have its premiere performance broadcast by television. . . . John Garfield will have his first cowboy role in "Flying Gold." . . . Isabel Manning Henson's governor's pet admonition was "Hush, Isabel, or they'll hear you a block away," but Isabel didn't hush, and now, as NBC's feminine commentator, she is heard from coast to coast!

"Musical Americana," the Westinghouse radio program, has changed time—it is now heard on Tuesday nights at nine, Eastern Daylight Saving Time—and has also changed location. It is broadcast from New York, so that, if you're visiting the city and want to attend a broadcast, you can do so. You can arrange for tickets at the Westinghouse building at the New York World's fair; if you can't get over to Radio City, you can listen to it as a special rebroadcast from the 120-foot-high Singing Cascade.

END THE HOUSE

Lime marks on bath tub, caused by hard water, can be removed by rubbing with peroxide of hydrogen.

HOT SPRINGS

Baths in these waters flowing at temperatures up to 145°, are remarkably effective for arthritis, high blood pressure, neuritis, heart conditions, after-effects of flu, malaria, etc., and general reconditioning. (Write for BATHS folder—FREE)

Good Will Club

We met with Mrs. J. B. Masterson Tuesday. The afternoon was spent playing 42. The hostess announced she was giving a prize to the one having won the most games, this being a unique way of presenting Ven Biggs, the bride to be, with a lovely pastel canebwick bed spread.

Delicious refreshments were served to Mesdames Crooks, Jamison, Hunsucker, Vallance, Mesley, Pyle and Tollett, Miss Von Biggs and the hostess. Plate favors were lovely little brides dressed in white.

The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Crooks at Memphis the fourth Tuesday in July.

Favors Speaks Here

Ennis Favors, candidate for the state Legislature, "opened up" in his speaking campaign during the week end and will be busy throughout the four counties of his district until election day.

He spoke at Melton on Friday and was heard in Quail, Hedley, and Clarendon on Saturday.

Mr. Favors, a Gray county resident for 18 years, is offering his services on a platform to "represent and protect" the interests of all the people of the district. He is a self educated man and is a practicing attorney, having passed the state bar association examination several years ago.

Mr. Favors has been campaigning in all of the four counties of his district and reports "a most gratifying response" in all places he has visited. There are four counties in the district which he would represent—Gray, Wheeler, Collingsworth and Donley. Gray county with approximately 6,500 qualified voters is by far the "heaviest voting" county. Other counties have a voting strength of approximately the following: Collingsworth 2,800, Wheeler 3,500 and Donley 2,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Medkief of Clovis, N. Mex. were Hedley visitors Sunday.

Mrs. Bonnie Johnson of Los Angeles, Calif., spent Sunday in the B. M. Davis home.

L. H. Spear left Tuesday for Wichita Falls, where he will be enrolled in the Army Air Corps.

H. Stewart underwent an eye operation in a Memphis hospital Saturday.

Wilda Lou Mobley of San Bernardino, Calif. visited in the C. L. Goin home last week.
