Mrs. Mahaley Posey

Mrs. Posey was born Feb 19, 1861 and died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mollie Mae, Aug 8, 1940, at the age of 79 years, 5 months and 16 days. She was married to W. N. Posey in Tennessee and in 1894 moved to Stephenville, Texas, coming to Donley county a few years later. Mr. Posey died Jan. 8, 1924 at the age of 64.

She is survived by her two daughters, Mrs. Mollie Mae of Hedley and Mrs. W. M. Mae of Leila Lake; also three granddaughters, one grandson and one great grandson of which all were present for the funeral service. Mrs. Posey was converted and joined the Methodist Church at Covington, Texas early in life. She remained faithful to her Christ and to her Church until death.

Her funeral was conducted from the Hedley Methodist Church by the pastor, Rev. I. E. Biggs assisted by Rev. H. C. Gordon, pastor of the Methodist Church at Clarendon. Interment was made in the Clarendon cemetery, under direction of Womack Funeral Home. Pall bearers were Alva Simmons, Leon Reeves, G. Moffitt, L. Dishman, Jay Hunt and Earl Tollett, while the flower bearers were Misses Annie Mae Curtis and Myrtle Willis and Mesdames Teelma Malens and Eunice Johnson.

Dr. J. C. Geffey

Mesdames J. R. Boston and R. O. Stotz of Amarillo visited here Tuesday.

Rev. Rex Hendall and baby of Vega visited here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Naylor are vacationing in Colorado.

Old Settlers Picnic

The old settlers of Donley county will meet at the Tate Grove northeast of Hedley on Friday, Aug. 16, for their 10th annual reunion. The reunion was organized in 1931 as a get together for everyone who had lived in this county 20 years or longer. W. I. Rains was president of the association from its organization until last year, when Tom Tate was elected. Other officers include M. W. Mosley, vice president, and Mrs. Joe Crawford, secretary.

Donley County has a history which may well interest every present day citizen. The county was created in 1876, only three years after the last big Comanche raid in West Texas, and was organized in 1882. The population of the entire county at that time was 160.

The first town in the county was O. D. Clarendon, established in 1878, which was named county seat upon the county's organization.

In 1885 the settlement of Giles was founded and in five years grew to be the greatest cattle shipping center in the world, by which time the county boasted over a thousand residents.

In 1893 was founded the town of Rows, which became Hedley in 1907.

Other settlements in the county and the dates they were established include Ashtola (1895), McKnight (1905), Leila Lake (1906) and Goldstein (1910).

Donley has a number of old timers who have lived here fifty years or more. They have seen the era of the cattlemen, the building of the railroads, the coming of barbed wire, gang plows and settlers. They have seen the "land boom" of 1900-1910. They have seen the development of the Panhandle as an oil, gas and industrial region.

Vast changes have been brought about since Donley county was created 64 years ago. No man may say what changes the next ten, twenty or fifty years may bring, what wonders may be accomplished, what progress may be made.

But let us never forget to honor the pioneer—the sturdy men and women who led the way—who made this section the great land it is today.

Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Guy Wright of Clarendon announce the arrival of an 8 lb. daughter on Monday, Aug. 5.

RAIN!

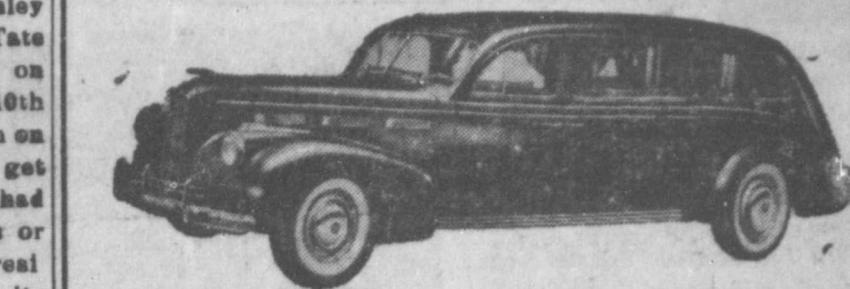

As we go to press, this vicinity is getting a nice rain. Over an inch has already fallen and it's still raining.

Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Coffey left Tuesday for Knox City in response to a message that Mrs. Clyde Goodrich was critically ill. Mrs. Goodrich will be remembered here as Billy Burnett, who with her sister Peggy made their home with Dr. and Mrs. Coffey a number of years ago.

W. R. Banister is reported getting along nicely after an operation in an Amarillo hospital last Saturday.

Misses Gerta and Joyce Webb of Amarillo are visiting here.

Mrs. T. M. Owens was ill in a Memphis hospital several days last week.

We endeavor to serve in a way that honors those whose work is done and helps those who yet have work to do.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
(Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK.—J. B. Priestly and the U. S. A. got along nicely together until his play, "Time and the Conways," began to make trouble in 1937. In this play, Mr. Priestly went metaphysical and conjured time into fourth dimensional unreality. Perhaps because they had long felt the urgency and reality of a newspaper deadline, the American dramatic critics didn't quite get it and scored the play as just so-and-maybe not even that. Mr. Priestly said they were rude and boorish about it and challenged not only their time sense, but their sense of propriety and their fitness for their jobs.

That must have gone deeply under Mr. Priestly's skin, since, as the "Voice of England" at a moment when time, at any rate seems to be real, he takes a short-wave, short jab at radio commentators in this country. He thinks that "people who are not prepared to fight anything, anywhere" should mind their manners and not belittle others who can and will fight. While that may not necessarily make "Time and the Conways" a good play, it reveals Mr. Priestly, and no doubt England, as ready to meet all comers, and that seems all to the good. Perhaps when television comes, we'll be saying, "Smile when you say that, pardner."

This reporter, having once talked with Mr. Priestly, can testify that he has a nice smile. While his estimate of our present or potential belligerency may have been somewhat tactless, in his novels and magazine articles he has shown much more sound discernment of the American scene than the writings of certain other visiting Britons, who kiss and run and thereafter engage in long-distance smearing. He, at any rate, said his say while he was here.

Mr. Priestly, 46 years old, took honors in literature and history at Cambridge, went to London from his native Yorkshire and found the literary ladder just an escalator. His novel, "The Good Companions," was his first big success. This reader thought there was deep insight in his "Midnight in the Desert," written after his stay in Arizona, with his family. In his routine short-wave address, he stresses the common cultural ties of England and America, without being oily about it and has seemed to this hearer an effective special pleader. But he does seem to look on our critics as alien parachute-jumpers, or even something less admirable.

THE professor who pieces out the dinosaur from a single bone has a distinct advantage over interpreters of world events. Nobody can dispute him. This writer Bears a Feather has just finished reading a magazine article of 1934 about Lieut. Gen. Eiki Tojo of Japan, in which it is made clear that he is typical of the headstrong army caste, sure to destroy itself, and that quickly.

But here today is General Tojo named war minister in the new army cabinet which seems bent on destroying anybody or anything rather than itself. In the short view, at least, the dinosaurs of totalitarianism are subject to laboratory observation—but only in the short view, close to a deadline.

Little is known about General Tojo in this country, but available data indicate that his rise to power will not be reassuring to those who look for peaceful, pleasant solutions of world discord. His betes noires are the U. S. A. and Russia.

Like Pericles of Greece, he advanced himself by kicking up war scares. He agrees with the doctrine of Adolf Hitler, expounded in "Mein Kampf," that all alliances are push-overs and that the only tough and durable nation is the one that stands alone. He is smart, hard-boiled, resourceful and contemptuous of theories, sentiments, and negotiations. He is of an un-reconstructed feudal family, and has been in the army since his early youth.

Stubby, bespectacled little Yosuke Matsuoka, Japan's new foreign minister, is cut out of the same cloth. At the University of Oregon, he was an easy conformist in superficial matters, picking up sports-page idiom and playing poker cleverly—never caught bluffing. After he led Japan's contemptuous walkout from the League of Nations in 1933 he made no further gestures toward Occidentalism. They call him Japan's Clive of India, signifying his long industrial outreach on the mainland.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY ROGER SHAW

German Flyers Slash at Britain; American Republics Sign Pact; U. S. Studies 'Peacetime Draft'

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

This new streamlined mobile station of the U. S. Army Recruiting service is shown as it was put into service at Bradenton, Fla., with a prospective soldier already taking the first step towards "warrior" status. If and when Congress approves the Burke-Wadsworth bill, the army is ready to put into effect a selective compulsory military training program, in which event the coaxing of recruits will become a lost art.

(See—The Draft.)

THE WAR: Mostly Aerial

The war was becoming increasingly aerial and submarine in its essential nature. The armies were quiet, for they had little to do. The Germans had released the Dutch, Norse and Belgian war prisoners, and sent them home on parole. Some 250,000 Polish prisoners were expected to be next, with the French not too far behind. The German troops were playing "skat" in weary garrison duty, from the Arctic circle down to Portugal, and they were infiltrating into Spain. It looked as if the Spanish and Rumanians might enter the war on the German side, and already the British foreign office was trying to back up little Bulgaria in its claims for some Rumanian territory.

Russia, the bear that walks like a man, as Kipling put it, increased its Soviet hold on the three small Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania, and on the Rumanian province of Bessarabia as well. But the prospect of German-Russian warfare did not appear to be very likely. The European continent was quieting, and it was slowly consolidating in its new "continental" form. The Germans, Rumanians, Hungarians, and Bulgarians conferred at Salzburg, in what used to be Austria. Over the conference loomed the red shadows of Stalin and the Stalinites.

The aerial losses of Germans and British were so conflicting, in the reports, that nobody could hope to judge. So were the amounts of damage done, but the unhappy Dutch were probably suffering as severely as anybody, along with the English east coast and the German Rhine-land. It was indecisive, criminal, and stupid. Rumors of peace continued on all sides, and the conflicting radios blared incessantly. Definitely, the Vatican was peace-minded, and so were the Hollanders (it was variously reported) General Goering and Mr. Lloyd George. Would the lightning-war Blitzkrieg turn into a Blitzkrieg, or lightning peace?

HAVANA: The 21

The 21 American republics and "republics" found out, at Havana, that the Argentine was the chief stumbling block. This generally happens at Pan-American get-togethers, for the following reasons:

The Argentine is pure white—much purer than the United States. It is two-thirds Hispanic, and a third sturdy North Italian, extremely good stock. It is prouder than Punch, and ultra-patriotic. It con-

NAMES ... in the news

Mrs. Daisy Borden Harriman, the American lady ambassador to Norway, was reported en route home, on the U. S. army transport American Legion—in company with the Yankee ministers to Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, recently absorbed by Soviet Russia.

Vice President Garner went home to Texas. He said: "I'm not talking politics." Would he bolt, too, pondered railbirds of his native Uvalde? Said Adrien Marquet, new French minister of interior: "Tell America her time is coming unless she wakes up. The nation presents these three manifestations of decadence—women filling the jobs of men in industry and commerce, wearing too much make-up, and refusing to bear children." Have these "three manifestations" taken the place of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness? So queried a humble listener.

siders itself the natural leader and champion of Spanish America, against Uncle Sam, Hitler, and the Mikado alike. Argentines think that Mexico, Cuba, Bolivia, etc., should take advice from themselves—and not from the Yankee Colossus, as they call the Americans. Ireland generally throws a monkey wrench into British imperial conferences, and Dr Leopoldo Melo has been doing approximately the same thing, to the secret distress of Secretary Hull.

As the conference ended the 21 nations signed a pact, known as the "Act of Havana," which provided for "provisional administration" of any European owned possessions in this hemisphere "if a non-American state shall attempt to replace another non-American state, thus threatening the peace of the continent."

THE DRAFT: Conscripts?

What about universal military service in peace time? That was a burning question before all the Americans. Some of the best military critics opposed it as inefficient, and the Republican Senator Vandenberg and the Democratic Senator Wheeler did not seem to like it either. Neither did the pacifists, nor many of the isolationists. A real congressional debate over the issue was taking definite shape.

Was it scientific, in the light of modern warfare, which demands highly trained small groups of mechanical specialists, like tankmen and flyers and motor-minded technicians? Perhaps it was. Perhaps it was not. There was need for cool, hard rationalizing, and no place for hysteria or emotionalism. Some of the best generals were for it, and so were many public-spirited citizens. By and large, American youth seemed to be anti-conscription, and some people linked interventionism with the proposed draft. It was a fair field for patriotic debate, and intelligent study. Many good U. S. nationalists went at it in that enlightened spirit.

BRETONS: From Britain

Early in the Middle ages, a lot of frightened Celts escaped from Britain and settled across the channel in France. They called their new home "Brittany" in honor of their old home. The people that chased them out of Britain were the heathen Anglo-Saxons, who changed Britain into Anglo-land (England). The Bretons kept on speaking Celtic, and they refused to join France politically until about 1500. When the great French revolution came, in 1789, they resisted it by force for eight long years, for they were backward and ultra-conservative.

Of late years, they learned about independence from the Celtic nationalists of Ireland, and a Breton nationalist movement got going. When war broke out last fall, Premier Daladier jailed some of the Breton nationalists, along with other "dangerous" elements. This was a mistake. It made the Bretons pro-German. Now, with German help, a new and semi-independent Brittany may be set up: its capital at Rennes.

Flemings The German plan was perhaps to separate France from England, by a row of little buffer channel states. A Flemish state was outlined. It would consist of French Flanders, Belgian Flanders, and the Dutch province of Zealand. For cities, it would take in Flushing, Ostend, Antwerp, Dunkirk, Calais, Boulogne and other channel ports. In between the new Brittany and the new Flanders was what used to be Normandy—whence came our neighbors, the French Canadians.

Star Dust

STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

RITA HAYWORTH won a victory when Director Charles Vidor offered her a chance to become Brian Aherne's leading lady in "The Lady in Question." Because the sultry-eyed actress wears clothes so well she's been labelled "the best dressed girl in filmland." And because she's what she is, she found herself in danger of acquiring another label—that of a glamour girl.

But the lovely Rita wants to act. If you've seen her in "Susan and God," with Joan Crawford and Frederic March, you know that she can do it, too.

But in that one she was beautifully dressed. She wanted a role that would give her a chance to show what she could do in spite of being dowdily dressed. Vidor certainly gave it to her in "The Lady in Question."

Her entire wardrobe for this one cost less than $45. A drab suit, shoes with run-over heels, and a very simple afternoon frock—that's what this "best dressed" young woman was given to wear. She was delighted. But she couldn't go dowdy all the way—she had to wear silk stockings.

Remember Marie Wilson, the cunning blonde who was clever enough to put herself across in Hollywood by playing dumb? Her most recent picture was "Boy Meets Girl," which isn't exactly recent, after all. She has just concluded a 20 weeks' personal appearance tour, and now she's back in pictures; you'll see her in "Virginia," playing a neurotic young New York society woman who wants to buy an historic Virginia plantation owned by Madeline Carroll and transform it into a night club.

Grim fate pursues Bette Davis on the screen. She's died, gone insane, lost her eyesight, faced certain death on a plague-ridden island, been murdered, and caused a scandal that rocked the world. In her new picture, "The Letter," she starts right out by killing a man. However, her roles haven't affected her private life—she's taking rhumba lessons in her free moments.

Speaking of free time—Raymond Gram Swing (whom Radio Guide recently named "the wisest and most scholarly of the war commentators") has had but two free weeks for vacation in the past four years. And with the European situation what it is there's no telling when he'll ever again have time off.

A honeymoon that was delayed for five years started recently, when Laurette Gilbran ("Virginia Richman" of "Girl Alone") and her husband, Russ Young, finally departed for Hollywood and points north. He's a radio announcer, and ever since their marriage, when he wasn't booked to act, he was committed to acting—getting 16 free weeks together was something of a triumph.

Are you one of these movie fans who implore the stars to do something on the screen that will really be a message to you? If you are, you annoy your favorite star no end. George Brent has one of those fans, a girl who wants him to tap his cigarette three times on an ash tray at least once in each picture, just to let her know that he was thinking of her. He did it as a gag in one picture, and regrets it—says since then she's been so insistent that he'd be muscle-bound if he acceded to her demands.

Pretty Brenda Marshall (now working in "East of the River") gets regular letters from a youth who wants her to mention his name just once during the picture. And Jane Wyman receives roses to wear.

When the roses arrived when she started work in "Tugboat Annie Sails Again" Jane took steps. She wrote him that she couldn't do it if she wanted to, because she has to do what the script tells her to, that she has rose fever and can't stand the flowers—and besides, that she's married.

Part of every Texas oil dollar finds its way

EVERY merchant in our State—every business and professional man—every worker, shares in Texas oil's huge expenditures. Many Texas cities with all their varied businesses and employment exist and prosper today because of oil. Last year petroleum created a direct buying power in our state of 550 million dollars. Of this, Texas retail merchants received 324 million dollars, landlords 44 million, utilities 38 million and professional men 22 million, while 83 million more went for insurance and savings. This huge sum is distributed and redistributed in an endless chain of income for our State and its people. Texas oil payrolls are over 60 per cent of all the wages paid to all Texas workers. Directly or indirectly, you get a part of your income from oil. If you're a Texan, you're in the oil business.

The Martindale family were in a dither when she told them that she was going to furnish a combination guest and sewing room with the mirror and two legs of the old buffet; plus some spools, a butter tub, unbleached muslin, some old rags and other odds and ends.

The rags were used for the hook rug in this sketch of a corner of that new guest and sewing room. Directions for the rug and for making the spool tables shown here are both in Sewing Book 5. The mirror was hung end-wise and is marvelous for fitting dresses. The muslin drapery was used to cover the irregular edge of the mirror and makes just the right background for the blue spool tables. You can see in the sketch how the lamps and stool were made. Next week the bottom shelf of the buffet will be used and Gram will teach Marty another trick or two.

THE TRUTH SIMPLY TOLD

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use. The medical profession supports that of the able physicians who test the value of Doan's Pills under laboratory conditions.

These physicians, too, approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for disorder of the kidney function and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people knew of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of the kidney sufferer when kidneys lag, and diuretic medication would be more often employed.

During scanty or too frequent urination sometimes the kidney function is impaired. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headaches, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a product that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

DOANS PILLS

Household News By Eleanor Howe

FROSTY FOODS FOR SUMMER
(Recipes Below)

When you're "eating out," and you wonder what to order for the grand finale of your meal, how often do you decide on a delicious sounding parfait? There's something very special about this tall, imposing and delectable dessert. And there really is no reason at all why having parfaits for dessert should be confined to our "eating out" days. A parfait may be a culinary creation, but with modern ice cream freezers, improved freezing in mechanical refrigerators and commercial mixes to help produce smooth, creamy, frozen desserts, there's no reason why you shouldn't serve them often at home!

Make a variety of ice creams and sherbets too, and serve them with cookies or dainty cakes. You'll find a grand assortment of cookie and cake recipes in my cookbook, "Better Baking," — crisp cookies, chewy cookies, and light feathered cakes that are just the right accompaniment for foods and drinks that are cold and frosty.

Ice Cream Freezer Ice Cream.

(Makes 1 quart)

2 cups milk
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
1 cup whipping cream

Scald milk, reserving 1/2 cup. Mix and blend the sugar, flour and salt and mix to a smooth paste with the cold milk which was reserved. Add this mixture to the scalded milk and cook, stirring constantly until thick. In a double boiler for 15 minutes. Add egg yolks (well beaten) and cook, stirring constantly, three minutes longer. Add vanilla and chill. Fold in whipping cream (whipped), place in ice cream freezer and freeze, using three parts ice to one part rock salt. This is a good standard recipe to use as a "pattern" for many tasty variations.

Chocolate Angel Parfait.

2 egg whites (beaten stiff)
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water

1 square unsweetened chocolate (melted and slightly cooled)
1 cup cream (whipped)
1 tablespoon vanilla extract
3/4 cup candied cherries (quar- tered)
1/4 cup blanched almonds (chopped)

Cook the egg whites stiff. Cook the sugar and water to the soft ball stage (234 degrees). Pour syrup in fine stream over egg whites, beating constantly. Continue beating until mixture is cool. Fold in melted chocolate, whipped cream, extract, nuts and cherries. Pour into trays and place in freezing section of mechanical refrigerator. Freeze. No stirring is necessary. Nuts and cherries may be omitted, if desired.

Mocha Freeze.

Make strong coffee in the usual manner, and pour over crushed ice to chill. Pour into tall glasses and add a generous spoonful of vanilla ice cream to each glass. Top with whipped cream.

Chocolate Mint Parfait.

1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk (scalded)
3 eggs (beaten)
2 squares unsweetened chocolate (melted)

Blend sugar, cornstarch and salt. Add scalded milk slowly, stirring well, and place in saucepan or double boiler. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Remove from heat; add beaten eggs; then cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Blend in chocolate, whipped cream, extract, nuts and cherries. Pour into trays and place in freezing section of mechanical refrigerator. Freeze. No stirring is necessary. Nuts and cherries may be omitted, if desired.

Strange Facts

Unstable Pound
Odd Chicken Coops
All Suicid In

In some parts of China, weight instead of price of food fluctuates with market conditions. For example, a housewife always pays the same price for rice, but she gets a "big pound" when it is plentiful and a "little pound" when it is scarce.

Such places as old city warehouses, factories, breweries, hotels and churches provide housing for more than 40,000,000 egg-laying chickens in tiers of individual cages equipped with feed, water and egg-transportation troughs. For instance, a $1,000,000 Florida hotel that failed a short time ago is now a "chicken coop" with 60,000 caged hens.
