tea-pot lid that suggested this daisy mat. I had been thinking of making a hot dish out of firmly braided strips of cotton cloth. I wanted it to be thick and sewn firmly like a rag rug, so that it would stand frequent scrubbings. The design had to be novel and gay so that it would be appropriate for a gift or to sell at a church bazaar.

Cotton flannel or heavy cotton, knitted material are good to use for the braided strips. Cut the strips two inches wide if the goods is heavy or wider if light weight. Braid tightly and then use No. 8 white cotton thread to sew, as shown. A set of these mats are pretty on the table; and mats for oval dishes may be made by sewing two daisies together.

NOTE: There are directions for a hot dish mat made of cable cord in SEWING, Book 4. Books 2 and 3 also contain directions for many gifts and novelties. These booklets are a service to our readers and each contains 32 pages of illustrated directions for things to make for the home. WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

JEW YORK .- In 1933, young Nelson A. Rockefeller was handed a delicate job of commercial and cultural co-ordination, indeed a Rockefeller Well stiff assignment for a Qualified for His beginner Co-Ordination Job this field. It was to persuade the Fiery Diego Rivera to x-out that head of Lenin in his murals at Rockefeller Center. He managed the affair with tact and restraint, undisturbed by the thunder from the left.

Now he has progressed to fulltime work in that highly specialized field. He is co-ordinator of commercial and cultural relations between the United States and other Western hemisphere nations. Currently he is in the news as he appoints John Hay Whitney to his staff, to take care of motion picture details of the above co-ordinating.

I remember talking to one of his teachers at Lincoln school, New York. She said Nelson was good material for progressive education, as he had a way of getting on with people. He was a good student, too, romping so far ahead of schedule at Dartmouth that they gave him his senior year off. He devoted it to a wanderjahr, in which he went to India and had a long chat with Mahatma Gandhi, and studied photography. Taking up the rich man's burden, he devoted himself mainly to the family real estate, becoming president of Rockefeller Center, which, incidentally, is one of the most successful feats of commercial and cultural co-ordination in the world.

Mr. Rockefeller, born in Bar Harbor, Maine, in 1907, is tall, blonde and reticent, an abstainer from alcohol and tobacco, always deeply in earnest. With his manifold business interests he combines a careful and diligent trusteeship of the Museum of Modern Art. This department can't help but feel a bit doubtful about co-ordinating commerce and the arts-unless there is a John Masefield around to write a poem like "Cargoes."

K ING BORIS of Bulgaria is doing the best he can for his little Cinderella kingdom, but things don't look so good. He reviews troops King Boris Would and shifts his tanks and Rather Be 'Casey guns around Jones of Balkans' smartly, but there is a hint that he is just making himself a lot of unnecessary trouble. As a king, he never did have his heart his work. He has a passion for trains and never misses a chance to drive a locomotive. Engines fill his life and his dreams. When his father, Ferdinand, abdicated in 1918, the young man insisted that he be allowed to go to America and be a railroad engineer, but his father forbade it.

Ascetic in appearance, always c. seemly behavior, he moved immaculately through Balkan wars, revolutions and internecine dogfights. Ferdinand had apprenticed him to a versatile fighting man in 1912, when he was only 18 years old. He fought dutifully, but seemed always to be listening for the whistle of old 97, coming round the bend.

His wardrobe, one of the best in Europe, runs mainly to pinstripes. He is a nimble dancer, good at all such orthodox sports as boar-hunting and timber-topping, but aroused and eager only when he has his hand on the throttle of a locomotive.

In 1930, he married the Princess Giovanna of Italy. This alliance was regarded, among other dynastic ties, as a stabilizing and safeguarding influence for his kingdom, but now seems of small account. In 1934, internal stress led the king to set up a dictatorship, by a military coup. It didn't help much. About 80 per cent of the exports of Bulgaria continued to go to totalitarian countries, and it came more and more under their thrall. The king flirted with Russia for a while, with no gratifying results. He has been in frequent peril of assassinationand nothing seems to matter much, since they won't let him be a railroad engineer.

IN 1935, he lost his job selling oil burners when the company folded up. Julia, his wife, said, "Now's your chance to do some of that singing you were always going to do. So he piped up right away and sang his way right through to the dotted line on a Metropolitan Opera contract. That's young Arthur Kent, one of the ten new singers booked this season at the Met. He began singing in cafes and churches and then got 46 weeks in "I Married an Angel." His repertoire includes Italian, Spanish, French.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Election Day Holds National Spotlight; Tension in Balkan States Increases As Axis Demands Greek Concessions; British Carry Air War to German Soil

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.

THE WAR:

Aerial There were rumors and counterrumors about the total evacuation of London, in the face of Goering's aerial bombardment. Old people over 65, school children, and active mothers were advised to leave as soon as possible, taking with them all sick or invalided souls. About half a million childrenmore than 50 per cent of the school population-were out of town, and 500 expectant mothers were departing weekly for parts unknown. It was not a cheerful picture. The British government still refused to leave, although an emergency parliament house had been prepared in readiness, at Cheltenham, in the extreme west of England. The board of trade already had announced the removal of its business offices records to the Grand hotel, in an unpronounceable spot in central Wales. The spot was, actually, Llandudno. Reports from London, Berlin and Rome indicated that the British air force had launched a major air offensive against the axis powers in reply to the constant bombings of London by the Nazis.

While the RAF had by no means been idle during the preceding weeks, this current drive seemed to take on more force than heretofore. Invasion ports on the French side of the English channel were severely bombed and shipyards at Bremen were reported blasted. Industrial cities of northern Italy came in for their share of the beating, according to the dispatches from British headquarters.

Disease

The worst news of all was this: Spinal meningitis had broken out. This was due to the fact that nearly 3,000,000 people had been sleeping in unsanitary subways, crowded into unhygienic surroundings. Nerves were wearing out, and so was physical resistance, with an average of only four hours' sleep per night. The "cerebro-spinal fever" was blamed on a nose and throat germ, presumably air-borne. There was fur-

The Balks

When it came to the Balkans, there was increased tension. Rumania was further occupied by the German invaders. Bulgaria headed straight for the Axis orbit, while British citizens began to decamp from both Bucharest and Sofia. Jugoslavia, squeezed between Italy, Germany, Hungary, Bulgaria, and Italian Albania, signed a new trade and political pact with Hitler, which tied up the Jugoslavs in the German continental system, at least for the time being. Greece was threatened by the Bulgarians and Italians, and was backed up by Russia and Turkey. Greece and Turkey, along with Egypt and Portugal, were still nominal British allies. The Soviets were moving increasingly to the anti-Hitler viewpoint, for a Germanized Balkans did not appeal to the Kremlin at Moscow. The actual military value of the Red army was under constant discussion. Had it found itself, in the last month of the Finnish war? Was the Red aviation any good? Were there any suitable Red generals left alive after Stalin's purges? These were the moot questions, and even the left-eye monocles of the Prussian general staff were in some doubt about Marshal Voroshilov's warbids and warboys.

Reported demands upon Greece by the Axis powers included: (1) immediate severance of economic relations with the British, (2) cession of territory to Italy and Bulgaria, (3) use of Greek air bases by the Axis, (4) abdication of King George of Greece, (5) grant of a right of way to Italy for construction of a major military road.

young men that registered, which topped the forecasts. In reference to these young men, War Secretary Stimson declared: "Only God and Hitler know what will happen to the United States." The army, it was stated, plans to train 900,000 annually for the next five years, which is the life-length of the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill recently passed by congress. The B-W bill provided that an annual 900,000 was to be the maximum number called up per year.

Western

One southwestern Indian was found who claimed to be a member of the German Bund, and didn't want to register. He said he was waiting for Hitler to come and "free" him from the white man, the White House, and the great white father. Some people said that this aborigine was red in more ways than one.

POLITICS: Wind Up

As the politicians all over the nation were busy winding up their blasts of campaign oratory, American voters were preparing to go to the polls to cast what was expected to be the largest ballot in the nation's history. Major candidates were completing their pleas to the electorate and latest public opinion polls indicated a close presidential race.

On Mr. R.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt did not try to predict the result of the 1940 campaign, which was coming to a peak. She said she simply didn't know, and implied she could take it or leave it.

Said Mrs. Roosevelt, who is popular even with the foes of her husband: "As far as the polls go, they mean very little to me. They are so often too much one way, or the other. When you've been the wife of a politician long enough, you learn not to express anything one way or the other, but just go along and see what happens . . .

Meanwhile, Clare Boothe and Dorothy Thompson disagreed on the election. Miss Boothe wrote "The Women" and other things. She stood firm for Willkie. Miss Thompson, N. Y. Herald Tribune or no N. Y. velt, Miss Boothe razzed Miss Thompson, and the Herald Tribune held up Miss Thompson's stuff. all, with Miss Boothe apparently worsting Miss Thompson in this blitzkrieg of hairpins and cat-calls.

By VIRGINIA VALE

HE question of who owns Dorothy Lamour's hair has become a burning issue. It isn't the hair that Dorothy had left when her famous long locks were removed, but the tresses that fell to the floor when she won the victory to have her hair bobbed.

She bobbed it for Paramount's 'Moon Over Burma," you'll recall. Instantly the studio's publicity department requested the make-up department to save the shorn locks; they knew that thousands of requests for a lock of Dorothy's hair would pour in.

The requests poured, all right. But -when the head of the publicity department sent for the hair, the make-up department replied that it was in the possession of Dorothy's mother, Mrs. O. L. Castleberry. Mrs. Castleberry had protested bitterly against the shearing, and to appease her Dorothy had taken her the long and lovely locks.

Now the question is-does the studio own those locks, or are they the rightful property of Mrs. Castleberry, who refuses to give them up.

Humphrey Bogart just goes from bad to worse, so far as his work is concerned. Years ago he made a hit in his first important role in the stage play, "Cradle Snatchers," in which he played the very juvenile escort of Mary Boland. Jeanette MacDonald's husband, then known as Raymond Guion, was another very youthful and capable member of the cast.

But the movies have turned Bogart into one of our most sinister villains. In his new picture, "High Sierra," he's more villainous than ever. One of his milder acts is to crack the heads of two "goons" who cause trouble in his "mob."

Two years ago the Song Hit guild of New York set out to prove that amateurs can write hit songs. The guild's record proves what a grand idea that was.

In less than 18 months 18 unknown authors and composers received accredited publication, advance royalties and contracts equal to those given established professionals. The list of their songs includes the popular "Can't Get Indiana Off My Mind," "I'm on the Verge of a Merge," and "What Ev'ry Young Girl Should Know," featured a while ago on the Hit Parade.

The Song Hit guild is now conducting its third nation-wide search for talent. If you're interested, send your manuscript to the Song Hit guild, 1619 Broadway, New York city, at once. An advisory board headed by Paul Whiteman, Guy Lombardo, Billy Rose and Kay Kyser passes on all songs, and writers requiring such help are invited to collaborate with hit songwriters like Hoagy Carmichael, Jimmy McHugh and others of equal note.

Radio artists are reviving an old parlor game as a means of whiling away off-time in the studios, but they play it with radio programs instead of the titles of books or songs. Turning to the radio page of a newspaper, they run the titles of radio programs together to make a story in sentences like this-"Blondie, Meet Mr. Meek, Light of the World!"

Marjorie Anderson is calling her new home on the outskirts of Philadelphia "The house that shadows built." Married, mother of a twoyear-old daughter, and wife of a successful construction engineer, she commutes to New York for her work on Mutual Broadcasting System's Shadow program, and has earned enough to pay the rent for a year, landscape the grounds, and furnish the house.

THE COVERED DISH CHURCH SUPPER (See Recipes Below)

several years to the suppers I attended in my old home town. There was always a feeling of congeniality, of hospitality and fellowship. The annual church supper was something that couldn't be, and wouldn't be, missed. Many times it was a covered dish supper. There was usually a great variety of food. The menu was divided up into the main dish, the salad, the bread and butter, and the dessert. Each lady of the church was made responsible for one item of the menu; and she, no doubt, prepared her own favorite recipe.

Can you pass a table containing a tempting assortment of foods without wanting at least a taste of everything? Can you decide whether or not you want the cocoanut cream pie which is heaped with fluffy whipped cream, or the rich-looking chocolate cake with the thick fudge icing, when you know that you are entitled to only one dessert? Of course not! Instead of having such a wide selection of food for a covered dish supper, why not plan a well-balanced menu so that everyone gets exactly the same?
