Mrs. F. N. Foxhall Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. F. N. Foxhall of Memphis, who passed away Sunday, were held there Monday from the Methodist church, by Rev. E. L. Yeats.

Interment was made in the Memphis cemetery under direction of Womack Funeral Home. Mrs. Foxhall had lived in Memphis 22 years and was active in church and civic circles.

She is survived by her husband and one daughter Mrs. John Deaver, and five sons, Frank, Leslie, Ed, Lewis and Harold, all of Memphis.

Baptist Church Notes

The revival is in progress and the time is short. So far the attendance at all services has been very inspiring, and the interest is good. There have been some additions. You are missing much if you have not attended. Bro. V. M. Lallar is leading the singing in a great way and is preaching at the morning hours. We are glad that the Lord sent him our way. The pastor is preaching at the evening services.

Last Sunday there were 180 at Sunday School in time to be counted, and several more who were late. This is a fine attendance in comparison with the numbers before, but it is nothing to boast of when we think of the Baptist alone, in and around Hedley to say nothing of the unenlightened of no faith. We are praying that the Lord will wake up this little town in such a way that the harvest can be reaped to the glory of the Lord.

Several Baptists attended the monthly Workers' Conference meeting at Turkey Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. A. S. Martin was hostess to the Women's Missionary Society Monday of this week. There were twenty present. The monthly missionary program was presented. The following ladies had part: Mrs. M. Mosley, leader, Mesdames R. W. Alwine, Clyde Bridges, Chas. Rains, Opal Murray, Winifred Mesley and A. L. Teaff. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

There were 29 present at the Sunbeam Band last week. These youngsters are really "going places."

Attend the Revival!
Pray for the services!
Witness for Christ!
Win one to Him!
Get right with the Lord!

"If my people which are called by my name shall humble themselves, and pray and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land." II Chr. 7:14

Food Stamp Plan

The Food Stamp plan, will be put in operation in Donley County in about 30 days. Representatives of the Surplus Marketing Administration were in Clarendon April 18 to begin organization of the program.

All persons certified or eligible to receive any type of public assistance are eligible to participate in the stamp plan; however, they must be interviewed by H. G. Tatum, Donley County case worker at the Court House in Clarendon between Thursday, April 24, and May 15.

Those to be interviewed include WPA Employed, WPA-Awaiting Assignment, Old Age Assistance, General Relief, Farm Security Grant Cases and those persons receiving surplus commodities.

When the stamp plan opens the distribution of commodities will be discontinued to individuals but persons heretofore receiving commodities will receive the stamp that will be redeemable at local retail food dealers in Donley County.

Revival

A revival was held last week at the West Baptist church by the pastor, Rev. Oscar Stout. The singing services were led by Rev. V. A. Hansard.

The meeting showed good results, a number being converted and several uniting with the church.

Teachers Elected

At a trustee meeting last week the following teachers were selected for next year: Mrs. Mary Keast, Mrs. O. H. Tinsley, Miss Alice Bishop, Miss Edythe Soar, Miss Mary Lou Hawkins and Virgil Gregg. Capt. W. G. Payne had been re-elected previously.

Win One Bible Class

The Sunday School class of married people recently organized at the Methodist church combined its motto and name and became the "Win One Bible Class" Sunday, April 20.

Mobart Moffitt was unanimously elected teacher, and under his guidance, interesting and beneficial lessons are being learned with all present taking part in discussions in a truly democratic spirit.

Thirty-two have enrolled but there are others who are not attending Sunday School who are cordially invited to these worthwhile and lively meetings.

A postcard from Mrs. E. R. Meeker to the youngest member of the Informer family reveals that she and her sister, Mrs. T. W. Garrett Jr. and family, all of Kansas City, are making a voyage to the South Seas in the Garretts' yacht. The card was mailed from the Bahama Islands, and shows a scene in Bimini.

Mrs. T. J. Hansard visited in Ft. Worth last week. Her mother, Mrs. Johnny Stone, and Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Nanny of Ft. Worth accompanied her home, visiting here Saturday and Sunday.

Household Hints

Never scrape kitchen utensils with a knife. Use a stiff brush dipped in scouring powder to move stains and burns.

Winding wool is difficult if there is no one to hold it. Put two iron rods on a table at a sufficient distance apart to allow the wool to be tightly stretched. Then wind over the rods, just as if someone were holding it.

When running rods through your curtains put a thimble on the end of the rod. It will run through more easily.

If short of eggs when making scrambled eggs for the gang, use a tablespoon of fine bread cracker crumbs for each egg shell—up to half eggs and half crumbs.

When washing white blouses, dresses, ties, etc., for the first time, put a dessertspoon of powdered borax dissolved in enough cold water to cover the article, leave it soaking for an hour, then wash in the usual way. This prevents the silk from becoming yellow.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

Conflicting British and Nazi Reports Tell of Fierce Fighting in Balkans; Russia-Japan Sign Neutrality Pact In Surprising Diplomatic Maneuver

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Concrete evidence of the manner in which the U. S. army is being expanded in line with the defense speed-up is this view of the motorized Ninth division during a review at Fort Bragg, N. C. Some 15,000 men and about 1,500 vehicles of all types participated with three infantry companies marching in front of the motorized units.

BATTLE: Of Greece

Descriptions tending to show that the Battle of Greece was becoming even fiercer and more furious than anything which had taken place in France or the Low Countries were penned by newspaper correspondents during the early days of the Balkan struggle, although these correspondents were having difficulty in getting their stories across.

Never in warfare had there been such confusion in reports. One day the Nazis predicted that the Yugoslavs would "surrender in 48 hours," that "tens of thousands of prisoners had been taken," that King Peter had fled to Turkey and that General Simovic had done likewise to Moscow.

On the same day the Yugoslavs denied all these reports and said their "resistance was stiffening," told of bitter "counter-attacks" and urged the people not to believe false reports.

Nazi reports that there had been a governmental overturn in Croatia were followed by dispatches telling of the invasion of Croatia by Hungary. On almost the same day came Serbian dispatches telling of "stern resistance" north of Zagreb, in the very territory where the Hungarian invasion was supposedly taking place.

Athens was virtually the only source, except Berlin, that was apparently getting news direct. From the Athens dispatches came a series of events that clarified themselves, though the picture in the gross was still much muddled.

These told of two main achievements on the Grecian front by the Nazi invaders. They were (1) the break-through from above the Struma river valley, and (2) the capture of Salonika.

The latter came with a suddenness that was utterly shocking to those who had believed that the Greeks would do the impossible, and put up a stern fight. It also was a shock to those who had believed that the British were based on Salonika.

A glance at the map showed the import of the news. Eastern Thrace had been cut off, and how many Greek soldiers were in that territory Athens alone knew.

The Nazis immediately sent out a dispatch saying that 300,000 men had "laid down their arms." The Greeks said they were continuing to fight, but admitted the eastern forces had been cut off. It was not immediately apparent why they would have to surrender, for the way seemingly open for them, if beaten, to retreat and intern themselves over the Turkish border.

Another vital phase of the battle then manifested itself, when it became known that the Greeks had decided to make their main defense line a V upside down, stretching from near Valona on the Adriatic up to Lake Ochrida in the center, and to the Aegean near Katerina on the east.

It became known that from Mount Olympus, mythical home of the Greek gods, near the Aegean sea, to Lake Ochrida was the "Anglo-Greek line" and that here the main resistance could be looked for.

The contact came after about five or six days of fighting, when the Germans broke through at Monastir gap (Bitol) and ran slap into heavy British and Greek contingents.

What happened then was not clear, but the Greek dispatches immediately began to take on a new note of confidence. The Germans had been hurled back—their advance had been shattered, the Germans were in full retreat—these terms and others of like ilk were used.

Whether this would prove a turning point or a standing point where the war might halt its fierce movement, remained to be seen. Typical of the puzzling reports were some that told of British and Nazi tank battalions slashing in an open plain—when the relief maps showed the lines to be drawn in a mountainous territory.

According to the most optimistic Greek report, the vanguard of German tanks, motored armored cars, motorcycles and divebombers struck against the organized central line of the Greeks and British on a 12-mile front.

The report said "the defeat of this German column was a terrific disaster. The German tanks, motorcycles and infantry were hurled back into a broken retreat on a 12-mile front, from Florina to Vanitsa."

Berne, Switzerland, was one of the few points which was sending anything that sounded at all reasonable about the Yugoslav situation. It seemed that the Serbs were planning to defend a big triangle, mostly mountainous, which seemed to leave Belgrade and other parts of the Yugoslav plain territory undefended.

One corner of this triangle was the southeastern town of Skopje, but the fall of this point was early claimed by the Nazis. But for days thereafter the Yugoslavs were reported from Berne to be counter-attacking vigorously in this neighborhood, and to be driving southward from central Yugoslavia with determination and courage, determined not to be cut off from the Graeco-British lines.

Part of the German strategy, however, was to accomplish just this, and early it was claimed that the Germans and Fascists in northern Albania had joined hands, though this was not borne out immediately in subsequent stories from the front.

Churchill warned that some "surprise move" might come from Russia, and indeed the whole of Europe watched expectantly.

NEUTRALITY PACT: Soviet-Japan

In an unexpected diplomatic move Russia and Japan announced the signing of a five-year neutrality pact between the two countries. In effect the pact provided that either nation would not become involved should the other find itself involved in war.

The pact came as a surprise to international observers who had been inclined to believe that the Russian government was beginning to lean away from axis-dominated policies. It was said in some sources however that Russia was anxious to be sure that she would not be attacked by Japan should the Soviet find it necessary to open a military drive against Hitler in the Balkans.

For Japan the pact looked like a green light for a further stepping up of war against China and an expansion move to the south in the Pacific area.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the news

NEW YORK: Some of Mayor LaGuardia's experts have perfected a "time bomb bus" which has had successful tests. It's to be used for carrying away time bombs. The interior is "dynamite matting" and a TNT bomb was exploded inside of it harmlessly. The driver will still be successfully nominated as a hero.

WASHINGTON: Aliens held in deportation proceedings, including crews of German and Italian ships recently seized, are going to be sent to two western army camps, Fort Missoula, Montana, and Fort Lincoln, North Dakota. The camps will be operated by the Immigration service.

LABOR: Stress Eases

LEON HENDERSON
Almost a price czar.

Although 400,000 soft coal miners were still locked in a disagreement that kept mines in 12 states idle, it was obvious that this strike was just "slow in settling" and that the general labor situation was better.

The Ford strike was settled, Henry Ford for the first time in his career entering into an agreement with a labor union, and the great River Rouge plant with its 85,000 employees was reopened.

Statisticians figured that the strike had cost wage-earners several millions of dollars, the figure running as high as $8,500,000, probably taking into consideration several thousands of workers who had been forced into idleness by the closing of the main plant.

The immediate lessening of pressure in the strike situation did not, however, mean that the whole thing was "under control," for there were many bitter fights looming over the horizon, one of them involving General Motors, another threatening U. S. Steel, and several others threatening smaller plants.

Chairman Dies of the unAmerican investigating committee claimed there was a Communist plot to tie up the vital aluminum industry.

It was almost a relief when the picture changed somewhat and the forces in Washington began to train their guns on employers instead of employees, for a change.

Leon Henderson, vibrant former member of the SEC, and head of the President's price-control setup, was given additional powers and set up almost as a price czar.

His first pronouncements came as a clap of thunder. He announced that there was "ruthless profiteering" among the producers and dealers in cadmium, a vital defense metal. This was his first "shot" and it was followed quickly by others.

He named 11 industries in which there was profiteering and announced that he intended to stop it. He was asked what prices were too high, and answered "all prices are too high."

He then bared his weapons. He said that his theory was that price increases would never "bring out production" and that "jail sentences" wouldn't do it either. He talked about economic "sanctions" against profiteers, and said, in the cadmium instance, that if the profiteering didn't stop, the government would "put the dealers out of business" and that "they would have only themselves to blame."

He even stepped out into the arena and announced that he considered wages came within his territory, because they were a "prime factor in costs." He said he would find ways and means to keep wages down if they got too high, also.

Americans took Mr. Henderson with a grain of salt, perhaps, but it was a change in a picture which had painted the forces of Labor as the Big Bad Man who was halting national defense, and showed a new picture in which the Businessman was the villain, and not the worker.

U. S.: Attitude

Following his messages of comfort and friendliness to Yugoslavia and to Greece, President Roosevelt promised "all possible aid" as "soon as possible" to both countries, and then took two steps which seemed to fall in line with the general war picture.

Dispatches were telling of British planes "rushing into the battle of Greece in constantly increasing numbers," but how many of these were being rushed across the 6,000 miles from the United States was a military secret.

The two steps President Roosevelt took openly were to take over for this country the defense of Greenland, by special agreement with the king of Denmark.

The second was to open the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aden to American ships carrying aid to Britain, Greece and Yugoslavia.

Some isolationists whooped it up against both of these moves on the part of the administration, but the word was generally received throughout the country with calm, most people figuring we were practically in the war and that this was another step.

The Greenland decision apparently left Hitler cold, for he made little reference to it. Yet it was important because Nazi planes had been reported flying over Greenland, and if the U. S. was to look ahead to the time when it would have an air base there, it might spell trouble.

NEW IDEAS For Home-makers

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

FEMININE headgear usually holds its shape best if it rests right side up on a stand that fits inside the crown, but this is not true of a man's hat. Its dashing lines may be preserved by placing it upside down in a holder. All of which is worth remembering when you are fixing up "his" closet or even when you are generously preparing to share a small corner of your own.

The man's hat box, shown here, is covered on the outside with maroon and blue cotton print and lined with blue chambray. The lid and the front of the box are hinged with adhesive tape before the covering is pasted on with stiff paste. The stand is made of cardboard, as shown in the sketch, and is covered to match the box. The maroon bias tape edging of the stand is cemented in place in a way that you may find useful in making many other things. The secret is in spreading the cement evenly on both surfaces, letting it dry, and then vulcanizing the two together with the heat of the pressing iron.

Year 155521972856007

Iran, the name under which Persia is now known, is only six years old. With the exception of Thailand (Siam) she is the youngest nation in the world. The Jews can claim to have been in existence since the Creation, but according to their calendar this is the year 5700. The Moslems count from the Hegira, or flight of Mohammed from Mecca to Medina, in the year A. D. 622.

No one knows exactly when China began counting or when they became civilized, and with the possible exception of the Hindus, they are the oldest people on earth. But the Hindu calendar is staggering, for this is their year 155521972856007. Their starting point is the divine beginning of Brahma, and their unit is the Kalpa, equivalent to one day in the life of Brahma, or 4,320,000,000 years. Brahma's allotted span of life is 100 years, each consisting of 365 kalpas.

F H T District Meeting

The Future Homemakers of Texas District Meeting was held here April 12. There were girls from Eastline, Memphis, Lakeview, Clarendon, Lelia Lake and Quail. There were about two hundred present.

From 9:30 to 10:30 the girls registered and the district officers met in the Home Economics room.

The first part of our program was special music by the Estel line chapter. Then the Welcome Address was given by Mr. Payne and the response was by Nell Cunningham of Lakeview. The district officers were next introduced and the roll was called by the district secretary.

The Hedley chapter showed different recreational costumes. Then the entire group of girls sang several songs such as: Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet, Let's all Sing as the Birdies Sing and God Bless America. After the singing we were dismissed for lunch.

The first thing after lunch was a Musical Nite which was given by Memphis.

Lakeview gave a Television Style Show. This gave an idea what to wear for each occasion.

Then the Lelia Lake Chapter gave Health V S Character. They showed what eating too many sweets and not enough vitamins will do for us.

A Dr I Q program was next presented by the Clarendon chapter.

Crazy Fun was presented by Quail and you should have seen the circus and the band that was also presented by Quail.

Last on the program was Recreational Games by Estel line. Our next F H T District Meeting will be held next fall at Lakeview.

BOB (roaring): "Who snatched the bulb from my lamp? I might as well move out in the yard!"

JANE (fearfully): "Go ahead! The yard light is better than the tiny bulbs you get. . . I had to have some light in the kitchen, didn't I? YOU took the kitchen bulb for the garage. . ."

WHY Quarrel Over Light?

MOST everyone does it at some time or other—and unnecessarily, because light is CHEAP in West Texas. A 100-watt Mazda bulb costs only 15c; a 150-watt bulb, 20c; and a 3-way 100-200 300-watt bulb, 60c. Avoid bulb-snatching quarrels and arguments about who's going to use the light by keeping an extra supply on hand.

And about the yard—make night-time your play-time with a new flood light that also protects the home. Ask for demonstration.

BAKED BEANS—AN AMERICAN TRADITION!
(See Recipe Below)

CHURCH SUPPER THOUGHTS

Cock a weather eye at the next social event on your list. 'Tis a church supper, you say? Mmmm . . . one of those delightful affairs that simply wouldn't be missed!

I know . . . one of my fondest memories is the home town church supper, always famous for its food, especially Parker House rolls and baked beans.

Perhaps you are one who thinks of beans as a plain or ordinary dish and, for that reason, hesitate to serve them at a dress-up affair. If you are, I think I can help you change your mind, for properly prepared baked beans are a delight which deserve a place in the top flight of fine cooking.

If you are rushed for time and can't bake your own beans, there are always the canned varieties at your grocer's. Their meal-in-a-minute possibilities shouldn't be overlooked. And then, too, they're a "feast for the least!"

To be really different, you may want to experiment with seasonings until you develop an individual flavor in the canned product. It's amazing the variety of "taste treats" you can achieve.

An adaptation of one of these "taste treats" is featured in this week's church supper menu suggestions. Here it is:

Deviled Beans in Buttered Noodles.
(See Picture at Top of Column)

- 2 No. 10 cans beans or 10 No. 2 cans
- 8 ounces of fat
- 1 pound chopped onions
- 2 14-ounce bottles catsup
- 1/2 pound brown sugar
- 8 ounces horseradish
- 1 ounce salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper

Heat the fat. Add onion and cook until slightly browned. Add remaining ingredients and heat thoroughly. Serve in a bed of buttered noodles. Makes 50 servings.

Because cooking in quantities does present problems, it's best to plan a menu of foods that can be easily prepared and served. Guess we all agree on that. So, with this in mind, here are recipes that will complement your very important main dish:

Perfection Salad.
Soak 10 tablespoons of gelatin (five envelopes) in 2 1/2 cups cold

LYNN SAYS:

When planning meals for large numbers

DO try to determine as nearly as possible the number of people to be served, as it is more economical to have no leftovers . . . this is, of course, if only one meal is to be served.

DO have a well-balanced menu. Too much variety will result in your guests heaping their plates with a conglomeration of food . . . they'll want to taste everything!

DO choose foods that won't spoil if they must stand for 15 minutes or even longer.

DON'T attempt to increase an ordinary recipe more than once. Proportions of ingredients change as recipes become large, and it's no simple matter for an amateur to guess at them. Unless you have recipes designed to serve large numbers, it's safer to make quick breads, cakes and cookies, according to standard family size recipes.

THIS WEEK'S MENU

Supper for Fifty

- *Deviled Beans in Buttered Noodles
- *Perfection Salad
- Hot Rolls or Boston Brown Bread
- *Fruit Whip
- Coffee Tea Milk
- *Recipes Given.

water for five minutes. Add 2 1/2 cups mild vinegar, 10 tablespoons lemon juice, 10 cups boiling water, 2 1/2 cups sugar, and five teaspoons salt. Stir until dissolved and set in a cool place. When mixture begins to stiffen, add five cups finely shredded cabbage, five cups diced celery, 10 finely chopped pimientos and 30 small sweet pickles, chopped fine. Pour mixture into shallow pans that have been rinsed with cold water. When "set," cut into squares and place each square in a lettuce cup and top with mayonnaise. You will need 5 or 6 large heads of lettuce for 50 servings.

Fruit Whip.
1 quart fruit pulp
1 quart sugar
4 egg whites
1/4 cup lemon juice

Put fruit pulp, sugar and unbeaten egg whites into a mixing bowl and beat until stiff. Chill. Serves 50. (In this quantity, dessert whips should be made with a power beater or mixing machine).

Supper over, what next? Entertainment, of course. Half the success of a party lies in the "after-dinner" program.

And why not a radio party? Arrange the stage to represent a broadcasting studio . . . with microphones, clocks and other radio paraphernalia.

The tables where guests are seated should represent the radio stations of the American Network . . . a table for each state of the Union. Each one should be marked by its call letters (MINN for Minnesota, MASS for Massachusetts, etc.) . . . and each one appropriately decorated—miniature orange grove for California, wheat field for North Dakota, maple sugar trees for Vermont, a large pot of baked beans for Massachusetts, apple orchard for Oregon, dairy scene for Wisconsin, plantation scene for Virginia, etc.

Guests are seated at the table representing their birthplace. (This will work wonders in mixing up your crowd).

If each group is small, several states may be combined into one station, such as Station NEG (New England group), or Station NWG (Northwest group).

A master of ceremonies, dressed to represent Uncle Sam, invites all stations to tune in for the "coast-to-coast" broadcast. The program may be as varied as the talent available. A full hour show, consisting of music by instrumentalists or an orchestra . . . singing by a quartet or soloists . . . a dramatic sketch . . . etc.

A novel addition to your program would be a Professor Quiz type. Ask for volunteers to answer the questions submitted by the audience.

A prize can be offered for the best answers.

Commercials and time signals should be interspersed throughout the program. These may be announcements of forthcoming meetings, services, etc.

Star Dust

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO
By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

BECAUSE Carole Lombard and Clark Gable interested themselves in his career, tall, handsome Reed Hadley, who hails from Texas via New York theater and radio acting stop-overs, appears to be safely launched in Hollywood.

He first attracted Miss Lombard's attention a few weeks ago, when he appeared with her on a national broadcast in New York. Gable met him at that time also. Both were impressed with young Hadley's appearance and talents. Gable suggested to Director Clarence Brown that Hadley be tested for the role of a young British officer in "The Uniform," at Metro, in which Gable and Rosalind Russell are co-starring. An important requirement was that the actor chosen for the role be able to wear a uniform worn by Gable. The young actor fitted the uniform, and the part was his—no test was required, just an interview with Brown. At the same time casting officials grabbed him for "Man From the City," with Robert Sterling, Paul Kelly and Marsha Hunt.

Ray Milland is moving right ahead, and fast. After turning in a fine performance in "I Wanted Wings" he was chosen by Cecil B. De Mille for one of the two male starring roles in "Reap the Wild Wind." It's a tale of the Florida keys, a hundred years ago, and Milland is a fighting young lawyer from Charleston, who smashes a desperate crew of ship wreckers and wins the girl. John Wayne has the other stellar male role—that of a sea captain who also wants the girl. And all in Technicolor.

Ray Milland

Getting a screen test isn't too easy, and Richard Wallace, director of Harold Lloyd's first production for RKO, "A Girl, a Guy and a Gob," explained why the other day. He computes the cost of a test at from $1,500 to $3,000. The candidate is brought to Hollywood, make-up artists go to work, hairdressers and wardrobe department heads are called in. An experienced actor is selected to appear opposite the candidate—and there are the salaries of the director, cameraman, electricians, sound men, etc. Then the candidate may be no good!

George Raft, who has one of the largest and most expensive wardrobes owned by Hollywood actors, is breaking in some $22.50 suits for his role as a power lineman in Warner Bros.' "Manpower." That's the picture in which Humphrey Bogart was slated to share honors with Raft and Marlene Dietrich, but Raft, who wisely realizes his limitations, refused to appear with him. Ida Lupino didn't want the talented Mr. Bogart in "The Gentle People" with her, either. Warners offered him a nice, fat part in "Bad Men of Missouri" but he would have none of it, and was suspended.

George Raft

John Loveton, producer of "The Court of Missing Heirs," insists that actors in mob scenes say sane, pertinent words. He had his lesson long ago; he was part of a mob scene on a radio drama broadcast, and when an unexpected silence fell on the air his voice boomed out, shouting "Gobble! Gobble! Gobble!" He's never acted since, but as a director he cracks down on anyone who doesn't contribute something sensible to those background murmurs and mutterings.

Paramount believes that a new Jean Harlow, or Clara Bow, has been discovered in the person of "sultry, blonde" Veronica Lake, (to quote a press agent) who is featured in "I Wanted Wings." "Not since Greta Garbo leaped to overnight fame in her first picture, "The Torrent," have New York movie critics lavished such acclaim upon a newcomer." to quote another press release. Maybe so, but the low cut of Miss Lake's necklines made such an impression on a good many people that they hadn't a great deal to say about her acting.

ODDS AND ENDS—Universal has taken an opinion on the screen services of Baby Sandy's brother—who is one week old. . . The March of Time's latest, "The F. B. I.—1941," shows how the Federal Bureau of Investigation is concentrating on the prevention of espionage and sabotage in industry. . . Mutual's "The People's Playhouse," heard Tuesdays and Thursdays, presents dramatic sketches based on ideas submitted by the public. . . RKO is screening "Parachute Battalion," with Robert Preston, Nancy Kelly and Harry Carey. . . You'll see Tommy Harmon, All-American half-back, in "Harmon of Michigan."

TIPS to Gardeners

GARDENS OF QUALITY

THERE have been changes in recent years in garden practices that are worth reporting. Gardeners formerly allowed vegetables to grow as large as possible. This procedure gave a higher yield in pounds, but very often it lowered the quality of vegetables.

Some vegetables, of course, like tomato, must be mature to be palatable; but carrots, cucumbers, beets, summer squash, turnips, radishes, and others are more tender and tasty when not much more than half grown.

Gardeners are finding that it is wise to plant oftener than once or twice a year, to maintain a regular supply of proper-sized vegetables. Gardens prove more enjoyable, and more profitable when successive plantings of favorite crops are made every two or three weeks, providing garden-fresh vegetables for the table over a long season.

It is also true that few gardeners today save flower seeds. Fine flowers growing in the home garden often are cross-pollinated by others of the same species, making flowers grown from their seed inferior, and untrue.

Delicious down on the farm . . . nourishing . . . saves time . . . saves work . . . saves money . . . order today; from your grocer.
