Committees Named for Old Settlers Picnic

A meeting of the Donley County Old Settlers Association board was held at Hedley Saturday for the purpose of selecting the various committees necessary to insure the success of the annual gathering in Tate Grove August 15th.

At the session August 16th of last year, Tate Grove was unanimously voted the annual gathering place. This grove is on the farm of President Tom Tate where shade and water is convenient.

The program committee are J. N. Riley of Clarendon, Mrs. W. G. Bridges, Mrs. Thava Crawford, Mrs. Walter DeBord and J. F. Stiles.

Members of the finance committee are Milt Moseley, L. M. Spier, Mrs. K. K. Day of Lelia Lake and Mrs. John Goldston of Clarendon.

Arrangement committee includes Carl Reed, Joe Crawford, Frank Jones, George Johnson, Ben A. Kyeer, O. C. Cavender, Walter DeBord and John Tate.

Uncle Bill Rains was again selected to secure the badges, a job he performed last year with great success.

President Tom Tate presided at the meeting Saturday, and secretary Mrs. Thava Crawford wrote up the minutes. She will notify each member of the various committees of the time and place to meet at their earliest convenience.

Members of this Association pay no dues. To be eligible, one must have resided in the county twenty years. The one requirement is that those attending bring plenty to eat. The food is spread upon long tables and served family style.

This annual picnic is designed especially for the old folks. The regular picnic is forgotten, the big majority going in for comfort and wholesome amusement in meeting the neighbors and enjoying the day. It is said to be the biggest event of its kind in the Texas Panhandle, and the outstanding event of the year in Donley county.

Kinsey-Hogue

Mrs. Martha J. Hogue and C. L. Kinsey were united in marriage last Friday evening at the Baptist parsonage here. Rev. A. L. Teaff performed the ceremony in the presence of several relatives and friends.

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple drove to Memphis, where a supper was served at the home of Mr. Kinsey's niece, Mrs. Bernice Foreman.

Berries

Berries For Sale. Will pick berries at my place 2 mi. west of Hedley 6 days a week beginning June 9th. Bring your vessels. Thanking you in advance, I am at your service.

W. J. Luttrell

Robert Pickett of the U. S. Navy is at home for a 30 day visit with home folks. He states that he has reenlisted for another four year term.

Mrs. S. G. Adamson and children, Tommy and Jo Ann, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bain and family, Mrs. W. G. Bridges and Sarah Ann Rains attended graduation exercises of W. T. S. G. at Canyon Mead.

Cemetery Club

To the people of Hedley community:

Have you been to the cemetery? If you have were you proud of it? I am sure if we are interested in the cemetery we will be glad to join the Cemetery Club. Each member pays $1 dues from May 30, 1941 to May 30, 1942 being the year. All money paid for dues will be used to pay a man to work at the cemetery and keep it up so the community will be proud of it. It is a disgrace to any community to let the city of the dead grow up in weeds as we have let ours.

This club is new. It was started at the cemetery working May 30. If you have not joined do so at once. If you live here perhaps you will feel as one man did. He said, "I'll be glad to give a dollar to help get this cleaned up to help the community." He did not have any loved one buried there, but he came and worked. Did you?

Now folks, we are trying to form a lasting organization. We will meet as soon as enough people pay to form a club. We will elect officers and elect some trustees to serve with the two or three who are able to continue to serve. Watch for the date of this meeting.

First pay a dollar or more to the fund.

Second, if you know someone who lives away who has loved ones buried here, help by slipping this out or drop them a card. Ask them to send a dollar.

Third, if you want to join, man, woman or child, leave money at Security State Bank or see John Dickson, Mrs. Clyde Bridges or Glad Nash.

When's you join?

Three Hedley families have the distinction of having a total of 8 children this year who are graduates from college, high school or grammar school. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bain and Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Adamson each have 3 children who are graduates, and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Biffie have 2.

They are as follows: Misses Garmen Adamson, Theresa Bain and Inell Biffie received their bachelor degrees WTSG at Canyon on June 2. Leeva Adamson, Keith Bain and Billy Mac Biffie received diplomas from Hedley high school on May 16. Bernard Adamson and Letta Bain received 7th grade diplomas on May 14.

R. A. Wynn of Denton visited in the Tinsley home Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Tinsley returned with him Sunday to Denton, where the latter will attend the first six weeks of summer school at NTSTG.

Willis Thomas of Ft. Sill, Okla. visited home folks here last week end.

Mrs. Baird Roshelle and son and Mrs. Noel E. Cherry and 3 sons of Amberst spent last week end in the T. J. Cherry home. Eva Jean Cherry returned home with them for a visit.

Mrs. Ellen Dentbit and grandson Floyd Ray of Amarillo are visiting in the S. G. Adamson home this week.

HOUSEHOLD TIPS

There is nothing so handy in a kitchen as a shelf above the sink for soaps, etc.

A wire screen, galvanized steel or copper, can be fitted over the tops of roof gutters to keep out leaves and trash.

Common kerosene will cut the grease from the kitchen sink and remove that ring from the bathtub.

Offensive odors coming from sinks and drains can be eliminated by pouring in a strong solution of borax and hot water.

Glassware takes on the highest polish if dried directly from hot clean suds without being rinsed.

When laundering clothes, don't use too much soap because water becomes so slippery that it "slides past" instead of penetrating the fabrics.

Covering uncooked meats placed in the refrigerator favors bacterial growth.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

Sinking of Battleship Hood Indicates Failure of British to 'Bottle' Nazi Navy; Germany's Aerial Invasion of Crete Called 'Test-Tube' for Raid on England

EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

PACE UP: War Swift

As the United States began to swing into the serious business of getting first-class aid to Britain under the lease-lend bill, though with continued and serious heckling from anti-administration quarters, the Germans suddenly stepped the war up to a furious pace not heretofore dreamed of.

The full-scale aerial invasion of Crete, plainly hailed by the Nazis as a "test-tube" attack for the ultimate invasion of Britain, was the first move, and this was accompanied by news from the ocean lanes that showed the German fleet, instead of being bottled up, was boldly sailing forth not merely into the North Sea, but far out into the Atlantic and near the American zone of protection—Greenland.

The dramatic sinking of H. M. S. Hood came with such unexpected suddenness that it left the world al-

Greece, Jugoslavia had been disasters, so had Dunquerque, the North African campaign, the Iraq battle; the whole war, up to this point, had been a series of disasters, and the British reports on the invasion of Crete seemed to be setting up the public for an eventual addition to the series.

The battle of Crete was still the most exciting news event of the whole war because of the peculiarity of the conditions, paralleling, in a way, the expected invasion attempt against Britain.

The British were admittedly in good force, with Greek assistance, on the island, and while they had not had much time to prepare its defense, having only lately fled there from Peloponnesus, still the Germans had not had any more time to prepare their offense than the British.

The campaign resolved itself broadly into two phases—the airborne and the sea-borne. In each

SEN. JOSEPH GUFFEY

In the Hood's sinking he saw that it demonstrated immediate "necessity of . . . utmost aid to Britain."

most breathless—with a sense of shock entirely out of measure with the size of the catastrophe to Britain's cause, the mere sinking of one battle cruiser, albeit the largest in the world.

It was in the Battle of Jutland that Admiral Horace Hood, namesake of the 42,000-ton battle cruiser, lost his life on the Invincible, a vessel of the same relative class as the Hood, and destroyed in, oddly enough, exactly the same manner.

The story was dramatic enough, the tale of a sea fight between two naval squadrons on the broad Atlantic, both far from their bases. The Hood was the victim of an "unlucky hit" as the British reports said, a 15-inch shell from the German battleship Bismarck striking a magazine, which caused the main magazine to let go, blowing the ship up and sinking her in a matter of seconds.

Most of the crew of 1,304 were drowned, presumably the captain and executive, as the Hood was flagship and bore the admiral's colors.

But back of it all questions were asked and only some of them had the answers forthcoming from British sources.

One of these was the query of why the battle had taken place so far out on the Atlantic. The British answered this by saying that their squadron had deliberately let the German ships get far away from their base in order to intercept them where they could not avoid battle.

Another question was where the German vessels were headed for, being intercepted between Greenland and Iceland, and nearer to Greenland. This was of especial interest to American naval men because of the fact that the United States had lately pledged itself to the protection of Greenland. There was no immediate answer.

Naval men in this country immediately, however, were quoted as saying that the loss of the Hood showed that it was improper to sacrifice strength of armor-plate to speed, the Hood carrying 12-inch armor where most vessels took 14-inch, in order to achieve a 32-knot speed.

American vessels were not so constructed, U. S. admirals reported, especially those now being planned.

But boiled down the news bore a disastrous note, a power note on the part of the German assault both in the battle of the Atlantic and that of the Mediterranean which gave American backers of aid-to-Britain a general moody outlook on the conduct of the war.

SEN. BENNETT CLARK

In the Hood's sinking he saw truth in the statement that "convoys mean shooting and shooting means war."

there was offense and defense, and for once the British, though out-powered and out-numbered, found themselves on more even terms with the enemy.

The Germans were admittedly supreme in the air-borne fight, but once the Nazis landed they had no tanks nor artillery, and the British had both.

The British were admittedly superior on the sea-borne fight, but they had no aircraft protection, while the German-manned Greek fishing boats and small steamers had Stuka dive-bombers making direct hits on the British destroyers and cruisers.

Little could be told from the German claims, which, following their usual precedent, said that the Cretan campaign was a "complete success" with the British fleet decimated and the land forces getting the upper hand.

The only claim made by the British was that no vessels save a few "scrapers" (Greek sailing boats) had reached the shore, and that a Nazi convoy carrying 6,000 troops had been sunk, and lurid tales were told of warships cutting through waters crowded with drowning men screaming for mercy, but how the ships were unable to pick them up for fear of "E-boats," Italian fast motor-craft carrying torpedoes.

The Germans claimed one British cruiser sunk by plane-bombings, and nine other vessels so injured that they were presumed to be out of action and admitted no such sea-borne losses as the British claimed.

The air-borne battle was admittedly, according to British sources, going better for the Germans than had been at first anticipated. Almost the first thing the Stukas did was to make the British-held air-dromes untenable.

The Royal Air force, instead of allowing their fighters to be downed on their landing fields, or crashed by bomb-pits when landing, withdrew en masse from the island, turning it over to the Nazi air-vessels. After a time long-range ships came back to the fight, presumably from Alexandria and the island of Cyprus, each about 450-500 miles distant, but largely the island was undefended from the air.

Big Junkers 52s brought more than a score of soldiers on each trip and landed them on the Candia and Malemi airports, whence they took their machine guns and went into battle. Later the British reported that even 75-millimeter cannons and mortars were brought in on the largest transport planes.

QUOTES . . . On National Defense

Wax Secretary Stimson told his press conference the Neutrality act is a "violation of our most sacred and important tradition of foreign policy, freedom of the seas. I always prophesied it would bring us into trouble." He said the act's repeal would enable U. S. ships to carry arms directly to Britain, but the question of repeal rests with "other officers of the government."

Secretary of State Hull said that "control of the seas is a paramount objective of the Axis powers in their program of world domination. . . . Every consideration of our own safety and defense requires. . . that Great Britain receive adequate supplies for successful resistance." Mr. Hull advanced five points for post war co-operation in international trade without discrimination.

Civilian Defense

When President Roosevelt created the Office of Civilian Defense to co-ordinate civilian defense activities he appointed Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York to head the new set-up. LaGuardia has announced his agency will be organized in three divisions: (1) Public safety—to protect life and property; (2) engineering—for clearance of highways and maintenance of gas and water supplies; and (3) shelter and food supplies.

STRIKES: Coal, Planes

While labor troubles appeared less frequent as the defense mediation board went into action more and more strongly, those which were vexing the defense chiefs were more vital and hit more directly against defense production.

Gone from the scene were jurisdictional disputes, and the Ford company, grim in the face of a C. I. O. victory at the NLRB polls, said it would "obey the law."

But the coal strike, with only 15 days' coal supply left above ground and the threatened strike against North American Aviation, not to mention the shipyard strike on the West coast, were the sort of thing that were giving mediators headaches.

Opponents of the C. I. O. called Lewis "dictator," while Lewis called the coal mine operators in the South some hard names. The plane workers were asking increases of minimums from 50 to 75 cents an hour, which observers said, if granted, might cause similar fights all over the industry, hitting at the very heart of the defense idea.

Planes were coming off the assembly lines slowly enough, and were carrying with them bottlenecks which were serious enough without labor difficulties to complicate things.

Knudsen, OPM chief, and Hillman, his aide, at the close of the first year of America's "all-out" defense effort, told the 1,625 new industrial facilities started, of $2,480,000,000 in new plants, of contracts of 15 billions, 200 millions of dollars, yet of growing dissatisfaction on the part of Messrs. Knudsen and Hillman with the progress made.

Said Knudsen: "We need the help of every manufacturer, engineer and factory worker."

That was the gist of his message, and carried with it the connotation that whenever a strike occurred—some one of these three was "falling down on the job."

DIES: Tries Again

The Dies committee, having failed to rouse a ripple of newspaper enthusiasm over his projected revealing of Communist infiltration into governmental circles, hit the front pages with a bang when it made public three documents purporting to reveal the secret rules of the Nazi Bund in this country.

Dies said that they were seized from the effects of Bund Fuehrer Kunze, now in prison. He said that they:

"Attest to the ruthless efficiency of the military setup which characterizes Hitler's machine in Germany; anticipate violence, and express fealty to the totalitarian form of government."

Having thus placed the stamp of subversiveness on the Bund, and also the stigma of "fifth columnists," the committee report said the Bund had 25,000 active members and 100,000 sympathizers outside its membership rolls.

Dies said the documents reveal a planned countrywide organization, with Fuehrer, Gauleiters (district leaders) down even to "block leaders" according to an exact imitation of the Nazi set-up.

A party message, according to the Bund organization, could theoretically be spread over the entire nation within five hours.

SHOTS: At a King

Pistol shots rang out in Albania, directed against King Victor Emmanuel of Italy.

The shots, according to the Italian communists, went wild. The assassin was arrested. He proved, it was said, to be a Greek "his head filled with poetic dreams" of revenge for his country's defeat.

Police, the reports stated, saved the assassin from a lynching mob, in order to question him as to his associates.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON (Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK.—In his book, "Man the Unknown," published in 1935, Dr. Alexis Carrel revealed profound misgivings as to whether any existing patterns of political organization ever could meet the requirements of a stable and humane civilization. He urged collective and concentrated scientific inquiry into the nature of the "whole man," and possibly of the organic quality of human society. The particularized knowledge of physiology and medicine he found inadequate to supply this understanding.

When he went to France recently he found a clinic and laboratory for his continued studies with the "whole man" caught in totalitarian misery, and in a wide context of spiritual and emotional stress—a zone of social pathology no doubt revealing to Dr. Carrel's deeply searching and penetrating eye.

Just why the Nazi overlords of France should want to keep him there, as reported in dispatches, is a mystery. There is no evidence that the Nazis admire him. He has been no apologist for their flagrantly unscientific and inhumane doings, and if they expect to commandeer his profound knowledge of nutrition, medicine and surgery, it is difficult to understand how they may expect co-operation.

Dr. Carrel, a keen, compact, round-headed little Frenchman, will be 68 years old next month. The world knows of his 34 years with the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, the marvels he has wrought, including his 29-year-old living chicken heart, his distinguished contributions to medical science during the World war, and his fashioning of the mechanical heart with the co-operation of Charles A. Lindbergh.

In the last few years he has been preoccupied with the range of human behavior lying outside and beyond medical knowledge. He visions some kind of government by a scientific elite. On August 14, 1939, just before the guns blazed, he said that civilized men must "pool their brains," or come to ultimate failure and then added: "Our America, with its democratic ideal, is based on ideologies of the Eighteenth century. If we used scientific concepts instead of ideologies, we might discover a new way of life."

HARRY WINSTON started subdividing real estate, but now sub-divides diamonds and finds it more profitable. He and his expert assistants:

Slicing Up Gems nick a $30,000 Pays Better Than 1000 chrys off the famous Subdividing Land Vargas diamond of Brazil, and when they get rid of roughage like this they expect to shape up a $2,000,000 central core in the stone.

It is one of the most jittery jobs of diamond maniauring ever attempted, but so far is going nicely. It took them a month and seven days to make this small, but lucrative beginning, working on the third largest diamond in the world. It will take 15 months to finish the cutting, with a phosphorus-bronze blade .0035 of an inch in thickness.

Reared in Los Angeles, Mr. Winston learned the jewelry business with his father. Returning to New York, after a stretch in the AEF in the World war, he decided the war and its aftermath would imperil all values except those of durable old Mother Earth herself.

Land—that was the thing, in days of threatened inflation and social maladjustment. So he went into the real estate business in New York. The more he worked at it, the more safe, sound and conservative seemed the glitter of a diamond—even if traditionally baleful. He opened a wholesale jewelry business in New York and soon was gathering in some of the biggest and showiest diamonds in the world. He paid $900,000 for the Jonkers diamond of 425 carats and $700,000 for the Vargas stone.

DR. TOYOHICO KAGAWA, Japan's frail little Mahatma Gandhi, evangelist of world brotherhood and leader of the Christians in Japan, is in New York, in furtherance of the newly organized Church of Japan, which he helped to establish. He expresses surprise at talk of war with Japan and sees ahead a world church union which will end all wars. A tubercular little man, Dr. Kagawa has suffered jail, persecution, poverty and illness. He preaches a merger of Christianity and capitalistic economics.

Old Man Texas is today
looking ahead and planning.

Beside the great farming and industrial empire here.

Already the start has been made. Some industries, such as petroleum, are now showing what can be done to utilize Texas' vast natural resources. Today this industry refines with Texas labor over four-fifths as much oil as the State produces. Its products make up nearly one-half of all Texas manufacturing. Altogether petroleum provides the living for al-

WHAT'S YOUR SCORE ON THIS QUIZ ?

Like to know more about Your Electric Servant? Run through this quiz... it's full of facts and explains why Electric Service is GOOD... and CHEAP... in West Texas.

Q. How much more light do you get for your money now than you got 10 years ago?

A. You get, for about the same money, two or three times as much Electric Service as you did then. And bulbs today give about twice as much light with the same amount of electricity. Twice as much service for twice-as-good bulbs means four times as much light for your money!

Q. How much per day do most families spend for electric service?

A. The majority of our customers pay us less than 10 cents a day (the cost of a shoe shine or a good cigar), using stoves, lights, vacuum cleaner, radio, toaster, and refrigerator.

Q. What do you say to a husband (or wife) who fusses at you for letting a 100-watt light burn all night?

A. "Don't get excited, dear. Believe it or not, it costs only about a nickel—and maybe it scared a burglar away!"

Q. Who owns Your Electric Servant?

A. You do. Every family who has a bank account or a life insurance policy is part owner. The money you put in the bank, or pay to an insurance company, is invested in various businesses, including electric utilities. This makes you one of the millions who have a stake in the American system of private initiative and enterprise.

Q. Just how dependable is electric service in West Texas?

A. Equally as good as any in the nation! And better than in any foreign country!

Yes, electric service has constantly improved and rates have steadily gone down. Remember that this BETTER SERVICE at LOWER COST to you has been brought about by our trained and experienced organization of over 1,000 men and women, working under a system of private initiative and enterprise... the only kind of system ever to bring better living conditions to ALL the people.

West Texas Utilities Company

HERE'S THE OFFER

Send your old electric bill to our nearest local office. If yours is the oldest we receive by June 15, it is worth $50 to you—if one of the 10 next oldest, we will pay $5 for it. It must be for service in the home, dated 15 or more years ago, and must be accompanied by a letter, 100 words or less, telling something about the kind of service and the cost at the time the bill was paid. All present customers of the West Texas Utilities, or its predecessors in this community, (excepting employees) are eligible.

Was It but a Suggestion
From Exhausted Clerk?

Frock after frock had been displayed to the lady with the supercilious air, until the salesperson in the exclusive dress shop was on the point of nervous exhaustion.

The customer would inspect each dress and then make biting remarks about most of them. At last she looked around the devastated place with an overbearing glance and complained: "All your frocks are so skimpy. I believe I would look better in something flowing."

The tired clerk was quick to seize the opening. "Madam might try the r'iver," she said coldly.

REFRESHMENTS PLUS!

Summer nears. You think of lots of things—new, crisp, cool clothes... vacation trips... parties, especially gay ones that all for a minimum of "home work."

I think I understand. You love to have people in your home. In spite of the warmness of June days, you want those of your friends who remain in town to drop by often for conversation, relaxation and refreshments. But, of course, you want what you serve to be easy to make, delicious, entirely different from anything that you've ever served before, and economical. In the last two of these points, I've found homemakers who hold a unanimous opinion.

So today I'm going to give you what I think are ace-high ideas on easy entertaining. I'm sure you'll find the recipes worth trying.

Dessert bridge parties will do wonders to round up the "Mrs." crowd who feel free, after feeding hubby and the children, to don dress-up frocks and skip out for dessert and an afternoon of fun. If your friends don't play bridge, substitute another hobby, but the serving of dessert upon the arrival of guests can nevertheless be carried out.

Serving dessert when guests arrive gives the hostess lots of leeway. She doesn't have to keep in mind that her friends will be going home to dinner soon, as she does with later-on refreshments. And, she can provide a really filling dessert.

Pictured at the top of the column is a dessert which I'm sure will answer your desires. It's

- Tropical Gingerbread.
- 2 eggs
 - ¾ cup brown sugar
 - ¾ cup pure molasses
 - ¾ cup melted shortening
 - 2½ cups flour
 - 2 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1 cup boiling water
 - 2 teaspoons ginger
 - 1½ teaspoons cinnamon
 - ½ teaspoon cloves
 - ½ teaspoon nutmeg
 - ½ teaspoon baking soda
 - ½ teaspoon salt

Add beaten eggs to the sugar, molasses, and melted shortening; then add the dry ingredients which have been mixed and sifted, and lastly the hot water. Bake in small individual pans, or in a greased pan, in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 to 40 minutes. Top with whipped cream and sprinkle with shredded coconut.

With this dessert, you'll want to serve a beverage... coffee, tea or perhaps an iced drink of fresh fruit mixture.

Vanilla mousse is the basis for a number of appetizing desserts, and is a good party refreshment in itself. Among the many variations are peanut brittle and chocolate fudge mousses.

To make the vanilla mousse, fold one cup of confectioners' sugar and two teaspoons of vanilla into one quart of heavy cream that has been whipped. Fold in four egg whites which are stiffly beaten.

Spread the mousse into two large refrigerator ice trays and place in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator, or, freeze in your ice

LYNN SAYS:

In thinking of party foods, I remembered these few suggestions my mother passed on to me. Maybe you'll find them helpful.

To remove pecan meats whole, cover the shells with boiling water and let them stand until cold before cracking them.

Chocolate cakes usually call for unsweetened chocolate. This blends with the cake mixture much better if it is cut in small pieces and melted, rather than grated.

Rhubarb juice is a good substitute for iced tea as a basis for iced fruit drinks.

cream freezer. Allow three hours for the freezing. This recipe will yield two quarts of mousse.

For a crunchy surprise frozen dessert for your guests, serve peanut brittle mousse. To make it, crush ½ pound of peanut brittle with a rolling pin and fold into the vanilla mousse before it becomes solid (about 1½ hours).

If it's an extra-special party you're planning, I've included a special dessert-bridge menu in today's column. You'll spend more hours in the kitchen preparing these particular foods, but they're so-o-o good that your guests' ohs and ahs will amply reward you for your efforts.

Cream Sponge Cake.

- 1 cup sifted cake flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup cold water
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 2 egg yolks, unbeaten
- ¾ cup granulated sugar
- 2 egg whites, unbeaten
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons granulated sugar
- Sift flour, baking powder, and salt together three times. Add water and lemon rind to egg yolks, and beat with rotary egg beater until light colored and at least tripled in volume. Add ¼ cup of granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating well with rotary beater after each addition; then add sifted dry ingredients, a small amount at a time, beating slowly and gently with rotary beater only enough to blend.

Beat egg whites until they form rounded mounds when beater is raised; then add lemon juice and 2 tablespoons sugar, and continue beating until stiff enough to hold up in moist peaks. Fold into flour mixture. Pour into two ungreased 8-inch layer cake pans, stirring lightly while pouring. Bake in moderate oven of 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Remove from oven, and invert on rack until cakes are cold. Fill with Orange Chiffon Cake Filling according to directions below.

- *Orange Chiffon Cake.
- 2 8-inch Cream Sponge Cake Layers
 - 1 envelope plain, unflavored gelatin
 - ¼ cup cold water
 - 4 eggs separated
 - ¾ cup granulated sugar
 - ¼ cup orange juice
 - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 - ½ teaspoon salt
 - 1 tablespoon grated orange rind

Make and bake the Cream Sponge Cake Layers, following the recipe.

Meanwhile, soak gelatin in cold water 5 minutes. Place beaten egg yolks, 6 tablespoons sugar, orange and lemon juices, and salt in double boiler. Cook while stirring until like custard. Add gelatin, and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat, stir in orange rind, and chill. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in meringue made by beating egg whites until frothy, but not dry, and folding in 6 tablespoons sugar gradually, while continuing to beat until stiff. Prepare cake layers for the filling by placing one layer on a cake plate; make collar of double waxed paper about 3 inches high to fit tightly around edge of cake; secure with pins or paper clips. Pour orange filling over the top of this layer; top with second cake layer; then place in refrigerator to chill until set. Before serving, remove waxed-paper collar from cake. To add finishing touch to top of cake, place lace-paper delicately over top layer, sift confectioners' sugar over it, and remove dairy carefully to preserve design.

Star Dust
STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO
By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

GRETA GARBO has not only acquired a new hair-do for her next appearance on the screen—she's to have a new tint as well. It's a special one concocted for her by Sydney Guilaroff, Metro hairdresser, and he has named it "Moonlight Blonde."

As for the hair-do, it's Napoleonic—a fringe, with a soft point in the back, and "a studied shagginess characterizing the whole coiffure, complete even to forelock"; there's also the influence of the Botticelli paintings, shown in a cap of short curls.

Tim Holt, young star of RKO Westerns, and his father, Jack Holt, will be seen together with Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe in the RKO production, "The Marines Are Ready." They'll appear as father and son for the second time on the screen. The first time was 12 years ago, when Tim, a boy of 10, played the son in his father's starring vehicle, "Vanishing Pioneers." Tim is also a skilled polo player.

Between the scenes in the houseboat dining salon that you'll see in Paramount's "Nothing But the Truth," Bob Hope, Edward Arnold, Leif Erikson and Glenn Anders were amusing themselves by filling the crystal goblets to different levels with water, then playing chimes on them with silver spoons. The prop man nearly had a fit—seems the glasses were part of a dinner service worth more than $2,000.

"Send over to my house for something less expensive," urged Hope. "Our goblets are cottage-cheese glasses!"

Years ago Ruby Keeler was famous on Broadway for her dancing, in the days before she married Al Jolson. On the screen she danced along with other people; now she'll dance alone for the first time in pictures in a musical, "Sweetheart of the Campus," in which she shares top honors with Harriet Hilliard, Gordon Oliver, and Ozzie Nelson and his orchestra. Miss Keeler was a star at the Texas Guinan night club when a lad named George Raft used to stop the show with a skating Charleston.

Charles Boyer finished his work in Paramount's "Hold Back the Dawn" and took a train for the East; after a week's vacation he planned to go to Montreal, where he will do a series of plays in French, proceeds going to British war relief funds.

Virginia Weidler's become soisist with a band; she's spending all her time between her scenes in "Barnacle Bill" practicing in her dressing room. The band belongs to her three brothers, and has made a name for itself playing at country club dances.

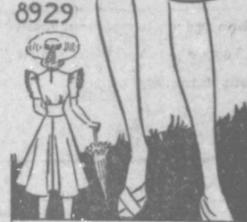

Larry Parks, young Group Theater actor, played the Robert Montgomery part in tests with other actors seeking the starring role in "Heaven Can Wait"; as a result he'll have a featured part in the forthcoming Paul Kelly-Lola Lane "Mystery Ship."

If you've seen "The Lady Eve" you'll remember those slapstick falls of Henry Fonda's long after you forgot the plot of the picture. Preston Sturges, who wrote and directed the picture, is also responsible for "Sullivan's Travels"—and he started right off by dropping Joel McCrea from a rope's end into a barrel of water. Furthermore, McCrea had to wear a tramp's rags and a five-day beard. Veronica Lake is McCrea's co-star in this newest of the Sturges comedies. They say it will be as funny as "The Lady Eve."

Marlene Dietrich has selected the five men who, she says, have the most "womanpower"—she doesn't say what she means by that, except that it's the opposite of "manpower." Anyway, here's the list—Clark Gable, Orson Welles, Ernest Hemingway, Erich Maria Remarque and Howard Hughes.

ODDS AND ENDS—Olivia de Havilland and George Raft are Warner Bros. star selections for "All Through the Night".... Ohio's sister, Joan Fontaine, has returned from the far end gone back to work as Cary Grant's co-star in RKO's "Before the Fact".... Herbert Marshall will play Bette Davis' husband in "The Little Foxes".... When he finishes "Bullets for O'Hara" Roger Pryor will tour the nation's draft camps with an orchestra.... Joan Crawford gives what's probably the best dramatic performance of her career in "A Woman's Face".... Metro's operatic star, Risa (Resnah) Stevens, doesn't think her name unusual—her mother's is Sakah.

this opportunity to express its thanks to Mrs. Ross Adamson, Mrs. P. L. Dishman and Miss Alice Bishop for accompanying us on our trip. The assistance rendered was invaluable and we all appreciate it very much.

The trip lasted seven days and nearly two thousand miles was covered in that time. The Seniors spent Sunday night in Ft.
Worth and Monday morning we visited the Early Bird program in Dallas. Monday afternoon we visited the state prison in Huntsville. This was one of the most interesting incidents of the trip.
We spent Monday night in Houston. We went from there to the San Jacinto Monument Tuesday morning and arrived in Galveston before noon. While in Galveston we went swimming in the Gulf of Mexico, boat riding in Galveston Bay, and also visited Fort Greckett. The next day we journeyed to San Deigo, via Bay City and Corpus Christi, where we enjoyed swimming in the Gulf again. Arriving in Laredo Thursday morning we crossed the line into Old Mexico, which was a unique experience for everyone.
From there we journeyed to San Antonio where we saw all the places of historical interest, missions, and Breckenridge Park.

Randolf Field was also visited by the members of the class. The class arrived in Austin Friday afternoon where we visited the Texas State Capitol, Governor's Mansion, and Texas University.
The seniors returned Saturday and arrived in Hedley about ten
p. m.

The seniors who made the trip were Peggy Doherty, Joie Pluck Loeva Adamson, La Juana Davis,
Travis Alexander, E. H. Alexan-dor, Billy Mae Biffie, Robert Grimsley, Keith Bain, Billy Cliff
ford Johnson, J. M. Dickson, V.
A. Hensard, Adell Myers, and Bruce Stewart. The seniors were accompanied by Miss Alice Bishop, Mrs. P. L. Dishman, Mrs.
Ross Adamson, and Mr. Virgil
Gregg, their sponsor.

B. Brummett and family visited in the O. E. Johnson home last Monday.

Mrs. E. H. Jones of Ft. Worth and Mrs. L. E. McHan of Dallas returned to their homes Wednesday after a visit here.

Lynn Cherry suffered a back injury Sunday when he jumped from a tree.
