Lonnie Frances Gunn

The following was taken from the Olathe, Kansas, Star:

Two men and a woman, the latter a postoffice employee here for about twenty years, were killed about 8:30 o'clock to night when the motor car in which they were riding was struck by a freight train about one half mile east of here. The dead are

Miss Bess Franklin, 44, of Olathe, Jesse James Franklin 38 of Berger, Texas, and Lonnie Gunn, 37, of McLean, Texas, who with Franklin came to Olathe car for this month from Houston, Texas.

P. J. Darling, a brakeman on the Frisco train, said the train was moving about thirty-five miles an hour when it hit the motor car. The motor car, west bound on the Olathe Martin City road, waited for the passing of a north-bound train, then went onto the tracks and was struck by the south-bound freight.

The car was knocked more than fifty feet by the impact and was virtually demolished. There is no warning light or moving sign at the crossing.

The car belonged to Jesse (Pat) Franklin. Mr. Franklin and Mr. Gunn had entered the hotel earlier, saying they were extremely hungry, after a hard days work. The lady who ran the hotel told them she would cook their supper, if they would go down town and get some steak. Miss Franklin, part owner of the hotel, said she would go with them to get it. They had gone to the store and were returning when the accident occurred. Mr. Franklin was a very close friend of Mr. Gunn. He left a wife and four small children. Both men were employed by the O. O. Foreman Construction Co. of Kansas City, which is laying a pipe line near Olathe.

Lonnie Frances Gunn was born August 7, 1904, at Frederick, Okla. He passed away January 14. He came to Donley county with his parents in 1918 and was married to Miss Olessa Jamar, Nov. 6, 1928. To this union were born four children, three daughters, Mrs. Naomi McCarty, Gloria Gene and Larieta Jo, and one son, Rodney Dale.

Funeral services were held at the Hedley Methodist church Saturday Jan. 17 at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. Huber, pastor of the First Baptist church of McLean, assisted by Rev. G. E. Leonard. Pallbearers were Cecil Dyer, Earl Smith, Ray Trimble, Raymond Montzoth, Noel Smith, F. W. Stewart, Ross Adameson, Clyde Thomas, W. G. Payne, H. H. Hall, John Robert Lawrence, and Earl Tollett. Flower bearers were Mrs. J. T. Hicks, Mrs. Louer Powers, Mrs. Earnest Puffer, Miss Margaret Kramer, Miss Julia McCarty and Miss Marjorie Young. A girls quartet, Misses Francis Sitter, Mary Lee Abbott, Ruth Stenberg and Mary Evelyn Foster, rendered spiritual music.

Interment was in Rowe cemetery, under direction of Women's Funeral Home.

Besides his wife and children he is survived by his mother, Mrs. J. T. Gunn of Spearman, two sisters, Mrs. J. E. McCarty and Mrs. J. W. Swinney of Olathe and two brothers, J. E. Gunn of Spearman and W. H. Gunn of Hedley.

Tom Smith has been called back to Army service at Ft. Bliss

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

Speed Up of U. S. War Production And Reports of Russian Victories Cheer Allied Nations, Although Axis Gains in Malaya and Philippines

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

JESSE JONES—RFC administrator and secretary of commerce, pictured sitting at desk as he listens to Representative Dingell of Michigan charging that the army was building new production plants while many others were idle.

LEON HENDERSON—Price administrator, as he appeared before the senate committee on small business. He and representatives of the retail automobile trade are in search for means to cushion the economic shock which car dealers face.

Two government officials "on edge?"

THE WAR: Up and Down

The war had become an up and down affair, with the Russians winning all along their huge front, the British gaining victories in North Africa with the Germans on the run, and the Japanese generally in the ascendancy on the Philippine and Singapore fronts, but taking a continued whipping at the hands of the Chinese.

Such was the situation as there was no longer any question but that the large and well-equipped army of the United States was on the move to join battle actively in the war, though the detailed whereabouts of that participation was still a closely guarded secret.

Estimates of when the tide of the battle of the ABCD forces against the Japanese in the southwest Pacific would change varied considerably.

Some observers felt it would be weeks, others months, some who were more pessimistic felt it would be a year before enough American pressure could be brought to bear to produce a definite change in the battle.

But that victory would be won in the end, nobody seemed to doubt. They watched the United States moving troops and ships, producing faster and faster more powerful armaments, moving to put new soldiers and sailors into uniform, and could see but one result, eventual victory, perhaps in 1943.

RUSSIA: Brightest Spot

Moscow had begun to report mass surrenders of German troops without fighting. The Reds also reported large masses of Nazi soldiers in rapid retreat to the southwest from the upper central front, abandoning much war material.

The sieges of Sevastopol and Leningrad have definitely been broken, and their garrisons had swept out beyond the city borders to engage retreating Germans and to attempt to form junctions with other Russian troops.

The radio broadcasts picked up from Germany tacitly admitted the situation was serious. One described it as a "crisis, but one with which Adolf Hitler will know how to deal."

Hitler was believed to be planning some sort of major coup, but the nature of it could not be guessed at. He also was variously reported as facing tremendous internal pressure as a result of his break with Von Brauchitsch.

MAC ARTHUR: Tough

Only fragmentary reports at wide intervals, testimony to the increasing difficulties of communications, were coming from the Philippines.

Some military commentators saw hope for General MacArthur and his defending forces if they could hold out for three weeks more.

But this was admittedly problematical. How much in the way of supplies and munitions the MacArthur army had was one question. Another was how long these supplies and munitions would continue to get to him.

Admittedly the Filipino-American troops had all the advantage of terrain and superior position. The Marivales mountain range, which they were defending, was lofty, provided much natural fortification, and tactically was the planned line of defense from the outset. This worked out as planned.

MALAYA: At All Costs

While the British were seriously being forced backward and ever backward in Malaya, losing the capital of the Federated Malay States, Kuala Lumpur, Sir Henry Pownall, the commander in the Singapore defense, made the statement that the British plan was divided into two general parts, first the slowing or stopping of the Japanese attack; second, the turning of the British to the offensive and driving the invaders out. He said:

"We are now engaged in the first of these activities."

Returning British wounded, however, paid tribute to the fighting qualities of the Japs, and members of Commando groups said that when confronted with the cold steel the Japs would scramble up into tall trees, from which they would hurl grenades on the British "like monkeys with explosive coconuts."

They were said to be adept at hiding in small places, and that at times furious fire would come from directions in which it did not seem possible that soldiers could find cover.

R.A.F. activity over the peninsula was constantly on the increase, however, and American-made bombers, some of them flown by Eagle fliers with the volunteer Chinese air force, were bombing Japanese bases in Thailand and Indo-China from Burmese flying fields.

The picture was not generally optimistic in Malaya, but it was regarded as far from hopeless, at least at present.

PRODUCTION: On Home Front

All over the United States groups of workers were getting together and adopting resolutions to speed up their effort, and some factories producing war materials were reporting as much as 70 per cent added output since the declaration of war.

Ships of war were being launched and put into commission as rapidly as possible. The Liberty ships were going into the water at scores of shipyard ways.

Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, received several large new gliders for test, gliders said to have a wingspread of 80 feet, probably capable of transporting soldiers in large numbers.

Swiftly they had been put under test, their pilots from the new schools which are training men to manage these motorless ships, which possibly may be towed in "trains" to be released over territory in which it is desired to land troops.

In the invasion of Crete, Germany used hundreds of them, reportedly landing 15,000 troops that way, also large numbers of light field guns and ammunition.

The newest glider training school is at Twenty-Nine Palms, Calif., turning out classes every four weeks, the students being already graduate pilots.

The gliders were so large that in transporting them from factory to Wright field by trailer truck they had to be broken into two assemblies.

PRICES:

The price control bill finally was passed, but in such a form that it was said to have been a major defeat for the administration.

Although the senate passed it 83 to 1, the farm-relief amendment passed only 55 to 31.

As the bill went into conference it provided, according to opposition senators, such possible farm price raises that the cost of living could reasonably advance 25 per cent before the price control administrator could do anything about it.

'Tin Ear'

TROY, N. Y.—Dr. Donald A. Wilbur of Rensselaer Polytechnic institute is shown testing a sound detector hastily constructed in the institute's physics laboratory to determine how effectively such cheaply built devices might be adopted throughout the country by air raid spotters. A few boards, a phonograph horn, a microphone and a battery-operated amplifier and ear phones are the ingredients of the detector that can pick up the sound of bombers five to ten miles distant.

DEFENSE: Reorganization

President Roosevelt recognized growing congressional dissatisfaction over the Civilian Defense team, comprised of Mayor LaGuardia and Mrs. Roosevelt, and while he did not take LaGuardia's title of director away from him, he brought Dean James M. Landis of the Harvard law school down to Washington to take actual charge.

The house had made discreet representations to the President that Mayor LaGuardia, as head of the nation's largest city, had plenty to do to see that New York's defense situation was cared for, and had no time to see to the country as a whole.

They also hinted around that Mrs. Roosevelt could only be considered a part-time executive, and that the OCD needed hard work and full time.

They recommended it be put into the hands of the war department. President Roosevelt's answer was Dean Landis, but in the meantime the house voted an inquiry into the manner in which the problem had been handled.

Mayor LaGuardia, Mrs. Roosevelt and Paul V. McNutt had been summoned to testify.

SHORTAGES: U. S. Feels Pinch

One after another shortages of various commodities and manufactured products began to be felt, and the average American began to feel the pinch of war as he never had felt it even at the height of the last World war.

Some of these shortages could be traced to lack of raw material from the south Pacific; others to the demands of the war upon industry, still others on both.

First came the rubber shortage and the consequent rationing of tires, directly due to the Philippine situation; second was the abrupt ending of production of new passenger cars and commercial trucks, and the rationing of them.

In line with this came difficulties in delivering milk and other commodities in larger cities and towns.

The cut-off in sugar caused a price rise, and the government moved to buy in the major portion of the Cuban crop. In many cities this precipitated a panicky purchasing of sugar; with the result that grocers started rationing it themselves.

It also was reported that there soon would be instituted the rationing of spark plugs and batteries, probably of other manufactured goods associated with the auto industry.

MISCELLANY:

Sanita Barbara, Calif.: Mickey Rooney, No. 1 film star, married a little-known 19-year-old movie actress, Ava Gardner from North Carolina.

New York: Joe Louis defeated Buddy Baer in a one-round knock-out and then had announced he would enlist in the army, not waiting for the draft.

Rangoon, Burma: A Japanese air raid threw three elephants into a panic and they stampeded, causing considerable confusion before they were recaptured.

Rome: Italy had confiscated the entire filling station network of the Texas company within its borders, it had been announced.

London: Britain was still further cutting its food ration as the demands began to flood in from the South Pacific campaign.

Tokyo (by radio): A 35 per cent tax increase has been necessary in Japan to finance the new war expenditures, it was announced.

Berlin: Dispatches from Tokyo told of Seueo Oye, famous Jap pole-vaulter, being killed in action as he led a landing party on Luzon.

Tips On Conserving Tires

America's 27 million car owners can help their country conserve rubber by making their own tires last longer. In an special cooperation of car owners the O.P.M. listed 10 simple rules by which civilian requirements for rubber can be reduced.

1. Use tires as long as possible by having them retreaded. The cost is about half that of a new tire. Retread wear is about 80% of that of a new tire.
2. Inflate tires weekly. Normal tire pressure falls more than 3 lbs below recommended minimums.
3. Reduce speed. Tires run at 40 miles per hour last twice as long as at 60 miles per hour.
4. Avoid short stops and fast rabbit starts. They burn rubber.
5. Avoid hitting curbs, holes, rocks and potholes. That increases wear and encourages blowouts.
6. Check wheel alignment twice a year. A tire a half inch out of line drags sideways 87 feet per mile and wears uneven wear.
7. Repair cuts, leaks, break promptly. Delay increases damage. Use blow-out patches only temporarily. Use re-casting.
8. Swap wheels around every 5,000 miles. Tires last longer.
9. Use only tires that fit your rims. Have your garage man inspect tires.
10. Cooperate to save rubber. Waste is sabotage. Don't speed around curves. Use your car only when essential. Use public transportation where possible. Team up with your neighbors to use fewer cars, make fewer trips. Buy in merchants' consignments. Buy in small quantities instead of buying for delivery.

Notice to Car Owners

Sher. Gav Wright is asking all citizens to take care of their cars as much as possible putting them in the garage when they are not in use, in order to discourage tire thefts. The restrictions on tire sales will probably create an increase in tire stealing, and most car owners could not afford to lose their tires in the present situation.

Assembly

The usual Color ceremony for assembly was presented by the first grade. Bill Payne and Bob O'Brien were the color bearers and Jimmie Lynn and Jack Quisenberry were the escorts. The pledge to the flag was given by Charles Barnett and the singing was led by Carolyn Reeves and LaLee Toss.

Bobbi-Lee Hall gave an interesting review of the book, "Deborah Travels Alone".

The next part of the program consisted of the ceremony related to the annual hanging of the senior picture. As the Seniors were presented individually a descriptive verse was read about each. The picture was later hung in the study hall. O. L. McQueen, one of the Seniors who will graduate at the end of this semester, expressed publicly his appreciation for the school and teachers. He especially did he mention Mr. Payne and Miss Hawkins.

There will be no assembly program for Friday, Jan 23 because of semester examinations.

Hedley versus Lelia Lake

The Hedley boys and girls went to Lelia Lake on Jan. 9 for their first conference game of the season. The girls lost with a score of 20 to 30. Three of their regular players were absent.

The boys played hard—maybe too hard because 3 of them fouled off. The score at the first quarter was 50 in favor of Hedley, but from there on it was a close game. The final score was 29 to 31 in favor of Lelia Lake. Some of the spectators remarked that this was the most exciting that our team has played in a long time. Although the Lelia Lake boys had more points, they forfeited the game to Hedley by playing an ineligible man, Billy Bridges, one of our star players, has the mumps and is unable to play. We hope that he will be back with us soon.

Senior Picture

After a month of tedious waiting we finally got our first glimpse of the Senior pictures when it was unveiled in special ceremony at assembly Friday, January 16, 1942. As each senior was presented by Earl Porter, class president, a witty description in verse was read by Mr. Bradshaw. The ceremony was held in the study hall with the actual hanging of the picture. It was put in its place at the front of the room by O. L. McQueen and the old picture was retired to its place by J. M. Dixon.

Indeed we now feel repaid for our long wait, because it is very beautiful and quite unusual in design. The individual pictures are mounted on the outside ead wings of a giant owl, while directly beneath is the class motto "Keep 'Em Flying". J. M. Dixon is the author of this attractive and unique design.

So to tell, now that this beautiful picture is now having a good influence on lower classmen, for they only sit and gaze during their study periods.

Hedley versus Lakeview

The Hedley boys and girls went to Lakeview Thursday night expecting a hard game and they got what they were looking for. The first team boys lost 15 to 27. Joel Plunk was high with 5 points. The junior boys lost 20 to 34.

The girls played a splendid game defeating Lakeview girls 25 to 26. Nellie Rae was high with 12 points.

Star Dust STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO BY VIRGINIA VALE

CLAUDETTE COLBERT'S dressing room has been doing a bit of traveling, to the amazement of inhabitants of Los Angeles who saw the one-room bungalow riding along on a truck one evening. It was made for Miss Colbert at the Paramount studios, when she was working in "Skylark." She was so proud of it that she had it taken to Twentieth Century-Fox when she began "Remember the Day." Back she went to Paramount, then, for the new Preston Sturges picture—and back, too, went the bungalow.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is rushing to the nation's theaters a two-reel release special, "War Clouds in the Pacific," which was compiled by the Canadian government just before December 7. It proved to be so prophetic that M-G-M officials ordered a record number of prints so that the picture would be available for simultaneous showing in many theaters throughout this country.

Joe E. Brown, wearing women's clothes for the first time on the screen in Columbia's "Shut My Big Mouth," has set a record for speed in dressing which will make feminine stars look to their laurels. Timing himself with a stop-watch, Brown has streamlined the routine until he can dress completely from petticoats to hat and wig in one minute and forty seconds.

Hugh Herbert, the Woo Woo comedian, will have the principal male role in the new version of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," the role played by W. C. Fields when last the picture was made. Carolyn Lee will play the youngest daughter, the role which brought screen fame to Virginia Weidler.

Patricia Morrison's been playing bossess to a solid silver pagoda, valued at more than half a million dollars. It was smuggled out of China, and will be taken on tour later. It weighs 1,300 pounds.

Ed East and Polly have just finished their second "Kitchen Quiz" film for Columbia pictures, featuring the helps for housewives which popularized the team on thousands of radio programs. The first "Kitchen Quiz" was aimed at comedy; this second one is more serious.

Parks Johnson and Wally Butterworth have offered their Vox Pop interviews program to President Roosevelt, the army and the navy for whatever use it can be put to in informational service, morale building and entertainment.

The popular CBS "Whodunit" mystery series broadcast Thursday evenings has a group of rabid mystery fans continually watching for slip-ups on crime technique and deduction; when they think they've discovered a discrepancy they gleefully write to Lew K. Lansworth, who writes the scripts—and says he can feel them hanging over his shoulder whenever he sits down to work.

It's Ginger Rogers who draws the coveted assignment to star in the screen version—in color—of the highly successful stage play, "Lady in the Dark." This is the second season that Gertrude Lawrence has appeared in it on the New York stage. The leading role requires someone who can sing, dance, act—and wear clothes well. Ginger's a natural for it.

Bob Burns, the "Arkansas Traveler," gets a duplicate of an expert rifleman's medal with three bars; he won it as a marine during the first World War, and lost it—friends have been checking records, and finally got him what you might call "a reasonable facsimile."

ODDS AND ENDS—Guest stars on the new "Shirley Temple Time" program receive beautiful gold watches from Shirley's sponsors... Amazingly for Hollywood, Margaret Hayes, famous New York fashion model, was actually cast as a model in "Take a Letter, Darling"... Macdonald Carey's certainly on his way up in Hollywood; Paramount has renewed his contract... RKO's current Lum and Abner picture will be released by RKO under the title of "The Bashful Bachelor"... The Association of Hollywood Photographers voted Bob Hope and Rita Hayworth the most "photo-generous" members of the film capital, and gave them silver cigarette cases.

Baptist Church Notes

It was a joy to welcome some visitors in our services Sunday along with some of our members who have not been present for some time. President Roosevelt said: "I reiterate the statement which I have made many times before, that a revival of religion is what this country most needs." It is impossible to have a revival with absentee. Absentees are a liability. They are sabotaging the work of our churches. Lackness in keeping some out of our services. Sin is keeping many more out. Which kept you out?

Last Sunday morning the pastor used for his subject, Why God said that Barnabas was a Good Man. He had about him in the Book of Acts, especially chapter 11. At the evening hour he discussed, When It Pays to be a Good Man. This was the second in a series of messages from The Sermon on the Mount. The brotherhood of this association met with our church last week. Several churches were represented by a good crowd. The program was excellent. Hon. John Deaver of Memphis was the guest speaker.

Important: An associational Training Union meeting is being held at Clarendon on Friday, Jan 25. The program is from 2 to 5 p.m. New ideas and plans will be presented by both State workers and Southern Baptist workers. All of our workers are urged to attend as much of this program as is possible for them to do.

Listen to the Baptist Radio Hour each Sunday morning at 7:30, Station WFAA. "Behold now is the accepted time; behold now is the day of salvation." II Cor 6:2. You are welcome to worship with us.

An Interesting Message

Rev Teasell, pastor of First Baptist church gave a most interesting message Sunday taken from Acts 11:24. "For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith; and much people was added unto the Lord." A picture of a man named Barnabas, thinking of him with reference to what God said.

The world today needs good men. The United States needs good men, the Latin American countries need good men, Europe and Asia need good men. The world today is not looking for good men but for educated men, men with great power politically, which refers us to the statement again that the real need of the world today is good men, people who want to do God's work and not "just a jolly good fellow," one who will indulge if others will provide or furnish the means, whether that might be liquor or other worldly things. There are some men who never do anything good, and some who never do anything at all. If one is to be a really good man he must possess many good qualities.

Rev Teasell emphasized that Barnabas was a good man, because first we find he was a Christian in stewardship, he recognized God with his all. God always tries to get people to know that He is owner of all things. Our lives are in the hands of God, we belong to Him. We find that God demands that we bring our tithes to Him and we should recognize stewardship before Him. No one can be a Christian unless we do our duty and meet our responsibilities to God and do not honor Him with our stewardship then He will not reward us.

Barnabas was a man of faith. The pastor stressed the fact that a man can not be a good man with out faith in God. Barnabas had faith in men, he helped to make Saul of Tarsus stronger because he had faith in him. Barnabas had faith in others and in himself and he realized that with the help of God he could do something. The individual who does not have faith in God is a criminal. Barnabas was truly missionary. When Barnabas saw the people were being saved at Antioch he rejoiced. Rev Teasell urged that we be missionaries in heart not name. God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life. He was the first great missionary and be-heaven us all to be like Him. Barnabas was spiritually born. Jesus said, "Ye must be born again." If we are a Christian, sometime we trusted God. Except we be born of the Spirit we can not see God.

Barnabas was spiritually filled. He was willing to sacrifice his life for the glory of God and to save the lost.

Barnabas said, "Lord I will go where you want me to go." Rev Teasell ask the question, "Have we felt the leadership of the Spirit?" and then urged that we all surrender our life and our all to God for His service.
