WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

U. S. War Production Gains Momentum; Churchill Government Under Fire as Prime Minister Admits 'Heavy and Far-Reaching Defeat' in Singapore

Five months ahead of schedule, the twin destroyers, U.S.S. Butler (right) and the U.S.S. Gherardi, slide down the ways into the Delaware river at Philadelphia. The launching preceded by four days the completion of the 35,000-ton battleship Alabama at Portsmouth, Va. Secretary of the Navy Knox hailed the launching of the Alabama—nine months ahead of schedule—as the end of the "defense era" and the beginning of the "war era."

MATERIAL: Rushed to Front

America was launching a warship every day and pushing men and material of war to all fronts as the determined national effort to win the war with superior military power gained momentum even as the black news from the Southwest Pacific and other areas continued to make American spirits even grimmer.

Stories from the fronts of one major setback or another vied for headline space with great stories of heroism from those same fronts of the men who were carrying the Stars and Stripes into action.

One week-end schedule, on the home front, saw a 6,000-ton cruiser launched on Saturday, a destroyer on Sunday, and a 5,000-ton battleship on Monday.

Naval authorities pointed out that a launching a day would soon be followed by the fitting of a warship a day in commission.

At the same time, from half a dozen ports of embarkation, trainloads of tanks, guns and munitions of war were going into black-hulled merchant ships, to be conveyed to the scenes of action.

Coincidentally, President Roosevelt, in his White House office was conferring long hours with 11 military and naval experts of the world, putting teeth into the war effort.

Back of it all, from coast to coast, men in the news registration were being called to the colors, to raise our army of 1,700,000 men to 3,000,000 or even more.

From the Ford plant in Detroit had come the first airplane engines produced after nearly a year of "tooling up" for this eventuality. Benson Ford and other engineers came to an eastern plane factory for the first air tests.

The test pilots were aloft. In a few hours they were back. "Phenomenal" was the word they used about the performance.

The Ford engineers assured the factory heads that they would not want for engine for their ships from now on.

BLACK:

News of War

Much of the news of the war was gloomy. The fall of Singapore gave Churchill his biggest headache since the fall of France. The prime minister admitted this "heavy and far-reaching defeat" in a broadcast to the world. Reverses in Libya and the escape of the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau and Prince Eugen from Brest heightened the gloom.

Why, screamed the British press. Why, echoed the "man in the street" throughout England. Why, re-echoed the commentators in the United States.

It was a triple-barreled question concerning the German warships. Why was not the British fleet capable of bottling up these ships? Why had 66 bombing attacks failed to damage them? Why had the British come out of the canal sea and air battle with 42 planes down against 18 for the Germans, and with their quarries sailing safely off to the Heligoland Bight?

RUSSIANS: Fight Out of Jaws

So fast and so furious were the Russians fighting according to one of their own commentators, that their soldiers' "felt shoes were wearing out."

The Russians, however, admitted that the Nazi resistance was stiffening all along the front, and that many counter-attacks were being launched.

On the northern front, they said, German and Finnish ski troops took part in one of the fiercest attacks.

JOHORE:

And Singapore

The story of the Johore causeway, that granite pathway which connects Singapore with the mainland, was being pieced together from British admissions and Japanese claims, and was believed a major factor in the black military page in Britain's book that was the Malaya campaign.

The entire British defending army, believed clipped down to some 30,000-odd fighting men during the retreat down Malaya, was moved over the causeway to carry on the siege of Singapore.

Stories at the time related how the intrepid engineers remained until the last to blow up and destroy the causeway.

The Japs declared the British only "breached it" — making a brief break in the causeway which the little men from Nippon repaired by night, and then swarmed across to drive the British back.

A second time, nearly a week later, British artillery tore the causeway in two again.

And once more the Japs made the repairs and sent trucks and men on to the attack on the island.

The Japanese admitted "obstinate resistance," and "counter-attacks," but even the most sanguine British commentators considered the odds utterly prohibitive.

BROWN:

And Censors

Cecil Brown, radio broadcaster and war commentator from Singapore, had flown 2,900 miles from the besieged stronghold to Sydney, Australia to tell the world the reason for the blackly gloomy battle of Malaya.

Significant of the bitterness of Australia toward the British conduct of the Far Eastern preparations was the fact that Brown, barred from broadcasting at all over the Singapore radio because he wouldn't paint a rosy picture of things, was freely permitted to talk when he got on Australian territory.

His story was not pretty. It started way back in Penang, when the British, he said, evacuated only the white, leaving the natives to fend for themselves. When this information filtered through to the mainland, the British had plenty of troubles with the natives there, said Brown.

Then he took up the scorched earth policy, declaring that far from destroying everything, the retreating British had left one important air field so little damaged that the Japs were using it themselves two days after the British left it.

Singapore was being bravely defended while he had been speaking. He paid high tribute to the valor and fighting qualities of the British defenders.

But Singapore, he hinted, was Britain's Pearl Harbor—a story of complacency, of unreadiness, of not heeding warnings.

The Bombay (India) Chronicle added that Churchill's policy has been marked by indefensible complacency, unpreparedness and incompetence.

MISCELLANY:

Washington: Senator Vandenberg headed a group which demanded a probe of the Normandie disaster, calling it "second only to Pearl Harbor."

New Orleans: The famous Mardi Gras had been called off, and instead of the annual million-dollar spectacle, the populace marched to bend booths and loaned their money to Uncle Sam.

TIGERS:

U. S. Burma Pilots

Gen. Claire Chennault, leader of the American "Tiger" squadron on the Burma front, as his fliers downed 48 Jap planes in two days. Chennault became Chiang Kai-shek's air force advisor early in 1941.

Playing the game of war as college lads play football, General (Chinese Army) Clair Chennault, former Texas school teacher, and his American "Tiger" squadron flying for Chiang Kai-shek reported they had downed 185 Japanese planes during two months on the Burma front.

They were the boys assigned to keep the Burma road open and free from attacks by Jap bombers.

The Japs sent over a formation of 80. The Tigers got 48 of them in two days. Only three of their men were lost—in two planes.

All his pilots were trained in U. S. flying schools, and all held flying commissions with the U. S. army, being released before we went into the war to fight for China.

They were organized last summer. On Christmas they celebrated with a "bag" of 48 planes.

The first Jap flight of 60 planes went into flight with the Tigers pursuing them far back into Thailand, and downing nearly half of them. The Japs came back the next day with 70 planes, and again a squadron of 18 Tiger ships shot them to pieces, accounting for a two-day total of 48.

HEROES:

Of U. S. Jungles

The medal of the D.S.C. finally was awarded to one of the selectees in the first draft when General MacArthur pinned it on the chest of Sergeant Leroy C. Anderson of the tank corps, a lad from Milwaukee.

All Anderson did was to "eagerly request" permission to take his unit of small tanks and smash a nasty group of Japanese machine gun nests.

Permission was granted. Anderson didn't ask his mates to go where he would not, but made his own reconnaissance tour first. Then he moved with the other tanks to the attack.

The enemy guns and crews were wiped out. Anderson's own tank, in the forefront of the battle, was put out of action. He and his crew dismounted, continued the fight with rifles and grenades. He was slightly wounded.

Frank Hewlett, a correspondent who stayed with MacArthur's fighting heroes, wrote:

"Our boys have hurled back Japanese assaults that a few weeks back would have driven them into retreat."

"Our men are now seasoned warriors. They have been 'blooded' and have stood the test."

To the question of "where is the main Japanese naval strength" the answer had come when Australian fliers reported they had found them off the coast of New Britain island, 300 miles north of Australia.

At the same time American flying fortress planes had begun bombing attacks on Jap ships in the Macassar area, reported setting one large ship afire and having damaged another.

ECONOMIC:

Economy Demanded

Led by Senators Byrd and Tydings, a wave of criticism of non-defense spending had followed earlier attacks on OGD "boondoggling," and was meeting with considerable interest from people in general who were seeing one commodity after another taken from their reach by lack of supply.

Jesse Jones and Donald Nelson told the people that the rubber situation was indeed severe. Senator Brewster of Maine, in a statement, had promised the public that the Truman committee was conducting a rubber investigation which would "tear the lid off the situation."

Nelson's WPB ruled that all production of mechanical ice-boxes must stop April 30, the refrigerators following automobiles out of the public picture.

LaGuardia, having resigned from the OGD, proceeded to urge that most of the activities of Mrs. Roosevelt's end of the OGD be transferred to other agencies.

The WPB announced it was going into the "auto graveyards" of the country, to which hopeful owners of second-hand cars were looking for parts, in order to get scrap metal.

The petroleum situation, with many tankers sunk by U-boats on the eastern seaboard, was getting serious, and oil was starting to move by rail, 1,000 tank cars rolling over the rails daily.

Junior Play

Have you made your plans for Friday, Feb. 27? If you haven't plan now to attend the Junior Play which will be at 8:30 central war time. The play is a three act comedy, "Take It Easy".
Here is a summary of the play:
The plot centers around the erratic Mrs. Highgate, who is continually forgetting names and mistaking the identities of her daughter and servants when suddenly she decides to have her portrait painted, but when three artists appear all similar in name and appearance she is unable to tell the three apart. The situation leads into a pandemonium of rib cracking laughs.
The difficulties of these situations become more and more som-plex as the play progresses, involving a queer melody, "pocket tins" from which the maid suffers;
the timid love of the butler
for her; the activities of Beagle Jones; the whirlwind courtship of the cook by the ever hungry artist house painter; the cook's extreme dislike of the mischievous yard boy—to mention only a few of the situations which arise, until at the end you too will hold your sides with laughter and shout "Take It Easy."
Jo Ann Shaw

Assembly

Brother Vermillion, minister of the Church of Christ, had charge of the devotional exercises Friday, Feb. 20. He mentioned the many things that we Americans have for which to be thankful and brought out the fact that this war has been caused by the failure to keep God's commandments. We enjoyed Brother Vermillion's remarks and we shall be looking forward to another visit from him.
Grade Eight had charge of the color ceremony. Those participating were Bonnie Kaye Everett, Jessie Louise Mass, Jack Snowden, Gene Limer, R. L. Beach and Letha King.
Grades seven and three presented the main attraction of the evening. They were dressed in their especially attractive chorus capes. Grade three presented a poem "Washington Our Hero."
Grade two read in unison a poem
"Like Washington." Joan Ray Moreman sang "The Story of the Cherry Tree." Then all three grades combined sang and played on their glee club band the following songs: "Shine America, Flare," "Song of February,"
"Who Will Be My Valentine," and
"The American March." These little folks gave a splendid performance and everyone enjoyed it thoroughly.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward C. Wayne

A.E.F. Takes Over Northern Ireland Base As U. S. and British Form Supply Pool; Jap Convoy Blasted in Macassar Strait; Hawaii Report Blames U. S. Commanders

 (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Justice Owen J. Roberts is shown (left) talking to newsmen after laying before President Roosevelt the report on the Pearl Harbor attack. Made public in its entirety by the President, the report fixed responsibility on Adm. Husband E. Kimmel and Lieut. Gen. Walter C. Short for "dereliction of duty." Justice Roberts was chairman of the commission of six that visited Hawaii.

OVER THERE:
New A.E.F. in Erin
 When Uncle Sam landed an infantry force of several thousand men at an undisclosed port in Northern Ireland, it marked the first arrival of American troops in a European port since World War No. 1. Commanded by Maj. Gen. Russell P. Hartle, the Yank army of brawn, clean-limbed farm lads from the Middle West proceeded to camps prepared months before.

Few doubted that this detachment was but the advance guard of many more to come. It was believed, too, that the base they occupied might be the springboard from which an invasion of Hitler's Europe would be made.

This view was voiced in the address of welcome by Sir Archibald Sinclair, British air secretary, who said:

"This is a coming portent for Mr. Hitler, nor will its significance be lost on General Tojo.

"From here, assuredly you will rally forth with us to carry the war to the enemy's territory and free oppressed peoples of Europe. . . . You are the vanguard of American arms."

SUPPLY COMMAND:
U. S.-British Pool
 The creation of a supreme allied supply command that will speed and co-ordinate the production and flow of vital munitions and supplies to the fighting fronts was seen in the announcement by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill that the United States and Great Britain will pool all munitions, shipping and war materials to "further co-ordination of the United Nation's war effort."

Three joint boards have been set up to merge the combined war resources of the two nations and make them partners in vital fields of supply in addition to joint military and naval commands. These new agencies will include a combined war materials board, munitions assignment board and combined shipping adjustment board.

Board members, it was announced, will confer with representatives of the Soviet Union, China and such others of the 26 United Nations as necessary "to attain common purposes."

SHIPS:
Japan Losing Them
 The British, Dutch and American bombers and ships of war were not formally coming to grips with large bodies of Japanese naval ships, but they were whittling away at them, and Japan's losses were assuming important proportions.

A count of Japanese ships reported sent to the bottom in the first seven weeks of the war totaled 100, not counting those damaged and probably sunk.

This, it was pointed out, has been an average of better than two a day, despite the fact that when the war started Japan had the jump on the other nations by virtue of the surprise, and that opening successes had weakened the allied hitting power.

A continuation of this rate, observers said, would cost Japan more than 700 vessels of all types, and that no navy in the world, except the United States, could stand replacing such losses.

Latest exploit was an attack by air and sea forces of the United Nations against Jap war ships and troop convoys in the Straits of Macassar. Reported as the "greatest demonstration of combined Allied might since the war's beginning, this force was revealed to have sunk or damaged at least 26 Japanese ships in a running battle.

Aid for Aussies

Australian Minister Richard G. Casey, arriving at the White House to confer with President Roosevelt on plans to aid Australia in its battle against Japan. Japanese advance troops have already occupied key island outposts of the Commonwealth.

PAN-AMERICA:
Half-Loaf Won?
 What had first looked like a half-loaf victory for American diplomacy at the Pan-American conference at Rio de Janeiro, was gradually assuming the proportions of a larger loaf.

Most of the South American and Central American countries had gone to Rio intent on a solid-front breach with the Axis. Some already had broken relations, some had declared a state of war.

But Argentina and Chile had remained adamant. Whether that meant simply long coastlines to worry about, or Axis leanings, or economic hopings made little difference.

Enormous pressure was brought to bear, but they would not go "whole hog" along with the rest. Finally, in true diplomatic management, our conferees managed to pull out the plum of a resolution which committed all nations to a breach of relations, but allowed any individual to do so at a time he might select.

Uruguay and Peru were the first to sever relations, followed by Paraguay and Bolivia. The lineup following the breakup of the conference was "At War": United States, Canada, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Nicaragua, Panama and Salvador.

"Broken Relation": Colombia, Mexico, Peru, Uruguay, Venezuela, Paraguay and Bolivia. Only four maintained any form of normal intercourse, namely, Chile, Ecuador, Brazil and Argentina. It was regarded as certain that the first three would soon sever relations and that the fourth, Argentina, would eventually take this step.

AUSTRALIA:
Readies for Defense
 Despite the heroic fight on land before Singapore, and the strenuous efforts being made to gain air supremacy and control of the long Malayan coasts, most commentators and observers actually believed the "island city of apathy" would eventually be besieged from the mainland, and might well be lost.

This intensified the belief in Australia and in many American quarters that the real battle of the South Pacific would center on the east coast of Australia.

Some trained observers, among them W. W. Chapin, who had made a year's close study of the East Indies and Australia, including Singapore, publicly expressed the belief that Java and Sumatra constituted a "Magnet line" of defense in the East Indies, and that Japan was intent, in taking the Philippines, Singapore and Borneo on so surrounding and going behind that line that they might attempt to duplicate Germany's similar feat against France.

SQUADRON:
Wiped Out
 Despite the attacks by Japanese and Thailanders in the rear of the main Malaya battle for Singapore upon the British-American-Chinese defenders of Burma "the modern roads to Mandalay" had reported a two-day "bag" of 32 Japanese bombers, believed to be an entire squadron.

While military secrecy covered the development of the land action, thousands of Burmese, wild with delight, watched the American and British fighters in mad dog-fights overhead at mid-day.

MISCELLANY:
 New York: A Berlin worker's slogan, smuggled out of the Reich, was broadcast: "We're winning ourselves to death."

Batavia: The Dutch army airmen, in an attack on a convoy in Macassar strait claimed that they struck a large transport carrying troops, which turned completely over and rolled about, keel upward.

PATTERNS

SEWING CIRCLE

1518B

DO YOU like to sew? Then here is a grand new pattern to try your talents on—an apron which is as simple to make as ABC! Pattern No. 1518-B shows too, an apron which is different, slenderizing, unusually becoming and as efficient as a modern kitchen! The shoulder straps continue as side panels and end as good sized, properly placed pockets—and the side panels are so shaped that they give a wonderfully slenderizing effect right where you want it most—at the waistline!

Side sashes hold the apron firm across the front, tie smartly in back. The straps stay up because they are fastened directly in back and the wide side pieces give your dress full protection.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1518-B is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40, 42 and 44. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 (34) requires 2 yards 35-inch material, 5 yards trimming—ric-rac or bias fold. Send your order to:

Watch Your Kidneys!
Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery. Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. DOAN'S PILLS

Star Dust
STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO
By VIRGINIA VALE
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

IF SUBMARINES were not actually torpedoing Allied ships just off the Atlantic coast I'd suspect that the newspaper-headlines and stories announcing their presence were the work of a very smart press agent for Columbia Pictures. For their new picture, "The Invaders," tells of the attempted invasion of Canada, through the Gulf of St. Lawrence, by the crew of a German sub. Made in England, it stars Raymond Massey, Laurence Olivier and Leslie Howard, before ever a hostile periscope approached our coastline.

When Director Michael Powell was casting "The Invaders" he remembered a child actress, Glynis Johns, whom he'd seen four years ago in an English picture, "South Riding." He told her then that if he ever needed a child actress the job would be hers. He needed a young lady for "The Invaders," remembered that she might be one by now—and 15-year-old Glynis got the role.

Paramount reminds us that it's just about a year since Veronica Lake was introduced to the public; reminds us also that 1941 brought us other promising young actresses, notably Gene Tierney, Alexis Smith,

VERONICA LAKE
Maria Montez, Jane Russell and Kathryn Grayson, but that Veronica practically became a national institution, thanks to the one-eyed hair-do that made her famous.

"Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" put two new words into common usage—"pixilated" and "doodling." Long before that everybody was saying "Sez you," after they'd seen "What Price Glory?" Paramount very much hopes that their wacky domestic comedy, "Mr. and Mrs. Cugat," will do the same for "whiffle," meaning to exaggerate flagrantly; Betty Field does it in the picture.

Pat O'Brien's contract with 20th Century-Fox has been "amicably terminated," and he's going to co-star with George Raft in Universal's "Broadway." He signed with Fox a year ago to make two pictures; the first was abandoned, but he was paid, and he objected to the second one. So Fox let him go to Universal on loan-out, to wind up his contract.

Francis White, soprano star of the telephone hour, would hardly have time to accept an honorary title, she's that busy these days; is on a singing tour of 65 army camps, has 25 concert dates in as many cities—and still does her regular broadcasts.

Tay Garnett, for years one of the best motion picture producers and directors, has entered the radio field; the Tay Garnett Radio Productions give you "Three Sheets to the Wind" Sunday evenings on the NBC-Red network. John Wayne of the movie stars, Helga Moray, English stage and screen actress, plays opposite him. The series deals with romantic adventure against a world cruise background.

Rudy Vallee saw service in the last war as a third class seaman on a destroyer; had to add a couple of years to his real age to get in. Subsequently, after he became famous, the governor of Maine gave him the honorary title of lieutenant commander; recently he was made an honorary flying cadet. But he has the satisfaction of knowing that he got into the navy the first time the hard way.

Fourteen years ago this month the CBS team of "Amos 'n' Andy," then known as "Sam 'n' Henry," made their first personal appearance tour. The following March they adopted their present names and act—and you know what's been happening since then!

ODDS AND ENDS—William Powell departs from his movie "This Man" characterization for a dramatic role in "Crossroads," opposite Hedy Lamarr... Chorine under the eye—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
