Lions Club News

Last week's Lions Club meeting was streamlined a little to allow the members to attend the basketball tournament. However they had time for short Christmas program by Miss Willie Goode, Mrs. Helen Sullivan and piano solos by Mrs. A. C. Williams, which was enjoyed by the Lions.

This week the directors and the membership committee will meet and outline plans for the Melvin Jones birthday membership contest which will be during the month of January.

Next week's meeting of the club will be held at approximately 8:05, as this seems to be a very popular meeting time at present. Lions in charge of the program for that night are W. E. McCracken and F. M. Murray.

6th War Loan Drive

Latest report on the bond drive is that Donley County has again reached her quota in the Sixth War Loan drive, both in E Bonds and all others. Bond subscriptions are still coming in and it looks as if the county will be over the top by a good margin when they are all in.

SENATE:
Hit Appointments

Plans to hurry through the appointments of Joseph C. Grew as Undersecretary of State and William L. Clayton, Nelson Rockefeller and Archibald MacLeish as assistant secretaries in the department struck a snag in the senate, where a rebellious contingent forced hearings to be held on the principals' fitness for the offices. Leading the attack was Kentucky's "Happy" Chandler, who, in referring to the appointments of Businessmen Clayton and Rockefeller, declared: "I was told that the poor folks would be given opportunities as a result of the election. Instead of the poor people obtaining the jobs, the Wall Street boys are getting them. . . . In pressing for confirmation of the appointments, Texas' Tom Connally decried the allegation that business interests would use their position to influence policy, declaring: "Every senator who knows the President knows that he is going to dominate the foreign policy of this government. . . ."

Stiffen Policy

First official act of Secretary of State Edward Stettinius was to blast at Britain's and Russia's maneuvering in liberated European countries to establish governments favorable to their interests.

Declaring "We expect the Italians to work out their problems of government along democratic lines without influence from outside," Stettinius aimed his

Building Doll House
Furniture Is Fun

HERE is miniature furniture all carefully scaled to reproduce actual size pieces. Any little girl will love the sturdy five-inch-long upholstered sofa and the lounge chair with matching ottoman. They are easy to make, too, and so is the chair. It is covered with a flower print such as little girls' dresses are made of, but it looks like a large scale chintz on a chair only four inches high. The dining room furniture is all made of straight blocks but the chairs are smartly upholstered in bright oilcloth to simulate leather. The bed with upholstered head piece is especially glamorous and the dainty dressing table has a matching stool made of half of a spool with padded top and full skirt. The nursery is also well furnished with attractive pieces made from things you have on hand.

NOTE—Pattern 274 gives actual-size patterns or dimensions for all the pieces of this furniture with illustrated directions for making. Patterns and directions are also given for the lamps and other accessories. Pattern 273 gives all directions for making the doll house. Patterns are 15 cents each. Send direct to:

Warriors Perfumed Selves
Before Going Into Battle

Historical accounts reveal that the warrior of Caucasian tribes doused his head and body with strong perfumes before entering battle. Believed to be helpful in terrifying and confusing the enemy, the perfume scents were concocted of garlic and other strong-smelling substances. These scents were manufactured by the general staff of mountain warriors, and handed out systematically to all fighters before each battle.

may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous acids to accumulate. For truly manly, you feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling, sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smearing and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Don's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Don's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Don's today.

Household
Hints

To remove coffee, tea or chocolate stains, sprinkle them with borax and soak in cold water. After soaking, pour boiling water through the cloth and the stain will disappear.

For a glazed appearance on pies, brush lightly with cream, or beaten egg and water, before placing in the oven.

When grown indoors in window box or in flowerpots, herbs do best in a south window where they get plenty of sunlight.

Add a handful of salt to the last rinse in cold weather, and the clothes will not freeze as they are hung out.

Lay your vacuum cleaner on the floor and pass your dust mop back and forth before the opening to clean the mop.

Sitting on the edge of a mattress weakens the edge and causes it to sag.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action
Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become overtaxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.
You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

We hav

how much WHITE LIGHT

in a pound of BLACK COAL?

THE lamp has a 100-watt bulb in it and the lump of coal weighs one pound.

Pulverized and blown into the big boiler of a modern power-plant, a pound of coal provides enough steam to generate one kilowatt-hour of electricity.

That much electricity, in turn, will light the lamp for ten hours—long enough to read this newspaper and a couple of novels. Or it will run a small radio for 25 hours, a food mixer for 15 hours, a washer for almost 7.

"So what?" you say. The point is this. 25 years ago, it took about three times as much coal to produce a kilowatt-hour of electricity as it does today!

The all-around efficiency which gets several times as much white light from black coal has benefited YOU in many ways.

It has made your electric service better and cheaper year by year. It has met tremendous wartime demands for electric power, without delay, shortages or rationing. It has held the price of electricity at an all-time low, while other costs went up.

These results come from the sound business management of the nation's light and power companies—and from the hard work of men and women who know their business—and who are preparing for even greater accomplishments tomorrow.

*Some plants use less than 1 pound; some more, because of differences in coal and equipment. The nation-wide average is 1.5 pounds per kilowatt-hour.

Coffee Flavor Good In Cake

Both batter and frosting are made with coffee in new cake recipe.

Coffee, which continues to become more popular as America's favorite hot or iced drink at all hours of the day, is one of the finest flavorings for desserts.

Here is a new, tested layer cake recipe in which coffee is the only liquid used. To make the right amount of proper strength brew for Coffee Layer Cake, use 6 tablespoons of coffee and 1 1/2 cups of water. Brew in a small-size coffee maker, if you have one.

Or, boil the water and pour over the coffee which has been placed in a warmed saucepan. Stir, let stand for three minutes and strain. This method will give the required amount of strong coffee for both cake and frosting. In either case, for full-bodied coffee flavor, use vacuum-packed coffee from a glass jar in which freshness is held intact under the resealable lid.

Coffee Layer Cake: (Makes two 8-in-h layers) 2 c. cake flour, 3/4 t.
baking powder, 1/2 t. salt, 2 1/2 c.
shortening, 1 c. sugar, 3 eggs, 1/2 t. vanilla, 1/2 c. cold strong coffee.

Sift flour. Measure and sift together with baking powder and salt. Cream shortening. Add sugar gradually, creaming after each addition. Add well-beaten eggs. Add vanilla and beat thoroughly. Add dry ingredients alternately with the coffee to the creamed mixture, stirring just enough to blend thoroughly.
Pour into well-greased pans and bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

Boiled Coffee Frosting: Combine
1 1/2 c. sugar, 1/2 c. strong coffee and 1/4 c. bottled light syrup in saucepan. Bring slowly to boil, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Continue boiling without stirring to firm ball stage (250° F.). Remove from heat.
Pour over 2 stiffly beaten egg whites, beating constantly until frosting stands in peaks. Add 1/4 t.
salt and frost cake.

WHEN a Paramount movie unit arrived in Tucson and announced they would need some 1,200 extra players for "Incendiary Blonde" starring Betty Hutton, the city fathers showed their spirit by working along with the other citizens. You'll see the mayor, a superior judge, the city attorney, the sheriff, the chief of police and the superintendent of schools, in support of the giddy Betty.

Phyllis Brooks, who was appointed official pin-up girl for the Sixth Bond drive of the War Activities Committee of the Motion Picture industry, and who has appeared before thousands of our boys in the south Pacific area, as well as those in camps here at home, has this to say to the girls at home: The farther the boys get from America, the more they want their pin-up girls to look feminine; they'd rather not have pictures of you in bathing suits or slacks, but in skirts, "a little on the formal side, with plenty of appeal."

Sunset Carson, Republic western star, returned to the studio from a month's "vacation" recently — if sowing 1,000 acres of wheat, riding horseback 20 miles a day, milking 14 cows each morning on a 3,000 acre ranch in Texas can be called a vacation! Sunset and his father own the ranch jointly. His father was ill, so he took time off from pictures and helped to keep things going.

In answer to letters from thousands of WAVES, Bing Crosby sings "Black Magic" in his next picture, "Here Come the WAVES." When it was announced by Paramount that he would co-star in the picture with Betty Hutton and Sonny Tufts, the letters began to pour in.

Dinah Shore has been pretty proud of that German pistol given her by Lieut. Gen. George Patton when she was overseas. But the singing star of "Belle of the Yukon" is just as proud of a second captured gun—it came to her from a GI Joe, now in Germany.

Trudy Berliner, European stage and screen actress, has been signed by Warner Bros., to coach Andrea King and Faye Emerson for their roles in "Hotel Berlin." She was released from a Nazi concentration camp after four months' imprisonment.

Hollywood's newest Cinderella is Gloria Holliday, CBS telephone operator, who auditioned for and won the role of Garry Moore's collegiate girl friend in the skits which will revolve around the new character, "Foster Fenwinkle." They'll be heard every few weeks.

Remember the famous Veronica Lake "peekaboo" bob, that drooped over one eye? She gave it up when the WFB asked her to, to set a good example for defense workers. But in came letters from servicemen asking her to revive it. She's saved those letters for the past year; she confronted Paramount executives with them. You'll see the "peekaboo" again, for one sequence, in "Out of This World."

One of those hauntingly lovely pictures that stay with you, so that you want to see it more than once, is "Journey for Margaret." And somehow, the second time you see it, it seems even more delightful, more touching, than it did the first time.

Kay Kyser of the "College of Musical Knowledge," begins a new chapter in his career on December 27, when he strikes up the band as a new sponsor. Featured with him will be his wife, Georgia Carroll, and the rest of his regular troupe. Same time, same station.

ODDS AND ENDS—Don Wilson has been signed for a featured role in Republic's "Singing on a Rainbow"; he'll play a radio announcer, named Don Wilson... Either Florida or Louisiana will furnish the background for the sequences showing the March of Death on Bataan in RKO's "The Invisible Army"... The Hoosier Hot Shots, novelty instrumentalists of the National Barn Dance program, have written a new song entitled "She's Dea Waddie Dee Waddie Dee"... John Wayne once made the All-American football team; it happened in 1929, at the University of Southern California—when he was known as Marion Michael Morrison.

Pyle's Slant on the War:

GIs Turn Back to Cave-Like Living in Tunisia

All Comforts Missing but Men Carry On Under Trying Conditions

By Ernie Pyle

(Editor's Note): This dispatch was written and first published when Pyle was with the GIs during the air battles in French North Africa. He is now on his way to cover the Pacific war zones.

THE TUNISIAN FRONT.—It must be hard for you folks at home to conceive how our troops right at the front actually live. In fact it is hard to describe it to you even when I'm among them, living in somewhat the same way they are.

You can scarcely credit the fact that human beings—the same people you've known all your life—could adjust themselves so acceptingly to a type of living that is only slightly above the cave-man stage.

Some of our troops came directly to the Tunisian front after the original occupation of North and West Africa, and have been here ever since. They have not slept in a bed for months. They've lived through the vicious winter sleeping on the ground.

They haven't been here for months. They have been through most of the hardships, though g

A little later Bessman got out a partly filled bottle of gin he had with him and asked this same sensitive captain if he'd like a drink. The captain didn't even reach out his hand. He simply answered:

"Have you got enough for a man too?"

He wouldn't take a drink here unless the enlisted men under could have some.

All officers are not like that; the battlefield does produce a know erhood. The common bond of death draws humans toward each other over the artificial barrier of rank.

Come to Church

is a place of prayer . . . for Protestants, Catholics, Muslims . . . it doesn't matter. Church is a place where those who believe in God, in a creed, gather to pray and draw strength and courage from their faith. Church is a place where a lot of Yanks abroad would like to enter again more regularly than in the past. Church is the place to go for a safe return.
