Lions Club News

Attendance was a little short at last week's Lions Club meeting, but it was a good program and meal was enjoyed by those who came.

Lions Jay Hunt and L. P. Trimble were in charge of the program, which consisted of piano numbers by Joan Rye Moreman, Sarah Ann Rains, Mary Alice Hunsucker and Carolyn Reeves. All the young ladies showed a great deal of musical talent.

The only guest at the meeting was Cpl. James W. Alewine, who has recently returned from the China-Burma area.

BASKETBALL

The Hedley Owls will go to Kelton Friday afternoon to play in the Kelton tournament. The game will be at 5 p. m. against Sweetwater. The starting line-up will be Sims and John as forwards, Stotts as center, Ewert and Stone as guards with Gibson, Fred Top Sims, Huffman and Sam Owens as subs. Possibilities for first place are excellent.

Methodist Calendar

Beginning Wednesday night, February 7, and going through four consecutive Wednesday nights we will have our Mission Study Course, entitled "Christ After Chaos" written by Bishop Author J. Moore, President of the Board of Missions and Church Extension. You will not want to miss this study.

Sunday February 28 is Layman's Day. It is our desire to have every layman of the church present on that day, also bring a friend with you.

The week of February 28 to March 4 is the Week of Dedication. This week is designated as a week that will bring a new spirit, a new loyalty, and a new cooperation into the life of the church.

Mrs. B. N. Stewart is in Hillsboro visiting her sister. Her brother-in-law, Joe Livesay passed away there last week.

Tomato Aspic

Tomato aspic on a bed of lettuce or other greens always makes a cheerful holiday salad. A modified mayonnaise thinned with lemon juice makes a good looking dressing and a very palatable one.

Seaside Country

Chile stretches between the Pacific ocean and the Andes for 2,600 miles from nitrate-rich northern deserts, through verdant central valleys to starkly beautiful mountains and lakes in the south. Capital: Santiago.

Ironing Wool

Wools sold as washable, such as chailies, may be ironed like other laundered clothing... but always with a warm iron—never a hot one—and on the wrong side.

Axe Handle

Wrap your axe handle with fine wire for about three inches from the point where it enters the axe head. This will protect the handle. You can use wire of discarded house brooms fastening the ends with small staples such as are used for putting screens on doors and windows.

Spice Bags

Spice bags give a faint, yet enticing flavor to certain soups and stews. To make one, mix three sprigs of parsley, six whole cloves, one bay leaf and a little thyme. Tie them loosely in a small square of white cheesecloth. Drop bag into soup or stew.

Keep Your RED CROSS At His Side

March 1st opens the new Red Cross War Fund Campaign, and every citizen of this community is urged to do his best to help put the campaign over.

Do not wait to be solicited. Bring your contribution to Hobart Moffitt, Hedley Chairman, or if you live outside Hedley see the chairman for your community.

Donley County's quota has been set at $6,100.00, which is quite a bit larger than last year's quota, and means that everyone will have to increase his usual contribution to meet the goal.

Mary Rains Bridges Weds Banks Jeffreys

In a double ring ceremony performed in the First Baptist Church on Feb. 23 at 8 o'clock Miss Mary Rains Bridges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bridges, became the bride of Banks Ray Jeffreys of the U. S. Maritime Service. Rev. W. F. Gaede, pastor of the Methodist Church, read the nuptial vows. Serving as ushers were uncles of the bride, Ike and Charles Rains, who lighted the tapers.

Mrs. Millard Word of Clarendon played "I Love You Truly," and Mrs. Rollie Brumley of Clarendon sang "At Dawning," before the traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional, with Mrs. C. O. Hill at the piano. While the ceremony was being performed the pianist played softly "Ave Maria."

Potted palms, candelabras and large baskets of pink gladiolas formed the wedding background. The bride's aisle was marked with white tulle bows tied with white satin streamers. The bride's only attendant, Miss Jerry Ponder of Amarillo, carried a nosegay bouquet of spring flowers with shell-pink streamers. She wore a shell-pink street length dress. Sproule Smith of the U. S. Navy acted as best man.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a street length dress with fitted bodice and elbow length sleeves, with sweetheart neckline, of soldier blue. She carried a white satin muff covered with white gardenias and Joanna Hill roses, with blue mahlone bow and white satin streamers. Her handkerchief belonged to her great-great grandmother and had been used in the wedding of her mother.

The bride's mother wore a navy sheer dress with pink carnation corsage and black accessories.

For the wedding trip, the bride wore a sweetheart rose suit, with a white hat and black patent accessories. She wore a white gardenia on her shoulder.

The bride graduated from Hedley High School with the class of 1939, and attended West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon in 1940 and 1941. She was employed in the accounting department at Pantex at the time of her marriage.

News From Our Men In Service

The following letter was recently received by Supt. C. O. Hill from J. M. Dickson's commanding officer.

Dear Sir:

During the time that J. M. Dickson has been on board he has been engaged in technical work which involves all the fundamentals of physics. Also his work has involved a lot of mathematics including Algebra and Trigonometry.

I deem his work to require a better knowledge of these subjects than the average high school course, and consider it a privilege to recommend that he be given credits as follows: Math—I, Physics—I.

I understand that these are all the credits he needs for his diploma. If further credits are needed he could certainly qualify in geography or history as he has traveled 145,000 miles in the Pacific-making history while doing so.

Harmony Note of Big Three Meet; Mighty U.S. Aerial Blows Carry War to Heart of Jap Homeland

Released by Western Newspaper Union. (EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Freely by daring U. S. Ranger attack on Cabanatuan prison camp, liberated Yanks joyfully make their way back to American lines for transfer to evacuation hospital in Philippines.

EUROPE: Postwar Pattern

Their historic conference at Yalta having ended in agreement, the Big Three departed from the balmy Crimean watering resort determined to maintain equal harmony on the implementation of the new course they struck for trodden Europe.

Thorniest problem in Allied relations before the conference, the Polish question was met by U. S. and British recognition to Russian annexation of part of eastern Poland.

PACIFIC: Mighty Strike

To Tokyo's 8,000,000 terrified residents, it was as if the whole host of demons themselves had swooped from the skies; to American aviators and sailors, it offered the supreme satisfaction of slapping a vicious enemy in his own backyard.

CONGRESS: Busy Session

Solons were putting in a busy session on capitol hill, engrossed in semi-political, financial and insurance legislation.

Wallace Curb

Passed by the senate, the bill removing the Reconstruction Finance corporation, with its vast loaning powers, from the U. S. department of commerce and Liberal Henry A. Wallace's reach if appointed secretary of that office, went up before the house.

In addition to stripping Wallace of authority over RFC funds, which conservatives feared he might use for promotion of plans for government spending to provide "full employment," house Republicans sought to remove the secretary of commerce from the board of the 700 million dollar export-import bank, used to finance foreign business.

Up prominently for congressional consideration was the administration-backed Bretton Woods postwar world financial agreement, under which the U. S. would contribute about 6 billion dollars for two funds:

(1) to provide countries with foreign exchange at par rather than open-market value to stimulate their purchasing powers, and (2) to guarantee private loans made to countries to help build up their economies.

In asking for congressional approval of the Bretton Woods agreements, President Roosevelt said they were the first step in a broad program for international economic cooperation, also including an Allied food and agriculture organization, expansion of the reciprocal trade act of 1934, reduction of trade barriers and orderly marketing of certain world surpluses.

Continued state supervision of insurance companies, but with stricter control in harmony with federal anti-trust laws, was promised in congressional approval of legislation postponing antimonopoly prosecution against such businesses for three years and allowing states that time to set up tighter regulations.

Brought to a head by a recent Supreme court decision declaring insurance companies subject to anti-trust laws, the question of federal control over the business drew little support from congress, with legislators contending that the individual states were best qualified to regulate the matter according to their particular requirements.

Farm Credit Standing High By WALTER A. SHEAD WNU Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—For every dollar farmers borrowed in 1944, they repaid $3.50 on loans made prior to that year, reducing the farm mortgage debt to the lowest point in 30 years, according to a report of the Federal Land Bank system.

For the year the volume of farm loans outstanding was reduced 17 per cent. The total volume of farm loans and commissions made in 1944 amounted to $105,292,000. During the year a uniform 4 per cent interest rate was established on most outstanding land bank loans.

Farm mortgage loans in good standing reached a new high at the year's end with 93.6 per cent of all Federal land bank and 91.7 per cent of commissioner loans current on all payments of principal and interest.

Developed by engineers of Bendix Aviation corporation in cooperation with the army and navy, the indicator records continuously and automatically the exact "air position" of a huge super-fort in flight on a single dial giving the navigator an instantaneous reading of his longitude and latitude and saving hours of complex calculations.

No larger than a quart milk bottle, the computing device not only shows "air position" in degrees of longitude and latitude, but also gives the navigator a continuous record of air miles flown from the take-off point and indicates the correct compass heading of the airplane, engineers explained. From these readings, plus a check of wind drift, the B-29 navigator can continuously plot his ship's "air position" on the map and keep his plane more accurately on the bomber route to Japan and return.

With the year marked by wider understanding and use of the U. S. Soil Conservation service's land classification specifying the best employment of tracts on the basis of slope, soil, degree of erosion, previous use and other factors, more than 65,000,000 acres were producing under the soil conservation system in 1944, SCS Chief Scientist Dr. H. H. Bennett reported. This compared with the figure of 37,500,000 acres for the year 1941.

Blocking Garment

Sometimes a new hand-knit garment, or a laundered knit garment, needs blocking—light steam-pressing (without mashing)—to give a finished look. Block this easy way: Sprinkle two heavy bath towels slightly and spread the garment between them. Cover with a board or other firm, flat surface. Weight this down and leave until the garment is dry.

One Foot, Hand and Eye

In the pagan era before Christianity came to ancient Ireland, when a corruinech or sorcerer practiced his spell he was "on one foot, one hand and one eye," which is interpreted to mean standing on one foot with arm outstretched and one eye shut. In this position the sorcerer uttered a sort of incantation or curse which was intended to cause injury to the unfortunate victim.

Bonds Over America

CAESAR RODNEY

After a ride that rivals Paul Revere's, Caesar Rodney broke a tie vote in Delaware's delegation to the Continental Congress at Philadelphia on Lee's resolution for independence. Late on July 1, 1776, he arrived home after quelling a revolt in Sussex County where he received an urgent summons to Philadelphia. Mounting a horse, he rode through the night and arrived in the northern city in time to place Delaware with the other colonies backing the resolution. That spirit of service animates Delaware people in buying War Bonds today to insure liberty for future generations. U. S. Treasury Department

Short Cuts to Better Gardens

Many a Victory Gardener has learned a lot from experience in the past three years. Various knacks, devices, and methods have been found helpful in making vegetable and flower growing easier, more efficient, and more enjoyable. Here are a few of them picked up here and there:

There's the quick trick of making furrows for very small seeds by laying the rake handle flat on the ground parallel to other rows and pressing it lightly into the soil. The soil, of course, must be of fine texture and well prepared. The shallow depression left by the handle is just the right depth for lettuce, carrot, and other tiny vegetable and flower seeds which should not be planted more than a quarter-inch deep. The row can then be speedily covered by gently raking a thin layer of soil over it and tamping it down.

Mixing small seeds with a handful of sand or fine soil before sowing is a good idea. This method keeps the seed from blowing around and also from being sown too thickly.

Do you suspect the presence of that crafty nuisance, the cutworm, in your garden plot? The pest frequently hides in the soil and nips off young plants at the base during the night while you sleep. Tomato and pepper plants are often victims as well as other transplanted seedlings. To combat this enemy, a paper "collar" is a handy device. Cut a strip of flexible cardboard about six inches wide and long enough to make the proper size hollow cylinder for encircling the plant you want to protect. Fasten the lapped ends together with a couple of paper clips. Or, if available, use a paper cup with the bottom cut out. Slide the collar over the little plant when setting it out, sinking it about half way into the soil as shown in the illustration.

If your garden is 50x75 feet in size or larger, plan to include a wheel hoe among your garden implements this year if at all possible. You can do the job of cultivating in about one-third the time it takes with a hand hoe. Remember, however, in laying out the garden for wheel hoe use, a little more space will be needed between rows than for hand hoe cultivation. With a wheel hoe you can travel up and down the garden rows with little more exertion than running a carpet sweeper over a rug. Weeds are quickly destroyed, the soil is well stirred, and there's seldom a backache in this kind of garden care.

As Good As Gold

Food was held in high premium in Klondike days. Ham and eggs were $2.50 an order. Black coffee sold at 25 cents a cup; with cream, it was 50 cents. Soup cost "one buck a bowl." Champagne was $20 a pint. A "special" was beans—$1 a plate. The rule at all the eating-houses was "No gold, no grub."

Alaskan Frontiers

According to popular belief, the gold resources of Alaska have for the most part been exhausted. But a great many scientists believe that rich deposits of copper and other minerals remain to be discovered in the Alaskan interior. Recently a Harvard explorer reported discovery of a "lost world" of minerals, probably including gold, under 2,000 feet of ice.

Remove Scale

Scale of almost any kind can be removed from a kettle with diluted cider vinegar. Using a cup of vinegar to a quart of water, fill kettle with the liquid, bring it to a boil and let it stand in the kettle overnight. To prevent scale from forming again, keep an oyster shell in kettle.

Salt Treatment

The possibility that special solutions of common table salt may be used as substitutes for blood plasma in treating the wounded and those suffering from burns was suggested by Surgeon General Thomas Parran of the Public Health Service. The new process has the advantage that it can be administered through the mouth, as well as through the vein.

Kidneys Must Work Well-

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood. If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly. Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling. Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

BOB HOPE reports on the Red Cross in action

Bob Hope should know. He saw! For two years he has devoted most of his spare time to entertaining G.I.'s on the "Fuzhola Circuit" of USO-Camp Shows. Hope has made 'em laugh in Panama, Alaska, British Isles, North Africa, Sicily, and most recently through the captured islands of the South Pacific.

I SAW Red Cross blood plasma bring a man back to life! I watched a miracle. A miracle that could not have happened without you...and your Red Cross. In 1944 the Red Cross was asked to provide 5,000,000 pints of blood for the armed forces in addition to 5,600,000 pints previously obtained. This project was carried on through centers located in 35 big cities.

I SAW the Red Cross bring news from home to a worried son! A soldier stationed in the Pacific couldn't understand why a letter to his mother was returned to him marked "unknown." Was his mother sick? Alive? What had happened? The Red Cross investigated; found out the trouble—a very simple mistake—and relieved the soldier's fears!

I SAW the Red Cross playing mother to homesick, war-weary fighters! There are more than 700 Red Cross Clubs overseas. They're headquarters for snacks, tours, dances, games, books, home newspapers!

I SAW the Red Cross handing out bits to the wounded in hospitals. When a man has lost everything—these comfort kits are worth their weight in gold. They contain toilet articles, cigarettes, candy.

I SAW the Red Cross great fliers just back from a mission! I saw a Fort come in—haggard men crawl out of her. A Red Cross clubmobile pulled up. And the fliers relaxed over doughnuts, coffee, American girls' smiles.

I SAW a Red Cross ship taking food to our men in prison camps! Thousands of our men in enemy hands would suffer were it not for the food, clothing and medicines sent by and through the Red Cross.

The American people are notorious "joiners." Social prestige and business prosperity are sometimes more easily attained by membership in fraternal and civic organizations.

The Red Cross roll call offers none of these advantages—it is an organization whose members have associated themselves together for the sole purpose of lightening human suffering.

Here are but three of the things you are supplying when you join this great organization:

1. Surgical dressings for the wounded.
2. Blood plasma, without which many men could not live.
3. Food, clothing, and recreation to those gaunt men behind barbed wire—our sons, and sons of our friends and neighbors.

Can you envisage any other order half so honorable—half so worthy? Dig deep, folks! In this lifetime, no greater opportunity for loving kindness, mercy, and benevolence will be offered you.

Ernie Pyle With the Navy:

Fame Prevents G.I. Joes' Biographer From Resting Visits to Old Friends and Places Keep War Correspondent on Go

By Ernie Pyle

Ernie Pyle is with the navy in the Pacific. Pending receipt of his dispatches from that war theater this newspaper is publishing a few articles he wrote before his take off from San Francisco, of which the following is one.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Some of you oldtime readers who've hung on faithfully to this column for years, might like to know how some of my personal affairs are getting along, since I've always worn all the family intimacies on my sleeve.

Take "That Girl," whom you used to read so much about before the war, and who, for all those long years of peacetime traveling, rode beside me.

Ernie Pyle

I haven't written much about her in recent years, because I haven't seen much of her. The war has done the same thing to us that it has to millions of others. In the last four years, we have been together only on these little excursion trips to America.

She has kept the hearth in Albuquerque—kept it under difficulties. She has been burdened by recurring illnesses, and has had to revolve between home and hospital. But she has succeeded in keeping the little white house just as it always was, which she knew is what I would want.

She is back there now, trying to cope with the prospect of another year alone. She is still, by remote control, my guiding star. She thinks everything I do is wonderful. She even thinks I'm beautiful, which is the only flaw in her judgment.

She lives only for the day when the war is over and we can have a life together again. And that's what I live for too, for life to a man isn't much good without "his woman," and after 20 years that's what "That Girl" still is to me. I hope we both last through until the sun shines in the world again.

VISITED INDIANA
And my folks in Indiana—I visited them twice on this furlough in America, both visits all too short, but better than none.

My father and my Aunt Mary are still on the farm, three miles outside the little town of Dana. They have repaired the house and rearranged the furniture, and they are very comfortable.

My father still limps from his hip fracture of a year ago. And his eyes are very bad now, and he can't see to read. But he gets around all right, and even drives the car to town now and then. We think he shouldn't be driving, but every time Aunt Mary mentions that, he goes out and gets in the car and drives to town, so she's stopped mentioning it.

My Dad listens a lot to the radio, and helps with the dishes, and Aunt Mary reads to him at night, and last summer he even helped some with the harvesting when the neighbors were hard up for help. He raises a few chickens. Outside of that, life is without duties or energy for him.

Aunt Mary is almost 79, and her spirit is boundless. She goes all day long, like a 16-year-old. She cooks the meals, cleans the house, works in the garden, does the washing for two or three families, goes to her club meetings and to church, and does things for the neighbors, and never finds time to sit down.

I was amused at a letter that came from her the other day. One of our neighbors, Mrs. Howard Gocame down with a violent rheumatism. So Aunt Mary drove over and put hot cloths on her for several hours, got noontime dinner for the farm hands, did the weekly washing and then got supper ready for them before she came home for her own evening chores.

Next day a blizzard was on. The ice was so slick she didn't dare take the car out of the garage. The snow on the roads was two feet deep and it was bitter cold.

So what did Aunt Mary do? She just bundled up and walked three-quarters of a mile over to Goforths, worked all day, and then walked back in the evening through the snow. She sure doesn't take after her nephew.

VACATION WITHOUT REST

These four months of furlough in America, away from the war, have gone like the wind. They have been full to overflowing. So full, in fact, that hardly anything has happened that I had hoped would happen. There has been no rest. There has been no time for composure.

Finds Little Time to Read Best Books

Instead of reading 50 books while I was home, and getting caught up on those last years of literature, I've actually read only five books in these past four months.

They were—(1) "A Walk in the Sun," a wonderful little story about the emotions of men in half-a-day's fighting in Italy; (2) "Lost Island," James Norman Hall's story of what

No day has been long enough to finish the things required in that day.

I've had the one magnificent privilege of being away from the war, but aside from that I've had more duties and worked harder here at home on "vacation" than most of the time at the front.

Normal life for me has disappeared. The bulk of my time is now given to other people. It's almost impossible to count on a single hour alone. To get half a day uninterrupted with my own family I have to plan it days ahead and then bar the gates.

If the intrusions were by mere publicity-seekers, then I could get tough. But the pressure upon me is not from the publicity-seekers or the curious.

Ninety per cent of the people who phone, write, visit or stop me in public places have legitimate reasons for doing so. They are people who have done kind little things for me. They are people who just want to tell me, in complete sincerity, that they think I've done a good job—and a fellow never gets tired of hearing that.

They are people whose sons I've known overseas; they are people who write to tell me their sons are dead; they are people who want help in something they're doing for the war; people who have a part in this pattern of war that has grown up around me.

Yes, 90 per cent of the destruction of my private life is from pure goodness and sincerity in people, and from unavoidable duties that have become as much a part of my job as the job itself.

I have never aspired to be famous. If I had, then I could say to myself, "All right, brother, you made your own bed, now lie in it."

But this thing just happened. It came without planning or aspiration. I guess it comes in the category of an Act of God, like a blizzard or slipping on a banana peel.

You have to adjust yourself to this new condition, or else you're lost. You can't fight it, you can't ignore it, you can't run away from it. You've got to accept it. I do accept it as graciously as I can, but I feel sad about it.

I feel sad because it has given me the big things of life, and taken away the precious little things. It has given me money, yet I dread to hear the telephone ring.

It has brought me a measure of renown, yet made me afraid to go into a restaurant because people whisper and stare, and I feel self-conscious.

It has put my book at the top of the best-seller list, but robbed me of the time to read other people's books.

It has put me on easy terms with the great, but forbidden me the privilege of sitting alone with my old true friends.

It has made my homely face familiar throughout America, but taken away that saving gift of serenity of mind and soul. My life now, day and night, is a frenzy. There is no mental leisure in it; never the freedom to sit down and let your mind go blank.

I like people. I always have and I still do. And so it hurts me to have to shut off phone calls in a hotel. It hurts to turn letters over to a secretary. It hurts to have to hide and cower like a criminal to get just an hour or two to myself.

But that's the way it is. I don't resent it, and I don't blame anybody. I'm grateful for the respect of such a great portion of America. I'm trying to take the bad things with the good, and get along the best I can.

Sometimes I feel like sitting down and crying because my old life is gone. But most of the time I see what is behind it, and realize that a man is blessed who is publicly obsessed by the goodness of people, instead of the bad.

Out in California we've teamed along with my boss and best friend from Washington, Lae Miller, of the Scripps-Howard newspapers.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

During at least the first three years following the end of the war, experts believe that 70 million tires will be used annually in the U. S. alone. The peak year, 1941, saw a production of 62 million tires in this country.

Greater use of mechanical farm implements in post-war years is expected to make agriculture one of the largest consumers of rubber.

Despite the Far East war, the Foreign Economic Administration expects that 73,000 tons of natural rubber will be shipped to the U. S. from Ceylon and India during 1944.
