Baseball

The Hedley American Legion Baseball team will play the Lubbock Legion team here Saturday afternoon. The game will be called at 2:00 P. M. An effort is being made to get the stores to close and a good crowd is expected. The Hedley boys are working out every afternoon this week and should be able to give Lubbock a hard game. Johnny Everett and Sammy Owens are slated to do the pitching with Gibson catching.

The boys wish to thank the merchants and others for their new suits. They wore them Sunday and out lasted the mens team, winning by the score of 20 to 17.

The boys have won over some good teams including the Amarillo DeMolays, so let's all come out and give them all the support we can. Maybe they will take Lubbock, too.

I saw Essen, Aachen, Hanover, Brunswick, Frankfurt and a score of other places equally as bad. Those places are all in Germany. John Vestal Mosley was born at Cooper, Texas April 3, 1875 and came to Donley County with his parents at the age of 2 years and most of his life was spent in and around Hedley. He received his education here. He was married in 1922 to Ruth Talley of Clarendon. He was converted at an early age and joined the Baptist Church and until his death he was an honored and respected member of that faith. He was also an active member of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce. A Friend

The following article appeared in last week's issue of The County Hesperian:

Vestal John Mosley, 40, of Pampa was found dead on the Cedar road 12 miles northeast of Floydada this morning at 1:30 by John D. Van Hoose and Carl F. Simmons of Cedar community.

The body was lying by the side of his car, his effects and papers in order, and Justice O. B. Olson, of Floydada, will return a verdict of death from heart failure, it was indicated this morning. Justice Olson was accompanied to the scene by Sheriff Lee Howard and Dr. Geo. V. Smith who questioned the young men, saw the body and viewed the ground.

Apparently, Mosley was alone. A half inch rain had muddied the dirt road and his car had slid into the bar pit. He had driven down the bar pit and had almost extricated the car from the ditch when the body was lying by the side of the car with the door open, indicating Mosley had stepped out to view his situation when the truck struck him.

Mosley was combining wheat under contract for R. Fred Mr. Brown told officials Mosley had told him he might die at any time. Death occurred near the G. C. Hillburn place, about one and a fourth mile east of Highway 207.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS
Menace Early Jap Conquests; Ask Overhauling of Vet Bureau; Smoothen Big Three Relations

Released by Western Newspaper Union. (EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

For the first time since Nazis came to power, the Roman Catholic feast day of Corpus Christi was observed in Munich, with procession wending way through bomb-battered city. Outspoken foe of Hitler's regime, Michael Cardinal Faulhaber officiated at ceremony.

PACIFIC: New Campaign

Under heavy attack in the northern portion of their empire, the Japs face equally heavy pressure in the south, with Allied forces under command of Gen. Douglas MacArthur moving into northern Borneo in a drive to conquer the island that easily could be the prelude to a campaign against the Indies and Malaya.

Rich in oil and rubber and possessing good ports and airfields for a thrust to the west, Borneo was overrun by the Japs early in 1942 while the Allied cause in the Pacific still remained paralyzed after Pearl Harbor. With Jap shipping coming under increasing U. S. air and sea pressure, Borneo's value to the enemy has been sharply reduced, and Allied invasion forces met only meager opposition as they moved inland in the mountainous country.

Though only lightly defending the comparatively uncommunicative coastal regions, the Japs did fire the extensive oil installations located there in an effort to prevent their use by the Allies for future operations. Flames from the storage tanks and wells could be seen for 40 miles.

VETS CARE: Legion, V.F.W. Critical

Stung by the American Legion and V.F.W.'s ringing denunciation of the veterans administration bureau, congress moved to look into the whole question and give ear to the comprehensive program outlined by both service organizations for efficient functioning of the department.

With a spokesman declaring that the bureau may eventually have to handle the cases of 18,000,000 G.I.s, the American Legion suggested the creation of a deputy administrator under Gen. Omar Bradley and a realignment of authority under six assistants to handle medical care, insurance, finance, loan guarantees, readjustment allowances, vocational training, rehabilitation and education, adjustment of compensation, pension and retirement claims, construction, supplies and contracts.

Though criticizing the overall operations of the bureau, the American Legion and V.F.W. particularly rapped vet hospital care, charging that 47 per cent of the institutions now give inadequate treatment and citing instances of abuse in some centers. To relieve conditions, the organizations proposed increasing bed capacity; boosting wages; allowing authorities more leeway in securing help and supplies; more intelligent segregation of patients to speed recovery, and replacing army with civilian personnel.

BIG THREE: Smoothed Relations

Troubled relations over Poland have been seemingly smoothed, the Big Three looked forward to their forthcoming meeting for planning the peace conference to reestablish the broken continent of Europe.

News of the approaching Big Three confab followed announcement that officials of the U. S., Britain and Russia would meet in Moscow with the Red-sponsored Warsaw government and democratic leaders from within and outside of Poland to discuss the composition of a more representative regime for the country.

Following perfection of wirebound egg cases, "sunny side up" will soon be the new breakfast order of G.I. Joe overseas. Real eggs in the shell will take the place of powdered and canned eggs on the menu. To ship eggs in the past in the shell took up too much shipping space and also gave trouble because of their fragility and need of some sort of refrigerating or cooling process en route.

BEA WAIN'S new program is one of the high lights of radio's summer season. She's been doing guest shots, marking time, refusing to tie herself to any definite commitment—like many another army wife, she wanted to be free to join her husband any time, any place. Efforts to lure her to radio programs emanating from Hollywood failed. Now Maj. Andre Baruch's affairs are set, and Bea's on the air with "Starlight Serenade," on Mutual Thursdays. Though she's young, she's a veteran entertainer; she became a professional at the age of six. And because she always knew just how she wanted to sing, she studied everything but singing; her method is all her own.

George Raft's first RKO picture is "Johnny Angel," a romantic mystery. It revolves around the efforts of Raft to track down the unknown mutineers who killed his father and highjacked eight million dollars in gold bullion from his father's ship.

Though they didn't know who he was, a lot of people still remember the tenor who sang "The Rose of Tralee" in "The Informer," while Victor McLaglen emerged from a building with his sinister reward. The tenor is Larry Burke, and he sings the title song in "Those Endearing Young Charms."

Twentieth Century-Fox won out over other studios and snared Burl Ives for a picture. He's the balladeer whose singing in "Sing Out, Sweet Land" was one of the hits of New York's theatrical season this year. His first film will be a technicolor version of "Smokey." While in Hollywood he'll continue with his Sunday night "Radio Reader's Digest" shows, with the rest of the program coming from New York.

Richard Tucker is likely to become one of radio's headliners, so if you want to be in on his debut listen when he replaces John Charles Thomas on Sunday afternoons over NBC late in July. Tucker is one of the Metropolitan Opera company's tenors.

The American's Breakfast Club, radio's oldest and most continuous program, heard six days a week, 60 minutes each day, recently celebrated the completion of its 12th successive and successful year. The program first hit the air on June 23, 1935, under the guidance of one Don McNeill, who has served as master of ceremonies of the show ever since that date.

Singer Danny O'Neil is headed for nationwide recognition soon, if history's any indication. He has replaced "Music That Satisfies" on CBS and that spot has been the springboard to fame for such stars as Kate Smith, Bing Crosby, Martin Downey and Frank Sinatra.

Jennifer Jones didn't have to learn the rolling-hip walk she uses in "Duel in the Sun"; it was already there. She's remembered by a friend who was with her at Northwestern university as "the girl most whistled at" when she was an undergraduate there. "It was that walk," he said. Incidentally, Joan Tetzel has joined the "Duel in the Sun" cast, leaving a hit Broadway show to do so.

Joan Leslie'd like to convince Warner Bros. that they ought to make a picture based on the life of Rossini Galli, the former first ballerina of the Metropolitan Opera company, and give her the title role. She's been working hard at ballet dancing for the last three years. Buddy Easton, the studio's ballet coach, says she could step right out of "Janie Gets Married" and star as a dancer.

ODDS AND ENDS—Jimmy Durante turns dances for the first time in his 35 years as an entertainer, in Metro's "Two Sisters From Boston." . . . Felix Knights and Francis White will costar as replacements for Nelson Eddy this summer. . . . Jerry Wayne will have Joe Baker and Gladys Swarthout on his new show over CBS, on July 6th. . . . Guy Lombardo postponed his concert tour, as he and the Royal Canadians are booked to start soon on a film based on his life. . . . Georgia Gibbs was so moving in that bond-buying talk on "Hall of Fame" that three people wrote her that they'd bought bonds and named her as coowner.

Dumas Found Innkeeper To Be an Appeaser

Alexander Dumas, while traveling through England, stopped one night at a country inn for supper. Unfamiliar with the language, he tried to explain to the innkeeper in hesitant English that he wanted some mushrooms served with his meat.

Despite the dramatist's attempt, the latter did not understand.

Finally in desperation, Dumas drew a picture of a mushroom on a slip of paper. With that the innkeeper smiled, nodded his head understandingly, and withdrew.

Several minutes later, he returned and offered Dumas a good-sized umbrella.

Relic of Ancient Battle of Wits Instead of Weapons

One competition held during the annual literary congress in Wales is believed to be the last relic of those ancient contests in which heroes fought with their wits instead of weapons, says Collier's. A poet attempts to sing a pennill, or improvised verse, to a tune played by a harpist, who introduces unique variations to confuse the singer and also frequently ends the music unexpectedly to catch him in the middle of a sentence.

HOME-MADE FRUIT PICKLES

Even when plentiful in the shops (try to find them now!), pickled fruits are costly and lack the flavor of a good homemade product. The commercial packers do a top notch job but it is a mass production proposition and must, for practical purposes, lack the touch of individuality found in good homemade pickles.

First-quality pear or peach pickles are plump and tender and the color of amber. The sirup, honeylike in thickness, is flavored to please one's own taste.

Here's a secret. Follow the recipe to the letter until you come to the spices, then go on your own. You dislike clove? Leave it out. You like ginger? Put it in. And if you can get them, use oil or essences of spices rather than the whole ones called for in recipes. The oils won't discolor the fruit, but go slow, a drop at a time. Those oils are expensive and as strong as "all-get-out!"

seckels but any good, firm, ripe ones will do. This is how:

- 1 gallon pears
- 6 cups sugar
- 2 cups water
- 4 cups vinegar
- 2 pieces ginger root
- 2 sticks cinnamon
- 2 tablespoons whole allspice
- 1 tablespoon cloves

Select firm pears. Pare and leave small ones whole; halve or quarter and core large ones. Boil 20 minutes in clear water. Boil sirup, water, vinegar, and spices (tied in bag) 10 minutes. Add pears. Let stand overnight. Cook until tender. Pack pears into hot jars. Cook sirup until thick. Pour over pears. Process 5 minutes in hot-water bath.

MOOS OF THE MOMENT

BY UNCLE BOB

of the Kraft Dairy Farm Service

Sing a song of dairymen
With pastures full of rye.
Lois and lots of green feed
Seeded in July.
When the rye is pastured,
The milk begins—and how!
Now isn't that a paying fare
To set before a cow?

(*Poetic license. Seed it in August in most states—but August don't rhyme.)

An increasing number of dairymen each year include rye in their grazing program, for several very good reasons. Every spring, I get an urge to get out and get into the open. Cows get a hankering for green forage.

Rye is the answer, since it gives about the first possible good forage in early spring. Rye should be seeded in late summer, so I bring it up now to remind you to include rye as you make your late planting plans.

Rye works in perfectly in a rotation grazing program. It gives forage in the fall, when your native pasture rests. After the spring grazing, the plot can be seeded to Sudan grass, for mid-summer grazing. In Indiana, they figure this system is worth $100 per acre—which tempts me to add "and that ain't hay."

Check with your county agent on the best rye variety for your county. Balbo is the most popular kind in many sections, but some other may be preferred in your area. There are some fine new varieties available which are proving much better than the older strains.

You've seen folks in the city who speed up when the yellow light flashes on a traffic signal, with the mistaken idea that the yellow is a sign to beat the red. I'm afraid somewhat the same idea has got around in a few places regarding the "correct milking" process.

I've heard of a few farmers who have speeded up the number of pulsations of their milking machines, thinking they were supposed to do this, to get done quicker. Maybe it is because the program was called "faster milking" at one time.

The folks who worked out this better way of milking did not intend to speed up the actual rate of operation. Massaging and washing udders with warm water starts the milk flowing. This means you'll get the same amount of milk in less time but at the same milker speed.

If you speed up the milker you may injure a teat. Such injury can lead to mastitis and create a lot of trouble.

Your county agent probably has a leaflet giving complete instructions on the steps to follow in the "correct milking" process.

"Mowing" your hair may not produce better brainwork, but clipping your pastures will surely bring more dollars in milk.

The Mississippi Experiment Station has just reported on a test which showed conclusively that a pasture which is mowed will produce more food per acre than pastures in which weeds are permitted to grow without check. Weeds do their best to get the food out of the ground before grass can get it.

Mississippi mowed only part of a pasture and then checked the amount of forage grazed. The cattle took 88% of the forage from the mowed area, but only 58% from the unmowed part.

The test showed cows got 1,000 lbs. more forage per acre from the clipped area than from the unclipped. Naturally enough, the greater amount of food produced more milk.

The time to mow your pasture is about the same as the time to get a haircut—when it is needed. When weeds begin to get some height, and particularly before they start to go to seed, then is the time to get the mower into the pasture. You'll get dividends in more milk.

Long, Hard War Planned Against Japan by Allies

Aid of Russia Still an Open Question as to Effect on China

By Walter A. Shead
WNU Staff Correspondent.

Editor's Note: This is the last of three articles dealing with the all-out war to be waged against Japan, and problems that must be met before peace can be established.

How the United States can maintain control over military bases in the Pacific and elsewhere without setting off an international land-grab in the peace settlement, is the subject of much discussion.

These military bases include the Marshall Islands, the Marianas, the Carolines, the Bonin and Volcano groups, all of which were mandated to Japan after World War I. It also likely would include the Gilbert Islands, perhaps bases in the Solomons and elsewhere in the South Pacific, Palau Islands, and also perhaps at Dakar on the west African coast and in Greenland.

Under the principles established in the Atlantic charter we are not land-grabbing for territory but we have taken the position that strategic areas should be regarded separately from colonial areas. With this in mind, the late President Roosevelt apparently made commitments that this country would not ask title to islands claimed by us for military reasons, but would hold them under a trusteeship rather than on the basis of outright ownership. As matters now stand terms of U. S. control of these mandated areas taken from Japan at such high cost will impose no restrictions nor time limits for their use for military purposes. More than likely we will come to some terms with Japan for similar use of Okinawa.

Problem of Mandate Islands in Pacific
It has cost us something like 200,000 casualties and upwards of a hundred billion dollars to wrest these mandated areas from Japan, and as Secretary of the Navy Forrestal said:

"It is unthinkable that those islands should not be a part of the pattern of American security in the Pacific." Resources of the islands are negligible. Total population runs about 120,000 . . . but as air and sea bases they are important in guarding the Philippines and our route across the Pacific.

There appear to be troubled times ahead for amicable cooperation between the United States, Britain and Russia in the Far East. In the first place our leaders are not definitely in agreement whether we want or need Russia's help in the Japanese war . . . they are not agreed whether complications which would arise as a result of Russian help may not become more difficult to handle than going it alone with the aid of the British navy. Evidences of mistrust on the part of Russia, and her failure to carry out commitments made at the Yalta conference is disturbing to American officials, for a settlement in the Far East is directly related to the degree of cooperation between the present allies.

Ambassador Patrick Hurley recently made a trip to Moscow in an attempt to obtain from Stalin his intentions on the muddled Chinese situation as between Chiang Kai-shek and the Yenan communists. We are now fully committed to the support of Chiang Kai-shek and opposed to aiding the Chinese communists unless they are willing to take their place in the Chiang government. Stalin recently has been highly critical of Chiang and high officials here profess to fear that if Russia participates in the Chinese war, she may make territorial and other demands in Manchuria, Inner Mongolia and even in Korea.

The fear is openly expressed that

Chiang's Hold a Precarious One
China's millions are an incohesive mass of hard-fighting patriotic people. They have suffered years of starvation diet and hardships, however, and the hold of Chiang over these millions is a precarious one. The Chinese Republic has been in existence since 1911, but after 34 years she has not even adopted a constitution. For centuries before that time the Chinese people lived

Farm Topics

Need for Legume and Grass Seed Increases

Good Profit Seen For Seed Growers

Harvesting legume and grass seed will bring a three-fold return to farmers: additional income, assurance of feed for livestock and protection for their soil, says the U.S.D.A.

An increase of 67 per cent over last year's harvested acreage of alfalfa clover seed is sought in 1945, a total of 179,000 acres. One reason for the larger acreage is the urgent call for this seed from liberated areas of Europe, in addition to increasing home requirements for hay and soil protection.

Half again as much alfalfa seed is needed as was harvested in 1944, about 100,000,000 pounds. About 120,000,000 pounds of red clover seed are needed, some 15 per cent more than was produced last year.

Hay and pasture account for more than three-quarters of the feed consumed by dairy cows and furnish a major share of the feed for other livestock.

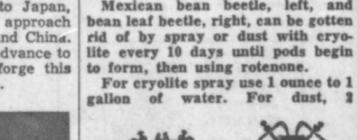

In addition, farmers depend on legumes and grasses to check soil erosion and maintain fertility. For example, legumes used as green manure add nitrogen to the soil and when grown in mixtures, they furnish this essential element to the grasses in the mixture. When used in crop rotations, legumes maintain and increase the acre yield of other crops. Both grasses and legumes are valuable as permanent cover for the land, holding the soil against erosion by wind and water. Good prices and a ready market are indicated for legume and grass seed in 1945-46, pointing to additional income for farmers from properly managed fields. The first crop of many of these plants may be cut for hay or used as pasture, and the second harvested for seed.

Killing Bean Beetles
Mexican bean beetle, left, and bean leaf beetle, right, can be gotten rid of by spray or dust with cryolite every 10 days until pods begin to form, then using rotenone. For cryolite spray use 1 ounce to 1 gallon of water. For dust, 2 pounds to 1 pound of talc. For rotenone spray, use Derris or cube root powder, 5 per cent rotenone content, 1/2 ounce to 1 gallon water. For dust, use ready prepared dust mixture containing at least 1 per cent of rotenone.

Save the Tractor and Conserve Time and Life
Time, money, injuries and deaths resulting from tractor accidents may be largely prevented by proper operation. Avoid holes or ditches that may cause tractors to overturn. Drive slowly, reduce speed on turn or when applying brakes. Never ride on draw bar. Don't permit riders. Make all adjustments while tractor is idle. Stop power take-off before dismounting. Be sure that all power line shielding is in place.

Do not operate tractor in a closed building. Refuel only when motor is cool and dead. Be sure the gear shift lever is in neutral before cranking the engine.

Effect of Pregnancy
The severe price discriminations practiced by market buyers against pregnant yearling heifers are not justified when such heifers are marketed by the end of the fifth month of gestation, according to the Illinois agricultural experiment station. Slaughtered tests and carcasses show that pregnant heifers take on a higher degree of finish and that at this stage of pregnancy neither the dressing percentage nor the market grade is lowered.

SNAPPY FACTS about RUBBER

Synthetic rubber, as used in rubber gloves made by B. F. Goodrich, is superior to natural rubber. The new "service gloves" are impervious to strong soap, oils and cleaning fluids that deteriorate natural rubber.

Two synthetic rubber plants operated by The B. F. Goodrich Company have produced 300,000,000 pounds of synthetic rubber. This is equivalent to the normal yield of 28,000,000 Far Eastern Rubber trees, requiring the services of 79,000 natives for the same period of time the plants have been in operation. The two plants employ about 1,200 men and women.

Bonds Over America

DODGE CITY

Named for Col. Henry I. Dodge, Dodge City, Kansas, became one of the country's most picturesque cattle centers, the cowboy capital of the southwest. There the Santa Fe and Arkansas River Trails met. Travelers came with stories of Indian attacks on wagon trains. Cowboys drove in herds of thousands of cattle for shipment east on the railroad. Others rested and watered herds of young steers there before going north. The songs of soldiers and hunters mingled with the shouts of cowboys. Fearless, spirited men whose grandsons are now turning back the enemies far overseas founded that city.
