WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS Cut Civilian Meat Supplies; MacArthur Affirms Purge Policy; House Conservatives Curb OPA

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Presently held by Italy but sought by Yugoslavia, strategic Adriatic port of Trieste has been troublesome bone of contention in the peace-making. During visit of United Nations commission to area, Yugoslavs staged rally demanding port and civil guards are shown dispersing straggling demonstrators with fire hose.

MEAT: Cut Supply

Followng close upon the restoration of slaughtering quotas to provide for a more equitable distribution of meat, the department of agriculture announced that civilian supplies would be lower in April, May and June than in the previous months though well above the same period last year.

In renewing slaughtering quotas, the department sought to check the heavy diversion of livestock from major packing centers by smaller operators. The big packers' inability to match smaller buyers' bids and remain within OPA ceiling prices pointed up charges that much of the meat being processed was diverted to black markets.

With 15 per cent of the April, May and June meat supply allocated to the army and foreign relief, civilian stocks will be at a rate of 132 pounds per person as against 147 for the first three months of the year. Despite the reduction, the supply still will be 16 pounds over that for the same period in 1945.

WHEAT EXPORT: Argentine Aid

THE HEDLEY INFORMER

In seeking to make the maximum amount of wheat available for export to help feed a hungry world, the Argentine government an-nounced a substantial subsidy to growers and also limited the volume of purchases by millers to the last year's level.

Payment of a subsidy of over 30 cents a bushel in American terms had a double aim: first, of drawing wheat off of farms where it has been hoarded in anticipation of higher prices, and second, of stimulating an increase in acreage for the next crop.

Restriction of millers' use of wheat to the last year's levels fol-lowed failure of the government's program for voluntary reduction of individual consumption from 2.2 pounds to 2 pounds. Extravagant in their use of wheat, Argentines or-dinarily demand fresh bread for every meal, discarding unfinished loaves.

Good Neighbors Make Up

Argentina's substantial shipments of wheat overseas during April drew hearty praise of Secretary of Agri-culture Anderson as the U. S. prepared to resume friendly relations with the South American nation fol-lowing official charges that the Peron regime was harboring nazis.

Commending the Argentine gov-ernment for its full co-operation with the allies' combined food board, Anderson revealed that Argentina had exported 190,000 tons of wheat during the first half of April and had taken steps to ship an additional 200,000 tons during the remainder of the month.

As the U.S. expressed a willingness to enter into a hemispheric defense pact including Argentina provided the latter carried out commitments to obliterate axis influences, president-elect Peron acknowledged the American demands and pledged his support of the democratic cause.

New U. S. Striking Force A powerful, new American air force is taking shape in Europe, built around the super B-29s and P-80 jet planes. Organized from virtually scratch after the dissolution of the wartime units after V-E Day, the new force has steadily been built up to a per-sonnel of 50,000 highly trained men, with an ultimate goal of 70,000. The B-29s constitute the backbone of the bombing force and will operate from French and German fields while the P-80 jets are the core of a speedy fighter command based at Bremen.

Gen. previous measures, MacArthur MacArthur disputed the four-power Allied council's authority to review his past administrative actions in the defeated country. He also met insinuations that he might have dealt lightly with Japanese figures in some instances by asserting that the council possessed sufficient data to study his measures and did not require copies of all directives issued.

Answering Russia's request for a new election if the recent balloting resulted in the selection of undesir-able representatives, MacArthur said he could not take any action which might reflect upon any party or favor another. Undesirable elements would be removed from parliament through continuing investigations, he indicated.

CONGRESS: Curb OPA

Demanding equal profits for all threat of inflation with more goods, the southern Democrats and conservative Republicans again banded in the house to curb OPA control and extend the agency's life for nine months instead of one year.

Even before house action, the bill was appreciably modified by the banking committee. Attacking OPA to the country. practice of compelling retailers to absorb part of higher manufacturing costs, the committee decided to allow them a full markup, and it also abolished the OPA regulation requiring clothing makers to balance output of cheaper and more expensive lines

Industry Briefs . . .

While a host of new building prodacts will appear in the postwar period as the government's housing program gains momentum, most of them will represent improved forms of old materials rather than revolutionary innovations, the trade predicts. Established building material makers are keeping their feet on the ground in pushing output of basic materials and in concentrating their efforts on the development of critical items in short supply.

POLITICS: CIO Drive

Congressional "reactionaries" were marked for defeat by the CIO political action committee in the 1946 elections as the powerful union organization drew up its battle plans and prepared to spend six million dollars on the national campaign. While the PAC's high command headed by Sidney Hillman and tional activities, local CIO organizations will select their candidates. union members and sympathizers, local groups will distribute pamphlets and other literature outlining the CIOs liberal legislative program and indicating how congressional incumbents voted on it. Hitting "poll tax Democrats and reactionary Republicans," the PAC struck at opponents of extension of wage; housing subsidies; federal health insurance; the fair employment practices act, and the abolition of the poll tax.

Emergency Flour Meets Tests for Breads and Cakes

Just what does 80 per cent extraction flour mean? How will it affect our own home baking? How can it be used? These are some of the questions you're probably asking yourself as the packages of 10 emergency flour appear on store shelves.

Well, let's start with the first question. Eighty per cent extraction means that instead of the 72 per cent and 28 pounds of animal feed that the miller has been getting from every 100 pounds of wheat he will now get 80 pounds of wheat to be used as flour and 20 pounds as animal feed.

The new flour is slightly gray in color instead of the creamy white which we are accustomed to seeing. The color is due partially to the parts of the wheat kernel which naturally contains some color or pigment.

Emergency flour is considerably better than what we first had anticipated. To date, in tests which have been made in actual home baking, the flour has behaved satisfactorily. In biscuits and breads, the color of the finished product has a slight grayish cast, but in other baked products such as muffins, cookies and cakes, the use of eggs tends to push the gray into the background.

As for pie crust, you'll find that the INFLATION COSTS HAVE new flour gives pastry a much bet-MOUNTED STEADILY THE INTRICACIES of economics ter color than the flour we formerly used. In making yeast-leavened products, handle the batters and doughs lightly, especially after the first ris-ing. Another must is to let the product rise not so much, so start work ing on it just before it doubles itself. Texture in Cakes.

For the emergency, you'll have to forego your elaborate, velvety textured cakes. Simple cakes—the two egg type-are quite acceptable made with the new flour, but the texture is not as soft and fine as you are accustomed to. You see, the flour is just not as soft and fine as the bleached flours which we recommend for really fine cakes. In addition to the simple white or gold cakes, you may also use the flour for devil's food or chocolate cakes

The same storage that we give regular flour is doubly important in this case. A covered container is recommended, and it's best to keep this in a cool, dry place.

Food Value. Some people have said that the emergency flour is a fine thing be-cause it has more "good in it." Well, of course, the bran in the flour is

You will be seeing new recipes in this column from time to time giving you tips on how to use the emergency flour. However, if you want to convert your old recipes, a safe rule to follow is to take 2 tablespoons out of each 1 cup of flour that the recipe requires. In using the emergency flour with baking powder, soda or sour milk,

Conserve Fats and Oils: Better use can be made of drip-pings — those fats that cook out of roasts, bacon and sausage. While the fats are still liquid, strain them through cheesecloth and store them in a cool place. They are especially good for seasoning vegetables; they may be used for gravies and sauces and even some baking, in highly spiced cookies and cakes. Serve fewer fried foods to save on fat. If you do fry, use the shallow fat method or the oven.

Save the fats and oils which have been used for frying and reuse them whenever possible Otherwise, give the fats to your butcher.

Render the excess fat on meats and use it either at home or turn it into the fat salvage. Dried bread crumbs can be used for puddings such as apple or peach betty, for dipping meats and fish, or other foods that are baked or fried.

If you have dried cake, crumb it and use for a cake crumb crust for pie. Mix the crumbs with a little melted butter and sugar and press into a pie plate. Now that you've been asked to save wheat, do the following things to save on bread:

Serve creamed meat on top of mashed potatoes instead of toast or biscuits.

For lunch, serve open-faced sandwiches instead of the closed variety.

Top meat casseroles with crumbled potato chips; use mashed potatoes or corn meal mush for topping meat and vegtable casseroles.
