American Legion

At this week's meeting of the local American Legion Post, Jimmie Moore of Amarillo installed the new officers of the Post. Jimmie Moore is the 18th district commander. Other out of town guests were Henry Teubel of Tulia, fifth division commander, Otto Landis of Amarillo, commander of the Amarillo Post and Paul Miller of Tulia, who is service officer of Swisher, Castro and Brisco counties. Each made talks and commended the local post on the good start for the year's work.

Commander Blankenship called a meeting of the post for next Tuesday night September 17th at 8:30 p. m. Let's all try to be out at this meeting and keep the good work up.

Greer-Foster

In a very simple, impressive ceremony, Miss Nina Foster became the bride of Homer Greer at 6 o'clock Friday evening, Sept. 6 in Amarillo. The single ring service was read by Dr. R. C. Snodgrass, pastor of First Christian Church. The bride was attired in a cocoa brown suit with dark cream blouse and brown accessories. A shoulder bouquet of Talisman roses completed her ensemble.

The bride's only attendant, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Herbert M. Foster, wore black with ciel blue feather hat and gloves. Her corsage was of sweetheart roses.

Herbert M. Foster, brother of the bride, served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple were honored with an informal dinner party at the Foster home, 1616 Jackson St. The candlelight table which was covered with a Madeira linen cloth was centered with a single tiered wedding cake topped with wedding bells. Fall flowers completed the decoration.

Both bride and groom are members of pioneer families. The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Foster of Giles, was graduated with the class of 1940 from Hedley High School. She is now employed with West Texas Utilities in Childress. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Greer of Childress and was graduated from Childress High School. He served with the 8th Air Force in Europe.

After a short trip, the couple will be at home in Childress.

Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Coston moved here this week from Channing. He is the new Methodist pastor here, and will preach his first sermon Sunday.

Baptist Young People

We had a grand time on our picnic Thursday night, Sept. 5th at Memphis park. Twenty-five young people attended. We cooked hot dogs and drank coffee with doughnuts. We had a ripping time while at the park, then we had a theatre party.

Sunday night, Sept. 8th, we had a very good attendance at training union, but we missed some of you who were not there.

Two of our young people left this week for school where they will both study and prepare for special service to Christ and his work. We are sorry to lose these two young people from our union, but we are so glad Miss Vera Bain and Le Roy McKee have dedicated their lives and works to God. We will be praying for them.

One of the boys killed it with an ax.

No farmer will question the link between this familiar September scene of filling up the bins and his United States Savings Bonds. Farmers must reckon with the future every moment of their lives. The crushed green corn stalks which they are storing away this month by tons will assure their livestock of winter feed. The Savings Bonds which they are also storing up will add to the security of their families.

The P.T.A. is also sponsoring a health program. As some of you already know, it is a state law that any child entering school must have the diphtheria and smallpox serums. Heretofore this has not been enforced, but has now been passed on by our school board.

This program will be carried out soon. A blank will be sent to you asking you to sign for your child. Dr. Cox is giving his service free. The P.T.A. will bear the other expense. So please cooperate with us in order that we may build up the standard of our school and community.

The Wise Old Owl

Well, greetings all you slick-chicks and sad sacks! Say, it's been quite a spell since this old owl has seen all you'uns. So what say we take a little test on your favorite subject, campusology just to see if you're still on the beam after a whole summer's vacation.

For instance, question no. 1 is: Will some of those big brawny boys take pity on those poor lil' old Senior glamour gals and help them put up the Senior flag? Huh? How 'bout that? For one answer tune in next week, folks! We don't know. (Better still, take a gander at the flag pole.)

All right! Now let's look at question no. 2: What certain ex-senior has darkened Bobbie Lee's days by going to Clarendon College? Well stupid, if you don't know the answer to that one, you don't need to know!

And now coming right up to question 3: Where did Velvia lose Gib's bracelet, or did she? And now to inform you as to the latest doings 'round dear old H. H. S. Flash! Flash!

Several persons would like to know Martha Nell's plans. Is she is—or is she ain't gonna get hitched, that is?

Lola Faye got one disappointment of her life when she didn't get to go to Quail to one ball game. Poor girl! Your sympathy will be appreciated.

Seems these Freshman girls are coming into the limelight. Ask Bobby Gibson.

Now for the sixty-four dollar question of the week: Is Darrell really going to wait until he turns sixteen to date the gals so he can get the family flivver? For the answer just hang around and gals beware!!

Till next week this is the Wise Old Owl signing off with three hoots and a ha! ha! ha!

Rip Van Winkle wakes up to a bargain!

What day is it? I mean, what year is it? My word, I've been asleep 15 years!

Yessir, I see lots of changes since 1931, but women's hats are as silly as ever! and the high cost of living is enough to send me back to sleep for another 15 years!

Gosh, look at all the new electric gadgets! When I dozed off back in the Thirties, we had electric lights and an iron and a vacuum cleaner at our house! Now we've got a refrigerator, a couple of radios (my last one was a crystal set), clocks, toaster, washer—why, everything you touch has a switch on it!

It's funny, too, with all those gadgets perking away, my electric bill isn't much more than it was 15 years ago, while everything else has gone up a lot!

(Yes, Rip Van Winkle, you're getting twice as much electricity for your money today as you did 15 years ago. It took increased usage plus plenty of skill and planning—under sound business management—to make electricity the bargain it is right now!)

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, frequent headaches, attacks of dizziness, watering eyes, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disease are sometimes burning, smarting or frequent urination.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Tighten Controls to Speed Up Vet Housing; Boost Ceilings To Encourage Meat Production

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.

Still holding sway in Spain, Generalissimo Francisco Franco leaves church in Motrico with wife under archway of oars formed by sailors who comprised guard of honor.

HOUSING: Aid to Vets

In ordering a 27 per cent reduction in commercial building and channeling greater amounts of material to new housing, the government sought to increase the construction of new dwellings and to reduce the time for their completion.

Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt and Civilian Production Administration John D. Small worked out the new controls after the building industry had warned of a serious bogging of the whole emergency housing program for vets.

Leaving a meeting with government officials prior to the announcement of the new program, Joseph Myerhoff, president of the National Association of Home Builders, declared that the industry had failed to get the flow of materials necessary for the completion of 200,000 to 300,000 homes under construction, and that the shortages have lengthened the construction time from 3 to 4 months to 9 to 12 months.

With Small agreeing to the transfer of all housing control to Wyatt, the government instituted sweeping directives to answer the widespread complaints.

Non-residential construction was cut back from over 48 million dollars weekly to 35 million dollars to divert more materials for home building.

Twenty-seven more materials, including stoves, linoleum and light fixtures, were added to the list of 25 already subject to vet priorities.

MEAT: Production Incentive

Taking advantage of the new OPA act empowering him to set livestock ceilings, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson called for substantial boosts in cattle and hog prices to encourage feeding this fall and to assure adequate supplies of beef next winter and spring.

Declaring that prospects pointed to plentiful supplies of feed grains this year, Anderson stated that it was necessary to bring stock prices in line with feed costs to spur farmers into fattening stock. Otherwise, he said, large numbers of lean animals would be butchered, creating a serious shortage later.

Anderson's recommendation for a boost in the cattle top to $20.25 per hundredweight, Chicago basis, and in the hog ceiling to $18.25 ran counter to OPA Administrator Paul Porter's desire to establish prices around the old level of $18 and $14.85. As a result of the boosts, retail ceilings were scheduled to rise from two to eight cents on beef and about three cents on pork.

FREIGHT CARS: Act to Avert Crisis

With the government fearing a shortage of 50,000 to 75,000 freight cars at the peak of industrial and agricultural loadings this fall, Reconversion Director Steelman enlisted the aid of five U. S. departments and agencies to avert a serious transportation bottleneck.

Under Steelman's comprehensive plan, department of agriculture and office of defense transportation will act together to move perishable crops and speed the shipment of tin cans, sugar and other essential supplies to west coast and middle west canneries.

War shipping administration and maritime commission will provide ships for the diversion of freight to water carriers wherever feasible, and office of price administration will grant shippers relief for higher costs.

Civilian production administration will step up the flow of materials needed to repair 80,000 old freight cars and build 40,000 new ones this year.

GREECE: Big Stakes

Greece forged to the front of the troubled European picture as the scene of the latest tug of diplomatic war between the western allies and Soviet Russia.

Working boldly to establish supremacy throughout eastern Europe and adjoining Asia Minor, Moscow recalled Amb. Konstantine K. Rodionov from Greece as a mark of displeasure against the holding of a plebiscite to return King George II to his throne.

Because Britain, supported by the U. S., favored both the restoration of the monarchy and the Populist party government now in the saddle, Russia's move really was pointed against Anglo-American policy. The presence of 40,000 British troops in Greece has acted as a lever against a Communist inspired seizure of power, and the visit of U. S. warships to Grecian waters before the plebiscite was seen as a gesture of friendship for the rightist regime.

The tussle between the Anglo-American and Russian blocs in Greece is for big stakes: A government friendly to the British would assure them of a toehold in the Balkans and an advance base for the Near East and Suez canal, while Russian domination of the country would result in complete Soviet hegemony in the Balkans and a protected flank in the event of trouble in Asia Minor.

BASEBALL: On Even Terms

Thanks to the scares Robert Murphy's baseball guild and Jorge Pasquel's Mexican league threw into the major league magnates, big-time ball players were granted a substantial voice in shaping working conditions on the diamond at meetings concluded in Chicago.

A player representative from each league will sit on a special seven-man advisory committee to regulate playing conditions throughout the season. Commissioner A. B. ("Happy") Chandler will head the new committee, which also includes presidents of the two leagues and two club owners.

In addition a uniform player contract came out of the Chicago meetings, subject to the players' approval. Following the lines recommended by the players earlier, the new contract was said to establish a minimum wage to be paid even if a man were shipped to the minors; a revision of the 10-day release clause and a lengthening of the barnstorming period from 10 to 30 days.

ALASKA: New Frontier

Alaska loomed as the new American frontier as authorities expected a large flow of settlers to be attracted to the new promised land by the availability of several million acres to homesteaders of the 1946 vintage.

Following the procedure used in settling the Old West, there is no payment for land in excess of 80 acres up to 160, only a fee ranging up to $16. Applicants must be 21, U. S. citizens and owners of no more than 160 acres of land in this country.

Residence on the land must be maintained for seven months of each year for three years and homesteaders must cultivate one-sixteenth of their claim the first year and one-eighth or more by the third year. At the same time, buildings must be built to meet federal requirements.

In addition to farm land, 80 acre tracts can be purchased for trade or manufacturing plants or leased for grazing, fur farming and mining operations.

SMALL TOWNS: Provide Recreation

Rejecting the theory that nearby fields and woods are sufficient for recreation, small cities and towns in increasing numbers are activating or expanding municipal recreation facilities for all age groups according to the American Public Works association.

Recreation by districts or groups of adjacent towns, is being organized in California under provisions of the state public resources code.

FEDERAL COURT: Upholds Talmadge

Georgia's system of deciding elections by the county unit vote, praised by proponents as designed to prevent political control by big city bosses, was upheld by a three-man federal court, sitting in the state capital.

Under the unit procedure, each county is entitled to from two to six votes, depending upon its population, with the winning candidate in the county receiving all its unit votes. Thus, while a candidate may not poll a popular majority because of being outvoted in a few large counties, he still may get the necessary 206 unit votes from smaller counties.

In passing on a suit brought by two Atlanta citizens protesting Eugene Talmadge's gubernatorial victory on the county unit vote, the court ruled that federal or state governments never have sought equal influence for each voter. Pointing to the U. S. senate, the court said each state has two votes, regardless of population, in the making of all laws and confirming of treaties and federal appointments.

ATOM BOMB: U. S. Continues Output

The U. S. served notice on the world that it would continue production of the atomic bomb in the event the United Nations failed to work out adequate controls for nuclear energy.

In the first of a series of scientific reports to the U. N.'s atomic energy commission covering development of the new explosive, Brig. Gen. K. D. Nichols and Lt. Col. John R. Ruhoff declared that failure to set up safeguards would only leave the alternative of manufacturing a sufficient number of high-powered bombs to deter potential aggressors.

While atomic warfare would result in serious losses, the experts said, a nation surviving the first shock would be able to come back. Although such cities as London, Paris and New York would be better able to withstand atomic bombing than Hiroshima if the population were well disciplined, the experts opined, it would be difficult to disperse a closely-knit industrial system.

The reports were submitted to the atomic commission by U. S. member, Bernard M. Baruch. Control plans remain snarled by Russia's insistence of maintaining the veto power over activities of a supervisory agency.

Major destruction from bombings and a reduction in wartime building left Britain with a housing problem as serious as the one plaguing the U. S. As in this country, vets have been especially affected, but they have taken advantage of popu-

ALASKA: New Frontier

Alaska loomed as the new American frontier as authorities expected a large flow of settlers to be attracted to the new promised land by the availability of several million acres to homesteaders of the 1946 vintage.

Following the procedure used in settling the Old West, there is no payment for land in excess of 80 acres up to 160, only a fee ranging up to $16. Applicants must be 21, U. S. citizens and owners of no more than 160 acres of land in this country.

Residence on the land must be maintained for seven months of each year for three years and homesteaders must cultivate one-sixteenth of their claim the first year and one-eighth or more by the third year. At the same time, buildings must be built to meet federal requirements.

In addition to farm land, 80 acre tracts can be purchased for trade or manufacturing plants or leased for grazing, fur farming and mining operations.

SMALL TOWNS: Provide Recreation

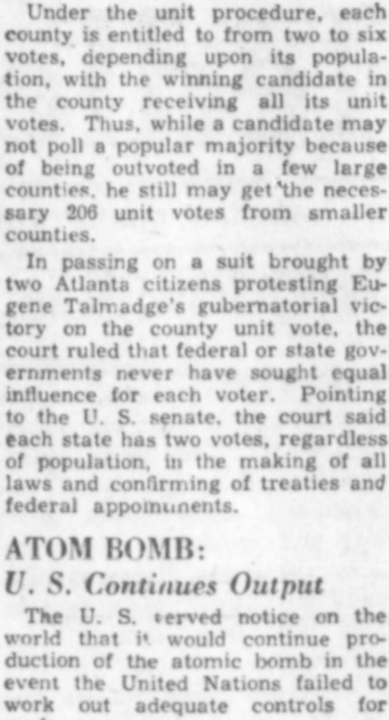

Rejecting the theory that nearby fields and woods are sufficient for recreation, small cities and towns in increasing numbers are activating or expanding municipal recreation facilities for all age groups according to the American Public Works association.

Recreation by districts or groups of adjacent towns, is being organized in California under provisions of the state public resources code.

When sewing on pockets baste top of pocket in place first, then sew around the sides and bottom to get the pocket straight.

Delicate fabrics, such as organza and fine voiles, can be restored to their original crispness with gelatin. To do this, dissolve a teaspoon of plain gelatin in a quart of boiling water. Strain the solution and use as you would boiled starch.

To pick wild greens, use a large moisture-proof vegetable bag such as those used in the refrigerator to keep the greens fresh.

Add a little salt when cooking dried fruits and it will help bring out the fruit's natural sweetness.

If your window screens need a little mending to be practical, place a piece of mosquito netting over the hole and coat with shellac. After that dries, give it another coat and perhaps a third.

CAN FRUITS FOR DELICIOUS DESSERTS

Whether your canned fruit desserts are just or unjust depends upon the quality and flavor of the fruit. Canning preserves quality and flavor but it cannot create it. That's Mother Nature's job but you may be surprised at the amount of help you can give her.

All fruits (except pears) should be left on the tree, vine, or bush until full-ripe and then canned as promptly as possible.

Most varieties of pears should be taken from the tree when they have finished growing and kept in a cool place until they are ripe enough to serve raw. At this stage they are tender and juicy but not mellow.

It pays to take time to sort fruit so that pieces of about the same size and color can be kept together. Then the pie or fruit-cup pieces won't be mixed with those intended for fancy looking desserts. Every piece of fruit should be washed carefully and drained well before the skin is broken. Skins should be removed from peaches, pears and apricots. Yes, the skin can be left on but it is impossible to have both skins and top quality. Stones may be left in peaches and ripe apricots, not that we understand why anybody would want them, but woe is more than likely to be the lot of the home canner who leaves stones in apricots which have been taken from the tree before fully ripe. Such apricots have a poor flavor at best and the green stones make it even poorer.

But we are going too fast! Let's remember that flavor is lost with every minute lost between the time the fruit is washed and the time it is put into the canner for processing. Therefore, all jars, caps, lids, and rubbers should be checked, washed, rinsed, covered with water and put over heat to sterilize; water should also be put to heat in whatever is used as a water bath canner, and all utensils and materials collected before work is started on preparing the fruit.

Corn Sirup for Sweetening
The sweetening story is still a little on the sour side. It can be no news to you that it may not be possible to buy all the granulated sugar you would like to have, but shortage of the cane and beet sugars need not halt your fruit canning program because corn sirup can take over where these granulated sugars leave off, and a lot of people think the fruit better when corn sirup helps out. Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director for Ball Brothers Company and editor of the famous Ball Blue Book of Home Canning and Preserving Recipes, gives a basic sirup recipe which may be adjusted to meet your requirements. The sirup is made by combining two cups sugar, one cup water or fruit juice, and boiling about two minutes or until the sugar dissolves. Either light or dark corn sirup may be used. The dark sirup is especially good with dark fruits. Its flavor blends nicely with light fruits too, but it tends to add color where color may not be wanted.

Miss Kimbrough recommends that, when possible, some sugar be used when putting up fruit because the flavor of sweetened fruit is more acceptable to most persons but she also makes it quite clear that fruit will keep without sugar. When no sugar is used, the fruit should be heated in a little water or in its own juice before it is put into the jars. Whether canned with or without sugar, fruit should be covered with liquid in the jar, otherwise it is likely to discolor.

Miss Kimbrough advises home canners to sweeten and flavor sirups to suit themselves. If you would like more flavor in your peaches or pears, you might try adding a half teaspoon vanilla or orange, or nutmeg, or rum, or a few drops of almond extract to each quart of fruit. In other words, you are free to make the things you put up at home taste like you want them to taste and that is something nobody else will or can do for you.

Up-to-date canners heat fruit enough to shrink it before it is placed in the jars for processing by boiling in a hot water bath canner. This is called hot packing. The fruit may be heated in its own juice or in sirup. One excellent way is to measure the prepared fruit, add the sugar to it, and heat gently until the juice runs free and the sugar is dissolved. Two cups sugar and one cup corn sirup will sweeten a gallon of prepared peaches enough to suit the average taste. If the peaches are juicy, no water need be added. Pears can usually get along with a little less sugar than peaches call for but they nearly always need some water to start them cooking.

Processing time varies according to the size, variety, and firmness of fruit but the average time for peaches, pears, and apricots, which have been thoroughly heated before packing, is fifteen minutes at boiling. Even if fruits keep, they will discolor if for any reason they have not been heated boiling hot all the way through.

If you will begin with good home canned fruits, you can end with wonderful desserts which are just no better at all to make. For example, Peaches and Cream Cake is a fitting finish for any meal. All you do is make or buy a plain angel food or sponge cake, frost it thick with sweetened whipped cream and surround it with halves of tree-ripened free-stone peaches right out of your own jars. This cake should be served at the table because it is far too handsome to be cut in the kitchen.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Add Finishing Touches to Canning Now! (See Recipes Below)

Late Canning

Well, the summer's about over, with late fruits peeping through the leaves in the orchard, and the last of the season's vegetables pushing up through the earth. I am assuming you have most of your canning done, but there are some things that cannot be canned until late. That time will soon arrive, so be prepared!

Sometimes it is the things canned last that are the sweetest and best turned out. That may be because we're in practice, but perhaps, too, it's because things like pears and grapes are in season, and the family likes end-of-the-garden pickles best of all.

Look over what you've canned during the summer before winding up with a final session of canning and try to balance the canning cupboard and fill in spaces with the foods you need. Our recipes today are of a variety to help you do just that.

Pear Butter.

Wash pears, but do not peel. Slice and add a small amount of water to start cooking. Cook until soft, then press through a colander. To each cup of pulp, add 1/2 cup sugar, and a few spices, if desired. Cook to a paste, stirring frequently to prevent burning. Pour into sterilized jars and seal at once.

You know fruit butters will spread a lot of slices of bread this winter and put a damper on that rifting of the cookie jar. Here's how it's done with apples:

Spiced Apple Butter.
4 gallons prepared apples
1 gallon sweet cider
4 pints sugar
1 teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Pare, core and slice apples. Boil cider until reduced by one-half. Add apples to cider while boiling and cook slowly until the fruit is soft. Press through a sieve and then return to fire and continue cooking, stirring frequently to prevent burning. When the fruit begins to thicken, add sugar and spices. Cook until smooth and thick. Pour into sterilized jars and seal while hot.

End-of-the-Garden Pickles.
1 cup sliced cucumbers
1 cup chopped sweet peppers
1 cup chopped cabbage
1 cup sliced onions
1 cup chopped green tomatoes
1 cup chopped carrots
1 cup green beans, cut into 1-inch pieces
2 tablespoons mustard seed
1 tablespoon celery seed
1 cup chopped celery
2 cups vinegar
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons turmeric

LYNN SAYS:

Making Good Jelly: To extract the juice from fruits and berries so that it is clear, use several thicknesses of cheesecloth or some flannel. A wire mesh strainer may be used to hold the cloth. The bag should never be squeezed or the jelly will be cloudy.

The best jellies are made in small batches so that cooking time can remain short. For fruits rich in pectin (jelling quality), use 1/4 to 1 cup of sugar for each cup of juice.

The pectin content of fruits is highest when they are just barely ripe. A combination of under-ripe and over-ripe fruit will make a satisfactory combination for flavor and pectin requirements.

Soak cucumbers, peppers, cabbage, onions and tomatoes in salt water (1/2 cup salt to 2 quarts water) overnight. Drain. Cook the carrots and string beans in boiling water until tender. Drain well. Mix soaked and cooked vegetables with remaining ingredients and boil for 10 minutes. Pack into sterile jars and seal.

Two preserved fruits that are both piquant and satisfying are Grape Gumbo and Peach and Apple Conserve. Here are preserves that will add that magic touch to the meat course during winter:

Grape Gumbo.
4 pounds seeded grapes
1 orange, thinly sliced
1/2 pound seeded raisins
4 cups sugar

Cook all of the ingredients until the mixture is of the consistency of marmalade. Pour into sterilized jars and seal at once.

Conserve needs stirring and watching so that it does not stick. Do not cook too long or these delicate fruits will lose their color.

Peach and Cantaloupe Conserve.
1 pint diced peaches
1 pint diced cantaloupe
2 lemons, juice and grated rind
3 cups sugar
1/2 cup walnuts, blanched and chopped

Combine ingredients with the exception of nuts. Cook until mixture is thick and clear. Add nuts and pour into sterile jars. Seal while hot.

Both plums and apples are late-in-the-season fruits, yet they make delicious jelly if you still have enough of your sugar ration left.

Crab Apple Jelly.
Select sound crab apples. Wash and remove blossoms. Cut into quarters without peeling. Barely cover with water and boil until fruit is tender. Strain the juice through a jelly bag. Measure and bring juice to a boil. Add 3/4 cup of sugar to each cup of juice and boil rapidly to jelly stage. Pour into sterilized jelly glasses and seal immediately.

Plum Jelly.
Wash plums and cover with cold water. Boil until plums are quite soft. Press juice through jelly bag, strain and measure. Bring juice to a boil and add one cup of sugar for each cup of juice. Boil rapidly to jelly stage, then pour into sterile glasses and seal at once.

Plum and Orange Jelly.
5 pounds plums, cut up
6 oranges
1 lemon
sugar

Wash plums, cover with cold water and bring to a boil. Add oranges and lemon and cook until plums are soft. Drain in jelly bag. Boil extracted juice 15 minutes and to every 4 cups of juice, add 3 cups sugar. Boil rapidly to jelly stage. Pour into sterile glasses and seal.

When you rout out all the jars and caps that seem likely prospects for your home canning, or jars and caps to share with neighbors, you can set aside at once some kinds that won't do. Into the discard group go jars and caps that have any crack, nick, dent, or any other defect that would keep a jar from sealing airtight. And set aside, too, odd shaped and very small jars. They can be used for preserves or other purposes where a paraffin seal is adequate.
