Living Memorial

The city and the rural schools, in co operation with the Texas Roadside Council, are sponsoring a Living Memorial to the men and women of the armed forces of World War II.

This is a people's program, and the plan gives every citizen an opportunity of participation that should be considered a privilege—that of planting one or more shrubs in their front yards as a gesture of respect and appreciation.

One shrub of the same variety in each yard will, over a distance, display the motif and produce an effective memorial.

From a poll taken recently in this county, the Fire Thorne or Orange Berries (Pyraecantha Lalandi) was selected as the planting motif to be used. Pupils of the local school are being given letters this week setting forth the above plan. All parents who will pledge to plant this shrub are asked to sign and return immediately.

Mister X

Well, it seems like old times again, but we're all still a shade mixed up, but I guess it will all come out in the wash.

Marg, when did you start robbing the cradle? It looked as if you took them all for a round.

Anita, this is something new for you to be going with boys, isn't it? Erma Jean, I wouldn't start that two timing. You may get left holding the bag.

Mary Sue, it seems as if you have been getting around quite a bit lately. What about it, Richard?

Wait a minute, what's this I hear about a game of "ditch'em" Sunday night? Red Rider and Little Beters may catch up with you next time.

Mary Alice, which do you like best, the boys or going alone?

Bobbie Lee, you seemed a little on the lonely side Monday night. Didn't Adell keep you company?

Bobby Everett, why are you always falling for the red heads?

La Rita, you seem to be afraid of a little competition.

Juarita, where did you and Lola Faye get your perfume Saturday night? How many bottles did you use?

Melvin, how about those two girls you sat between on the bus going to Groom. I'll admit you are kind of cute.

Kids, where did Mr. and Mrs. Joenson get those nicknames, Emmer and Olive.

Joe Neal, why were the Juniors so tickled in English class Tuesday.

We want you all to know that we miss Rip very much, and we sure would like to have him back. Won't you come back?

Bill To Curb Utility Strikes

Among the many bills dropped in the legislative hopper at Austin seeking to cure the evils inherent in strikes is one relating to strikes by utility employees introduced by the Honorable Claud Gilmer of Rock Springs.

Mr. Gilmer's bill applies only to water, gas, and electric utilities and proceeds on the theory that the maintenance of water, gas and electric services are absolutely essential to the life, health and safety of the people, and that it is the duty of the state to prevent any person or group of persons from wilfully destroying or damaging the facilities used in rendering the service.

His bill further provides that although any employee or group of employees have the right to strike or quit work at will, it shall be unlawful for any person or persons, whether employees or not, to interfere with the ingress or egress of any employees to or from any property of any utility by picketing, or to harass or intimidate any employees who are willing to work in order that the service may be maintained.

Under the terms of the Gilmer bill, it is a felony punishable by a penitentiary sentence for any person to wilfully wreck, destroy, or sabotage any plant, equipment or facility of a water, gas, or electric utility.

Mr. Gilmer's bill applies to utilities furnishing water, gas and electric service whether the utility be a private corporation, a municipality or a state agency, such as a River Authority.

This is to take care of such situations as happened to the L. C. R. A. this past year when service to a good many towns there was interrupted and also such situations as the Pittsburgh power strike.

Fear Red Penetration in China; Iron Out Wage Inequalities; Act on Box Car Need in West

Released by Western Newspaper Union

Russian military leaders grow up into army life under the Soviet training system. Picture shows new group of youngsters admitted to Surorov military school. Bemadalled youth at right was said to have fought in Berlin and Manchuria.

CHINA: U. S. Out

Diplomatic eyes turned anxiously to the Orient following the U. S. decision to abandon its peace-making in China and withdraw most of the 12,000 marines on duty there.

Concern was expressed lest U. S. withdrawal would invite Russian intervention in China on behalf of the Chinese Communists. While Secretary of State Marshall had diligently sought to bring the Nationalists and Reds together during his special peace mission, the U. S. had proceeded on the assumption that the Nationalists constituted the legal government. In supporting the Nationalists, the U. S. has advanced an estimated 1 1/2 to 3 billion dollars of lend-lease, and also provided technicians for training their military forces.

Since the U. S. pulled out of China without making any strategic arrangements, the Russians maintain a distinct advantage in view of their half-interest in the Manchurian railroad and their joint control of Port Arthur and Dairen. Russia's strategic position thus leaves Moscow in a key position if it wishes to supply Chinese Communists entrenched in the north or actually intervene on the pretext of stabilizing conditions in the Orient.

LABOR: Pay Equality

Announcement by the department of labor that a special commission had simplified job classifications and ironed out rate inequities in the Big Five packing plants pointed up the growing acceptance of the principle of equal pay for equal work in U. S. industry.

Consisting of representatives of the public, government, industry and labor, the commission cleaned up differences between Swift, Wilson, Cudahy, Armour and Morrell and the AFL, CIO and independent unions over rate inequities. The companies and unions had agreed on conditions for 90,000 jobs in collective bargaining procedure, and the commission acted on the remaining 10,000 jobs.

The number of labor grades carrying varying pay rates was cut from 250 to 25 under the negotiations and wage boosts averaging 1.8 cents an hour were awarded to approximately 75,000 workers to iron out inequities. In general, packing house employees doing the work in the same geographical area now draw equal pay.

Previously, the CIO-United Steel Workers and U. S. Steel corporation had ironed out wage inequalities for 175,000 employees. Retrospective to January 4, 1944, the cost of readjustment was estimated at 30 million dollars, with many workers receiving the equivalent of a 1 1/2 cent an hour wage increase.

FREIGHT: Want More Cars

For the fifth time in three years, Senator Reed (Rep., Kas.) acted to alleviate the shortage of box cars in the West caused by the retention of rolling stock in the East by seaboard railroads.

As elevators and millers clamored for cars to move grain stacked in the West, Reed threatened to draw up permanent legislation to relieve what has developed into a perennial problem in recent years. On previous occasions, the railroads shifted cars west upon Reed's demands.

The shortage of rolling stock resulting from inadequate additions during the war years has figured in the scramble for cars between East and West. Once cars roll in from the West with agricultural products, eastern railroads have sought to hold onto them as long as possible for shipment of industrial goods to seaboard points. Because the railroads also are loath to send the cars back empty, valuable time is lost by shunting them westward with short loads.

ARGENTINA: Peron Scores

Long the target of American liberals, President Juan Peron of Argentina shook some of the ground from under them by employing a firm dominated by former New Dealers to help plot the industrial and agricultural development of the country.

As directors of the Worldwide Development corporation of New York engaged by Peron, Economists Robert Nathan and Laughlin Currie are the two prominent New Dealers involved in the enterprise. Along with engineers, agronomists and geologists, they will help Peron lay out an ambitious program of rural electrification, housing and harbor improvements, road construction and hydro - electric plants.

In undertaking the development, Rear Adm. Howard A. Flanagan, USN retired, who is president and board chairman of Worldwide, was quoted as saying that the firm was interested in the deal because expansion of the Argentine economy would provide lucrative trade possibilities for the U. S. Like other Latin-American nations, Argentina has millions of dollars available for purchases of foreign goods.

The wily Peron also has taken other steps to woo the U. S. Taking cognizance of state department insistence that he rid Argentina of axis firms and agents, he promulgated a decree for expropriation of fascist enterprises.

CONGRESS: Retain Luxury Levies

Bent on trimming income taxes, the Republican congress moved to preserve other sources of revenue to carry the huge 1947-48 budget and reduce debt by extending wartime rates on luxury items.

As a result, taxes on liquor were scheduled to remain at $9 a proof gallon; 20 per cent on furs, luggage, jewelry and toilet preparations; 1 cent for each 5 cents charged on theater admissions; $8 a barrel on beer; 25 per cent on long distance telephone calls and 15 per cent on local service; 15 per cent on transportation, and 20 per cent on light bulbs and tubes.

Meanwhile, Republican ranks were split on the proposal of Chairman Knutson (Rep., Minn.) of the house ways and means committee to reduce income taxes 20 per cent on earnings up to $300,000. Increasing favor was shown for the suggestion of Representative Engel (Rep., Mich.) that exemptions be increased to cut the taxes of low income groups rather than offering broad relief which might chiefly benefit the upper brackets.

Declaring there are nearly 80 million people dependent on individual or family income of $2,500 or less a year, Engel said that Knutson's bill would result in a tax cut of only 72 cents a week for a man earning that much or less. On the other hand, a person drawing $300,000 a year would gain $942 a week. "If the Knutson bill is passed," Engel said, "it will force into the hands

Washington Digest Congress Putting Its Reorganization to Test

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON. — The 80th congress has been operating long enough under the new reorganization plan to note some of the latter's virtues and shortcomings.

Baukhage

The first hotly debated issue in the senate had a fortunate effect on the plan. I refer to the fight over retention of two of the standing committees — the committees on war investigation and small business.

Despite the fact that the 80th congress had expressed the intention to abide by the reorganization plan accepted by the 79th congress, and that one of the purposes of this plan was to eliminate the special committee, the senate Republicans fought hard to extend the life of these two "specials" — and they won.

But so much attention was directed toward the issue that Senator Taft hastened to make it clear later that creation of further special committees would be a very difficult job. Net result of the whole discussion was to strengthen rather than weaken the reorganization.

One of the most important steps toward increasing efficiency of congress was elimination of overlapping committees but, like attempting to abolish the seniority rule, it just couldn't be accomplished. As a matter of fact, when the bill finally was passed, the house rejected the senate-approved provision which did away entirely with special committees. It was admitted at the time the reorganization act was passed that it fell considerably short of the original recommendations by the various bodies which had made unofficial studies of the situation. Indeed, the act did not carry out all the recommendations of the report of the joint congressional committee created to examine various recommendations and then to make its own.

Experts to Advise Solons on Problems

Probably the most important change yet to be made is to provide additional help for members. That is, providing additional experts to advice committee chairmen and committeemen. I recently heard it remarked that: "Senator Taft usually knows what he is talking about when he takes the floor. You may not agree with his policies but when it comes to facts he seldom makes erroneous or misleading statements. This is largely because Taft has the best staff of advisers in congress — he hires and pays for them out of his own pocket."

It is impossible to expect that more than a few members of either house can devote enough time to any single subject to become expert on it. It is true that we have had some outstanding examples of men and women who have been able to specialize and still carry on their other duties. For example: Rogers on finance and Mrs. Rogers on veterans' affairs, to name two widely different fields.

It is natural that most congressmen get into politics by way of the legal profession, which is a good basic training, but today, when many of the most important issues are economic rather than political, no professional training is in itself broad enough.

The staffing, however, that has been done is invaluable. Now for the first time there will be experts instead of a new inexperienced set brought in with each chairman. More are needed.

Some phases of the reorganization plan probably will prove impractical. One of its objectives was to reduce the number of measures passed by unanimous consent. This was recommended because frequently important legislation was adopted in this manner with only a small number of senators on the floor. The roll is not called — merely "no objections." Various steps were taken to check this custom but there is a human element involved that has to be taken into consideration.

One thing which helps attendance considerably is the reduction of the number of committees upon which a senator serves. This gives him time to participate in debate.

It is not improbable that the filibuster will be curtailed, perhaps this session, if not entirely ruled out. But there never will be "a limit to debate" and "debate" easily can become largely a monologue when addressed to few hearers except a patient visitor or two in the gallery.

Additional Reforms Are Recommended

George B. Galloway, staff director of the Monroney - LaFollette congressional committee which drew up the reorganization legislation, recently proposed seven new fields of congressional reform:

1. Avoid legislation deadlocks and promote better teamwork between congress and the President.
2. Create unified, clearly located, responsible leadership in congress for the legislative program.
3. Reduce the non-legislative work load on congress so as to free congressmen from errand running and permit them to concentrate upon their legislative duties.
4. Choose committee chairmen other than on the basis of seniority.
5. Eliminate the filibuster in the senate.
6. Solve the problem of the powers and procedure of the house committee on rules.
7. Establish adequate safeguards against extension of the patronage system to the new professional committee staffs.

It will be a long time before all these suggestions are adopted. Meanwhile some of those already in the law will be modified slightly in use, just as an automobile or ship "shakes down" after a certain amount of mileage has been achieved.

One thing that simply won't work now and probably never will in the senate, at least, is the printing of the schedule of the next day's work in advance. There is too much freedom of action, too much deeply rooted senatorial courtesy to prevent a senator from obtaining "unanimous consent" to lay aside what was planned and introduce an entirely different matter.

But this is a small point. It is agreed that the advantages outweigh the minor disadvantages. The staffing alone even though not carried out to the full is a tremendous gain. Expert guidance of specialists who know their jobs and are not subject to political interference is invaluable.

Makes Farming Pay

Gideon E. Mettler, wearing a fatigue cap and fondling milk maize, cleaned up $46,000—$28,000 for himself and $18,000 for his father—on 240 acres of irrigated land near McFarland, Calif., in his first year out of the army. Mettler made his money raising potatoes, not corn, but corn proved more photogenic (as well as more useful to radio comedians). He attributes part of his farming success to the fact that the area in the Central valley project seems fairly free of spud-seeking insects.

Mrs. Brodie hits the roof!

No, no, this isn't a new Atom Bomb! It's merely Mrs. Brodie, after a quiet family conference with Mr. Brodie. Mr. B. made a few sharp remarks about their family budget.

Naturally, Mrs. Brodie hit the roof! And, like the cost of living, her temper kept right on going up and UP!

On the other hand, the cost of electricity, like Mr. Brodie's popularity at home, is going down and DOWN!

The Brodies (and you, too, if yours is an average family) get plenty of electricity for every budget dollar—more than twice as much as 20 years ago!

This domestic bargain took plenty of practical planning and technical skill on the part of your friends and neighbors in this company, under sound business management.

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

That Ring Around the Bathtub

Job Crowell blew his top the other day. Seems that for weeks he's been trying to get his youngsters to scrub out the bathtub after using it. And this night he sees two rings around it—one where young Sonny left off, and another about Pinky's level.

He raves and rants—and takes it out on the missus for her lack of discipline. And later that evening he sees her quietly polishing the hardwood table that's right by his chair. She's removing the rings he's left there with his evening glass of beer!

From now on, Job's careful to put his glass down on the table cover—like the missus does. And I hear he's a little more forgiving about rings around the bathtub. Just keeps on patiently reminding.

From where I sit, there are little annoyances in every family—conflicting habits and opinions in every community. A little patience—a little more "forgive and let live" is the only antidote.

No, Texas wouldn't be the same without the Alamo, the Texas Rangers, or the natural gas industry. The Alamo commemorates the brave and brilliant past... the Rangers symbolize the orderly life of the present... the gas industry reflects the natural wealth of the state—now and for the future.

Every cubic foot of natural gas produced in Texas contributes in one way or another to the welfare and well-being of every Texas citizen. It pays royalties to land-owners. It pays taxes to the support of city, county and state. It provides jobs and payrolls that ring cash registers in nearly every business in the state. It provides fuel for thousands of industries which, in turn, pay more taxes, employ more workers, and turn more money into their respective cities and towns. Indeed, it wouldn't be Texas... without the natural gas industry.

Fruit in the Diet

Perhaps yours is one of those families which don't seem to require much in the way of dessert. This does appear to solve your menu planning, but it really doesn't solve a dietary problem.

One of the rules set down by nutrition authorities is that two fruits must be included in the daily dietary. One of these fruits, preferably the citrus variety, may be worked in at breakfast, but that leaves one other fruit for one of the other meals.

If your family tends to gain weight easily, serve this fruit in its natural state — as a fresh apple, pear, cluster of grapes, etc. In this way you will not be adding any additional calories by serving the fruit with sugar, cream, syrup, or any other highly caloric foods.

Should the family readily reach and attain its normal weight, you can easily serve fruit baked with sweetening, in puddings or in cakes. Or, if you have members in your family who must have richer, satisfying foods because they work hard, serve desserts like this frequently because they will not only gain starches and sugars from it, but also take in their fruit requirement.

Baked apples are a simple dessert to serve at this time of year, especially when they're pepped up with lemon. If you want to add something more substantial to the dessert of this lovely fruit, use gingerbread which has been flavored with 2 teaspoons of grated orange rind added to the batter just after mixing.

*Lemon Baked Apples. (Serves 6).

- 6 medium sized apples
1/2 cup granulated, brown or maple sugar or honey
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
3 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter or substitute

Nuts and raisins (optional)

Wash and core apples. Place in a baking dish. Fill each cavity with a portion of the sugar or honey, grated lemon peel and butter. Add the nuts or raisins or a mixture of the two, if desired. Pour some of the lemon juice over each apple. Cover the bottom of the pan with boiling water. Cover dish and bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven 30 to 40 minutes or until apples are tender. If baked uncovered, baste frequently with syrup.

Apple Cranch. (Serves 4 to 6)

- 6 cups cored, pared, sliced apples
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons butter or substitute

- 1/2 cup corn or wheat flakes
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon orange rind, grated

Arrange apples in a greased baking dish. Sprinkle sugar over the

LYNN SAYS:

Put Your Vegetables Into Salads

Canned mixed vegetables, or cooked leftover vegetables look pretty spread on salad greens. Serve with a thousand island dressing.

Bits of cooked, leftover vegetables should never be tossed into the garbage. Combining several of these vegetables wisely and adding other ingredients to stretch them will often make your luncheon or dinner

Large spinach leaves may be combined with chunks of crisp greens and sliced tomatoes.

Diced cooked beets are delicious with minced onion, green pepper rings and chopped hard-cooked eggs.

Make beet salad by using leftover sliced beets with overlapping slices of raw cucumber and raw onion slices.

A conglomeration of leftover vegetables may be molded into an appetizer.

BUSINESS:

Big as Ever

Nineteen forty-six was banner year for American farm machinery manufacturers and all reported prospects for 1947 are even better.

International Harvester enjoyed total sales of $482,328,000 in its fiscal year ending October 31, 1946, and showed profits of $22,326,000. Sales of trucks, parts and service accounted for 35.9 per cent of volume while production of farm implements and parts made up 17.3 per cent of the total.

Deere & Co. sales jumped to $143,900,496 in 1946, with profits of $9,565,579. With a cessation in war work, production of farm implements increased about 23 per cent, it was said.

Oliver corporation sales amounted to $59,840,914 in 1946 with net earnings of $2,003,599. Unit sales of farm items reached an all-time peak despite material shortages and labor difficulties. In anticipation of continued good business, Oliver plans improvements in production and distribution facilities in excess of $7,000,000.

PALESTINE:

Trouble Brews

Having heretofore let the British handle the troublesome situation in Palestine occasioned by Jewish demands for a national haven in the Holy Land, the Arabs prepared to play a more active role in opposition to London's decision to create a Zionist state in the embattled country.

As the majority in Palestine, the Arabs have fought increased Jewish immigration or partition for economic as well as political reasons. Because the Arabs charge that the country is not productive enough to stand a large-scale increase in population, the U. S. and Britain sought to answer this objection in earlier discussions with promises of a substantial loan to develop the nation's industrial and agricultural resources.

While the Jews forced the British into consideration of a Zionist state by keeping the Holy Land in turmoil with a terrorist campaign, the Arabs also could turn on the heat. In addition, they command the full support of the Near Eastern Arab league, embracing 33 million Arabs whose dominance extends to oil rich countries in which the U. S. and Britain have heavy interests.

GERMANY:

Friendly Warning

Head of the Social Democratic party in Germany, lean, hard Kurt Schumacher warned the Allied peacemakers preparing to draw up a treaty for the reich that only a fair agreement accepted by a freely elected regime would assure political stability.

Boldest of the postwar German political leaders to speak out, Schumacher declared that no democratic government could risk signing a severe peace for fear of repudiation by the people. Since he is the only German political leader who has been openly courted by the western allies, his declaration that he himself would not sign a harsh treaty took on special significance.

The specter of Hitlerism and Versailles hung in the background as Schumacher warned that:

The major nations which played politics with Hitler for their own ends must share the guilt of many Germans for the rise of Nazism.

Annexation of the Saar was the worst form of operations. It would be senseless for Germany to accept a provisional eastern boundary determined beforehand by two major powers.

BRITAIN:

Exports Lag

Thanks to the U. S. loan, Britain managed to balance exports with imports last year, but a considerable increase in overseas trade must be achieved in future months if the British are to stay heavily out of foreign debt and maintain their living standards.

Because of its own limited resources, Britain must import materials for home consumption and fabrication for resale overseas. With Britain owing many countries for war goods, government sources estimated that exports would have to be boosted by 75 per cent to help pay off these debts and still receive imports for domestic use.

While exports rose 17 per cent in July, they dropped off to only 3 per cent above the prewar level in December. The slump was attributed to a scarcity of essential materials and manpower. Meanwhile, the British are seeking to balance their exports with imports from countries with "soft" currency not easily convertible in world markets.

Resume Insurance

Veterans of World War II are putting back in force an increasing volume of the wartime national service life insurance which they permitted to lapse.

Up to January 1 of this year, more than 115 billion dollars of the service insurance had been dropped by the veterans, but in the past few months they have cut back into
