VOL. 38

HEDLEY, DONLEY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, DEC. 26, 1947

Swing of SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

Cattle reached record high levels and most grains strengthened but not on eggs and some vegetables lost ground during the past week, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

Southwest egg markets were unsettled. Despite good holiday demand for only adequate receipts, prices slipped about a nickel per dozen. Straight run current receipts ranged anywhere from 50 to 60 cents. The rush to get Christmas turkeys before the weekend forced prices of young hens up to 45 cents per pound and young toms to 36 cents. Chicken hens met strong demand, too.

Nearly all classes of cattle brought the highest prices of the year at southwest markets this week. Fort Worth set a record when commercially fed 1043 pound steers cashed at $32 per hundred pounds. San Antonio reported an all-time high on canner and culler cows at $12.50 to $14.25. These same grades brought $10.50 to $13 at Houston, $10 to $14 at Fort Worth, $10.50 to $14 at Oklahoma City, and $11.50 to $14.50 at Wichita and Denver. Net gains on most offerings amounted to 50 cents to a dollar.

Increased demand at southwest hog markets kept ahead of seasonally heavy receipts to push prices 50 to 75 cents per hundred pounds higher than a week ago. Good and choice butchers realized a top of $26.50 at San Antonio; $27 at Oklahoma City; $27.25 at Fort Worth and Wichita; and $27.50 at Denver.

Spot cotton markets were less active and prices declined about $2.50 per bale. Mill buying dropped on despite unabated demand for cotton textiles. Generally farmers were entering their cotton less freely.

Jeff Wiggins Knows His Way Around

The following appeared in the Wings Over Borger column of the Borger News-Herald:

From Clearview Airport Greeting—Well, it has rained, snowed, sleeted and hailed since last Sunday, but the mails must go through, so we must keep flying and have a lot of fun doing it.

If anyone wants to go to Childress and Plainview and not use a map, then get Jeff Wiggins to go with you. Boy, he is a living image of Bob Burns, except that Jeff lives in Texas. That guy has kinfolks living all over this part of the country, so instead of using a map, he just flies to Uncle Mike's from there to Aunt Maggie's, and on to Aunt Susie who lives next to the Childress airport. And that was the way it went throughout the whole trip.

Pay Your Poll Tax!

When you pay your state and county taxes, remember to ask for your poll tax, which is not on your poll tax, which is not on your state and county statement this year. Poll taxes must be paid before Jan. 31.

Uncle Sam Says

United States Savings Bonds have made last minute Christmas shopping worries a thing of the past for wise Americans. In fact even though you thought about what to give members of your family or close friends for a month of Sundays you could not come up with a better idea than Savings Bonds. Think of Savings Bonds in terms of what they will do for the recipient. For example, bonds provide immediate funds in the event of an emergency and help to pay for education, travel, a new home or other things which members of your family dream about. Your gift of a Savings Bond makes you a partner in the realization of the best hope of someone you love. You ask of a Christmas gift.

Progressive Dinner

A group of the younger set enjoyed a progressive dinner last Wednesday evening given by Mesdames C. L. Johnson, Rhea Stotts, Harrison Hall, Leon Reeves, Jap Shaw and Ray Moreman. The evening began with punch in the Hall home, followed by dinner in the Reeves home. Dancing was then enjoyed in the Stotts home, and the Christmas tree in the Johnson home.

Those taking part in the dinner were Margaret Swinney, Berta Sargent, Anita Bain, Bobbie Lee Hall, Mary Barrier, Martha Jo Alexander, Dorothy Meeks, Wanda Shaw, Jerry Banister, Joan Ray Moreman, Theresa Kelley, Sara Ann Rains, Francis Timmons, Sam Owens, Jimmy Owens, Jerald Sims, Floyd Sims, Charles Johnson, David Stott, T. E. Naylor, Johnnie Everett, Bobbie Everett, Leonard Vaughn, James Stone, Adell Myers, Joe Neal Beavers, Ed Todd, Hershel Swinney, Gene Davis, R. L. Stone and Pete Wynn.

HEMISPHERE Defense Treaty OK'd

This is, as Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (Rep., Mich.) and his fellow senators, "a significant moment to demonstrate the solidarity of this hemisphere."

And with the knowledge of that certain fact uppermost in their minds members of the U. S. senate voted 72 to 1 to ratify the inter-American defense treaty agreed to by 21 American republics at the Rio conference last summer.

The hemispheric agreement for mutual defense of nations in the Americas embodies three main points:

- 1. In case of armed attack from outside the hemisphere, all nations have the automatic right to meet the attack with military force.
2. If attack occurs inside the hemisphere, American nations may go voluntarily to the aid of the victim, with consultations to follow.
3. If attacks occur both inside the hemisphere and outside the security region immediate consultations will be called.

Virtually unanimous approval of the treaty by the senate was a good indication that congress was fully aware of the cardinal principle of successful foreign relations that commitments abroad are worse than useless unless the nation forms strong and lasting alliances to support those commitments. The hemispheric treaty had all the makings of a good foreign policy.

Meanwhile, President Truman had some thoughts on how inter-American defense could be advanced to the point of actuality. He proposed that the Panama Canal be converted into a sea-level waterway, and that a command be established in the Atlantic area with Army, Navy and Air Force components.

CHALLENGE Accepted

Republican leaders had issued a direct challenge to the administration to offer a bill incorporating President Truman's rationing recommendations for controlling inflation, and the administration finally proposed a bill which would authorize rationing and impose controls on grain crops if even to buy or sell.

Handed to the senate judiciary committee by A. J. A. ... secretary of commerce, ... called for expansion of rationing to include other scarce commodities.

Theoretically, rationing to allocate materials to users, control business, and continue export administration provided for the allocation of government would authorize rationing and impose controls on grain crops if even to buy or sell.

CRISIS ENDED: France Wins

France, as nearly as could be ascertained in these times of mercurial events, apparently had broken the threat of immediate economic disaster and was making ready to stage a comeback.

Major focal point of the crisis—the Communist-led strikes of more than a million French workers—had been dissolved by Premier Robert Schuman.

The Communist controlled general confederation of labor (CGT) had yielded to Schuman's ultimatum and ordered nearly a million workers still on strike to return to their jobs. The action climaxed a spreading back-to-work movement on the part of the workers themselves.

With its strike front disintegrated by new stringent laws, Communist leadership accepted Schuman's "final" offer—a $12.60 bonus living allowance for all workers who returned immediately.

While it might be too early to predict with certainty, it appeared as though the breaking of the nationwide strike marked the end of the direct Communist menace to the French government. At least it was a serious setback for the Reds.

Supporting the theory that Communist power in France is on the wane was the fact that, on the same day the strikers agreed to return to work, the Soviet Union broke off trade talks with France aimed at bringing sorely needed grain into the country from Russia. The Russians also threatened to terminate the 1944 Franco-Russian alliance.

This was taken to mean that the Russians do not intend to do anything to aid France if the Communist party there has no chance of success in its efforts to take over the government.

On the other side of the political balance, Schuman's achievement in breaking the strike was believed to have postponed, perhaps for months the return to power of Gen. Charles DeGaulle and his extreme rightist party, Rally of the French People.

HONORED GLORY: Unknown Soldier

Within the span of a few years a monument will be erected next to the Unknown Soldier memorial in Arlington national cemetery. It will be inscribed words with an import similar to those appearing on the older monument: "Here rests in honored glory an American soldier, known but to God."

It will be the tomb of the Unknown Soldier of World War II.

The army already is making plans for selection of an unidentified body to be placed there. The ceremony probably will be similar to that followed in selecting the Unknown Soldier of World War I.

It is likely that it will involve the selection of the remains of one unknown soldier from those of nine unidentified men who fell in combat in the nine major combat areas.

Selection of the Unknown Soldier still is a long way off, however. It will not be done until the program for returning 250,000 World War II dead from overseas is completed in about three years.

FODDER

Spuds for Cattle

A New Jersey cattleman, Eugene K. Denton, has a theory that might go a long way toward easing the grain shortage.

His idea is to feed cattle raw potatoes instead of grain.

Experimenting with 20 yearlings purchased especially for the purpose, Denton fed them on a special diet, based on ground potatoes, salt and molasses, for 25 days. The steers, which averaged 667 1/2 pounds when the experiment began, showed an average gain per steer of 1.4 pounds a day or 25 1/4 pounds per steer for the test period.

Prof. William Ljundahl of Rutgers university department of animal husbandry called the experiments a success.

Denton made public this simple formula: To every 100 pounds of freshly sliced potatoes add one handful of regular salt and one gallon of molasses water. The molasses water is prepared by adding one pint of molasses to one full pail of water.

THE FLEET: Just in Case

With the Palestine situation at a fever pitch the U. S. navy was casting a nautical eye in the direction of the Mediterranean and making preparations to increase the fleet in those waters if conditions reach a crucial enough point to justify such action.

Reports say that new units stand ready to be sent to the area which has been crackling with tension since the Palestine partition. And the navy may redeploy its present forces in the Mediterranean to bring a concentration of ships to Palestine in an effort to discourage the Arabs from declaring a holy war.

So far the U. S. role in the Holy Land troubles has been limited to an embargo of arms shipments there and to the Arab states of the Middle East.

It is a delicate situation for both commercial and political interests of this country. American oil interests in the middle east are uneasy over the Arab-Jew clashes, and from the political point of view there is the danger that Russia might move troops to Palestine, ostensibly to keep order, but actually to grab a strategic foothold there.

LANDON: Big Medicine

Alf M. Landon, the Kansas budget-balancer who might have been president of the United States if Franklin D. Roosevelt hadn't defeated him by a landslide in 1936, has come out publicly in favor of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower for President in 1948.

Landon was known to have joined forces with Roy Roberts of the Kansas City Star to push the Eisenhower bandwagon. In Chicago to address a Kiwanis meeting, Landon said, "The Kansas delegation to the Republican national convention will be for Eisenhower." That, coming from the shrewd former governor of Kansas, was strong political medicine.

"I don't think any of the politicians in my state will get out of line on that. I think I know what the general's social, economic and political views are. He hasn't said anything to me about the presidency directly or indirectly but it's my guess he will make his views known when he leaves the army and they will be all right."

Meanwhile, it was announced that Eisenhower was scheduled to take over his scheduled position as president of Columbia university next June 7—just about two weeks before the Republican national convention is supposed to convene.

If a small amount of vaseline is rubbed on the hinge of a new umbrella before using, it helps prevent rusting.

Dip hooks to be used on walls or doors in paint. This helps to prevent rusting and gives a more finished appearance to the room.

A piece of fine sandpaper dampened, will help remove lint from mohair or felt. Rub lightly.

When placing a heavy wet article on a hanger to dry, pad the hanger well by wrapping a towel around it. This gives better shape to the article as it dries and prevents it from being marred by rust.

Wax the clothes chute and clothes will slide down easily.

Improvise a sleeve board by taking the kitchen rolling pin and wrap it with several clean towels. This forms a firm padded surface to slip into the sleeve and iron over.

Do not wash the bag of your vacuum cleaner. Washing removes the special finish that makes the bag dustproof. Brush the bag instead.

Turn the broom from time to time when sweeping so the bristles wear evenly.

When using scotch tape, fold over the end on the spool. Then the next time the tape is to be used, cut off the folded part, and it's ready for use.

When baking bread and the crust becomes burnt, use a small grater and rub it lightly over the burnt crust. You'll be surprised with how easily it is removed.

That Naging Backache
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action
Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strains on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.
You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, resting up nights, leg pain, swelling, feet constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, itching or too frequent urination.
Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off the harmful excess body waste. They have been more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by practicing doctors everywhere. Ask your neighbor for Doan's Pills.

THERE'S a great difference in dogs. So if you are going to own a dog, give time and thought to what kind of a dog it should be. If you have lots of room — fields, woods, lawns — the working class dog is for you. Collies and Belgian Sheepdogs are included here and they have proven their value in herding sheep and cattle.

The German Shepherd dog is another breed outstanding for herding ability and an excellent watch dog to boot. Working dogs are a dignified, powerful, serious lot, yet they will smother you with affection if treated right. Other breeds of dogs, as classified by the American Kennel Club — their health, diet and training — are discussed in our booklet No. 78.

NEW YORKERS have grown accustomed to encountering motion picture companies at work in public places; crowds gather to watch, wonder what the picture is, and presently some member of the crew is being pestered by questioners. So Fredrick Ullman Jr., of RKO, had a bright idea. Daily hundreds of cards were passed out to the curious; they read, "You have just witnessed a scene taken for RKO Radio's 'The Window,' a drama featuring Bobby Driscoll, Barbara Hale, Arthur Kennedy, Ruth Roman and Paul Stewart." Something new in the movie world!

JUNE HAVOC

Tierney and Dana Andrews are starred in the film, but a lot of people will go just to see June.

Jorja Curtright, the little stenographer who finally got a break in pictures (she stars in "Heaven Only Knows"), has had another dream come true. She has been named for the leading role opposite Richard Ney in the forthcoming stage production, "The Master's Chair," scheduled to open on Broadway in February. Couldn't happen to a nicer girl!

Edward Cinnelli tried for four weeks to kill Viveca Lindfors without ever meeting her. The script of Warner Bros. "To the Victor" had him bent on eliminating the lovely Miss Lindfors, with Dennis Morgan, co-starred with her, rescuing her each time. But after a month of criminal pursuit Cinnelli thought he rated an introduction.

A kind-hearted, considerate, generous man with no need to wear a toupee, that's Jack Benny — the opposite of his radio character. Jack will take his radio troupe to Denver for the week of January 12 to 18, at the request of Colorado's Gov. Lee Knous, to launch the National Infantile Paralysis drive there. He will officiate at a series of benefits, then do his broadcast, for which tickets can be secured by making contributions to the drive. The state hopes to raise over $100,000.

Agnes Moorehead, super-villainess in most of her screen roles, is to portray a deified character in one of Lew Ayres' Bible tales. He records them at his own expense and sends them free to churches and Sunday schools.

Brian Aherne made his own personal recording of the wedding of Princess Elizabeth, staying up for the broadcast all the night before. He plans to have the records duplicated for presentation to friends in Hollywood's British colony.

Romance has entered Fred Clark's professional career. Of course, privately he is doing fine with Diana Lynn. But in Paramount's "Hazard," for which he is on loan-out from Michael Curtiz productions, Clark and McDonald Carey vie for the attentions of Paulette Goddard — the first time Fred has dallied with a damsel on the screen.

Pat O'Brien's pre-Christmas trip to New York, taken as soon as he finished "Fighting Father Dunne," was to make recordings for his new radio program, "Tale of Broadway," to be broadcast over NBC for 52 weeks, starting next spring.

Leonard L. Levinson is the producer of "Impossible Pictures." He is revolutionizing the cartoon business by shooting comic travelogues about imaginary places.

ODDS AND ENDS—"Counterity," broadcast of December 7, set some kind of record; it was the first mystery show used by a government agency to open an official campaign... Benny Venuta will be mistress of ceremonies in a new radio quiz show that will pit parents against their children in a discussion of current problems... Greet the New Year With a Buffet Supper!
(See recipes below.)

Welcome the New Year

Do you like to fix big platters of food and set a large table? If you do, then this is the time to have a feast. Invite some of your friends with whom you'd like to welcome the new year, and serve them a snack buffet style.

Naturally, this can be on the eve of the New Year itself, or at any time in the afternoon or early evening of the day itself. You'll have fun, too, because there's the feeling of turning a clean page in your life, and it's only natural you should want to start out such an occasion with your friends.

Your menu does not need to be expensive. Select one of these menus and work it out with your linens and dishes.

Menu I.
Savory Meat Pie
Lettuce with Russian Dressing
Cloverleaf Rolls
Beverage
Peach Gelatin

The meat pie is savory and tempting for the cooler weather, and menfolk will like its meatiness. The dessert is especially lovely but easy to make; in fact, why not make both of these things ahead of time?

Savory Meat Pie.
(Serves 6)
1 pound beef chuck
1 pound lamb shoulder
Flour for dredging
Lard for browning
12 small onions
4 carrots
4 potatoes
1 cup string beans
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cups meat stock

Have meat cut in one-inch cubes. Dredge with flour and brown in hot lard. Season with salt and pepper and place in casserole. Also pile vegetables into casserole. Add 4 tablespoons flour to fat in pan where meat was browned, and stir until thickened. Add 2 cups meat stock and let cook until thick. Pour this over the meat and vegetables and cook in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 20 minutes. Remove from oven, and top with a biscuit crust. Return to a hot oven (400 degrees) for another 20 minutes and bake until crust is well browned. If you want a nice glaze on the crust, brush with beaten egg before baking.

Peach Gelatin.
(Serves 6)
4 or 5 canned cling peach halves
1 package raspberry-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 cup peach syrup

Arrange peach halves, smooth side down, in bottom of a large round mold or pan. Dissolve gelatin in hot water; add peach syrup and stir to blend. Pour sufficient gelatin mixture over peaches to cover. Chill. Chill remaining gelatin until congealed but not firm. Whip until very light and thick. Pour over plain gelatin. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serve with table cream, soft custard or whipped cream.

Russian Dressing.
(Makes 1 1/2 cups)
1 cup olive or salad oil
1/4 cup vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
Few grains cayenne
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 teaspoons prepared horseradish

Combine, beat or shake thoroughly before using. Pour over crisp wedges of lettuce.

With the price of tender cuts of meat so high, you may feel you'd like to have a beef cut for New Years because of its traditional place on the menu, but would rather forego roast beef itself.

Then why not plan a menu of this kind?

Menu II.
Danish Pot Roast
Brown Gravy
Boiled Potatoes
Celery Pickles
Olives
Corn in Pepper Rings
Luxury Cake

The combination of seasoning will make this beef roast very interesting and pleasing.

Danish Pot Roast.
(Serves 6 to 8)
3 1/2 pounds chuck roast of beef
Flour for dredging
Lard for browning
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 cup vinegar
Salt and pepper

Dredge meat with flour and brown on all sides in hot lard. Season with salt and pepper, sprinkle with brown sugar and add vinegar. Add 1 cup hot water. Cover tightly and cook slowly until done. Remove pot roast onto hot platter and thicken the liquid for gravy (3 tablespoons of flour stirred smooth in 1/2 cup water).

Surround the meat with the vegetable dish suggested in the menu:
Corn in Pepper Rings.
(Serves 6)

2 cups cooked whole kernel corn
1 green pepper
Butter
Salt and pepper

Heat the corn with butter, salt, and pepper. Cut green pepper into six rings and place around the meat. When ready to serve, spoon corn into rings.

Luxury Cake.
(Serves 6)
1 quart vanilla ice cream
1/2 cup chopped pecan meats
1 cup hot chocolate sauce
6 squares sponge cake

Split cake in two; place a slice of vanilla ice cream between the cake. Put another bit of ice cream on top of cake and pour hot sauce over it. Sprinkle nutmeats just before serving the cake.

Hot Chocolate Sauce: Melt 1 square bitter chocolate in double boiler, add 1 tablespoon of butter and 1 1/2 cups sugar. Add 6 tablespoons hot water slowly and blend. Add 3/4 cup rich milk and stir well; boil 10 minutes, watching carefully. Cook to soft ball stage, remove from fire and add a pinch of salt and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Cool slightly, then beat until creamy. Keep warm in top of double boiler.

When scalding milk in a pan, grease the bottom of the pan with butter or a mild flavored fat to prevent scorching or browning.

In Jap Temple of 1697

A new modern burglar alarm as ingenious as the one in the Chion temple in Kyoto, Japan, was built in the structure which was erected as a military headquarters in 1697. When the alarm is set, reverberations caused by an intruder walking across the wooden floor produce sound resembling the twittering of birds in the nest. Therefore, he is not aware of his presence is known until he is caught.

When the tread on your tire begins wearing smooth, just consider this:
 The last 3 or 4 thousand miles in that tire can be awfully expensive miles. Suppose the tire is bruised and damaged—or suppose it just gets worn so thin it cannot be recapped. Then it is only junk and brings you only a junk price.
Let Us Buy It!
 Right now if you have a tire that is wearing smooth and is still undamaged we can pay you several dollars for it in trade-in on a new tire. Why risk losing these dollars?
