WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS-

Gandhi's Death Leaves India Bitter; House Prepares Tax Slash Debate, GOP Leaders Confident of Victory;

DEATH:

Gandhi

Mohandas K. Gandhi, India's champion, peacemaker, patient saint, was dead at the age of 78a victim of an assassin's bullets.

He died barely two weeks after Hindus, Sikhs and Moslems alike, overjoyed at the possibility of peace that Gandhi's latest fast had procured for their dominions, were shouting "Gandhiji ki jai" (long live Gandhi) in the streets of Delhi.

It was a violent ending for the mahatma who all his life had preached and practised a philosophy based on an abhorrence of violence. A Hindu from Poona approached him during a prayer meeting and fired three shots into his body from close

To India and to India's Hindus to whom Gandhi had devoted his life, his death was a bitter experience and a shock that left the already turbulent sub-continent in an even more complete state of turmoil. After the partition of the country into the dominions of India and Pakistan Gandhi had been the man of strong spirit to whom all three opposing factions, Hindus, Moslems and Sikhs, had looked for guidance.

And in his last fast, of five-day duration, he had given it to them. He had provided the three clashing religious groups with a foundation for peace. His action had tended to narrow the schism between Moslems and Hindus, had lessened the talk of war.

Whether his death would undo the good that the last days of his life had accomplished remained, for the time being, an open question.

TAX SLASH:

All signs pointed to an income tax cut of one kind or another this year as the house of representatives clanged the bell for the opening round of crucial, election-year debate on that much-belabored issue. Joseph Martin (Rep., Mass.), off with the assertion that an income tax slash is in the bag. He conceded, however, that it might not | run as high as the 6.5 billion dollars provided in the Knutson bill, now up for debate.

But in the end, he said, the Republican congress would override a presidential veto "of the tax bill we send to the White House."

In order to beat the veto that Mr. Truman might slap on the tax bill, ping to Dimitrov for thinking of it. however, the Republicans would vote on their side to make the neceswould tone down the bill.

Rep. Robert Doughton (Dem., tee, pointed out the obvious fact that | popular dempcratie forces.' Republicans would have to trim the size of the cut to get anywhere. hold the veto "and we will have no tax reduction at all."

As far as Knutson's 6.5-billion dollar measure is concerned, GOP congressmen were touting it on the grounds that it would spur business, increase production and relieve the price-pressure on taxpayers in addition to leaving the government enough revenue for an 11-billiondollar payment on the public debt in the next two years.

Democrats, of course, take the diametrically opposed view, holding that a tax slash that big would force the government to borrow money, Steel threaten national security and hinder the European recovery plan upon which so much of the current phase of U. S. foreign policy is founded.

He's in Favor

It isn't only loyal Democrats who are lining up to express their views in favor of the Marshall plan. Norman Thomas, perennial U. S. Socialist leader, also endorsed the scheme in his testimony before the senate foreign relations committee. Then, in a biting statement, he added that he did not like: (a) commodity speculators, (b) Herbert Hoover, (c) Henry Wallace and (d) the Truman doctrine.

NO BLOC:

When Moscow's official Communist party newspaper, Pravda, declared editorially that it was oposed to any federation of eastern European states it signalled the disclosure of an interesting development in Russia's relationship with her Balkan satellites.

The idea of such a federation, similar to the union of Western Europe proposed by Britain's Bevin, was put forth by Georgi Dimitrov, Communist premier of Bulgaria and endorsed by Marshall Tito of Yugo-

Dimitrov said that the eastern European nations in the Soviet orbit intend to form a federation of states speaker of the house, started things | as allies to Russia when the time is ripe, but first, he added, they would organize a customs union. Prospective members were to be: Bulgaria, Albania, Romania, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia "and even Greece."

But Prayda answered with an emphatic "no." And Pravda's rejection of the idea meant that Stalin himself (who founded the paper) was administering a public hand-slap-

Pravda's editorial amounted to a reluctant and tacit admission that Russia has found it practicable and worth while to follow Hitler's old formula for international relations: Divide and rule.

ALLOCATIONS:

Tentative answer to some of the nation's most exasperating shortages came into being when the government's voluntary allocations program moved into low gear with a commerce department request that the steel industry guarantee freight car manufacturers enough steel to build 10,000 cars a month.

How much good this would do quantity. Present government plans call for concentrating on freight cars, petroleum equipment, farm machinery and building materials. Steel leaders previously had agreed to cooperate in the voluntary program.

Major emphasis for the time being will be on freight cars, but the commerce department also plans to describe other key programs it believes will require steel allocations within the next month.

Many government transportation experts believe the 10,000-a-month freight car goal is inadequate.

KEY HARVESTS: For Inflation

Any crop failure this year would endanger greatly the fight on infla-tion, and the size of the 1948 and 30-foot shaft through the town's subsequent harvests must be looked to as the "key" in arresting inflationary trends, Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the President's AND . . . Mrs. Adelyn | council of economic advisers said in d in a di-gishand a Chicago speech.

TRACTOR AS:

Spring Fever

For millions of U. S. familie: whose homes this winter were ranging from chilly to downright cold, the most pressing problem was how to get enough fuel oil right now, while farmers, at least in the Mid-west, were doing their worrying over how to get enough gasoline for their tractors come spring.

That there would be tractor gas shortages in some areas was an agreed fact; and the oil industry was beginning to make preparations to keep farm tractors and food production rolling this spring in the face of a tighter gasoline supply.

Concern over tractor fuel was reported particularly high in the rural Midwest because fuel oil for home heating is being produced at the expense of gasoline.

"We have been reviewing the possibilities closely," said a spokesman for one of the big companies. 'Gasoline will be tight but not critical, in our judgment. Shortage spots may develop but we don't expect any severe conditions."

More than 90 per cent of commercial farms in the Midwest today are dependent in whole or part on tractors for power. If the gasoline or distillate supply should fail, millions would face starvation. Gasoline and oil demand in agriculture literally doubled between 1941 and 1947.

Farmers already are being warned to conserve gasoline, and National Petroleum council has taken note of the impending spring demand by recommending that refineries switch back from fuel oil to gasoline production within 90 days.

LITTLE MAN And What Now?

To the senate banking and currency committee came a representative of America's beloved "lit-tle man" to talk of inflation and ask the question "What now? Economists may define an inflationary condition as an excess of demand over supply or a disproportionate amount of money and credit in relation to exchange, but to Cyrus J. Waud of Camden, N. J., inflation simply means that his $50a-week salary can't take care of his wife and six children.

With the dispassionate bitterness of a good U.S. citizen who knows that it is within his rights but not That meant simply that Stalin and within his power to have economic freedom and comfort for his family and himself, Waud summed it all up in the 1948 "little man's" tragic

FARM FAMILY:

Changing

Mr. American Farmer is not in a class by himself; he is subjected to the same influences as his city cousin and is tending to become more like his urban relative, two sociologists have disclosed.

When he acquires a college education, a higher income and culture, he has fewer children. And paved highways, radios, movies and pushbutton agriculture are making farmers more like city dwellers, including the tendency to smaller fam-

One of the latest developments in this century of scientific whing dings is a bacterial flypaper to keep rooms freer of disease germs.

It is a chemical that can be put on floors, blankets or curtains to catch and hold tiny organisms, including those which cause colds, when they settle out of the air. Unlike flypaper, it doesn't kill, but it does keep germs from circulating around the room.

From where I sit ... by Joe Mars.

Will's Proud of His Big Ears

Will Dudley's mighty proud of ais big ears! Best crop of corn he's grown since '38. And Will, like so any other farmers, has plenty of eason to be proud of what he raises.

The farmer has always been a reystone in our economic life, and he key to our national well-being. But from where I sit, he's more mportant now than ever. He's not only feeding America—but friends of America overseas—building good will for this country at a time when friendship for democracy is nost important.

And farmers have willingh shouldered that responsibility. Wif spends extra hours in his cornfields... comes home tired to a temperate glass of beer and early bed, to be ready for the next day's work.

From where I sit, America can be mighty grateful for her five miltion farmers...for their productivity, hard work, and temperate living—of which Will's moderate glass of beer is proof!

It's a-MAZE-ing!

Husbands, please note! The average housewife performs 70 different tasks in her normal day's work! (Frankly, most women will think that figure is far too low, but it comes from the U. S. Government's Office of Education!)

Yes, home-making is a big job—but the housewife is spared one task...you don't have to shop and wait days for the delivery of electric service.

Dependable, time-and-labor-saving, Reddy Kilowatt, your electric servant, is always ready to help a housewife skip through her maze of tasks. Electric service saves her steps, lightens her work, gives her more leisure, makes life healthier and happier for her and all her family!

And it costs so little! In an era of sky-high prices, a kilowatt hour of electric service costs that same average housewife 17% LESS than it did ten years ago!

IF Cotton had a squeal...

Pork packers take pride in saving "everything but the squeal." The cotton industry, too, is making valuable by-products of everything produced in the field. The wonders of chemurgy have given new values to the cotton seed and the stalk, and new promise to the fruits of Texas soil.

This is adding worth to Nature's resources...putting them to work for mankind. This is practical conservation.

It's the same way with natural gas, for gas would be worthless if it remained unused in the ground. It takes companies like United Gas—gathering, processing, transporting it... making it available for use—to give it value. A natural resource thus conserved furthers industrial development, creates jobs, benefits every family in Texas.

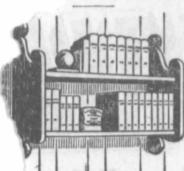

GAS . .

COTTON

Texas is cotton capital of the nation, producing 1,650,000 bales on six million acres. Texas cotton farmers received over 278 million dollars for their lint and more than 49 million dollars for their seed in one recent year. Yes, and thousands of other Texans earn their living in the handling or processing of cotton. This is Free Enterprise at work—private capital and private citizens working together to bring prosperity to Texas and all her people.

NATURAL GAS serves more...

waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fall to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backnehe, persistent hee dache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous sanxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty of too frequent urination.

These Budget-Wise Recipes Will Make Meat Go Farther

A calavo served half shell provides a quick and satisfying way of rounding out menus on meatsaving days. The calavo also may be filled with creamed vegetable or fish or a salad and served as the main dish for a meal.

Well, those food costs still are climbing, according to latest reports, and most homemakers are having to tackle the menu problem with undiminished vigor. There's first aid for all of you in these recipes today, for they'll keep the budget trim as well as furnishing savory meals. There's no limit to how you may extend meats — add a vegetable or two, fortify with rice, noodles or macaroni, or let the meat swim in cream sauce or delicious gravy. Any of these is guaranteed to add satisfied smiles to your Cabbage Roll-Ups.

(Serves 6) I head of cabbage pound ground lamb or beef onions, chopped cup uncooked rice Salt and pepper 2 cups canned tomatoes

1/2 cup water Cook cabbage until tender; drain and then carefully separate leaves from the stem end. Combine meat, onions, rice, salt and pepper. On each cabbage leaf place several tablespoons of the mixture, then secure with toothpicks.

Place the roll-ups in a greased casserole and add the tomatoes which have been mixed with water. Cook in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for one hour or until rice is

Add cream sauce and pimiento to leftover veal roast as demonstrated in the following recipe, and you will have an excellent meat dish:

> Veal a la King. (Serves 8)

1/2 green pepper, shredded pound mushrooms 3 tablespoons fat 6 tablespoons flour

4 cups milk Salt and pepper 3 cups diced cooked veal 1 pimiento, diced

Cook green pepper and mush rooms in fat for eight minutes. Re-move from fat. Add flour to fat and blend. Add milk and seasonings and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add green pepper, mushrooms and remaining ingredients and heat. Serve on toast, in bread croustades or patty shells.

English Hot Pot. Serves 4 to 6)

6 potatoes, pared and sliced 11/2 pounds lamb shoulder or breast

2 lamb kidneys l large onion, sliced Salt and penner 1 cup water

2 tablespoons butter, melted Place half of the potatoes in a greased casserole, then add meat which has been cut into cubes. Cover with sliced onion and season with salt and pepper. Add water. Place remaining potatoes on top, covering with meat completely. Brush with melted butter. Place in a moderate oven (350 degrees) and bake for two hours.

11/2 teaspoons salt 1/8 teaspoon pepper 2 tablespoons diced onion 3 bay leaves Spread sugar over the bottom of a greased loaf pan. Mash cranberry sauce and spread over sugar. Combine remaining ingredients except bay leaves. Shape into loaf and place in pan. Put bay leaves on top of loaf.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about one hour. Remove bay leaves before serving.

Pork, prepared Spanish style, is a favorite because of its savory seasonings as well as its color appeal, Vegetables go into the same dish with the meat.

*Spanish Pork. (Serves 6) 2 pounds pork shoulder, boned and diced

Flour Lard 4 medium sized potatoes 1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce 2 cups tomatoes 2 cups canned peas I green pepper

Salt and pepper Have pork shoulder cut into 1-inch cubes. Dredge in flour and brown in het lard. Place alternate layers of meat and vegetable in casserole dish. Pour tomatoes over all. Season and cook in a moderate oven (350 degrees) until meat and vegetables are tender, about 11/2 to 2

A little meat will go a long way you serve attractive cabbage roll-ups in a bed of buttered noodles. Round out the meal with buttered green beans and pickled beets and serve a simple baked fruit for dessert.

You might try these two dishes with specialty meats if you want to serve nutrition-rich meals as well as appetizing ones:

Savory Liver. (Serves 6 to 8) 2 earrot, shredded

1 onion, minced 1 turnip, diced 1 bay leaf 2 tablespoons fat 1 tablespoon flour

21/2 pounds liver (1 piece) 2 cups water or stock Salt and pepper

Brown vegetables with bay leaf in fat. Add flour and blend, then add liver and water. Simmer for 11/4 to

Broiled Lamb Kidneys. (Serves 6)

6 lamb kidneys 11/2 cups french dressing 12 slices bacon

Clean kidneys and cut into halves. Marinate in french dressing for 12 hours. Drain kidneys and wrap in bacon. Place four inches below moderate heat and broil for 12 to 15 minutes, or until bacon is crisp and kidheys are tender. Serve on toast triangles. Released by WNU Features.

A nice filling for yeast dough is made of honey mixed with butter and flavored with ½ teaspoon of cinnamon or nutmeg.

If you like a meaty flavored biscuit for toppings, use ½ teaspoon curry powder or poultry seasoning mixed in with the dry ingredients.

Cheese biscuits are novel when you want to serve an interesting hot bread. Simply add ½ cup of grated American cheese to biscuit recipe or to ready-mix. Add this before dishes, mixing in the milk.

STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD

LIKE Myrna Loy, Merle Oberon and Gene Tierney, radio actress Alice Frost began her acting career with exotic oriental roles; like them, she is best known today as a typical American girl, the light-hearted, adventuresome "Pamela North" of the CBS "Mr. and Mrs. North." A heavy Oriental diet was too much for her, so she set about the serious business of learn-
