Swing of SJUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

Strong livestock markets contrasted with lower trends on most other farm products in the southwest during the past week, the U 3. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Hog prices varied widely up and down but closed Monday about $2 nigner on butchers at Kansas City, Denver and Wichita, and $1 up at Oklahoma City and Fort Worth. Sows ranged generally around 50 cents higher at $14 to $16, and pigs sold unchanged at $15 to $18 at Fort Worth. Top batchers varied from $21.25 to $22.50.

Cattle sold generally 50 cents to $1 nigher for the week, though Texas markets held steers and yearlings about unchanged and iiouston closed steady on about anciasses. Common and medium saugnter steers and yearlings rangeu from $19 to $25 at Houston, while medium and good grades brought $23 to $28 at Fort Worth and $21 to $27.50 at Oklahoma City. San Antonio paid $25.50 to $27.50 for medium light | and Wichita gave $23.50 to $29 importance are to come up. for good kinds. Denver took heifers to $28 50.

Egg markets weakened further t iis week under seasonally heavy production and light hatchery demand. Favorame storage demand prevented even lower prices Cur. ent egg receipts ranged from 3, w 4, ceaus at most southwest terminal markets. Good demand for purely adequate supplies of poultry kept prices firm.

Cotton gained early but dropped later for $1.25 to $4.35 per pale losses. Spot 15-16 inch midding closed Monday at 37.55 cents a pound at Dallas, 37.10 at Houston, 37.25 at Galveston, 37.15 at New Orieans, and 36.70 at Little Rock.

Informer Rates

Please remember that the In imer rate is $1.50 per year in Donley county, and $2.00 per year elsewhere, except that servmen get the $1.50 rate.

Revolt Interrupts Bogota Parley; Miners Get Pension, End Walkout; GOP Aspirants in Primaries Fight

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer_

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

REVOLT: Bogota

It was a peaceful early afternoon in Bogota, Colombia, and the inter-American conference was droning along in customary style in the capitol building on the Plaza Bolivar.

Then, with the firing of four assassin's bullets into the body of Jorge Elicier Gaitan, popular leader of Colombia's Liberal party, one of the worst revolts Latin American has seen exploded into violence.

During the first afternoon Bogota descended into a state of complete anarchy. Mobs prowled the streets, burning and looting. Scores were killed. The residence of President Ospina Perez was attacked and windows were broken before army troops drove away the crowd.

Above the confused clamor of the throng could be heard shouts of 'Down with the government, down with the Conservatives."

Three days later, as the riots simmered to a halt, 300 persons were dead, many others injured. Down town Bogota was a welter of destruction. Colombia had broken re lations with Soviet Russia, and the inter-American conference had almost cracked up, with delegates uncertain as to whether they could con-

On the face of it, the revolt was a sudden eruption of violent sentiment of Liberal party followers against the Conservative government in power. Immediate result was the formation of a new coalition cabinet, equally composed of Liberals and Conservatives.

Big question was how much Com munists had to do with the Bogota riots.

U.S. Secretary of State George Marshall, who with other Americans in Bogota got through the riots unscathed, claimed the revolt was "The occurrence goes beyond Colombia. It is of the same definite patterns as the occurrences which provoked strikes in France and Italy.' And the Colombian government, in severing relations with Russia, declared that a "Communist insurrection" had touched off the mob fury. Finally, it was announced from

Bogota that the inter-American conference would resume "so that Communism could not triumph over Colombia and the rest of the nations of the hemisphere."

SETTLEMENT:

Coal Strike

John L. Lewis wasn't exactly in the position of a man who had asked friends out to dinner and then found he couldn't pay the check, but he was verging on some such situation.

Half a million soft coal miners started to straggle back to work after a 28-day strike when Lewis informed them that the fight for $100a-month pensions had been won, but Lewis himself had to appear before Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough to answer a contempt of court

Lewis was cited for contempt by Goldsborough, his 1947 nemesis, on the grounds that he ignored an April 3 court order to call off the strike.

Apart from the contempt of court citation, settlement of the coal strike was distinguished mainly by a slightly marvelous amalgam of political action and expedient compro-

Beginning of the end came when Speaker of the House Joseph Martin (Rep., Mass.) moved into the dispute by persuading Lewis and Ezra Van Horn, a mine operator, to meet with him in his office. Martin then suggested that Sen. Styles Bridges (Rep., N.H.) be named the third member of the board which administers the miners' welfare and retirement fund. (Lewis and Van Horn are the other two members.)

At a subsequent meeting of the three, Bridges proposed a plan that would give $100-a-month pensions to 62-year-old miners with 20 years of service who retired after May 28, 1946, the date on which the miners' welfare fund was set up. Bridges' plan was accepted and the strike

Actually, Lewis, in approving the New Hampshire senator's proposal, had descended several notches from his original demands.

Politically, the most fascinating aspect of the affair was how Joe Martin managed to take the play away from the administration in arranging for a settlement.

In his South St. Paul home Stassen gri-ned with the comfortable cheer of a cat who had just swiped all the cream in Wisconsin as he sat with his wife and received reports stating that he had run off with 19 of the 27 delegates in that state's primary election.

PRIMARIES:

Wisconsin

Wisconsin's presidential primary election to choose delegates to the Republican national convention in Philadelphia on June 21 was regarded, as usual, as a straw in the wind; but this year the political breeze was a shifting one.

For Harold Stassen, ex-governor of Minnesota, a hard, thorough campaign waged by himself and his volunteer supporters up and down the state paid off nobly when Wisconsin voters granted him a total of 19 of the state's 27 delegates to the GOP convention.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur took the remaining eight to run a poor second, despite a flamboyant publicity drive carried out by his backers (notably the Hearst newspapers) which was built around the theory that he is "the only man equipped to deal with Russia.'

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York drew a complete blank in Wisconsin, where he had been the Republican favorite in 1940 and again in 1944

As a result of the Wisconsin election, Stassen was catapulted into public consciousness as a leading contender for the Republican nomination. It was certain that his topheavy victory there would be reflected in the other primaries to follow, and that he had gained considerable stature in the Midwest.

It was difficult to tell which of the two losers-Dewey or MacArthur -had been hit harder by his defeat. Dewey, who received no delegates, might seem to be in a position similar to that of Wendell Willkie in 1944 when he withdrew from the GOP race after losing ignominiously in the Wisconsin primary. But the New York governor previously had beaten Stassen in the New Hampshire primary, and, also, he had the full slate of New York delegates pledged to

It was on MacArthur, who had claimed Wisconsin as his home state, that the axe of public disfavor appeared to have fallen with great-

More To Come

From Wisconsin the election year wind swung to the plains of Nebraska where seven leading contenders in the Republican presidential race fought it out in a free-for-all match. with Stassen again emerging as the big winner.

After Nebraska the battlefield shifted to Pennsylvania and Massa-chusetts on April 27. A total of 108 delegates to the GOP convention was at stake.

On May 4 Harold Stassen was to carry the fight to Sen. Howard Taft's home arena, the state of Ohio. It was no secret that Taft was worried over which way his fellow Ohioans might go, and a good showing by Stassen would hamper materially Taft's White House ambitions.

In his second pitched battle with Governor Dewey (New Hampshire was the first) Stassen was slated to invade Oregon for that state's GOP primary on May 21. While results of the Oregon primary were not expected to be conclusive, they would serve to provide a first sampling of West coast opinion.

Final state presidential primary on the Republican side occurs in California on June 1.

Famous St. Bernards Seek Rescue Work

Modern means of travel have rendered the famous St. Bernard Hospice in Switzerland almost unnecessary. It is to be closed after nearly 1,000 years of service. The monks and dogs will live in the Rhone Valley from now on.

Its head Prior Lucien Gailloud has explained that the hospice is not to be abandoned completely. Four dogs will stay for rescue work. Some time ago several dogs were sent to Tibet to establish in the mountains a branch of the Great St. Bernard Hospice. The kennels for the famous dogs are located at Martigny.

Weybody LIVES IN GLASS HOUSES.

Glass is so closely linked with everyday living that you can't imagine doing without it. No, and there is no more vivid example of Nature's resources put to work for mankind than in glass. Sand, lime and soda by themselves have little value, and their uses are relatively few. But when they are united in the form of usable glass products they take on new importance.

So it is with natural gas, too. This great natural resource would be worthless if left in the ground. It is only when companies like United Gas move it to market—make it available for use—that it is given value.

This is practical conservation...putting Nature's resources to work.

Efficient, low-cost natural gas sparks industrial development, creates new jobs, benefits all the families in Texas.

Sam's Hens Wear Spectacles!

Yes, it's a fact! Sam's brood of two dozen hens are wearing spectacles - which he bought from a mail-order house in Capitol City.

Sam says it works (and big poultry raisers say so, too). The nens see each other through soft colored glasses, and instead of fighting and picking at each other, they go around placidly, gain weight, and lay more eggs.

Makes me almost wish we could have rose-colored glasses for huc man beings, too. So that instead of quarreling and criticizing, like we do so much of the time, we'd live and let live in contentment.

From where I sit, the human race wastes a powerful lot of time in wrangling over minor issues . . . whether a man should drink beer or cider... whether a woman should wear slacks or skirts . . . instead of seeing each other through "spectacles" of tolerance that enable us to live-and-let-live like Sam's brood of chickens.

Marathon — the famous money saving tire is back in the Goodyear line — and a better "buy" than ever! Back with the economy, long mileage and safety the extra value for your dollars that made Marathon the favorite of millions of motorists before the war . . . back with more and stronger cords in the rugged tire body for even greater protection against tire failure. Look at these features . . .

LONG WEAR - New specially treated cords and newly compounded rubber make Marathon the tire that "runs and runs and runs".

NON-SKID SAFETY - Those famous Goodyear diamond blocks really grip the road. You get safer, quicker stops — especially on wet, skiddy roads.

"COMPACTING TREAD" — Inflation forces the side-walls out, compacts the tread. This reduces tread wear, punctures, bruises and breaks.

For a really sensational "buy" in tires, see us for Marathons today! And remember "new tubes save tires".

If Social Calendar Is Busy, Make Your Glamour Clothes

By Ertta Haley

GIRLS who are getting out of school invariably find their so-cial calendars full to overflowing these days and this calls for rather a sizeable investment in what they refer to as glamour togs.

No average family budget can stand the strain of this because there is necessarily an outlay for clothing for other members of the family. But if mother and daughter take to the needle or sewing machine, they can turn out two or three formals that will do the trick.

A formal may look especially tricky but for those of you who never have sewed one, the news is a wonderful surprise. It's much easier than you think.

First of all, the fabrics you choose are among the easiest to sew. Organdie, eyelet and even tulle just all seem to go where you want them to while you run them on the machine or let the needle traverse the penciled or basted lines.

If you are inexperienced, choose one of the simpler designs and ask someone who knows whether the material you are working with will let itself be readily molded into something beautiful under your inexperienced fingers.

Stay away from severe fitted dresses that look deceptively easy. They require a fitting skill that demands years of experience.

Don't Let Full Skirts Or Ruffles Trouble You

If full skirts and ruffles look tough to tackle, relax. Full skirts are easy, as you'll undoubtedly see when you run a basting stitch through the material and try to gather it.

Ruffles are easy, too, and if you have a ruffler attachment on the sewing machine, these are true simplicity. If you're the sweet feminine type, you'll find that ruffles are just the thing this season, but don't attempt the really elaborate treatment of them-not so much bement of them—not so much be-ing nicer for a bouffant frock of cause the ruffles are hard to make organdie. Use flowers that will go placed in small triangles along the skirt. back of the skirt.

However, ruffle trimming along the hem, or around the sleeves or neckline can be managed easily. They should be hemmed before you ruffle, of course.

Swishy taffeta and faille are among the materials you also will be using. Neither of them is difficult to handle if you are careful about basting, and this is extremely essential as they tend to slip.

If your budget can't afford a formal, it would be simplicity itself to make one of those large full skirts, and then to buy an intricate Gibson girl blouse to complete the picture.

Are pretty in eyelet or organdie.

This type of skirt can, of course, be worn with several different kind of tops, and that may be all you need for your dates.

Practical Net Skirt Worn Three Ways

A full skirt of black or white net can be very practical. The skirt itself should be four to five yards wide, with four or five rows of gathers at the waist. It should be finished with a firm belt.

The first frothy topping for this skirt may be of net which is shirred closely to the bodice. Finish with straps of wide ribbon or a rhinestone band.

The second topping may be made of taffeta. This should be chosen in your best color. The same material may be made into bows and tacked with tiny stitches to the skirt. The third top may be made of net, crossing the front and back to give you a V neckline. A large flower worn at the shoulder is all that is to complete the costume.

thing to remember in is that it will ravel and afore, be dinished at the fective in

Glamour Frock

With commencement parties and dances ahead, you'll want variety in glamour clothes. You can solve the problem by taking to your sewing machine and avoid running into budget difficulties. The above dress is a nice style for gayhearted occasions. It's a demure full-skirted dress of crisp, white eyelet embroidered the hemline with a similar treat-

The slip worn under it may be of taffeta or rayon to match. The slip does not have to be as full as the skirt, but it must be of closely woven heavy material.

Select Simple Trimming For Formal Dress There is a variety of trimmings to use for dressy dresses and there are several types practical for home Applique is one of them, and if you can stitch neatly, there is nothbut because it's sometimes diffi- well with the color of your frock cult to insert them when they're and use them on the wide, full If you like shirring, this may be done on the gathering foot or ruffler attachment. Finger your material, and be assured first whether it will hang well, whether it will be limp or bouffant before you actually start the work. Bows, of course, may be used on youthful frocks and are very effective. Finished ribbon, carefully tied and tacked, can lend a dramatic air to a bouffant frock.

If you have chosen one of the ankle length frocks, a full taffeta slip with a ruffled edging peeking underneath it is all the fashion interest you actually need. Ribbons are being used, run through eyelet on slip trimmings to give them an old fashioned air.

Your wrap may be a short coat in one of the lovely pastels. When you select it, make certain it will be of good daytime use.

WHITE'S THE THING It's a white blouse season, but if you think all of them are trimmed with ruffles, look again. These are distinctly tailored blouses in sleek fabrics such as poplin, broadcloth and linen. You'll see sleeve fullress, gathered close at the wrist, dolman sleeves, standing collars or none at all.

Be Smart!

Watch those dolman-type stes in many variations, and of depth and fullness, a counter-balance to wide These sleeves fective in !
