Baseball News

The boys are looking for a big crowd at Sunday's ball game here with Groom. The Groom team and the locals have been battling each other mighty close for the last two years, most of the games being decided by one run. The game will start at 3 p. m. Groom beat Vega last Sunday 9 to 6.

Quite a bit of a fence was put up this week. People from all the community come to these games and it is a mighty good place for an ad. Better get your name on the boards before all the choice places are taken.

The boys played good ball last Sunday, but the breaks were against them and Panhandle won 9 to 6.

Notice

Parents of children to be transferred this fall are asked to come to the County Superintendent's office and get this done as early as possible. The deadline is August 1, 1948.

We want to thank the people of Hedley for stopping by when passing through Claude, and invite all of you to visit us again. Your trade is appreciated.

M. Y. F. Meeting

Ninety-seven members and guests of the Sub-District Methodist Youth Fellowship registered at the local Methodist Church Tuesday evening, July 13. The group participated in a general discussion of different topics concerning World Peace, conducted by a Caravan led by four young people from Virginia, Tennessee, Mississippi and Illinois in the basement of the church.

The group entered the Main Auditorium to soft music. The program was especially impressive with the candle lit altar arrangement. Group singing was followed by a scripture lesson read by Jerald Sims. A special quartet preceded the main address, a challenging oration on "Holy Ground." The program closed with the group singing "Into My Heart", and a prayer led by Henry Moore.

After a short business meeting, presided over by David Horace Duvall of Lakeview, the group went to the basement where refreshments of punch and sandwiches were served. The recreation included folk dances and games. The evening was concluded by forming the Friendship circle, and the group declared Hedley M. Y. F. as the perfect hosts to an enjoyable and profitable evening.

The Junior and Intermediate groups of the Methodist church met Friday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jap Shaw, with their sponsors, Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. C. L. Johnson, also Rev. and Mrs. Story.

GOP Convention Hands Nomination To Dewey in Display of Unanimity; Warren Second Choice on Ticket

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

GOVERNOR DEWEY AND FAMILY ... They want a new, white house ...

DEWEY EYED GOP Convention

Out of the smoke-blurred rooms during the recess before the third roll call came the word: It was Dewey—first again with the medicine men.

From the very beginning of the GOP convention in the sweltering confines of Philadelphia's convention hall it was a simple case of Dewey against the field. The field was composed of Taft, Stassen, Vandenberg, Warren and MacArthur, plus a scattering of favorite sons.

But by the time Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois had finished with his keynote address Monday night it was apparent that a stop-Dewey movement was struggling to get under way. As it turned out that movement never did get beyond the struggling stage and Dewey remained virtually the only one unaffected by it.

In retrospect, the convention by that time already had assumed an inexorable course toward the Dewey camp. Second-guessers maintained that the whole affair cozeed along as if motivated by some fundamental and changeless law, although that was not fully evident until the convention could be viewed as a finished product.

If there was a fundamental law it was compounded from a series of heterogeneous factors, political and personal: First of all there was the superbly functioning Dewey machine, operating with almost 100 per cent efficiency to corral votes.

Secondly, the Dewey opposition was divided. Taft and Stassen, poles apart in their political philosophy within the Republican party, could not get together. Stassen flatly refused a deal and Taft kept waiting for a break that never came.

California's Gov. Earl Warren refused to have a hand in a stop-Dewey drive, insisted he was running for the nomination and not just against Dewey. Vandenberg sided to the confusion by remaining silent, noncommittal and even disinterested.

Nomination Actual climax of the convention came when Sen. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania renounced his favorite son candidacy and threw his support, backed by about half the members of Pennsylvania's 73 delegates, to Dewey. That started the blitzkrieg. From then on it was Dewey and downhill all the way.

As the crucial balloting began in humid, steaming convention hall it became more evident that a stop-Dewey coalition had not jelled.

On the first roll call it was Dewey 434, Taft 224, Stassen 166. On the second ballot Dewey had gone up to 515 and Taft to 274, while Stassen dropped to 149.

At that point the convention recessed for three hours, a move engineered by Taft, Stassen and other anti-Dewey leaders to give them time to decide whether or not to continue the fight.

When the convention reconvened for the third roll call the stop-Dewey drive had changed to a nominate-Dewey stampede. Sen. John Bricker of Ohio was the first on the rostrum to withdraw the

CRACKDOWN: Marshal Tito

Russia's iron curtain had twitched apart along its Yugoslavian seam to provide a glimpse of the Communist stage set with the rickety scenery of dissension, fear and insecurity.

Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia was the central figure, but remained so for only a brief instant before his Soviet bosses whisked him off the boards.

Plain fact was that Tito, hitherto the fair-haired boy of eastern European communism, had been all but purged from the Communist party because he was trying to make a play for western capitalism.

Actually he, together with his henchmen in the Yugoslav government, was ousted from the all-important Cominform (Communist information bureau) which was established last year to provide greater unity for the Soviet satellite states of eastern Europe.

Tito and his regime were charged with virtually everything the Soviet politburo considers a crime—ranging from Trotskyism and anti-Sovietism to "ineptness" and "false demagogic tactics."

Behind this official facade which the Communists had thrown up, however, were the real reasons for Tito's expulsion from grace.

As the only wartime hero of the Communists the Yugoslav marshal had begun to take himself too seriously, hence, was beginning to feel the need to express his own opinions and policies on matters political and economic. Stalin wanted no other boss in his sphere.

Tito was building up a "personal police" army which was molesting other Communists, including Russians, in Belgrade. Also, he had followed an independent foreign policy without Moscow's approval.

Finally he committed the cardinal sin of currying favor with western capitalist diplomats with an eye to obtaining reconstruction credits for Yugoslavia.

SERVICE: Drafting

That draft which men in the 19-through-25 age group are beginning to feel is the result of the U. S. armed forces drawing in their breath and preparing to expand all over the place.

Between next fall and next summer the services plan on calling about 30,000 draft-age young men every month. Drafting is scheduled to start about September 22.

With a strength of 337,000 authorized by congress in the selective service bill, the army has estimated that it will need between 225,000 and 250,000 selectees to approach its authorized strength. That number is in addition to the 250,000 or 300,000 volunteers it so fervently hopes it will get.

In discussing plans for this second peacetime draft in U. S. history, Army Secretary Kenneth Royall explained that the army now has 542,000 men but it won't jump to the 837,000 figure immediately because funds for the fiscal year which began July 1 are not sufficient.

Thus, by July 1, 1949, the size of the army will be an estimated 790,000. The peacetime draft is a relatively slow-functioning process. Certainly it can't compare with the wartime levying of manpower. Peak of the induction rate during the war was reached in February, 1943, when 406,374 men received their greetings.

When the army attains its full 837,000 strength it will consist of 12 regular army divisions. Backstopping these will be six national guard divisions, together with other supporting elements such as anti-aircraft artillery and service troops.

BLOCKADE: Berlin

Russia's freight blockade of Berlin, while a stark enough action in its own right, nevertheless was a secondary manifestation of the same old cold war crisis arising out of the Soviet bid for power in Europe.

While American and British planes by the hundreds were flying in food to besieged Berliners the western powers were pondering a question they had had to answer in 1938 when Hitler was in power—whether or not to appease.

Long range plans of the Kremlin, of which the Berlin blockade is just one phase, call for the forcing of the western Allies out of Berlin. This, according to Soviet thinking, could be done by either of two means: Either by threats and terrorization involving the risk of war, or by a four-power negotiation which could be hoped to result in a western appeasement policy such as grew out of the ill-starred Munich conference of 1938.

Britain and the U. S. are on a dangerous spot. If they pulled out of Berlin under pressure of force applied by Russia the power and influence of western democracy would be perilously weakened in Europe.

Emotional Asthma

Asthma, with its painful choking and wheezing, often may be the result of an emotional disturbance rather than being brought on by purely physical factors.

Dr. F. B. Schutzbank of Tuscon, Ariz., told the American Medical association meeting in Chicago that many of the asthmatic victims who flee to Arizona for relief could save the trip simply by curbing their feuds, quarrels and other distresses.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

More "go"... for your dough!

When you come right down to it, what you want from a premium motor oil is... the best possible protection and the least added oil from the time you fill till the time you drain.

Conoco N^o 1 Motor Oil (patented) gives you more for your money because (1) when N^o 1 Oil enters your motor, it OIL-PLATES every working part with an invisible film of lubricant and (2) this OIL-PLATING actually stays up on cylinder walls... won't all drain down, even overnight!

That means you're extra-protected against power-clogging sludge and carbon due to wear... extra-protected against metal-eating combustion acids... extra-protected against destructive friction.

So, to keep your power... to get more "go" for your dough...

Make a date to OIL-PLATE!

Canned Fruits Aid Health (See directions below)

Stock up on Fruit NOW IS THE TIME to use summer's plenty to bolster winter diet patterns and add nutrition to them.

IF YOU DEPEND upon home-canned fruit as a main item for winter, it's a good idea to make up a canning budget.

DIFFERENT VARIETIES of fruit come out better in the canning process than others. If you will study these tips and abide by them you'll have fine results.

Applies to be canned whole should be bright and red and hold their shape well although cooked. You'll find that Jonathans work out nicely for this method.

For applesauce, tart apples like Duchesse, Maiden Blush, Greenings or Early Transparent are best because they cook to a mush easily.

Firm, well-ripened peaches make the best canned ones. Select Elbertas or Hales that are fine textured and delicately flavored.

LYNN SAYS: You Need to Know These Canning Terms Acid foods include fruits, tomatoes, ripe pimientos, sauerkraut and green peppers.

Non-acid foods are vegetables, meats, fish, poultry, game and soup mixtures. Precooking means boiling food a short time until it is thoroughly heated.

Head space is the space left, when filling a jar, at the top.

Bartlett pears are good for canning but some people prefer the smaller Kieffer variety, which also are good if they are allowed to ripen in a cool place (60 degrees) for a week or two after picking.

HAVE YOU EVER found yourself in the midst of packing fruit into jars and suddenly discovered that you won't have enough?

Use only fresh fruit and berries for canning. Discard those with badly broken skins, broken or over-ripe specimens.

Fill jars to within one and one-half inches of top; add syrup to within one-half inch of the top.

Place into a boiling water bath (with water coming an inch or two above the jar.) Count processing time from the time the water starts to boil, not when it is just simmering, unless so specified.

After 24 hours cooling period, wash the jars off with a damp cloth, dry and label. Store in a cool, dry place.

Boiling water bath, sometimes called hot water bath, equipment consists of a large vessel such as a wash boiler, lard can or kettle the bottom of which is fitted with a rack or platform on which to set jars while they are processing.

Sealing means closing the jars airtight. Cold pack means filling the with food in its raw form. Hot pack means filling with hot food from

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Here's a good treatment for scorched linen. Rub the flat side of a raw onion on the discolored area, then soak in cold water for several hours.

Remove wrappers from soap soon as you get it home so the soap will get at it while it's stored. Soap lasts longer than does fresh soap.

You can forestall the tarnishing of gold and silver slippers by wrapping them in old stockings when the shoes aren't being worn.

When your silver polish dries, you can usually remedy it adding water slowly.

Revive putty that's gotten dry and hard by mixing it well with a few drops of linseed oil.
