COLD WAR

Villian Revealed

At last something had happened that could and did make people understand what this Russian situation was all about.

It had been pretty difficult going for the world public to perceive the basic truth when it was obscured by confusing circumstances like currency reform in Berlin, control of the German Ruhr, a maze of spies at home and political annihilation of small European nations by

What it all amounted to, as far as most people were concerned, was a mess of verbal pottage that they wouldn't trade for the comics page any day of the week.

Then it happened. Mrs. Oksana Kosenkina, the Russian school teacher, jumped from a third-story window in the Soviet consulate in for political campaign effect, the New York to achieve the liberty she Republicans charged bitterly. so desperately sought.

Mikhail Samarin, the other Russian school teacher, was wanted by the Russians but managed to retain his freedom. Refusing the Soviet demand that he return to Russia, he tossed this scallion for the Communists into the propaganda war: "I won't return to death."

And finally, in England Olympic claim that actual expenses will to-athletes from Czechoslovakia and tal 38 billion. They charged, too, other Soviet satellite states were that the President had figured the steadfastly refusing to return to their home countries after their taste of a free land.

It all added up to the biggest break the western nations have had yet in their propaganda battle with

This was simple, basic, understandable: These people from the land of the Soviets-the schoolteachers and athletes-utterly despised the idea of returning. They simply would not do it.

Thus, it was in the end a few ordinary persons who destroyed the elaborate fabrication which Moscow had constructed to represent to the world the ideal way of life that existed in the Soviet Union.

One Voice of America spokesman said: "This is what we have been waiting for in our war of words. This is something that can be easily understood by people all over the

The Communists tried frantically to cover this breach in their curtain | chiatry at Boston university. by calling it, among other things, an underground conspiracy in the U.S. to wreck any possibility for peace between the two nations.

But the villian's disguise was off now and everyone knew him. Try as they might, the Communists never would be able to explain why two obscure school teachers would seek why Russia was so determined to a harsh environment. Under stress get them back,

PARLEY:

Failure

From Moscow came crushing news for all those hoping for peace; The talks between the western democracies and Russia were reportto be on the brink of failure.

Barring a last-minute miracle in the conferences between the U.S., England, France and Russia, the East-West stalemate would continue, along with the Soviet blockade of Berlin

It was reported that the western powers were getting ready to stay in Berlin under conditions of economic siege, planning to maintain and enlarge the air lift to supply the 2.5 million persons in their

There was, however, one slim chance that utter failure could be avoided. The three western ambassadors were scheduled for a final talk with Premier Stalin, and it was a possibility that the negotiations might be rescued. But the odds against agreement stood at about five to one, officials said. If the conference ended in the anticipated failure, it was thought that the Big Four governments would try to conceal the extent of the fiasco from the public in order to avoid the even greater degenera-tion of East-West relationships that undoubtedly would result if everyone knew just how hopeless the case

However, if the Moscow talks did break up in futility it would not mean necessarily that all similar negotiations would be abandoned It would mean that any further effort to reopen them would be delayed until at least next spring-possibly March-after the election and inauguration.

MASARYK:

Murdered?

Last Marche 10 Jan Masaryk, foreign minister of Czechoslovakis under the Communist regime, fell to his death from a third-story window in the foreign office in Prague.

Since then Masaryk's friends, as well as many who never knew him but admired him because of his hopeless fight in behalf of Czechoslovakia's national liberty, have speculated long as to whether he committed suicide or was killed by Mr. Truman had said that federal the Communists who wanted him expenditures this year would hit 42 out of the way.

The official Communist version of the incident was suicide, but too many persons had too many doubts to let it rest at that.

Then, suddenly, last month the doubts were crystallized. Dr. Oskar national income 3.4 billion dollars Just who was right in the matter, Klinger, Masaryk's personal physiif anyone, was impossible to say. cian, asserted that the Czech states-The entire affair had many of the man did not commit suicide.

With the remaining men closing n, Klinger's version went, Masaryk was forced closer and closer to the window. Then, the men either threw him out the window or, overwhelmed by fear, Masaryk flung himself out.

In proof of his conviction, Klinger offered this evidence:

Masaryk would never have committed suicide because he was afraid of physical pain. Also, he who seeks the reason for the failleft no note or letter-a usual pracure of human relations in the inditice in suicides.

Shots were heard in the building the night he died, and four coffins were carried from the place that morning before the Czech commission arrived to inspect Masaryk's body, indicating that four perso might have been killed during the ? Current Events ?

Here are five questions, based on recent happenings in the news, which are guaranteed not to keep you awake nights. Unless, that is, you stay up late to read the paper anyway. 1. Several witnesses before the house un-American activities committee, refusing to answer questions about Communist activities, invoked the fifth amendment to the Constitution. What does the amendment say?

2. President Truman said recently that a woman president of the U. S. "was not only a possibility, but a probability" some day. At present the Constitution prohibits a woman from becoming president. True or false?

3. Population of the U. S. is 143,414,000. Name the nations that have larger populations in order of their size.

4. What outstanding war events took place three years ago on these dates: August 8, August 9, August 14?

5. Born in 1865, he was governor of Kansas from 1915 to 1919 and became a senator in 1919. Recently he retired from the senate as its senior member in point of service. Who is he?

ANSWERS. 1. "No person. shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself."

2. False. Only presidential qualifications required are that he be born in the U. S., be a resident of the country for 14 years and at least 35 years old.

Despite all-time record production and the bumper crops forecast for this year, U. S. railroads do not expect as tight a boxcar situation this autumn as has prevailed during the past several years.

Southwestern grain, bulking larger than any other section, has begun to taper off, more cars are available in the Northwest this year than last and terminals still have space for storage.

HOW YOU WILL

This month Americans celebrate Independence. Down through the decades they have cherished and fought to maintain Independence and Sccurity, for both the nation and for themselves, For Security, U. S. Savings Bonds offer the safest means of building your future. Every dollar invested in Savings Bonds today is part of your "take home care." today is part of your "take home sav-ings"—money that GROWS. There's no safer or easier way to save than through the Payroll Savings Plan. Use that sal-ary increase, made possible through tax reductions, to step up your purchase of Savings Bonds. Or, for the self-employed, the Bond-a-Month Plan where your bank provides the automatic, profitable way to assure continued Independence.

DALLAS, TEXAS

Bring on the MATERIAL We're ready for it!

"Bring on the material, we're ready for it," says Reddy Kilowatt and his fellow workers. "We are pushing the work on our Company's $18,000,000 construction program to supply more and better electric service to more and more West Texas homes, farms, and industries."

Yes, Reddy, thanks to the West Texas Utilities Company's policy of anticipating future needs, most of the material you need to keep the construction program rolling is on hand or scheduled for delivery as needed. In fact, much of the material to be used in this construction program was ordered nearly two years ago! However, due to the continuing critical shortages of heavy electrical equipment and wire, deliveries are just now being made on materials ordered as early as September, 1946.

Eighteen million dollars! Each of those dollars, Reddy, is a vote of confidence in the growth and development of West Texas.

Emerging from his private of fice, a stern employer found a young man talking to his receptionist. Furious, he directed his office manager to pay the boy a week's wages and get rid of him immediately.

This done, the employer turned to the office manager and demanded:

"Who in the world hired that boy in the first place?"
"Nobody, sir," said the manager. "He never worked for us."

QUESTION: How should plaster walls that show dampness through the wallpaper be treated? Some say that using black asphaltum on the wall would waterproof it. But how will wallpaper be over this material? Aluminum paint is said to be good for sealing the wall. But will wallpaper hold over this?

ANSWER: I would not advise using black asphaltum for this purpose. Your wallpaper may be pulpy and absorbent, and probably the plaster also absorbs and holds much of the dampness from the air. Before repapering, and after removing the present paper, try the effect of painting the walls with good aluminum paint. Let this dry, apply a glue size, and then hang a washable type of wallpaper or an oilcloth type of wall covering. If there is excessive moisture in the air of your house, try to locate the QUESTION: There is a "ring" in the ceiling where some patching had been done. Will this correct itself if the ceiling is repapered after a lapse of several months?

ANSWER: It is possible that the plaster may have disintegrated from excessive dampness or leakage, and the discoloration should be examined by a plasterer and taken care of before paper is hung. When the patching was done, it may be that not enough plaster was cut out, and a damaged area still remains.

THE POUBLE FILTERED BURNS MOROLINE

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and wo irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—ita risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

Diood.
You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent uringstion.

Relishes Will Add Zestful Touch to Meals (See recipes below)

Canning Relishes

BY THIS TIME you undoubtedly have finished your fruit and vegetable canning, but there still remain late-in-the-season relishes. Those spicy, zesty accompaniments to meat and other entrees are almost as essential as the fruits and vegetables, and many women do not consider their canning com-plete without them.

Most relishes are easy to put up and there is little opportunity for spoilage if directions are followed. Enlist some help from the family for cutting up some of the vegetables and fruits and work will go forward rapidly.

SPICED GRAPES are delightful with mild-flavored meats such as lamb, veal and chicken.

Spiced Grapes quarts stemmed grapes cups sugar cups vinegar teaspoon grated nutmeg teaspoons ground einnamon teaspoon ground cloves

1 teaspoon ground ginger Pry seeds from grapes, Drain Boil sugar, vinegar and spices for five minutes. Add grapes and cook until thick. Pour into hot sterile jars and seal at once. If you aren't certain you have enough spreads for bread already canned, make some spicy, delicious apple butter. It may be used in sandwiches, cookies or as spread for biscuits and muffins.

* Apple Butter peck apples 1 gallon sweet cider cups sugar

1 tablespoon einnamon 1/2 teaspoon cloves Wash and slice apples. Add cider and cook until soft. Press through sieve. Boil the strained pulp until thick enough to heap on a spoon, then add sugar mixed with spices and continue boiling until so thick that no liquids runs from the apples. Pour into hot jars and process for 10 minutes in a boiling water bath. Complete sealing if neces-

. . . RELISHES SHOULD be moist but not juicy. Chief ingredients in them should have a firm rather than mushy consistency. Vegetables in both of these relishes should be finely chopped. Chow-Chow

1 gallon chopped cabbage 12 onions 12 green peppers 12 red peppers 2 quarts tomatoes, chopped

5 cups sugar 4 tablespoons ground mustard

1 tablespoon turmeric 1 tablespoon ground ginger 4 tablespoons mustard seed 3 tablespoons celery seed 2 tablespoons mixed pickling spice

1 gallon vinegar Mix all vegetables, which have first been chopped, with one-half cup salt. Let stand overnight, then drain. Tie spices in a bag. Add sugar and spices to vinegar. Simmer 20 minutes. Add all ingredients and simmer until hot and well seasoned. Remove spice bag and pack hot chow-chow into sterile jars; seal at once.

LYNN SAYS: Following Rules for Pickling Fruits and Vegetables

Pickles should be crisp and firm, solid and evenly colored. The correct color for the green pickle is olive rather than bright green. Pack sufficient liquid in the jars in which you can pickles so that those on top will not shrivel. Fresh spices are your best guarstand so only freshly opened packages should be used.

CLOVE APPLES are very popular with roast pork dinners. If you add a few drops of red food coloring, the apples will be pretty and eye-catching.
Clove Apples

2 pounds prepared apples 4 cups sugar 21/2 cups water

1 tablespoon crushed ginger root or mixed whole spices 12 whole cloves Food coloring

Use apples that hold shape after cooking. Pare, core and cut large apples in halves or quarters. Pare and core small apples, but leave whole. Boil sugar, water and cloves with food color with the peelings of two or three red apples until the jellying point is reached (220 degrees). Remove cloves and peelings, pour syrup over apples.

Crab Apple Pickles 1 gallon crab apples 6-8 cups sugar 3 cups water 4 cups vinegar 1 stick einnamon

1 tablespoon ginger 1 tablespoon whole cloves 1/2 tablespoon whole allspice Wash and pierce each apple with a needle. Heat sugar, liquids and spices, tied in a bag, until sugar dissolves. Cool. Add apples and simmer until tender. Let stand several nours or overnight. Pack cold into sterile jars.

Released by WNU Features.

Fruits and vegetables used for pickling should not be overripe. The same rules for selecting pickling material as for general canning holds true.

When making fruit pickles, cut the fruit in uniform sizes and shapes so the pickles look attractive when served. The syrup for fruit pickles is as thick as that for preserves.

Vegetables which are brined antee of flavor when making should be kept thoroughly covered pickles. Spices lose flavor as they with the brine, otherwise those standing uncovered by brine will spoil.

Columbus Letter Up for Sale

A rare auction of important historical documents will be held in London soon. Probably the item which will command the highest price is the letter written by Christopher Columbus in which he announced his discovery of the New World.

This letter is one of the 7,000 rare documents dealing with five centuries of North and South American history to be sold. They are in a collection formed by the late Sir Leicester Harmsworth. Among the other items are the prayer book of Benjamin Franklin and the deed of sale of East New Jersey by William Penn, founder of Pennsylvania.
