BERLIN:

Up The Barriers

What had really impelled the Russians to lift the Berlin blockade, and how would the action affect world peace?

Those were two top questions actuating western power diplomats as a semblance of peace was re-stored to the troubled Berlin sector of Germany and the U.S. airlift

MANY OBSERVERS professed to see in the Russian action proof that the U.S. airlift operations had shown the Soviets so decisively the futility of maintaining the blockade, that even the obtuse easterners finally had seen the light.

There were others who insisted the blockade lift decision was motivated by a hope within the Kremlin that such an action would delay formation of a German people's government. However, this did not seem a tenable theory, inasmuch as the western powers already had declared plans to go ahead with such a project.

Seekers of peace attempted to see in the decision evidence that Russia really did not mean to make war now and that some as-yet-obscure Slash Urged motive looking toward continuation of Red expansion without recourse to arms was really behind the

SINCE MOSCOW'S original announcement concerning the end to the blockade, the order was broadened. Restoration of "transport, trade and communications" services was directed.

The order permitted 16 freight trains a day to move into Berlin, restored highway traffic, waived previous Soviet claims to search Allied baggage, and demanded Soviet travel permits at certain check points. Mail service was also to be restored. Actually, the Soviet order restored the Berlin situation to what it was on March 1, 1948.

Both British and Americans ance. moved in reinforcements for the small units at border points to such levies as taxes on the transcheck papers of travelers and hotels and rooming houses had filled with persons waiting for the barriers to impede an orderly withdrawal from be raised.

ROAD SAFETY:

For Boys & Girls

In the year 1947-figures for last year are not yet available—National Safety Council figures showed that 7,150 persons between the ages of 15 and 24 were killed in automobile accidents on American highways. In addition 330,000 boys and girls within that age group were injured in highway

ACCIDENT REPORTS from 29 states last year disclosed that 27 per cent of all drivers involved in accidents - or nearly one out of three - were under 25 years of age.

That was an appalling toll of the nation's youths and something, it appeared, should be done about it. Now, something was being done about it. The Inter-Industry highway safety committee had come up with a program designed to enlist the aid of youth itself in cutting down highway accidents and fatalities among the nation's youth.

The program is one of education which would tend to encourage greater responsibility on the part of younger drivers when using the family car. Program material now is being distributed to national organizations which agree to help sponsor the movement. The program is centered around drivers 15 to 25 years of age.

CHIEF INTEREST-and-cooperation-getter in the program are "man-to-man" and "Dad-to-Daughter" agreement cards. The agreements are for the signature of eligible sons and daughters with fathers, and outline eight good driving practices which the oung drivers agree to observe while using the family car.

All state and local public support organizations were urged to take advantage of this opportunity to help reduce highway traffic accidents involving youngsters.

Those interested were directed to write: Inter-Industry highway safety committee, 1026 17th street, N. W., Washington 6, D. C.

WHEAT YIELD: Near-Record Crop

With wheat surplus already straining grower and governmental ingenuity in housing it, word was that the United States may approach a new crop record during the new season, Farmers, already off to a good start, were not surprised at a U.S. department of agriculture estimate of more than a billion, 21 million bushels from the winter-wheat crop. That estimate was nearly several weeks ago.

No official forecast was given on spring wheat, but the department said prospects point to around 300 million bushels for that type of OFFICIALS indicated the tremendous wheat yield will create further surplus and might lead to government controls designed to cut the acreage in 1950 between 15 and 25 per cent. Controls would include planting restrictions and possibly marketing quotas for individual farmers.

No forecasts were given on other rops except rve, hav a peaches. But the department said reports from various parts of the country indicated progress of 1949 crops is encouraging. Rye production was estimated at 22 million bushels, second smallest acreage in 75 years. The hay crop was put at 101 million tons, a more than average yield. The peach crop in 10 southeastern states was forecast at approximately 15 million bushels, about the same as last rent business trends justify an year.

"Iron Man"

President Harry S. Truman is shown lighting the candles on a pre-birthday cake presented to him by the White House staff. Bundles in front of him represent only a portion of the birthday greetings he received. Having observed his 65th natal anniversary, the President was described as being in excellent physical condition-a veritable "Iron man."

Lose in Stretch

It was a rough day for London merchants. Thousands of women besieged west end stores in the biggest nylon stocking hunt London had ever seen. Crowds, including some men waited outside the stores at dawn. But it was in vain.

The London Standard had announced the sale, but didn't mention that only 500 pairs of hose were issued to each of the 10 leading stores.

OF COURSE—IT'S Electric!

There was a time when you had to choose between a pretty kitchen and a practical one, but not nowadays. An All-Electric Kitchen is both practical and pretty. It is practical because you base your plans on an Electric Range, Electric Refrigerator, Electric Dishwasher, and plenty of electric outlets for the convenient use of electric mixers, waffle irons, toasters and many, many other electrical appliances. Around these appliances you build "Electric Time-Saving Centers." This equipment does so much of your work for you automatically that you'll have more time for leisure. And it's pretty, because there's practically no limit to what you can do decoration-wise with an All-Electric Kitchen. If you plan to build or remodel, our Home Service Department will be glad to help with your kitchen plans. When a kitchen is both practical and pretty ...

400 MILLION!

Agent

Since organization the Federal Land Bank of Houston has loaned Texas farmers and ranchers in excess of four hundred million dollars. Over three hundred million dollars of these loans have been fully repaid. The source of this vast sum of money is of interest.

For thirty-two years farmers and ranchers have been pledging their land as security for Land Bank loans. These pledges are endorsed by national farm loan associations, accumulated by the bank, and pledged as collateral for bonds. These bonds are sold to the investing public - commercial banks, trust companies, business men, doctors, lawyers, school teachers and others.

In this way the investor has safely employed his funds with American agriculture. He and the farmer have been brought together. It has been good for both. Their business with each other has been productive and sound.

The primary purpose of the Federal Land Bank is to make certain that this condition continues. To do this we must maintain sound credit policies—be constantly alert to new, better, and more economical ways of doing business. With these things accomplished we will insure uninterrupted faith of the investing public-those who supply funds from which we extend long-term farm mortgage credit at a cost consistent with financial safety.

Building A Basement Room

by Roger C. Whitman

Question: We have a project in mind and I am able to do the work myself if I have a little help. We want to dig out a basement under the kitchen; we have two rooms under the house already. Have you any leaflets on tiling out the drain, and footings for concrete blocks? After the basement room is completed, we plan on a kitchen sink and cupboards. Have you any leaflets on plumbing for a kitchen?

Answer: Those are all rather large subjects, and I do not have any leaflets to cover them. If there is a good public library in your town, you should find handbooks on plumbing and piping on file. Other sources of information are the publishing house of Theodore Audel & Company, 49 West 23rd St., New York; also the Popular Mechanics Magazine, 200 East Ontario St., Chicago. The Portland Cement Association, 33 West Grand Ave., Chicago, can supply bulletins on concrete work around the house.

New Gasoline Process

The nation's transportation industries, worried by the current gasoline shortage, have been assured of an abundant supply of liquid fuel at reasonable cost when sufficient plants are placed in operation to use a new synthetic process from natural gas. However, this source of supply is not expected to be widely used for several years.

The first on the recipe pa-rade is an airy-fairy chiffon pie that uses strawberries in the pie mixture as well as in the garnish. It's the perfect dessert to a heavy meal, and may be made well in advance of dinner or luncheon.

*Strawberry Chiffon Pie (Makes 1 9-inch pie)

1 envelope unflavored gelatin

14 cup cold water 1/2 cup hot water

1 cup sugar 1 cup fresh strawberry pulp

and juice

4 teaspoon salt egg whites

cup cream, whipped

1 baked 9-inch pie shell Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve in hot water. Add 34 cup sugar, strawberry pulp and juice, and salt. Cool until mixture begins to thicken and then fold in whipped cream and the stiffly beaten egg whites to which the remaining 1/4 cup of sugar has been added. Pour into a baked pie shell and chill until firm. Garnish with whipped cream and strawberries.

A NOTHER of the season's choice fruits is combined with strawberries to make a delectable pie. Rhubarb and strawberries are a happily wedded combination both from flavor and color standpoint.

Strawberry-Rhubarb Pie (Makes 1 9-inch pie) 114 cups sugar

34 cup flour 1 cup fresh strawberries

2 cups rhubarb 1 recipe pastry 2 tablespoons butter

Sift sugar and flour together and combine 34 of it with the fruit. Line pie pan with pastry, then sprinkle the remaining flour-sugar mixture over the bottom and add the filling. Dot with butter and arrange pastry strips over the top in a lattice design. Bake in a hot (425°) oven for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350°) and bake

2 egg whites, beaten stiff 1/4 cup sugar

Blend together milk and lemon juice. Add egg yolks, cheese and strawberries. Pour into pastry shell. Beat egg whites and slowly add the 1/4 cup sugar, beating constantly. Pile over the pie. Bake in a slow (325°) oven for 15 minutes. Chill pie before serving.

To make a crust for a single pie crust shell (9-inch), as called for in the above recipes, use one cup sifted flour with ½ teaspoon salt. Crumble in 1/3 cup of lard or shertening, and use pastry blendor until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add two to three tablespoons ice water, just enough to hold mix-ture together. Roll lightly and spread into pastry tin. Bake in a hot (450°) oven for 15 to 18 minutes.

Strawberry Cream Tarts

(Makes 6 tarts) 6 baked tart shells

1/2 cup milk cup sugar 1 tablespoon flour

1 egg, well beaten ¼ teaspoon vanilla cup cream, whipped

11/2 cups strawberries 1/2 cup currant jelly Scald the milk, then mix in sugar, flour and beaten egg. Stir constantly, then cook ever hot 601 40 water until thick. Add vanilto, ? la; cool. Fold in whipped cream. Fill tart shells half full of this mixture. Arrange a layer of strawberries on top. Heat the currant elly, until it melts, then spoon one tablespoon of it on top of the strawberries. Let jelly settle.

THERE'S NOTHING like shortcake, many strawberry fans, will say, so here's the recipe for an excellent one:

Strawberry Shortcake

(Serves 6)

2 cups sifted flour 4 teaspoons baking powder 1/2 teaspoon salt

1 tablespoon sugar 1/3 cup butter

1 egg, beaten Sift together dry ingredients. Work in butter with a fork. Add milk, mixed with egg and blend together with flour mixture to make a soft dough. Turn out on floured for 30 minutes longer or until fruit board and divide dough into two parts. Pat each part, roll out and shape into a buttered round tin. individual cakes. Bake 12 minutes in a hot (450°) oven. To serve, split while hot, butter and spread one quart of cleaned and sweetened strawberries. Top with whipped cream or serve plain or with thick cream from a pitcher.

Here's a frozen strawberry des-sert which makes a good dessert for warm evenings:

STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD

SANDY BECKER, the new "Young Dr. Malone" in the CBS daytime serial, started out to be exactly that, a doctor, to please his father. But his mother had always been keen about amateur theatricals; at a tender age he had appeared in a play with her. When he was eight he was making puppets and putting on shows at local church bazaars. So, when half way through pre-medical school, he abandoned the career of his fa-ther's choice and chose a branch of his mother's hobby, radio. He has hobbies of his own, sculpturing and sketching in winter, playing tennis or golf in summer, but baby-sitting with his son and daughter limits his free time.

Cathy Downs, who is featured in Allied Artists' "Massacre River," is knitting like mad, all because she posed in six knitted dresses for a fashion layout, liked them, and decided she could duplicate them berself.

Linda Darnell, Robert Young, Robert Taylor, James Stewart, Clark Gable and a host of other Hollywood stars owe a debt of gratitude to radio comedian Morey Amsterdam. When he was one of the highest paid "special material" writers it was his job to whip up speeches and funny gags to be delivered by the stars when they had to make personal appearance tours.

The success of "Variety Time" has spurred RKO into speeding up production on a big-time vaudeville picture to be called "Make Mine Laugh." It will comprise a batch of new acts and a series of "Flicker Flashbacks" for old-time

Patric Knowles is going to let his rusty Spanish get even rustier from now on. In Mexico on location for RKO's "The Big Steal," he needed soap, asked a storekeeper for "Sopa"-and got a can of soup!

Unlike Hollywoodites, New Yorkers can't get used to seeing movie stars minus their glamor. Ginger Rogers, in a brown suit and little straw hat, looked like any nice working girl. Greta Garbo, in a mannish hat, a raincoat and long false eyelashes, was bitterly disappointing. Marlene Dietrich, wheeling her grandchild in the Park, dealt neatly with an autograph hunter who approachd her. "I'm not really Marlene Dietrich," she said. "People just think I am," and she rapidly wheeled the baby down the path.

If you hear Jack Carson say "clunk," "Moosh" or "dunkie" during h's CBS airer, don't think he's gone berserk. His son asks him to use these strange words so he can impress his friends - then he claims he wrote the script.

Elliott Lewis expects Lady Luck to visit him every time he appears on the "Screen Guild" air show with Ginger Rogers. "Every time I work with Ginger I get a terrific new break in contracts for a new show or recording," he said recently. "She's my good luck charm and I can hardly wait for the day 'Screen Guild'." "Frankie Remley" needed good Horace Heidt is planning a musical comedy to feature the youthful talent discovered on his "Original Youth Opportunity Program." It will be titled "The Kids Break Through," is tentatively scheduled for this fall on Broadway.

The confusion between the Niles brothers, both announcers, reached its climax when producer Hal Wallis wanted an announcer for the picture version of "My Friend Irma." He asked for Niles, got Ken, despite Ken's protesta-tions to his agent that his brother Wendell, not he, was the regular announcer on the air show. Just so he got a Niles, Wallis was content.
