RUSSIA:

A 'Sweet' Note

The Russian theme in international accord was growing a little sweeter, if Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet foreign minister could be taken at his word.

WEARING a broad smile. Vishinsky had urged United Nations members to cooperate. The gesture was made by the chief delegate as he arrived in New York by plane to attend the fourth United Nations general assembly sessions.

Disdaining the usual brusqe "no comment" for reporters, Vishinsky was almost voluble. "The Soviet delegation," he said, "is fully confident that the United Nations is-as the head of the Soviet government, Stalin, said-a serious instrument for the maintenance of peace and international security."

Then he added: "There can be no doubt that the general assembly would be able to solve the important problems before it providing the nations of the U.N. show a sincere desire to cooperate with each other and in accordance with the principles of the U.N. charter.

Other delegates, advised of this and remembering the almost in-numerable Russian "vetoes" in matters where cooperation might have been most valuable, decided elopment at assembly to await ee just how far the le manner would go.

Fire Hazards

Of course one can live in a firetrap-but the question is: How

Reporting that a few structural hazards account for at least half of all farm fires, the NFPA urged farmers to take steps now to eliminate such hazards. These steps were listed as: checking of wiring systems; wetting down of inflammable roofs in dry weather; inspecting heating plants and chimneys, and protection of main buildings with lighting rods.

During the war Mr. Bulb snatcher was very conservation conscious. He made his wife save all the fats from her cooking. He himself saved the waste paper and flattened the tin cans as per instructions, but his wife couldn' understand why he saved dead electric light bulbs.

"We can make the good bulbs last longer," he explained, "by using these dead bulbs during blackouts."

Mathematics

An instructor was teaching a class an intensified course. Realizing that the boys were beginning to show the strain of constant study he decided to ease the situation with a rather pointless question.

"If a chair has four legs is painted white, and rolls on casters, how old am 1?"

The surprised students sat dumbfounded. Then the most backward member of the class supplied the answer, 44.

It was the instructor's turn to be amazed. "That's correct." he said, "but how did you know?"

The student supplied the second answer, "My brother is 22 and he's only half crazy"

The 1.33 billion dollars arms-aidbill had a stalwart supporter in Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (R., Mich.) who termed it a bargain-price peace insurance policy against Communist aggression.

He said he feared that any "meddling" with the bill might impair its force and effect.

Vandenberg, chief Republican spokesman in the senate on foreign policy, declared that the arms-aid program might be regarded either as life insurance or fire insurance and said that in any case it is a bargain policy as far as peace is concerned.

Referring to the North Atlantic defense pact, he said that pact included a pledge to maintain forces that can resist armed attack. Too. he pointed out, European allies have weaknesses that the arms bill would help overcome.

Vandenberg declared that it would be in "honorable keeping" with U.S. treaty obligations to adopt the arms "I think it is definitely and specifically in the interests of our own national defense," he went on. "I think it is a discouragement to war . . . I think it is prime and vital peace insurance."

He argued that the plan to send American tanks, guns and planes to Europe falls squarely within the commitments of the North Atlantic pact which the senate ratified by a vote of 82 to 13.

He denied sending arms abroad would mean the start of an arms race between the East and West.

Vandenberg's active support for the measure was expected to help it materially in winning final adoption in the senate, since many dissident Republicans would probably go along on the basis of Vandenberg's admitted stature in the field of foreign policy and because of his pres-tige in the senate.

U.N. TOP MAN:

Soviets Object

Over Soviet protest, Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulu, anti-Communist campaigner from the Philippine islands, was elected president of the fourth United Nations general assembly. Only the five nations of the Soviet bloc opposed his election.

IGNORING the Soviet attitude, Romulu's first act was an appeal that the delegates make this gathering a real "peace assembly."

According to newsmen, Yugoslavia apparently voted against the Soviet bloc for the first time, in the secret ballot for president, but declined to admit it publicly.

The new president, acknowledging that many obstacles to peace still exist, said the danger of a new war had abated and that the delegates must press this advan-

HE CALLED upon them to move forward boldly in the spirit of international cooperation called for by the Mexican resolution approved unanimously in Paris last year.

Romulu's choice as chief of the assembly was seen as indicating friction in debate on issues as the Soviet bloc could be expected to fight the anti-Communist leader at every turn where opposition could be maintained. Top Russian delegate Vishinsky had also spoken out for harmony, but on the basis of past performance by the Russians, his attitude was open to doubt.

Anti-Red

RAILROADS:

One Fireman

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen wouldn't like it, but nevertheless, there would be only one fireman on diesel locomotives, The presidential emergency board had ruled that a union demand for a second fireman on these locomotives was out of line, rejected the demand.

THE BOARD said simply that there is no need for an extra fireman on diesel-powered locomotives now in use.

TRADE BODY:

Carson Okayed

Despite some vigorous Republi-can opposition, John J. Carson was confirmed by the senate as a mem-ber of the federal trade commis-sion. The Truman appointee was confirmed by a vote of 45 to 25. Carson's economic views came under heaviest fire from the Republicans, with mar with lack of
