to my attention that danger Bull of losing one's life, or being terribly mangled on our Town highways is still going on, Bulleced, ignorant, crazy or drunken drivers being al-lowed thereon, to imperil the lives of all others who may Bill Fill Bill Ellis

Only a few days ago, a Friona lady came very near to death's door at the hands of a--to say the least--careless driver.

The car in which the lady had been riding had parked at her home to allow her to alight from it, and the car had been driven entirely clear of the pavement and the lady had gotten out and had started to go into her home, when she stopped and stepped back to hear something that had been said to her by her driver friend.

At that instant a pick-up, driven by a woman, swerved from the pavement and dashed between the car and the lady's house, missing her by only a few inches.

Had the lady continued her way toward the house, she would have been directly in the way of the oncoming pick-up, and her life would have been dashed out beyond any doubt. An intervening Providence seemed to have been all that saved her.

We all hate war, and the perils of it, but at the same time, we are allowing the lives of more of our citizens to be dashed out in highway crashes due to incompetent drivers, than have been taken in previous wars.

Is it now high time that we as citizens begin to arise in our indignation against such conditions and by the force of public opinion, put a stop to it? If it takes severe measures to keep incompetent drivers from whatsoever cause, from using our highways, let us adopt such severe measures.

Men and women of that class will not be able to do so much driving on the highways if they are confined behind prison walls, and it is surely a crime to kill a fellow man with an automobile, the same as with a gun or other deadly weapon.

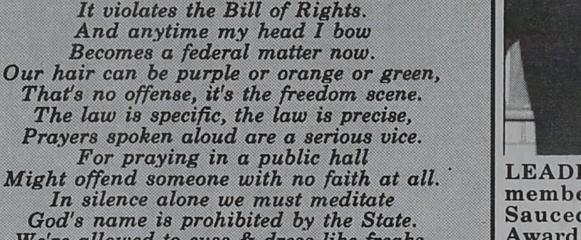

And again, I wish to remind those of our good neighbors, who so carelessly drive from our streets or county roads onto this smooth highway without first looking in each direction to see if there are any approaching cars.

I frequently see this done, thoughtlessly, of course, but it will hurt just as badly if you are struck by one of these rageingly swift-moving cars, as it would if you had driven into their way purposely.

Will you not please, stop, look and listen for your own sake as well as for the sake of others?

(Written by "Uncle John" White, the first editor, in his column in the Friona Star, November 8, 1940. Submitted by John Terry. Just as true today as it was 60 years ago!)

An ad in the same issue as the above read: "For Sale--160 acres within four miles of Friona. Some improvements, price $15.00 per acre, terms. M.A. Crum."

We're allowed to cuss & dress like freaks, And pierce our noses, tongues & cheeks. They've outlawed guns, but FIRST the Bible. To quote the Good Book makes me liable. We can elect a pregnant senior Queen, And the unwed daddy, our senior King. It's "inappropriate" to teach right from wrong, We're taught that such "judgments" do not belong. We can get our condoms, & birth controls, Study witchcraft, vampires & totem poles. But the Ten Commandments are not allowed, No Word of God must reach this crowd. It's scary here, I must confess, When chaos reigns, the school's a mess. So, Lord, this silent plea I make: Should I be shot, M_{γ} soul please take.

John told us he thought the "smooth highway" referred to above was what is now U.S. Highway 60, which was completed through the county in 1939, thereby creating the "high speed traffic." Thanks, John. It's always good to see you. You always have something interesting to bring us! * * * * *

ON SUNDAY of this past week, a raucous crowd of young men, high on alcohol or drugs (or both), made it "open season" on young ladies in Central Park (New York City) following the annual Puerto Rican parade. The thugs groped and assaulted the women as few offered to help, and no policemen were in sight.

The next night, on the opposite coast, after the finals of the NBA tournament, an even-higher charged crowd of young people went completely nuts. They burned and bashed a couple of cars, and even decided to loot some businesses in the area (why not?). This was the hometown of the winning team!

Comment: these are just a couple of reasons that Carol and I enjoy living in "middle America," in a small town, where we can go to the store, be there in five minutes, and not worry about being mugged, raped or beaten up, just because an unruly mob or individual decided to make it open season on someone.

Parmer County Community Hospital continues to provide the latest technology and equipment for the residents of Friona and surrounding communities. The latest addition in equipment is an automated hematology analyzer.

The analyzer will perform complete blood counts, which will include white blood cells, red blood cells, hemoglobin, hematocrit and platelet counts. The lab is excited to have this new piece of equipment available to our patients.

Fugitive Captured On Payday

Sammy Diaz, who was captured by Friona police on May 26 after a foot chase, then eluded deputies on June 10 during another traffic stop and had been on the run since, was arrested last Friday by Parmer County Friday by Parmer County Deputy Sgt. Keith Payne and Reserve Deputy Mac Fields.

Diaz, who fled on foot after being handcuffed during an arrest around midnight June 10, was arrested by Payne and Fields who were waiting in the Excel payroll office.

Sgt. Payne had learned that Diaz had a final paycheck due at Excel, so on the Friday payday they figured he would show up. He did. Diaz was arrested again. Several misdemeanor and felony charges were pending at press time.

Chief Deputy Gary Blair said that after Diaz fled in the handcuffs on June 10, he had removed them with a grinder. "His wrists were in pretty rough shape when he was arrested," Blair said.

There are so many things going on that make good column topics, just picking one a week is like trying to decide the winner in Hawaiian Tropic's swimsuit competition.

For instance, there were the recent riots in LA after the Lakers won a basketball game. I never quite understood the psychology of looting and burning. Then there were the similar antics of a bunch of hoodlums in New York's Central Park who got liquored up and gang groped a bunch of females to celebrate the Puerto Rican parade.

Too bad for them. Video cameras are standard equipment around parades and gropings these days. The police didn't help much. Now the gun control extremists are up in arms because armed officers didn't intervene.

Or how about Algore deciding that investing your money in the stock market is not risky anymore. This startling Algore vision came just after George W. announced a plan to let you invest some of your Social Security deductions in more lucrative accounts.

financial statement and decided there was adequate money in the hint business to keep the mansion afloat.

Mostly her readers send in valuable hints and she reprints them in a syndicated column. For that she is paid enough dough to keep herself in gaily painted driftwood.

Every now and then, the thrifty Heloise readers actually get a hint from her. Such as this recent inquiry from Diane in Roselle Park,

New Jersey: DEAR HELOISE: Can you once and for all tell us if it is safe to store minced garlic in oil in the fridge? I heard someone on television say'it becomes toxic and can be health-threatening. If not, what is recommended?

(Note: the correct answer is that minced garlic has the potential to become toxic no matter where you store it. Garlic is, by nature, a toxic weed.)

I always try to figure out the people who write to Heloise. I think they have too much free time. Their family members are probably schizophrenic trying to remember all those money-saving hints: "NO! Don't you dare throw that Happy Meal sack away. You know I am making a answer to the minced garlic dilemma. She had to call the International Olive Oil Institute. The IOOI said don't put minced or whole garlic in oil. Bacteria can grow in it. Don't take a chance. Just mince the garlic at the time you are going to use it.

Whew! Now I can get on with my career and raising my family.

Marie Eron of Stevens Point, Wisconsin, was bubbling over with glee to share this heart-stopping hint: DEAR HELOISE: My cousin Mary Ann taught me how to keep cookies fresh. We store them in a plastic container in our freezer and only remove enough for a day at a time. The cookies are always fresh and good. (Marie: Don't worry honey! Lots of people never get married!)

Next time the world news is smothering you and you are having your third anxiety attack of the day, flip the paper open to Heloise. Get in touch with the real thinkers of America. Calm down.

And always remember, when stuffing manicotti noodles with cheese mixture, use a cake decorating bag without the decorating tip.

It saves time and is far book of riddles out of them." less messy than us Heloise didn't know the spoon. Happy hinting! less messy than using a FRIDAY, JUNE 23, 2000, PAGE 3-A

Prairie Acres Nursing Home Quilt Display

TURKEY TRACKS QUILT

SCOTTIE QUILT

QUILTS-OF-THE-MONTH on display at Prairie Acres for June are furnished by Betty Louise Rector. The Scottie quilt was started in 1938 by her mother, Lillian McLellan, and the Home Demonstration Club. They like two blocks finishing it and Betty Louise finally finished it this year. The Turkey Track quilt was started in the late 1920s in Oklahoma. It is a family quilt with blocks for seven generations of women and girls, from Betty Louise's great-grandmother down to her great-granddaughter. The quilt top was done by her aunt, Drucilla Paul, and Betty Louise did the embroidery.

it somewhere: Algore will do or say whatever it takes to get the president's job and I predict he will be elected. Sorry W. but Billy Jeff was elected twice by the same people who still live and vote in America.

I could fill an entire page debating the issue of the world's most overrated pro footballer Deion Sanders and his latest mega-bucks scam. Why do rational business people keep paying Deion? He's a joke. Of course all the above topics involve crazy people. Figuring out who is crazy and who is not makes good column stuff.

So this week I want to honor the sane people of America. Those salt of the earth types who don't make headlines and who don't even follow national news or sports.

Honor the common folk who share their thoughts and dreams, and often their IQ's, in Hints From Heloise. Forget about abortion issues, education problems, looters and crooked politicians. The biggest problem facing America today for the Heloise crowd revolves around empty oatmeal boxes and what to do with used coffee filters.

Los Angeles is burning and children can't read or write, while Doris Cameron from Houston sent in an idea on how to keep deviled eggs from slipping and sliding around. (Slice some off the bottom to make them flat.)

Which begs another point: Hints From Heloise are not really hints from Heloise anymore. In fact, the original Heloise is dead. The column is now produced by daughter, Heloise, Jr. her Alliance will host the Blackwood Brothers Quartet in concert at the Hereford High School Auditorium, Saturday night, June 24 at 7 p.m.

There is no charge and no reserved seating. A love offering will be received.

The Blackwood Brothers Quartet, formed in 1934, is one of the most recognized names in gospel music. Cecil Stamps Blackwood is the leader of the Blackwood Brothers Quartet, carrying on the great family tradition of the legendary Blackwood Brothers.

Cecil Blackwood is the second baritone in the 65year history of the Blackwood Brothers, taking his brother, R.W. Blackwood's place after the tragic airplane crash in 1954. Cecil is the baritone singer for the quartet as well as the spokesman.

Before joining the Blackwood Brothers, Cecil formed his own quartet, The Songfellows. At one time Cecil's life long friend Elvis Presley, who loved gospel music, wanted to sing with the Songfellows. Cecil and Elvis attended the same church where they were Sunday School buddies. Cecil considers those early years with his good friend Elvis among his precious moments.

The Blackwood Brothers were the first gospel group to record a long play album. They have recorded over 200 albums and toured in 47 countries.

The Blackwood Brothers were the first group to travel by bus. Cecil Blackwood designed the interior of all their buses with comfortable sleeping accommodations. The Blackwood's original bus, completely restored, is on display at the Hall of Fame and Museum in Pigeon Forge, Tennessee.

The Blackwood Brothers won nine Grammy Awards, 27 Dove Awards and are in the Gospel Music Hall of Fame.

Eric Winston is the low bass singer and one of the lowest bass singers in the history of the Blackwood Brothers. Eric is known for recording the lowest note by a gospel quartet singer-- PAGE 4-A, FRIDAY, JUNE 23, 2000

Bovina lost two more of its great older people, Ola

Lee Jones and Lucy Thomas. Ola Lee was dearly loved and appreciated in our community. When people talk about the Jones' service station, they always talk about the great service they provided. Someone told me that Ola Lee always had gum in her pocket for the kids when they would come by. Even in her later years, when someone would drive up to get gas, Ola Lee would hurry out to your car, fill it up, wash your windows and check your oil if you wanted her to.

Lucy Thomas. She was Flossie Rhinehart's sister. She had a great memory. If she ever met you, she could remember your name and would always ask about your spouse, kids, parents and really cared about what you'd
