Greenbelt Dam News

A new site for construction of the proposed Greenbelt dam is now being sought by directors of the Authority, since the original location has been found not feasible because river abutments are not substantial enough to support construction.

Engineers have suggested a location about two miles down the river from the original site, which, however, may call for more core drilling. They suggest that a dam at the new site would impound 156,850 acre feet, 3,450 acre feet more than the original location, with a smaller dam at less cost to the Authority.

Content of water at the new site would not change, and would still meet specifications of the U. S. Dept. of Health, which is proved by water samples taken for some 3½ years.

The Greenbelt dam is considered one of the major surface water projects in the state, being the last surface water in northwest Texas worth developing for human consumption and industrial use. The project is being developed for the cities of Memphis, Hedley, Clarendon, Childress, Quanah and Paducah. Wellington was an original member of the Authority but dropped out last year to work on a plan of their own. Their plan has since been considered not feasible, and a group of Wellington citizens are now expressing an interest in rejoining the Greenbelt Authority.

The basketball boys want to thank Winfield Mosley for furnishing a car for transportation, and especially Billy White for the fine coaching job he did.

Also, on Tuesday of last week the Owls defeated Clarendon here 60 to 25, and the Owlets defeated Clarendon 60 to 44.

Giles Pioneer Club

The Giles Pioneer Club met Dec 15 in the home of Miss Jessie Davis for their annual Christmas party. The entertaining rooms were festive with seasonal decorations. The snow added just the touch needed to make it a real Christmas. The main center of attraction was the beautiful tree decorated with blue lights and laden with beautifully wrapped gifts.

A bountiful dinner was served consisting of baked chicken, dressing, candied yams, stuffed celery, buttered rolls, peas and carrots, salads of various kinds, pecan and pineapple pies, coffee and tea.

Mrs Inez Hunt was in charge of the program. Mrs Sims gave the devotional. Roll call was What Christmas Means To Me. The birth of Jesus was read from the 2nd chapter of Luke by Mrs. Glass. The traditional Christmas carols were used.

Twelve members and one guest, Mrs. Madge Poole of Lelia Lake, enjoyed this gala occasion.

Drivers Warned

Speeding drivers and other traffic law violators will run a veritable obstacle course of highway patrol cruisers and radar speed checks during Christmas and New Year holiday trips this year when the Department of Public Safety holds "Operation Deathwatch" "So far in 1960, Texas traffic deaths are below the number recorded at the same date in 1959," said Patrolman John Lowrie. "However, in an effort to keep this grim figure to the absolute minimum, we have been ordered on a round-the clock duty to stop traffic violators during Operation Deathwatch."

Operation Deathwatch starts throughout Texas at 12:01 a. m. Dec 23 and runs through 11:59 a. m. Jan 1, the Patrolman explained "All members of the Motor Vehicle Inspection, License and Weight and Safety Education Services will be added to the regular Highway Patrol staff in a determined effort to apprehend all traffic law violators," Patrolman Lowrie added.
