From this arrangement, garlands of plumosus fern and white asters fell in swags to the side of the door.

The doorway was flanked with wrought iron candelabra bearing blue tapers.

Bouquets of identical flowers completed the room decoration.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a knee length dress of white lace and white organdy, styled with a full gathered skirt of organdy, a fitted bodice of lace and a bolero jacket of lace.

Her waist length veil of white illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a white Bible topped with white roses and blue carnations.

The table for the reception which followed had an arrangement of white gladiolus, white dahlias, and blue grapes flanked with crystal candelabra and blue candles to correspond with the wedding cake of blue and white.

Bobby Dean Harcrow served the cake and Sammie Sanders, sister of the bride served the punch.

Both the bride and bridegroom were graduated from Hedley High School and attended Clarendon Junior College.

Farm Facts

Farmers are borrowing more money than ever before. In the face of the trend toward larger farms, credit helps provide the things they need to produce more efficiently.

The farmer's use of credit will continue to mount, notes W. D. Curtis, economist with the Louisiana State Agricultural Service. This will be due to: (1) greater investment per farm; (2) an increase in the use of power, fertilizer, chemicals, better seed, and other production necessities; (3) failure of savings to keep pace with mounting capital needs; and (4) a more businesslike approach to credit—if convinced it will pay them to borrow, they borrow.

From 1953 to 1960, the dollar volume of farm credit system loans increased 120%, while the number of farms decreased 30%. Long-term mortgage loans by federal land banks increased 18%, while short- and intermediate-term loans by production credit associations increased by nearly 26%.

Despite the trend to "commercial" farms, the farm family will remain important because it performs the major share of work on these farms.

Visiting in the Sam Owens home last week end were Merle Owens and family, Berle Owens and Jimmy Owens and family, all of Amarillo.

Defensive Driving

The following is suggested by the Dept of Public Safety:

Defensive driving is the ability to recognize an accident producing situation far enough in advance to compensate for it by your own driving. In other words, drive ahead of yourself and be prepared for the other man's actions.

One of the greatest faults of the American driver today is hiding behind the false security of having the right of way. Give the right of way, don't take it, and you will greatly assist in the reduction of traffic accidents.

Epitaph:

Here lies the remains of John O. Day

Who died defending his right of way,

Now John was right as he sped along

But he's just as dead as if he'd been wrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Hub Foster and daughter of Amarillo visited in the Mrs. R. E. Newman home Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McKee and family of Houston stopped over here last week end on their way to Seattle Wash, to visit Leroy McKee and attend the world's fair.

News From Our County Agent

Now is the time for all cotton farmers to begin to watch their young cotton for thrips, fleahoppers and the possibility of boll weevils just beginning to move in from pastures into the young cotton. County agent Flip Breedlove says that regular checking of cotton fields can prevent a great deal of damage by insects before they get started. Cotton spraying guides for all types of insecticides are available at the county agents office. Anyone needing any information on insect control can drop by the agent's office. All types of insecticides are available at your local dealers in Clarendon and Hedley.

What Goes Into the Price of Your Prescription?

Most people will agree that the price paid for any product rightly includes the cost of materials and the cost of labor.

This is true of prescriptions. The price you pay for your medicine includes the cost of the "materials" (the drugs) and the cost of "labor" (the pharmacist's service). The latter reflects the fact that the pharmacist's expert knowledge and professional training are essential in transforming your physician's prescription into a health-giving medicine.

Today, a pharmacist attends pharmacy college for a minimum of 5 years. It has been estimated that he spends more than 10,000 hours receiving his professional training, not to mention a long period of apprenticeship following graduation. Finally, he must pass a rigorous state examination before he is licensed. With this superior professional background, the modern pharmacist is uniquely qualified to protect your health through his professional knowledge.

Your prescription means much more to the pharmacist than a piece of paper. He has studied many years to provide you with the best pharmaceutical service, and you can be certain that, when you hand him a prescription, he focuses all his professional knowledge on it.
