WHITTLIN'

BY DOLPH MOTEN

This is our week to be overly fair.

A Bovina Nixon-Lodge sympathizer was in our office recently and asked that the following announcement be made in The Blade. Read it and you'll know why we feel we're being overly fair

BE INFORMED

Listen to the Texas-for-Nixon program over KGNC radio, Amarillo, 5:45 to 6:00 p.m. and KFYO radio, Lubbock, 1:00-1:15 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The person who desired to have the above information distributed among members of this community preferred to not have her name mentioned.

"Some relatives," she said, "might not like me to be supporting Nixon and Lodge. However, they'll find out eventually, anyway, but I'd rather you wouldn't use my name."

It's things like this which make us wonder how many Democratic voters we'll have in Bovina come election day. Seems there are several people who will vote Republican, but who don't want to say so openly.

That, of course, is their business. And none of ours. Still we don't understand such a situation. And as we've said before, we're afraid of things we don't understand.

This writer received a courtesy pass to barbecue dinner which was served at American Legion Hall Sunday noon by Men's Sacred Heart Society of St. Ann's Church.

We were out of town and unable to use it. But we appreciate it as much as if we had used it.

Jesse Cano is president of the organization.

We wrote last week about a Quarterback Club member being dissatisfied because he'd paid his $5 dues and now can't find anything to gripe about.

Since then, we've run across another dissatisfied member. He's Billie Sudderth. He said he thought payment of the dues would give him the right to coach one quarter of one game from the stands. But he can't get anybody to tell him when his turn is coming.

"Every time I think my turn might be next, the big boys start hollering and I don't get to say a word," Billie says.

Bill, you might take your complaint to Norvell Strawn, he's president of the club.

The Saturday Evening Post, recently, in one of those little brights which is inserted on occasional pages to break up the gray matter, said, "The reason people in a small town read the local newspaper is to see how much news the editor is missing."

As a rule, we don't agree, or like, what the big-time publications say about small towns or their newspapers. In this case, however, we'll agree.

Whether or not such is the case, the editor's job is easier and may be performed better if he has cooperation of the people of the community. We realize the editor himself has a lot to do with how much cooperation he has from other people. But whether you like the editor is not important.

It's like our friend, Jack Patterson, says, "The paper really belongs to the people, because without them there wouldn't be any paper."

And Jack's right. We greatly appreciate it when people in the community keep that in mind. The more cooperation we get, the better job we can do.

Without cooperation of various news sources, this page one would be completely blank..... save this column, which we could probably fill with belly aches, anyway.

A step up scholastically has been taken by Bovina's Future Farmers of America Chapter, Advisor Roy M. Crawford tells us. All officers of the organization must maintain an average of 70 or more in all courses to

ON HIGHWAY BUILDING--

Firm Has 90 Days To Complete Work

Work on new Highway Department headquarters schedule for construction in Bovina will probably begin soon and the structure will be completed within 90 working days of the date the contract was let.

A San Antonio construction firm, which is currently finishing a similar job in Littlefield, submitted the low bid and will construct the structure, which will have storage space for all highway maintenance equipment, offices, a meeting room and other facilities.

The contract calls for $65,000 for construction of the tile building. It will have all aluminum window fittings and gutters.

Texas Highway Department will do the ground work.

The new building will be located on Highway 86, near its junction with Highway 60. It will be headquarters for the Parmer County Maintenance Unit.

Lloyd Killough, maintenance foreman for the unit, said he expects some additions to the crew after moving into the new headquarters. But no more area will be added to the territory covered by the Parmer County unit.

The unit, which has over 200 miles of paved roads in the county to maintain won a first place award in 1959 for its work here.

A current project underway is improving the roadside park on Highway 60 two miles southwest of Bovina. The crew is installing new picnic tables and brick work and will put in a sprinkler system.

Killough says when the work is completed, the park will be one of the best of its kind in Texas.

CUMPTON WINS--

Football Contest Has 100 Entries

Bovina businesses Cotton Bowl football contest had its largest following ever last week as an even 100 entry blanks were turned in.

This number topped the previous high of 89.

Winner of $5 weekly first prize was Allen Cumpston. H. J. Charles won second prize of $3 and Bob Wills, former Mustang coach who is now coaching at New Deal, won $1 third place money.

Each of the winners made eight correct selections, missing only the two ties which were in the list of 10 games. They were the only entrants to pick eight winners.

Cumpston picked the Bovina-Amherst tie breaker score 20-14 in favor of Bovina. This was two points off the actual score of 18-12. Charles was just one point farther away--21-12.

In the race for the grand prize, which is an expense-paid trip to Cotton Bowl classic at Dallas January 2, Cumpston and Jack McCracken are leading with 29 correct out of a possible 40.

They are followed closely by Mark Charles and H. N. Turner who have 28; Leon Grissom and James Lawlis with 27; and H. J. Charles, Gene Ezell, Billy Richards, Don Sides, Bill Smith, Neil Smith, and A. M. Wilson, who all have 26.

Several other entrants are also in striking distance of the leaders.

The contest has run four weeks and will continue for seven more.

Entrants who were just off the pace--with seven correct picks--in last week's contest included Johnnie Horn, Mark Charles, Bill Smith, Mary Jane Wilson, Mrs. Nat Read, Neil Smith, Margaret Minter, Ramey

Brandon of Lubbock, Glenn Hromas, Joe Moore, Bob McMeans, D. C. Looney, McCracken, Grissom, Patsy Sherrill, Grady Sorley, Turner, R. L. Hopingardner, Mrs. Billy Malcom of Dimmitt, and Richards.

FOR HOME GAMES--

QB Club Gets An Ambulance

An ambulance has been secured to stand ready at each of the Bovina home football games, a member of the Quarterback Club announces.

Claborn Funeral Home in Friona is supplying the facility, which will be ready in case of a serious injury on the playing field.

The Quarterback Club which was organized this year to "help promote high school athletics," secured the ambulance as one of its projects.

Over 100 members now belong to the young organization. Among services the club performs is filming the Mustangs home games. The films are then shown QB Club meetings on Thursday nights.

Coaches Hallie Gee and Malcolm Kennedy go over the films with their players and point out mistakes and indicate ways for improving the team effort. The films are considered a valuable training aid by football coaches across the country. Viewing game films is one of the most emphasized procedures for college teams.

Quarterback Club members are also helping with the schools sale of season football tickets. The tickets, which are good for each of Bovina's remaining four home games will be sold at $3.50 each.

The sports-minded club has its regular meetings each Thursday night at 7 o'clock in the study hall of the high school building. New members are sought but membership isn't necessary to qualify one to attend one of the film-viewing sessions.

Last Thursday night, the "arm chair quarterbacks" viewed the films of the Bovina-Whitharral game of the week before. This Thursday night, program will include showing of the Bovina-Amherst films.

The undefeated Boys' Ranch Ranchers, tabbed by Coach Hallie Gee as the second toughest opponent on the Mustang schedule, will invade Bovina Friday night for the Ponies next to last non-district game of the season.

Coach Gee, who scouted this week's opponent last Thursday night, rates the team from Cal Farley's ranch as "rougher than anyone we will play this year except Farwell."

"They are loaded," the coach said. "They aren't big boys, but they have lots of speed and will really hit you."

Gee saw the Ranchers roll up a 36-0 lead over the Hereford "B" team Thursday night before rain halted the game at halftime.

WITH NO LOSSES--

"Loaded" Ranchers Raid Town Friday

"They roll on quickie plays," he said. "They hit the center of the line mostly and are gone if they ever get the least bit of running room."

Gee was pleased with his squad's showing Friday night, when the Mustangs won their first game of the season.

"We made some of the usual mistakes, but I thought we did pretty well, especially in the last half."

The Mustangs may play Friday night without their starting left halfback Buddy Turner, who received a knee injury in the Amherst game.

Jon Lin Riddle, who was injured week before last, was called on to fill the gap when Turner was injured in the second half. Gee praised Riddle's play despite the fact the youngster was heavily taped and playing at a new position.

Gee also had high praise for his sophomore and freshmen players as a group.

The starting lineup against Amherst listed four seniors, one junior and six sophomores.

After Boys' Ranch, the Ponies will meet Fort Sumner here October 7, and then open District 2-B play on October 14, at Hart. Remainder of the schedule will find Bovina at Happy, Lazbuddie and Vega will round out the slate as home games.

Lazbuddie was the pre-season favorite to cop the district title. Happy won last year and also took Class B Regional crown.

SATURDAY NIGHT--

Firemen Set Bingo Games

Volunteer firemen will launch their bingo games project Saturday night in the American Legion Hall, with the session scheduled to run from 8-11:30 p.m.

The twice-a-month bingo playing-sessions will be under the direction of Lou Marot. Each first and third Saturday night are the dates set aside for the fund-raising project by the firemen.

Prizes will be given winners in the contests. Exact plan for the games' conduction have not been completed.

The program was set up with the cooperation of City of Bovina, which has purchased the Legion Hall for use by firemen and other civic functions.

Firemen will operate a concession stand in connection with the bingo games.

"We hope people will come and participate in the program," says Fire Chief James Taylor. "It will be good wholesome fun that each member of the family will enjoy and we will award nice prizes that will make playing more fun."

WIN NO. 1--

Ponies Nip Amherst 18-14 On Late Rally

Bovina's Mustangs refused to be counted out Friday night and fought back to overcome an explosive Amherst team 18-14.

The Ponies, matching a deliberate ball control attack against the speed of the Bulldogs, racked up 22 first downs to six for the visitors. But two long runs by Amherst almost proved to be too much for the scrapping Mustangs, who picked up their first win of the year, against three defeats.

The Ponies scored first in the initial quarter when Don Caldwell hit the right side of the line for four yards. Buddy Turner attempted to kick the conversion but it was blocked.

Amherst took the kickoff and three plays later James Brashears broke away for a 63 yard scoring run to tie the score. Ronnie Schroeder ran for the two points and the Bulldogs owned an 8-6 lead.

Roger Ezell plunged one yard in the third period for the second Bovina score but the all-important point try failed and when the Bulldogs got the ball again, Brashears again came up with a sparkling scoring run.

This time, he went 30 yards for the tally and a 14-12 lead for Amherst.

With time running out in the final period, Caldwell went the final nine yards for the touchdown that proved to be the margin of victory. The Ponies third unsuccessful conversion attempt left the score 18-14.

The Ponies were able to get off 58 plays from scrimmage, in racking up a total offense of 267 yards. All but 19 of those yards were made on the ground.

But none of the Ponies could break away for a long gainer, such as the two Amherst scoring plays. Roger Ezell, who carried most of the Bovina offensive burden, carried once for 17 yards, which was the longest run of the night for Bovina. Buddy Turner had an 11-yard run to his credit.

The Mustangs were given a break early in the game but failed to capitalize on it. A Panther fumble on their first try from scrimmage gave the Ponies the ball on the Amherst 29.

They drove to the 14, before Caldwell was dropped for a seven yard loss and the ball went over on downs.

A 15-yard holding penalty bogged down the Bulldogs and they were forced to punt. The Mustangs took over and drove 61 yards in 18 plays and three first downs.

After Brashears and Schroeder had put Amherst ahead by an 8-6 score, neither team could manage a sustained drive before intermission.

The Ponies took the second half kickoff and drove from their own 31 to the Amherst 16 before losing the ball on downs. Bovina again rolled up three first downs on the drive but it fell short.

Amherst barely missed getting a first down deep in their own territory before punting on fourth down. Turner took the kick at mid-field and ran it back to the 35 to launch Bovina's second scoring drive.

With Ezell carrying the ball five times out of seven, the Ponies moved quickly to the score.

The conversion pass to Riddle was good but a penalty made another try necessary, which failed.

The Bulldogs took the kickoff and with two first downs, drove to Bovina's 30, where Brashears launched his second flashy run.

With their backs to the wall, the Mustangs set up operations on their own 34. With Riddle and Ezell packing the mail, the Ponies rolled to the final score and victory in 11 plays and three first downs.

Ezell carried the ball 28 times for Bovina and amassed net yardage of 136. His average per carry was 4.86. Turner carried 11 times for 33 yards and a 3 yards per try average.

Caldwell carried six times for 13 yards and a 2.1 average. Riddle reeled off 50 yards on 11 tries for a 4.55 average. Rocky Hance had four yards on two carries for an average of 2.0, and Don Cumpston carried three times for 12 yards and 4 yards per try.

Indian Gives Aid Advice

A young man from India, who recently toured the Bovina area studying farming methods has pointed directly to a source of failure in America's foreign aid program.

"Mat Dhillon (the Mat is a nickname picked up since he arrived here because his Indian name is unpronounceable.) was an assistant advisor to agriculture working in the American Embassy when he was awarded the two-year tour and chance to study here by Dekalb Seed Co.

Dhillon says the American aid program fails because it is too much of a give-away. It creates a feeling of inferiority among the recipients and creates ill-will instead of good.

The quiet-spoken young man from one of the world's most over-populated, under-privileged countries says the United States' work in giving his countrymen modern farming methods, good seed and other agriculture aids has created more good will than all the grain in government storage could create as a direct gift.

Dhillon stated further that this country can rid itself of some of its surplus food by selling it to needy countries at a reduced price. Just so the people can feel they are buying the food is the important thing.

India has over 700 million people in its small area. Over 280 people live on each square mile of land. But Dhillon predicts the country can overcome its food problem with the use of hybridization and other scientific farming improvements developed in this country.

Dhillon at all times spoke with utmost respect for Americans, but he indicated that others of his people still hold the image of the "Ugly American" with his surplus fat and false notion that he can buy the good will of less prosperous peoples.

Meeting people like "Mat" Dhillon convinces us that the foreign aid problem is not without solutions and that if persons in charge of dispensing our government give-away programs would become better acquainted with the particulars of their work, American prestige would rank higher in under-privileged countries.

Ex-Grid Star Picks Produce Over Pros

BY J. VERNON STEWART

This time last year, Bobby Lackey was practicing football at Texas University preparing for an outstanding senior season. This year, he is working as a sales representative in Gateway Produce's shed in Bovina.

Southwest Conference football fans will remember Lackey as Longhorn Coach Darrel Royal's field general for the past three seasons. Lackey was the starting quarterback for the Longhorn the last two seasons.

After lettering three years at Texas University, Lackey gave professional football a brief fling with the Pittsburg Steelers of the National Football League.

"I quit the pros because I felt I had played enough football. I had played 12 years of organized ball and felt the produce business offers more security," Lackey says.

He was picked up by the Steelers after being drafted by St. Paul, a franchise which later folded.

At Pittsburg, he was being groomed as an understudy to the veteran star Bobby Layne, who is also a former quarterback star for the Longhorns.

Lackey's father-in-law, J. S. McManus operates a vegetable packing shed in the Rio Grande Valley town of Weslaco, where Lackey first gained prominence as a star high school quarterback.

"One of our sales representatives here was called away, and my father-in-law thought I could pickup some excellent produce experience if I came to Bovina to take his place," Lackey says.

Lackey stands over 6 ft 3" tall and weighs about 210--some five pounds over his playing weight.

He lacks a few hours completing work on an education degree at the University. He originally planned to become a coach before becoming interested in the produce business.

The former Longhorn star calls his former coach, "one of the best in the country." Royal came to the University three years ago when Lackey was beginning his sophomore season.

Last year the Longhorns were tri-champions of the SWC with Texas Christian University and the University of Arkansas.

Lackey says he plans to go back to school next spring to finish his degree requirements.

If the produce business doesn't turn out to be what he hopes for, he plans to enter the coaching field.

Some would say it is a long way from the Cotton Bowl to a Bovina cantaloupe packing shed. But it hasn't been far for Bobby Lackey, and he gave up a career in pro-football to be here.

A farmer's barn had burned down and the agent from the insurance company arrived to discuss the claim. Explaining the policy that covered the structure, he told the farmer that his firm would build another barn of similar size instead of paying the claim in cash. The farmer was furious. "If that's the way your company does business," he exploded, "you can just cancel the insurance policy on my wife."

PROBLEM SOLVED--This elegant but practical problem of what to do with two single windows with an awkward wall space between was solved by running over-draperies of Waverly cotton the full window width. Then a center panel of light weight plyboard was covered with the same print and attached to the wall with small blocks of wood. The cotton print sports mellow tones of old red, antique gold, and colonial blue.

Now that school has started the teachers take on the harrowed and fatigued look the mothers have been wearing all summer.

Speaking of teachers, was reading an article on the extreme shortage of teachers and I guess the fact that they keep advertising is true and that teachers are taking other higher paying positions rather than continuing to teach and receive only that fulfillment of teaching instead of a good salary. Just goes to prove that self preservation and love of eating come first. Would be terrible if in the far future we had to tutor our own children rather than send them to public schools. Don't think this will happen but it is food for thought.

Received a card from Lady Armstrong who is vacationing in California along with her mother. Seems as if they are really having an enjoyable trip. She said they had seen the "Last Supper," painted dessert, pertified forest, Grand Canyon, Boulder and Hoover Dams, Knott's Berry Farm and Farmer's Market and were going to Disneyland soon. However she concluded by saying the traffic is terrific and almost as much for a "country girl."

The Presidential hopefuls are as much in the spotlight these days as the men themselves. In every paper one picks up there is an article about the women and the way they dress and how much influence this will have on fall fashions for the general public. Jackie Kennedy seems to have the full fashion know how along with the cash to foot the bills. She has designers from Paris to do most of her wardrobe. She prefers the simple sheath, especially black. One of the most striking outfits I have seen pictures of is her coat which looks something like an umbrella with white cuffs. In contrast with her high fashion Pat Nixon chooses the conservative suits and flowered silks which more of us are familiar with. It seems Mrs. Kennedy doesn't care much for hats while Mrs. Nixon loves them, especially the ones of flowers.

With the new addition to Shirley Grain going up it brought to my mind the great and drastic changes in architecture in recent years. Concrete is being used for every imaginable type of building with the advantages being unlimited so far as design is concerned. Concrete is an asset to building since it can be made to look like anything from mushroom to an airplane wing. As in everything today, simplicity is elegance rather than the old decorative type of architecture. Everything then had to have all sorts of adornments and gargoyles, now the plainer and the building the more expensive and elegant it looks.

The new capital city of Brazil is a good example of this new type of architecture. There have been several articles about the new city in different magazines. Of course I realize that there are people who still prefer the other types of architecture but I just wanted to point out the advancement and the use of old materials in an extremely new way.

Had the privilege to attend a musical at the Little Theater in Amarillo Monday evening. It was a gay comedy, "Boy Friend." For supposedly amateur actors and actresses it was a real fine production. It was an English "spoof" about the roaring twenties in England. Think with as much talent as we have in Bovina it wouldn't be too hard to have a little theater here. Betty Hawkins has capably directed the minstrel shows we have had in the past and I am sure she would have talent along the line of regular musicals.

Saw a copy of the school newspaper and think that it is a real fine issue. Was surprised to see that it had changed its name. I can remember not many years ago it was called the "Yucca" and now it is graced with the title "Saddlehorn." Must commend editor Cynthia Patterson on her fine job; she pointed out in her column that it was a new experience for her and most of the staff. However, it looked real good.

What with summer officially over and fall in full swing many women will be changing not only their wardrobe but their homes. Am speaking principally of flowers and the dried arrangements which traditionally go with fall house cleaning. There are methods of drying and spraying all of the flowers and weeds which compose fall arrangements. I'm not familiar with all of them but some of the ways are hanging the flower upside down until it dries and soaking the stem in a solution of vinegar water. Driftwood and other types of wood are used frequently in arrangements which I have seen at floral shops. If one has the time and patience he can make a real nice bouquet from the things he finds in his own yard.

Heard a person condemn modern literature the other day and say that most of it lacked the fine quality that literature used to have. Also that the vulgar language and emphasis on sex was much more commonplace in our modern literature. I will have to disagree with this train of thought since the literature of the Victorian era was as off color as are many of our modern day novels. The world's greatest novelist, Tolstoy, was just as frank and used as many vulgar situations and language as our modern authors Sinclair Lewis or Ernest Hemingway. I don't think you can take any particular era or time and say that an art such as literature is all bad or all good. I also think that it is the kind of reading you enjoy as to what a person will read and not what is currently being printed. One can always read the "Five Little Peppers and How They Grew" in preference to "Gone With The Wind."

The Old Timer

"After all is said and done, you usually find more has been said than done."

A shipyard worker was teaching the new lady riveter what to do. "I'll hold the rivet," he said, "and when I nod my head, you hit it with the sledge hammer." He left a widow and three children.

The nervous old lady was walking gingerly through a part of town not noted for civility or sobriety.

Rain set in and she dodged furtively from one entrance or awning to another. At one of the stops, she was startled by a gruff voice saying: "Keep moving, lady, I've got you covered."

Shaking in her galoshes she looked back. There stood a kindly, old gentleman holding a big umbrella.

Friona Youth Charged With Statutory Rape

A Friona youth, Billy McCarver, 20, was arrested Saturday by Farmer County Sheriff Chas. Lovelace and charged with statutory rape. McCarver is in Farmer County jail awaiting action by the grand jury which is to convene next week. His bond was set at $2,500. The offense allegedly occurred several weeks ago and charges were filed against the youth last week.

The autoist hit a rooster while driving along a country road. Anxious to do the right thing, he located the farmer who owned it and said, "I just ran over your rooster and I'm willing to replace him."
"Fine," the farmer replied, "let's hear you crow!"

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

THE BEST TIMES AND BEST WAYS TO PRAY

Every person, at one time or another, feels a distinct need and desire to pray. After many years of prayer and of dealing with people who pray, I offer this recipe for the best times and ways to pray.

One of the "best times" to pray is mealtime. Simply, in your own words, in your own way, thank God for the food.

Another good time to pray is when you enter the house of God. Pray as the minister prays, as the choir sings or as the benediction is given.

A wonderful time to pray is while you are reading the Holy Bible. As you read the Word of God, let the spirit of prayer possess your heart.

When you go to bed and prepare for sleep, you can pray. Commit yourself into the hands of God and rest in perfect confidence. Remember that God is awake all night long, watching over you. When you awake the next morning you can pray: "God bless me today and help me to be a blessing to someone else."

A crisis time is always a time to pray. In the Bible when Peter was walking on the water, he suddenly lost his faith and began to sink. He cried, "Lord, help me." I do not know of a better way to pray in a crisis than to use those three words, "Lord, help me."

These are just a few of the "best times" to pray. The Bible also says, "Pray without ceasing."

Here are some "best ways" to pray. Talk to God as a person. Don't think of Him as a great Spirit who is a million miles away somewhere, but as an individual. Jesus said, "If you have seen me, you have seen the Father." Because Jesus came, we can pray to God as a person.

When you pray, tell God how grateful you are. Jesus, when He prayed at the tomb of Lazarus before raising him from the dead, said, "Father, I thank thee." A best way to pray is with thanksgiving.

When you pray, remember that prayer is answered only in the will of God. Be sure that what you pray about is His will. Is it good? Will it help people? Then it is God's will, for He is good.

It is His will to heal your body and your soul. It is His will to prosper you, to put food in your mouth, shelter over your head and clothes on your back. So pray with absolute assurance when you pray for these things. And always as you pray, release your faith to God.

These are some of the "best times and ways" to pray. But remember that God is always ready to hear and answer a sincere prayer.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

The national refuges, parks and forests proved their growing attraction to a recreation-minded public with a record-breaking total of 154,269,000 visits during 1959, an increase of 18,318,000 visits over the 1958 total.

Our national wildlife refuges were almost overrun by 9,936,000 visitors in 1959, states Michael Hudoba, Washington Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. This total represents 882,000 more visitors, or nine per cent, than in 1958 and sets a new public-use record for the ninth consecutive year. When the visitor records were first compiled in 1951, only 3 1/2 million persons had found their way onto the refuge areas.

Sixty-three per cent of 1959's visitors went to enjoy photography, picnicking, swimming and nature studies. The second most popular activity was fishing--32 per cent. Hunting of waterfowl, upland or big game, constitutes five per cent of public use on the refuges and was permitted on 138 areas in 1959. Some of the country's best bow-and-arrow hunting for deer can be found on the national wildlife refuges.

National forests also were visited by record numbers. Visits in 1959 totaled 81,521,000 or 19 per cent more than in 1958. This is the biggest gain of any single year since 1946. Forest Service reports show that recreation use has been moving up steadily for the past 15 years as public appreciation of the national forest recreational opportunities has increased.

Some of the heavier use of underdeveloped areas was owing to the increased number of visits by hunters and fishermen. Such visits jumped from 17 million in 1958 to 20 million in 1959. The most popular purpose for recreation visits was general enjoyment of the national forests. Picnicking, fishing, hunting and camping followed.

Picnicking and camping increased at about the usual annual rate of seven per cent. Hunting and fishing visits rose 13 per cent.

Areas administered by the national Park Service also came in with a record-breaking report on visitors for 1959 with a total of 62,812,000. This amounted to 4,135,000 more visitors than the 58,677,000 recorded in 1958. The previous record was 59,285,000 in 1957.

Visitors to the 29 national parks rose to 22,392,000 during the year, a 3.3 per cent increase in the record 1958 total of 21,671,000.

Feed Mission Team Tours Parmer County

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

In an effort to find a new market for its abundant supply of grain sorghum, the Grain Sorghum Producers Association was host last week to a six-man feed grain mission team from Japan.

Three members of the team were in Parmer County Thursday touring grain sorghum fields, feed mills and feed lots.

The visit to Parmer County by these foreign agricultural experts was part of the first leg of a tour which will take them to production, marketing and feed utilization facilities throughout the United States.

Sponsors of the feed mission are the U. S. Feed Grains Council, of which the Grain Sorghum Producers Association is a member, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Foreign Agricultural Service.

Here to investigate the possible purchase of new feedstuffs for Japan's fast-expanding livestock industry, the visitors reported at the end of their tour that they were impressed with the production of grain sorghum in Parmer County.

Arriving in Friona Thursday morning from Happy, the visitors met at Friona State Bank with Dub Anthony, president of the Parmer County Grain Sorghum Producers Association; Parmer County Agent Joe Jones, and other members of the association.

The group discussed the production of grain sorghum in the county and the visitors were shown samples of various grain sorghum by-products before starting on the tour. The tour included visits to the feed processing mill at Cummings Farm Store, inspection of facilities at Friona Wheat Growers Elevator and a visit to Jack Tomlin's demonstration plot of various grain sorghum varieties near Hub.

At the demonstration plot the foreign guests were shown how different varieties are grown side by side for the purpose of seeing which varieties will do best under similar growing conditions. The visitors also toured the chicken and egg production facilities of the Houser brothers at Friona and the Farwell Feed Lots. The tour was concluded with a visit to Worley Mills in Clovis.

Members of the team which visited Parmer County were Morihisa Emori, chairman of Japan Cereal and Feedstuffs Importers' Association; Hanjuro Kotake, Feed Department of Japan National Farm Cooperative Association; and Kohel Yamanouchi, Mill-feed By-product Producer's Association and Feed Manufacturer.

The other three members of the team, which included Zenichiro Yasuda, director of the Japan Ministry of Agriculture and Livestock Bureau, were in Castro County during the day. The three visitors who were EXPLAINING A FEED CHART to one of the Japanese tourists is E. H. Cummings of Cummings Farm Store. The members of the Japanese feed mission team toured the Cummings feed mill at Friona and saw how part of the Parmer County grain sorghum crop is utilized.

In Parmer County were special guests at a luncheon in the Friona Community Building Thursday noon. Jeff Peeler, legislative director of the sorghum producers association, explained the purpose of the feed grain mission and County Agent Jones showed slides of grain sorghum crops in the county and how the grain is utilized.

Also speaking at the luncheon was one of the foreign guests, Mr. Emori. He explained how the diet of the Japanese people has been improving and the reason for his country's need for more protein foods.

Japan, with its wealth of population, during the past decade has been experiencing an industrial boom and subsequently a higher standard of living for its citizens.

An outcome of changing dietary habits and the continued increase of per capita income in Japan has been the development of a large and fast-growing demand for livestock products such as meat, milk and eggs.

Japanese farmers are finding livestock enterprises more profitable and are making every effort to take advantage of this situation. Also, the Japanese government is vitally interested in improving both the income standards of farmers and the food habits of its people and it has undertaken during the past few years measures designed to assist farmers in expanding livestock production.

Therefore, milk, meat and egg production are increasing rapidly and this boom will most likely continue for quite some time. It is estimated that the total meat production in Japan will increase more than 150 per cent in the next ten years.

With the expansion of the country's livestock program will be the need for more feed imports.

A factor which contributes to Japan's reliance on feed imports is the country's size and its vast population. The three main islands, which make up the Oriental nation, are slightly smaller in land area than the State of California. Since the population is more than 90 million, Japan will never be able to provide the necessary staple foods as well as feed for a livestock program.

That's where the United States comes in, especially since this nation's problem in recent years has been a grain surplus instead of a shortage. Currently, less than one-fourth of Japan's feed imports are supplied by the U. S., and it hoped that visits similar to the Japan Feed Grain Mission will be mutually beneficial to both countries.

As explained in brochure put out by the U. S. Feed Grains Council regarding the Japanese mission, the Japanese and Americans "have a bond of mutual interest in the sharing of information, technical know-how and resources of a free agriculture."

The Japanese have imported corn from the United States for several years, but they have never imported grain sorghum. The reason for inviting the Japanese to the High Plains area, which is the largest grain sorghum producing section in the country, was to sell the Japanese visitors on this area's number one farm product.

Recently, two millions bushels of grain sorghum were shipped to Japan and the grain sorghum association plans to follow through by sending representatives to the country.

BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF

The 1961 Ford introduces a whole new concept of what a car can do for you . . . and for itself!

It lubricates itself. New nylon bearings and a newly developed lubricant keep the '61 Ford freshly greased for 30,000 miles. Good-bye grease racks! What's more, it cleans its own oil. The 1961 Ford's Full-Flow oil filter lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes.

It adjusts its own brakes. A "mechanical brain" keeps brakes adjusted for the life of the lining.

Rust? Ford's body is specially processed to resist corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.

Ford takes care of itself on the turnpike, too, with a new 390-cu. in. Thunderbird Special V-8 that has all the punch you'll ever need. The 352 Thunderbird Special V-8 and 292 Thunderbird V-8 thrive on regular gas. And, for top economy, you can choose the '61 Mileage Maker Six.

Conservation Award Goes To Carl Schlenker WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

JOE JONES

Carl Schlenker

Carl Schlenker of the Rhea Community was honored Tuesday evening at the annual Soil Conservation District Banquet as Conservation Farmer of the Year. This choice was made by a committee appointed by the Soil Conservation District board of supervisors.

Schlenker, a native of the community, owns a section of land and irrigates most of it from three wells by using about two miles of concrete underground pipe. Loss of tail water on his farm is very small and most of it goes on his native grass pasture.

In addition to utilizing the tail water from his fields, Schlenker makes use of surplus water from other farms. Water that flows down the north side of his place is caught behind a dike and is re-used. At the present time he is planning to set up a pump and motor to pick up waste water that flows down a ditch on the south side of his farm.

This outstanding farmer is a breeder of registered Polled Herefords and feeds out calves and lambs from time to time and has planted part of the farm to pasture to accommodate his livestock.

He practices a conservation cropping system by growing primarily high residue crops and rotates them over the farm. All residue is utilized by being worked into the soil and a rotovator has recently been purchased for this operation. No stubble is ever burned.

Before irrigation Schlenker used a system of terraces on steeper land and strip cropped on the contour to prevent wind and water erosion. He used a rotation program of grain sorghum, summer fallow and wheat. At the present time he has contoured rows wherever possible to improve the application of water and reduce loss of water.

Schlenker and his wife, the former Velma Schueler, and their four children, Connie, Floyd, Jim and Carlene, live on the farm, which is about fourteen miles west and 1 1/2 north of Friona. The children attend Friona schools.

Mrs. Schlenker assists her husband in the operation of Rhea Grain and Fertilizer, a business which is located on the farm.

He is a member of the Farmer County Community Hospital board of directors, has served on the Soil Conservation District board for two terms and has been a member of the High Plains Underground Water District board of directors for the past five years.

This past week three members of the six member Japanese "Feed Grain Mission" visited elevators, sorghum fields, feed mills, and feed lots in Farmer County. This group was in Farmer County to observe feeding operations, feed preparations and feed grains used in these operations. They are here as a result of efforts put forth by the National Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

The Japanese are including more protein in their diet each year and to continue to do this it will take more feed grains to produce meat. This offers us a market for grain sorghum and of course is not being overlooked by the National Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Marketing of grain sorghum is one of our big problems and of course we should do everything possible to move a good product into the trade channels. Contamination of grain sorghum is one thing we must continue to guard against. To market a good product we must keep the product pure, so be sure to sweep trucks clean after hauling seed wheat to the field. It is easy to get a little treated seed wheat in grain sorghum unless trucks are cleaned up.

Also, keep cottonseed away from grain sorghum. One cottonseed in a load of grain sorghum going west can sure cause trouble and expense to the purchaser when found at the California Port of Entry. Lets keep down contamination and try to give the purchaser what he wants and can use.

Friday Sept. 30th we will spring. You may not plan to feed them but someone will and the price will be reflected in light of the cost of putting on a hundred pounds in the feed lot and the value per 100 pounds after they are finished.

This is not to say crossbreds are not good because crossbreds are very popular with feeders. But it is to say cattle should be quality beef breeds that will have shape and be capable of finishing out a choice carcass. The color or markings matter little but how they will

Grain Sorghum Tour Friday

A tour of two grain sorghum demonstration fields in Farmer County is scheduled for Friday, September 30, announces Joe Jones, Farmer County Agent. All area farmers and other interested persons are invited to gather at Jack Tomlin's sorghum demonstration plot one mile south of the Hub at 9 a.m. for the first part of the tour.

The group will observe eight rows of 13 different hybrid grain varieties at the Tomlin farm and will then proceed to the Bob Riethmayer farm three miles east and three and one-half miles north of the Hub. Here the members of the tour will see eight rows each of 12 different varieties seeded two rows to the lister ridge.

"These demonstrations are being grown to give farmers a chance to observe side by side the more widely-grown hybrids and to give them the opportunity to observe a few of the new hybrids and compare them with the more commonly grown hybrids," Jones says. The eight row plots at each of these two demonstration areas will be harvested and weighed separately and yields from each variety will be published for the benefit of grain sorghum growers, Jones explains.

The 13 varieties of sorghum planted at the Tomlin farm were DeKalb F-63, DeKalb F-62, Lindsey 722, Golden Acres TE 66, Steckleys R 111, Amak R 12, Amak Red Raider, Amak Ranger, R. S. 630, Texas 611, R. S. 610, Texas 620, and Texas 660.

All of these varieties were seeded on May 19, the ground received 82 pounds of nitrogen before planting and 41 pounds of side dressing on July 1. The seeding rate was 6 1/2 pounds per acre in single rows.

Varieties planted on the Riethmayer farm were Texas 660, Lindsey 788, Amak R 12, DeKalb F-63, P.A.G. 665, Steckleys 108, Golden Acres TE 55, Amak Red Raider, Amak Coast, DeKalb F-62, R. S. 610, and Texas 601. This plot received 82 pounds of nitrogen preplant, was seeded in double rows at a rate of 8 pounds per acre and the seeding date was May 24.

Friday's tour will be the first of two planned in the county. A second one, to be at the Melvin Sachs farm near Rhea, is scheduled for a later date.

Farm Bureau Convention Slated For Thursday, October 6

At 8 p. m. Thursday, October 6, the 12th annual Farmer County Farm Bureau Convention will begin at the Oklahoma Lane Community Building. Personal invitations are being mailed to all members and Herman Gerles, president, urges each member of every family to attend.

During the business session five directors and a president will be elected. Nominations will be accepted from the floor, so anyone present will be able to nominate any person he feels is qualified to hold office.

Various committees have planned meetings this week and an interesting and informative program is being planned. No speaker has been engaged, but Herman Gerles, president; Vernon Symcox, secretary-treasurer; and Gilbert Kaltwasser will be present.

These three attended a policy development meeting of Farm Bureau District Two in Lubbock last Thursday. Any one of them will be willing to pass on information pertaining to minimum for farm workers, the bracero program, marketing methods, taxes and other matters of vital interest to farmers that were discussed at this meeting.

Mr. Gerles would like to emphasize the importance of being present at this meeting. He says, "Being present gives you a voice in the affairs of this, your organization, and by taking advantage of this opportunity, you will have a voice in matters affecting your farming business for the next year."

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

One week from this Thursday night, October 6, eight o'clock, Oklahoma Lane Community Building. This is the time and place for the 12th annual Farm Bureau Convention in Farmer County. The building is located on the road that runs from the Oklahoma Lane crossroads to Clay's Corner, on the Muleshoe highway.

six and one half miles west of Clay's Corner, on the south side of the road. It is a metal quonset-type building. Members will receive individual invitations, and we would like to see most of them there with their families. This is a family affair. Committees will be meeting several nights between now and then, preparing a program that will interest you. This is where you can have a voice in circumstances affecting your farming business for the next year. Be there.

Herman Gerles, president; Vernon Symcox, secretary-treasurer; and Gilbert Kaltwasser attended a policy development meeting of Farm Bureau District Two in Lubbock last Thursday. No decisions were made, but subjects of vital importance, like minimum wages for farm workers, bracero program, marketing methods, taxes, and many others were discussed. Wagner Carr, of Lubbock spoke at a banquet held in the evening.

Remember that you must file for the three or four cents per gallon Federal Tax Refund on tractor gas before the first of October. You can get forms for this from your county agent, at the post office, or here at the Farm Bureau Office. This refund covers a whole year, so it's important.

"A man may learn from the Bible to be a more thorough gentleman than if he had been brought up in all the drawing rooms in London." Charles Kingsley wrote the above statement.

Remember that there will be five directors and a president elected at the convention next week at Oklahoma Lane Community Building. If you know someone you would like for any of these offices, please be there to name him. He may be elected.

CONSIDER THIS: "Fret not thyself because of evil men, neither be thou envious at the wicked; for there shall be no reward to the evil man; the candle of the wicked shall be put out." Proverbs 24:19-20.

AT FRIONA WHEAT GROWERS ELEVATOR, the Japanese visitors were shown the mechanical method of recording the temperature of grain stored in the elevator bins. Shown here are Hanjuro Kotake of Japan and Arthur Drake, manager of the elevator.

INSPECTING A FIELD OF MAIZE at the Jack Tomlin farm near Hub are these three members of a Japanese Feed Grain Mission team which is touring the United States. Joining them on the tour of Farmer County were Dub Anthony, left, president of the Farmer County Grain Sorghum Producers Association and Bill Nichols, secretary of the association.

THE ELECTRIC CO-OP PROVIDES

PARTNERSHIP POWER FOR PROGRESS

When the Electric Cooperatives of Texas were first organized, their members agreed to serve anyone in their rural area who needed electricity.

The members borrowed money at interest to build their own electric systems and they are paying back principle and interest, often ahead of schedule.

This broad plan of area coverage has revolutionized rural life. Twenty five years have passed since this covenant was made and the pledge is still unbroken.

Today the member-owners of the 77 electric cooperatives serving Texas can point with pride to efficient, dependable electric systems providing PARTNERSHIP POWER FOR PROGRESS.
