3 A.M. in a pharmacy...

It is 3 A.M. in a community pharmacy. The street is in darkness, yet lights are on in the pharmacy. Why? Because the pharmacist is faced with an emergency.

He received an urgent telephone call at 2:50 A.M. Mrs. Saxon, a sufferer from asthma, was having severe difficulty in breathing. Her husband told the pharmacist that she had run out of the medicine prescribed by her physician.

The pharmacist dressed quickly, rushed to his store, located the original prescription in his files, telephoned to Mrs. Saxon's physician, prepared and delivered the medication. Soon, Mrs. Saxon was breathing normally again, and a possible tragedy had been averted.

Such crises are frequent, yet your pharmacist meets them with speed and confidence as part of his complex professional duties. Today, a pharmacist goes to college for five years, spends many hundreds of hours in apprenticeship, and must pass a rigorous state examination before he is licensed. He must stock thousands of dollars worth of health products you need every day—as well as those you may need only once in a lifetime.

It was not by chance that the pharmacist had the proper drug ready for Mrs. Saxon when she needed it. We call the complex process by which a drug moves from manufacturer to patient "the miracle of drug distribution."

The teamwork of manufacturer, drug wholesaler and pharmacist assures that you—as well as Mrs. Saxon—will always receive the medicine you need. This miracle of drug distribution—the fact that the medicine you need is ready when you need it—is just one reason why prescriptions are today's best bargains.

Changes in the Cotton Loan Program

The USDA has announced changes in the cotton loan program to make the program more convenient for cotton producers and less costly to CCC. Beginning with the 1965 crop of cotton, all loans will be disbursed by the ASCS County Offices only. In the past, loans could be disbursed by lending agencies also.

Under the new procedure all loan notes executed by producers, warehouse receipts, and all related documents will remain in custody of ASCS county offices until loan maturity or redemption. This will make it possible for producers and persons who purchase loan equities to redeem cotton from the loan easier and quicker because redemptions can be accomplished at county offices. In the past, all loan documents have been maintained at the ASCS Commodity Office in New Orleans.
