VOL. V, NO. 46

WHITTLIN'

BY DOLPH MOTEN

Attention, critics of Ralph Yarborough--both of you! The junior senator from Texas has voted against spending money. Not only did he vote against it, but he worked against it.

In a newsletter from Yarborough's office this week, the senator points out, "I voted for an amendment by Senator Russell Long of Louisiana to cut $20,000,000 (that's twenty million) from the Republican administration's foreign aid spending program. This amendment carried by 48 yeas and 40 nays, cutting down the so-called contingency fund of the foreign aid program."

Yarborough goes on to point out that he was in favor of "cutting the fat out of foreign aid" because some of the money which was earmarked for "unforeseen emergencies" was spent although no real crisis developed.

Since we've had to pay a couple of extra dollars income tax (and that's bragging, we'll admit) this department has become more conscious of government spending. We agree with Yarborough when he writes, "Most Texans, I believe, agree that we should trim the fat out of foreign aid spending."

Some interested individuals were disappointed about Bovina's turnout at the polls Saturday, but we were reasonably satisfied. The total was 223. Certainly, that's short of spectacular. But fewer people have voted in elections here. Too, the total looks better when you consider there was no local, or even county, race to attract citizens to the poll.

We may be giving credit where no credit is due, but we feel this community is election-conscious. It almost has to be that way when a candidate gets into office via the write-in ballot. This has happened here, you'll remember, a couple of times in the last couple of years.

Attendance at Democratic precinct convention Saturday afternoon was less than it should have been, we'll admit. However, precinct conventions never have been known for their large crowds. We don't understand why more people don't take an interest in them.

At that, though, there were more people at Democratic convention than at Republican one, wouldn't you think?

Bovina voters were evenly divided on the governor's race. On the local level, it was a toss-up between Safe Driving Price Daniel and Sales Tax Jack Cox.

Probably, a sales tax is inevitable for Texas. Without any real reason, we're dreading it. It'll complicate business transactions to a certain extent and it'll be a change...different. Being human, we have a tendency to be hesitant about changes. The older we get, the more we're against change. And that's bad.

If we have to have the sales tax, then we have to have it. That's all there is to it.

Primary purpose of the sales tax money will be to increase teachers' pay, of course. We heard a good, Republican, idealistic answer to the teacher pay problem recently.

Like most idealistic thoughts, it won't work. But here it is: Don't have a sales tax. Instead raise local taxes to pay teachers more. Therefore, the money won't have to go through Austin and then back to the local district.

Would be nice if it would work. But, of course, there would be many school districts that wouldn't go along with the increase and that would leave many teachers without the raise.

Would this district be one of those negative ones?

For the complete story on the real stink in Bovina Schools, see Wandering With Waneen column in this issue.

Fire Destroys Dyer Pickup

A late model pickup belonging to Travis Dyer was destroyed by fire Friday afternoon on his farm five miles east of town.

Bovina Volunteer Fire Department answered a call to the fire, but the vehicle was destroyed by the time firemen reached the scene.

Fire Chief Otho Hammonds says the fire evidently started from an electrical short.

Six more young men--three of them juveniles--were arrested the past week, shedding further light on recent and older Bovina burglary cases.

Ponies Finish Season

Bovina's Mustangs finished a winless baseball season Tuesday, dropping a 10-1 decision to Nazareth.

The Ponies had another game scheduled Friday afternoon at Adrian but were unable to make the trip because of a bus breakdown.

Mac Glasscock and Jon Lin Riddle divided pitching duties. Glasscock started and lasted four innings. He gave up nine runs on only three hits with his own wildness and leaky defense by his teammates causing his downfall.

AT COUNTY CONVENTION--

Delegates Will Back Johnson

Bovina's delegation to the Democratic county convention will carry a resolution supporting Lyndon Johnson for president.

The resolution was adopted Saturday afternoon in a precinct convention.

Eleven delegates will represent the Bovina precinct.

Delegates are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. George Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Embree, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Anderson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Tom Caldwell and Dolph Moten

"It's a promotion and we feel we must take it."

This was the reaction of High School Principal Roy Whisler shortly after his resignation was accepted by Bovina's board of trustees last week.

"I have always worked toward a superintendent's position and am looking forward to the job," Whisler said.

Whisler will be superintendent of schools at Morse, near Stinnett in the northern Panhandle. He will also be tax assessor-collector.

He came to Bovina three years ago from Chillicothe, and had served as high school principal since. He is married and the father of two young daughters.

He received a bachelors degree from Oklahoma Baptist University and his masters from Oklahoma University. He holds a professional certificate making him eligible to fill either a superintendent or principal's position.

Whisler, who was active in Baptist church work here, says he and his family have liked living in Bovina and especially are reluctant to leave because of church ties.

They plan to move about July 1.

McLeroy Promoted To Principal Post

Board of trustees for Bovina Schools met Thursday night to interview a prospect for vacant coaching positions and during the meeting received the resignation of High School Principal Roy Whisler.

No definite action was taken on hiring a coach, but the board immediately hired James McLeroy to replace Whisler as principal.

McLeroy has been commercial teacher here for almost a year and a half.

Whisler, who resigned to accept superintendent's position at Morse, received a telephone call from the board of trustees at that school, saying he was hired there, during the meeting and immediately offered his resignation.

McLeroy spent four years in the Navy before attending East Texas State College in Commerce. He received his bachelors degree in three years attending both long semesters and summer sessions.

He will continue his studies at the Commerce school during the summer in quest of his masters degree.

The new principal majored in business administration and minored in English. He will continue to teach some commercial subjects, according to

Gene Rea Dies Tuesday Night

Funeral arrangements are pending, but will probably be Friday.

AT REGULAR MEETING--

Commissioners Vote Anti-Litter Ordinance

Finishing touches were put on an anti-litter ordinance for City of Bovina at a regular meeting of Bovina city commission Monday night.

The ordinance, which will go into effect as quickly as it is formally published in this newspaper two times, makes it "unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, to place or cause to be left, any paper, trash, grass clippings, rubbish, leaves or other debris, upon any premises, public or private, within the corporate limits of the City of Bovina."

Blagg, who was arrested in Las Cruces two weeks ago, had implicated Valverde. The Latin American youth's bond was set at $1000 and he is in jail.

IN BOVINA BOX--

Total Of 223 Cast Ballots

Parmer County voters assented to the mind of the rest of the High Plains for the most part in Saturday's Democratic Primary. For that matter, they pretty well agreed with balloteers across the state, helping give key race winners a boost from the "grass roots country."

They said okay to Price Daniel and Ben Ramsey, sided with the Plains on the testy Carr-Wilson issue for attorney general, and helped return Congressman Walter Rogers to office by a big vote.

On the local level, voters kept things interesting by calling for run-offs in both of the county commissioners races. In Friona, Thomas Lewellen polled 392 votes to force Wesley Hardesty into another test of strength June 4. Incumbent E. G. Phipps dropped out behind Hardesty's 249 with 240 of his own.

Guy Cox drew 236 votes in Precinct 3 (Farwell) to make Johnny McDonald, present commissioner, run against him in the second primary. Duane Curtis, the third candidate, staged a handy write-in campaign to poll 123 votes--only 50 fewer than McDonald.

Parmer County voters were soundly shellacked by Lamb pollsters in the lively district attorney contest. Bill Sheehan, seeking his first full term in office (after appointment by Price Daniel when the new district was created), ran head-on with the South Plains steamroller.

Parmer County endorsed Sheehan by almost three-to-one (he lost the Oklahoma Lane and Lazbuddie boxes), but in Lamb, the voters chose Jack Young of Muleshoe about four-to-three. Bailey elected Young about two-to-one, and about cancelled out Parmer County's vote for Sheehan, so Lamb was the deciding factor--and a big one.

Young, now Bailey county attorney, ended up with 4478 (unofficial but complete) votes, and the Parmer County candidate finished with 4026.

Parmer Countians gave a heavy endorsement to Jesse Osborn of Muleshoe, who needed it in his bid for re-election to state representative. The vote here was 1227 for Osborn, 290 for Bill Shelby of Hart, and 263 for Clarence Hamilton of Earth. The latter two are public school teachers.

In all the district (Parmer, Castro, Bailey, Lamb, and Deaf Smith), Osborn got 5331 votes. Hamilton drew 4312 and Shelby 3015, so, it will be Osborn and Hamilton in the June runoff.

TV cable several months ago, requested that he be given a new contract since the prior one had expired. The commission agreed to give him an answer before next regular meeting.

The city commission passed a resolution to close portions of streets and alleys on Highway 86--none of which is in use at present.

Minutes of meetings during past month were read and approved and last month's bills were voted to be paid.

Also, "It shall be unlawful for any person to burn any of the items mentioned except in a metal container covered with metal. Any person violating this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than $100, and each day such offense is committed shall be a separate offense."

Fire Chief Otho Hammonds requested that two high pressure hose nozzles be purchased for fire department. This request was granted.

PRINCIPAL ANNOUNCES--

Wilson, Crawford, Embree 8th Grade Honor Students

Three top students of Bovina Grade School finished with less than a point difference for honors of valedictorian and salutatorian.

Ann Lynn Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson, is top student with a grade average of 93.31. Judy Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crawford, is salutatorian for her grade average of 93.21.

Third place student is Kay Embree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Embree, with less than a point difference--92.65.

Miss Grace Paul, grade school principal, said she had never seen a closer race and it took a full day of adding, dividing, and rechecking to be sure of the results. She also said Kay Embree would have a prominent place in the graduation exercises along with Ann Lynn and Judy.

Ann Lynn and Judy both fell down in grade averages in the past nine weeks due to the fact they took part in several outside activities such as eighth grade play, spelling bee, and science fair.

Ann Lynn's averages in the six subjects taken by eighth grade were: Reading, 93.01; English, 90; Arithmetic, 93.25; Spelling, 97.75; History, 91.75; and Science, 94.

Judy's averages were Reading, 91.67; English, 92.83; Arithmetic, 94.75; Spelling, 95; History, 91; and Science, 94.

Kay's subject averages were Reading, 91.62; English, 92.75; Arithmetic, 92.75; Spelling, 98; History, 88.75; and Science, 92.

Royal Bunk

How much longer will the British people cling to that idiotic bit of ancient foolishness--the royalty?

In America we only idolize those persons who have done something to put them in the public eye while Englanders chose their celebrities because they had parents who were of the royal family.

Surely the ruling family does no ruling. All the ship launching and issuing of proclamations made by the queen could be handled by anyone from the prime minister to the local pub keeper.

Somewhere thousands of years ago, one of Queen Elizabeth's ancestors probably did something noteworthy that put his family in a castle that even modern times and two world wars can't jar it from.

The most recent thing the family has done noteworthy was accomplished by the Duke of Windsor when he gave up a chance to stay in the stiff-necked royal society to do what he thought was best.

The queen herself makes news by making a trip, having a baby or even catching a cold.

The romantic life of the royal family is greatly dramatized but outside the Duke of Windsor-Wallace Warfield marriage, nothing really romantic has occurred.

Princess Margaret and Peter Townsend made some headlines but the girl next door has probably had love affairs to equal theirs.

Prince Phillip, the queen's husband, seems not to be cut out for his role. He scurries around playing polo and making speeches like someone who doesn't know he has a lifetime gravy train.

The prince has been ridiculed because he acts like a normal human being.

It's difficult for a people to give up something they've had for so long but the British are showing signs of wising up.

Within the last three years, a few Britishers have said publicly that keeping a royal family in bunk. These bold persons were chastized but this feeling will gradually grow until someday Englanders will tell their "ruler" to come out of Buckingham Palace or else pay the rent.

Fairy tales are fine for children but they are out of place for adults in the 20th century.

Letters to the Editor

It is unfortunate that many times the general public gets only one side of an issue. I hope to produce some provoking thoughts about the other side of legalized alcohol.

In American industry over ONE BILLION DOLLARS is lost annually because of the use of alcohol. Nineteen per cent of all absenteeism in industry is due to the same cause. Wages (sic) losses alone in industry amount to 432 MILLION DOLLARS per year. This is not "an ugly head?" More than 118,000,000 accidents in the United States last year were due to drinking. Of these accidents more than 10,000 were fatal. Also more than 120 MILLION DOLLARS were lost in property damages due to drinking. This is part of "the other side."

Publicly supported hospitals and other state institutions spent more than 25 MILLION DOLLARS last year for the care of alcoholics. Naturally you and I foot the bill from our TAXES. Americans spend almost 10 BILLION DOLLARS ANNUALLY for hard liquor. This is THREE TIMES as much as we spend for education and 20 TIMES as much as for ALL RELIGIOUS PURPOSES. This is a poor commentary on our American way of life but also shows "the ugly head."

Where is the man of distinction? Why not show the drunk in the gutter or the mental institutions they have their fair share of these "lost." Where is the joy of good living? Why not show the broken marriages, the orphan children and lowering of national morals? Can we find respectability and a better life in the "package store?"

How about taxes? Let me show you the true picture. For every DOLLAR of revenue received from liquor, the state of Massachusetts spent $4.82 on liquor-caused crimes and care of alcoholics. The Federal Government in 1954 PAID OUT $718 MILLION MORE for its liquor crime bill than it received in liquor revenues. If our children must be schooled with tax money from whiskey and beer, then we should give our children this good product for their noon lunch. God forbid!

Show me one thing that liquor and beer has contributed to the spiritual development of society? The "ugly head" of excess and lust goes hand in hand with the rot gut sold by filthy and polluted hands. Do we legalize prostitution and sodomy because such exists and will always? Do we turn a rabid dog loose because we always will have rabies? No, we shoot the dog but will legalize the whiskey peddler even though he sells DEHYDRATING PROTOPLASMIC POISON. (So designated by Federal Drug and Food Administration.)

Jesus said a long time ago "Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit." Yes, the "ugly head" always shows even though it seeks to be hidden under the guise of morality and respectability.

Census Report Shows Population Increases

With all the "chamber of commerce" figures going down the drain in the three towns in Parmer county official reports from the district census director's office in Amarillo revealed that the total county population in Parmer will total 9,492. This figure is still "subject to revisions" according to Clyde Cook, district census supervisor, but the changes that may be made will be minor ones.

ORIENTAL INFLUENCE -- Laced canvas panels provide a colorful roof that contributes to the Eastern feeling of this modern home. Even the arched port at right is covered by the protective fabric. Window and terrace awnings of heavy cotton canvas can lower indoor temperatures as much as 15 degrees and save on air conditioning costs.

This information was announced from Amarillo in a letter to County Judge Loyde Brewer Wednesday morning.

City populations in Parmer county are as follows for 1960--Frona--2,035; Bovina--1,032; Farwell--1,009.

Looking back at the 1950 figures for the county, and the three cities a drastic change can be noted.

At that time the county boasted a total of 5,787 persons.

Frona in 1950 counted a total of 1,202 noses and Bovina 670. Farwell's was "estimated" at 1250 but was somewhere around 650.

The official census reports will be released at a later date according to Cook when the last non-residents have been accounted for and placed in their proper categories.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Camping is increasing prodigiously. In 1958 about 68 million visits were recorded on the national forests alone — three times more than in 1946. This volume and intensity of public camping ground use, coast to coast, is staggering. Use alone, to say nothing of health and common decency, dictate that cleanliness on the nation's campgrounds be improved and upgraded.

Despite inadequacy and disrepair of sanitary facilities on some public campgrounds, no serious epidemic has yet arisen from them. That's because the basic rules of human sanitation are presently being met. In the May issue of Sports Afield Magazine, Lee Yeager discusses a few principles governing waste and garbage disposal.

In the camps of hunters, fishermen and families, the first thought should be directed toward safe disposal of excretory wastes. Where campground toilets are provided this is no problem, except where carelessness or disrepair leaves such facilities exposed to flies, or more rarely, contamination of the ground surface. Under such circumstances it is good insurance to make repairs, disinfect or move to safer ground.

Under big-woods and wilderness conditions, the shovel is the standard disposal tool. In back-country camps a shovel with a roll of toilet paper slipped on the handle is a common sight; and safety in disposal, with this simplest of all methods, merely requires the lifting of a few shovelfulls of earth and replacing it after use.

A more satisfactory disposal system, especially for groups spending a week or more in camp, is the field latrine. This is the standard disposal method in military bivouacs, and consists merely of a trench dug in the ground with the loose soil banked at one side. The "slit" need not be more than a foot wide or two feet deep; it may be of any length.

In all cases toilet paper should be kept at the site, on a small stake or on a six-inch spike driven vertically into a stump or at an angle into a tree. A two-pound coffee can or similar tin, inverted over the roll, makes a waterproof cover.

Fly protection on and about cooking and eating areas in camp can be simple and effective. Food can be stored and served in covered utensils. Screened boxes or even cheesecloth will meet food coverage purposes, the latter without adding bulk or weight in transportation.

The handling of garbage, including dishwater, is also important in maintaining a clean, healthful camp. A garbage pit 100 feet or more from the tent door, properly covered and preferably exposed to full sunlight, is a good solution. Don't compromise on size; have it big and deep enough. One cubic foot per person per week, beginning one foot below the ground surface, is a good rule-of-thumb.

Dogs are natural fly-attractors in any warm season. Sprays, cleanliness induced by soap and water, and prompt disposal of droppings, meet the sanitation problem in a practical way.

Breaking camp provides the final test of the camper's discipline out-of-doors. More often than not camps are broken hurriedly, sometimes in the onrush of darkness or even at night. Then, the temptation to toss garbage and tin cans aside is stronger than at any other time. He who leaves an untidy, waste-strewn campsite under such circumstances, however far back, must be regarded as careless, or ignorant, or both. But the camper who makes certain that the latrine is closed, that garbage and tin cans are buried, and that the site is left neat and uncontaminated, not only demonstrates his responsibility out-doors, but leaves a safe and attractive place for the next camping party.

NO MORE STARCHING—Wash and wear cottons eliminate three time-consuming steps in the family laundry: starching, sprinkling, and heavy ironing. For best appearance, light touch-up pressing on some garments may be desirable. The laundering method, how particular one is about his personal appearance, and whether the garment is designed for sports or dress wear may determine the amount of touching up.

THE PERIPHERY
The quiet man in the crowd had grown tired of the boastful talk of the others. So, when there was a lull in the conversation, he began: "This morning I went over to see a new machine we've got at our place, and it's astonishing how it works."
"And how does it work?" asked one.
"Well," was the reply, "by means of a pedal attachment a fulcrum lever converts a vertical reciprocating motion into a circular movement. The principal part of the machine is a huge disc that revolves in a vertical plane. Power is applied through the axis of the disc, and work is done on the periphery, and the hardest steel by mere impact may be reduced to any shape."
"What is this wonderful machine?" chorused the crowd.
"A grindstone."

Wandering With Waneen

by Waneen Ragsdale

Last week we dropped into the office of the "land man" O. W. Rhinehart who sells democratic farms at republican prices (or is it republican farms at democratic prices?) and found his little friend "Sissy" Minter decorating his windows. Sissy was using at least a yard of cellophane tape to stick up Lyndon B. Johnson for president cards on O. W.'s plate glass window. So long as she was putting up those favored candidate cards, the extravagance was of little concern.

Someone was telling us recently about a boat belonging to Buck and Mabel Ellison that was the cause of many comments around Truth or Consequences, N. M.

It seems that they have named it "The Buck 'n Mabel." Everyone around the lakes have noticed the catchy title and are interested to see just what "Buck 'n Mabel" really looks like.

While conversing with Mrs. Pearl Moore last week she asked us to tell the readers of this column how much she appreciated the more than a hundred families who were on her mail route for the many years she carried the mail.

She has recently resigned the route and said she would certainly miss all of the wonderful folks "along the line" who had always been so thoughtful of her through the years. She said she would miss the fresh fruits and vegetables and other courtesies extended to her as she made her way around the route and was grateful to them for all the cards and gifts she always received at Christmas.

We feel sure she didn't receive anything she didn't deserve for being such a good mail carrier.

Mrs. Charles Don Smith is replacing Mrs. Moore.

Did you know A. M. Wilson had a birthday last week? You ought to see his new "birthday suit" that Mary Jane and the daughters gave him.

We were sorry to learn of Artie Kunselman's ill fate. On the other hand it is good that his bone disease is curable. His grandmother, Mrs. Doris Wilson, told us about his "go cart" they made from the frame of a baby buggy to move him around on. They padded a slab of plywood with cotton, foam rubber and plastic and then made terry cloth covers that can be taken off and washed. Being able to move around indoors and outdoors on this nifty cart will make things easier for Artie and the family.

Here at the "Mother's Day" time of the year we are so grateful that we are a mother of three girls who are healthy and happy--most of the time. We mean that they are happy most of the time. We are happy to be a mother all the time. There was a time this week when our oldest wasn't happy over the fact that she wasn't a boy--and had to wear a dress

ON WATER--

City Has Low Rate

Bovinans with lawns and gardens who wish to irrigate this summer will have an opportunity to obtain city water at a special rate again this year.

Regular commercial rate has a minimum of $2.50 per month, based on 4,000 gallons used at a 62-cent rate.

The special quantity rate will cost users a $6.50 minimum, based on 30,000 gallons. Over 30,000 gallons will cost the user only 20 cents per thousand, according to city secretary Henry Minter.

Minter says 30,000 gallons at the regular rate would cost $11.95.

The regular rate drops from 62 cents per thousand for the first 4,000 gallons to 45 cents for the next thousand gallons.

Only requirement for citizens to be on the special rate is that they notify city hall. Once on the quantity rate, users must pay at least the $6.50 for at least five months.

The system has been used before here and Minter says nearly all homeowners have taken advantage of it.

The border draw, according to cowboys, is a cross draw made with the gun carried at or near the hip, but hanging butt forward. A quick stab of the hand across the body reaches the gun, and the continuation of the movement lifts it clear of the holster. It is called this because of its popularity with men in the vicinity of the Mexican border.

Denim Men of America

COTTON FARMERS

Cotton grew in India 5000 years ago, in America before the days of the Incas. The conquests of Alexander the Great brought it to Europe. Columbus carried it from the Bahamas to Spain. A few great British and American inventors in the late 18th century created for cotton a world-wide empire far beyond Alexander's dreams.

Eighty countries produce cotton; all use it. Farms from Virginia to California provide the world's largest crop, supplying the world's largest textile industry at home and the world's greatest sea-borne commerce. 1,500,000 farmers, men in denim all, grow the crop. Uncounted thousands gin, handle and ship it.

Plant breeding, chemicals, machine planning and picking, and modern techniques make cotton production more efficient than ever before, contributing to America's high living standards. Sixty yards of cotton cloth from sheared dress goods to denim work clothing are thus made available for each person in the United States annually.

THE PARMER FARMER

By W. H. Graham, Jr.

TYPICAL OF MANY High Plains farmers who are selling the milo they have stored in their barns most of the winter, is this farmer loading his truck for a trip to the elevator. Several dozen farmers in all of Parmer County were taking advantage of the slight increase in maize prices late last week. One elevator unloaded 175 trucks on a peak day two weeks ago.

was good, 1957 (drizzly fall) bad; 1958 was good (the best), and 1959 you don't need to be reminded about. The uniformity of this pattern is quite unique.

Speaking of this year only, we'd say most folks would be happy to see the cycle continue!

It's almost unbelievable the way that the wheat crop has sprung up since decent weather has finally arrived. Like kids, it seems that the wheat was only about "yea high" just a few moments ago, and now just look at it.

The law of averages says that we are going to have better luck with our wheat crop this year than we've been having in the past two.

In 1958 and 1959, we managed to raise plenty of wheat . . . you couldn't hope for much better . . . but getting it into the barn was something else again. The hail really came down a couple of summers ago, and it was even worse last year.

If averages mean anything (and they do) then our luck will have a change for the better in the next few weeks. Oh, sure, we will have the usual hail-outs. We always do. But we're entitled to escape wholesale slaughter.

The same goes for the cotton farmers. Most of the crop is now in and some is already sprouting. If we just manage to hold this first planting and get good stands, we'll be off to a roaring start.

Of course, speaking of averages again, everybody is looking for an "on" year in the cotton business. Raising cotton here on this part of the High Plains has been an amazing business of up and down—with a two-year cycle pattern. A good year is followed by a bad; a bad year by a good. Stop and count back: 1954 was good, 1955 (late irrigation and an early freeze) bad; 1956

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Soil Stewardship Week—Beginning the fifth Sunday after Easter and continuing through the following Sunday, the Soil Conservation District of America will observe Soil Stewardship Week. It is hoped that something be done or said that will be an influence to awaken man to his responsibility as a steward of the soil.

The Parmer County Soil Conservation District has purchased a film entitled "The Earth is the Lord's." This color and sound film plainly points out men's obligation as stewards of the land. This 13 1/2 minute film may be obtained free of charge by contacting any of the district supervisors.

In the near future a newsletter will be sent out on the subject of soil stewardship and will also give information concerning the film.

Material has been distributed to all churches in Parmer County by the district supervisor for information and use during Soil Stewardship Week.

Parmer County SCD supervisors held their regular monthly meeting last Tuesday. Among several items discussed there was one important thing that the supervisors want the people of Parmer County to know about. The district now has four 4 1/2 yard earth moving scrapers available to anyone at $7.50 per day.

These machines are in the hands of the following supervisors: A. L. Black, T. O. Lesly, Robert Calaway and Bruce Parr.

Prices Rise; Farmers Sell

With the slight rise in grain sorghum market prices, High Plains farmers are unsealing their barns and hauling last year's maize crop to the elevators.

Some grain dealers have not bought any milo; however, most have purchased some. Prices range from $1.50 to $1.60. Most elevators are buying for about $1.55.

One elevator manager, commenting on the number of trucks on the road hauling, said it is almost like having a grain harvest in May.

During the peak season of last year's harvest, market prices ranged from $1.41 to $1.43. They never exceeded $1.45, a point below which price has not dropped recently.

Friena Wheat Growers has handled a large portion of this movement. Arthur Drake reported that the elevator had unloaded 175 trucks, two weeks ago today. He says about a dozen farmers were hauling milo to market.

We now have a rock-walled planter and room divider, a photo mural, louvered-door storage closet to hide our new incinerator and water heater, and an easy-to-build plant shelf which we screwed to the underside of the window sill. The planter is supported by a butterfly bracket bearing against the wall. It's surprising how much you enjoy and appreciate improvements you do yourself.

Get applications for wheat certification in now to Gene Cupp, State Department of Agriculture, 2814 34th Street, Lubbock, Texas. Application forms can be secured at County Agent's office. Applications for inspection must be made at least 45 days before harvest.

Johnson grass and bindweeds have begun to show up. Now is the time to begin control programs to get these two noxious weeds before they make seed. For bindweed control in small plants soil sterilants work best and have done a good job in the past. Soil sterilants work best on Johnson grass but because of the amount of land involved with Johnson grass it is much better to use chemicals other than sterilants in many instances. Be sure you understand the correct use and limitations of these chemicals or you may be disappointed and waste your money. I have several good research publications on Johnson grass and bindweed control that furnish information necessary to control these two noxious plants.

Early season insect control pays on cotton three out of five years. It insures early fruiting and maturity and results in higher quality cotton. It is time now to get the sprayers ready to go. Early season insect control should begin at the four-leaf stage or earlier. Many farmers have gotten started too late in years past to be most effective. Extension Bulletin 218 Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects; come by and pick one up or go by your ginner, I am sending them all a supply.

All 4-H members planning to enter the cotton or grain sorghum production contest should get their entries in as soon as they know where their crop will be located on the farm.

Phosphate has been giving good results in the sandy area on grain sorghum. If you haven't used phosphate in the past you might like to try a little on a test plot of grain sorghum. Remember that phosphate should be banded before planting your sorghum or at planting time. Part of the nitrogen can be applied at the same time and a side dressing of nitrogen applied later. Split applications of nitrogen are not so important in the heavier soils but in the sand it seems to be giving good results. A good guide is all phosphate and one half the nitrogen preplant or at planting time followed by a side dressing of the other one half the nitrogen. A soil test is a good guide when fertilizing any crop. I have forms for sending these to the soil testing laboratory at Texas A & M along with instructions for taking the sample.

One way to safeguard against excessive fungicide and nematocid residues on harvested crops and protect those who handle the materials is to follow the recommendations of the manufacturer, emphasizes Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist.

Sesame, Corn Outlook Told

While sesame prospects are good, outlook for corn in the Farmer County area is only fair, the two county dealers report.

"We think our acreage of sesame will be equivalent to last year," says C. M. Henderson, farm store operator in Farwell.

"Our corn acreage is going to be considerable less than last year," he says.

"It is a little early to tell about the appearance of the crop, because most of it is not up."

"We have a lot of hopes about this sesame," Henderson feels the outlook will be more definite in about three weeks when the crops are up.

In Friona, at Cummings Farm Store, Doyle Cummings also sees the prospects to be poor on corn.

"I don't think there will be much difference on the acreage of corn," he says.

"Up to now, about 1500 acres of sesame will be planted."

"It is a little early to tell yet, but if the weather is favorable to cotton, it will be to sesame also."

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

This season it seems that the popularity of one dish meals is growing along with the trend toward simplicity in everything from children's playclothes to furnishings for a new house.

A casserole, which may be prepared ahead of time, a do-it-ahead-of-time dessert, a quickly tossed salad, a drink and brown 'n serve rolls or garlic toast makes a good meal for guests or just the family. If well planned, the meal may be served with a minimum of time and effort.

This trend has caused homemakers to experiment with many variations of old recipes and come up with a lot of new ones.

Martha Mason of the Midway Home Demonstration Club likes this recipe for Baked Beans With Hamburger.

- 1 lb. lean hamburger
- 1 tablespoon fat
- 1 cup diced onion
- 2 tablespoons salt
- dash of pepper
- 1/2 cup tomato catsup
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
- 2 cans (21 oz.) pork and beans
- Brown meat in fat, add onions and simmer until tender. Add remaining ingredients and mix.
- Pour into 2 quart casserole, cover and bake 35 minutes at 325 degrees.

A green bean casserole favored by Mrs. John L. Ray, who is a farm homemaker and member of the Northside Home Demonstration Club is prepared as follows:

- Cook two packages frozen green beans and drain. Place in casserole and dot with butter. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Spread 1 can mushroom soup over the top and bake 20 minutes uncovered in 350 degree oven.
- Arrange over this 1 can French fried onion rings and bake 10 minutes. Serve warm.

A good old American favorite, stuffed peppers, goes well with the Glen Mingus family. Cherry Ann, an active worker in the Hi-Point Home Demonstration Club, prefers the following recipe:

- 1 lb. cooked ground beef
- 1 lb. American cheese grated
- 1/2 cup cooked rice
- 2 tablespoons butter

BUYING SPORT SHIRTS FOR SUMMER?

Make every penny count when you buy sport shirts. You can, if you will keep some important buying guides in mind, according to extension clothing specialists of Texas A&M College System.

Take fabrics, for instance. They come in many fibers, new blends and with new finishes. Do you know what to expect from dacron, nylon, orlon, or even cotton that has been treated with a special finish? Unless you ask for a label that gives this information, or depend upon a sales person you know well, you may be disappointed by the wearing qualities of the shirt.

Quality is not always a matter of price alone. It pays to check construction features, such as pleats or gathers over shoulder blades to give ease; buttonholes, cuff finish and stitching along the front panel.

Color makes a difference, too. Colors appropriate for the individual, the occasion, and the other parts of the ensemble, make for a better appearance.

"Buying A Sport Shirt," a leaflet, written by extension clothing specialists, elaborates on these and other suggestions that will help you make a better choice.

CHOOSE ACCESSORIES WISELY

Have you ever brought home a bargain hat or bag or shoes of a delightfully "different" color only to find that they didn't go with a thing you had? In that case, they may have been expensive accessories after all.

To get the most for your money, plan carefully before you buy—remembering the color and design of your basic dresses of suits. Accessories should accent or complement a costume, according to extension clothing specialists of Texas A&M College System. They can add spice to a simple solid color dress or suit, or supply the unifying note with a striking print dress or plaid suit.

Avoid using too many different colors in one costume. The eye jumps from one spot to another, and you lose the effect of unity. A general rule for the use of contrasting color, texture or pattern in accessories is never to repeat more than three times—generally two are smarter; for example, shoes, bag and gloves, or shoes, bag and hat, or bag and hat.

Intensity of the color is important. Don't overdo it. The most brilliant or intense the color, the smaller the area it should cover. Unusual colors draw the eye just because they are complex in makeup. Use them with care.

Basic colors in accessories, namely black, brown or navy, are always in good taste and easy to use.

Color in shoes is a fashion to be used with caution. It calls attention to the feet and ankles. Be certain yours can stand the spotlight.

A final suggestion: Look smart but not extreme. Don't overdress. The best dressed women are often the most simply dressed.

Accessories Around The Clock, a special bulletin written by extension clothing specialists, give lots of ideas and suggestions. Get a copy from your county home demonstration agent.

TRY DIFFERENT SEASONINGS FOR VEGETABLES

Sometimes it is the seasoning that makes a dish so good the family calls for second and third helpings. Extension foods and nutrition specialists of Texas A&M College System say a variety of seasonings will make fresh vegetables more popular—and plenty of vegetables means improved diets.

Try these simple seasonings to give those vegetables new life:

Cook a tablespoon or two of minced onion, green pepper, or parsley with snap beans or yellow squash.

Cook a few mint leaves with

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

"I am going to raise my children to know that the United States Government never has, does not now, and never will, owe them a living. According to the Bible, and the American way of life, they are supposed to earn their living 'by the sweat of their brow,' and I want to be sure they understand that."

The foregoing is a statement made by R. L. McMillan, Abilene Life Insurance man at the Farm Bureau agents meeting in Waco last week. We concur and hope that the majority of Americans still believe in this philosophy, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Geries and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hamilton, president and legislative director respectively of your Farm Bureau, attended an appreciation dinner for Walter Rogers, congressman, in Amarillo a couple of weeks ago. We were gone when it happened, and that's why we are late in reporting it. Rogers has been helping Farm Bureau in its efforts to get a wheat program to prevent a drastic cut in acreage for the 1961 crop.

Texas Farm Bureau Research and Promotion Bureau observes that although most of the upland cotton program determinations will be made by the present secretary of agriculture, if the English peas. Point up the flavor of cooked vegetables by seasoning with flavorful fats such as bacon drippings, butter or margarine, or salad oil to which lemon juice, horseradish or a whisper of garlic has been added. If you use bacon drippings, add bits of crisp bacon. These are especially good with greens.

new secretary is more liberal than the present one, it would be possible for him to establish a price support for the 1961 crop of cotton at far above the 70 per cent of parity floor. Let's hope

We believe many people become confused between states rights' and the so-called civil rights legislative measures, because of the similarity of sounds of the two terms. Farm Bureau is, and always has supported states rights, which its members believe are supposed to be guaranteed in the constitution of the United States. Civil rights, as they are being referred to in present legislative areas, appear to be more in the interest of giving the minority groups majority power over the majority groups. Farm Bureau does not support this type of thing.
