

New Fire Truck Ready For Use

Bovina's new fire truck arrived here Wednesday night of last week. Mayor Boyd Gilreath and Fire Chief Bill Denney are shown with the $19,000 piece of equipment at left. At right, Denney displays the truck's instrument panel which features a wide assortment of gauges, knobs and levers to be used in pumping water. The truck can pump 500 gallons of water per minute when tied into a fire hydrant. The fire department paid $3600 on the truck with the remainder to be paid by the city. A feature of the modern piece of equipment is electric reels which rolls hose back on the truck. The truck has a water storage capacity of 500 gallons. It is housed in the fire station located next door to city hall on Main Street.

FIRST OF WEEK --

WHITTLIN'

BY DOLPH MOTEN

Bovina Weatherman Willie Williams says the people here are certainly fortunate.

"Not every country town has a weatherman who can tell the people what's going to happen, weatherwise," Willie allows.

In his report, which was published in The Blade, last week, he commented on the drought and then predicted there was "plenty of moisture in sight."

A little rain fell before the ink was dry on that issue and then, of course, a fine snow struck here Monday.

Frankly, we thought Willie's prediction of a week ago was a little ambitious. However, we learned long ago not to doubt his weather observations to a great extent.

An "for instance" was back in early December when he predicted a White Christmas. We tried to talk him out of that one. "Go ahead and print it," he insisted, "you'll see."

And sure enough . . . We thought this week's snow wasn't due for another week or two.

So, our second guessing days are about over as far as the weather is concerned.

Hugh Moseley, the county tax assessor-collector, isn't a bad weatherman in his own right.

Less than 18 hours before the Thursday shower, we were in a coffee conversation with Moseley and Lloyd and Scott Gober. Said conversation got around to the then continuing drought.

"Looks like rain back in the southwest now," Hugh observed.

We almost laughed him out of the coffeshop and threatened to make him buy the coffee for making such a comment there in the middle of a winter-time drought.

We haven't seen him since, but he no doubt got the last laugh if he thought about the conversation during the Thursday shower.

Hugh went on to say that he didn't make a habit of predicting the weather, "but it hasn't been so long since I trained that I don't remember what rain clouds looked like."

Mayor Boyd Gilreath is, naturally, as proud as everyone else of Bovina's new, shiny red firetruck . . . and maybe even more so.

Snow Brings Year's First Moisture

IN VOTING --

Increased Interest Indicated

Interest in 1964 elections appears to be above normal.

A total of 277 poll taxes were sold here through Friday of last week, which was the deadline, Mrs. Mary Ruth Martin, city secretary, reports.

Mrs. Martin handled poll tax sales here. This total was in addition to the number of Bovina-area citizens who paid their poll taxes at the court house in Farwell.

Only 109 poll taxes were paid at the city offices here a year ago which gives an indication of the amount of increased interest here.

People who haven't paid their poll tax but want to vote for federal offices may register for this limited voting privilege at the office of Hugh Moseley, county tax assessor-collector, at the courthouse in Farwell through February.

Absentee Voting On Bond Issue Thru Tuesday

Absentee ballots in Bovina's $200,000 school bond election are expected to be available here by Friday.

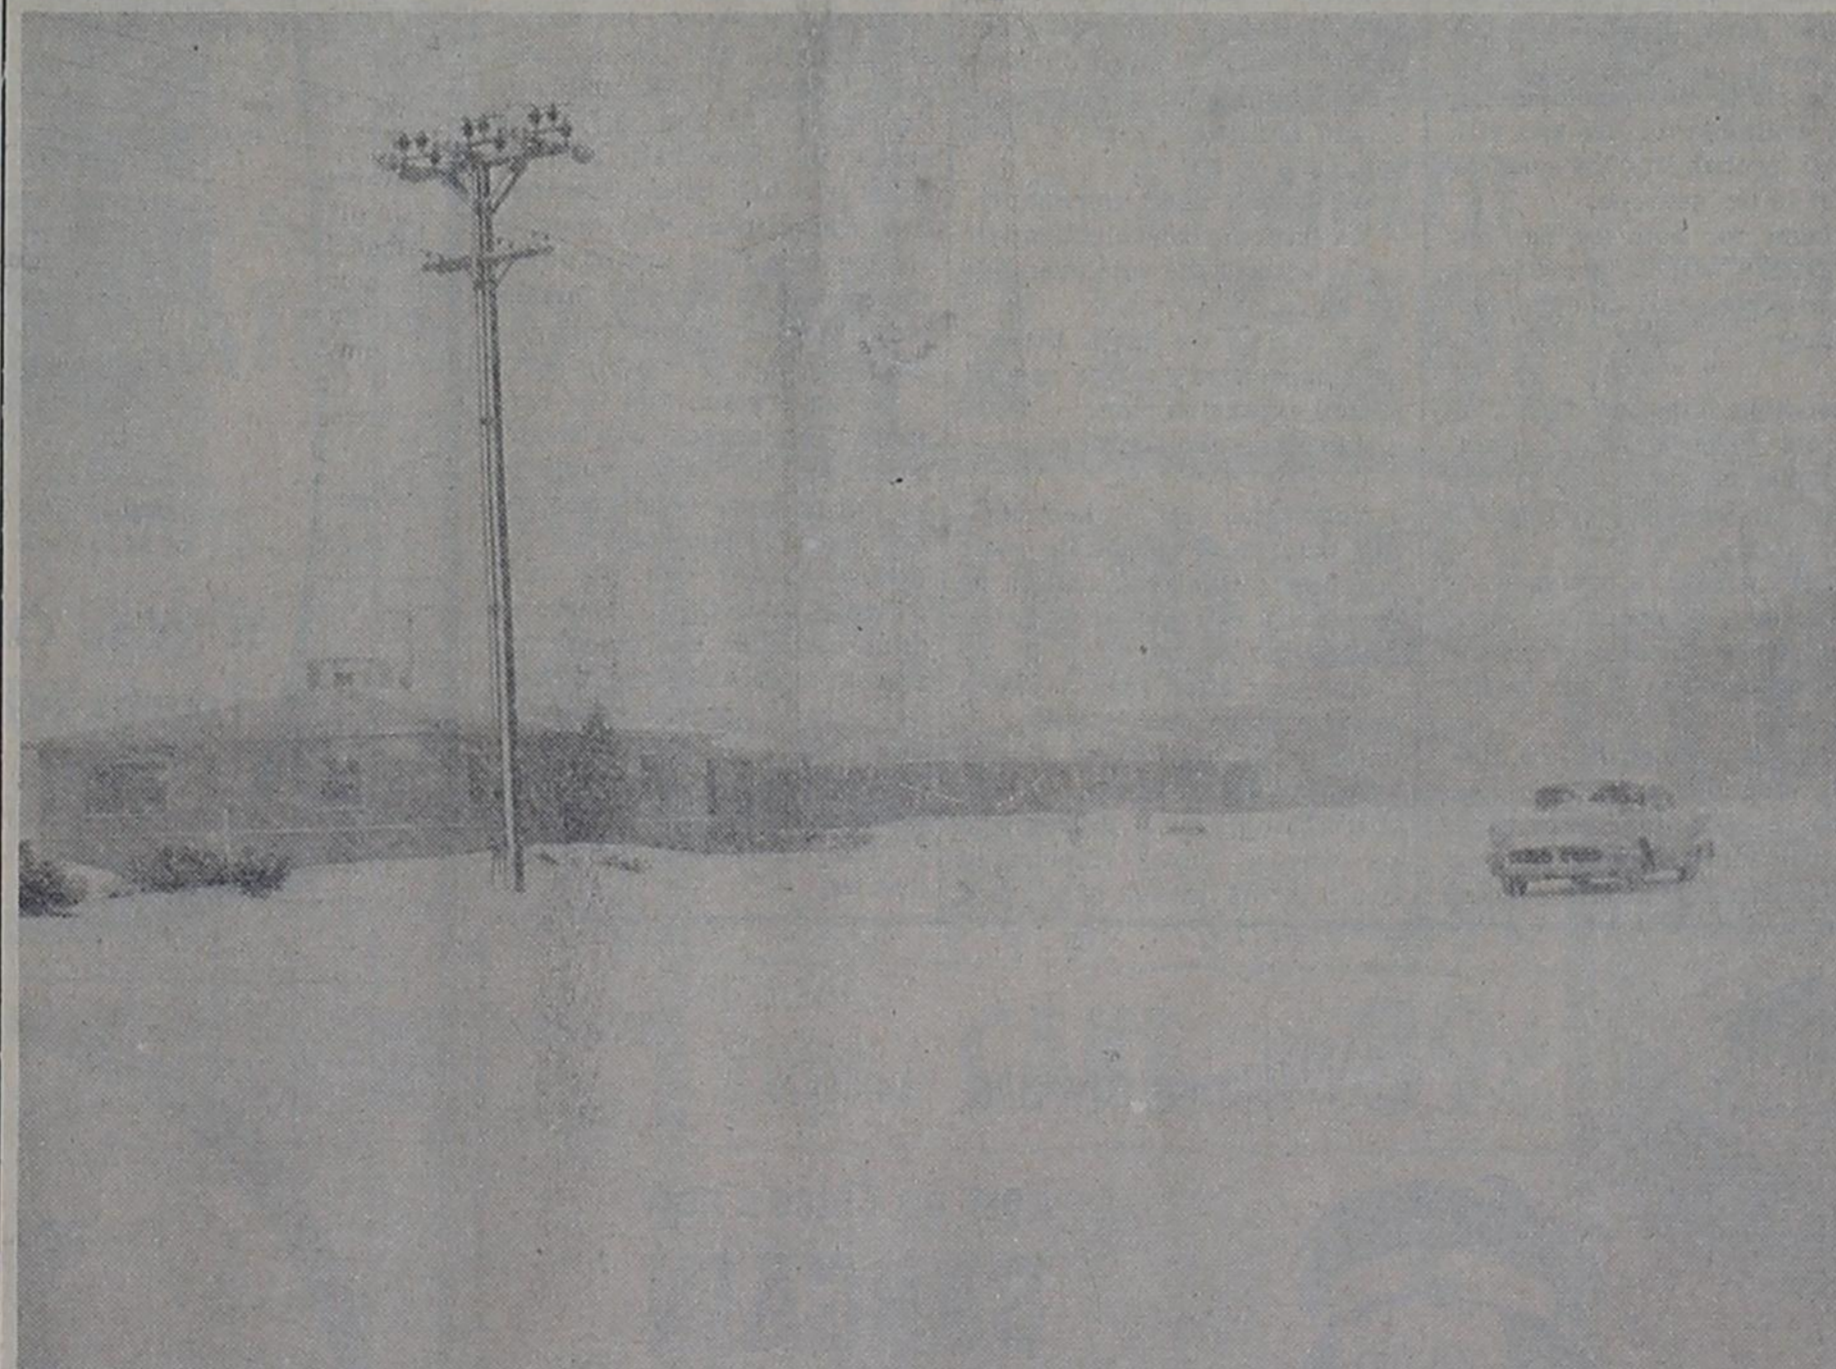

Voters who expect to be out of town on election day, Saturday, February 15, may vote at the school tax office from Friday through Tuesday of next week.

Tuesday -- four days before the election -- is the deadline for casting an absentee ballot.

LOTS OF BLIZZARD-- This falling-snow-muddled view of the current blizzard of '64 shows snowdrifts around houses on Dimmitt Road as the approaching car appears to be travelling in a sea of whiteness. High winds which fanned Monday's snow and created drifts subsided Tuesday and allowed the moisture-filled flakes to distribute themselves more evenly.

DR. KIRK SPEAKER --

Methodist Set Revival Services Next Week

Luther Kirk of Amarillo as speaker and the husband and wife team of Rev. and Mrs. Wesley Boyd with music portions of the programs, Rev. Harold Morris, pastor of the church, announces.

Rev. Morris says the church is fortunate to have both Dr. Kirk and the Boyds. Dr. Kirk is presently pastor of San Jacinto Methodist Church in Amarillo. "He is well known in our community as he served as district superintendent in this, the Plainview District, for a period of six years," Rev. Morris says. Weekday evening services are slated for 7:30. Morning worship will be at 9:30 a.m. with men's breakfasts at 6:30 a.m.

The weekdays services are Monday through Friday. Sunday services are at 10:50 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Pool Hall Proceeds To Heart Fund

National Heart Fund will get a boost here Saturday.

Fred Langer, operator of Bovina Recreation Hall, announces that all proceeds taken in there Saturday will be donated to the Heart Fund.

February is National Heart Fund Month. Other activities to raise funds for the cause are being considered here with announcements in regard to them expected to be made later in the month.

High Winds Fan Flakes

The moisture situation here brightened last week and this. A shower of rain, which measured from a trace to a tenth of an inch, fell Wednesday night and Thursday of last week across the area.

That was only a practice session for the real event, however. And the main feature of the moisture show struck Monday morning in the form of snow with a smattering of sleet.

This was the first moisture here for the year. The snow, fanned by high winds estimated to be as high as 40 miles per hour, continued throughout the day Monday and into Monday night. Stopping for a rest period Monday, it started again Tuesday.

The wind caused the snow to drift heavily and it was difficult to estimate how much snow had fallen on "the level." Estimates ranged around the 12-inch mark as to the total amount of snow through Tuesday.

Drifts were several feet deep in places. The snow was generally considered of the "wet" variety which was considered unusual considering the weeks-long drought which it broke.

Travelling was made hazardous, if not dangerous. State Highway Department maintenance crew worked through Monday and Monday night clearing the highways and roads of snow. Ice in sheets on the pavement made the highway department's job harder. Salt was poured at intersections and on bridges to aid the traction of vehicles.

Motorists were encouraged to stay off highways. The blizzard caused school to be dismissed early Monday afternoon -- at 2 -- and there were no classes Tuesday or Wednesday.

While the winter weather created some conversation about severe storms of the past, this wasn't considered to be a record breaker.

One of this storm's best features was the mild temperatures which accompanied it. In spite of the wind and snow, the mercury didn't fall as it usually does during weather of this type. Thermometers stood in the 20's Monday and Tuesday.

Services Monday For Mrs. Bryant

Mrs. W. A. Bryant, 78, of Manatou Spring, Colo. died Thursday after a lengthy illness. Services were held Saturday in Manatou Springs and Monday afternoon at First Baptist Church in Bovina.

Rev. Horton of Amarillo officiated. He was assisted by Rev. John Ferguson and Don Stone, minister of Bovina Church of Christ. She was buried in Bovina Cemetery.

Mrs. Bryant was born October 6, 1885 in Eureka Springs, Ark. and moved to Texas when she was six years old. She moved to Bovina in 1932 and lived here through 1937. Survivors included her husband, W. A. Bryant; two daughters, Mrs. W. R. Hayworthy of Garden Grove, Calif. and Mrs. Ashley Buck of Denver, Colo.; four sons, S. C., V. A., E. E. and W. C., all of Garden Grove, Calif.; three sisters, one brother, 16 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

NEWSLETTER

From U. S. Senator

RALPH W. YARBOROUGH

Dear Fellow Texan:

The recognition of Red China by France upsets the delicate balance between East and West and poses a strong new challenge to what Winston Churchill called the Grand Alliance, between the United States and Western Europe.

It imperils the NATO alliance, it imperils the European Common Market.

In granting recognition to Red China, General DeGaulle has committed the biggest diplomatic blunder since World War II.

France, the keystone of the European Common Market countries, has a high prosperity, the highest for the average man ever known in the history of France. Why imperil NATO? Why imperil this European Common Market? It's a shocking act.

Because of DeGaulle and his increasingly unchecked ambition to take over a position of leadership in Asia, our old ally France has become the first world power in 14 years to grant recognition to Communist China.

We have in this 14 years spent the lives of American youths and billions of dollars in Korea and South Vietnam to contain Communism.

Why would DeGaulle seem to be willing to threaten the foundation of the friendship between our two countries that has lasted for nearly two centuries and through two World Wars, where we fought side by side? Red China has given the world no indication that it will stop its warlike action.

If DeGaulle's action was bad, and it was bad, his timing was even worse. He made this fling at playing "footie" with the Communists at a time when other nations were moving very carefully in world affairs, aware of the recent change in administration in the United States.

Now it's possible that some other countries once ruled by France might also recognize Red China and enable Red China to expand its trade and set up new diplomatic posts to help that country spread the wings of Communism over new areas. Communism is Communism whether it be in Asia, Eurasia, Africa, or America. One can't be pro-Communist in Asia and pro-freedom in Europe. When an act strengthens Communism in Asia it strengthens it in Europe. This was a bad move by France.

FILING DEADLINES 30 DAYS AWAY

Schedule School, City Elections For April

Local elections -- school trustee and city councilman -- are just some 60 days away. School trustee election will be Saturday, April 4, with city election to follow three days later, Tuesday, April 7.

Two trustees will be elected to the seven-member school board. Terms of Jack Clayton, present president of the board, and J. D. Kirkpatrick, expire. They have each served two three-year terms. Candidates for the position may file their own names or names may be petitioned on the ballot.

This year, for the first time in this school district, candidates may file with the secretary of the school board, Grady Sorley, or at the superintendent's office.

Heretofore, it has been necessary for filings to be handled by the county judge.

Holdover school board members are Vernon Estes, Johnnie Horn, and J. W. Harris, who each have one more year to serve, and Sorley and Don Murphy, who each have two more years.

Four members are slated to be elected to the six-man city council.

City terms are for two years each with four members being elected one year and two the next.

Those whose terms expire are Mayor Boyd Gilreath, and Councilmen A. L. Glasscock, A. R. McCutchan and J. E. Sherrill.

They have each served a two-year term. Members of the council with a year remaining on their terms are H. J. Charles and Jim Russell.

Deadline for filing for the positions is the first week in March -- 30 days prior to the elections.

Harbour Gets Treatment At Amarillo

R. T. Harbour, who has been confined to Veterans Hospital in Amarillo since January 22, will stay there for treatment for at least another three weeks.

He is being treated for stomach ulcers. If he responds to treatment, he will be released at end of that time. Otherwise, surgery will be required.

In a card to The Blade this week, he said, "Tell everybody hello for me."

His address is Veterans Hospital, Ward 2B, Room 209.

Cosmos, the Greek word for harmony, has come to mean the universe itself because of the perfect order and harmony in which the planets, stars and galaxies seem to be arranged. . . . The glow seen near the sun just before sunrise and just after sunset is caused by a myriad of meteoritic bits that scatter sunlight in space. . . . Despite heavy misgivings on the proven worth of astrology, there are 25,000 full and part time astrologers in the United States whose combined incomes reach $250 million annually. . . .

litical feelings as a Democrat can.

Until this situation is changed, there won't be a true two-party system in this great state.

And that situation, in our opinion, weakens instead of strengthens, the Democratic party. Since the Republicans "don't have a chance," so to speak, the Democratic party is filled with half-baked, dissatisfied Republicans who want to change it to their way of thinking instead of working for the party in which they actually believe.

We understand that we have some "Democrats" who haven't voted for the party nominees on the national level since before the 1952 elections.

How absurd can you get? At the same time, though, we think our area and county has a great chance of going strongly Democratic come November of this year.

Everything is pointing in the Democrats' favor now. We think it will continue to point just that way.

The reason he might be more so is that he has been aware of a humiliating situation in regard to the old truck. And it's with all due respect to it that we repeat this little yarn which the mayor came out with:

"Now (since the new truck is here and in use) maybe the kids on bicycles won't be pulling up beside this truck and asking, 'Say, are you all going to the fire?' and then speeding on to the fire themselves."

There will be a lot more pride on the part of the fire department if the new truck will run faster than a half-grown boy can ride a bike.

Since arriving last week, the new truck hasn't been put to a test, but certainly it'll have a better chance of winning the bicycle race than the old one will have.

The old truck is, incidentally, still available for use and will, in all probability, be used as much as the new one.

Places for both the new and old trucks will be provided in the new city hall or municipal building. . . .

Location of the new city building can have a lot of effect, we think, on the future growth of the business district of the community.

There will be a tendency for businesses, especially new ones, to be located near the building because of the traffic factor.

City councilmen have a difficult task ahead of them, we feel, in selecting a location. Another thing to be considered is the possible need for room to expand. While undesirable in other ways, the present city hall location would be suitable if there was room for expansion. Since there is no room, a new location is now necessary for the expansions which need to be made.

We're in favor of a new municipal building. And we understand that it appears now it'll be possible to have one without a bond election.

We don't mean to imply by that that we're against improvements and additions when bond elections are required. As a matter of fact, the contrary is true.

We're definitely in favor of building more classrooms and making improvements on the school.

THAT bond election is slated for Saturday, February 15, which is only 10 days from now.

A community without good school facilities is not a good one.

We have a good community. We think the bond election will carry without the vote even being close.

As far as we know, there's no opposition to the needed school expansion plan. And there shouldn't be.

Year after year, we keep hoping that the Republicans will become organized enough to have their own primaries in the county and locally.

And year after year, we keep being disappointed in them. . . . unless they have plans here of which we aren't aware.

It's long been a mystery to us why a Texas Republican can't be as proud of his po-

Reflections From The Blade

SIX YEARS AGO February 5, 1958

"We're well satisfied," Community March of Dimes Chairman Roy M. Crawford said this week in regard to the current campaign.

A goal for the annual drive is not set. However, Crawford estimates that contributions will go over the $500 mark when the promotions are drawn to a close this weekend.

An old-fashioned "town meeting" to discuss Bovina's proposed paving project, will be held Thursday night. It will be sponsored by Bovina Lions Club.

About 45 Cub Scouts and adults were present Tuesday evening at the regular monthly meeting of the Bovina pack. The meeting was held in the American Legion Hall with the den mothers, Mrs. D. C. Looney, Mrs. Pat Kunselman, Mrs. Paul Jones and Mrs. Don Garrett, in charge.

Bovina Church of Christ has slated its first gospel meeting for 1958 for February 10 through 16, announces Alfred White, minister.

R. A. Hartsell, former minister of the local church and now minister of the Lazbuddie Church of Christ, will be the visiting evangelist.

THREE YEARS AGO February 8, 1961

Much of the $2000 merchandise taken from Williams Mercantile in Bovina last Tuesday has been recovered by Parmer County Sheriff Chas. Lovelace, following the arrest of four Clovis men.

Guest speaker at a general membership meeting of Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Thursday night at 7:30 in school cafeteria will be Dan True, popular television weather reporter from Amarillo.

Chances are good that three Bovina Roads, Third Street, Highway 86 and FM Road 1731 south, -- will be improved in not too-distant future.

An insect control short course for adult farmers will be conducted Monday through Friday of next week sponsorship of Bovina High School vocational agriculture department.

In two called sessions -- one Saturday and one Monday -- school board of trustees of Bovina schools decided to purchase two government surplus Quonser-type building for school use, Superintendent Warren Morton announces.

FALLOUT SHELTERS are explained by Stuart L. Pittman (left), Assistant Secretary of Defense for Civil Defense, during eight weeks of hearings on civil defense conducted this summer by Rep. F. Edward Hebert (right), and his Subcommittee No. 3 of the House Armed Services Committee. Following testimony by 108 witnesses, the subcommittee, and later the full House Armed Services Committee, strongly endorsed the proposed nationwide $190.6 million fallout shelter program. The program has been authorized by the House of Representatives, and is awaiting Senate action now that committee hearings there have ended.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Prolongs Battery Life

Between trips afield, reverse the batteries in your flashlight. Then if the switch accidentally is turned on, no harm is done, for the circuit will be broken. Then install the batteries properly when you're ready for your next trip out.

Carpets for Traction

A valuable item for the auto camper to have on hand, whether he's on the coast or inland, is two strips of old carpet, about 15 inches wide and six feet long. Keep 'em behind your spare tire. Next time you get stuck, slip the carpet strips under the rear tires for greater traction.

Silent Whistle Useful

Carry one of those silent dog whistles the next time you go deer hunting. If you see a deer with head down and you can't determine its sex, blow a blast on the whistle. Up will come the head and you'll be sure whether your target is a doe or a buck.

To Loosen Gun Screws

When it's time to oil up your firearms and you discover that some of the gun screws won't budge, heat them lightly with a soldering iron. It works every time.

Freeze Fish in Ice

To keep fish fresh in a freezer, try putting them in a pan of water first and freezing the entire tray. Next run some warm water over the pan. Out will come the cake of ice—fish and all. Wrap the encased fish—ice and all—in foil and pop it back in the freezer. The frozen water will seal the flavor in.

Preserving Game Birds

To keep game birds like quail and doves fresh in a freezer, put them in an old milk carton, fill it with water, staple it shut and freeze.

Cover Muzzle With Shell

To protect your rifle bore from dust and rain while in camp, cover the muzzle with an empty shotgun shell. It is waterproof and does the job. Just be sure you remove the cover before firing the gun.

Keep Sharp Pencil Handy

A good sharp pencil is a handy item to have on a fishing trip. The point is an ideal tool for taking the snarls out of a backlash.

Coffee Grounds Useful

Don't throw away those coffee grounds. Fill a large box with a couple inches of dirt, put fish worms in the box, then cover with fresh coffee grounds. This will keep 'em alive and as frisky as the day you caught 'em.

Fooling the Rabbit

If you jump a cottontail rabbit and miss your shot, don't give up the chase. A little strategy will put him in your sights again. Watch the direction the rabbit takes. Then travel in a wide circle and approach the spot, where the bunny disappeared, from the opposite direction. There's a good chance then that you'll get another shot.

If you pursue the cottontail straight on, the wise old rabbit will stay hidden until you give up. But the new approach will send him scampering into the open.

Plastic Bag Handy

When going deer hunting, carry a large plastic bag in the pocket of your hunting coat. It takes up very little room and makes a nice dry seat while sitting on a stand. Furthermore, it serves as an excellent container for the deer liver when you head for home.

Portable Blind

Here's a good portable blind that works fine in the rice fields while hunting geese. Take a piece of canvas and paint it a straw color. While the paint is still wet, sprinkle real straw over the canvas. The straw will stick to the paint and when dry you can cover yourself in the field.

Catfish Like Sardines

Here's a quick way to thum some catfish to your bait. Buy a can of cheap sardines or all-fish cat food and jab holes through the can with an ice pick or a knife blade. Then drop the can in the water, weighting it with a large sinker or stone. Fish are attracted by the aroma from the leakage from the can. If you put your baited hook nearby, you're in business.

Spark Plug Sinker

All out of sinkers? Then gather up some old discarded sparkplugs. They make fine sinkers. Just bend the electrodes together and tie onto a wire leader. Should the sparkplug sinker become lodged between rocks, the soft electrode acts as a safety opening to free the leader and line.

Coffee Can Heater

To keep warm in a duck blind, try putting an old coffee can filled with lighted charcoal briquets near you. It will warm things up in a hurry.

Hook Sharpener

One of those emery boards the little lady uses in doing her nails is the perfect tool for sharpening fish hooks and keeping them in fine condition.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

by VERN SANFORD

Seagulls are many things. They are a source of entertainment. They are scavengers. And they are fish-finders.

For entertainment, go to the coastal beaches and watch folks tossing scraps and bread crumbs to flocks of screaming gulls. It's fun!

As scavengers, gulls quickly clean up the refuse left on beaches by careless picnickers.

Whether they are flying far out to sea, or over the gulf, or dipping into the bays, or even the large inland lakes, gulls are the "spies" that ferret out schools of fish for the anglers. Whatever the value of the seagull, it is sufficient that it is on the protected list.

Food waste tossed on the beaches will be cleaned up in a hurry by the gulls. There may be only one gull in sight when the refuse is dumped, but in a matter of minutes, gulls by the dozens will home in from all points of the compass.

It's the same at sea. I've been on shrimp boats far out of sight of land. Not a gull would be in sight until the net was pulled from the water. Then the birds flew in like rain drops from a summer squall.

Gulls are of paramount interest to fishermen. Or perhaps we should say "to anglers who know how to utilize them."

If you know how to "read" the gulls, they'll find fish for you. Many a good speckled-trout-catch in our coastal bays has resulted from anglers "fishing the birds."

It's a type of fishing that calls for a lot of looking on the part of the fisherman. Also plenty of h.p. and fuel—to keep up with the moving gulls.

How does one go about fishing the gulls?

It's simple. Scan the area for gulls. If the birds are flocked up, wheeling in tight circles and repeatedly dipping into the water, they're

BROILED CORNED BEEF SANDWICHES

Sandwiches and teenagers make a winning combination. For hot open-faced sandwiches with a hearty flavor teenagers love, try these Broiled Corned Beef Holiday Sandwiches. This tangy mayonnaise, relish, and corn mixture topped with canned corned beef is great eating at any time.

Give the sandwiches a holiday air by cutting the sandwiches with a bell or star-shaped cookie cutter, if you like. With mugs of marshmallow-topped cocoa and some bowls of nibblers, you're set for a party.

For easy slicing at a moment's notice, keep several cans of corned beef in the refrigerator... but don't expect them to stay there long. Once your youngsters (and your husband) find how easy it is to make the best-tasting sandwiches... both hot and cold... with canned corned beef, they're sure to come back for more.

Keep some extra cans on the pantry shelf. You'll find each can is an excellent start for an easy-to-fix, nourishing dish... a wonderful time-and-budget-saver for the holidays and throughout the year.

BROILED CORNED BEEF SANDWICHES

- 1 can (12 oz.) corned beef, chilled
- 1 can (12 oz.) whole-kernel corn, drained
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1/4 cup pickle relish
- 8 slices bread

Cut corned beef into 8 uniform slices. Combine corn, mayonnaise, mustard, and pickle relish. Toast bread on one side in oven. Spread untoasted side with mayonnaise mixture. Top with corned beef slice. Broil on ungreased baking sheet at 450 degrees for three to five minutes, or until hot. Use cookie cutters to cut holiday designs in meat and bread, if you wish. Chop any remaining meat and blend with corn mixture. Makes 8 sandwiches.

It seems that the only qualification to seek the Republican nomination for president is just simply to be a Republican. It doesn't matter whether you are liberal, conservative, or just flat indifferent, everyone is running; so join the crowd.

I knew being a Democrat had its advantages but never have they been so great. Making a decision as which Republican candidate to vote for would become a major effort, since keeping up with new candidates would constitute to full-time job.

Lots of people here are enjoying cable TV with the one exception being that it causes numerous arguments. This has been true at our house. The spouse likes Westerns, the kids like cartoons and mom likes dramas. This wouldn't be so bad but it seems that when you can tune in three channels there is one of each on at the same time.

Signs of progress are everywhere. It seems that a status symbol today is the household deep freeze. Isn't it amazing the number of people who have freezers. We'll admit they are extremely nice but can remember when there were lockers for rent at a local grocery store. Now these weren't as large and sometimes one found that someone else had been eating his sausage but they were a kind of a social place at that. Can remember going to the locker at least twice a week and it never failed that we saw someone to converse with there. While the surroundings were rather cold it still held a cozy atmosphere. These locker visits occurred in our younger years and can remember the apprehension at being sent into that big vault alone. Now this was an exciting place as long as Mother was along but can you remember the queasy feeling you got in your stomach when Mom said run in and get some steak out of the locker?

These alone trips were made quite quickly and if the grocer wasn't observing we always left the door ajar and never slammed it. The dread of being locked in sub zero surrounding for a period of time was a pretty grave situation.

Another sign of progress we are fortunate enough to have escaped is the combination post office box. Now these may be fine for most people but locks of any kind give us a struggle. Can remember having a combination box in college and it was days at a time before we mastered the combination enough to get out the accumulation of mail and the post office employee wasn't as congenial as Flossie, she just wouldn't open your box for you. Another aspect of the combination box is all the numbers.

Recently while visiting our aunt in Happy we sent the spouse to the post office for the mail. We spent at least fifteen minutes explaining the combination, the location and various other aspects of the box. In what seemed like record time he returned only to tell us with a rather disgusted look that he had overlooked a very important item -- the box number.

One of the most brilliant statements of President Johnson's is the one about employees not working overtime but hiring more personnel. This is a rare idea. We can think of millions of American housewives who will vote for this as an amendment to the constitution. Wouldn't it be wonderful to have someone come to your house at five o'clock in the evening and finish up the days' chores. Now we have an ample supply of overtime ironing, washing, mopping, doing dishes and countless other odd jobs that an employee could do in order to keep us from working overtime.

We would be willing to lobby in behalf of a bill such as this.

Benny Mays, president of Texas Future Farmers of America and Mark Harbin, vice president, are greeted by Johnny Atchinson, Farwell FFA prexy, and Robert "Prof." Morton, ag. instructor. The FFA officers visited in Farwell and Bovina, Thursday afternoon.

State FFA President Visits County Chapters

By Jeanne Graham
Two young men exhibiting forthrightness and self-assurance as they work with Future Farmers of America made an official visit to Farmer County Thursday, in Farwell and Bovina. Benny Mays, 18, is state FFA president, and his companion is Mark Harbin of Levelland.

The two FFA leaders arrived in Farwell shortly before 2 p.m., took time for an interview, a brief visit with Robert "Prof." Morton and Farwell FFA president Johnny Atchinson, posed for picture, spoke to the high school students in assembly, and were on their way to Bovina by 2:30. Farwell was the seventh stop on their agenda for the day.

Mays, president of the mammoth Texas organization, is from Sulphur Springs, where he received his high school diploma last spring and is now devoting the major portion of his time to his work as state FFA president. He is also working on his American Farmer degree and plans to make application to the district in April and the area in May. He will know this summer if he achieves this goal. One boy in every 1000 receives the coveted degree, with selection based on projects and his work in FFA.

As state FFA president, he represents almost 1000 chapters over the state, with approximately 400,000 boys represented in the program. He was elected to the post at state convention last summer in Lubbock, and will serve until the state convention in San Antonio in July.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mays of Sulphur Springs, he has worked with his father, who is a dairy farmer. The family owns 280 acres and leases another 200 acres. Mays has visited 375 FFA chapters over the state this year, and hopes to visit about 200 more. His plans for the future include college, he thinks he will probably attend East Texas State College and study government and agricultural economics.

Mark Harbin, vice president for this area, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Harbin of Levelland, and exhibits the same interest in FFA and his work. He is a student at South Plains Junior College in his home town. He and Mays work together on personal appearances at fat stock shows and when possible, he assists the president when he is in his area. The young men had traveled to Farmer County from Muleshoe.

The state is divided into 10 FFA areas and each area elects one state officer, says "Prof." Morton. Leaders are elected at state convention. Then the president is selected from the 10 and other boys serve as vice-presidents. "We have one president and nine vice-presidents", the boys explain.

Friona and Lazbuddie were not on the travel agenda for this trip, Mays related, but he hopes to visit these schools in May.

Atchinson introduced Harbin at the school assembly in Farwell and Harbin in turn, introduced Mays. In his remarks, Harbin revealed that Mays was the winner of the state FFA public speaking contest and runner-up in the Farm Bureau public speaking contest, as well as holding many honors in FFA. Mays had related that his FFA work is time consuming, but he maintains an interest in reading, politics, sports and chess.

Both officers spoke extemporaneously and livened their talks with wit.

Mays spoke seriously of the purpose of FFA, reciting the purpose from the meeting ceremony "To practice brotherhood, honor rural opportunities and responsibilities, and develop those qualities of leadership which a Future Farmer should possess."

He reminded that FFA will have a part in supplying the future farmers who will, with the population increasing, have to do more with less space as more land is needed for housing, highways and other improvements. "This is the biggest challenge of our generation," he stated, as he emphasized that young people are equal to the challenge. "If you and I are prepared to meet the challenge, the world will come out all right," he continued.

As a closing thought, he told the receptive audience that "what we are doing now and in the next few years will determine what we'll be doing the rest of our lives." He reminded listeners of individual responsibility, and recited a poem "I am but one, but I am one..."

Gas Users Meet With Federal Power Commission

Bruce Parr, President of Farmer County Gas Users Association, reported today that Farmer County Gas Users Association would meet at 7:30 p.m. on the 10th day of February 1964 at Bovina School Cafeteria at Bovina, Texas to hear a report on a recent meeting of representatives from the rate and remove inequities and probate problems from the present contract with Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

After more than two years of negotiations with Pioneer with no success, and after Pioneer had refused to make any concessions, the Board of Directors of the fourteen county organization at its regular monthly meeting on January 9, 1964, instructed Parr, President of the Association, Jay Boston from Deaf Smith County, and John D. Alkin, the Association's attorney, to set up a meeting with the chairman of the Federal Power Commission to see if it could afford any relief for the irrigation farmers.

Rural Families Borrow $74,526,000 From FHA

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration made or insured $74 1/2 million in loans to Texas farm and other rural families, during 1963. L. J. Cappleman, state director of the agency announced in Temple today.

A total of 11,977 families used one or more of the agency's loan programs during the year. Farmers Home Administration operates a broad program of supplementary credit for rural development in Texas. The agency makes loans for family farming operations, farm development, rural housing, community water systems, soil and water conservation and development, recreation enterprises, and other purposes.

Loans are made only to borrowers who cannot obtain credit from banks, Production Credit Associations, and other conventional lenders. Mr. Cappleman reported that in 1963 Farmers Home Administration supervised loan programs had two major results of importance to the economy of the state. "Loans to family farmers enabled them to make a major contribution to the well being and progress of the state's agriculture during 1963," he said.

Capital and management assistance supplied by Farmers Home Administration to its borrowers helped them develop and enlarge their farms, operate more efficiently, and build a sound farming business. "In addition, Farmers Home Administration loan services for the broader rural community resulted in new homes and better rural neighborhoods in many parts of the state. These services of Farmers Home Administration were expanded in 1963. We believe they will continue to grow in line with increased emphasis of national and state leaders on rural and area development programs," Mr. Cappleman said.

At Home In Parmer County

By CRICKET B. TAYLOR
County HD Agent

At this time of the year our thoughts are beginning to wander to the subject of planting trees & shrubs, preparing for planting of vegetables and flower gardens.

Everyone enjoys and appreciates a beautiful home that is well-landscaped with attractive surroundings.

Many errors have been made in an effort to beautify the home. This is often not recognized until too late. Trees and shrubs planted too close to the house, tree roots causing plumbing trouble and shrubs too tall for the window, obstructing view of door and windows or planted to obstruct passage of traffic area. Random planting of trees, shrubs and flowers on the home grounds will not give the desired effect and much money and effort are lost.

The main objective in efforts to beautify our homes is to produce a beautiful picture. This simply means that all the various features which go into a landscape must show evidence of orderly arrangement.

Trees and shrubs properly located about a house is a pleasing picture and a source of enjoyment by family members as well as the pleasure the general public gets from a well landscaped home.

A house without trees, shrubs, flowers and lawn is not attractive.

Plan before Planting - is really the only safe and satisfactory way to plan a landscape. Draw a sketch on paper, showing location of house, drive-ways, walks, and other buildings. After a study of shrubs and basic principles of good landscaping, locating the plants on the plan, make planting easy and a safe guide to follow. Information on landscape principles, shrubs, trees, and how to develop a plan are available at my office in the courthouse. I will be glad to assist in the development of a plan for your home. Come by or call 481-3619.

Farm ownership loans totaling about $10,000,000 were used by 436 farmers to enlarge, develop, and buy farms not larger than family size, and to refinance debts, carry out forestry purposes and develop income-producing recreation enterprises.

Emergency loans amounting to an estimated $18,000,000 were made to 3,785 farmers to assist in maintaining normal farming operations following the various emergencies in different sections of Texas such as drought, excessive rains, storms or tornadoes, insect damage, etc.

Rural housing loans estimated at $6,000,000 were made to 671 farmers and other rural residents.

Water development and soil conservation loans totaled an estimated $5,300,000. Most of these funds were used to install 36 rural community water systems. These systems with 3,508 connections enabled some 14,000 people to have good water that would pass Texas Health Department requirements.

In addition to the state office in Temple, Farmers Home Administration has 136 local offices serving all counties in Texas.

Grissom Completes Sprinkler Irrigation System In Parmer County

Leon Grissom, participant in the Great Plains Conservation Program, has just completed the installation of a sprinkler irrigation system on his farm located five miles south and one mile East of Bovina, Texas. This system consists of 1955 feet of underground 150 feet head Asbestos Cement main-irrigation line, and three four-inch sprinkler laterals. The system is being used to irrigate Midland Bermuda on a loose soil. The slope of the land was too steep for furrow or border irrigation. In order to conserve water and to control erosion on the land, Leon decided on this sprinkler irrigation system and Bermuda grass.

Sprinkler Irrigation systems are beginning to appear over the plains. If your soil is loose or the slope of the land is more than eight inches per one hundred feet, then the sprinkler irrigation system is probably the most efficient system that you can use. While it is true that you have to move the laterals it is also true that you have to change tubes, and check the end of the rows to make necessary adjustments in furrow stream. All things considered it takes about the same amount of time to irrigate a given piece of land regardless of what kind of system you have. One of the greatest advantages of the sprinkler irrigation system is that it eliminates this problem of tall water. And tallwater is still our number one problem on the plains. As a well decreases in its output a sprinkler irrigation system becomes more valuable. If our water continues to decrease we must all become more conscious of tall water and try to make this a word that they used to use in the past.

If you are having excess tall-water, silt collecting at the end of your rows, or a decrease in production, the chances are you need to have your present irrigation system overhauled.

For more information on irrigation systems or assistance on improving your present system contact your local Soil Conservation Service Technicians at Friona, Texas.

Lazbuddie FFA Boys In Houston

Kirby Burch and Michael Hinkson, Lazbuddie F.F.A. Club members, will be contestants in the calf scramble at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo on February 29 at the 2 p.m. performance. They will see "America's Wildest Rodeo" as guests of the show at this performance.

When the Houston show held its first scramble in 1942, 24 calves were awarded. It was not dreamed that the project would result in putting some 4000 boys into the cattle business in the next 22 years. In 1944, 112 boys scrambled for 56 calves in 5 contests. Each year the calf scramble activities increased, and more and more sponsors stepped forward.

The Calf Scramble contests became so popular with the rodeo audiences that for the past fifteen years, there has been a contest included as an event in each of the 19 rodeo performances.

During the course of one season, four hundred boys now scramble for 200 calves. Half of the calf certificates are given to boys interested in dairy cattle and the other half to those who prefer beef cattle.

When the calf scramble contestant wins, his work has just begun. With his cash certificate he purchases the best animal he can find. He must then care for the calf, furnish monthly records to the Houston Livestock Show and his sponsor, and return his animal to the show the next year.

As a result of the Calf Scramble contests, nearly a million and half dollars in livestock, cash and prizes have been put into the hands of Texas youth, giving them substantial start in business.

Review Income Tax Rules

It soon will be time to start to work on your income tax report, says Mrs. Wanda B. Meyer, home management specialist with the Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University.

You may want to review some of the rules which may help you save -- if they apply in your case. Here's a checklist: A portion of a dividend payment on stock that is designated as return of investment is not subject to tax, although it reduces the cost basis on which you figure your profit when you later sell the stock.

A mutual-fund dividend, the portion that is designated as capital gain, is taxable, in effect, at only one-half of your ordinary rate.

Capital gains allotted to you on mutual-fund shares, but not paid, have to be reported as capital gains on your return. But you can claim credit of 25 per cent of the amount as taxes you have paid, as that's the sum paid by the company.

A child who finished college in June, 1963, can be claimed as an exemption, under the rule for full-time student of 19 years or over, provided you furnished more than one-half of his support for the entire year.

Scholarship payments received by a child in college aren't counted in calculating whether you furnished more than half of his support.

Social security and other tax-exempt income received by a dependent doesn't count toward the income test that has to be met for an exemption. But any such income spent by the dependent for his own support has to be included in estimating whether you furnished more than half.

Other rules to consider are: A couple married at any time during the year as late as December 31, can get the benefit of a lower rate for 1963 on a joint return; a dependent who died during the year, even the first week, can be claimed as an exemption if you were furnishing more than half of his support; people who reached age 65 on January 1, 1963, are entitled to an extra exemption and larger medical deduction.

Seeks Texas Rural Hero

Some courageous Texan will receive the Texas Farm & Ranch Safety Council's Rural Heroism Award during the annual meeting of the Texas Safety Association March 15-18 in Dallas, according to Bob Etheredge, chairman of the Council's Awards Committee.

Etheredge is heading the search for the rural hero of the past year. Each year the Texas Farm & Ranch Safety Council presents its highest award to a deserving person who has risked personal life or injury performing an heroic act.

Farmers and ranchers, county agents, vocational agriculture teachers and other leaders of Texas rural life are urged to send in nominations for this award. The nomination should include names and addresses of persons involved, a description of the incident, along with news clippings and pictures if possible.

Deadline for entries is March 1, 1964. Send all entries to Rural Heroism Award, 3900 Barnett Street, Fort Worth 3, Texas.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

by James E. Edwards

How Will We Find The Time?

The weak feet of many children need the wonderful exercise of running barefoot in sand. We often hear that doctors recommend this exercise in addition to corrective shoes or whatever therapy they prescribe but, when we mention it, the parents protest that they are too busy. Other parents promise but never get around to doing it.

It probably won't do much good but we suggest that if the child had a condition that required visits to the hospital three times a week would be found.

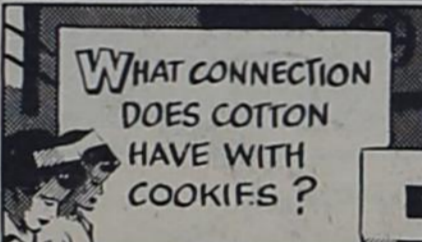

Could it be that down through the years we have acquired the idea that remedies must be distasteful or expensive to be effective? Exercise is certainly, not distasteful to children, bless 'em, and no amount of money can buy the strengthening of weak muscles.

Irrigation Pipelines Pay For Selves

Many irrigation farmers have found that irrigation pipelines pay for themselves in a few years through savings in labor and maintenance costs alone. Additional benefits are received from water conservation, erosion control, and preventing salty land.

Irrigation pipeline prevents objectional weed growth in ditches. Fields can be irrigated in less time due to increased water carrying capacity of the pipeline and the elimination of seepage losses.

Although irrigation has been practiced for many centuries, most of the very early irrigation projects no longer exist. Some of them came to an end because water supplies failed. Many, however, had to be abandoned because the land became too salty to grow crops successfully. Poor drainage, over-irrigation and seepage all contributed to the failure of these projects. Today, these same factors are causing much irrigated land to become too salty for profitable farming.

The part that seepage from unlined canals and ditches plays in producing these effects makes it a serious agricultural problem, especially in areas which have plenty of low cost irrigation water that is high in soluble salts.

Seepage losses vary in unlined ditches depending primarily on soil permeability, the depth of water in the ditch and the depth to the water table in the soil.

How does this invisible waste called seepage affect cropland? Seepage water percolates down through the soil until it reaches an impervious layer. Over a period of time, seepage accumulation causes the water table to rise. When the soil becomes waterlogged, the water replaces oxygen, and cools the soil. Soil organisms cannot live and produce organic matter without warmth and oxygen. Without organic matter plant life cannot survive. When plant life is gone the bare soil lies exposed directly to the sun. The hot sun causes evaporation and this in turn sets up capillary action and moisture moves slowly upward carrying its burden of soluble salts. The moisture evaporates on the surface, but the salts are left behind gradually causing productive land to become useless because of high salt content.

Of course, irrigation pipelines are not all the answers to the elimination of water waste, salty land and poor drainage conditions, but they are a step in the right direction.

On The Farm In Farmer County

By DERYL COKER County Agent

People are certainly proud of the pheasant in the county, and I guess I've heard more remarks pertaining to pheasant than anything else, especially since we released them last fall. From now till spring is the most crucial period for pheasant, because food is very short. It would sure pay us all to feed these birds for a while, so as they will be in good shape this summer to raise chicks.

A. L. Hartzog came up with a good idea. He is using clean sodium cholate cans tied to a fence post low to the ground, filled with grain. The cans has some small holes on the side, at the bottom, and the pheasant can pick at the holes in the can and get grain. The lid is left on the can to keep grain dry and keep livestock from getting it.

This is a very good method, but if you don't have the cans, or time to fit them, just throw some grain out in a place where they stay.

A recent ruling issued by the International Revenue Service has some important implications for travel expense claims of employees and self-employed persons. The specific notation is in TIR 537, issued on January 20, 1964. Comments relating to this ruling are taken from Tax Coordinator, Vol. No. 4, Jan. 23, 1964 as follows:

"For 1963 and on, a self-employed individual or an employee who uses a passenger car for business purposes can generally deduct his costs allocable to business use in either of two ways. For each year he can choose to deduct either (1) his specific costs of gas, oil, taxes on gas and oil, insurance, license tags and depreciation, or (2) an optional mileage deduction based on a flat 10 cents a mile on the first 15,000 miles of business travel and 7 cents over that. Parking fees and tolls are allowed in addition to the optional mileage deduction. Also, the state and local taxes on gas and oil allocable to personal use of the car are deductible as taxes by an individual who itemizes his personal deductions, even where he uses the optional mileage allowance."

Changes Noted In Screwworm Program

Highly successful eradication measures, cold weather and the need to conserve funds have prompted screwworm eradication officials to cut the production of sterile screwworm flies by 50 per cent.

An average of 70 million flies per week will be reared in the weeks ahead; production had been hovering near the 140 million per week mark during the fall. Eradication workers are confident this number will be sufficient to adequately treat those areas of Texas where native screwworms can survive the cold temperature.

The sterile flies, which are released by airplane over screwworm-infested territory, mate with native, fertile female flies, but no offsprings are produced. Nearly six billion sterile flies were reared and sexually-sterilized at the huge "fly factory" near Mission last year.

Eradication officials stated that the decrease in fly production, as well as a cut-back in personnel of nearly 175 employees, was made possible by a significant reduction in the number of screwworm infestations in the past month. At the time that the decision to hold back production was made, several weeks had elapsed with no cases being reported in any of the five states in the eradication area. Authorities also said that it is important to conserve funds now to insure that money is available to initiate emergency measures that may become necessary later in the season.

During 1963, producers in 182 Texas counties reported 4,915 screwworm cases; the previous year, 49,484 cases were detected in 242 counties. While this indicates a 90 per cent decrease, officials feel reporting was so much more effective than during 1962 that an even greater degree of control may have been achieved than the totals indicate.

After decades of experimentation, the American Medical Association says, solid advances in the ability to provide spare parts for the human body through organ transplantation were reported during 1963. Accomplishments in this field added up to the most exciting medical story of the year. The major gains in organ transplantation were with kidneys.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

It seems that those who spend your tax money are determined to banish "poverty" from all areas of the United States even if they have to try to use the same methods turned down by the "poverty stricken" wheat farmers who turned down the same program as that being promoted by the planners now. It seems rather strange that the "servants of the people" refuse to believe that these same people whom they profess to serve know so much less than the "servant" believes he does about his needs and desires.

Potato growers remember the several days they spent in Amarillo and other areas of the United States last year, testifying AGAINST potato marketing quotas until the USDA decided it was useless to try to impose them again. And now President Johnson states that it is imperative that this rejected program be imposed in the interest of abolishing poverty, not only among the producers but other rural people, as well. We suppose the attempt by the same planners to impose the minimum wage provision upon the same folks where it has been proven it is not equitable or possible to pay it, will also be presented as a weapon against poverty in this third period of unprecedented prosperity.

We do note, however, that the proposal for a cotton acreage diversion program has been declared dead by none other than USDA Secretary Orville Freeman, not by his choice, by any means, but by the refusal of congress to appropriate funds for paying for the diverted acres. This, we hope, may indicate an acceptance of the Farm Bureau plan which would attempt to pay farmers for what they produce, rather than for what they don't produce on a basis that would improve the possibility of increasing, rather than decreasing production. Reasonable market prices would be the primary foundation for this program. Although Texas Farm Bureau regrets the resignation of Organizational Director Millard Silvers, it is believed that Wayne Little, who has been in this department for twelve years or more, will make a successful replacement. John Henderson, who heads organizational and membership work, will attend a district membership meeting in Lubbock this Monday, along with other Farm Bureau leaders.

Utilization Research To Study Grain Sorghum Pigments

Research to identify pigments and related compounds that color or flavor grain sorghum and its products will be conducted by the Indiana University Foundation under contract with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Elbert Harp, President of Grain Sorghum Producers Assn., announced this week.

The research is aimed at providing a basis for future studies on avoiding discoloration of sorghum products such as starch and on avoiding bitterness in sorghum feeds. It is part of a broad effort by

USDA's Agricultural Research Service to find new uses for farm products, Harp said, and that Bill Nelson, GSPA's Executive Vice President, had made two trips to the Industrial Utilization Research Center at Peoria, Illinois, in the past to gain attention to grain sorghum in the overall program. This pigmentation problem was one discussed last March at the Association's Biennial Research and Utilization Conference which was attended by Dr. F. R. Senti Head of USDA's Utilization Research Program.

Under the Indiana contract, Professor Ernest Wenkert will study the isolation and characterization of pigments from varieties of milo or kaffir sorghums. He will also test the response of these pigments to bleaching and other treatments.

Earlier ARS studies by C. W. Blessin, C. H. Van Etten, and Dr. R. J. Dimler, scientists at the Northern Utilization Laboratory, Peoria, Ill., show that sorghum grain contains -- in addition to pigments -- unidentified colorless compounds that are converted to colored ones by acid. These compounds could discolor sorghum products that are expected to be white; they are also believed to cause bitterness.

Dr. Dimler will be USDA's technical representative on the project.

working a school of fish. I don't mean they are feeding on speckled trout or redfish, or mackerel and kingfish. Instead they are feeding on the small fish chased to the surface by the game fish.

Note the direction in which the birds are working. Open up the throttle and swing ahead of the gulls. Be sure to give them a wide berth when passing so that your motor won't spook the school of fish.

Turn off the motor when you are in line with the working gulls. If the birds are working with the current, anchor until the gulls almost reach you. Then pick up anchor and drift along with the current and the gulls, fishing all around the boat.

You'll find fishing good as long as you don't make any noises to spook the school. Of course, you may also hook a seagull or two. They'll frequently grab your shrimp just as it hits the water.

If you've ever had a gull grab your bait and hook himself, you know what you're in for. But for the benefit of those who have never had the experience, let me assure you that a hooked gull can be a rough customer.

You'll have a battle on your hands trying to reel in a gull. Then when you get the bird in the boat, you'll really have your hands full—feeling off wings, feet and beak. And all the time the gull will be screaming bloody murder right in your ears.

Then to top it all off, the gull in his frantic fighting probably will imbed your own fish hook in some part of your anatomy.

Best thing to do if a seagull foul hooks himself on your line, is to cut the line and let it go at that.

Even if you don't have a boat, gulls can aid you in surf-fishing. Just keep your eyes on the flocks of gulls standing on the shoreline. If they get up and start wheeling over a certain spot in the surf, make haste for that spot. Chances are there will be a nice school of fish under them.

March of Dimes Mothers To Deliver Health Leaflet

Mothers who will be marching for the March of Dimes throughout the nation this January will distribute millions of copies of a leaflet entitled "One Minute Warning," which gives the latest facts about birth defects and arthritis.

According to local March of Dimes volunteer leaders, these two disease areas are of concern to millions of people in this country. About 250,000 of our children are born each year with a serious birth defect. Arthritis and the rheumatic diseases afflict upward of 11,000,000 Americans.

The National Foundation-March of Dimes is fighting these diseases with the same three-pronged attack which helped conquer polio as a public health problem. Using the experience gained in spear-heading the development of the Salk and Sabin polio vaccines, March of Dimes funds currently finance:

- a nationwide scientific research program aimed at finding causes and cures for birth defects and arthritis.
- a nationwide network of treatment centers which help bring top-quality medical care to victims of these crippling.
- a nationwide professional education program which channels latest scientific findings to scientists, physicians and their associates, and
- a nationwide public education program.

Latest addition to this public education program, according to Dr. William S. Clark, director of the medical department of The National Foundation, is the "One Minute Warning" leaflet.

"Our purpose is to reassure the public that much is being done in the fight against these two great cripplers," Dr. Clark gested ship channels or bodies of water where there is a steady stream of boat traffic. You'll find plenty of feeding gulls there. But they'll be feeding on stuff churned up by the props.

Other types of sea birds can help you locate fish. During the spring and summer, mackerel birds will help you find both mackerel and kingfish. Then in the fall and winter, keep tabs on the migrating flocks of white pelicans.

"Fishing the birds" also works on the major lakes within the state—particularly when the white bass or sand bass runs are going full force.

Gulls are quick to locate white bass when they school near the surface of the water. But on the lakes you won't find near as many gulls as on the bays, beaches and offshore.

For something new and exciting, try "fishing the birds." But take along plenty of fuel and be prepared to do a lot of looking.

"The American people are financing the fight with their contributions to the March of Dimes and they have a right to receive periodic reports of what is being accomplished."

In reassuring, non-technical language, the pamphlet, which takes only a minute to read, suggests these precautions for a pregnant woman:

- See your doctor early. Be sure to tell any other doctor you may consult, for treatment of other conditions, that you are pregnant.
- Take no drugs on your own initiative. Tell your doctor about any you have been taking. Especially, stay away from "tranquilizers," "mood adjusters," and "happy pills."
- Learn your Rh factor, blood type, and your husband's. Inform your obstetrician.

Follow the diet your doctor prescribes.

Avoid excessive smoking and drinking.

If pregnant, don't knowingly expose yourself to infectious diseases—particularly German measles.

For the person who suffers from arthritis, the leaflet stresses: "Follow ONLY the advice of your doctor." Several other points of advice are given, among them, "Remember, there are no quick cures, no short cuts. Good results from treatment require time and patience."

If your home has been missed in the distribution of this pamphlet, you can obtain one free of charge from the local March of Dimes headquarters.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capital

AUSTIN -- A controversial section of the new Texas Regulatory Loan Act, passed last year after 36 years of legislative wrangling over loan control, has been declared unconstitutional.

District Judge Herman Jones of Austin held invalid the provision that at least 51 per cent of stock in lending firms operating in Texas must be owned by Texans.

Jones emphasized this was the only section of the 1963 act affected by his ruling in a suit brought by three out-of-state firms.

The companies whose subsidiaries operate in at least eight Texas cities charged the in-state ownership requirement violated state and federal due process and equal protection guarantees.

American Investment Company, a Delaware Corporation; Industrial Finance and Thrift Corporation of Louisiana; and Consolidated Credit Company of Charlotte, N.C., joined by a number of other out-of-state firms, instigated the suit.

Their subsidiaries operate in Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Fort Worth, El Paso, Waco, Texarkana and Arlington.

Regulatory Loan Commissioner Frank Miskell refused licenses to them.

COMMITTEE ON HIGHER EDUCATION -- The Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School is well ahead of schedule, reports Dr. A. B. Martin, executive director.

Earlier this year, the committee -- made up of leading industrialists and educators -- set an April date for preliminary reports for the recommendations due Gov. John Connally in August. Studies on education in public and private colleges and universities, and professional and technological needs have advanced so well that subcommittees and their consultants have been discharged, Martin said, and the April date has been moved back to February 19.

PARK IMPROVEMENTS STARTED--Tuesday's groundbreaking ceremonies at Falcon State Park in Starr and Zapata Counties near Zapata launched a three-park improvement program which will cost $1,041,966.

The $279,416 in improvements at Falcon will include a boat ramp, parking area, paved road, 24 shelters, 50 tent campsites with water, cooking grills, tables, three restrooms with showers and laundry units, ranger's residence and concession building.

Similar improvements are planned for Dam "B" Park near Jasper in East Texas and Lake Whitney State Park in Central Texas, according to J. Weldon Watson, Parks and Wildlife Department executive director.

TOURIST PLAN UNVEILED -- A pilot plan designed to bring more foreign visitors to Texas was announced by Governor Connally.

Sen. Walter Richter of Gonzales, the governor's representative, and Walter Meyer of San Antonio, who originated the plan, took off for Germany Sunday to test the program.

They hope to encourage 40 to 50 German citizens to make a 16-day red carpet tour of Texas' leading cities and historic spots from October 15 through November 2.

Texas Tourist Development Agency is sponsoring the project program in cooperation with Chambers of Commerce and interested private citizens. No public funds are involved.

The tourists, of course, will pay their own way, although some will benefit from hospitality in Texas homes. First visitors will get special low plane fare and at-cost prices all around.

It is hoped the initial visit by the Germans will establish guidelines for a continuing long-range program to boost travel in Texas by globe-trotters from other lands.

COURT RULES ON LAND -- In a 5-4 decision, the State Supreme Court overruled lower courts and directed a new trial in a dispute over oil income on 10,000 acres of Winkler County land.

Suit, brought by Southland Royalty Company against Pan American Corporation to recover a portion of proceeds from minerals produced, involves interpretation of a 39-year-old lease.

NO FIRM PROBE URGED -- Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has called on State Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner to continue investigation of a collapsed California money order firm, American Security Currency Limited was doing business in 317 Texas grocery and drug stores.

Thousands of Texans reportedly were caught with valueless paper on their hands when the firm went into bankruptcy, Carr recommends getting all facts on its history and status plus full details of an alleged sale of accounts to another company also licensed by the commission.

CONNALLY IN CIRCULATION -- Governor Connally returned to duty at his office in the Capitol last week, for the first time since he was wounded in Dallas on November 22 by the assassin of President Kennedy.

Connally announced a traveling and speaking schedule which included visits to UPI and AP managing editors' conventions here; a Boy Scout report ceremony in the Capitol; Abilene's B-52 day celebration on February 15; the Laredo Washington Birthday festival on February 22; the Paper Industry Salesmen's Association meeting in New York on February 25; dedication of the New York World's Fair Texas exhibit on February 26; and probably a visit with President Johnson in Washington on the way back to Texas.

LIBRARY ADDITIONS -- Texas State Library last week obtained an historic treaty and an historic suit of clothes. Both are certain to be viewed by thousands in years ahead.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough presented the Library a certified State Department copy of the El Chamizal treaty signed by President Johnson on December 20 -- defining the boundary along the Texas-Chihuahua and El Paso-Juarez borders. The treaty, placed on display in a glass case, ended a century-old boundary dispute.

Governor Connally, at the Library's request, turned over to the State archives the black, light-weight suit he was wearing when he was seriously wounded in Dallas. He was the first Texas governor to be the victim of an assassination attempt. The suit bears bullet holes in the back, front and right sleeve. Also placed in the archives is the blood-stained WATER STUDY -- Texans in the future may get very thirsty if they don't plan ahead to catch and save more water. This conclusion and other information about water, including the fact that since 1890 Texas has been using up its water resources at a rate 11 times faster than its population growth, has been spelled out for students.

The water story has been published in a 40-page illustrated booklet, "How Can We Meet Our Water Needs?" prepared by the Texas Society of Professional Engineers and printed by the Texas Education Agency.

Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar has notified school superintendents that 3,000 copies of the booklet on one of the state's most vital problems are available on request for use as resource material in junior and senior high schools.
