The new farm program for the forthcoming crop year is explained in this week's issue of The Blade in an article written by Prentice Mills, who is in charge of the ASCS office in the county.

We appreciate Prentice and the article for several reasons. One of those reasons is that we didn't have to write the article. The farm program business is Complicated (the capital "C" is intended). That becomes doubly true when you're not directly affected by the program. We realize, of course, that we're all affected one way or another, but the affect on the farmers is direct while it is indirect on the rest of us. Therefore, a farmer understands the program better and more quickly than someone else.

We get the impression that individual farmers feel the program isn't as good as they've had, but they also realize that it is probably better than it could have been.

The best feature we see in it. and we'll stand corrected if we're wrong, is that it will put more acres in production. This will make for more jobs, more machinery, more fuel, more fertilizer, more seed sales, more production, etc.

For the individual farmer, the question is whether he can net more money by having more acres in production than he could under the previous program of more layout acres. There's no way to determine

TELEVISION APPEARANCE -- Curtis Monk, employee of Friona Clearview Co. here was interviewed by a film crew from Dallas Tuesday afternoon of last week. ## Total $710,480 --'70 Building Permits Reach All-Time High Building permits in Bovina reached an all-time high total for a year in 1970, Mrs. Mary Ruth Martin, city secretary, announces. Boosted by 26 new homes in the $8000 bracket in the new Eastview Addition, east of Highway 86, the permit total for last year was almost a quarter of a million dollars ---$710,480.

Included in the total of 50 building permits was one for a store in the amount of $12,000. The other 49 were for residences.

Of the houses in Eastview, 22 were for $8200 and four were for $8500, according to Mrs. Martin's report. Last year's building permits total was more than seven times the amount of those issued in the previous year, '69. That total was $94,370.

Several of the building permits for homes last year were in the $13,000 to $15,000 category. Each of the 50 permits $100,000 per year. averaged approximately $14,-

MORE NEW HOUSES --- Foundations for eight additional houses for Bovina's Eastview Addition have been poured. The houses are reportedly to be moved here from Midland. The first two of the additional eight are scheduled to arrive here this week. These houses will make a total of 34 in the answer to that question until this year's crop is over. The amount of production, for instance, will have to be considered and a lot of things enter into that.

People who are pessimistic about the new program are of the opinion that the increased production will create still more supply than there is demand, thereby forcing the prices of farm products down still lower.

That stands to reason, perhaps, but only time will tell whether such becomes an actuality.

Lower prices are not the answer to the agricultural problem, it says here. At the same time, farmers don't need to price themselves out of the market. And they're not apt to.

One of the drawbacks of agriculture now is the low percentage of return on the investment, the big boys tell us. So, if that's a disadvantage now, we don't see how lower prices will help the situation.

Farmers have done a tremendous job of increasing production to bring in more income down through the years while the prices of their products remained stable or at least didn't increase at the, rapid rate of the things they were required to buy.

Either, that's true or farming was a tremendously good deal 10 or 15 years ago.

Anyway, there is a new farm program this year. No doubt, it will have it's advantages and disadvantages just as any other piece of legislation.

The thing for us to do is to find out the rules of the new game and figure out how to best play by them.

The intent of farm programs is to help the situations. We hate to have those that hurt. Maybe this won't be one of those kind.

Again, we'll express appreciation to Prentice for writing details of the program for publication.

By Prentice L. Mills The 1971 farm program for wheat, feed grains and cotton is similar in many respects to the programs which have been in effect for the past few years. However, there are, as most everyone knows, some major changes. These are: 1. Barley (diverted) acres will not be in excess of 20 per cent of the farm base. A farm will be eligible for its price support payment if the required set-aside acreage is made. There is no cross-compliance provision and a producer may participate in the program on one farm and plant as he pleases on any other farm in which he has an interest. If the 20 per cent setaside requirement is not changed, a farm's price support payment will (or could) be about 98 per cent of what it was in 1970. If it is determined (by the Secretary of Agriculture) at a later date that the set-aside is only 10 per cent - then, the price support payment could possibly be 50 per cent less than the 20 per cent set-aside. WHEAT PROGRAM: The 1971 wheat allotment for a farm will be approximately 44 per cent of the 1970 allotment for a given farm. The set-aside acreage requirement will not be more than an acreage equal to 75 per cent of the farm's 1971 allotment. This set-aside requirement is approximately the same number of acres required for participation in the 1970 wheat program.

SET-ASIDE ACREAGE: This acreage may be treated in about the same manner as was diverted acreage in the past few years with the following changes: A. In a regular skip row planting pattern, two rows skipped may be counted as setaside acres. B. This acreage may be planted to sweet sorghum. C. This acreage may be grazed except during the period May 15 to October 16. D. This acreage may have a cover of small grain (wheat, rye, oats, barley, etc.) left on it - provided, the farm operator requests approval of this practice before May 1. TRANSFER OF COTTON ALLOTMENTS: Cotton allotments may be transferred by sale or lease from Parmer County to any other county in Texas. Allotments can be transferred to Parmer County from almost any other county in Texas. Transfers may be initiated at anytime from now until May 3, 1971. APPLICATION TO AVER-AGE FARM IN PARMER CO-UNTY: In the following example we take a farm that has 640 acres of cropland - The 1970 feed grain base was 200 acres, the 1970 wheat allotment was 180.5 acres and the 1970 cotton allotment was 194.5 acres. If this farm is to participate in the 1971 programs, there should be a minimum grain acreage of 180.0 acres. This could be all wheat, all feed grain or a combination of the two. As this example farm has 640.0 acres of cropland, there is 204.0 acres of land left (after meeting the minimum requirements) which the farmer and believed just that until right up toward the bitter (for Dallas fans) end.

The outcome could easily have been different, of course, but that's why it's called a "game." People would have no interest if the teams operated like machines and the better one always won.

Connie Mack, the grand old gentleman of baseball, once said that if the errors were taken out of baseball you'd have nothing more than a machine and people would lose interest immediately.

We still think Dallas has a better team, but we know Bal-timore won the Super Bowl. Incidentally, wonder if Balti-more has a monopoly on this championship business. Their Orioles won the World Series last fall, you'll remember.

is not included in the feed grain program for the coming year. 2. There will be set-aside (diverted) acres, but no set-aside acreage payments. 3. The planting requirements are much more relaxed and different than last year.

The general provisions of the three programs are as follows: COTTON PROGRAM: The 1971 allotment for a farm will be approximately 67 per cent of the 1970 allotment for the farm. The price support will be made on the entire allotment at a minimum of 15 cents per pound times the payment yield for the farm. The allotment is used only to determine the acreage on which payment is made and to determine the acreage to be set-aside. The required set-aside (diverted) acres will not be more than puted until after the farm operator has furnished the ASCS office with his 1970 cotton production records. These production records must show bale number and weight of each bale produced on the farm. This 1970 yield will be added to twice the 1970 projected yield and divided by three to arrive at the payment yield for 1971. The County Committee may make adjustments in the 1970 yield; and, no doubt, will, in many cases. 1971 cotton allotment notices were mailed recently on eligible farms in Parmer County. FEED GRAIN PROGRAM: Feed grain bases and yields for 1971 will be the same as 1970 on most farms. A price support payment will be made on 50 per cent of the base acreage and the required set-aside the situation would be: Crop Allotment A on which A to FARMERS SHOULD KEEP THIS IN MIND: There are no cross-compliance provisions under any of these programs. A farmer can plant wheat, feed grain and cotton on a farm (s) with no bases or allotments and participate on his farm(s) with bases and/or allotments. AN INVITATION: There are, of course, many questions which are left unanswered in this news item. The people at your local ASCS office will be happy to answer any questions presented to them. Do call on them.

Having problems with a newerator? Consumers have a new pliance grievances, advises an extreme health hazard. Bonnie Lyerly, Extension specialist in home management at Texas A&M.

In late spring 1970, the associations of Home Appliance and Gas Appliance Manufacturers, and the American Retail Federation established the Major Appliance Consumer Action Panel. Composed of independent consumer experts, the panel serves as a liaison between consumers and industry. Complaints are handled in a fair, unbiased manner by contacting top executives of manufacturing companies.

Several steps are recommended by the Major Appliance Consumer Action Panel to solve problems.

-- The consumer should first read the instruction book, and check the appliance for easilyrepaired faults.

-- The dealer from whom the appliance was purchased should next be notified as well as the manufacturer.

--As a final step, the consumer may contact the Major Appliance Consumer Action Panel, 20 North Wacker Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60606.

EFFICIENTY OF PRODUC- | the program. Dr. William Lipe TION CAN HELP SWINE PRODUCERS

With the current low hog prices, commercial producers must strive for efficiency in order to withstand this pricecost squeeze.

According to Dr. W. B. Thomas, a Texas A&M University Extension swine specialist, the major factors that influence the efficiency or cost of producing a 220-pound market hog are fixed cost, feed efficiency, cost of grain and pigs marketed per sow per year.

"Fixed cost, such as depreciation, interest on investment, insurance, miscellaneous and repairs cost approximately $1.25 a head for each $100 invested, provided 16 pigs are marketed per sow each year," the swine specialist explains. "It is impossible to produce hogs without any capital investment, but the amount invested should be the minimum required to provide proper environments for the pigs."

Feed efficiency, the amount of feed required to obtain a pound of gain, certainly affects the cost of production. If by following better management practices, adjusting feeders to eliminate feed waste and feeding various classes of pigs according to their needs, the feed requirement can be reduced by
