Storm Warning

Since the tornado season is with us again, it is time to remind everyone of the signals sounded by the fire siren. One blast of the siren indicates a fire, two blasts are to call the department together, and three blasts indicate a storm.

Three blasts do not necessarily indicate that a tornado has been sighted, but they do mean that everyone should watch the clouds and take whatever action seems to be necessary.

There's a future in it for someone.

Your son's education for instance.

But by the time he's ready for college his education may well cost a small fortune.

The kind you just don't have lying around under a bed.

That's just the reason why your government has a great thing going. A U.S. Savings Bond.

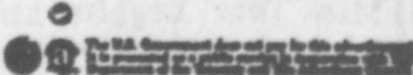

In themselves they're not a quick buck. They won't make you that fortune overnight.

But in the long run they do pay off. Darn well at that. And at a guaranteed rate.

Starting a savings plan is easy. You can join a Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Or get into a Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank.

Then watch someone's future grow. Like your son's.

Are you going to live longer than your money?

Maybe you're having a pretty good life now. Your credit is good, you've got a few nice clothes and a good dependable car. And if you're lucky, maybe you own your own home. But that's because you're working. What happens when you retire? You can't live on memories. It's still going to take money. Lots of money. Money that you should be saving now.

And one of the easiest ways to start putting away a few dollars for those retirement years is by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

That way every time you earn a little money for today, you save a little for tomorrow.

Then when the time finally comes to retire, you'll have something put away to retire to.

Now if bonds pay 7 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 1 year, 10 months if the first year. Bonds are insured if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.
