ONE FACT

IS WURTH A THOUSAND THEORIES.

Every Tontine policy issued by the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, twenty years ago, whose Tontine period expires in 1893, has a PRESENT CASH SURRENDER VALUE-

GREATER THAN THE SUM OF THE PREMIUMS PAID

Note (1) that this return is during the lifetime of the assured, and (2) that it is in addition to the protection afforded by the assurance during the twenty years.

This is true, whether the policy was issued at the low rate charged in cases where it is expected in the beginning that premiums will be paid FOR LIFE, or whether it was issued at the higher rate, providing for the payment of premiums for twenty years only.

The largest returns are shown on policies issued on the 20-Year Endowment form, which in some instances show a return of THE TOTAL AMOUNT PAID IN PREMIUMS, with INTEREST EXCEEDING SIX PER CENT. PER ANNUM.

KISSING TIME.

- 'Tis when the lark goes scaring, And the bee is at the bud,
 When lightly dancing zephyrs
 Sing over field and flood,
 When all sweet things in nature
 Seem joyfully a-chime,
 "Tis then I wake my darling,
 For it is kissing time.
- Go. pretty lark, a-soaring,
 And suck your sweets, O bee.
 Sing, O ye winds of summer,
 Your songs to mine and me,
 For with your song and rapture
 Cometh the moment when
 It's half past kissing time
 And time to kiss again!
- So-so the days go fleeting
- Like golden fancies free,
 And every day that cometh
 Is full of sweets for me.
 And sweetest are those moments
 My darling comes to climb
 Into my lap to wind me
 That it is kissing time.
- Sometimes maybe he wanders
- Sometimes maybe he wanders
 A heedless, aindess way.
 Sometimes maybe he loiters
 In pretty, prattling play.
 Eut presently bethinks him
 And hastens to me then,
 For it's half past kissing time
 And time to kiss again!

THE "ROCK OF AGES."

ly Every Home.

No picture of medern times has taken a stronger hold upon popular favor or fulfilled a higher mission than that whose history is here recorded. It has been reproduced in every form, has made its way into the homes of the inhabitants of all parts of the civilized globe.

The popularity of the "Rock of Ages" is an open secret which "he

This aroused the attention of all who saw it and induced Mr. Oertel to make a painting of the subject in oil. This second representation, measuring perhaps 14 inches in height, Mr. Oertel exhibited in the National Academy of Design, in New York, and realizing its commercial value Mr. William Shans, a Broadway art dealer, suggested that a still larger painting should be made of the design. His suggestion was acted upon, the artist first fashioning a small clay model and suspending a lamp over it, that it might receive the rays of light from above. In this manner a color study (which is now in Mr. Oertel's possession) was made, and from it in turn the finished painting, measuring A feet in height.

Mr. Storrs, however, was unwilling that his picture should be carried to such a distance, and Mr. Oertel, who had never parted with the copyright, set about making a new painting. This work was done at Irvington-on-the-Hudson, the home of the celebrated landscape painter, Albert Bierstadt, who, during a temporary absence in England, had given Mr. Oertel the use of his studio.—Philadelphia Times.
