

DEVIL'S RIVER NEWS.

VOL 10.

SONORA, SUTTON CO., TEXAS. SATURDAY, MAY 19, 1900.

NO. 281

OUR SPRING - 1900 - MILLINERY

STOCK IS IN AND GOING.

ALSO THE CELEBRATED "STAR SHOE"

ROBERTS, JOHNSON & RAND, STAR SHOE

"STAR SHOE" HAS NO SUPERIOR.

In Gents Furnishing Goods Our Stock is Complete.

Ladies Dress Goods, Laces, Notions, Etc

CAREFULLY SELECTED, WE LOOK FOR ANY DAY.

ONE CAR LOAD OF

THE OLD STUDEBAKER

RELIABLE WAGONS

NOW ON HAND

HAGERLUND BROS. & CO.

Caruthers & Allison.

Live Stock & Real Estate Commission.

Will furnish you with Description, Prices, Terms, Etc., of all kinds of LIVE STOCK, RANCHES AND TOWN PROPERTY.

Write them what you want and receive a Large list to select from.

Office 3 doors South of Decker Hotel, SONORA, TEXAS.

M. B. ATKINSON,

IS REPRESENTING

Anderson and Chisholm Brownwood Marble Works.

ALL WORK GUARENTEED. PRICES AND TERMS REASONABLE

The Sonora BAKERY,

W. JACK OWENS, PRO.

BREAD, CAKES, PIES, BUTTER, EGGS, ETC.

SONORA, TEXAS.

RANCH SALOON,

A. J. SWEARINCEN, Prop.

FINEST LIQUORS AND CIGARS IN TOWN AND SAN

PEARL BEER ALWAYS ON HAND.

The Most Popular Resort in West Texas.

W. K. SHIPMAN,

—PROPRIETOR OF THE—

San Angelo Marble Works

Offers to Discount anything sold in his line, by other agents, 20 per cent, for the next 60 days.

Now is the time to buy Tombstones, Tablets, Etc. His stock is New and Everything Guaranteed to be First-class. See him or his men before placing your order.

C. J. NICHOLS

BUILDER and CONTRACTOR.

SONORA, - TEXAS

Estimates furnished on application.

Devil's River News

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

W. K. SHIPMAN, Proprietor.

Advertising Medium of the Stockman's Paradise.

Subscription $2 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

Entered at the Postoffice at Sonora, as second-class matter.

Sonora, Texas, - May 19, 1900

The Shepherds Bulletin thinks it has discovered the cause of the unsettled and lower condition of the wool market. It has concluded that an increased demand for cotton goods. It is not unreasonable to presume, too, that because of the high price of wool last January many of the unscrupulous mill men are injecting considerable cotton into their "all wool" product, and therefore will not require so much wool.

The shearing season in Texas is over and sheepmen are getting ready to move their flocks to market. For the past three years there have been comparatively few sheep marketed from Texas, due partly to the fact that the supply was short and that sheep were in poor condition to ship. This spring Texas sheep are in better shape than they have been for many years and as prices are relatively high flockmasters have concluded that it is a good time to reduce their surplus. Many, however, are inclined to hold all their breeding stock, believing that there is more money just now in raising sheep for wool than for mutton purpose. Indications are that a good many Texas sheep will come to the Chicago market in June.—Drovers Journal.

Doctor: "How is your brother, Miss Cynthia?"

Aunt Cynthia: "He's worse this morning, doctor—a lot worse."

Doctor: "Did you give him that medicine as I directed—a teaspoonful every hour?"

Aunt Cynthia: "No, doctor; I just gave him the whole bottle at once. He wanted to hurry up and get well, so's to go to the pantomime to-night."

DEVIL'S RIVER NEWS. $2 A YEAR

"Why, Frankie," said his mother, "what are you reading in that book about bringing up children?"

"I'm just looking to see whether I'm being properly brought up."

Headmaster (addressing the class): "How simple and yet how sublime is the beautiful and detailed description which Pliny the younger gives us of the house in which he lived!"

Smart Pupil (cried): "Most likely he wanted to see it!"

Patient (mournful): "My health is in a very low state, doctor."

Doctor (cheerful): "Never mind about that, son. As long as your pulse—be patient, pulse—isn't in a low state."

Mr. Thompson: "Our neighbor Borax was shot at by a burglar and the bullet lodged in his purse."

Mrs. Thompson: "What of it?"

Mr. Thompson: "Nothing; only I was thinking his wife must be very economical. A bullet would go right through mine."

Caller: "Is your father at home?"

Little Daughter: "What is your name, please?"

Caller: "Just tell him it is his old friend Bill."

Little Daughter: "Then I guess he ain't at home. I heard him tell mamma if any bill came he wasn't at home."

Mrs. Strongmind: "And for what are you incarcerated here, my poor man?"

The Prisoner: "I married a new woman."

Mrs. Strongmind (stonished): "Impossible! You couldn't be put in jail for that."

The Prisoner: "But I was, I married a new woman, and the old woman I already had put me in here for bigamy."

The following has been attributed to many and various sources. A clergyman was preaching upon the "Parable of the Prodigal Son," and when it came to killing the fattened calf, he endeavored to heighten the interest by the following gloss:—

"Not A Calf—The Calf; the old familiar calf which had been in the family for years and years."

A Company of ladies and gentlemen were loud in their praise of the conduct of a policeman who had stopped a runaway horse.

"That's nothing to boast of," said a listener. "I have stopped more than ten cab horses in my time without moving from the spot."

"Really! How did you manage it?"

"Nothing easier. A cab horse bolts; I go and stand on the edge of the pavements and call out, 'By the horn!' when it at once drops in to a crawl."

There are several large abattoirs in the United States where horses are slaughtered for food, but it is affirmed in all these establishments that the entire product goes to European countries. The agriculture department has an inspector at each of these places, who sees that no horses suffering from any disease are killed. Only sound and healthy animals are slaughtered, and when the meat is packed for shipment each box and barrel is labeled "horseflesh," so that the purchasers will know exactly what they are buying. "So far as we know," says Dr. Wiley, of Chicago, "no sale of horse flesh for home consumption is carried on in this country, and we are not making these experiments for the purpose of encouraging its consumption. There has always been more or less suspicion as to the origin of certain prepared meats which American dealers import from abroad every year, and it is to make our inspectors thoroughly familiar with the appearance and taste of the slaughtered equine that these experiments are carried on."—Texas Stock Farm Journal.

Uses of Bad Eggs.

In this utilitarian age nearly all farm products have a market value. Even bad eggs have, according to the Kansas City Journal, come to have a distinctive use outside of theatrical circles. Concerning eggs of this kind the paper quotes a Kansas City commission merchant as saying: They are used for various purposes. They are never thrown away when a person is prepared to take care of them. You see that woman going along the street? Take notice of that calico dress she wears. You wouldn't suppose it, employed by the Government's inspectors, from The Times. Strong are spoiled eggs all over the country. It has been asked in them. What for? Why, that's to put the glaze or gloss on it. Nearly all calico manufacturers use 'rots' now for glazing the goods. It's as good as a glaze as anything else will produce, and it's cheap. In small places you know, and about the country, spoiled eggs can be had for the gathering up. People are glad to get rid of them. Here where there is cold storage and where they can be handled, they are worth from 3 to 5 cents a dozen.

"We used to throw away all our spoiled eggs, but since Armour has put in the cold storage, they are sold to him. It's just like fluffing it, you know, to get money for them. I have kept them in hot weather until you couldn't stand it, but that doesn't make any difference to the cold storage man. He puts them right in and freezes them—that takes away all the odor, and they can be kept for an indefinite period and shipped whenever and wherever desired.

The produce merchant pointed to a big two-horse wagon loaded with 100 cases of eggs weighing 5500 pounds. "I have just sold 100 cases," he said, "for 10 cents a case. Armour bought them. He will put them in the cold storage, first sorting them into four grades. The best grade will send to New York and sell for 25 cents a dozen, and the other grades down to 15 or 12 1/2 cents. The few bad ones that develop he can sell to the calico manufacturers. Of course, he doesn't need to sell any of the eggs at once. If the people don't want to pay his price for them today they will some other day. He is sure to make his profit."

The man who can get no credit has the satisfaction of boasting that he does not owe anything.

"How do you pronounce the last syllable of that word 'but-terine'?" asked the customer.

"The last syllable is silent," stily replied the tradesman.

Tom (gloomily): "I tell you, Charlie, this is a hard, hard world."

Charlie (interestedly): "So you have brought a bicycle too, have you?"

Mrs. Talkerly: "So you are going to marry Colonel Landly, my dear. And I hear you love the ground he walks on."

Miss Sharpleigh: "You; it belongs to him."

The entire railway world will probably profit by recent experiments made in connections with the smoke in tunnels. The scene of the experiments was a long tunnel not far from Genoa, through which some 200 trains pass a day, leaving an immense amount of smoke. Two methods were tried. First compressed air was used. Large cylinders of steel were filled with air and compressed to 750 pounds to the square of the locomotive. In passing through the tunnel the air was allowed to escape. The pure air blew back the smoke and purified the atmosphere. The second method was with compressed oxygen. This was allowed to escape through the cylinders into the fires of the engine, causing complete combustion, and preventing the formation of dangerous gases as well as making the air purer by the addition of the oxygen. The compressed air method is to be adopted, as it is cheaper and almost as good as the oxygen.

CHAS. SCHREINER.

WOOL COMMISSION MERCHANT,

BANKER AND DEALER IN GENERAL MERCHANDISE.

Headquarters for Ranch Supplies

KERRVILLE, TEXAS.

Bank Saloon

M. O'MEARA, PROP.

The BEST Whiskeys, Brandles, Wines, and Cigars.

ECHO SPRINGS, (Ky.) Windsor, Canadian Club

and other reliable whiskeys.

The Most Popular Resort in Town.

BREWERS OF THE CELEBRATED

Cabinet, Pilsener, Erlanger and Standard Beer.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL AT THE

BANK SALOON.

SONORA & SAN ANGELO

MAIL, EXPRESS & PASSENGER LINE.

TOM & WILL SAVELL, PROPRIETORS.

Single trip $4. Round trip $6.50.

Tickets for sale at J. McCleary's Sonora, and at Harris' Drug Store, Angelo. Stage leaves Sonora and San Angelo every day, Sundays excepted, at 7 o'clock a. m. The trip being made in one day.

All business entrusted to our care will receive personal attention. Comfortable Hacks, Low rates on Express parcels.

ALAMO IRON WORKS,

San Antonio, Texas.

WELL DRILLING and PUMPING

Machinery and Supplies.

THE RED FRONT

LIVERY - STABLE,

HUNT & SPARKS, Props.

FIRST CLASS.

FEED FOR SALE

Devil's River News.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

MIKE MURPHY, Proprietor.

Advertising Medium of the Stockman's Paradise.

SUBSCRIPTION $2 A YEAR IN ADVANCE
Entered at the Postoffice at SONORA second-class matter.

SONORA, TEXAS. May 19, 1900.

Seized by Germany.

London, May 15.—Lieut. Deele who is conducting a Cape to Cairo expedition fitted out by the London Daily Telegraph, sends by wire and steamer from Uvira north of Lake Tanganyika, the following:

"The situation here is critical. The Germans have forcibly seized all the Congo Free State territory up to Ruzizi river, occupying 300 square miles of Congo territory 10,000 soldiers, fifteen officers and cannon.

"The Belgian officer withdrew from his station under threat of instant attack. The Germans burned the station. Their officers acted on instructions from Berlin."

London, May 14.—"The war is practically over, says the Daily Chronicle's Kroomstad correspondent, and, in less definite terms this is the view to be gathered from all the correspondents. They picture the Boers as utterly demoralized and disheartened rapid advance and by this facile turning of the carefully prepared positions of the Boers. There was practically no fighting and there are no further details to give respecting the occupation of Kroomstad. The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: The Union Jack was hoisted in the market place by Mrs. Loshkhan, the Amer. can wife of a Scotchman. Most of the horses of the Boers are in a wretched condition, but President Kruger declares he will continue the war. It appears that the Boers at Kroomstad had been reinforced by 3000 men from Natal last Friday and that altogether 10,000 with 20 guns trekked from Kroomstad on the afternoon of last night.

J. C. Swift of Rannels, came near happening to a serious accident last Monday. He was harnessing up a team when they became frightened, and getting him tangled up in the harness dug him about fifty yards, breaking a rib and bruising him up considerably.—Bullinger Ledger.

City of Mexico, May 13.—The hacienda de Jalapa de Rosales has been sold to Col. E. S. Moss and Boston associates for $1,000,000. A quarter of a million dollars will be expended on the property in building a factory for the manufacture of a new substitute for India rubber. The estate has ample water power and is situated in the State of Mexico, an hour's ride from the city.

LION COFFEE

ALWAYS WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL

Sold only in 1-lb. Packages.
Premium List in every Package.
Best Coffee for the Money.
Insist upon LION COFFEE!
WOOLSON SPICE CO., TOLEDO, O.

Duration of the War.

New York, May 13.—Spencer Wilkinson of London, in an article of "How Long Will the Boer War Last?" which will appear in the forthcoming edition of Leslie's Weekly, says: "In the summer of 1861 there were probably few men in or out of the United States who foresaw that the war of the secession would last for four years; if any held that opinion he gained little credence for it at the time. In June, 1866, only eight who had special opportunities of knowing the condition of the Prussian army foresaw that the Austrian empire would be suing for peace within six weeks of the outbreak of the then pending hostilities. The duration of a war depends partly upon the relative resources of the two belligerents and the energy and determination which each of them throws into it. The last named is probably the most important factor.

"I have from the beginning expressed the belief the Boers would make a desperate fight. According to their views the cause for which they are in arms, is that of independence, and for the cause every community will fight harder and longer than for any other.

"England is fighting for the unity of her empire and for the moral existence of the British nation. It is a cause which appeals less directly to the intelligence of the masses than that of independence and the disproportion between the resources of the British empire and those of the Boer Republic is so great that neither the British government, nor able constituencies, by whose tone it is accustomed to guide itself, are able to realize the importance of extreme to bring the war speedily to a close.

"I hardly expect the resistance of the Boer armies in the field to be prolonged for much more than three months, but I should not be surprised if the effective occupation of the whole country required a further six months of effort.

"There are now under command of Lord Roberts altogether 190,000 men and even if the most liberal of all sorts, for invalids, for garrisons left on the communications and for troops stationed in the districts lately disaffected there is still abundant material for Lord Roberts to attack the Boers with a force out numbering their whole army. It is little more than a month's march from Bloemfontein to Pretoria. The Boers, by the various expedients open to them, of rear guard actions and of raids on the communications, may prolong this time by a couple of months. But in the process, even should they escape crushing defeat their army would be used up. After that there is nothing left but guerrilla warfare, or the attempt at a wholesale 'trek' to the North.

"This appears to me to be the normal forecast, but I have no personal knowledge either of the country or the people and there are many unknown elements which conceal various possibilities. The whole of South Africa is inhabited by Kaffir tribes, who far outnumber all the white soldiers. If the Kaffirs were all join in the fight on one side or the other, no one can foresee what would happen. A second set of possibilities lies in the general course of the world's affairs. The longer the duration of war the greater the scope for the occurrence of unexpected events in some other quarter of the globe which might modify the whole situation."

A Woman's Awful Peril.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters, which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney remedy. Cures Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Try it. Only 50 cts. Guaranteed. For sale by E. S. Briant druggist.

Miss Annie Ker, who has been teacher in the Kerrville schools for the past year, and who has been visiting Mrs. T. D. Newell, of Sonora, for some time, arrived in San Angelo Monday evening to interview the school board.—San Angelo Enterprise.

Truth is Now Coming On.

London, May 5.—(N. Y. Sun cable.)—It would be difficult to say what subject most widely engaged public attention in Great Britain and Europe at the present moment. A week hence perhaps it will be the war in South Africa, but to day this is not the case, altho Gen. Lord Roberts is well started on what historian will probably describe as his great march to Pretoria. Two things have greatly intensified the unpopularity of the war in this country during the last few days. One is the increasing enlightenment of the public mind in regard to the American attitude toward the war, and the other is disgust and indignation over the Government explanation of the publication of the Spion Kop despatches.

Some of the more honest correspondents and newspapers are at last making known as gently as possible the truth about the American public opinion. In addition to this there is a growing volume of independent personal testimony as to the strength of the pro-Boer sympathy among almost all classes in the United States. It is impossible to ignore, for instance, Max O'Reils frank statement that his audiences through America on his recent lecture tour were almost unanimous in their sympathy with the little republics struggling to preserve their independence. The fact that American opinion is not unanimously or even preponderantly on the side of England in the present war is causing more heart searching in this country than Englishmen have indulged in for a long time.

As long as Britons were able to say, as they thought they could do with truth until recently, that the whole Anglo-Saxon world approved their ante-bellum policy in South Africa, their consciences were satisfied. The sudden realization that England may stand absolutely alone as regards moral support in her quarrel with the Boers is making England think. This process of introspection is extremely dangerous for the present Government. Let it not be understood that a strong war is springing up. There are other considerations vital to the future of the British Empire which make imperative complete military success in South Africa. The sentiment which is increasing daily is a great national determination to bring to judgement before the bar of public opinion every man responsible for putting the country in its present position.

This resolution has been strengthened the Government's lamentable confessions in connection with the publication of the Spion Kop despatches. Nothing but contempt has been aroused by the attempt of Lord Lansdowne to shift the responsibility and worse still, to procure from Gen. Buller a fake despatch to humbug the public. Not in many years has any Ministerial act around such exasperated indignation, which has been increased instead of diminished by yesterday's debate in the House of Commons. It is impossible to use stronger language of condemnation than that employed by the Government's own supporters, from The Times down. The Ministerial case was, in truth, so hopeless that the strongest members of the Cabinet, Premier Salisbury in the House of Lords, and Colonial Secretary Chamberlain in the House of Commons, refused to speak in its defence, and a vote to censure the Government in the House of Commons was averted only by a direct passionate appeal by Mr. Balfour to party loyalty and discipline.

A question of immediate interest is whether Lord Lansdowne will be able to retain the post of Secretary of State for War after the revelations of his incompetency. For some reason, which can only be suspected at present, he was desperately anxious to publish the despatches, but in a most cowardly fashion he tried to cast the responsibility upon the generals. He failed, and therein lies the only consolation Englishmen are able to derive from the miserable business. The country has learned that Gen. Lord Roberts and Gen. Buller are strong men who cannot be bounced about by politicians, and who have the courage to defy even the Minister of War, and the Government behind him, rather than join political tricksters in a conspiracy to deceive the people.

By all the rules of the political game Lord Lansdowne ought now to resign. Despite the fact that he has held most exalted offices, he is a man of mediocre ability, who, in any other country, would never have risen above the crowd. Since he has been at the head of the War Office he has been the slave of a gang of bureaucrats and prominent officials, who, as in most of the other State departments really rule the country. There are good reasons for suspecting that this gang in order to serve base, personal ends, drove Lord Lansdowne into the course which he so unappetingly followed. The truth may come out before the war in South Africa is over.

One interesting effect of these revelations is the complete rehabilitation of Gen. Buller in the estimation of his countrymen. Nothing could appeal more strongly to the British heart than his recent refusal of the Government's offer of a peerage which would have protected his own reputation.

A Keen Clear Brain.

Your best feelings, your social position or business success depend largely on the perfect action of your Stomach and Liver. Dr. King's New Life Pills give increased strength, a keen, clear brain, high ambition. A 25 cent box will make you feel like a new being. Sold by E. S. Briant Druggist.

Dr. G. W. Sessm and wife, of Sonora, were here several days this week.

Dr. W. H. Ash, of Barksdale, sold for cash to Mr. Roney 163 eastern steers at $14.

Dr. W. H. Ash has recently purchased about 250 head of steers of different parties at $14.

Mr. Little has recently purchased in the Barksdale neighborhood about 100 head of steers at $14.

J. N. Whitworth and Kate Winn sold 400 muttons at $3 this week. Their clip this spring amounted to about 16,000 pounds the first consignment of which Mr. Lee Wilmath took to Kerrville.

Mr. Eli Jones, of Barksdale, son of the proprietor of the Rausch Hotel, J. P. Jones, had the misfortune to lose his house and all the household goods last Saturday evening by burning. They were gone to Rock Springs to attend court and no one was with the house. The fire occurred just before dark.—Rock Springs Daily.

Probably the fact is not generally known that Texas was at one time and for many years called the "New Philippines." The first settlement in what is now Texas was made by French emigrants in 1685. During the next 25 years there was an intermittent struggle between the French and Spanish for supremacy, resulting in favor of the latter, and in 1814 the name of the New Philippines was given to the country. This was its official name in Spanish records for many years and until the name of Texas, from a tribe of Indians, gradually came in vogue. Indianapolis Journal.

The geographical position of the Nome region is the Southern face of the peninsular projection of Alaska, which separates Kotzebue sound on the north from Bering Sea on the south, and terminates westward in Cape Prince of Wales the extent of the North American continent. In a direct line of navigation it lies about 2500 miles northwest of Seattle and 170 miles southeast of Siberia. The nearest settlement of consequence to it prior to 1866 was St. Michael, 100 miles to the southeast, the starting point of the steamers for the Yuko river. The Nome district has settled centers about the lower course of the Snake river, an exceedingly tortuous stream in its tundra course, which discharges into the sea at a position thirteen miles west of Cape Nome proper.—Popular Science Monthly.

Berlin, May 13.—The occupation of Kroomstad by Lord Roberts without resistance has caused the greatest surprise here. The military expert of the Lokal Anzeiger finds an explanation in the fact that many of the Boers have deserted. He says: "Lord Roberts' advance was splendidly executed. It is worthy to be placed beside the Kander expedition. The situation is now changed so greatly in favor of the British that the fight of the Transvaal Boers is settled."

Jeffries is Champion.

New York, May 11.—James J. Jeffries is still the champion heavy weight of the world, but by virtue of his hitting powers and not because of his skill in the art of boxing; from the first round to the twenty-third Corbett had the better of the mill if he could only have put enough steam into his blows to accomplish that which Jeffries did with one blow when he got the opportunity. That opportunity was a long time in coming, and there were many among the thousands who crowded the arena who thought that it would never come, for the former champion seemed to have things his own way, despite the fact that he was many times forced to the ropes by his bulky antagonist Jeffries wore his man down and then put the quietus to him. Corbett left the ring without a visible scratch; Jeffries went out with his face all scarred and seamed.

The articles called for twenty-five rounds to a decision, straight Queensberry rules.

The purse the men battled for was 60 per cent of gross receipts, or about $45,000 if, as estimated, the receipts amount to $75,000. The winner's share 75 per cent of $45,000, is about $33,750. The loser's share, 25 per cent, about $11,250.

Tortured A Witness.

Intense suffering was endured by witness T. L. Martin, of Dixie, Ky., before he gave this evidence: "I coughed every night until my throat was nearly raw; then tried Dr. King's New Discovery which gave instant relief. I have used it in my family for four years and recommend it as the greatest remedy for Coughs, Colds and all Throat, Chest and Lung troubles. It will stop the worst cough, and not only prevents but absolutely cures Consumption. Price 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at E. S. Briant Drug Store.

There were but 5,300,000 people in America when this century opened. France had five times as many people; Germany, and even Austria, had four times America's population; Italy had three times as many, and so had Great Britain. Even Spain had double our number of people, and little Portugal was most our rival in numbers. We have more people now than any European nation except Russia, which alone leads us. We have as many people as live in all Great Britain and France combined. We have one-half more people than Germany. We have, practically, 75,000,000 people in the United States, and 10,000,000 more in our new possession. Ladies' Home Journal.

Notice to Trespassers.

Notice is hereby given that parties cutting and hauling cedar or wood out of my pasture, or driving or grazing any kind of stock through my pasture will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.
R. T. BAKER.

Lost or Stolen

From Locklin & Moss ranch about Oct, one sorrel horse white spot in face, hind foot white, brand (cross V), also one sorrel horse white spot in face, black mane and tail, branded W H on left hip and other brands on left shoulder. Reasonable reward will be paid for information leading to their recovery.
W. L. LOCKLIN, at the Locklin & Moss ranch.

Final Statement of Estate.

THE STATE OF TEXAS }
SUTTON COUNTY. }
TO ALL PERSONS INTERESTED IN THE ESTATE OF GUS A. BATTE, DECEASED: You are hereby notified that P. HURST, executor of the Last Will and Testament of the Estate of Gus A. Batte, late of said county, deceased, has presented his final account of said estate to the Court for settlement thereof. Which is now on file in my office and that you are required to be and appear at the next regular term of the County Court of said county to be commenced for Civil purposes at the Court house thereof in Sonora on the Third Monday in May and then and there contest the same if you wish so to do.

Witness:—J. B. HILL, Clerk of the County Court of said county, and the seal of said court hereon impressed, this 27th day of April, A. D. 1900.
J. B. HILL, Clerk of the County Court, Sutton Co., Texas.

DEVIL'S RIVER NEWS, $2 A YEAR

WHAT IS SAN ANTONIO PROUD OF ?

A TRUE HOME INDUSTRY.

HANDLED IN SONORA BY THE RANCH and MAUD S SALOONS. ALL the stock owned by SAN ANTONIO citizens. The LARGEST brewery in the South. Last year's output 150,000 Kegs More than any other brewery south of St. Louis.

Cec. S. Allison, Agent, Sonora, Tex.

MILLS' ICE CREAM PARLOR

CONFECTIONERY, COLD DRINKS, FRUITS AND ICE FOR SALE.

McDonald's Store Building, Sonora, Texas

Its no Joke.

On last Wednesday night May 9, Sheriff T. G. Robertson led Miss Roena Walker, of Belton, Texas, to the hymenial altar in that city and then in the presence of a large concourse of friends, and the minister of god, the two were united hand and heart, for aye.

Mr. Robertson—well, everybody knows Dock so we wont say anything about him, only that this is the best deal of his life. But Miss Walker was one of Bell county's charming young ladies, and a prize worth that long and zealous effort of Dock's which was so happily crowned with success.

The Enterprise joins the community in congratulating our sheriff and extending best wishes and a kind welcome to the newly made husband and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson will be in on the San Angelo stage to-night or to-morrow night.

Asa Robertson has moved from Sutton county to the LeMin ranch, with 217 head of pretty cattle.

Wm. Evans will go up in the McKavitt country next week to receive steer yearlings bought from different parties there.—Menardville Enterprise.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given to all persons trading with my son Robert Ogle, that he is a minor, and that all his property is now in my possession as his natural guardian, and I will not recognize any sales, or other trades made by him with any person.
L. A. OGLE, Sonora Tex. April 23.

Carrizo Springs Mineral Water for sale at the Bank Saloon.

Wanted to Pasture.

I have good range for 2,000 head of sheep; will take them at reasonable rates; plenty of water, two good wells.

Dock Simmons, Sonora, Texas.

R. S. HOLLAND, REPRESENTATIVE OF THE NEW YORK LIFE

Will issue you a Policy that is absolutely Non-forfeitable and Non-contestable.

Also Representing the LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE, and the AETNA FIRE INSURANCE CO'S. Sonora, Texas.

DR. T. J. DODSON

Practicing Physician.

Office at Lewenthal's Drug Store. Residence East Concho Avenue. Sonora, Texas.

S. C. TAYLOR,

Attorney-at-Law,

SONORA, TEX.

Will practice in all the State Courts

W. A. ANDERSON,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

SONORA, TEXAS.

Will practice in all courts.

For Sale or Trade.

The property in West Sonora known as the Birtrong place, is for sale or trade for cattle. Apply to Mike O'Meara. Sonora, Texas, Jan 6.

For Sale or Rent.

Good dwelling house of 7 rooms halls, and galleries, about one acre of as good ground as can be found in Sonora. Will rent this property cheap, to a good tenant; or will sell cheap, for cash, will trade for cattle or sheep.

Apply to Dock Simmons, or CARUTHERS & ALLISON, Sonora, Texas.

Notice to Trespassers.

Notice is hereby given that all parties cutting or hauling wood from land controlled by the undersigned will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Particular attention will be given to the lands in the neighborhood of the O. H. Wood ranches and the Buckley divide.

C. T. Turney, Sonora, Texas, Dec. 15th, 1898.

WELINGTON CLUB WHISKEY

is the finest article that has ever sailed over the San Angelo bars. No headache guaranteed. For sale only at the Corner Saloon San Angelo Established 1853.

J. B. TAYLOR & CO.

Wholesale and Retail Grocers,

SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.

Oldest, Largest and Most Reliable
Grocery House in the West.

Devil's River News

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

MIKE MURPHY, Proprietor.

Advertising Medium of the Stockman's Paradise.

SUBSCRIPTION $2 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

Entered at the Postoffice at Sonora, as second-class matter.

Sonora, Texas, - May 19, 1900.

Resolutions of Condolence.

At a meeting of the local camp of the Woodmen of the World held last Saturday night the following resolution passed on the death of Sovereign H. G. Colson.

Whereas the Supreme Ruler of the Universe has seen fit in His providence to call from our midst Sovereign H. G. Colson, who was a charter member of Devil's River Camp No 179 Woodmen of the World; and whereas in the death of Sovereign Colson, the Woodman of the World loses one of its most valuable and ablest members who acted as Camp Physician, since the organization of the local camp.

Be it resolved that local camp
No 179, regret sincerely the loss of Sovereign Colson who was not only a most consistent Woodman, but a man of sterling worth, ever ready to help those who needed assistance, and we submit graciously to the ruling of Providence who we believe doeth all things well.

Be it also resolved that Local Camp No 179 expresses their sincere sympathy with the bereaved wife and relatives of the deceased Sovereign, who was a fond and devoted husband and father and trusts that they may receive such support that may be obtained only from Him who took away their loved one.

Also resolved that these resolutions be spread on the records of the Local Camp and published in the Sonora San and Devil's River News, also that a copy be sent to the wife and relatives of deceased Sovereign.

Dr. T. J. Dodson,
S. H. Stokes,
R. C. Dawson.
Committee on resolutions.

John Bryden was in Sonora
Thursday to have his eye doctored

12 1/2, 15, 20 and 25 cent
Figured Lawns,
Dimities and Organdies for 10, 12 1/2 and 15 cents at Hagerlund Brothers & Co's.

A. C. Fambrough has put in electric bells in the Bank Saloon
this week.

J. J. Harris and E. W. Bennett of San Saba and W. H. Fountain of Lampasas, were in Sonora Wednesday on their way home from a prospecting trip to the Pecos country.

Wil Whitehead of the large ranch, cattle and sheep firm of
G. W. Whiteheads Sons, was in Sonora this week attending to business. Mr. Whitehead has about regained his usual health.

When you go to San Angelo call on Eddie Maier, at the Favorite Saloon, he will treat you
O. K. 72-4f

E. F. Tillman and J. C. Glenn two prominent stockmen of Brownwood were in Sonora Wednesday on a prospecting trip. They are both very pleasant gentlemen and made many friends while in Sonora.

E. S. BRIANT,

PROPRIETOR OF THE

SONORA DRUG STORE,

SOLICITS YOUR TRADE

NEW STOCK OF DRUGS AND DRUGGISTS SUNDRIES, STORE IN ALLISON BUILDING.

PRESCRIPTIONS CAREFULLY COMPOUNDED BY OTIS MITCHELL.

I KNOW YOUR WANTS AND WANT YOUR TRADE.

Geo Moss the barber of Juno was in Sonora for a few days this week on a pleasure trip.

T. Courtney who has been with John Reiley's sheep in Edwards county was in Sonora several days
this week.

12 1/2, 15, 20 and 25 cent
Figured Lawns,
Dimities and Organdies for 10, 12 1/2 and 15 cents at Hagerlund Bros. & Co's.

R. C. Waters one of the proprietors of the San Angelo Enterprise was in Sonora several days this week rustling business.

Jim Alford, Ernest Brown and Art Hamrick moved their cattle from the Keton ranch to Jud Swearingens ranch Saturday there were about 450 head.

Shoes that Wear—
* The Star *
at Hagerlund Bros. & Co's.

Rob Lee and A. Purcell came in on Saturday from the Territory where they were with a bunch of cattle for F. Mayer & Son's they left on Sunday for the T half circle ranch.

Dock Simmons the well known stockman was in Sonora Friday, Dock had just returned from a business trip to San Angelo and says Fred had a fine time up there with that other Irishman.

M. B. Atkinson returned from a visit to Mason county this week and was accompanied by his niece
Miss Maggie, daughter of Rev. J.
B. Atkinson, of Mason county, who will visit her relatives here for a few weeks.

Mrs. N. A. Holin left for San Angelo this week on a visit to relatives.

R. T. Baker the Bee Hollow cattleman was in Sonora this week trading.

County attorney, W. A. Anderson and M. H. Gillian the cattleman, made a business trip to San Angelo this week.

WANTED:—Position as teacher, companion or house keeper, country preferred. Address
A. A. M.,
Ft. McKavitt, Texas.

Bob Dawson sold a Hynes back to Green Justice and a Hynes buggy to Dr. Dodson this week.

G. D. Chesser the Val Verde county sheepman was in Sonora Saturday.

Jas. Gillespie the popular saloon man of Ozona, was in Sonora
Thursday on a little business.

F. C. Baker the sheep owner bringing H. H. Sheards sheep down on Dry Devil's River was in Sonora Wednesday.

C. M. Deere is still up to date on every thing in his line, both on price, and quality of goods, try him.

Mart Tankersly the well known stockman of Edwards county was in Sonora Wednesday for supplies Mart says things are all right down his way.

Comptroller Daws has approved the application of W. L. Aid-well and others, for authority to organize the First National bank of Sonora with a capital of $50,000

Ed Hill of Barksdale, Henry Wells of Vance, and G. H. Rogers of Frio, passed through Sonora
Monday on their way to Arizona.

J. W. Green the popular representative of the New York Life Insurance company, who resides in Brownwood, is in Sonora soliciting business.

Hot Chili for ten cents a dish at Kirkland's Restaurant.

The board of school trustees of the Sonora Incorporated school district met at the court house, Thursday morning and decided to select the present faculty for the next term: J. H. Bradley principal, Miss Mattie Brown, Miss Mona Rountree and Mrs. J. L.
Burrough. The faculty could not receive a higher compliment than that shown by the board in re-electing them and it is also a strong indication that their work has been satisfactory to the parents and patrons. While the faculty has done good work his year they will, by a thorough knowledge of their pupils, be able to accomplish more next session.
E. F. Vander Stucken was elected president of the board and Dr.
T. J. Dodson secretary. The board appointed a committee of three. Judge J. O. Rountree, E.
C. Saunders and Prof. J. H.
Bradly to obtain amount of the taxable values of the Incorporated District. The board is in favor of building a new school house and when they obtain the information as to taxable values it is expected that some decisive action will be taken.

THE SAN ANGELO NATIONAL BANK,

SAN ANGELO, TEX.

Capital - $100,000.
Surplus and Profits - $75,000.

Offers to Depositors all the Accommodations which their Balances, Business and Responsibility Justify.

M. L. MERTZ, President. C. W. HOBBS, Vice-President.
A. A. DeBerry, Cashier.

The proceedings of the commissioners court will be published next week.

Dates and other good things at John McCleary's.

Dave Chesser is attending the summer normal at Leakey in Edwards county.

When in Eldorado put up at Am Savell's feed and wagon yard.
Corn, oats and hay for sale. 72

We will publish a letter from our special war correspondent in the Philippines next week.

Fine Chili at Kirkland's Restaurant for 10 cents. Try some.

Wm. Sultmeier Jr. was in from the ranch Wednesday for supplies and wind mill fixing.

W. L. Locklin was in Sonora
Tuesday on his way to Sherwood on a visit to his family.

Get the daily market report at
R. S. Caruthers & Co's.

Mr. John McCleary left for San Angelo Monday on a business trip.

If you want to buy stock, ranch or town property, see Caruthers &
Allison's list for sale at a bargain.

J. D. Todd a lawyer of San Angelo was in Sonora Wednesday on professional business.

12 1/2, 15, 20 and 25 cent
Figured Lawns,
Dimities and Organdies for 10, 12 1/2, and 15 cents at Hagerlund Bros. & Co's.

Dr. Henry Taylor of Juno was in Sonora several days this week on a visit to his brother Dr. A. L.
Taylor.

Those who attend the dance at the Swift & Adams ranch last Friday report having had a fine time.

The celebrated
* STAR SHOES *
* * * * *
at Hagerlund Bros. & Co's.

John McKee and Leo Huggins
the stockmen were in from the Rountree & Tayloe ranch for supplies Wednesday.

Jim Rucker who has been running Sam Oglesby sheep in Fields pasture, started Saturday with about 1280 matton for San Angelo.

Sam Stokes, commissioner of Precinct No 2, was in Sonora for a few days this week attending commissioners court.

Kirkland's Chili is very fine,
10 cents a dish at the Restaurant.

Will Wyatt was in from Devil's River Wednesday for supplies and says their new well is getting along all right.

Chili, Chili for ten cents a dish
at Kirkland's Restaurant.

If you suffer from dyspepsia or catarrh of the stomach try a jug of Carrizo Springs Mineral Water.
For sale at the Bank Saloon.

Max Vander Stucken and sister Miss Sophia, left on a visit to their old home in Menard Saturday, Max returned to Sonora Wednesday and Miss Sophia will remain for some time.

Sol Mayer partner and manager of the stock firm of F. Mayer & Son's was in Sonora Monday from their T. half circle ranch and left on Tuesday to visit their Middle Valley ranch. Sol says things are coming smoth.

* * * * *
STAR SHOES— * * * * *
All Kinds, Styles and Sizes
at Hagerlund Bros. & Co's.
* * * * *

Bids will be received up till
May 20, for the new bank building
for further particulars.
Address,
E. F. Vander Stucken,
Sonora, Texas.

Walter White the new windmill man arrived in Sonora Wednesday and is so busy that he hasent time to say what will you have or to write an ad.

Wedding Blossoms the best 10c cigar in town at J. Lewenthal's.

Senator Clark, in a dramatic speech, resigns his seat in the United States senate. Has been reappointed by the lieutenant governor, who is acting as governor.

Mrs. Max Mayer is visiting, her sister Mrs. John Young in Ozona.

Jim Cauthorn the sheepman was in Sonora Thursday.

Cunningham & Frost the photographers left for Ozona Wednesday.

Geo. Haniton the sheepman was in from D. C. Ker's ranch
Sunday for supplies.

Walter White informed the News that the election at Sherwood went for the court house.

Empty barrels and kegs for sale at C. M. Deere's.

Geo. Trainer commissioner of precinct No 3, was in Sonora this week attending commissioners court.

A. A. Williamson commissioner of precinct No 4, was in Sonora this week attending commissioners court.

Judge J. O. Rountree and S. G.
Tayloe left for their ranch, Wednesday to see how things look out there.

Fine Chili for ten cents a plate
at Kirkland's Restaurant.

Ira Word and Jack Deezoo came in on Friday back from delivering O. T. Word & Son's cattle to the Territory.

Bruno Schott the contractor of Kerrville, was in Sonora Friday on his way to Sherwood to bid on the Court house. Mr. Schott returned Thursday.

John W. Hagerlund senior member of the mercantile firm of Hagerlund Bros & Co., made a business trip to San Angelo, this week.

Diamond patent, the best flour
to be had at C. M. Deere's

Wm. Babb the well-driller flashed a well for R. J. Owens at Owensville, last week obtaining a good well on the hill at a depth of 162 feet.

Walter Harper of San Antonio was in Sonora this week. He is out here looking after his bunch of cattle at John T. Brown's ranch.
Mr. Harper offers these cattle for sale.

The plans and specifications for the First National bank of Sonora, were received by Vice President Vander Stucken this week from architect Ruffin of San Angelo.
The design is very neat, complete and convenient and the structure will add much to the appearance of the town.

A Fast Bicycle Rider.

Will often receive painful cuts,
sprains or bruises from accidents, Bucklen's Arnica Salve, will kill the pain and heal the injury. It's the cyclist's friend. Cures Chafing, Chapped Hands, Sore Lips, Burns, Ulcers and Piles. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c. Try it.
Sold by E. S. Briant druggist.

Mrs. R. W. Callahan, Mrs
Maggie Clark and Miss Lucile Adams returned last week from their prospecting trip to Sanderson. Mrs. Clark and Miss Adams purchased property in Sanderson and will immediately build a hotel there.

Miss Anna Ker, daughter of D.
C. Ker of Edwards county arrived from San Angelo, Wednesday.
Miss Ker has been selected as one of the teachers by the school trustees at San Angelo and will teach there next session. Miss Ker will also assist in conducting the summer Normal at Leakey.

Subscribe for the Devil's River News

J. LEWENTHAL,
CHEMIST and DRUGGIST.

PERFUMERY, FANCY TOILET ARTICLES, PIPES, CIGARS, WINDOW

GLASS, PAINTS, PUTTY, ETC. A CHOICE LINE OF

WATCHES, JEWELRY and SILVERWARE,

School Books and Stationery.

IT MAY INTEREST YOU

To know that our trade has been constantly increasing since we began business last June.

THE REASON IS PLAIN

It is because we study the interests of our customers as well as our own.

It is because we, at a l times, endeavor to give you the very best values for the money, not always the most goods, but

ALWAYS THE BEST QUALITY

Our assortment of mens furnishing goods, mens and ladies shoes, spring dress goods and trimmings is still intact.

Our stock of groceries is always complete.

E. F. Vander Stucken Co.

J. F. Collins of San Angelo, arrived in Sonora Friday, on a visit to his ranch in Sutton county.

* * * * *
"Star Shoes are Better"
at Hagerlund Bros. & Co's.

Lost on road from Sonora to Barksdale ranch Monday, a new bleck bat size 6 7 8. Finder will please return same to S. G. Stokes or to this office.

If you want cheap groceries for cash go to.

JOHN MCCLEARY.

Died at John Boyd's ranch 4 miles below town, on Tuesday
May 15 1900, James Daniel Babb
the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Babb. The News sympathises with the parents and friends.

Fine Chili ten cents a dish at Kirklands Restaurant.

Leslie McMullan the young sheepman from down the draw was in in Sonora several days this week wanting to get a wind mill man. Leslie was lucky in getting our new wind-mill man Walter White.

Kirkland's Restaurant will pay 30 cents for large frying chickens or good fat hens.

Board of Equalization.

Commissioners court of Sutton county will meet at court house in Sonora Texas on the second Monday in June, being the 11th day,
and sit as a Board of Equalization.
Texas payers interested will hereby take notice.

J. B. Hill
Clerk County Court, of Sutton county, Tex.

For Sale.

Hereford bulls for sale or trade
Apply to Geo. B. Black.
Sonora, Texas.

Notice to Contractors.

Bids will be received up till
May 20, for the new bank building
for further particulars.

Address,
E. F. Vander Stucken,
Sonora, Texas.

Ira L. Wheat has announced for Sheriff of Edwards county.

Judge J. J. Ellis has announced for county judge of Edwards county.

Wedding Blossoms Buds the best 5c cigar in town at J.
Lewenthal's.

Published Weekly. MIKE MURPHY, Proprietor. Advertising Medium of the Stockman's Paradise. Subscription $2 a Year in Advance. Entered at the Postoffice at Sonora, second-class matter. Sonora, Texas, May 19, 1910.

A RAZORBACK HUNT.

ROUNDING UP THE HOGS IS LIVELY AND EXCITING WORK.

The Experience of One Rancher Who, Instead of Doing His Butchering Out in the Hills, Attempted to Drive His Hogs to Market.

While it is generally accounted that the sheep and Angora goat furnish most of the revenues to the rancher in the broken and wooded country south of the Staked plains and west of the Colorado river, it is nevertheless a fact that the razorback hog contributes a full share. Probably there is no country anywhere better adapted to the production of cheap pork. The hills are covered with cedar and a great variety of scrub oak trees, and the cañons and river valleys are heavily wooded with pecan and Spanish walnut. So that there is always an abundance of excellent mast, and it might be mentioned that the cedar berries are considered equal to corn in land producing qualities.

With this sort of feed, which is always abundant, the expense of care and feeding is removed, the animals simply remaining at large over the country, so that the only outlay required is that of the first cost of a few hogs for a start. Running hogs in this way they are not subject to the diseases common to the hog in the sty or feed lot, and being excellent fighters, they hold their own with the wolves and other wild animals which prey on the sheep and goats. Thus they multiply very rapidly.

In order to get the benefit of the increase in his stock, however, it is necessary for the rancher to get his mark on the pigs. As this, owing to the roughness of the country and the wildness of the hogs, is no small task, it is generally the custom for all the hog owners in a given section to turn out together with their dogs and practically "round up" the range.

Compared with one of these "hog hunts" a cattle "round up" is a quiet and commonplace affair. On the morning appointed the dogs are turned loose and started out on a dog trail, and the men ride after them just as on a wolf chase. As the pigs cannot hold out very long one of them is soon caught, and his squeals bring back the rest of the bunch to his aid. As soon as the pig is free the hogs form a circle around the pigs, from which they now and then dash out at their tormentors and all the while grunting like the rattling of a hundred old wagons. By the time the uproar has reached its full height the hunters ride up and hiss the dogs on to seize the hogs. When one is caught, two men go to the assistance of the dog, one with a club to beat off the other hogs, the other with a bit of rope to tie the one seized. When all of them have thus been put out of the way of fighting, the pigs are caught and marked. Then the hogs are given their liberty, and the dogs start out on a new trail. When it happens that there are hogs belonging to several different men, the pigs are simply divided.

While the work of "marking" is more like sport than labor it is not less exciting than that of getting the hogs ready for market, for as it is impossible to drive them any distance—even to the corral at the ranches—it is necessary simply to butcher them out in the hills.

So long in the early part of the winter, after the new mast has fallen and the hogs are as fat as they will get, the ranchers lead their wagons with salt, grub, kettles and lard cans, take their dogs and Winchester and strike out for the hills. They make camp near some spring or water hole and then begin the work of "killing," which includes the rendering of the lard and salting of the meat. It is like a great hunt. Whenever a wagon load of lard and meat has been put up it is taken to the nearest ranch and left there until the "killing" season is over; then it is loaded again and freighted to the nearest railroad point, where it is sold at the market price.

It is said that only one man in that country ever tried driving his hogs to market. That was "Uncle" Ben Pepper, who lives a few miles above Junction City, on the South Llano river. He had, he supposed, about 300 head of fat hogs, and the idea of "killing" worried him. So he hired all the men in the country, got all the dogs in Kinble and Edwards counties and "rounded up" all the hogs to be found. It was, of course, impossible to keep the herd together, and as it scattered Ben ordered his men to separate a little and keep moving toward Kerrville.

At noon on the fourth day the line was within half a mile of the Guadalupe river, the men were half a mile apart and every dog worn out. Then Ben decided that he would like to know how many hogs he had, as after passing the Guadalupe it would be impossible to see them in the open again. So he pulled the ends of the line to bring in a single close to toward the river. It was nearly sunset when the circle was completed, and he climbed into a tall pecan so as to get a better view of the hogs when they should come swarming out into the river. He watched intently until night was falling; then he saw a lean, old sow emerge from the bushes and go down to drink, and a moment later the drivers began coming out. He nearly fell off of the tree. He has never tried driving since.—Kansas City Journal.

The Widow's Advantage. Grimms—The chances are in favor of a widow marrying again against a single woman getting a husband.

Burns—That is because a widow is content to regard men as pretty much all alike, while a single woman always has a fine time trying to find one who is different from all others.—Boston Transcript.

The hearty looking man who thumps his chest and says he's sound as a dollar, does not take into consideration the catarrh which bothers him occasionally.

"Oh! everybody has more or less catarrh. That's nothing," he says. But he is mistaken. What begins in catarrh may end in consumption. It is a foul disease at its best and a fatal disease at its worst when it involves the lung tissues. For catarrh and for diseases of the throat and lungs in general the standard medicine is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is recommended by physicians who have tested its efficacy and wondered at its cures. It not only destroys the disease, but it purifies the blood and strengthens the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition.

For twelve years I was a sufferer from catarrh and was treated by one of the best physicians in the State of North Carolina, who said the trouble was a kidney disease. I tried Dr. J. C. Patton's Catarrh Remedy, Dr. J. C. Patton's Catarrh Remedy, Dr. J. C. Patton's Catarrh Remedy. Will say, on a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cured me and I am well and hearty and I will say further that my former physician, Dr. W. J. H. Day, recommends Dr. Pierce's medicine to cure my case of catarrh. I am a grateful and happy man. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Nassau's Big Tree.

In Nassau, the capital city of the Bahama Islands, they say "the tree in the public square"—not the trees. Now the public square of Nassau is quite as large as that of most cities of the size, but there is only one tree in it, and that tree literally fills the square and spreads its shade over all the public buildings in the neighborhood. For it is the largest tree in the world at its base, although it is hardly taller than a three-story house. It is variously known as a celba or a silk cotton tree, but the people of the low islands of the West Indies call it the hurricane tree; for no matter how hard the wind blows it cannot disturb the mighty, buttressed trunk of the celba.

It trunk throws out great curving, windlike branches, some of them 20 feet wide and nearly as high. These extend into the ground on all sides and brace the tree against all attack, while the great branches spread a thick shade overhead. In the tropic sunshine of midsummer, hundreds, even thousands, of people may gather in the cool of its shadow. No one knows how old the great tree is, but it must have been growing hundreds, if not thousands, of years. A very old picture in the library at Nassau shows the tree as big as it is at present, and even the oldest negro in the island cannot remember when it was a bit smaller.—Washington Star.

Tom Corwin's Ready Wit. Governor John Brough was once matched against Corwin and in his speech said:

"Gentlemen, my honored opponent himself, while he preaches advocacy of home industry, has a carriage at home which he got in England; had it shipped across the water to him. How is that for supporting home industry and labor?"

When Corwin came to the stand, he made a great show of embarrassment. He stammered and began slowly: "Well, gentlemen, you have heard what my friend Mr. Brough has to say about my carriage. I plead guilty to the charge, and I have only two things to say in my defense. The first is that the carriage came to me from an English ancestor as an heirloom, and I had to take it. Again, I have not used it for seven years, and it has been standing in my back yard all that time, and the children have converted it into a roost. Now, gentlemen, with a steady look at Brough, "I have nothing further to say in my defense, but I would like to know how Brough knows anything about my carriage if he has not been visiting my home?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Mile a Minute Down the Alps. The Alps in the Swiss Alps that attracts the winter sportsmen of Europe is the Cresta run, at St. Moritz, which is just one mile in length. The tobogganing season here begins about the middle of November, when the first snow falls. The condition of the run is not left to chance, but the slide is prepared under the direction of a committee. Swiss toboggans in contrast to the Canadian ones, made entirely of wood, are raised on runners sled with iron or steel. The expert rider lies prone upon the toboggan, head foremost, both hands grasping the frame-work at the sides and both feet employed in steering. Iron spikes are secured to the toes of the boots, and by trailing one or the other foot about the ground the big sled may be guided. But as this fashion of steering tends to diminish the speed the most skilled riders use the feet as little as possible and depend upon shifting the position. Though the Cresta run is a mile in length, the whole distance may be covered in 70 seconds. At the steepest point a mile a minute is made.

The Dangerous End. An Ass once enveloped himself in a Lion's skin, hoping that he would thereby escape any annoyance from the Rest of the Brute Creation.

But seeing a Tiger approaching, and fearing his inability to back as there as his assumed character required, he at once turned his back toward the Tiger and remained motionless.

"Ah!" said the Tiger to himself, "for once upon ancient enemy, the Lion, has relaxed his usual vigilance. I'll step upon him from behind, and there'll be a funeral in the morning."

But his Vicious Spring was met by the Heels of the Ass, and lo! the Tiger had Predicted his own Funeral.

Mom!—It's usually Polly to Attack the Enemy in the Rear, but there are Exceptions to every Rule. Always remember, in dealing with an Ass (the man or otherwise), that the end containing his brains is less Dangerous than the one furnished with Heels.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

How Can Annet Did They Live?

"I was at the capital one day," said a Boston lawyer, "in attendance upon a committee having in charge a bill in which my clients are interested. On the long, leather covered settee near me two southern members were smoking and conversing. The following words were jotted down by me verbatim:

"Mah! I was down among you people last summer, and I wanted to find Gen'l Blood's plantation, but I got off my road. Where does he live from your place, mah? He lives near me, a right smart piece north on the river."

"Does he live a right smart smart piece on a right smart right smart piece south, mah? "Well, it isn't as far as either of those pieces; just a right smart piece, color!"

"Then that must be the reason I missed it. I went too far around the river bend."

"Now, these gentlemen understood each other beyond a doubt. But what I want to know is, how many miles was it from the major's plantation to the general's? And for the life of me I can't solve the question.—I trusted me so that I stumbled two or three times when subsequently making my argument before the committee, of which these two members formed a part.—Washington Star.

Sapphires Not All Blue.

It is commonly believed that the sapphire is known only as a gem of a rich velvety blue in color," observed a very experienced dealer in precious stones to the writer the other day. "As a matter of fact, the sapphire occurs in various hues. In Ceylon, for instance, where the finest specimens of this gem very blue to the pale blue, graduated in the latter to an almost featureless white. It also occurs in whites, greens and yellows, the latter shade being known as the oriental topaz and the green the oriental emerald.

"The white sapphires are often found clouded or streaked with blue, so that many specimens are cut which are white when looked at transversely, but having a bit of the blue tint on the under-pole. Then there is the red sapphire, or Ceylon ruby. It is valued as highly as the finest European rubies. These most highly prized are of rich pizen blood or rose red color.

"Some very fine sapphires have been found in Montana during the past ten years. The American gems are light blue, blue green, green and pink, but the deep blue and red stones, which are chiefly in demand as jewels, have so far never been discovered in any part of this country.—Washington Star.

The Rooster Was Game. A Rockland young man is the owner of a smart rooster and has long entertained a suspicion that the bird might have inherited gamy characteristics from some long forgotten ancestor. To apply this theory in an actual test he went home the other night, surreptitiously conveyed the parlor mirror into the hen pen and held it before the gaze of the waddling rooster.

The young man was not kept long in suspense as to the bird's fighting qualities. After a brief, incredulous glance at the proud reflection in the glass the rooster descended upon the object with spurs set and wrath glowing from each bushy eye. There was a crash, a smash and a clatter, and when the dust and feathers cleared away the young sportsman stood, a dismayed spectator, in the center of a pile of ruins formed of broken mirror, slats and pulverized plate glass.

He is now satisfied with the rooster, but how he squared himself about the broken mirror is not known.—Bangor Whig and Courier.

Fairly Good Time. Ecstasied around a Topoka railroad lunch counter the other day were four old-Santa Fe engineers. They were telling of fast runs. Three of them had told their stories. "The fastest run I ever made," said the fourth, after listening to the list of the others, "was between Topoka and Emporia not long ago. It was a bright moonlight night. We were behind when we pulled out of Topoka and had orders to make up all last time between here and Emporia. After reaching the top of the Pauline hill I pulled the throttle wide open and let her go. The old engine fairly ate up the track. When we stopped at Emporia, I looked back a mile or so and saw something black approaching. I could not think what it was. I watched it closely. Finally it came up opposite the engine and stopped. It was the shadow of the train."—Kansas City Journal.

A Safe Disk. She—Are you superstitious? He—No; I think not. But why do you ask?

She—I was going to get you a pocket-knife for a birthday present, but some one told me the gift of anything sharp cuts friendship.

He—Oh, I'll risk it. I'm sure no knife selected by a woman would cut anything.—Chicago News.

Vernality. Athletic Applicant—Do you need a strong man? Manager of a fine museum—No, I have one. But I'd give $75 a week for a good living skeleton.

Athletic Applicant—All right. I can train down to it in a month.—Chicago Tribune.

Made to His Advantage. "Dicky, people should live to help one another."

"Yes, but I'd get more pie if you'd let me help myself."—Chicago Record.

According to the ancient practice of oriental monarchs, the Chinese emperor rewards those who bring him good news and punishes those who bring him bad news.

Explosive bullets were first used in India for hunting tigers and elephants.

A UNIQUE CEREMONY.

Gloucester's Annual General For Her Lost Fishermen. With each returning February there is held in Gloucester, Mass., a customary town of Gloucester, Mass., a customary solemn in motive, impressive in form and absolutely unique in origin and character. It is Gloucester's day of mourning for her sons who, during the preceding 12 months, have gone down to death on the distant fishing grounds. Headed by the clergy and community and by bereft relatives, the people of the town march a long and slow procession to the appointed place of meeting, where, during the remainder of the brief winters day, in chant and prayer and formal addresses, the sorrow in which all share finds fitting and touching expression.

Everybody who lives in Gloucester is interested in the fishing industry, and so it falls out that the city's life is about equally made up of intervals of joy and sorrow. When summer opens the general tone of public feeling is bright and hopeful, but at the end of the season, as the fishers come in, some with flags at half mast, others bearing fatal news, the whole town is depressed.

All the residents show a concern in the sailors who are lost and in the welfare of their families. Even the citizens of fortune in Gloucester, who suffer no personal bereavement, have been brought closely into touch with the poor fishing families through religious and social agencies. The ceremony is held during the late fall and winter months, when news of death is brought by almost every returning boat, are most pathetic. Sometimes the towns comes with a shock; at others, wives and children wait for weeks in anxiety, and never know the details of the fate of their loved ones.—Truth.

Blue Made It Like Starch. It is true that in Ireland, with the spread of general knowledge and improved medical aid, "cures" and superstitions are on the wane, but still "cure-mistress" Lally is much preferred to the doctors, and the advice of a "lucky woman" is of much higher value than that of an M. D. Apart from the medical knowledge required, it is no light matter to undertake to prescribe for one's neighbors, as the following will show:

"If it's plain to y'r honor, I'm come to ax for a bottle," said an old woman. "I was tuk that had last night I thought the life 'ud have me."

After due inquiry into her symptoms she was given a packet of arrowroot, with minute directions how to prepare it. As she scarcely seemed to take them, a happy thought struck the lady. "You know how to make starch, don't you?" she asked.

"Yes," said the old woman. "Then make it just like that," said her friend, "and add a little sugar to it."

The old woman departed, to return next day with the information that she was like to die after what with Miss Nolah gave her, and with all due respect to her, she couldn't get it all down; it wint so aginst her.

She was requested to bring what remained for inspection, which revealed that the directions as to starch had been literally carried out. She had put blue in it.—Cornhill Magazine.

The Forest of Fontainebleau. "We spent the night," said a Londoner, "paid a goodly bill and set off in the company of our English friends for the town of Fontainebleau, lying at the center of 50 square miles of forest," writes a girl from Paris to The Ladies' Home Journal. "It is never wild, never mysterious, this forest that thousands of artists have loved to paint, but it is calm and grand and never tedious. For eight hours we wandered over paths covered with towering oaks, among rocky outcrops, out of which slender, graceful beeches rise, and through miles of fragrant, giant pines. And everywhere are feathery ferns and purple heather.

"There is not the slightest chance of losing one's way. Every square inch of the forest has been mapped out, and at the intersection of every two are lines a red hand points to the town, and a blue hand indicates the direction of one of the 'sights.' And Fontainebleau? We saw only the palace, a bewildering maze of magnificent rooms. Everywhere there was richness, everywhere wonderful frescoes, wonderful stairways, wonderful tapestry, wonderful inlaid furniture. The grandeur is oppressive, and we were glad to get out into the park to wander about in the different courts."

"A Practical" Joke. An Irishman took a contract to dig a public well. When he had dug about 25 feet down, he came one morning and found it caved in—filled nearly to the top.

Pat looked cautiously round and saw that no one was near, then took off his hat and coat and lunged on to the wellhead, crawled into some bushes and waited events. In a short time the citizens discovered that the well had caved in, and, seeing Pat's hat and coat on the wellhead, they supposed he was at the bottom of the excavation.

Only a few hours of brisk digging cleared the loose earth from the well. Just as the owner citizens had reached the bottom and were wondering where the body was Pat came walking out of the bushes and good naturedly thanked them for relieving him of a sorry job.

Some of the third diggers were disgusted, but the joke was too good to allow of anything more than a hearty laugh, which soon followed.—London Answers.

The Eskimo's Liver. Does every one know in what notable physical particulars the Eskimos who live in the far north differ from us temperate zone people? It will be remembered that half a dozen or more Eskimos came to New York from the arctic zone with one of Lieutenant Peary's hunting parties. Most of them died presently of pneumonia, and the distress and somewhat to the indignation of the public. Of several of them careful autopsies were made, and not a little to the excitement of our medical world. It was discovered that the Eskimo intestine was about four feet shorter than ours is, and that his liver was not shaped like what we have been used to call a human liver, but was more like that of a dog. The Eskimo, apparently, is so constructed that he can live and thrive under such conditions and on such a diet as he can command at home.—Harper's Weekly.

The Time Comes

to every elderly woman when an important functional change takes place. This is called "The Change of Life." The centres system undergoes a change. Dreadful diseases such as cancer and consumption are often contracted at this time.

McEELREE'S Wine of Cardui

strengthens and purifies the entire system, and brings the sufferer safely over these pitfalls. Its effects have been wonderful. It is good for all menstrual troubles, but is especially recommended at this time. Ask your druggist for the famous Wine of Cardui, $1.00 a bottle.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address the "Ladies' Advice Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

THOMAS J. COOPER, Tupelo, Miss., says: "My sister suffered from irregular and painful menstruation and doctors could not relieve her. Wine of Cardui entirely cured her and she is now as good as new through the Change of Life."

Blue Made It Like Starch. It is true that in Ireland, with the spread of general knowledge and improved medical aid, "cures" and superstitions are on the wane, but still "cure-mistress" Lally is much preferred to the doctors, and the advice of a "lucky woman" is of much higher value than that of an M. D. Apart from the medical knowledge required, it is no light matter to undertake to prescribe for one's neighbors, as the following will show:

"If it's plain to y'r honor, I'm come to ax for a bottle," said an old woman. "I was tuk that had last night I thought the life 'ud have me."

After due inquiry into her symptoms she was given a packet of arrowroot, with minute directions how to prepare it. As she scarcely seemed to take them, a happy thought struck the lady. "You know how to make starch, don't you?" she asked.

"Yes," said the old woman. "Then make it just like that," said her friend, "and add a little sugar to it."

The old woman departed, to return next day with the information that she was like to die after what with Miss Nolah gave her, and with all due respect to her, she couldn't get it all down; it wint so aginst her.

She was requested to bring what remained for inspection, which revealed that the directions as to starch had been literally carried out. She had put blue in it.—Cornhill Magazine.

The Forest of Fontainebleau. "We spent the night," said a Londoner, "paid a goodly bill and set off in the company of our English friends for the town of Fontainebleau, lying at the center of 50 square miles of forest," writes a girl from Paris to The Ladies' Home Journal. "It is never wild, never mysterious, this forest that thousands of artists have loved to paint, but it is calm and grand and never tedious. For eight hours we wandered over paths covered with towering oaks, among rocky outcrops, out of which slender, graceful beeches rise, and through miles of fragrant, giant pines. And everywhere are feathery ferns and purple heather.

"There is not the slightest chance of losing one's way. Every square inch of the forest has been mapped out, and at the intersection of every two are lines a red hand points to the town, and a blue hand indicates the direction of one of the 'sights.' And Fontainebleau? We saw only the palace, a bewildering maze of magnificent rooms. Everywhere there was richness, everywhere wonderful frescoes, wonderful stairways, wonderful tapestry, wonderful inlaid furniture. The grandeur is oppressive, and we were glad to get out into the park to wander about in the different courts."

"A Practical" Joke. An Irishman took a contract to dig a public well. When he had dug about 25 feet down, he came one morning and found it caved in—filled nearly to the top.

Pat looked cautiously round and saw that no one was near, then took off his hat and coat and lunged on to the wellhead, crawled into some bushes and waited events. In a short time the citizens discovered that the well had caved in, and, seeing Pat's hat and coat on the wellhead, they supposed he was at the bottom of the excavation.

Only a few hours of brisk digging cleared the loose earth from the well. Just as the owner citizens had reached the bottom and were wondering where the body was Pat came walking out of the bushes and good naturedly thanked them for relieving him of a sorry job.

Some of the third diggers were disgusted, but the joke was too good to allow of anything more than a hearty laugh, which soon followed.—London Answers.

The Eskimo's Liver. Does every one know in what notable physical particulars the Eskimos who live in the far north differ from us temperate zone people? It will be remembered that half a dozen or more Eskimos came to New York from the arctic zone with one of Lieutenant Peary's hunting parties. Most of them died presently of pneumonia, and the distress and somewhat to the indignation of the public. Of several of them careful autopsies were made, and not a little to the excitement of our medical world. It was discovered that the Eskimo intestine was about four feet shorter than ours is, and that his liver was not shaped like what we have been used to call a human liver, but was more like that of a dog. The Eskimo, apparently, is so constructed that he can live and thrive under such conditions and on such a diet as he can command at home.—Harper's Weekly.

HE LOVED TO FIGHT.

A LITTLE MAN WHO WOULD RATHER SHOOT THAN EAT.

Olds Didn't Figure With Jack Watson When He Concluded to Go into a Reel, and His Nerve Once Saved an Innocent Man.

"The gamest man and the best fighter that I ever knew—and I've known quite a number in my day—was little Jack Watson of California," remarked Senator William M. Stewart of Nevada one day in Washington when he was in a story telling mood to a party of interested listeners.

"Watson had been a member of Jack Hayes' famous company, and, though he didn't weigh over 120 pounds and in height measured but 5 feet 6 inches, he would fight at the drop of a hat the biggest man that ever breathed. I don't know what state gave him birth, but he was a native of the south, and all the pioneers of Texas knew him well.

"The little chap didn't provoke difficulties, but I verily believe he enjoyed fighting for its own sake, and odds didn't figure with him once he concluded to go into a reel. His long suit was shooting, and a deadlier shot never fired a revolver.

"I shall never forget the first time that Jack Watson and I met, for the circumstance was of the sort that burns itself upon a man's memory. I was riding into a mining camp in Nevada county and stopped at a watering trough to let my beast drink. About the same time a stranger of very diminutive stature rode up, and while our animals refreshed themselves we engaged in some casual conversation.

"The stranger was Watson. "Before we exchanged half a dozen sentences our attention was attracted by a great noise and looking around, we saw at least 200 men coming our way with a prisoner. The prisoner was a remarkably fine looking man, but his captors had stripped him to the waist, and the evident intention was to fog him.

"Before I could hardly realize what was happening Watson spoke up. "Dare you go in with me and stop these men?" It seemed bravado, but there was a ring in the small one's voice that sounded like business, and I, being young and foolish, answered, "I dare."

"We rushed after the mob at racing speed, and when I got close enough to the leaders I yelled at the top of my lungs: "Hold on, boys; you've got the wrong man!"

"This was an inspiration, for I really knew nothing of the case, but I hated to see such a magnificent looking fellow undergo the humiliation of a public beating. But my cry caused a halt, and with Watson beside me I repeated that they had the wrong man and, still using my highest notes, called for the appointment of a committee.

"It is curious how easily a mob is sometimes swayed. In less than ten minutes this one, previously so impassioned, had calmed down and was listening quietly to the investigations of the committee, of which I had been made chairman.

"It seems that the prisoner was, as I afterwards learned, a respectable and worthy man, and he had letters upon him that touched for his integrity. He had been accused of stealing $200 in gold by a miner, but he not only established his innocence, but started an examination that led to the discovery of the real thief.

"After this I saw Jack no more till one day in San Francisco, when I found him in a most wretched condition. He had gone to a political meeting where he was persona non grata, and there was immediate trouble. Jack killed two men, but was himself almost ridden with bullets. An old negro took me to him, and I found him in an apparently dying condition. If he had one bullet hole in him, he had 20. He had no doctor, no nurse, no food, no friend but the old dorky.

"I got him a room in a good hotel and the best physician money could buy. The doctor thought he had a bare chance to live, but was very dubious of his pulling through. His nerve saved him, and in a few weeks he was going around as game as ever.

"The next news of Jack came from Pasadena. He had gone to a ball and, aspiring to the favor of the belle of the town, roused the enmity of a dozen young suitors. The shooting began while the function was still in progress, but it was a bad day for Jack Watson's assailants, for when the firing ceased there were five of them corpses, while he escaped unhurt.

"Jack finally became a member of the legislature and, strange to say, died a peaceful death, respected and loved by all his neighbors."—Washington Post.

Cautious Procedure. "Colonel, if you called a man a liar, you would surely expect a fight, would you not?" asked the stranger from the north.

"No, sah," replied the colonel. "We don't call a man a liar down here until we have shot him first, sah, so full of holes that there is no fight in him, sah."—Indianapolis Press.

Less, Sometimes. We don't want to say anything against the girls, but when one gets married nowadays it doesn't seem to make any more housework for the mother than she had before her daughter's departure.—Atchison Globe.

A nation's flag represents its sovereignty and is prominently displayed in all army and navy battles. To "strike the flag" is to lower the national colors in token of submission to the opposing forces.

A "conjress" in India says she can change from woman to man and back again at will.

Practical Plans. SONORA, TEXAS. Heavy Galvanized Tanks, and Lining of Troughs, A Specialty. All work guaranteed.

FRITZ KESSLER,

Boot and Shoe Maker. REPAIRING A SPECIALTY. June, Texas.

$50.00 REWARD.

The above amount will be paid for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any party trespassing on our ranch 65 miles northeast of Sonora, for cutting timber, wood hauling, working cattle, or landing hogs etc., without permission.

McLain Bros. & Nelson, 3-4 Sonora, Texas.

Notice to Trespassers.

We hereby give notice to wood haulers and persons who are leaving our fences down by going over same with wagons, that any persons caught hauling wood from our pastures will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

81-4 F. Meyer & Sons.

Notice to Trespassers.

I have leased all the land from Sawyer's fence west to my ranch 18 miles from Sonora of the North Llano and I hereby give notice that any one trespassing on said lands for the purpose of wood hauling or the raising or working of cattle, horses, sheep or hogs will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

GEO. S. ALLISON, Sonora, Texas, Oct. 20, 1898.

Good Newspapers at a Low Price.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY NEWS (Galveston or Dallas) is published Tuesdays and Fridays. Each issue consists of eight pages. There are special departments for the farmers, the ladies and the boys and girls, besides a world of general news matter, illustrated articles, etc. We offer THE SEMI-WEEKLY NEWS and the Devil's River News for twelve months for the low clubbing price of $2.50 cash.

This gives you three papers a week or 56 papers a year, for a ridiculously low price. Hand in your subscription at once.

TRADE MARKS DESIGNERS COPYRIGHTS & C. Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through HUNN & CO. receive special notice, without charge, in our Scientific American.

A monthly illustrated news paper. Largest circulation of any weekly journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by news-dealers. HUNN & CO., 361 Broadway, New York. Branch Office, 67 F. St., Washington, D. C.